

File No. 171317

Committee Item No. 5

Board Item No. _____

COMMITTEE/BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

AGENDA PACKET CONTENTS LIST

Comm: Public Safety & Neighborhood Services

Date: February 14, 2018

Board of Supervisors Meeting:

Date: _____

Cmte Board

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------|--------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Motion |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Resolution |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Ordinance - VERSION 2 |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Legislative Digest - VERSION 2 |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Budget and Legislative Analyst Report |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Youth Commission Report |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Introduction Form |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Department/Agency Cover Letter and/or Report |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | MOU |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Grant Information Form |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Grant Budget |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Subcontract Budget |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Contract/Agreement |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Form 126 – Ethics Commission |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Award Letter |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Application |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Public Correspondence |

OTHER

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------|--------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | Referral FYI - December 20, 2017 |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | SBC Referral - December 20, 2017 |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | _____ |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | _____ |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> | _____ |

Prepared by: John Carroll

Date: February 9, 2018

Prepared by: _____

Date: _____

1 [Health Code - Banning Sale and Manufacture of Animal Fur Products]

2
3 Ordinance amending the Health Code to ban the sale and manufacture in San Francisco
4 of animal fur products.

5 NOTE: Unchanged Code text and uncodified text are in plain Arial font.
6 Additions to Codes are in single-underline italics Times New Roman font.
7 Deletions to Codes are in strikethrough italics Times New Roman font.
8 Board amendment additions are in double-underlined Arial font.
9 Board amendment deletions are in ~~strikethrough Arial font~~.
10 Asterisks (* * * *) indicate the omission of unchanged Code
11 subsections or parts of tables.

12 Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

13 Section 1. The Health Code is hereby amended by adding Article 1D, entitled "Animal 14 Fur Products," consisting of Sections 1D.1 through 1D.8, to read as follows:

15 ARTICLE 1D: ANIMAL FUR PRODUCTS

16 SEC. 1D.1. TITLE.

17 This Article 1D may be known as the "Animal Fur Products Ordinance."

18 SEC. 1D.2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

19 (a) Historically, animals were hunted or trapped for food, and their pelts were used to 20 provide protective clothing. Over time, civilizations and technology have developed such that 21 fur is less of a necessity and more of a luxury. Fur garments are now typically designed for 22 fashion rather than warmth. Further, more animals are now killed to make decorative fur trim
23 than to manufacture full fur garments.

24 (b) More than 50 million animals are violently killed for their fur every year. Major
25 producers of fur include the United States, Canada, and Scandinavian countries.

1 (c) More than 85% of pelts in the world's fur trade come from fur farms. The remaining
2 15% are from animals caught in the wild. Animals that are bred on fur farms commonly
3 include mink, fox, marten, and chinchilla.

4 (d) The majority of pelts produced annually are mink. In 2013, approximately 275 mink
5 farms in 23 states across the United States produced about 3 million pelts, with an aggregate
6 value of over $300 million. As of 2015, mink pelt production in the United States totaled 3.76
7 million pelts. Mink pelt production in the United States saw a sharp increase between 2011
8 and 2014, but has since remained stable.

9 ~~A vast majority—about 85%—of fur fashion products are made with pelts sourced from~~ 10 ~~animal fur factory farms.~~

11 ~~(b) Animals raised on such fur farms typically spend their lives in cramped cages, and~~
12 ~~are subject to cruel and filthy living conditions. Methods frequently used on fur farms to kill~~
13 ~~livestock for their pelts include gassing, electrocution, poison, and neck-breaking.~~

14 (e) Fur farming can be damaging to the environment and contributes to water and air 15 pollution. Fur processing often involves use of harmful chemicals including chromium and 16 formaldehyde.

17 ~~(d)(f) Fur farming also consumes significant quantities of energy. The amount of energy~~
18 ~~required to produce a coat made of real fur from ranch-raised animal skins is over 15 times that~~ 19 ~~needed to produce a fake fur garment. For each kilogram of factory-farmed mink fur, 110 kilograms of~~ 20 ~~carbon dioxide is produced.~~

21 (g) Existing laws require relatively little oversight of the fur farming and fur trade
22 industries. Compliance with guidelines issued by the American Veterinary Medical 23 Association is not mandatory, and fur farms are not monitored by any government agency.

1 (h) Federal law does forbid deceptive labeling of fur products, and requires that
2 products made with real fur be labeled as such. This allows consumers to choose whether to 3 purchase real or faux fur garments.

4 ~~(e)~~(i) The sale of fur products in San Francisco is inconsistent with the City's ethos of treating
5 all living beings, humans and animals alike, with kindness. In light of the wide array of faux fur and
6 other alternatives for fashion and apparel, the demand for fur products does not justify the unnecessary
7 killing and cruel treatment of animals. Eliminating the sale of fur products in San Francisco will 8 promote community awareness of animal welfare, bolster the City's stance against animal cruelty, and,
9 in turn, foster a more humane environment in San Francisco.

10 SEC. 1D.3. DEFINITIONS.

11 "Director" means the Director of the Department of Public Health or his or her designee.

12 "Fur" means any animal skin or part thereof with hair, fleece, or fur fibers attached thereto,
13 either in its raw or processed state. "Fur" does not include such skins or parts thereof as are to be 14 converted into leather, which in processing will have the hair, fleece, or fur fiber completely removed;
15 cowhide with hair attached thereto; or lambskin or sheepskin with fleece attached thereto.

16 "Fur Product" means any article of clothing or covering for any part of the body, or any 17 fashion accessory, including but not limited to handbags, shoes, slippers, hats, earmuffs, scarves,
18 shawls, gloves, jewelry, and keychains, that is made in whole or in part of Fur. "Fur Product" does 19 not include dog or cat fur products.

20 "Non-profit Organization" means any entity organized under 26 U.S.C. Section 501(c)(3) for 21 charitable, religious, philanthropic, educational, or similar purposes.

22 "Used Fur Product" means a Fur Product that a person has acquired for his or her own use 23 and worn.

24 SEC. 1D.4. PROHIBITING THE SALE OF FUR PRODUCTS.

1 (a) Beginning ~~July 1, 2018~~ January 1, 2019, it shall be unlawful to sell, offer for sale, display
2 for sale, trade, give, donate, or otherwise distribute a Fur Product by any means in San Francisco.

3 (b) Beginning January 1, 2019, it shall be unlawful to manufacture a Fur Product in
4 San Francisco.

5 (c) The prohibition in subsection (a) shall not apply to the sale, offer for sale, display for sale,
6 trade, gift, donation, or other distribution of:

7 (1) Fur Products by a Non-profit Organization; or

8 (2) Used Fur Products by a person not normally in the business of selling fur products,
9 Non-profit Organization, or second-hand store, including a pawn shop; or

10 (3)(2) Fur Products made from furbearing mammals and nongame mammals lawfully 11 taken under the authority of a trapping license, pursuant to California Fish and Game Code Section 12 3039(b).

13 (d) The prohibition in subsection (b) shall not apply to the manufacture of any Fur
14 Product using Fur sourced exclusively from Used Fur Products.

15 SEC. 1D.5. IMPLEMENTATION AND ENFORCEMENT.

16 (a) The Director may issue rules, regulations, and guidelines necessary or appropriate for the 17 implementation and enforcement of this Article 1D.

18 (b) Violations of this Article 1D or of any rule or regulation issued under this Article shall be 19 punishable by administrative fines imposed pursuant to administrative citations. Administrative Code
20 Chapter 100 "Procedures Governing the Imposition of Administrative Fines," as amended from time to 21 time, is hereby incorporated and shall govern the issuance and enforcement of administrative citations,
22 and collection and review of administrative fines, to enforce this Article and any rule or regulation
23 adopted pursuant to this Article, with the following qualifications and exceptions for purposes of this 24 Article:

1 (1) The duties assigned to the Controller by Sections 100.1 - 100.15 of
2 Administrative Code Chapter 100 shall be assumed and performed by the Director;

3 (2) Each Fur Product that does not comply with Section 1D.4, on each day a
4 violation is committed or permitted to continue, shall constitute a separate violation of this Article 1D;

5 (3) A person who receives an administrative citation from the Director shall have 24
6 hours, or such greater time as deemed reasonable under the circumstances by the Director or an
7 employee designated by the Director, to correct or otherwise remedy the violation prior to the 8 imposition of administrative fines;

9 (4) The fine for any violation issued pursuant to this Article shall be paid to the 10 Treasurer of the City and County of San Francisco and credited to the Public Health Environmental 11 Health Code Compliance Fund, authorized by Administrative Code Section 10.100-193;

12 (5) The amount of the fine for violation of this Article 1D or of any rule or regulation
13 issued under this Article shall be up to $500 for a first violation; up to $750 for a second violation
14 within one year of the date of the first violation; and up to $1,000 for each additional violation within 15 one year of the date of a second or subsequent violation;

16 (6) The Director may recover any costs and fees, including but not limited to 17 attorneys' fees, for enforcement initiated through this Article 1D.

18 SEC. 1D.6. UNDERTAKING FOR THE GENERAL WELFARE.

19 In enacting and implementing this Article 1D, the City is assuming an undertaking only to 20 promote the general welfare. It is not assuming, nor is it imposing on its officers and employees, an 21 obligation for breach of which it is liable in money damages to any person who claims that such breach 22 proximately caused injury.

23 SEC. 1D.7. NO CONFLICT WITH FEDERAL OR STATE LAW.

24 This Article 1D is intended to be a lawful exercise of the City's police power, and shall be 25 construed so as not to conflict with State or federal law. Nothing in this Article shall authorize any

1 City agency or department to impose any duties or obligations in conflict with limitations on the City's
2 authority established by State or federal law at the time such agency or departmental action is taken.
3 The City shall suspend enforcement of this Article if and only to the extent that enforcement would 4 conflict with a preemptive State or federal law.

5 SEC. 1D.8. SEVERABILITY.

6 If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or word of this Article 1D, or any
7 application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held to be invalid or unconstitutional by a
8 decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining
9 portions or applications of the Article. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that it would have 10 passed this ordinance and each and every section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, and word not 11 declared invalid or unconstitutional without regard to whether any other portion of this Article or 12 application thereof would be subsequently declared invalid or unconstitutional.

13
14 Section 2. Effective and Operative Dates. This ordinance shall become effective 30
15 days after enactment. Enactment occurs when the Mayor signs the ordinance, the Mayor
16 returns the ordinance unsigned or does not sign the ordinance within ten days of receiving it,
17 or the Board of Supervisors overrides the Mayor's veto of the ordinance. However, as stated
18 in Health Code Section 1D.4, the prohibitions in Section 1D.4(a) and (b) shall not become 19 operative until July 1, 2018January 1, 2019.

20
21 APPROVED AS TO FORM:
22 DENNIS J. HERRERA, City Attorney

23 By:

24 NEHA GUPTA
Deputy City Attorney

25 n:\leganalas2017\1800234\01248354.docx

REVISED LEGISLATIVE DIGEST
(January 24, 2018 - Amended in Committee)

[Health Code - Banning Sale and Manufacture of Animal Fur Products]

Ordinance amending the Health Code to ban the sale and manufacture in San Francisco of animal fur products.

Existing Law

San Francisco law does not presently address the sale or manufacture of products made with animal fur. California Penal Code Section 598a makes it a misdemeanor to possess, import into the State, sell, buy, give away or accept any pelt of a dog or cat with the sole intent of selling or giving away the pelt. California Fish and Game Code Section 3039 provides that goods made from furbearing mammals and nongame mammals trapped lawfully under the authority of a trapping license may be bought or sold at any time.

19 U.S. Code Section 1308 makes it unlawful to import or export any dog or cat fur product, or to engage in interstate commerce, sell, offer to sell, trade, advertise, transport, or distribute in interstate commerce, any dog or cat fur product, punishable via civil penalty of up to $10,000 per violation.

Amendments to Current Law

This proposal would ban the sale, display for sale, and manufacture of “fur products” in San Francisco. For the purposes of this ordinance, “fur” would include any animal skin or part thereof with hair, fleece or fur fibers attached thereto, either in its raw or processed state, and exclude such skins as are to be converted into leather, which in processing shall have the hair, fleece or fur fiber completely removed, cowhide with hair attached thereto, or lambskin or sheepskin with fleece attached thereto. “Fur products” would include articles of clothing or covering for the body, or any fashion accessory, including handbags, shoes, slippers, hats, earmuffs, scarves, shawls, gloves, jewelry, keychains, and like items, that is made in whole or in part of fur, excluding dog and cat fur products. “Used fur products” would include any fur product a person has acquired for his or her own use and has worn.

The sales ban would not apply to certain sales of used fur products, or the sale of fur products made from furbearing mammals and nongame mammals lawfully taken under the authority of a trapping license, pursuant to California Fish and Game Code Section 3039, subdivision (b). The manufacturing ban would not apply to the manufacture of fur products from fur sourced exclusively from used fur products.

The ordinance would charge the Director of the Department of Public Health and/or his or her designee(s) with oversight and enforcement. It would become operative on January 1, 2019.

