Dear Dear Board of Supervisors,

I urge you to vote Yes on the Armenian Genocide Commemoration Day resolution this Tuesday, April 22. Remembrance, commemoration, and education of major historical events including the Armenian Genocide are very important to maintain and inform civil society. As we approach the 110th anniversary of the Armenian Genocide, official remembrance is even more critical, considering the ongoing denial of the Armenian Genocide by the Turkish government, the lack of accountability for the damage caused, the recent ethnic cleansing of Armenians in Artsakh by Azerbaijan and Turkey, and continued security threats against Armenians. Thank you very much for drawing attention to these issues, and we look forward to learning of the resolution's passage.

Dear Dear Board of Supervisors,

I urge you to vote Yes on the Armenian Genocide Commemoration Day resolution this Tuesday, April 22. Remembrance, commemoration, and education of major historical events including the Armenian Genocide are very important to maintain and inform civil society. As we approach the 110th anniversary of the Armenian Genocide, official remembrance is even more critical, considering the ongoing denial of the Armenian Genocide by the Turkish government, the lack of accountability for the damage caused, the recent ethnic cleansing of Armenians in Artsakh by Azerbaijan and Turkey, and continued security threats against Armenians. Thank you very much for drawing attention to these issues, and we look forward to learning of the resolution's passage.

Dear Dear Board of Supervisors,

I urge you to vote Yes on the Armenian Genocide Commemoration Day resolution this Tuesday, April 22. Remembrance, commemoration, and education of major historical events including the Armenian Genocide are very important to maintain and inform civil society. As we approach the 110th anniversary of the Armenian Genocide, official remembrance is even more critical, considering the ongoing denial of the Armenian Genocide by the Turkish government, the lack of accountability for the damage caused, the recent ethnic cleansing of Armenians in Artsakh by Azerbaijan and Turkey, and continued security threats against Armenians. Thank you very much for drawing attention to these issues, and we look forward to learning of the resolution's passage.

Dear Dear Board of Supervisors,

I urge you to vote Yes on the Armenian Genocide Commemoration Day resolution this Tuesday, April 22. Remembrance, commemoration, and education of major historical events including the Armenian Genocide are very important to maintain and inform civil society. As we approach the 110th anniversary of the Armenian Genocide, official remembrance is even more critical, considering the ongoing denial of the Armenian Genocide by the Turkish government, the lack of accountability for the damage caused, the recent ethnic cleansing of Armenians in Artsakh by Azerbaijan and Turkey, and continued security threats against Armenians. Thank you very much for drawing attention to these issues, and we look forward to learning of the resolution's passage.

Dear Dear Board of Supervisors,

I urge you to vote Yes on the Armenian Genocide Commemoration Day resolution this Tuesday, April 22. Remembrance, commemoration, and education of major historical events including the Armenian Genocide are very important to maintain and inform civil society. As we approach the 110th anniversary of the Armenian Genocide, official remembrance is even more critical, considering the ongoing denial of the Armenian Genocide by the Turkish government, the lack of accountability for the damage caused, the recent ethnic cleansing of Armenians in Artsakh by Azerbaijan and Turkey, and continued security threats against Armenians. Thank you very much for drawing attention to these issues, and we look forward to learning of the resolution's passage.

Dear Dear Board of Supervisors,

I urge you to vote Yes on the Armenian Genocide Commemoration Day resolution this Tuesday, April 22. Remembrance, commemoration, and education of major historical events including the Armenian Genocide are very important to maintain and inform civil society. As we approach the 110th anniversary of the Armenian Genocide, official remembrance is even more critical, considering the ongoing denial of the Armenian Genocide by the Turkish government, the lack of accountability for the damage caused, the recent ethnic cleansing of Armenians in Artsakh by Azerbaijan and Turkey, and continued security threats against Armenians. Thank you very much for drawing attention to these issues, and we look forward to learning of the resolution's passage.

I urge you to vote Yes on the Armenian Genocide Commemoration Day resolution this Tuesday, April 22. Remembrance, commemoration, and education of major historical events including the Armenian Genocide are very important to maintain and inform civil society. As we approach the 110th anniversary of the Armenian Genocide, official remembrance is even more critical, considering the ongoing denial of the Armenian Genocide by the Turkish government, the lack of accountability for the damage caused, the recent ethnic cleansing of Armenians in Artsakh by Azerbaijan and Turkey, and continued security threats against Armenians. Thank you very much for drawing attention to these issues, and we look forward to learning of the resolution's passage.

Sincerely
