2012 Summer Coverage Plan

Community Response Network

San Francisco City Departments and Community Partners

The following plan is a product of coordination between City and County of San Francisco Departments, Arriba Juntos, Bayview Hunters Point Foundation, and Community Partners. The plan details specific street violence intervention and crisis response strategies as well as activities in specific "hot spots" for the summer of 2012.

Community Response Network

Background

The Community Response Network (CRN) was founded in the Mission District and originated from the Real Alternatives Program (RAP) and CALLES Program—a community based school that started in the 1970's dedicated to rehabilitating and empowering youth at highest risk to get involved with street violence and incarceration. In 2006, the City and County of San Francisco saw a large need to expand street outreach models throughout the city and expand these models to at-risk neighborhoods around the city impacted by street violence, including: Western Addition, Bayview Hunter's Point, Potrero Hill, Visitation Valley and multiple Asian and Pacific Islander communities. The San Francisco CRN street outreach model is known for its specialized teams trained in street outreach work, conflict mediation and de-escalation, and crisis response. The CRN outreach workers are often residents from local "hot zones" and have invaluable knowledge and understanding of the cultural background of the neighborhoods and residents. Moreover, CRN teams conduct regular street outreach during afterschool hours and in the evenings, refer and link youth to services, and provide safe passages for youth to get around the city. Several key services are aligned to work closely with the CRN teams. These include the Crisis Response Services (CRS) Team from the Department of Public Health, UCSF's Wrap Around Project, and multiple case management programs from various non-profit agencies providing evening services at each "hot zone." Crisis Response Services (CRS) offer the mental health service and family case management assistance necessary for victims and families impacted by street violence. UCSF's Wrap Around Project is located at the San Francisco General Hospital and is designed to break the cycle of violent injury in San Francisco. Lastly, the case management programs are situated in each "hot zone" mostly impacted by street violence. Case management programs offer evening and weekend programming in order to provide an alternative to engaging risky activities and behavior. The CRN is a program financially supported through a joint-funders effort, which includes the following departments: The Department of Children, Youth, and Their Families (DCYF), San Francisco Juvenile Probation Department (JPD), and The Department of Public Health (DPH). CRN funding opportunities were distributed via the Violence Prevention and Intervention RFP process. After careful review two agencies were selected to administer the CRN program in the Northwest and Southeast sectors of San Francisco.

Current CRN Model and Services

The CRN is a comprehensive street outreach and crisis response model that embraces a collaborative approach to prevent and respond to youth-to-youth related violence in several San Francisco high-risk and high-need neighborhoods. Its success is a result of coordinated efforts between city departments and community-based agencies. These key stakeholders provide the vision and planning of the actual CRN efforts and often support the additional long term service needed in order to achieve successful outcomes.

Lead agencies administering the CRN programs are Arriba Juntos and the Bayview Hunters Point Foundation. These agencies were selected to conduct street outreach and crisis response services, targeting youth and young adults 14 to 24 years old. Arriba Juntos provides services for the Northwest Community Response Network (NWCRN) which supports the following geographic locations: Mission, Western Addition, Tenderloin, SOMA, Excelsior, and all other Asian & Pacific Islander-related coverage. The Bayview Hunters Point Foundation provides services for the Southeast Community Response Network (SECRN), with the following geographic coverage: Bay View Hunters Point, Visitacion Valley, Potrero Hill, Alemany, and Ocean View.

The CRN delivers street outreach and crisis response services in areas mostly impacted by street violence. The street outreach component provides street level intervention and prevention through late night outreach, daily canvassing of schools in SFPD identified "hotspots", and CRN identified corridors to defuse potential violent situations. The CRN also provide referrals to other agencies in DCYF's Violence Prevention and Intervention portfolio to provide support services, i.e. case management, G.E.D preparation, conflict resolution, job readiness, etc.

