I am a native San Franciscan, who was raised in the Richmond District and now I reside in the Marina District. Professionally, I am involved in the hotel business, both as an adviser in hotel real estate and operations, while I also am knowledgeable with regard to other commercial real estate segments. I have served as a Commissioner and President of the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency, which provided me with the training as a commissioner and increased knowledge regarding public and private sector real estate and the entitlement process throughout many of San Francisco's Districts. This experience was significantly important in the fulfillment of my current duties as a Commissioner on the Board of Appeals since early 2015. With the experience of being a Commissioner I learned the importance of listening and being sensitive to neighborhood group and individual citizen constituencies with regard to their specific needs within their own neighborhoods and living environments. As a result, I developed a great degree of care in decision making to insure that the Commissions decisions were responsible and appropriate both in consideration of a broad spectrum of neighborhood needs and governance requirements.