FILE NO. 171317

Background

This legislative digest reflects amendments introduced at the Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee on January 24, 2018. The ordinance was originally introduced before the Board of Supervisors on December 12, 2017.

n:\leganalas2017\1800234\01248548.docx

Carroll, John (BOS)

From: Board of Supervisors, (BOS)
Sent: Wednesday, February 07, 2018 4:56 PM
To: Carroll, John (BOS)
Subject: FW: Please BAN the sale of fur in San Francisco

Categories: 171317, 2018.02.14 - PSNS

From: Christine Harris [mailto:christinelynnharris@yahoo.com]
Sent: Tuesday, February 06, 2018 7:26 PM
To: Board of Supervisors, (BOS) <board.of.supervisors@sfgov.org>
Subject: Please BAN the sale of fur in San Francisco

Hello Board of Supervisors,

Thank you for all that you do.
Please ban the sale of fur in San Francisco.

Kindly,
Christine Harris

Begin forwarded message:

From: Michelle from peta2 <peta2@peta2.com>
Date: February 6, 2018 at 7:02:26 PM PST
To: christinelynnharris@yahoo.com
Subject: Christine, selling fur could be BANNED in San Fran! (Warning: Graphic)
Reply-To: Michelle from peta2 <peta2@peta2.com>

Be Part of the peta2 Movement

Right now, San Francisco is considering banning the sale of fur! This would make it the first major city in the U.S. to make this groundbreaking, compassionate choice.

Animals exploited by the fur industry are routinely bludgeoned, hanged, stabbed, gassed, electrocuted, and sometimes skinned alive.

Your support could be the difference between countless animals being spared horrific suffering ... or not. We need to do everything we can to make sure that this ban is passed.

Add your name to the rapidly growing list of compassionate San Franciscans who don't want cruelly obtained fur to be sold in the city.

Demand a Ban on Fur Sales in San Fran!

For all animals,

Michelle Feinberg
Senior Advocacy Strategist
MichelleF@peta2.com

TEXT pulse TO 73822 TO SIGN UP FOR MOBILE ALERTS FROM peta2*

SHARE ON FACEBOOK

SHARE ON TWITTER

This e-mail was sent to: christinelynnharris@yahoo.com

Manage Your E-Mail Subscriptions | Unsubscribe From All E-Mail

Please do not respond to this e-mail. Instead, click here to contact peta2.

This e-mail was sent by peta2, 2154 W. Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90026 USA.

*U.S. only: Message and data rates may apply. Periodic messaging. Text STOP to end or HELP for info. See our full texting terms and conditions here.

From: Summers, Ashley \(BOS\)
To: Carroll, John \(BOS\)
Subject: For Fur Ban Packet
Date: Wednesday, January 24, 2018 10:55:15 AM
Attachments: 20180124104601733.pdf

Hi John,

Chin Chi just missed public comment but wanted this statement to be included. Thanks!

Ashley Summers

Legislative Aide

Office of Supervisor Katy Tang

1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, Room 244

San Francisco, CA 94102

(415) 554-7460

www.sfbos.org/tang

I would like to thank Supervisor Katy Tang for proposing the ordinance banning the sale of animal fur in San Francisco. My name is Chin Chi and I'm a Chinese-American grandmother who has lived in this city for over 30 years and I wholeheartedly support this ban!

Every year, fifty-million animals are slaughtered for their fur. About 85% of fur fashion products are made with pelts sourced from animal fur factory farms, and, like other animals in such farms, they live a tormented life from birth to death. The 15% wildlife caught for their fur die agonizing deaths in steel leg-hold traps.

And, like other factory farms, fur farming also pollutes our land, water and air. In recent years, the pollution has become worse because these fur pelts are no longer used just as is, but are often further processed to make them into knitted products and dark colored furs are dyed the color of cream or pink.

In the West, the popularity of wearing animal fur seems to have decreased and the increase in the quality and quantity of fake fur has made it completely unnecessary as a way to keep warm. Fake furs are much more comfortable and practical and can be made into any kind of texture or color and, very important, such production is much less harmful to the environment. But, as pointed out by an article in National Geographic about a year ago: in the eastern European countries, especially in Russia and China, animal fur garments have become very fashionable, especially for their newly rich members.

For the material benefit and vanity of a few of the rich, the fur industry flourishes by inflicting terrible pain on millions of our fellow living beings and in a way that aids the further destruction of our environment. Although it has never sold a lot of fur, San Francisco today is one of biggest tourist attractions in the world, and moral positions this city takes, the City of Saint Francis, the Patron Saint of Animals, will resonate loud and clear throughout the world. So I hope we will all come together and declare: NO ANIMAL FUR IN SAN FRANCISCO! IT IS NOT FASHIONABLE, IT IS AN ATROCITY!

Chin Chi, boo219presidio@gmail.com (415-668-2252)

Please express your support for this Fur Ban by e-mailing Supervisor Katy Tang ww.sfbos.org/tang, or writing a letter: Supervisor Katy Tang, c/o Ashley Summers, Legislative Aide, 1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlet Place, Room 244, San Francisco, CA 94102

From: Wayne Hsiung
To: Carroll, John \(BOS\); Ronen, Hillary; Sheehy, Jeff \(BOS\); Fewer, Sandra \(BOS\)
Cc: Tang, Katy \(BOS\); Summers, Ashley \(BOS\)
Subject: 394 letters for the fur ban from SF residents
Date: Tuesday, January 23, 2018 11:14:25 PM

Dear Committee Members,

My name is Wayne Hsiung. I'm a lawyer, former law professor (Northwestern; I've also guest taught courses at UC Hastings), and long-time environmental and animal rights advocate.

On behalf of the Compassionate Bay coalition, I am sending letters we've received -- 394 in total -- from SF residents who are passionate in their support for the legislation that you'll be considering tomorrow to protect animals. The file is too large to attach, so here is a link (which includes both the 394 SF residents and letters from non-SF residents).

A Care2 petition (with 60k signatures) and a MoveOn petition (with 10k signatures) have also been started in support of the ban over the past few days.

This is just a small sampling of the public support for this measure. Animal lovers across San Francisco, and the world, are incredibly passionate about this issue and are grateful to you for considering this vital legislation.

Don't hesitate to reach out to me if you have any questions.

Best,
Wayne

--

Wayne Hsiung
Co-Founder
Compassionate Bay

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Ban fur

1 message

Dorothy Frankel <dfrankel@optonline.net>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:16 PM

What a wonderful step to Ban Fur. I am in favor of this progressive ban ...so many other clothing options, it's unnecessary the cruelty involved to get fur products.

Thank you for voting to end Fur!
Dorothy
Dorothy Frankel

Sent from my iPad

SUBJECT: Please support the fur ban!

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you because I am a concerned, hopeful, resident of Berkeley, asking for your support to ban on the sale of fur in San Fransisco.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

I strongly support the ban on fur products because animals including foxes, chinchillas, raccoons, and even cats and dogs suffer in ways that we cannot even imagine on fur farms and in fur-traps. There is no need for fur trim and other fur products and the violence and pain that animals suffer is unacceptable and inexcusable. We must do the right thing and take a stand against this needless animal cruelty.

Other progressive cities, including West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this important, just legislation. Sensitive animals just like our dogs and cats are need us to act, and I'm grateful for your support. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Kyana Jones
2248 Dwight Way
415-542-6018
crueltyfree@berkeley.edu

January 19, 2018

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a person very concerned about animal welfare and am requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

In an age when science is showing us the sentience of animals and we are learning about their rich and complex personal lives, it is shocking that we are still allowing them to be killed simply to rip of their skin and use it as a fashion item. Fur is no longer needed for warmth, it is blood spilled for human vanity.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Karin Nelson
5348 111 Ave
Edmonton, Alberta
T5W 0K5
Knelson3@outlook.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

PLEASE SUPPORT THE BAN ON FUR

1 message

Deborah Hawes <deborahhawes1@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Tue, Jan 23, 2018 at 3:25 PM

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are brutally confined, tortured, and killed, for cash and vanity.

Sincerely, Deborah Hawes

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Letter to support fur ban

1 message

Laura Best <laura@ldermisolutions.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Tue, Jan 23, 2018 at 8:21 PM

Hello,

Please help make the world a less cruel place by voting to ban fur sales in SF! Your participation will make the difference between evil and justice. These animals being hurt did nothing wrong to deserve this. There are so many other positive business and commerce opportunities that standing up for what is right will not hinder commerce on the contrary by banning the sale of fur it will create a bigger change for a more compassionate society. PLEASE do the right thing, don't let money and people who only have money on their mind pervert the truth that harming sentient beings is wrong and needs to be seen that way in the world of law.

Thank you,
Laura Best
Business Owner, Entrepreneur & Local Resident

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Ban Fur!!!

1 message

Tara Rabalais <grafxtara@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Sat, Jan 20, 2018 at 4:07 AM

There is no reason to kill defenseless animals for their fire. Trapping them and breaking their legs making them nor the legs off so they can escape how horribly and humane. No one needs a real Fur coat!!! The fake fire looks just as good and doesn't kill animals.

Sent from my iPhone

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Re: Please support the ban on fur

Alana Crow <alana@ac-entlaw.com>

Mon, Jan 22, 2018 at 3:59 PM

To: letters@compassionatebay.org, Alana Crow <alana@ac-entlaw.com>

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of Los Angeles, a wife, mother, entertainment lawyer and animal rights activist, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

FUR IS UNNECESSARY, GRATUITOUS AND CONTRIBUTES TO A GLOBAL CRUELTY ISSUE OF THE WORST KIND. HOW CAN WE AS HUMANS HAVE PETS WE LOVE AND ADORE, AND YET CONDEMN OTHER ANIMALS TO A LIFETIME OF HORRORS AND A TORTUOUS DEATH FOR THE MEANINGLESS REASON OF WEARING FUR?

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Support for Fur Ban

1 message

savelolitap <savelolitap@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 3:05 PM

We support your measure to ban all fur sales. We want San Francisco to have the honor of showing their compassion and innovation by becoming the first city to ban fur sales.
Diane and Syd Marcus, G.G.

Sent from my Verizon 4G LTE smartphone

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Ban fur

Paula Purviance <paulapurviance@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 9:01 PM

I'm so proud if SF bans fur
World leaders!!

Sent from my iPhone

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Fur Ban

1 message

Yahoo Mail <peggysharp2211@yahoo.com>

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 5:18 AM

To: letters@compassionatebay.org

I support the ban on fur in San Francisco!

I live close by in the Monterey bay and hope that such a compassionate move will spread to all areas of California, and San Francisco with its compassionate and progressive mindedness is the perfect place to start.

We all know that the massive suffering of animals that takes place around the globe is unnecessary and must stop so

I urge you to ban all fur sakes now!

Kindest Regards,

Peggy Sharp

3214 Playa Ct.

Marina, Ca. 93933

Sent from my iPhone

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Fur sale ban

1 message

Digital Galaxy <digitalgalaxy11@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Sat, Jan 20, 2018 at 10:31 PM

Please go ahead with the ban on fur sales! There is absolutely no need for fur coats anymore, given the wide range of synthetic jacket liners and even faux fur. The cruel industries which support fur farming have no place in a modern world.

Thank you!!

-Nick

--

Sent from my Android device with K-9 Mail. Please excuse my brevity.

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Fur trade

1 message

Josephine O'Donovan <josephine.e.odonovan@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 1:16 PM

Dear Sirs,

As animal activists we are very concerned that your firm is still dealing in the cruelty of the fur trade. We would strongly urge you to discontinue this practise as it causes unnecessary suffering to defenceless animals and must stop as soon as possible as there are now so many good alternatives. Thank you

Sent from my iPhone
Yours Faithfully
J Odonovan
Dip Ed

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Fur

Tim Bezy <imbezy@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 6:30 PM

Have compassion for all living things

Sent from my iPhone

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Letter

1 message

Jon Hochschartner <jonhoch3@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 12:59 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,
I'm hopeful San Francisco will live up to its progressive reputation and ban the sale of fur. Such a move by a city of your size would be a historic victory, encouraging the creation of similar laws across the country.

Sincerely,

Jon Hochschartner
41 Salmon Brook Street
Granby, CT 06035
518-637-7864
JonHoch3@gmail.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please ban sales of fur

1 message

marshallteam@yahoo.com <marshallteam@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:00 PM

Please ban the sales of fur. Your help is greatly needed. Animals (rabbits, foxes, minx, chinchillas and more) feel emotional and physical pain. Thank you. - a San Francisco vacationer, Lisa in Texas.

Sent from my iPhone 7

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

CLAUDIA DI MARTINO

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Kathryn Manuzi

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Dante Espinosa

Address:

Phone Number:

Email: mystic_joe@yaho.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Mya Smith
Mya Smith

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: N.H. Griffith
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Ban fur in SF

1 message

Maryam Kamali <maryamsoffice@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 1:52 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Given this brutality, other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking this action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Maryam Kamali
2409 Dekoven Ave, Belmont CA 94002
650-353-0588
maryamsoffice@gmail.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please ban the sale of fur.

1 message

cosmintas <cosmintas@dodo.com.au>

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 5:26 PM

To: letters@compassionatebay.org

To the San Francisco Board Of Supervisors,
Please show some respect and compassion towards animals; and some leadership in business and community by banning the sale of fur in your city.