The crisis response component is a collaborative response with the Department of Public Health's Crisis Response Services (CRS) to scenes where youth and young adults are involved as either victims or perpetrators of homicides. The CRN is required to rotate on-call staff to ensure a response 24 hours a day requests from CRS, SFPD, and other neighborhood contacts. The CRN's provide support to CRS and assist in supporting the family and friends of the victim. The CRN and CRS work together to assure families are receiving ongoing family support and aftercare services. In addition, the CRN's crisis response component works with UCSF's Wrap Around Project located at San Francisco General Hospital (SFGH) to provide onsite support for recovering victims of stabbings and shootings. Along with collaborating with the CRN, Crisis Responsive Services also works closely with other existing trauma services which include the San Francisco General Hospital Trauma Center, and the Victim Services Unit (DA's office).

Each regional CRN is also required to provide crisis response, deescalate street violence, homicide, stabbings, and shootings. They are considered to be experts on street violence trends and leverage community relationships to deescalate youth-to-youth related violence and prevention retaliation.

2012 Summer Coverage Plan

The 2012 Summer Coverage Plan describes the specific activities and plans for street outreach efforts in San Francisco. The plan details the roles and responsibilities of each community based partner and city department from June-August, 2012. The plan covers all the main geographical areas of San Francisco, which includes targeted "hot spots" (otherwise known as targeted areas of high incidences of homicides and violence as identified by SFPD), SFUSD summer schools and community based agencies. However, please note the plan is not exclusive to CRN, the CRN interagency strategy allows multiple community based organizations to interact with and coordinate services with several City Departments including the Juvenile Probation Department (JPD), Adult Probation Department (APD), San Francisco Police Department (SFPD), Department of Public Health (DPH), District Attorney's Victims Services Unit, and others as necessary.

Annually the CRN's, city departments, community based organizations, and service providers convene to coordinate efforts and strategize solutions to curtail any violence that may occur during the summer season. This convening, also known as, the Summer Coverage Retreat attempts to actively consult with its stakeholders about summer services, leveraging resources, neighborhood support, and identifying gaps and solutions. The 2012 Summer Coverage plan, strategies, and CBO information is a product of the Summer Coverage Retreat and partner feedback. (See Appendix E and F for notes)

Northwest Community Response Network (NWCRN)

The NWCRN will provide its street outreach and crisis response to the following areas: Mission, Western Addition, Tenderloin, SOMA, Excelsior, and all other Asian & Pacific Islander-related neighborhoods. All street outreach and crisis response efforts will specifically include the following summer schools for the San Francisco Unified School District (SFUSD): Galileo, Lowell, Mission, John O'Connell, James Denman High Schools, Everett, as well as Marina Middle Schools. Covering all areas of San Francisco will be done in collaboration with multiple city departments and community based organizations.

2012 NWCRN Summer Scheduling

All NWCRN 2012 summer work scheduling will begin at 10:30 am and end at 9:30 pm, Monday through Friday, except 1st and 3rd Fridays when the team will conduct midnight outreach. There will be two geographical teams: 1) Tenderloin and Chinatown and 2) Western Addition. The teams introduce themselves to the community and maintain a presence in the neighborhood. There will be an assessment of summer school programs and the mapping of summer schools and addressing transportation issues on MUNI. School Outreach and Late Night Teams will continue to collaborate with Crisis Response Services and be on call 24 hours a day and 7 days a week to address issues. (See Appendix A, subject to change)

Southeast Community Response Network (SECRN)

The SECRN will provide its street outreach and crisis response to the following areas: Bay View Hunters Point, Visitacion Valley, Potrero Hill, Alemany, and Ocean View. All street outreach and crisis response efforts include supporting the transportation from the Southeast sectors to the Northwest area for summer schools e.g. Galileo, Lowell, Mission, John O'Connell High schools, as well as James Denman, Everett, and Marina Middle Schools. The SECRN will support Marshall High School during the summer. Citywide coverage on a daily 24 hour schedule will be achieved in collaboration with multiple city departments and community based organizations.

