As a lifelong San Franciscan and a product of its public schools, I know the vast diversity that makes San Francisco such a unique place to work and live. As a wheelchair-bound person with a disability, and speaking as an advocate for traditionally marginalized and underserved communities, I have dedicated my life to insuring citizens have access to services in the community and local government. As a Legislative Intern for California Assemblywoman Fiona Ma, I worked at her District Office here in San Francisco. As a student at Stanford University, I founded a disability advocacy group in student government. Currently, as the Systems Change Coordinator/ Community Organizer at the Independent Living Resource Center San Francisco (ILRCSF), I am at the forefront of promoting the advocacy agenda for all people with disabilities in San Francisco. In my previous role as the Community Activities Coordinator at ILRCSF I planned and promoted community events for adults with disabilities. Additionally, as an intern for ILRCSF, I advocated to advance disability rights through participation in the In-Home Support Services Task Force, Youth Organizing, Disabled and Proud, and the Disability Organizing Network. I also organized activities for youth with disabilities, facilitating an advocacy club at Mission High School and organizing, promoting, and facilitating meetings and events for the ILRCSF youth advocacy group.

Working with persons with disabilities has allowed me to make meaningful change in the community. I firmly believe that my professional experience and my passion for assisting persons with disabilities makes me a perfect candidate for the

Civic Activities:

As a legislative intern for Assemblywoman Fiona Ma, I had the opportunity to address constituent concerns, attend community meetings, and manage important educational and informational databases. I hope to bring this experience to the Sunshine Ordinance Task Force to help make government more accessible and participatory for all citizens of San Francisco.

I am a twelve year resident of San Francisco after moving from Ohio in 2005. I graduated from the University of San Francisco with a Master in Public Affairs last year at the age of 36. I have an unrelenting passion for political, social, environmental, economic, and racial justice. I graduated High School from a juvenile prison and have since turned my life around. As an activist and organizer I have worked with a diverse community. I have recently married the love of my life who happens to be a Colombian immigrant. I myself am a white, middle-aged, heterosexual male. Though I am not wealthy, I feel it is my duty to help those who are less fortunate as I. We are all one.

Business and/or professional experience:

FIELD ORGANIZER/VOLUNTEER COORDINATOR | CALIFORNIA CLEAN MONEY CAMPAIGN | 2012-PRESENT
Assisting with the coordination of Clean Money volunteers, making legislative visits to advocate for Clean Money policy, participating in research and analysis of data, as well as engaging in fundraising, editing/writing, and group speaking.
FIELD ORGANIZER | 50+1 STRATEGIES | 2016
Tasked with surveying and recruiting potential paid canvassers and then training and supervising employees in a successful effort to register over 16,000 new voters in the Bay Area for the November 8, 2016 General Election.
INTERN | OHIO GOVERNOR'S OFFICE OF FAITH-BASED AND COMMUNITY INITIATIVES | 2003
Actively participated in the opening and establishment of the Ohio Governor's Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives by conducting research, collecting data, and assisting with design and creation of website and databases.

Civic Activities:

I have been actively involved, engaged, and advocating for issues of concern to low-income and working class families in California for nearly a decade. Outside of school, much of my time for the past five years has been spent with the California Clean Money Campaign (CCMC), a nonprofit and nonpartisan organization that advocates for fair and open elections, transparency, and accountability in government. As a field organizer for CCMC, I recruit potential volunteers and then train and supervise them in monthly working groups to organize and take specific actions such as canvassing and phone-banking to garner support for sponsored legislation. Over the years we have helped to successfully pass several bills and initiatives to make California a leader in campaign finance disclosure. Last November, in addition to Proposition 59 being passed, CCMC was involved in a number of other anti-corruption victories, including Proposition T in San Francisco and Measure X1 in Berkeley—the strongest public financing matching funds system in the nation.