Animals used for the fur trade live in horrendous conditions and die in terror and pain. The human race no longer needs to wear fur for warmth and protection from the elements. Fur for clothing is now outdated and totally unnecessary. Numerous designers are now moving away from fur in the product lines.

By supporting this legislation the city of San Francisco will be showing it cares about cruelty and violence towards animals.

Yours sincerely,
Nigel Nichols

27 Petty street,
West Hobart, 7000
Tasmania,
Australia

Ph: 03 62347930
email: gergel@dodo.com.au

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please ban the sale of fur

1 message

Tasha Gergel <gergel@dodo.com.au>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 5:25 PM

To the San Francisco Board Of Supervisors,
Please show some respect and compassion towards animals; and some leadership in business and community by banning the sale of fur in your city.

Animals used for the fur trade live in horrendous conditions and die in terror and pain. The human race no longer needs to wear fur for warmth and protection from the elements. Fur for clothing is now outdated and totally unnecessary. Numerous designers are now moving away from fur in the product lines.

By supporting this legislation the city of San Francisco will be showing it cares about cruelty and violence towards animals.

Yours sincerely,
Tasha Gergel

27 Petty street,
West Hobart, 7000
Tasmania,
Australia

Ph: 0409 13 132
email: gergel@dodo.com.au

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please consider supporting the ban on fur

1 message

Deborah Craft <bdmcraft@comcast.net>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Sat, Jan 20, 2018 at 4:08 PM

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

[State why you support the fur ban here. Personal stories about why the issue is important to you and how it affects you and those you care about, e.g. your dog or cat, can be especially powerful.]

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Respectfully,

Deborah Craft

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

Carmen Celea <carmencelea71@yahoo.com>

Sat, Jan 20, 2018 at 10:37 AM

To: "letters@compassionatebay.org" <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

[State why you support the fur ban here. Personal stories about why the issue is important to you and how it affects you and those you care about, e.g. your dog or cat, can be especially powerful.]

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,
Carmen Celea
Italy, Rossano
+393349049453 carmencelea71@yahoo.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Proposed ban on the sale of fur products

1 message

Doris Potter <dorispotter99@gmail.com>

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:17 PM

To: letters@compassionatebay.org

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to request your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I have been concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry for decades now. It is time for action!

As you may know, many animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. These animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their young and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Given this brutality, other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking this action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation.

Sincerely,

Doris Potter

990 St-François-Xavier #605
St-Laurent, QC
H4L 5E7

Alana Crow, Esq.
310.569.1651.
Alana@ac-entlaw.com

----- Forwarded message -----
From: Wayne Hsiung <dxe@directactioneverywhere.com>
Date: Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 1:23 PM
Subject: Three Ways You Can Help Ban Fur in SF!
To: Alana Crow <alana@ac-entlaw.com>

DIRECT ACTION  EVERYWHERE
UNTIL EVERY ANIMAL IS FREE

Hey Alana,

San Francisco is on the cusp of becoming the first major city in the world to ban the sale of fur! On January 24th, the city of San Francisco will be considering the ban proposed by Supervisor Katy Tang, and she has asked us to deliver as many signatures as possible to support the ban.

- Sign and share the petition to ban the sale of fur in San Francisco!

You can also send a letter of support to letters@compassionatebay.org to be delivered to the SF Board of Supervisors, based on this template letter. And look out for a livestream on January 24th as we gather outside of San Francisco City Hall to hold a rally and press conference! With your help showing support, we think the initiative will be a success and San Francisco will be one step closer to being a compassionate city for all animals.

Thanks,

Wayne Hsiung

To unsubscribe from our mailing list, click here.

Law Offices of Alana Crow

T: 310.569.1651
E: alana@ac-entlaw.com
W: www.ac-entlaw.com
S: alana.crow

This transmission is intended only for the use of the individual or entity to which it is addressed, and may contain information that is privileged and confidential. If the reader of this message is not the intended recipient, or the employee or agent responsible for delivering the message to the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution or copying of this information is unauthorized and prohibited. If you have received this communication in error, please notify me immediately by telephone 310.569.1651 and return the original message to alana@ac-entlaw.com.

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

San Francisco - Fur Free City?

1 message

Petra S <petra_travels@yahoo.ca>

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 5:39 PM

To: "letters@compassionatebay.org" <letters@compassionatebay.org>

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I have heard that the city of San Francisco is considering a ban on the sale of fur. This would be an amazing move and fantastic PR worldwide for the city of San Fran!!!

Considering that millions of innocent animals in the fur industry are kept in inhumane, disgusting conditions (cramped cages with wire flooring, no intellectual stimulation, in isolation and often darkness), it is time to evolve for us humans. Let San Fran be the first to take this important step and ban the sale of fur.

Million of animals are killed per year by the fur industry in ways the average person is not aware of (like shooting, electrocutions or slow poisoning so as not to 'damage' the fur); this is the time to stop this barbaric trade.

Change San Francisco for the better!

With best regards,
P. Schmidt
Canada

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

SF BAN

1 message

Gay Smith <stl1wes@cableone.net>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 4:01 PM

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Gay Smith

Sent from my iPhone
Gay Smith

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Support the ban on fur

1 message

EDITH LOBROT <edith.lobrot@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 1:38 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Edith Lobrot
edithlobrot@gmail.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Thank you for banning fur sales in San Francisco!!!

1 message

Elsie Elma <lclmaneh@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 5:46 PM

To the wonderful folks who are trying to ban the selling of fur in SF!

I wanted to send a huge Thank You for trying to ban the sale of fur in San Francisco!

This is a progressive and forward-thinking city and it would be lovely to see it go fur free because other US cities would follow that lead.

As a member of a group of concerned citizens here in Vancouver Canada we have been protesting fur for several years. Since 2008 actually. Sadly we've seen a growing number of Canada Goose coats everywhere which are doubly horrible because of the down within the coat plus the coyote fur hoods.

If San Francisco becomes the first major US city to ban the sale of fur what an example they would set for other US cities and Canadian cities too! We are so hoping this will happen soon.

We wish you the very best success in your endeavours! It's wonderful to see so many people signing the on-line petition which shows growing awareness and public tastes are changing toward a kinder, more compassionate, fur-free world.

I also wanted to share with you a video our group made during the 2010 Olympics which took place in Vancouver. We were very happy to get lots of positive public response and we had many anti-fur and anti-seal hunt petitions that got tons of signatures.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3BAEWJYSYXE>

Thank you again for all you are doing to ban fur!!

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Thanks for Listening

1 message

Heather Brandhorst <heather.brandhorst@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 6:24 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

[State why you support the fur ban here. Personal stories about why the issue is important to you and how it affects you and those you care about, e.g. your dog or cat, can be especially powerful.]

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Heather Brandhorst

6550 S. Dayton St. AptB202

Centennial, CO 80111

720-202-5048

Heather.brandhorst@yahoo.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

Ellie Pumpkin <elliepumpkin888@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 10:07 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned yet hopeful resident of the Bay Area, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

I believe this treatment of animals is highly unethical. It pains me to know that so many innocent beings are subjected to this kind of cruelty on a daily basis simply as means of a fashion statement or an extra layer of warmth. No living creature deserves to be confined, abused, and murdered as these animals are. We would not stand this kind of treatment towards humans, so why should we stand it towards animals? I know I wouldn't want my beloved golden-haired pup or striped tabby cats to experience this inhumanity, nor would anyone else. We must take a stand and ban the sale of fur in San Francisco to protect the well being of our nonhuman friends.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Ellie Pumpkin

3251 Matthew Lane

(707)-845-5177

elliepumpkin888@gmail.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

Tessie <chuat1242@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 4:22 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Even furs labeled as faux furs are actually dog or cat fur especially if made in China as it is cheaper than actually producing faux fur. Dogs and cats are skinned alive.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,
Tessie Chua
chuat1242@yahoo.com

Sent from my iPhone

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Fur ban

1 message

Marianne <silver304@aol.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:47 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Sent from my iPhone

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

cbluffsgirl@cox.net <cbluffsgirl@cox.net>

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:44 PM

Reply-To: cbluffsgirl@cox.net

To: letters@compassionatebay.org

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

Please stand up for the innocent lives who are treated so horribly by humans. No life should ever be treated the way the fur trade industry treats millions of innocent lives. Not ONE life should suffer in this way. As humans we have a choice, we know the difference between right and wrong. It is our job to protect this earth and its inhabitants and all life forms. Please, please, please end this cruel madness.

The reason why I support the fur ban is because I've never been able to think that life is all about me, or humans. I don't see other lives as anything less and no one should. When you look into any living souls eyes there is a being there who feels and thinks. It is not up to humans to say who deserves to be treated right or wrong, or deserves to be used, whose life is less valuable. We are not Gods. We are just caretakers of this beautiful Earth. From personal experience, I'm 100% certain it matters. I know for a fact it matters. It's not acceptable in 2018 to go on causing so much pain and suffering when we know better. When we understand what pain and suffering is.

Please think outside of your life and the life of your family and realize it's not just humans who share bonds and feel unbearable suffering. I urge you to support this vital legislation, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Deborah Pospisal

20927 Greenview Rd. Council Bluffs, IA. 51503

Phone number: 712-308-2165

Email: cbluffsgirl@cox.net

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

mary shabbott <mshabbott@sbcglobal.net>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:44 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

I have seen what happens to animals so that someone can wear their fur. I will never be able to forget nor want to. Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support!

Mary Shabbott
10249 acorn trail Punta Gorda Florida 33950
817-733-0464
mshabbott@sbcglobal.net

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

Caitlin Audet <cmarissa_8@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:28 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Caitlin Audet, an animal lover

Sent with AquaMail for Android
<http://www.aqua-mail.com>

SUBJECT: Please support a fur ban

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing in earnest to ask for your support of the proposed ban on fur sales in SF.

The havoc these products wreck on foxes, rabbits, minks, wild coyotes, and even dogs and cats - is beyond extreme. Around 50 million animals a year are imprisoned and brutally killed for no crime other than being born into fur coveted by human beings. There is no place for this in 2018.

I am hopeful that San Francisco will join other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, in passing the ban and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the extreme violence of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Molly Flanagan
81 Glen Ave., Apt. 201
Oakland, CA 94611
510-301-5620
flamolly@gmail.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

Cassie King <cassie@directactioneverywhere.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Tue, Jan 23, 2018 at 3:41 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, Bay Area resident, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am the proud guardian of a bunny name Jonah, who brings so much love and happiness into my life. I cannot imagine him, or any other innocent animal, being abused the way the fur industry abuses its victims. And yet, millions animals, including bunnies just like Jonah, are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I implore you to please support this vital legislation for the sake of animals just like Jonah and those animals whom you hold dear to your heart. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Cassie King
2248 Dwight Way Apt C, Berkeley CA 94704
(760) 707-8084
cking@berkeley.edu

Lisa Zorn

235 Berry Street #707
San Francisco, CA 94158
415-728-5062
lmz@alumni.brown.edu

January 22, 2018

San Francisco Board of Supervisors
1 Dr Carlton B Goodlett Pl #244
San Francisco, CA 94102

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as an 11-year resident of San Francisco to request your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products. In addition to living and working in San Francisco, I am also a board member and volunteer for SaveABunny, a rabbit rescue that operates in Mill Valley and works with shelters all over the Bay Area, including San Francisco Animal Care and Control. SaveABunny volunteers provide love and medical care for these rabbits before finding them homes throughout the Bay Area, including many homes in San Francisco. I became involved in this rescue after adopting two house rabbits myself over fifteen years ago.

As you likely know, rabbits are unique as they live in a grey area between pets and "livestock." Many of us love them and live with them (free running, since they use litterboxes) in our homes, and they are every bit as much our family as dogs and cats are in other families. However, much of society still views rabbits as a commodity to be exploited for meat and for fur. This latter fact, and the suffering that these intelligent, social beings endure when they are exploited for their flesh or for skin, breaks my heart. And getting to know and love house rabbits has opened my heart to other animals we exploit for economic gain as well.

On behalf of the many rescued rabbits that I know and love, and alongside the many San Francisco families who have adopted house rabbits, I implore you to support the fur ban in San Francisco. I also ask that you include all fur pelts that are not apparel in your ban. In this day and age, we do not need to exploit and kill animals for our household or clothing needs.

