LEGISLATIVE DIGEST

[Administrative Code - Compensation for Assessment Appeals Board Members]

Ordinance amending the Administrative Code to increase the compensation the City provides members of the Assessment Appeals Boards for each hearing.

Existing Law

The Assessment Appeals Board (“AAB”) decides disputes between the Assessor’s Office and property owners concerning the valuation of taxable property within the City for the purposes of taxation. The AAB consists of three boards, each with five members and three alternate members. The City provides members of the AAB $125 for each morning, afternoon, and evening session, with a maximum payment of $375 per day when a member serves on a panel and $250 per day when a member serves as a hearing officer.

Amendments to Current Law

The proposed ordinance would increase the compensation the City provides members of the AAB to $175 for each morning, afternoon, and evening session, with a maximum payment of $525 each day a member serves on a panel and $350 per day when a member serves as a hearing officer.

Assessment Appeals Board is Critically Underfunded

#17 Ordinance to Increase Assessment Appeals Board Member Stipends.

- Increases Assessment Appeals Board Member Stipends from $125 to $175 per session
- Last updated in 2019, member stipends require an increase to reflect the higher volume of appeals and higher number of hearings attended by Members.
- San Francisco's Members are paid lower than their counterparts in other counties.
 - Five counties in California of comparable size and importance, compensate their Board Members $300 for an 8-hour per day or $37.50 per hour while San Francisco AAB members receive an estimate of $31.25 per hour.
 - Compared to twelve similar counties, the stipend received by San Francisco AAB Members ranks 7th overall or in the middle.
