Please do not let Whole Foods and Amazon go into sf without the proper impact studies. Many current jobs will be lost in the current grocery business. Donna Gomola Sent from my iPhone

Dear Members of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors:

I strongly object to the Planning Department's "common sense" exemption authorizing the Whole Foods Market to operate at 2675 Geary Blvd. I urge you to do your duty and direct the Planning Department to continue analyzing the significant--and, in my view detrimental on many levels--environmental impacts consistent not only with CEQA guidelines but the health and safety of the people in our city.

There is no "common sense" or any other rational justification for the environmental and socioeconomic damage that the Whole Foods Market would create in the community.

Sincerely,
Rodger Scott

Dear Supervisors,

I object to the Planning Commission's CEQA exemption for the proposed Whole Foods project on Geary Blvd.

Jeff Bezos has amassed billions of dollars in profits by holding Amazon and Whole Foods workers to substandard health care plans and wages. The companies have blocked every attempt to unionize their workers, firing organizers at the height of the pandemic. Whole Foods and Amazon have failed to protect these essential workers from the coronavirus, racking up thousands of underreported cases.

Please do not reward this behavior by fast-tracking the project on Geary Blvd. Whole Foods should face a full environmental review, and the city should also consider the impact these union busting companies will have on the standard of living for San Francisco workers.

Thank you for your attention,

Dear Supervisor,

Please don't allow the proposed Amazon Whole Foods at 2675 Geary Boulevard.
I second the reasons presented by the Labor Council.

Thank you for your public service,

Letter: Greetings,

We the undersigned call on Amazon to make the proposed Whole Foods Market at The City Center on Geary Blvd in San Francisco 100% Union. San Francisco is a union town, and large companies, like Amazon, that want to do business in the city of San Francisco can afford to live up to that standard. All work on the project should be done by union members, from those putting the first shovel in the dirt to the first worker welcoming you in the new store should be union. This means that there should be a project labor agreement negotiated with the San Francisco Building and Construction trades and once completed there should be a card-check neutrality agreement with the United Food and Commercial Workers for the operation of the store. Amazon should agree to not interfere with UFCW's or any other AFL-CIO local's organizing efforts that will follow the National Labor Relations Board's guidelines.

The City Center falls within the city's Formula Retail Ordinance, designed to limit the number of national chain stores in an effort to protect San Francisco's many small, locally owned businesses. There are 496 Whole Food stores nationwide. Amazon is seeking a Conditional Use Authorization (CUA) permitting them to open the store at this location. If Amazon does not agree to making the proposed store 100% union-friendly, then we are calling on the Planning Commission to deny the CUA.

Requiring organizing rights as a Condition of Approval at the proposed Whole Foods will prioritize protecting the rights, health and safety of the estimated 200 employees. It will also protect existing union jobs in the city's other retail stores. Amazon's Whole Foods and warehouses have been deemed "essential workers" because of the coronavirus pandemic. Many workers in the grocery industry are risking infection every day to provide food to our communities, and workers at Whole Foods in San Francisco have already contracted this virus.

Workers at non-union Amazon warehouses and Whole Foods stores have had to resort to sick outs and strikes to raise awareness of Amazon's unwillingness to protect them during this crisis, we should not allow this to happen in a city like San Francisco. Following the protest, Amazon has taken steps to enforce rules about mass emails across the company. Additionally, Amazon has terminated at least six employees involved in worker protests. Amazon also ended its temporary policy of unlimited, unpaid time off on April 30th. Unionizing the Whole Foods in San Francisco will prevent this type of employer backlash.

San Francisco has an opportunity to lead the nation by taking a proactive stand on behalf of the hardworking employees of Whole Foods stores. Requiring Amazon to build its store with union workers and to allow the employees the right to choose a union without repercussion fits with The City's Progressive values. This is particularly important given the pandemic and the fact that San Francisco is one of the most expensive cities in the U.S. Amazon is the most valuable public company in the world and is run by the richest man in the world, CEO Jeff Bezos. Not one of Amazon's Whole Foods in the State of California are unionized. It is time to change that with the proposed store at The City Center in San Francisco.

To the Honorable San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Attached is a petition signed by 897 individuals, imploring Amazon to make their Whole Foods Market 100% union. Without the promise of a unionized Amazon Whole Foods Market, the Board of Supervisors must deny Amazon's CUA.

San Francisco has an opportunity to lead the nation by taking a proactive stand on behalf of the hardworking employees of Whole Foods stores. Requiring Amazon to build its store with union workers and to allow the employees the right to choose a union without repercussion fits with The City's Progressive values.