Sincerely yours,

Lisa Zorn & family

San Francisco Resident, SaveABunny Board Member and Volunteer

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Fwd: Letter to Board of Supervisors re: Fur Ban - Invitation to edit

Almira Tanner <almiratanner@gmail.com>
To: Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Mon, Jan 22, 2018 at 4:08 PM

Here is the text

1/20/2018

To: The San Francisco Board of Supervisors or Whom it May Concern
From: Amy Sullivan, resident of San Francisco since 1984 and special education teacher of SFUSD
3720 24th St.
San Francisco, CA 94114

Re: Proposed Fur ban in San Francisco

I would like to voice my strong support for Supervisor Katy Tang's proposed fur ban in San Francisco. In brief, these are the following reasons that I, whole heartedly, support the ban:

- 1) Animals are not things or property and we have no moral right to take from them what is theirs. By doing so we also cause them great distress and physical harm, end their lives pre-maturely and end their lives violently.
- 2) Based on my research I have learned that it is a widespread practice on fur farms for animals to be kept in over crowded and filthy conditions and to suffer great emotional and mental harm. Someone's desire to sell fur or wear their fur on their body has never been and never will be a justification for taking fur from animals in this violent manner. I have also seen HORRIFYING videos of animals skinned alive and bloody at these farms. These animals are typically given no anesthetic and are also often killed through anal or vaginal electrocution, gassing or having their necks broken so as not to damage the fur that is being taken from them to be sold. This constitutes torture in my mind and is completely unconscionable.
- 3) Animals in the fur trade have no Federal laws to protect them from cruelty by humans.
- 4) Many countries in Europe have already banned fur because it has become evident that businesses cannot maintain animal welfare in captivity and still make a profit. The business of selling fur is not only cruel but it's also archaic. It would be wonderful and in alignment with our identity as a progressive city, if San Francisco could be one of the fist big cities in the United States to lead the way.
- 5) Many species used by fur are threatened or endangered.
- 6) As a city, we need to move towards greater compassion and caring towards all species...not just humans. Think about it. WE are animals too.

Let's make this happen. The animals are depending on us to use good moral judgement here. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Amy Sullivan

[Quoted text hidden]

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

PLEASE BAN FUR PRODUCTS

1 message

Chaojian He <che5@mail.ccsf.edu>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Tue, Jan 23, 2018 at 8:18 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors

“The greatness of a nation and its moral progress can be judged by the way its animals are treated.” (Gandhi) we are human . human are smart and kindness. we can always find other way to make more money without killing animals.
please support the vital legislation

Sincerely,

Chao jian he
2235 3rd st sf ca94107
4155138461
che5@mail.ccsf.edu

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please vote YES on fur sale ban in SF

1 message

Tora Chung <truemango@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Mon, Jan 22, 2018 at 12:06 PM

Dear SF Board of Supervisors,

As a 40+ year resident of San Francisco, I fully support Supervisor Katy Tang's proposed ban of the sale of fur.

By taking this action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Thank you,
Tora Chung
San Francisco resident (94121)

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur in San Francisco!

Brian Nagai <nagaibk@gmail.com>

Mon, Jan 22, 2018 at 2:17 PM

To: letters@compassionatebay.org

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors:

I am writing to encourage you to strongly support the ban on the sale fur products in San Francisco.

I have lived in San Francisco now for more than 20 years and am proud to live in such a compassionate city.

The cruel treatment of non-human animals for the benefit of humans is one area where all cities could do better. I believe San Francisco would solidify its position as a city of compassion and serve as an example to all other large cities by enacting a ban on the sale of fur products. Not only is the fur industry horrible for its cruel and violent mistreatment of non-human animals and disregard for other sentient creatures with whom we share this planet, it is probably the most frivolous. Other cities like Berkeley and West Hollywood have banned the sale of fur, and it would make me even more proud of my city if we could be the first large city to do the same.

Please take a stand for compassion and nonviolence. Please support the ban on the sale of fur products in San Francisco.

Sincerely,

Brian K. Nagai, MD
55 Robinhood Drive
San Francisco
(415) 806-5368
nagaibk@gmail.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

Michele Ursino <micurs@foldier.com>

Tue, Jan 23, 2018 at 8:40 PM

To: "letters@compassionatebay.org" <letters@compassionatebay.org>

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

Mahatma Gandhi once said, "The greatness of a nation and its moral progress can be judged by the way in which its animals are treated."

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Michele Ursino
81 Lansing Street, Unit 202 SF, CA 94105
415-279-8514
micurs@foldier.com

Sent from Mail for Windows 10

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please, please support the ban on fur

1 message

Shelley Costantini <shelleycostantini@gmail.com>

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 10:49 PM

To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

I volunteer at the SF Animal Care and Control and try to find homes for the beautiful bunnies, dogs and cats. With the amount of care and love we give to these precious animals, I cannot imagine the fear and absolute horror that the fur-trade inflicts on all of the unlucky animals they use for JACKETS. We have so many other materials to wear!

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Shelley Costantini

81 Lansing Street, Unit 202 SF, CA 94105

415-336-3196

shelleycostantini@gmail.com

 Sent with Mailtrack

Shelley Costantini

Get gorgeous at Shelleyc.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Support Ban on Fur

Allison Broude Friedberg <allison.broude@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 6:09 PM

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

It is ridiculously inhumane to sell and/or wear fur. We have tons of alternatives. Thinking about my own animals being confined to a crate for their lives in order to use their fur is absolutely disgusting. San Franciscans, especially, do not need fur, as the weather does not drop below 50 degrees. As a native San Franciscan, I would be honored to be part of a major city to ban fur.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Allison Broude Friedberg
2621 Pacific Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94115
415-730-4121
Allison.broude@gmail.com

--

Allison Broude Friedberg

415.730.4121

www.smartstartsf.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please Support the Ban of Fur

1 message

Hadar Aviram <hadar.aviram@gmail.com>

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 4:23 PM

To: letters@compassionatebay.org

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

We have two cats that we adore, with luxurious fur. We see no difference between them and the other animals raised for fur--which looks so much more elegant on its original wearers. I am also a shareholder in a vegan fashion company and these days there are so many excellent alternatives to fur. It is a dated status symbol that signifies nothing beyond the wearer's complicity in cruelty.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Hadar Aviram

156 San Juan Ave., San Francisco, CA 94112

415-202-4383

hadar.aviram@gmail.com

California Correctional Crisis | Cheap on Crime

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Fwd: Please support the ban on fur.

1 message

Almira Tanner <almiratanner@gmail.com>
 To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Sun, Jan 21, 2018 at 12:34 PM

----- Forwarded message -----

From: Tria Connell <triaconnell@me.com>
 Date: 21 January 2018 at 11:32
 Subject: Please support the ban on fur.
 To: almiratanner@gmail.com

Hi Almira,

my friend Amy said you would be willing to print out letters to bring to to the meeting about baning fur. Thank you so much for doing this, i'm out of town and can't make it to the meeting. but here's my letter.

is it ok if give your email to others who want to write a letter? please let me know if you need help with the cost of ink or paper. thank you,

Tria

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

I live with rescued bunnies, and I volunteer for 2 different bunny rabbit rescues, and I have seen up close the heartbreakingly awful way in which bunnies are kept to be used for fur....I am also a Costume Designer and I have personally seen the jump in technology of FAKE FUR fabric production, we DO NOT NEED to purposefully torture animals when we have a much better alternative. I truly believe deeply that animals are not our property for us to do whatever we choose with. All animals are living breathing creatures that feel pain, loneliness, despair, and Love if given a chance.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

Please support this vital legislation. Animals just like our bunnies, dogs, and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Tria Connell
840 Hayes St. Apt #2, 94117
415 902 2193
Triaconnell@me.com

--
Until Every Animal Is Free

Almira Tanner, MSc, OT
Organizer, Direct Action Everywhere

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

gchiapp@yahoo.com <gchiapp@yahoo.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Fri, Jan 19, 2018 at 2:52 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

I believe that it should be obvious to anyone who has researched the treatment of animals in the fur industry, that these practices and indeed killing an animal for such an unnecessary reason is not what the citizens of San Francisco nor of California should consider progressive, humane, or ethical. If we as a city and indeed as a species continue to help aid this industry grow then San Francisco will only serve to blacken the smudge that has already been made on history by the fur industry.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Giulio Chiappolini

46 Lucas Park Drive

415-755-7573

gchiapp@yahoo.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Please support the ban on fur

1 message

Sydney Wong <sydneymwong@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Tue, Jan 23, 2018 at 2:34 PM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I grew up in San Francisco and have always been proud that San Francisco has always stood up for what's right, whether it be gay rights, civil rights, women's rights, the environment, undocumented immigrants, helping the homeless, and just being the most inclusive city in our nation. Using animals for cosmetic purposes such as fur is such a ridiculous and outdated practice.

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Sydney Wong

496 Urbano Drive San Francisco, CA 94127

510-542-1116

sydneymwong@gmail.com

1649 Treat Ave
San Francisco, CA 94110
January 21, 2018

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry.

I have witnessed the torment and the atrocities committed against these wild animals, how they pace in their cages, then are drowned, or gassed to death, or have their necks broken and are tossed into a bucket to writhe in pain. I have witnessed undercover footage of these animals being anally electrocuted to burn the animal from the inside so as not to harm their furry skin, or being skinned alive – all for fashion.

Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death. Trapping is indiscriminate, and dogs, cats, birds and other animals are caught, injured and suffer horribly.

The time is right for San Francisco to join other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, to pass a ban on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur.

By banning fur products, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I am grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Josephine Bellacomo (signed)

Josephine Bellacomo
1649 Treat Ave
San Francisco, CA 94110
415-644-8032
jo@movethemessage.com

Compassionate Bay Letters <letters@compassionatebay.org>

Urging Support for the Proposed Ban on Fur

1 message

Christine Marr <marrwong@gmail.com>
To: letters@compassionatebay.org

Tue, Jan 23, 2018 at 9:11 PM

SUBJECT: PLEASE SUPPORT THE BAN ON FUR

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am a proud resident of the City and County of San Francisco and am writing to urge your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products. San Francisco has repeatedly taken the lead on issues that only later become issues of broader national concern.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Christine Marr
496 Urbano Drive

marrwong@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Rocky Chau
530 Larkin St. #105
San Francisco, CA 94102
415-571-0717
mfchau@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Tina Maxemin
Address: 172 6th St SF CA 94103
Phone Number: 415 240 9126
Email: tmaxemin71@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Daniel Cook
Address: 2614 38th Ave. San Francisco, CA 94116
Phone Number: 209 480 6915
Email: dcook87@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Mahjae Hackett
Address: 24 Maxwell Ct
Phone Number: (415) 571-3004
Email: mahackettemahjae@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Danielle Steuermann
765 Cambridge ST 94134
415 428 1750
DAS

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Jikayah Stevens

Address:

1330 Bush st #16

Phone Number:

415-889-9645

Email:

jikayahphoto@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Michelle Santos
Address: 39 Sycamore St
Phone Number: 415-374-4053
Email: michellesantos@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Katia Foerls

Address:

49a Alabama St

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ZACHARY DRUMM
Address: 69 MIFFLIN ST.
Phone Number: (415) 4104-2460
Email: ZDRUMMVO@YAHOO.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Stewart
1362 S Van Ness S.F.C.A

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

James E. Chien

Address:

525 Bryant St.

Phone Number:

(415) 524-5449

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Karen Menjivar

Address: 420 Russia

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Sheli Carrier

Address:

Phone Number:

909 SF #625

Email:

SF 9409

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Roman Mitchell
Address: 3048 16th St. #418 San Francisco Ca. 94103
Phone Number:
Email: Roman22Mitchell@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: VICTORIA ROUSE
Address: 88 Cumberland #7
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

DIANA NAPARST

Address:

3647 19th Street, SF

Phone Number:

Email:

do not add me to a mailing list
please!

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: MARIA FELIX SAVEDRA
Address: 35 ST. 20 ST #6 SF CA 94110
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Pius Chalske WHIRLWIND SOLDIER
Address: 560 Julian AVE, San Francisco C.A.
Phone Number: 928-254-3045
Email: ChoskeWhirlwindSoldier@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: MYRIAM GONZALEZ
Address: 2791 16 SF
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: MARI TEPPER
Address: 422 VALENCIA
Phone Number:
Email: (415) 552-1409

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jose L Romero
Address: 2023 Folsom st Apt #1
Phone Number: (415) 509-8025
Email: Jose4life10483@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Marco Antonio Chavez Paredes
Address: 347 Dolores st. Apt. 305
Phone Number: 415-684-4033
Email: chavezparedesmarco@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

526 South Van Ness Ave
Apt # 395
Donald Lee Doss,

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Chu-Chu Tso
Address: 477 Stockton St. APT 403
Phone Number: 415-269-6791
Email: kkeelloo@yahoo.com.tw.

