

LEGISLATIVE DIGEST

[Administrative Code - Compensation for Assessment Appeals Board Members]

Ordinance amending the Administrative Code to increase the compensation the City provides members of the Assessment Appeals Boards for each hearing.

Existing Law

The Assessment Appeals Board (“AAB”) decides disputes between the Assessor’s Office and property owners concerning the valuation of taxable property within the City for the purposes of taxation. The AAB consists of three boards, each with five members and three alternate members. The City provides members of the AAB $125 for each morning, afternoon, and evening session, with a maximum payment of $375 per day when a member serves on a panel and $250 per day when a member serves as a hearing officer.

Amendments to Current Law

The proposed ordinance would increase the compensation the City provides members of the AAB to $175 for each morning, afternoon, and evening session, with a maximum payment of $525 each day a member serves on a panel and $350 per day when a member serves as a hearing officer.
