New planes are rapidly becoming 100% electric & with pontoons, that land on water. Vancouver, Canada already has 42 such electric commuter planes with pontoons.

The US Navy has a fleet of giant flying boats since WWII, "Mars" etc. All over the world airports are going underwater. None of them will survive the sea level rise. Air Strips of 2025 will be in the SF Bay, approaching SFO.

The cost of building a levy around an airport is twice the cost of buying new electric airlines with pontoons.