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Ciara McCall

Name:

Ciara McCallister

Address:

333 Webster St.

Phone Number:

SF CA 94117

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: MIKE NOEL
Address: 1102 POPE ST.
Phone Number: 415-706-1763
Email: mikedesign@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Hedra Madisson
4530 B Cabrillo, SF, CA 94121
510-847-5855
madisson@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Tandraya m. Jones
Address: 391 Ellis St. San Francisco, Ca 94102
Phone Number: (209) 922-5820
Email: N/A

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Ulna Nauer
Address: ~~at~~ 1734 15th Street
Phone Number: (415) 504-5110
Email: Ulnanauer@my.smccl.edu

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Clint Critchlow
Address: 1918 15th St, SF, CA 94114
Phone Number:
Email: clintsee@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Ms Jean M. Ull
Address:
Phone Number: 78 FLSON. 2 +
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Kelly Groth

Name: Kelly Groth

Address: 740 PARNASSUS #8 SF 94122

Phone Number: 415 699-0622

Email: KVgroth@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Alexandria Plutshack
Address: 390 Guerrero St
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: CHRIS COX
Address: 1135 Market St 94103
Phone Number: (510) 688-4304
Email: MAKAI.COX4011@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Chadwick Heather
Address: 3620 18th St.
Phone Number: 415-940-3042
Email: Chadwick@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LINDSEY LUTTS
Address: 1090 PLYMOUTH AVE #4
Phone Number: 831-334-0427
Email: phylindsey@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Rayda Conino
Address: 39 Sycamore St.
Phone Number: (415) 374-4128
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

316 LAWTON ST 94122

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: PATRICE KIRK
Address: 3048 16th # 415
Phone Number: (415) 933-2566
Email: dkirka@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Fatima Santos
Address: 39 Sycamore St.
Phone Number: 415-374-3977
Email: fatima237030@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Kelly Anderson

Address: 401 Lakeview Ave San Francisco, CA 94112

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Shorty

Address:

1139 MARKET ST.

Phone Number:

510-302-9345

Email:

macymai00@icloud.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Patricia Sigucinos
Address: 281 CATALINA ST SAN FRANCISCO C.A. 94124
Phone Number: (650) 271 15 01
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: PEARO CHU
Address: 164 TH 6 ST
Phone Number: 415 776 7612
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: GARY W DITCH
Address: 1950 mission st.
Phone Number: 415-552-9321
Email: none

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: SCOTT KIRKLAND
Address: 1053 Valencia St
Phone Number: 650 315 0003
Email: sykirc@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

U

Sincerely, William J. J. J.

Name: 430 Turk St
Address:
Phone Number: 510 614-7121
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely, Maria Edick Tamayo

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

545 OFARRO

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DeShawn Hawkins
Address: 158 Baldwin
Phone Number: 415-733-3015
Email: hawkins264@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Mary Calk
Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

3048 16 St

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Aneshka Marshall
Address: 1313, 500 Lh van - 55
Phone Number: 415 ~~485-4889~~
Email: 18189

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: BRADLEY F CRADDOCK
Address: 782 SPRUCE ST.
Phone Number: 804 366 5125
Email: Peildc@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Nicolas Dubon
Address: 33 Agnon Ave SF CA 94112
Phone Number: 415 821 9627
Email: nicolasdubon@stighal.net

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Diana Fisk

Address: 838 Alabama St. San Francisco, CA 94110

Phone Number:

Email: diana.fisk@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'L. M. G. ...', written over a horizontal line.

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

91 watchman way SF, Ca 94107

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Santos Hernandez
Address: santosmh7@gmail.com
Phone Number: 517-896-8573
Email:

1173 S. Van Ness Ave

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Scott Carder
Address: 64 Baker St. SF CA 94117
Phone Number: 415 623 4728
Email: scodubs@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Zahra Gomez
Address: 64 Baker St SF, CA 94117
Phone Number: 510-356-8128
Email: gmozahira@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sonia Alvarenga
Address: 651 Edinburgh St. 94112
Phone Number:
Email: 415 656-6522

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Yanira Rivas Hernandez

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

~~YRH~~
651 Edinburgh St. 94112
415 572-2795

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Emmett M. Oliver

Address:

947 Fillmore

Phone Number:

415-931-9333

Email:

NA

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Elizabeth D Bliss

Address:

1950 Mission St

Phone Number:

(415) 845-9397

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Brittany Mebada

Address:

1053 Valanera Apt. B SF, CA 94110

Phone Number:

430 234-4104

Email:

brittany.j.mebada@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Maria Moreno

Name:

Address: 1108 Alabamast

Phone Number: (415) 643-8386

Email: mamoreno3@sfsd.edu

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Shenna Orone
Address: ~~211~~ 211 13th St
Phone Number: S.F CA 94103
Email: 415 937-7293

Casperownthget1@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Emani Davis
Address: 1455 Van Dyke Ave
Phone Number: (415) 712-5376
Email: emanidavis415@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

197 WARREN Drive

SAN FRANCISCO 94131

J MURACO 813 5 Gmail . com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address: 642 Chenery St. Apt. 3 San Francisco, CA 94131

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Lisa Yolanda
Address: 1026 Fitzgerald
Phone Number: 415-685-6173
Email: lya40farra1@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: RANIA ADWAN
Address: 595 CONNECTICUT STREET
Phone Number: -
Email: RANIAADWAN@GMAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Cirilo Maya Almanza
Address: 3345 18th Street Apt#2, San Francisco, CA 94110
Phone Number: (415) 310-1640
Email: cirilomaya@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Grina Candate
Address: 1251 Turk St Apt 1107
Phone Number: (415) 424-276
Email: candate64@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ANTHONY ST. GEORGE
Address: 166 DOLAN ST.
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

RICARDO Escobin

Address:

107 Ocean

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Kunal Bhush
Address: 274 Divisadero St
Phone Number: 50773 9124
Email: kunalbhush@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Yolanda Varela
Address: 2930 21st Apt A SF CA 94110
Phone Number: (415) 375-2966
Email: Charlotte_Altheavza@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: A. Faicha Eng
Address: 529 Larkin Officeraell SF Ca 94118
Phone Number: 415 437-0457
Email: emissions

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DANIEL E. BELL
Address: 111 Taylor St.
Phone Number: (206) 619-8814
Email: damesbess04@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Roger Smith
Address: 687 Keith St. San Francisco
Phone Number: 415 470 7568
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Emerald Holdman
Address: 344 head st.
Phone Number: (415) 724-9577
Email: emeraldholdman@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sydney Brooker
Address: 2614 38th Ave San Francisco, CA 94116
Phone Number: 707 337 2291
Email: sydneybrooker@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Lance Wu
Address: 325 Berry St #627
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Victoria Tennant
Address: 950 Jackson St. San Francisco, CA 94133
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ANNIE CONSTANTINO
Address: 653 ARGUELLO BLVD S.F. CA 94118
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DONNE MALLINS
Address: 737, VERMONT ST, SF CA 94107
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Tyler Lynch
Address: 655 Sutter St San Francisco, 94102 CA
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Amanda Friedman
Address: 796 Lunt Blvd TCS 205
Phone Number: (416) 842-9633
Email: afriedmana@mathi.sfsu.edu

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Melanie Wood
Address: 94133
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Leah Hadem
Address: 2922 Larkin St. 94109
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address: 73 MAYNARD, ST. SF 94112

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Andrew Friedman
Address: 740 Lr Playa
Phone Number: 415-732-6482
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: April Afalava
Address: 1098 Oakdale Ave
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LUISA MEGUIA
Address: 99129
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: VIJAY PRADEEP
Address: 175 BLUXOME ST, #125, SF, CA
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: James Conrad

Address: 346th St Apt. 228 SF CA 94103

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Grace Bao

94123

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: WILLIAM JONES
Address: 1975 19th Ave., SF, CA, 94116
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Dylan Sullivan
Address: 94118
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LLO
Address: GARY 775
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Valentina Aragon
Address: 411 O'Farrell St.
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Samantha I. Gargoby
Address: 2475 23rd 95116 San Francisco
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Greta Buitter
Address: 1950 Mission Street
Phone Number: 415-305-1600
Email: gretaisdancing@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Chase Bearch
1427 Clay St SF
CA 94102

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sarah Blake
Address: 3848 Fulton, 94118
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Jenny Hoang
(415) 802-7525
jhoang1206@gmail

Addresses: 1322 La Playa St.
San Francisco, CA 94122

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Channing Sheets
Address: 631 Garaval St. San Francisco CA 94116
Phone Number: 415 254 2682
Email: cash90@hdtmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Lee Raft

Address:

280 O'Farrel ST.

Phone Number:

Email:

12

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

HELEN SANTOS
500 FOUNDRY ST.
S.F. CA

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ~~Mr~~ Carlos F. Villagomez
Address: 717 Sutter St, San Francisco, CA
Phone Number:
Email: villagomezcarlos@ymail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Isis Hood
Address: 94112
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Daisy Lee
Address: 1720 O'Farrell St #416, SF, CA
Phone Number: 504.405.7522
Email: amydec@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Alison Clarke
Address: 173 Noe St. SF
Phone Number: 415-548-0271
Email: alisonclarke@mac.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Erwin Flores
Address: 535 London St. San Francisco, CA 94112
Phone Number: 415 452 9214
Email: Erwin.Flores450@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Rita Amador
378 Golden Gate Pk Apt # 530
(415) 619-930
REFERRAZBR@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Amy Othman

Address:

138 Hyde street

Phone Number:

Email:

415-424-1699

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Thomas Luu
Address: 120 Grifone Drive
Phone Number: 717 512 9412
Email: mitluu@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: STEVE FABUS
Address: 324 LARKIN
Phone Number: ~~415~~
Email: sfabus@sbcefabus.net

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Anthony Dixon
Address: 1198 Mission St. Apt. 1209 SF CA 94103
Phone Number: (415) 410-4746
Email: anthonydixon@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Stephen M. Steffanides

Address: 260 McALLister St # 100, SF 94102

Phone Number: 415.571.1589

Email: steffanides@Google

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Nicole Sekeres
Address: PO Box 191666, SF, CA 94119
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Dany Petelle
Address: 935 Sutter St. Apt. # 26 S.F. Cal. 94109
Phone Number: (415) 622-7519
Email: danypet@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LARKIN BETHAN
Address: 508 LARKIN ST SF CA 94102
Phone Number: 812 345 7291
Email: LBETHAN@GMAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Raul Aldape
Address: 842 7th Ave
Phone Number: 661-281-9555
Email: medina1055@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Christian Caamal
Address: 378 Golden Gate Ave
Phone Number: (415) 724-8661
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Benjamin Paul

Address:

235 Oak St Apt 21, SF, CA 94102

Phone Number:

8479770688

Email:

benspaul@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Edward

Name:

Lawrence Edward

Address:

743 Polk St Apt 200

Phone Number:

Email:

S.F. CA 94109

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Helen Hambra
Address: 649 Sylvan St
Phone Number: 415-782-7522
Email: hgambra@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Megan Oser

Name: Megan Oser
Address: 680 Indiana St. 0509
Phone Number: 775-843-9822
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Carlos Vanden Nieuwenhuis
Address: 326 Hollywood Ave SF CA 94112
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ASA HILLS
Address: 100 McALLISTER ST SF 94102
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Lauren Rischel

Name: LAUREN RISCHEL

Address: 1000 SUTTER ST, #722, SF. 94109

Phone Number: 415-734-0867

Email: LAURENDONNA@HOTMAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

MELTEM DZCELEBI

Address:

19 BESSIE ST SAN FRANCISCO CA 94110

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Eric Rowell

328 Golden Gate Ave.
SF, CA 94102

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jay G. Fournier
Address: 520. Park Mesa Ave 396
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Alina DiNoia

Address:

PO Box 15354

San Francisco

Phone Number:

415-377-0245

Email:

alinedinoia@earthlink.net CA 94125

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LILIANA FELDER
Address: 33 Agnon Ave.
Phone Number: (510) 384-9496
Email: lilymfelder@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Dave Glasgow
34 6th St #516

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Thomas Grant
Address: 150 9th St #221
Phone Number: 415-863-4582
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely, Savannah Fletcher
Dary

Name:
Address: 100 McAllister st SF 94102
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Mercedes C. Jimenez
Address: 120 Capp St. Apt 410 San Francisco, CA 94110
Phone Number: 415-290-7145
Email: merjimenezc@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Jesus Garcia

Address:

4096 17th St # 314

Phone Number:

415 - 276 7573

Email:

garciajesus4096@sbcglobal.net

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Dante I Martinez
Address: 223 Diamond St. SF, CA 94114
Phone Number:
Email: Nephazir26@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Cordero Skinner
Address: 815 Pierce St San Fran.
Phone Number: 415-913-8332
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Amber Hewitt
Address: 291 Ellis St SF 94102
Phone Number: 415 756-3303
Email: folsgoode@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Eduardo R
Address: 177 CAPP ST
Phone Number: 415-685-1317
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Dorothy Davidson

Address:

39 San Francisco Ave

Phone Number:

415 336-2895

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Tony Brown
Address: 2237 West St.
Phone Number: 415-810-5255
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Madeline Sides
Address: 3267 20th St, SF
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Benjamin Cedars
Address: 107 Shotwell Street, SF
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Yolanda Beltran
Address: 550 Vista Grande 940A
Phone Number:
Email: Viridy@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: PAIJE FULLER
Address: 575 HARRISON
Phone Number:
Email:

SF, CA

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Ashley Cruz
Address: 2325 Golden Gate Avenue
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Joshua Pearson
Address: 1 Constanco Way San Francisco, CA 94132
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: AL CAPATI
Address: 2351 POWELL ST #
Phone Number: (415) 501-0442
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: J.A. Cummings, MD
Address: 1242 2ND AVE, SF, CA 94122
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Corey Weiss
Address: 985 14th St San Francisco, CA 94114
Phone Number: 415-691-4422
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Nicole Paul

Address: 2475 23rd Ave San Francisco CA 94116

Phone Number: (408) 205-7562

Email:

npaul257@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

344 San Miguel
Street San Francisco.

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

walter Alas

74 6th st SF CA 94103

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Kendrick LeValley
Address: 1088 Howard St Apt 9
Phone Number: 415.400.7757
Email: Kendrick.LeValley@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ANDREW GREEN
Address: 664 5TH AVE
Phone Number: 415-499-5879
Email: ajgreen@earthlink.net

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: James Sanderson
Address: 1111 pine st
Phone Number: 530 680-1702
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Carlos Villafania

Address: 451-4-AVE #A

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: John Darby
Address: 2492 Post St #320 S.F. CA 94115
Phone Number:
Email: jdarby@smail.com —

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Stanley Obermaier
Address: 875 Fairfax St Apt 8
Phone Number: 510 729-5581
Email: 57 OR 94117

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Asya Niydelogin
Address: 223 Mangle Avenue
Phone Number: 415 361-6925
Email: asyanig@rcwr.com.