Ad-hoc street outreach will be based on neighborhood request and response. (See Appendix B, subject to change)

Some activities SECRN will be supporting and sponsoring are:

- Friday Night Live: BBQs, games, and raffles in neighborhoods
- Various outings throughout the summer that will include other neighborhood CBOs

Northwest and Southeast CRN Collaborations

NWCRN and SECRN will coordinate joint Street Outreach efforts and response especially in neighborhoods with shared coverage (i.e. South of Market, Tenderloin, Excelsior and Outer Mission). They are currently consulting on staff approaches and shared resources for these coverage needs. In addition, they will also heighten coordination with SFPD's District Captain's informing them of regional outreach schedules, staff information, vehicle information, and interacting with officers during the late night shift.

City and County of San Francisco Department Partners

The CRN's have developed a network of public safety partners that each play a critical and unique role in the neighborhoods served by the CRN. Through monthly strategy meeting, the CRN's and City and County of San Francisco public partners seek to strengthen the systematic, programmatic and policy resolve to reduce violence and homicides in San Francisco. Each department will have a main contact to coordinate public safety efforts with CRN Program Directors and Outreach Workers.

Adult Probation Department (APD)

The San Francisco Adult Probation Department (APD) will be working closely with the CRN on clients that are either on probation or parole. Currently, APD has a unit specific to transitional aged youth (ages 18-25) where probation officers concentrate on specific needs and services. It also aims towards reductions in sentencing; connecting probationers with schools and programs; and working diligently with probationers to maintain case requirements. The 18-25 Unit will work closely with the CRN since the targeted population overlaps. Specifically, Probation Officers will be able to contact CRN workers to assist with clients and their rehabilitation process. The CRN will also be presenting information workshops to APD staff, including topics such as its street outreach approach, referral processes, outreach hours and any other relevant programmatic details.

Furthermore, APD stated a desire to work more closely with the CRN in order to provide more referrals and to assist its 18-25 population in their rehabilitation process. APD is willing to case conference on any individual cases. APD will also be available to staff events where its targeted population is attending.

The main contact for any APD related questions is Tina Gilbert, Division Director of the Specialized Supervision Division, 415-553-1723, Tina.Gilbert@sfgov.org

Department of Children, Youth and Their Families (DCYF)

The Department of Children, Youth and Their Families (DCYF) is the funder for the Southeast and Northwest CRN's. The CRN is one of sixty-two violence prevention programs overseen by DCYF. DCYF oversees and monitors CRN contracts. In addition, DCYF supports the policy and planning aspects of the CRN efforts. DCYF supports CRN in building partnerships to improve citywide violence prevention efforts.

The main point of contact is Diana Oliva-Aroche, Violence Prevention and Intervention Policy and Planning Manager, 415-554-8415, Diana@dcyf.org

Department of Public Health (DPH) Crises Response Services (CRS)

The Department of Public Health (DPH) collaborates with the CRN in providing behavioral health services to high at-risk individuals, and their families. Specifically, the Crisis Response Services (CRS) is responsible for working closely with the CRN in order to provide family and adult case management services. SFPD notifications of homicides are also communicated via the CRS. The CRS is the party responsible for informing the CRN of all street and/or gang related homicides. The CRS collaborates with the CRN to respond to a homicide scene. Crisis Response Services include:

1. Help with funeral and burial services
2. Private and confidential counseling
3. Escort to and from appointments
4. Immediate support to schools, daycares, community organizations, businesses and other agencies after violent events
5. Support groups for adults and children
6. Help in connecting to other services

The main point of contact is Charlie Morimoto, DPH Assistant Deputy Director, charles.morimoto@dph.org and;

Program Director, Crisis Response Services (CRS) Annette Quiett, Annette.Quiett@sfdph.org and the CRS 24-hour crisis number is 415-970-3800

Office of the District Attorney (DA)

