[Affirming the Historical Legacy and Future of the Mission Cultural Center for Latino Arts]

Resolution recognizing the historical legacy of the Mission Cultural Center for Latino Arts (MCCLA), and the importance of its preservation throughout and after the retrofit of the building at 2868 Mission Street and affirming MCCLA's right to return upon the completion of construction.

WHEREAS, In honor of Latin@ Heritage Month, 2025, the Board of Supervisors recognizes the historical significance of the Mission Cultural Center for Latino Arts (MCCLA) for the Mission District in San Francisco, and for its City-wide importance; and

WHEREAS, MCCLA has been a beloved institution since 1977, celebrating and representing the vital contributions of the Latine community to culture, art, music, dance, poetry, printmaking, graphic arts, mural arts, theater, and more; and

WHEREAS, MCCLA has always stood firm in the belief that culture is not something static, but rather linked to an every-changing future that is reflected by contemporary actions and activities, and as such has been at the cutting edge of artistic expression in San Francisco, since its inception; and

WHEREAS, MCCLA continues to host, organize, and participate in the most iconic and world-renowned annual celebrations in San Francisco, including Latine Heritage Community Celebration, el Día de los Muertos/The Day of the Dead Community Celebration in the fall, "Solo Mujeres" annual art exhibition and Carnaval in the Spring, along with daily programming and expositions featuring local legends and Latine artists from the community; and

WHEREAS, The building where MCCLA is located, at 2868 Mission Street, is owned by the San Francisco Arts Commission (SFAC) with the express intent of providing an adequate space for this cultural arts institution to safely operate and offer its broad array of classes and workshops for adults and kids, art exhibits, events, podcast and recording studio, Mission Gráfica print studio, where graphic arts are printed using beautifully preserved, antique print machines, and below market rate studio rentals that the community of artists rely on to practice and share their craft with the public; and

WHEREAS, The SFAC has long supported MCCLA, one of the vital community-based cultural centers in San Francisco that provide accessible arts opportunities to all San Franciscans and visitors, alongside three other site-based cultural centers on city-owned properties, and two virtual cultural centers, all operated by non-profit arts organizations; and

WHEREAS, On March 2, 2022 the Board of Supervisors passed an Ordinance amending the San Francisco Planning Code to designate 2868 Mission Street ("Mission Cultural Center for Latino Arts"), Assessor's Parcel Block No. 6516, Lot No.007, as a San Francisco Landmark under Article 10 of the Planning Code, precisely because of the historical significance, "special character and special historical, architectural, and aesthetic interest and value," and need for future protection of the cultural center; and

WHEREAS, The 2868 Mission Street building is in dire need of earthquake retrofit and other identified renovations within the scope of the retrofit project, for which the San Francisco Arts Commission has procured funding to conduct extensive construction, that is expected to begin in 2026; and

WHEREAS, Due to this major construction project, MCCLA must move out of the building for the duration, anticipated to take as much as three years to complete; and

WHEREAS, MCCLA has continued to demonstrate its artistic creativity by finding ways to operate during their temporary move out to ensure they are able to offer a continuation of robust programming and signature events, with adaptations to meet the circumstances, while maintaining a commitment to providing the public with access to quality arts celebrations, education and expositions; and

WHEREAS, MCCLA is painstakingly preserving the historical archives to protect the treasure trove of artistic works for future generations; and

WHEREAS, Not only is the historical legacy of this organization a central thread in the cultural fabric of San Francisco, but the guarantee of its future is also equally important to the identify and artistic expression of the City; now therefore be it

RESOLVED, The Board of Supervisors recognizes and celebrates MCCLA during Latin@ Heritage Month, and assures the organization of our intent to continue supporting the future of this beloved institution; and be it further

RESOLVED, The Board of Supervisors urges the San Francisco Arts Commission to protect the legacy of this legacy cultural institution and provide MCCLA a right to return upon completion of the retrofit construction project.