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Alonda

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

750 Vista Grande 94014

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Ronnell Hurst
Address: 2791 16th St #54
Phone Number: 415 240-1543
Email: erchurst@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Nery Rodriguez

Address:

375 14 St APT#1

Phone Number:

SAN FRANCISCO CA 94103

Email:

~~415~~ 415, 987-6484

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Paulino Barrero
Address: 540 Capp St # 213
Phone Number:
Email: 415 51770 418

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ALBERT KABA

Address: 69 NEPTUNE ST.

Phone Number: 415-505-3446

Email: ALBERT_KABA@YAHOO.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Steven Lomet
Address: 218 COVERLET DR S F
Phone Number: 415-230-6744
Email: slomet007@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ALVARO CERQUEIRA SOUZA
Address: 237 KEARNT ST APT # 393
Phone Number: 415-368-719
Email: alvarocer11@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely, Victoria Lamanova

Name: Victoria
Address: 432 Noe st San Francisco, CA
Phone Number: 347-294-6331
Email: lamanovavizi@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DEBRA WALKER
Address: 540 Alabama St #217 SF 94110
Phone Number: 415-370-7091
Email: doddwalker@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Gerald Polts
Address: 3763 Cezao Chavez
Phone Number: (415) 369-1806
Email: gpolts73@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Lena Pujol
Address: 951 Jackson Street
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

660 BUSH ST.
SF, CA 94108

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Yel. L. Wen
325 Berry St #627, SF CA 94115-81

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Christina Lee

Address:

1 S. Van Ness Ave. 3FL.

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Tedford Lewis

Name: Tedford Lewis
Address: 2555 14th Ave
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Jessels Cavieres
JESSELS. CAVIERES

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

957 MISSION ST #221
San Francisco CA 94103

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Eriko Watanabe
Address: 94117
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Tom Lombardo
854 14th St
SF CA 94114

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Michelle Lu

Address: 94122

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jasmine Elmore

Address: 1005 Laguna St. San Francisco, CA 94115

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Clint Cario

Address: 635 Clayton #3 SF, CA 94117

Phone Number:

Email: clint.cario@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: HILARY WHITEHEAD
Address: 1160 JORK ST, SF, CA 94110
Phone Number: 401-835-5899
Email: hlaryawe@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LESLEY BERRY
Address: S VAN NESS AVE
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Teri Love
Address: 1706 15th St San Francisco, CA 94103
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Amanda Wang
Address: 635 Clayton #3, SF, CA 94117
Phone Number: 415-691-0680
Email: amandawang0703@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Emily DeLaTorre
Address: 225 Buckingham Way Apt 601, San Francisco, CA 94132
Phone Number: 415 278-9674
Email: emilydelatorre88@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Lia Wesp

Address:

1000 Hampshire St

Phone Number:

Email:

lia.wesp@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Patricia Davis
Name: Patricia Davis
Address: 12 Maxwell Ct
Phone Number: 415-684-6603
Email: davispat50@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Rolando Lima

Sincerely,

Name: Rolando Lima

Address: 380 - Eddy #434

Phone Number: (415) 902-6229

Email: Hernandez felipe 0501@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jonathan Woodard
Address: 535 Argonaut Ave SF CA 94134
Phone Number: 415 879-2436
Email: Jonathan333435@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Kassie Rhoades
Address: 463 Valenica Ave SF CA 94110
Phone Number: 415-410-4110
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

ASMITA PURI

Address:

1945 WASHINGTON ST. APT 303, SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94109

Phone Number:

347-216-5567

Email:

asmi.puri@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

JUAN ROJAS
Sincerely,
Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:
580-CAPP SF 214
415-642-3816
DAX DAX 12-2 @MAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: HERBERT H. EVANS
Address: 520 S. Van Ness # 275
Phone Number: 415 568-7694
Email: EVANS Herb 84 @ comail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: RONOLDI OMAR VALENCIA
Address: 3469 MISSION SF CA 94110
Phone Number: 415-756-8784
Email: ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ treehillpi@gmx.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: JEFF BUMB
Address: 169 MADRID ST / SF 94112
Phone Number: 415 - 314 - 2905
Email: JEFFBUMB5@GMAIL

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jen Doyle
Address: 576 Guerrero
Phone Number: 715 948 8166
Email: jend@jpd.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LIENE CIKANOVIČA
Address: 1400 7th STREET, SAN FRANCISCO
Phone Number: 415 990 5348
Email: CIKALALC@GMAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Gustavo Torres
Address: 1406 7th st
Phone Number: 415 518 6703
Email: gustavatorres@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: CHARLES BURD
Address: 352 S TURK ST #357 SF 94102
Phone Number: 260 433 0491
Email: crburd@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

A large, stylized handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Nick Palankos". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

Sincerely,

Nick Palankos

Name:

Address: 173 Haight SF CA 94102

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: NATHALY CHAVEZ
Address: 347 DOLORES ST APT#305
Phone Number: 415 2868495
Email: coff46017@gmail.com.

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Yanan Tan

Address:

310 A Cappo St

Phone Number:

352-327-0161

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: MARTIN KAM
Address: 241A DIVISADERO ST.
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Joe Alvarado
1111 11th St

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: VADIM KAZAKEVICH
Address: 620 Foerster St San Francisco CA, 94124
Phone Number: (415) 802-5895
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Cui Tran
Address: 1638 Kirkwood Ave, SF
Phone Number: 415-683-2702
Email: CuiTran7@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sylvie Dao
Address: 318 Utah, SF
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Thomas Bush
Address: 391 Ellis Street
Phone Number: 213 944-5259
Email: thomasisaacbush@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Bernard Sices
Address: 1095 Gilman
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Mari Arguello

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

*Mari Arguello
308 Forest St
415 912 6107*

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits, and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name Tim Steele

Address 1090 South Van Ness, CA 94110

Phone number 415-307-5526

Email

JimmyJohns5912@outlook.com

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name Setu Upadhyaya

Address 650 California St # 700, San Francisco, CA 94108

Phone number 949-202-6460

Email setman85@gmail.com

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name

NATHAN DRYER

Address

1 Henry Adams St # 5530, SF, CA 94103

Phone number

513 448 5603

Email

dryer.nathan@gmail.com

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name Pablo Suarez

Address 353 King St. APT 524, SF, CA

Phone number 510 - 241 - 7613

Email pablo.97suarez@gmail.com

SUBJECT: Please support the ban on fur

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name Anirudha Pendakur

Address 355 Berry St, Apt 337, San Francisco, CA 94158

Phone number (415) 684-6894

Email anipendakur@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Gabe BUENOSTRO
Address: 185 Westgate San Francisco CA
Phone Number: 65012008189
Email: gbuenny@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jason Storm
Address: 574 3rd st #204 S.F.
Phone Number: 415 756 6199
Email: gooniestorm@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Erin Koch

Address: 50A Walter St.

Phone Number: 415.552.7447

Email: erin@homelesseyouthalliance.org

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Martine D'Agostino
Address: 1290 Grove St #201 SF CA 94117
Phone Number: (415) 384-2269
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

ALEX GORETSKY

701 Pennsylvania Ave

San Francisco, CA 94107

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

William Fato
Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

*239 Taralones St
SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94112*

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jenny Frame
Address: 107A 4 HAMSHIRE
Phone Number: 510-396-3827
Email: Jenny.Frame@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,
Deborah J. Brooks

Name:
Address: 453 Holly Park Circle, SF 94110
Phone Number: 415-642-8073
Email: dancinggiraffe@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Joyce Arvizo
Address: 106 6TH ST. ROOM 604 SF CA 94103
Phone Number: 415 570-9362
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Chris Colville
Chris Colville
1432 York
554-3150

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: CARMEN BARSODY

Address: 234 Hyde St. 94102

Phone Number: 415-474-0508

Email: fools@faithfulfools.org

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Lorraine Powell
Address: 38 Farallones St. SF CA 94112
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

River Sims
1617 Polk St # 8

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Chris Carter
Address: 4190 Geary
Phone Number: 378 Condon St
Email: 415 310 2333

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Johanna Hamke

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

350 Goldengate #507
SF, CA, 94102

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'DAVID KNAPP', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Sincerely,

Name: DAVID KNAPP
Address: 1415 FRANKLIN, #501
Phone Number: (415) 567-0115
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Kelley Cutler
Address: 520 Taylor St. 5322 SF
Phone Number: 415 756 0692
Email: kcutler@cubsf.org

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: CAROLINE LE PETTIT
Address: 1625 45th AVE, SF CA 94122
Phone Number: 415-624-6865

Email: Clepetit@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

70 Rickelnd.
415 9337415

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

J D Scoppa
415-305 1403

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: MICHAEL BIANCHI

Address: 60 LEAVENWORTH ST

Phone Number: 415-864-7937

Email: CHICHARON2014@HOTMAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely, Brian Escalante

Name: Brian Escalante
Address: 60 Leavenworth Apt 34
Phone Number:
Email: BESCALANTE@CACSS+HIDENZ.ORG

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Tai Mamoe
1544 Polk St # 7
415 255-6619
taiataimamoe@hotmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Julian Ontiveros

100 McAllister St
801 804 1025

Julian.ontiveros@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Emmanuelle Mitchell
Address: 132 Baltimore Way SF.
Phone Number:
Email: klacm-zzy@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Joseph Benjamin
500 Jones St. apt #415
kwangetbenjamin@gmail.com
1(415) 351-3195

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Brent Johnson

Address:

678 9th Ave

Phone Number:

#355, E. CA

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

ARELY SION
25 ESSEX ST APT 515 94105

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Cynthia J Carter
44 McAllister St #628
628-225-9134
none

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Cassandra Kipp
Address: 391 Turk Street Apt. 504
Phone Number: 415 212 6620
Email: Fruityou@icloud.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Horacio Bravo Horacio Bravo.
Address: 1116 Turk St. San Francisco CA. 94115
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sasha Frazier
Address: 374 5th St Apt #304 SF, CA 94107
Phone Number: 415-455-7954
Email: jfrazi10@mail.ccsf.edu

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

June Kealoha-Hall

Name:

June Kealoha-Hall

Address:

191 Golden Gate Ave. SF, CA 94102

Phone Number:

415 724-6676

Email:

mizzjewelry@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Allyemy
1300 Market
415 516 7174

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Handwritten signature of Marco Hernandez, with the name written below it. The signature is in black ink and is quite stylized. Below the signature, the name "Marco Hernandez" is written in a similar cursive style, followed by "San Francisco" and "SF." on separate lines.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

402 Broadway #111
SF CA 94109

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

250 KENNEDY 22/4
SF 94108

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Shelia R. Scull
Address: 2401 9th St 94109
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jheliliah Hill

Address: 471 Orizaba Ave. SF, CA 94132

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Akira Nakagawa", written over a horizontal line.

Name: Akira Nakagawa
Address: 1442 47th Avenue
Phone Number: ~~415-223-1111~~
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Mike
Address: 404
Phone Number:
Email:

Dolores SF

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Giovanna Massi

Sincerely,

Name: Giovanna Massi
Address: 1278 market st 94102
Phone Number: 415 574 9061
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Byron Rivera
3 Fontinella Terrace SFC A 94102
(415) 574-6730

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Ethel Jean Nays AA/BA
the Lincoln Family (Todd's)

P.O. BOX 425633
San Francisco, Calif.
94142
415 265 3249

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: JUSTIN SIBARS
Address: 1 POLK ST. # 1501 SF CA 94102
Phone Number: 510-910-9003
Email: JUSTIN@bod50t.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Michael Garcia

1423 34th Ave SF CA 94122

554-362-0872

mike.garcia@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

525 5th St
(428) 749 7912

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Sarah H. Rossell

Name: Sarah H. Rossell

Address: 1278 Market St. SF CA 94102

Phone Number: 415.565.0825

Email: srossell10@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DEIRDRE VISSER
Address: 1350 GUERRERO ST
Phone Number: 415 793 9624
Email: DAVISSE@YAHOO.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Manana Kestepov
Address: 1655 Mission St, SF 94103
Phone Number:
Email: manana.cal@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Katherine D. Gonzalez

Name:

Address: 1316 S. Van Ness Ave.

