11 asked by a US Airways ticket agent to pull up his pants on the flight, which he agreed to do 12 once seated; and,

13 WHEREAS, When asked about how the airline implements dress code requirements, 14 US Airways spokeswoman Valerie Wunder stated "We don't have a dress code policy.
15 Obviously, if their private parts are exposed, that's not appropriate... So if they're not exposing 16 their private parts, they're allowed to fly"; and,

17 WHEREAS, Although Mr. Marmon complied with US Airways staff's request, the pilot 18 informed Mr. Marmon that they would not fly the plane until he exited; and,

20 count of battery of a police officer and misdemeanor counts of resisting arrest and 21 trespassing, serious criminal charges for which Mr. Marman is contesting; and,

22 WHEREAS, Numerous US Airways passengers have previously complained about 23 another passenger who flies on the airline dressed in lingerie. This passenger was not asked 24 to change his attire or exited from his flights; and,

3 standards of dress on its passengers; and,

5 forcefully removed from a plane, as a result of this apparent subjective enforcement of dress 6 standards; and,

7           WHEREAS, The enforcement of these subjective standards violates passengers, such 8 as Mr. Marmon's civil rights; and,

9           RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco 10 does hereby express concern over US Airways' treatment of Mr. Marmon and their lack of any 11 formal dress code requirements; and, be it

16 Francisco urges the Federal Aviation Administration to develop and implement consistent
