LEROY KING

Mr. King is a long-time civic and public affairs leader in San Francisco and served as the past Northern Regional Director of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU) for over 30 years. In 1946, Mr. King became a member of Local 6, the International Longshoremen and Warehouse Union. In the 1950s he worked with a coalition of White and Black members to overturn a system that guaranteed the election of only Whites to union office.

Mr. King was one of the founders and past presidents of the St. Francis Square Cooperative Housing development which opened in 1963 in the Fillmore District and was a national model for creating racially integrated housing for working families. Mr. King and his family moved into the project when it opened, and he continues to live there today in a four-generation household.

Mr. King was often credited for bringing Martin Luther King Jr. to the Bay area for a civil rights rally in 1967, and is a staunch supporter of unions and of the late civil rights activist Cesar Chavez. On July 2, 2009, Speaker Nancy Pelosi, on behalf of the NEA Human and Civil Rights Awards program which honors individuals and organizations that promote peace and advance social and economic justice for all people, awarded Mr. King with the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Award which emulates Mr. King's inclusive leadership and nonviolent philosophy.

Mr. King was appointed to the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency Commission in 1980, and has served with distinction, excellence, and commitment to the Agency's mission of promoting community, economic and physical development in blighted neighborhoods, and preserving and developing affordable housing for all of San Francisco. He has supported and adopted numerous redevelopment plans and specific development projects that have improved, and will continue to improve, the economic vitality, urban landscape, and quality of life in San Francisco. With his oversight and approval, the Agency adopted the Transbay, Bayview Hunters Point, and Visitacion Valley Redevelopment Plans, and most recently, the approval of the integrated mixed use project at Candlestick Point and Phase 2 of the Hunters Point Shipyard. These long term development plans commit the City and the Agency to use the significant powers under redevelopment law to create positive changes in blighted areas where tens of thousands of San Franciscans live and work.

With Mr. King's support, the Agency financed and developed thousands of units of affordable housing, including housing for the chronically homeless, seniors, low income families, persons living with HIV/AIDS, and others with special needs, and implemented its policy committing 50% of tax increment funds to affordable housing. Mr. King has been a staunch proponent of business and economic development for San Francisco's minority and woman-owned business enterprises. He supported the development of the Fillmore Heritage mixed-use development, new cultural institutions including the Museum of the African Diaspora, the Jazz Heritage Center, the Contemporary Jewish Museum, Binkley, the Filipino Cultural Center, the proposed Mexican Museum, and significant community and economic revitalization of the Sixth Street corridor.

Mr. King is the longest serving Commissioner in the City and County of San Francisco.

His memberships include the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), the Western Addition Co-op Council, and the San Francisco Labor Assembly for Community Action and the Black Trades Union, State Democratic Party for the last 60 years.