Phone Number: (415) 375-5664

Email:

~~KATI~~ katblack44@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

John Philiz
1728 MARKET WAY
SF CA

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Jay Marth

Address:

2784 22nd St

Phone Number:

415 830-4771

Email:

italicise@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Alvarez
Name:
Address: 2261 Bryant St. SF cal 94014
Phone Number:
Email: 415-424-7418

alvarez.cynthia@comcast.net

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: CHEVONNE SAUDAETAE
Address: 600 25TH ST 2PT 66
Phone Number: (415) 573-8105
Email: goatwhorecjs6@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Robert P. Thompson

Address:

420 Jones St #15

Phone Number:

Email:

San Francisco CA

(415) 504-5927 94103

rgcmerT@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Dawn Schaffner
Address: 21701 Foothill Blvd #145 Hayward, Ca 94541
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Josh Bevelacqua

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

1200 Treat Ave. #3 SF. CA. 94110
joshbevelacqua@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Christopher Ramirez

Address:

18 10th St Apt 325

Phone Number:

415 658 7520

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Yesenia Ramirez
Address: 18 Tenth St # 325 SF CA 94133
Phone Number: (415) 658-7520
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sasha Sabin
Address: 128 EDDY ST
Phone Number:
Email: 415 928 2026

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Gregory J Williams
Address: 292 Turk, SF, 94102
Phone Number: (415) 577-8222
Email: gjwjr@hotmail

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Shay R Master

Name: Shay R Master

Address: 55 Mason St. #216

Phone Number:

Email:

415 368 2116
San Francisco, CA 94102
smaster305@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Jenny Melara
2231 Quesada Ave. SF CA. 94124
(415) 590-1891

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sean Lynch
Address: 391 Ellis St.
Phone Number: 401-691-2481
Email: Seanlynch21@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jon Chaney
Address: 2787 Folsom St 94110
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DEREK BAUMER
Address: 3824 SCOTT ST APT 4
Phone Number: 646-771-3775
Email: DERZKBAUMER@GMAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: SANIYA YADAV
Address: 1321 MISSION ST.
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Conley
1500 Broadway - 214

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Xalibullen

Address: 111 Jones St

Phone Number:

Email: Xalibullen27@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Hannah Francis
Address: 109 Summit Way
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ANKA SMITH
Address: 139 BROWN AVE SF 94131
Phone Number: 415.305.9859
Email: smokit2@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Nichitash Patel

Address:

320 Alabama Street, Unit 11

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

ABRIL BHATTAR

Address:

59 GROVE ST SF, 94104

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Margo Rodriguez
Address: 984 Harrison St SF CA 94107
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Natalie Jeha
Address: 25 Camp St. #4
Phone Number: 415 310 5565
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Ashley Clement
Address: 1010 16th St 94107
Phone Number: 978-973-4388
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Brandon Fucker
Address: 1010 16th St 566, SF
Phone Number: 928 559 1834
Email: brandandfucker@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Pamela Head

Address:

530 Hugo Street

Phone Number:

217-722-8450

Email:

pamelahhead@icloud.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Gina White

Address: 2418 20th Ave #208

Phone Number: 415-622-8522

Email: ginawhite1994@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address: 2451 Sacramento St. 308

Phone Number: 415-683-7074

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Luis, Casillas 94103

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Judy Judkis
Address: 4732 mission
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Courtney Colver

Address:

56 Julian Ave. S.F. CA. 94103

Phone Number:

Email:

415-865-0964

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Laurie Carstensen
Address: Friendship House 56 Julian
Phone Number: 415 545 0964
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Carolyn Chan
Address: 18 Copp St
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Or Teyger
Address: 516 Linden St SF
Phone Number: 510 890875
Email: orteyger@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely, Michael Jones

Name: MICHAEL JONES
Address: 111 TAYLOR ST
Phone Number: (415) 572-3058
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Julio Cesar Lemus Tobar
140 Julian AVE APT 305 San Francisco 94103

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jair Avalos
Address: 1801 22nd ave apt 1 99122
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

Hugo Urzuea
187 handers st San Francisco Ca 94114
hugo.urzuea79@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Devansh Patel
Address: 141 Dove St.
Phone Number: 423-767-5638
Email: devp@

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Edda Mai Johnson

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

588 Mission Bay Blvd North
S.F., CA 94158

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Rich Shumford #305
Address: 1350 Market
Phone Number: 415 864-
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Kate Rivett

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

1241 - B Green St SF 94109
303.513.9708

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: ERIK PAULSON
Address: 1241 B GREEN ST
Phone Number: 320 746 8878
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Kris Willis

Address:

1123 E. 8th St.

Phone Number:

Email:

San Francisco CA 94018

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

RUDY BACLIC

Address:

701 GOLDEN GATE

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: JUSTIN LOKITE
Address: 139 BROMPTON AVE., 94131
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Monica Bathija

Address: 320 Alabama St., # 11, S.F., CA 94110

Phone Number:

Email:

510 3069

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Marcus Garrison
Address:
Phone Number: 94124
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Lanika Stewart
Address: 211 13th Ave San Francisco
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Matthew Leeds
Address: 1825 Mission St Apt 421
Phone Number: 209-873-0740
Email: mwl456@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Vanessa
Address: 520 SO VANNEO
Phone Number: _____
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Steven Wohl

Address:

1288 Mission St SF CA 94102

Phone Number:

(415) 292 2639

Email:

asster1200@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Leoncia Regan
Address: 400 Valencia St
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address: 1385 Utah St. S.F. 94110

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Lisa White
Address: 22 Bay St Apt 103 SF CA 94133
Phone Number: (415) 529-2012
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Catherine Art
Address: 25 Winfield St.
Phone Number: San Francisco
Email: 415-550-6755
car41997@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Donald O. Pedersen
Address: 2283 30th ave
Phone Number: 415-736-3579
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

IAN DICK

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

←
3350A 16th St SF SF

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely, Joshua Whitney

Name:

Address: 766 Clementina St. San Fran 94103

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Tim Boren
Address: 2791 16th ST, SF, CA 94116
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Diana Perkin

Address: 610 TX

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Tony Arano

Address:

582 Grove St #12, San Francisco, CA 94102

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Miko Marks
Name: Miko Marks
Address: 4100 Keller Ave
Phone Number: Dakland, CA 94605
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: KARI GEAR
Address: 178 HEARST AVE SF 94131
Phone Number: 915 469 7188
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: LEONARDO BETTINELLI
Address: 1848 FELL ST. 94117 SAN FRANCISCO
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Mayra Alvarenga
111 Jones st. Apt 918
San Francisco CA 94102

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Issa Phuc
Address: 4806 mammoth
Phone Number: oakley CA 94561
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Kevin Henley
Address: 332 16th St. 94013
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: James Robinson
Address: 332 16th St. 94013
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Yaheli Garcia 1112 Ingelson Ave

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Eniah Garcia 1112 Ingerson Ave.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Malik Banks

Address:

Phone Number:

415 6131176

Email:

Bigface415@aol.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DAVID JAL
Address: 267 Poplar. Unit
Phone Number: 415 617 7653
Email:

szjcek@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Patto Salazar
Address: 50 Lansing St. San Francisco
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: John Oliveira
Address: 104 Garces Dr. San Francisco, CA 94116
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Nicole Morisugi
Address: 1161 Stanyan St. Apt 1
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jibby Anjo-Ani
Address: 051 Ellsmorth St, SF 94110
Phone Number: 321-257,4428
Email: jibbyani@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth A. Hanson

Name:

Address: 1515 Van Ness

Phone Number: 415-559-7284

Email:

1122ykins122@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Q

OSCAR SADY VARELA

Name:

Address: 161 BOUTHWELL SF CA 94123

Phone Number: 415 424-9940

Email: OSNVS.CONSTITUTION1776@GMAIL.COM

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: George Ferrari
Address: 426 NAPLES ST
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: MARGOT MARTINEZ
Address: 278 - 27 AVE. SANFCO CA. 94120
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Carlos Villatoro
Address: 2329 Mission Apt 17
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Wilmer Puerto
Address: 3276 24th Street 94110
Phone Number:
Email:

to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jason Duval

Address: 1813 63rd St Berkeley, CA

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Maria Lara

Sincerely,

Name: Maria Lara
Address: 1106 De Haro St SF, CA 94107
Phone Number: 4155749650
Email: marialarag@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

YERISOTO
WILDE 135 AVE

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

Saldana V.
32 Flournoy JAIL CITY

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Devika Patel
Address: 816 York St SF CA 94110.
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors;

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Lucy ^{Wang}
Address: ~~1234 5th St~~ 604 Buiski st, SF CA 94108
Phone Number: 510-996-8157
Email: lucy.wang.06@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Seema Bhatt
Address: 94109, 1455 ALBERT ST.
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Sharon Deshpande
Address: 94108
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Soma Lilani
Address: 2283 26th Ave
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Writen
Address: 1941 Mission Street
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Xavier Bobic
Address: Bush & Powell Kellenshorff
Phone Number: 541-771-2281
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

America Cen 94112

Sincerely,

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Crystal Lee
94134

Sincerely,

Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'M. L. ...' with a heart symbol at the end.

Sincerely,

94112

Name:

Address:

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Selena Buzinky
Address: 4028 26th St
Phone Number: 415-216-8506
Email: selena.buzinky@gmail.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Allie Rubenstein
Address: 3504 16th St.
Phone Number: 201-675-9095
Email: allison.rubenstein@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: DAPHNE ELIN
Address: 540 STOCKTON #10 SF
Phone Number:
Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Jenna Wang
Address: 94129
Phone Number:
Email: jw.retail@yahoo.com

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name:

Dona Koren-Deutsch

Address:

105 Richmond Ave 94116

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Louis Williams

Address: 7401 4th St

Phone Number:

Email:

To the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to you as a concerned, yet hopeful, resident of San Francisco, requesting your support for the proposed ban on the sale of fur products.

I am concerned with the cruel treatment of the over 50 million animals, including dogs and cats, who are confined and killed every year in the fur industry. Many of these animals, like foxes, rabbits and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives where they go insane from boredom and stress. In order to prevent damage to their skins, these animals are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Other progressive cities, such as West Hollywood and Berkeley, have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending the production of fur. By taking the proposed action, San Francisco will continue its history of protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence and become the first major city in the world to take a stand against the brutality of the fur industry.

I urge you to support this vital legislation. Animals just like our dogs and cats are counting on us, and I'm grateful for your support.

Sincerely,

Name: Izak Gonzalez
Address: 1739 Palou Ave
Phone Number:
Email:

Carroll, John (BOS)

From: Carroll, John (BOS)
Sent: Tuesday, January 23, 2018 3:35 PM
To: Ronen, Hillary; Sheehy, Jeff (BOS); Fewer, Sandra (BOS)
Cc: 'Calvillo, Angela (angela.calvillo@sfgov.org)'; (carolyn.goossen@sfgov.org); Lambright, Koledon (BOS); Yu, Angelina (BOS); Summers, Ashley (BOS); Somera, Alisa (BOS)
Subject: Post-Packet Comment Letters - Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee - January 24, 2018

Good afternoon, Chair Ronen and members of the PSNS committee.

The office of the Clerk of the Board has received several comment letters from interested members of the public, concerning agenda item nos. 3 and 4 on tomorrow's committee agenda. These letters were received after I prepared the committee packets for tomorrow's meeting.

For your convenience in the committee room, I have linked these within the Legislative Research Center. They are also available linked directly below:

Comment letters on File No. 171317 - Banning Sale of Animal Fur Products

Comment letters on File No. 170843 - Exploration of Good Food Purchasing Policy

I invite you to review the entirety of these matters on our Legislative Research Center by following the links below:

Board of Supervisors File No. 171317

Board of Supervisors File No. 170843

Thank you for your review.

John Carroll

Assistant Clerk

Board of Supervisors

San Francisco City Hall, Room 244

San Francisco, CA 94102

(415)554-4445 - Direct | (415)554-5163 - Fax

john.carroll@sfgov.org | bos.legislation@sfgov.org

 Click here to complete a Board of Supervisors Customer Service Satisfaction form.

The Legislative Research Center provides 24-hour access to Board of Supervisors legislation and archived matters since August 1998.

Disclosures: Personal information that is provided in communications to the Board of Supervisors is subject to disclosure under the California Public Records Act and the San Francisco Sunshine Ordinance. Personal information provided will not be redacted. Members of the public are not required to provide personal identifying information when they communicate with the Board of Supervisors and its committees. All written or oral communications that members of the public submit to the Clerk's Office regarding pending legislation or hearings will be made available to all members of the public for inspection and copying. The Clerk's Office does not redact any information from these submissions. This means that personal information—including names, phone numbers, addresses and similar information that a member of the public elects to submit to the Board and its committees—may appear on the Board of Supervisors website or in other public documents that members of the public may inspect or copy.

From: Board of Supervisors, (BOS)
To: Carroll, John (BOS)
Subject: FW: URGENT letter for the public record - tomorrow's fur sales ban meeting
Date: Tuesday, January 23, 2018 2:52:58 PM
Attachments: Fur ban letter to Board of Supervisors F.pdf
image001.png

From: Board of Supervisors, (BOS)
Sent: Tuesday, January 23, 2018 2:42 PM
To: BOS-Supervisors <bos-supervisors@sfgov.org>
Subject: FW: URGENT letter for the public record - tomorrow's fur sales ban meeting

From: Fleur Dawes [mailto:fleur@idausa.org]
Sent: Tuesday, January 23, 2018 2:01 PM
To: Board of Supervisors, (BOS) <board.of.supervisors@sfgov.org>
Subject: URGENT letter for the public record - tomorrow's fur sales ban meeting

Dear Board of Supervisors

Please find attached a statement from In Defense of Animals for the public record in support of the fur sales ban being discussed tomorrow. In Defense of Animals is a charity that was founded in the Bay Area over 30 years ago and represents over 250,000 members in advocating for animals, people and the environment.

