11 WHEREAS, The 1973 landmark United States Supreme Court decided Roe v. Wade
12 (the "Roe decision") decision recognized the right of women to control their reproductive lives 13 is central to their ability to participate fully and equally in the economic and social spheres of 14 society; and

15 WHEREAS, The Roe decision states that (1) the decision to have an abortion is 16 accorded the highest level of constitutional protection, like any other fundamental 17 constitutional right, (2) state laws regarding abortion must be neutral with respect to 18 influencing a woman's decision whether or not to have an abortion, (3) in the period before a 19 fetus is viable, the government may restrict abortion only to protect a woman's health, and (4) 20 after a fetus becomes viable, a state government may prohibit abortion, provided that such 21 state's laws must permit abortion where necessary to protect a women's health or life; and

22 WHEREAS, The protected right to make childbearing decisions, including abortion, has 23 enabled women to pursue educational and employment opportunities that were often 24 unattainable prior to the Roe decision; and

25 WHEREAS, The Center for Reproductive Rights reports that prior to the Roe decision, between 200,000 and 1.2 million illegally induced abortions occurred in the United States each year; and

1 WHEREAS, In 1992, the United States Supreme Court decided Planned Parenthood of 2 Southeastern Pennsylvania v. Casey (the "Casey decision"), where, although it upheld a 3 woman's right to choose, it also allowed federal, state and local laws that favor fetal rights and 4 burden a woman's choice to have abortion, as long as the burden is not "undue;" and

5 WHEREAS, The Casey decision has unlocked the door to hundreds of state and 6 federal criminal restrictions designed to discourage women from accessing abortion and to 7 promote the rights of the fetus throughout pregnancy; and

8 WHEREAS, According to the Allen Gutmacher Institute (AGI), since 1996, more than 9 300 criminal abortion restrictions have been enacted by state and federal legislatures, none of 10 which would have been constitutional under the original Roe decision; and

11 WHEREAS, According to Planned Parenthood, only eight states, including California, 12 do not mandate parental involvement before a minor can obtain an abortion; and

13 WHEREAS, According to AGI, as of January 1, 2004, twenty-one (21) states will have 14 laws in effect that require a woman to wait for a period of time, usually twenty four (24) hours, 15 but up to as many as seventy-two (72) hours, after receiving state-directed counseling before 16 she can receive an abortion; and

17 WHEREAS, These restrictions on access to abortion particularly discriminate against 18 young women, poor women and women of color; and

19 WHEREAS, AGI indicates that 87 percent of all counties in the United States do not 20 have an abortion provider; and 21 WHEREAS, For the first time since Roe v. Wade was decided, anti-choice officials are 22 firmly in control of both the executive and legislative branches of the federal government; and

23 WHEREAS, The United States Supreme Court is only one vacancy away from 24 eliminating the Constitutional right to abortion; and

25 WHEREAS, Anti-choice leaders in the Bush Administration and the federal government are imposing their anti-choice ideology on the world's most vulnerable women worldwide by blocking international family planning funding and promoting ineffective and harmful abstinence-only programs abroad; and

1 WHEREAS, On January 22nd, people from all over the San Francisco Bay Area and 2 beyond will gather to defend one of our most prized rights and liberties, the freedom of women 3 to control their reproductive health, lives and futures; now, therefore, be