Sincerely,

Claire Courtney

Hello!

I object to the Planning Departments 'common sense' CEQA exemption determination for a proposed Whole Foods Market at 2675 Geary Blvd, and ask that you uphold the appeal and direct Planning staff to prepare an initial study of the projects potentially significant environmental impacts in accordance with CEQA, and mitigate any impacts the study might identify. Additionally, the project is in an 'air pollution exposure zone,' meaning nearby residents already face an elevated risk of inhaling diesel exhaust and the corresponding health risks, the additional of Whole Foods would only add to the already elevated exposure.

Amazon/ Whole Foods is not a "neighborhood" grocery store. The City Center falls within the City's Formula Retail Ordinance, designed to limit the number of national chain stores in an effort to protect San Francisco's many small, locally owned businesses. There are 496 Amazon-Whole Foods stores nationwide. San Francisco should not both grant this nationwide store a Conditional Use Authorization to permit a Formula Retail and, at the same time, allow them to be exempt from standard environmental analysis and mitigation.

Protecting workers and residents is of the essence, particularly during the coronavirus pandemic. San Francisco should consider a more responsible grocer as an alternative to Amazon-Whole Foods, while also ensuring standard environmental health protocol take place for the current proposed project.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best,
Beethoven Gerber

Dear Supervisor's,

I object to the proposed Whole Foods Market on Geary Street for the following reasons:

They are far from a "Neighborhood Store" and will directly impact smaller family owned businesses.

They will create traffic and carbon emissions by the amount of cars and trucks that will be needed to supply them.

Amazon does not value its employees in terms of working conditions.

San Francisco does not need another Whole Foods.

Respectfully,

Joanne Desmond

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors Members;

I urge you to reject the CEQA exemption for the proposed Whole Foods Store at 2675 Geary Blvd. There needs to be a study of any potential environmental impacts before giving any approval.

Amazon/Whole Foods is not a local neighborhood business and by not upholding labor standards gets an unfair advantage over responsible grocers.

I object to the Planning Department's "common sense" CEQA exemption determination for a proposed Whole Foods Market at 2675 Geary Blvd, and ask that you uphold the appeal and direct Planning staff to prepare an initial study of the project's potentially significant environmental impacts in accordance with CEQA, and mitigate any impacts the study might identify.

- A project only qualifies for the 'common sense' exemption from CEQA if it can be seen "with certainty" that there is "no possibility" of a significant impact. That finding cannot be made here.
- Amazon/Whole Foods are not 'neighborhood' grocery stores. This store in particular will draw people from multiple areas of the City at all hours of the day. And, in addition to regular in store customers and delivery trucks, it will also draw customers seeking grocery delivery and pickup that will draw additional daily vehicles.
- The project is an 'air pollution exposure zone' (APEZ), meaning the people living nearby currently face an elevated risk of cancer from inhaling diesel exhaust from the truck deliveries servicing the existing Target, etc. At-risk children at the adjacent Mt. St. Joseph Elizabeth Epiphany Center and the Raoul Wallenberg Traditional High School, currently experience an elevated cancer risk from exposure to air pollutant emissions – it will only get worse with the Whole Foods.
- Amazon/Whole Foods cynically calculates the project's contribution to that cancer risk based on "net new truck trips," assuming that the Best Buy (closed for 3 years) is still operating, so that the Project's contribution is relatively small.
- An independent air quality expert firm Environmental Permitting

Services did a health risk assessment and found significant impacts relating to the proposed Amazon/Whole Foods.

- The City Center falls within the City's Formula Retail Ordinance, designed to limit the number of national chain stores in an effort to protect San Francisco's many small, locally owned businesses. There are 496 Amazon Whole Foods stores nationwide. Is San Francisco going to both grant this national store a Conditional Use Authorization to permit a Formula Retail and, at the same time, allow them to be exempt from any environmental analysis and mitigation?
- Amazon is the most valuable public company in the world, run by the richest man in the world, CEO Jeff Bezos, who really makes his money by lowering work standards, not offering healthcare and retirement to his workers. This gives his company an advantage over responsible grocers.
- Protecting workers is of the essence, particularly during this coronavirus pandemic. Amazon and Whole Foods have proven that they can't keep their workers safe during the pandemic. They have been criticized for the outbreaks of coronavirus in their workplaces. We can't afford to have an employer who refuses to care about their workers' safety. A Progressive city like San Francisco should NOT let this happen.
