As a gay Bay Area native and current Mission District resident, I'm excited by the opportunity to be part of the Airport Facilities Naming Advisory Committee. SFO has always been my airport, from my first flight to Washington DC during eighth grade to learn about our Federal Government and history, to travel during college at Stanford, to business trips today. I would be honored to help celebrate Harvey Milk's life and civil rights legacy—both for members of our community, and for people around the world like my closeted friend Akihiro, who lives in Japan but was so excited about the initial proposal to rename SFO in Harvey Milk's honor, he wrote me a hope-filled letter about it.
