Name:

Sunset Media Wave

Activity Description:

Sunset Media Wave SMW serves 45 unduplicated youth across three cohorts per year at the Sunset Neighborhood Beacon Center in the Outer Sunset district. The first cycle of each year takes place in the summer (June - August) and is followed by a fall cycle (September - December) and a spring cycle (January - May). These cycles are offered five afternoons per week. In addition to the 45 unduplicated youth, we serve 25 youth who return for a second or third cycle. On average, 85% of our participants fall into one or more of DCYF's target populations which is consistent due to strategic outreach to schools and clubs around the city. Each cycle incorporates project-based learning, workshops, and curriculum based learning. A central component of each cycle is creating and publishing student-led zines (both online and printed magazines that incorporate visual arts, writing, film, music, and mixed media). By creating their own projects, youth gain skills in professional publishing, as well as project and time management skills, applicable to both college and workplaces in most any field. Youth also apply their learning through structured critiques where they give and receive peer feedback, meet one-on-one with mentors and participate in small groups led by youth editors. Youth attend 65 onsite hrs per cycle and receive $250-$600 upon completing their projects and hours.
