Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. The San Francisco Administrative Code is hereby amended by amending Sections 16.210 to read as follows:

SEC. 16.210. ESTABLISHMENT OF BARGAINING UNITS.

(a) The Employee Relations Director shall make determinations as to appropriate bargaining units. In the event an employee or employee organization disagrees with the Employee Relations Director's determination, the aggrieved party may, within 60 days from the date of the Employee Relations Director's determination, submit a protest to the Civil Service Commission. In arriving at said determination, the administrative law judge shall consider the factors described in subsection (b) immediately below.

(b) The criteria for determining the appropriateness of bargaining units shall include: the community of interest among employees; the history of employee representation in the unit; the extent to which employees have common knowledge, skill and abilities, working conditions, job duties or similar educational requirements; the need to avoid undue fragmentation of bargaining units; the wishes of the affected employees; and any impact on the City and County's ability to effectively and efficiently deliver services.

LEGISLATIVE DIGEST

[Administrative Code - Updating Job Classifications and Bargaining Units]

Ordinance amending the San Francisco Administrative Code Section 16.210 to reflect changes in job classifications and bargaining units.

Existing Law

The existing Employee Relations Ordinance establishes an Employee Relations Division, assigns employee job classifications to bargaining units for the purpose of negotiating the terms and conditions of employment, and sets forth a process for official recognition of organizations that represent City employees.

Amendments to Current Law

The amendments to the Employee Relations Ordinance update the job classifications and bargaining units based on Department of Human Resources classification actions and the acquisition of the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency bargaining units and classifications. Specifically, the ordinance deletes abolished classifications from and adds newly established classifications to the bargaining units.

Background Information

Since the Employee Relations Ordinance was last amended in 2011, the Department of Human Resources has abolished job classifications that are no longer in use and established new classifications to address the operational needs of City departments. In addition, the City became the successor agency to the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency employees on February 1, 2012. The amendments to the Ordinance update the pertinent bargaining unit designations to reflect the Redevelopment Agency bargaining units and the updates to the City's classification system.