City Partnerships: Summer and Beyond
2012 Summer Coverage Retreat Notes: City Partner Panel

What are some of your summer opportunities for youth and young adults (10-25, especially for the at-risk population)?
Police	DPW	Recreation & Park
Lt. James Miller (Gang Task Force)	Mike Fernandez (Summer Employment Program)	Sean McGrew (supervises 9 pools and the skate parks)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Fishing program, camping program, citywide programming through community services Individual stations also offer specific activities with youth, e.g. Mission station runs soccer with local kids The interaction between stations and youth who are at or in risk is higher in the summer as a violence prevention strategy for younger youth Also see the young adults who are more in risk who want to get out of the life but don't know how, the police also focus on those youth as well and try to refer those youth to jobs or other opportunities 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Summer internship program for college students, also YouthWorks (funded by DCYF) and Project Pull (funded by PUC) La Tierra (MNC), 120 youth ages 16-24, contracted through MNC, try to get youth from as many areas as possible 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Job opportunities through WorkReation funded by DCYF (150 teens in the summer, 30 school year), application process has already wrapped up as it was in January Lifeguarding Get through www.sfreconline.org Rec and Park also offers scholarships for participation in their programs Sean.mcgreg@sfgov.org
What do you see are some ways you and/or your department can help coordinate with community based agencies to help reduce violence this summer and beyond?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Reach out more to the CRN's including issuing a bulletin to the department to describe the role of the CRN Finding that there is less violence and less retaliatory shootings right away. Sometimes the retaliation comes later than in the past and sometimes not at all SFPD feels that the CRN has been a factor in this decrease. The police have respect for the work of the CRN and feel like they are a major factor in keeping violence from happening 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Main focus of the work is maintaining the streets etc. they have events like the neighborhood clean team events in all neighborhoods each year, partner with community organizations to ensure that they are at the best areas and are involving community groups 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> One way to work together better: folks can approach specific staff at a pool or recreation centers to connect to folks within their community, organizational accounts can be set up an account to allow for participants to access services and programs. They also offer scholarships both for individuals and organizations
Collaboration beyond the summer (elaboration)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Same approach as in the past 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Department is always looking for new projects and work with CBO's particularly to beautify and uplift the community, they also help CBO's get grants, expanding their public outreach staff 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Rec. and Parks focuses more on working collaboratively more than in the past, Camp Mather partnership, they are open to other ideas

Panel Q&A

What are the qualifiers to get on and off the gang wall?

- Each station has a wanted wall, gang wall, or most criminally active wall.
- Stations prioritize the most wanted for that wall
- To get off the wall those people need to stop what they're doing
- SFPD gets a lot of video and will use that to try to identify people through their wall

What is the strategy for multiple gang members in the DPW program and how do you deal with that?

- MNC gathers information about their participants and tries to gain information about allegiances
- Haven't had many issues around it, but recognize that it's a potential problem
- Try to use case managers who know the youth
- Rely on the vigilance of staff on site

Does the DPW program lead to any permanent job opportunities?

- Depends on interests of participants
- Program provides an introduction to city work and a potential connection, but is only funded for the summer and doesn't provide transition to permanent jobs
- Rec & Park: no permanency track, but lifeguards are in demand, make a good wage, and gain experience that they can use at other pools

What is the timeline for Rec & Park programming?

- Registration deadline for summer programs is May 12th
- Typically plan summer programming six months in advance, with applications accepted three weeks prior
- WorkReation applications issued in January

Mission Station: diversionary programs for juveniles and parents/victims?

- Parents of victims: provide to support to the best of their ability and try to stay in contact
- Program through the DA provides resources and funds
- Mission Station: starting an outreach program for gang members to line them up with summer jobs, and a school outreach officer will take youth on trip to DC

When will summer schedule be out for swimming pools, and will recreational swim times increase for summer?

- Schedule should be in place the second week of May
- Recreational swim hours always increase in summer, but times are vary at each pool