Please confirm receipt.

Very best

Fleur Dawes
Communications Director
e: fleur@idausa.org s: fleur.dawes

In Defense of Animals
t: (415) 448-0048 ext. 222
c: (415) 879-6879
3010 Kerner Boulevard
San Rafael, CA
<http://www.idausa.org>
<https://www.facebook.com/indefenseofanimals>
<https://twitter.com/IDAUSA>

IN DEFENSE OF ANIMALS

January 23, 2018

San Francisco Board of Supervisors
1 Dr Carlton B Goodlett Pl #244, San Francisco, CA 94102
San Francisco, CA 94102

RE: In Support of a Fur Sales Ban in San Francisco

Dear Supervisors,

In Defense of Animals is an international animal protection nonprofit that has been based in the Bay Area for over 30 years. We represent over 250,000 supporters, and we urge you to ban cruel fur sales in San Francisco.

San Francisco is the home of the peace movement and is named after St. Francis of Assisi, the patron saint of animals and the natural environment. The City should honor its history and ongoing commitment to peace, animals, and the environment by protecting the most vulnerable from cruelty and violence.

San Francisco is getting ready to make a very important decision this week: whether to ban the sale of cruel fur products. Animals brutally maimed in savage traps and suffering in torturous fur farms need your urgent support right now!

The fur industry confines and kills over 50 million animals every year, including dogs and cats. Many of the animals, like foxes, rabbits, and minks are kept in small cages for their entire lives, severely limiting their natural activities. They often go insane from stress and boredom.

The brutal end to their lives often comes as they are gassed to death or anally and vaginally electrocuted in order to prevent damage to their skins. Other animals, like coyotes, are trapped in the wild where they are separated from their children and endure days of suffering before they are bludgeoned or shot to death.

Not only is fur cruel and unnecessary, it is processed into garments using caustic and often toxic chemicals such as formaldehyde and chromium 33, which are listed as carcinogenic and hazardous to human health.

Given the inherent cruelty of fur, progressive cities such as West Hollywood and Berkeley have passed bans on fur products. Gucci, Michael Kors, and other designers have recently prohibited the use of fur in their fashion lines. And, just a few days ago, the nation of Norway committed to ending its fur production, becoming the latest of a dozen countries to pass similar restrictions.

Please do the right thing and pass this vital legislation. The animals are counting on us to condemn cruel fur to the history books.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Fleur Dawes". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned to the right of the word "Sincerely,".

Dr. Marilyn Kroplick
President
In Defense of Animals

P.P. Fleur Dawes, Communications Director

From: Summers, Ashley \(BOS\)
To: Carroll, John \(BOS\)
Subject: FW: Legislation re the sale of Fur in SF
Date: Tuesday, January 23, 2018 9:17:27 AM

Hi John,

Can you please include Mark's email as part of the record for our Fur Ban Ordinance tomorrow at PSNS? Thanks!

Ashley Summers

Legislative Aide
Office of Supervisor Katy Tang
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, Room 244
San Francisco, CA 94102
(415) 554-7460
www.sfbos.org/tang

From: Mark Pasternak [mailto:markdevilsgulchranch@gmail.com]
Sent: Monday, January 22, 2018 8:11 PM
To: Arvanitidis, Laurel (ECN) <laurel.arvanitidis@sfgov.org>; Summers, Ashley (BOS) <ashley.summers@sfgov.org>; Tang, Katy (BOS) <katy.tang@sfgov.org>
Cc: info@cuesa.org; Sheila Barry <sbarry@ucanr.edu>; Stephanie Larson <slarson@ucanr.edu>; Rob Bennaton <rbennaton@ucanr.edu>
Subject: Re: Legislation re the sale of Fur in SF

Laurel,

Thank you very much for your email, and thanks for the intro to Ashley Summers. I am aware of the proposed ordinance and did send Supervisor Tang an email a few weeks ago.

While I do agree with Sec.1D.2. Findings and Purpose I would like to point out that it does not at all apply to furs from animals raised humanely for their meat, such as sheep, goats, rabbits, etc. In fact the complete use of the entire animal is more environmentally and ecologically sound than not. We make every effort to use everything from the animals we raise: from the manure for our vineyards to the pelts which are tanned for sale whole, and are made into added value products by my wife which we sell at the Farmers Market; scarves, hats, gloves, muffs, leg warmers, pillows, etc. This gives us another avenue of financial diversification to help our small, local family farm survive. Please do not confuse the use of furs from humanely raised meat animals with those from animals that are raised on factory fur farms.

Unfortunately, I will not be able to attend the hearing on Wednesday, but would hope that perhaps this email could be read.

Thanks,
Mark Pasternak
Devils Gulch Ranch

On Mon, Jan 22, 2018 at 6:40 PM, Arvanitidis, Laurel (ECN) <laurel.arvanitidis@sfgov.org> wrote:

Hi Devils Gulch Ranch!

I work for the Office of Economic and Workforce Development at City Hall and am tasked with supporting our local business community. In partnership with Sup Tang's Office, we wanted to be sure that you were aware of a piece of legislation that is being heard on Wednesday.

Sup Tang as introduced an ordinance to ban the sale of animal fur products in San Francisco. Knowing that you sell some fur products at the Ferry Plaza Farmers Market we wanted to be sure you were aware of this legislation. There are some exemptions which may cover your products but I am not sure.

For that reason I wanted to put you in touch with Ashley from Sup Tang's office so you could discuss. Here is a link to the legislation as well as the legislative digest for your review.

Additionally, the item is scheduled to be heard at the Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee at 10a on Wednesday in City Hall, Room 263. Here is a link to the agenda.

Best,

Laurel

PS cc'ing CUESA in case you have any other vendors I'm not thinking of that sell these sorts of products.

Laurel Arvanitidis
Director of Business Development
Office of Economic and Workforce Development
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, Room 448
San Francisco, CA 94102

415-554-6471

Laurel.arvanitidis@sfgov.org

Note – I will be on maternity leave 2/12/18-7/9/18

--

Mark Pasternak
Devil's Gulch Ranch
www.DevilsGulchRanch.com

www.DGES.org cell 707 953-0923
office 415 662-1099

Carroll, John (BOS)

From: Lindsay Larris <llarris@aldf.org>
Sent: Wednesday, January 17, 2018 7:28 PM
To: Tang, Katy (BOS); Ronen, Hillary; Sheehy, Jeff (BOS); Fewer, Sandra (BOS)
Cc: Carroll, John (BOS)
Subject: Banning Sale of Fur Products in San Francisco
Attachments: ALDF Letter in Support of SF Fur Ban.pdf

Dear Supervisors –

Please see the attached letter in support of Supervisor Tang’s ordinance banning the sale of fur products in San Francisco, submitted on behalf of the Animal Legal Defense Fund.

Sincerely,

Lindsay Larris

Lindsay Larris | Acting Director, Legislative Affairs Program
Animal Legal Defense Fund | aldf.org
P 707.795.2533, ext. 1051 | C 310.923.1465
LLarris@aldf.org

SIGN UP!
Action Alerts | Facebook | Twitter | YouTube | Instagram | Causes

January 17, 2018

Supervisor Katy Tang
Supervisor Hillary Ronen
Supervisor Jeff Sheehy
Supervisor Sandra Fewer
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Pl., Room 244
San Francisco, CA 94102

525 East Cotati Avenue
Cotati, California 94931

T 707.795.2533
F 707.795.7280

RE: Banning Sale of Animal Fur Products (Tang)

Dear Supervisors of the Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee:

I write on behalf of the Animal Legal Defense Fund (ALDF) and our roughly 25,000 members and supporters in California, approximately 1,000 of whom live in San Francisco County, in support of Supervisor Tang's proposed ordinance to ban the sale of animal fur products. ALDF has been working for nearly four decades to protect the lives and advance the interests of animals through the legal system, including supporting similar bans in West Hollywood and Berkeley. We hope that San Francisco continues its role as a leader of progressive legislative initiatives by becoming the third jurisdiction in the United States to stand up to the cruel fur industry.

As a practical matter, there is simply no such thing as "humanely-raised" fur as all fur products are derived from inherently cruel and wasteful production methods. Fur products are either from animals raised on fur farms – places in which fur-bearing mammals bred solely for their fur, live in cramped, unsanitary quarters, and die painful deaths (unregulated by any laws) that put preservation of pelts above animal suffering. As such, slaughter methods such as poisoning, electrocution, and gassing, are common practice in the fur industry. "Wild caught" fur is also the product of extreme suffering as this fur is derived from animals caught in steel traps who die slow and painful deaths. Steel traps are so barbaric, that the European Union, as well as many states (including California) ban the use of such traps on public lands.

San Francisco has the legal authority to protect the welfare of animals within the county limits and enacting this ordinance would certainly advance the interests of animals. Regulation and certification cannot address the inherent cruelty of the fur industry, therefore, it is imperative that progressive jurisdictions outlaw items that are the product of clear violations of animal welfare. Moreover, such legislation is in line with promoting the progressive values that have been synonymous with San Francisco for many years. I urge you to vote yes on this ordinance.

If I can answer any questions or be of further assistance please don't hesitate to reach out at 707-795-2533 ext. 1051 or LLarris@aldf.org.

Very truly yours,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Lindsay Larris".

Lindsay Larris, Esq.
Senior Attorney, Legislative Affairs Program

BOARD of SUPERVISORS

City Hall
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, Room 244
San Francisco 94102-4689
Tel. No. 554-5184
Fax No. 554-5163
TDD/TTY No. 554-5227

MEMORANDUM

TO: Barbara A. Garcia, Director, Department of Public Health
Ben Rosenfield, City Controller, Office of the Controller
Jose Cisneros, Treasurer, Office of the Treasurer & Tax Collector

FROM: John Carroll, Assistant Clerk, Public Safety and Neighborhood Services
Committee, Board of Supervisors

DATE: December 19, 2017

SUBJECT: LEGISLATION INTRODUCED

The Board of Supervisors' Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee has received the following proposed legislation, introduced by Supervisor Tang on December 12, 2017:

File No. 171317

Ordinance amending the Health Code to ban the sale in San Francisco of animal fur products.

If you have any comments or reports to be included with the file, please forward them to me at the Board of Supervisors, City Hall, Room 244, 1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, San Francisco, CA 94102.

c: Greg Wagner, Department of Public Health
Dr. Naveena Bobba, Department of Public Health
Sneha Patil, Department of Public Health
Todd Rydstrom, Office of the Controller
Amanda Kahn Fried, Office of the Treasurer & Tax Collector

BOARD of SUPERVISORS

City Hall
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, Room 244
San Francisco 94102-4689
Tel. No. 554-5184
Fax No. 554-5163
TDD/TTY No. 554-5227

MEMORANDUM

TO: Regina Dick-Endrizzi, Director
Small Business Commission, City Hall, Room 448

FROM: John Carroll, Assistant Clerk, Public Safety and Neighborhood Services
Committee, Board of Supervisors

DATE: December 19, 2017

SUBJECT: REFERRAL FROM BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee

The Board of Supervisors' Public Safety and Neighborhood Services Committee has received the following legislation, which is being referred to the Small Business Commission for comment and recommendation. The Commission may provide any response it deems appropriate within 12 days from the date of this referral.

File No. 171317

Ordinance amending the Health Code to ban the sale in San Francisco of animal fur products.

Please return this cover sheet with the Commission's response to me at the Board of Supervisors, City Hall, Room 244, 1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, San Francisco, CA 94102.

RESPONSE FROM SMALL BUSINESS COMMISSION - Date: _____

No Comment

Recommendation Attached

Chairperson, Small Business Commission

Print Form

RECEIVED
12/12/17 @ 5:35pm
[Signature]

Introduction Form

By a Member of the Board of Supervisors or the Mayor

Time stamp or meeting date

I hereby submit the following item for introduction (select only one):

- 1. For reference to Committee.
An ordinance, resolution, motion, or charter amendment.
- 2. Request for next printed agenda without reference to Committee.
- 3. Request for hearing on a subject matter at Committee.
- 4. Request for letter beginning "Supervisor [] inquires"
- 5. City Attorney request.
- 6. Call File No. [] from Committee.
- 7. Budget Analyst request (attach written motion).
- 8. Substitute Legislation File No. []
- 9. Request for Closed Session (attach written motion).
- 10. Board to Sit as A Committee of the Whole.
- 11. Question(s) submitted for Mayoral Appearance before the BOS on []

Please check the appropriate boxes. The proposed legislation should be forwarded to the following:

- Small Business Commission Youth Commission Ethics Commission
- Planning Commission Building Inspection Commission

Note: For the Imperative Agenda (a resolution not on the printed agenda), use a Imperative

Sponsor(s):

Katy Tang

Subject:

Health Code - Banning the Sale of Fur Apparel Products in San Francisco

The text is listed below or attached:

[Empty box for text listing]

Signature of Sponsoring Supervisor: [Signature]

For Clerk's Use Only: