Item # 1

April 6, 2016

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco,

My name is De'Anthony Jones, Project Coordinator at Collective Impact, which serves disadvantaged youth in the Western Addition. I am writing this letter to support, endorse, and recommend that San Francisco Police Commission President Suzy Loftus be reappointed to her seat. She has demonstrated a love, commitment, and diligence to the people of San Francisco amidst a troubling time for the people of this great city when it comes down to police and community relations. Collective Impact has worked with President Loftus directly on various initiatives that have brought Law Enforcement institutions together with the communities across this city.

I had the pleasure of working with her on the Community Safety Initiative, a multi-agency and organization effort in the city to immerse disadvantaged youth in various career fields such as government, technology, and law enforcement. Almost half of the 70 youth enrolled were charged with the responsibility of building police and community relations, a process in which President Loftus was consistently and intently involved in. Additionally, to this day, President Loftus has listened to the recommendations and ideas that the youth in this program has put forward. This has led to the changing of the perception of Law Enforcement in these young people's mind and inspired some of the youth from these cohorts to join the police academy.

President Loftus has been very open, direct, and positive with the community and I can say with confidence that her heart, mind, and soul is invested in the communities and people of San Francisco. I emphatically implore the Board of Supervisors to reappoint the strong, empathetic, and consistent President Loftus to the San Francisco Police Commission.

In Community,

De'Anthony Jones

Dear Supervisors:

I am writing to express my support for Suzy Loftus's reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission. I had the privilege of working with Suzy last summer through the Mayors Office Community Safety Initiative Internship Program, and without her help and support, the entire program would not have been possible. From my experience, Suzy exemplified every characteristic needed towards building a better San Francisco. She has done a tremendous job bringing together communities of all socioeconomic backgrounds, bridging the gap between communities and the San Francisco Police Department, and ensuring that it is the right of every citizen to have their voice heard.

While having the pleasure of working with Suzy, I had the opportunity to firsthand observe her undeniable work ethic; which reflects her successful work as the commissioner. Suzy and I worked on ways we could better serve San Francisco through police and community relations. Throughout America, police officers tend to be victimized due to negative events portrayed on social media outlets. Unfortunately, this victimization resonates throughout San Francisco as well. However, Suzy's emphasis on exposing young men and women of color to fields within criminal justice is an important step towards diminishing these thoughts on the police. It allows young adults to really build trust and friendships with the people who protect this great city. On the other hand, it benefits our police department as well.

By opening the doors to these young men and women, our police officers get to hear stories about what these young adults must endure, their encounters with the police, and their suggestions on what they should be doing better in order to gain the public's trust. Just like the young men and women, the police officers get to build friendships with hopes of eliminating the pre-conceived notions that tend to be at the root of many issues revolving around police departments and communities. I know that many of the suggestions my cohort presented have already been put in place and have been successful. It just goes to show you how incredibly important Suzy is to this department and to our city. Without her leadership, several high school and college students would have not had summer jobs, and would not have had the opportunity to work on improving their community's relationships with the police.

Being a fifth generation San Franciscan, there is nothing more important to me than seeing my city come together as a whole to overcome challenges. However, in order for us to accomplish this, we need both our citizens and police officers to get along. Now, I understand that this will not happen over night, but we are moving in the right direction and making progress. At police commission meetings, Suzy makes sure that everyone is heard, she makes sure that everyone is granted with the respect of an entire room's undivided attention, and she makes sure that no matter what is said, it will be taken into consideration. Suzy is the type of person we need to help lead the city. I plan to work with Suzy and the entire police department on these same issues this summer, and together we will make progress towards a better San Francisco.

Suzy understands that it is in San Francisco's best interest to have a police department that is trusted by its citizens. She will continue putting everything she has into improving police and community relations and is wholly worthy of your support.

Sincerely,

Jordan Wilson

Honorable Board of Supervisors

Dear Supervisors:

I am writing to express my support for Suzy Loftus's reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission. Suzy has been nothing but supportive to me and my situation. She has treated me with nothing but respect, and has shown me nothing but love. From meeting Suzy last year during my time working with The Community Safety Initiative she has nurtured me as if I was her own child, from the first time I met her at the police commission she was the model of a genuine person who was willing to help students like me that come from the neighborhoods I come from. Suzy's leadership on the Commission has demonstrated that she is someone deeply committed to rebuilding trust with the community, she's there at everything the Bayview has, when I invite her and is always willing to help when I need her. The power in her standing up for vulnerable people and ensuring community voice has effected my family and I so much especially after I gave the commission my recommendations on how we can improve community and police relations.

Suzy and I have worked together on various projects. For example we worked on figuring out how we can bridge the gap between police and the community. With this our team came up with various ways and actions we can put together to start rebuilding relationships and it has ultimately been opening up conversations on how people feel about the police and what they can do to bridge and what the community can also do. I am extremely hopeful on bridging relations between both police and the community for the simple reason that when we as a youth worked so diligently with the law enforcement over summer, some actually started to explore careers in it. With that my point is that if we continue to expose youth to these careers and they like it they will make an impact on their friends and family to do better and hopefully that's one way we can start to bridge together.

I am ecstatic about writing this letter. Suzy has stood for nothing but good, and sometimes it was things that wouldn't even benefit her and she didn't care if it wouldn't. I love that about her, the selfless acts of kindness. For example at the commission there is this lady that comes for her deceased son, and some may get tired of her but they don't feel her pain, but Suzy being the person she is, always asks how can she support her and she has built a trust with her. You usually don't see that coming from other commissioners but she does it and I can definitely say I enjoy that. This is what inspires me to take the time out from my schoolwork and extra circulars to write this letter. I can't stress it enough that Suzy is really working for the community not only by rebuilding trust but also by how she implements the reforms the group and I have last summer that is now benefiting both the community and officers.

Suzy really understands the seriousness in our public safety needs and she knows the souls of its communities, and this is not from what she hears this is from her constantly coming around and participating in community actions. I truly know she will continue to be an outstanding, phenomenal Commissioner. Mrs. Loftus's is wholly worthy of your support.

Regards,

Mike'l Gregory

Dear Supervisors:

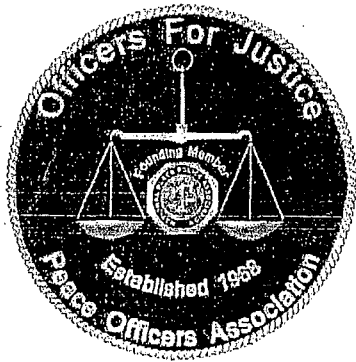

I am writing to express my support for Suzy Loftus's reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission. I got to know Suzy Loftus very well during the summer of 2015; through the summer internship I worked with called Mo' Magic. My cohort's goal as the community safety initiative was to strengthen the relationship between the citizens of San Francisco and the San Francisco police department. The work we did during the summer is what President Loftus does on a day to day basis. Suzy's tremendous leadership on the Commission has changed the way the San Francisco Police Department works. She makes sure every individual is heard and that no opinion goes unheard.

Suzy and I have worked together on developing new policies and procedures to help reform the Department's use of gun force. We used the late Mario Woods as an example on how we have to change the police department's policies as a whole. Mo' Magic up until today still hold community forums for all people to come and voice their opinions on new ways we can shape the San Francisco Police Department. President Loftus has always been a huge contributor to the forums because she has all the proper knowledge of policies and procedures. As a result, we want to try and get all police officers to be proficient in de-escalation techniques so that all our communities are well protected.

What inspires me to write this letter comes from the belief that we have an opportunity to make such a huge difference in the city of San Francisco, rebuild trust with our citizens, implement new policies and procedures for the police department. As a member of the Police Commission, Suzy has stood for the people's rights, voice, and ideas. We need Suzy Loftus now more than ever to continue her leadership as President of the San Francisco police Commission.

Suzy understands the people of this city and its public safety needs. She has been one of the most influential city leaders I have ever met. Her actions and guidance are one of the things that led me to join the San Francisco Police department as a 5th class Cadet. I truly believe that her leadership in the department is the best and it need to continue on.

Sincerely, Daniel Ogbonna

Honorable Board Member,

This email correspondence is directed to your attention on behalf of the members of the Officers For Justice Peace Officer Association (OFJ). We are writing regarding the reinstatement of Suzy Loftus to the Police Commission. With the recent concerns pertaining to the police culture, implicit and explicit bias policing in cities across the United States, systemic racism and two SFPD Text Gate scandals, we would like to request Suzy Loftus's term of office be extended for another term. We believe and recommend that our Police Commission remain as diverse as possible. It is quite refreshing to have a knowledgeable woman with her credentials volunteering her services for this position.

Suzy Loftus focused on enhancing the department's response to violence against women and children. She encouraged the use and expansion of state of the arts technology to solve crimes and improve the streets to make them safer for residents and visitors. She has also been a resilient advocate for the youth and the elderly while serving as a role model for women in San Francisco.

The members of the OFJ feel confident that in Ms. Loftus' position as a Commissioner she will continue contributing to the goals and missions of the OFJ and other community based organizations. It is apparent that Ms. Loftus has done a remarkable job in her position in dealing with procedural justice, legal issues and other 21st Century Policing strategic plans.

Please accept this document as our official support to reinstate Suzy Loftus as a member of the police commission.

Dear Supervisors:

I am writing to express my support for Suzy Loftus's reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission. I run several programs in the Western Addition (Collective Impact, Mo' MAGIC and Magic Zone); I have worked with President Loftus on a specific project targeting youth at risk of being engaged in the criminal justice system for over a year. After the quadruple homicide that happened in the Western Addition President Loftus came to me and said we have to do something to support young people. President Loftus has demonstrated that she is deeply committed to rebuilding trust with the community, standing up for vulnerable people and ensuring community voice and a collaborative process. We faced opposition on every turn while trying to create a program for low-income, minority youth living in public housing, but she never wavered in her support for the project.

President Loftus partnered with youth from Mo' MAGIC to host listening sessions for use of force recommendations. She provided space for young African American men and women to convene conversations and have their voices heard. Similarly last summer 30 young people were given space on the Police Commission agenda to make recommendations to improve relations between community and SFPD. Most recently when a student from the summer program needed a letter to verify his participation in the program for UC Berkeley, President Loftus was the first one to send in a letter and praise the young person for his contributions.

So many people talk about what should be happening or what people should do, Suzy Loftus does the work. I have long been about the "work" and I have little time or patience for people who capitalize on bad situations to push their own agendas. I have spoke at public comment or supported others, but probably can count on one hand the number of letters I've written over the last 10 years asking the Board of Supervisors to support anything. In spite of everything I am always hopeful that we can impact the lives of the young people in this city, even if we save just one, we've done a good thing. Suzy shares that sentiment, she is dedicated to setting aside the time, resources and support to make change. It has done my heart good to see young people from Bayview and Fillmore apply to cadet program, to see them then apply to the academy – in a year's time!

We all say we want to see change and yet, when there is success, we shut it down; I just don't understand. Now is not the time to play politics, take a good hard look at the community process President Loftus has instituted, the projects and efforts she launched with young people and how she tries to make sure all voices are heard and respected. I don't believe if someone does a good look at what she's done that her reappointment can be denied.

Sincerely,

Sheryl Davis

Members of the Board of Supervisors:

I am writing to support the re-appointment of Suzy Loftus to the San Francisco Police Commission. I have worked with her over the years and I have found her to be a very dedicated individual. We met while she was working with Dr. Burk in The Center for Youth Wellness where we were working to make sure all children was screened for Toxic Stress. Suzy recommended me to serve on the Chief African American Advisory Forum and we've been working together to create the reforms and policies. This work is very important to the healing of our city to bring a culture of understanding and trust in our Police Department.

I urge you to reinstate Suzy on the Commission her leadership will be what we need to make sure these reforms happen. One of the things we've come up with in the reforms that I am proud of is we've changed firearms training to teach the officers to use as few bullets as necessary and have changed the way they are qualified on their firearms to make sure of it. We have made some progress and we have a long way to go we will continue this work together. Please reinstate her so we won't loose our momentum and can bring change reform to our Police Department.

To Supervisors Tang, Mar and Cohen,

I'm writing to you today to express the SF Bicycle Coalition's strong support of the reappointment of Suzy Loftus on the Police Commission when the matter comes before the Rules Committee on April 14.

President Loftus has been a champion of Vision Zero, our city's coordinated effort to end all serious injuries and fatalities on our streets. She has shown leadership at the Police Commission in urging SFPD officers to use data to guide enforcement and was a proponent in passing a resolution to ensure quarterly reports were made by the SFPD Traffic Commander to show progress.

We're pleased that progress has been made, with SFPD issuing more tickets that focus on the five known dangerous behaviors that cause the majority of crashes in San Francisco. With that side, there is still progress to be made as people biking and walking continue to be hit and killed on our streets, and we need key leadership on the Police Commission to get us to Vision Zero.

President Loftus has also been a balanced voice in working closely with the community and its advocates who care about street safety. The SF Bicycle Coalition is often critical of SFPD's enforcement and traffic crime investigation, but President Loftus has helped bridge the gap and create lines of communication. Our connection and coordination with the SFPD is at an all-time high, and we look forward to working together (and continuing our work with the Board of Supervisors) to achieve Vision Zero.

Thank you for your attention to this email, and I look forward to the reappointment.

Dear Supervisors:

It is with great pleasure, unwavering confidence and a true honor that I express my support for the reappointment of Suzy Loftus to the San Francisco Police Commission. She has been deeply committed to rebuilding the trust of the community and has the vision to implement long overdue and lasting reforms needed to make San Francisco a better city and a model for the rest of the country. Suzy's hard work and dedication for the betterment of San Francisco is nothing new.

Suzy and I first met in 2005 at a grassroots neighborhood meeting called to deal with the brutal attack of my house mate and to also address the out of control drug dealing and increasing violence that was plaguing our Hayes Valley neighborhood. Ms. Loftus stood not only as a concerned parent and neighbor but also as our Neighborhood Assistant District Attorney.

At her suggestion we put into motion an idea that would change our neighborhood forever! We began a letter writing campaign to the Superior Court Judges letting them know how a particular criminal's actions were negatively affecting our community. Additionally, we requested that a 'stay away' order be granted - an unheard of request at the time. After years of repeat criminals allowed to return to our neighborhood, our voices and concerns were finally heard by the courts and "stay away" orders were handed out! Without Suzy's guidance and ability to facilitate getting the letters to the right parties, I don't know for a fact that Hayes Valley would not be what it is today- a much safer and peaceful place to live.

Suzy is a native San Franciscan who truly takes great pride in our city. She is very much aware of the public safety needs. I am in awe and inspired by Suzy's dedication to her family, her full time career and nonstop community involvement.

I have total confidence that Suzy Loftus will continue to be an outstanding Commissioner and is wholly worthy of your support!

Subject: Support for the Nomination of Suzy Loftus to Police Commission

Dear Supervisors,

I am writing on behalf of Walk San Francisco to strongly support the nomination of Suzy Loftus for re-appointment to the San Francisco Police Commission.

During President Loftus' first term as Commissioner, she has put in an immense amount of time and energy toward working with advocates and the department to effectively address traffic safety as an SFPD priority. Under her leadership, SFPD supported the Vision Zero goal to end all traffic deaths and serious injuries by holding their stations accountable to meeting the focus on the five goal of allocating 50% of all citations to the five most dangerous traffic behaviors. Since the adoption of Vision Zero, the department increased their enforcement from 23% to 38% of citations going to focus on the five, and continues to work towards reaching the 50% goal.

This is due to the following activities that would not have happened without President Loftus:

- The adoption of a Vision Zero policy by the Police Commission
- Quarterly updates by the Traffic Commander to the Police Commission (no other board or commission receives a holistic update on Vision Zero progress this frequently)
- Quarterly preparatory meetings with President Loftus, the Traffic Commander, Walk SF and SFBC to review data, discuss concerns and ways to address concerns.

In addition to the tangible outcomes outlined above, President Loftus has helped advocates and the police department navigate challenges and create a path forward. She's an incredible asset to the people of San Francisco, and Walk SF urges your support for her nomination. Please feel free to reach out to me directly if you have any questions at nicole@walksf.org or 415-431-9255.

Dear Supervisor Avalos

On behalf of the Hunters Point Family, I would like to urge your support of Suzy Loftus for reappointment in her role as the President of the Police Commission. I have known and worked with Ms. Loftus for over six years. First, in her role as Executive Director of the Center for Youth Wellness where we collaborated to bring trauma informed mental health care to youth in the Bayview Hunters Point community. Most recently, I am working closely with Ms. Loftus in my role as a member of the Chief's African American Advisory Forum, where Ms. Loftus is active participant with the Forum to develop effective strategies to implement culturally competent and safe strategies within the SFPD.

I am supporting Ms. Loftus' reappointment to the Police Commission because she has consistently demonstrated a commitment to ensuring quality services and equitable treatment for African American youth and their families in San Francisco's District 10 community. In our respective roles to examine and transform the SFPD's policies and procedures within the African American community, Ms. Loftus has been an active advocate and leader in the process to transform SFPD tactics and procedures to create safer communities. Please support these efforts by voting to reinstate Commissioner Loftus so that we may continue to implement effective strategies that will ensure SFPD utilizes appropriate and safe approaches when engaging and interacting with residents of the Bayview Hunters Point and other underserved communities within San Francisco. Should you have any further questions or comments, please don't hesitate to contact me at (415) 410-8416.

Re: Suzy Loftus - Police Commission Reappointment

Dear Supervisors Cohen, Tang and Mar:

There is no better example of service and leadership in San Francisco than that of our colleague, Suzy Loftus.

I have known Suzy since she was in the District Attorney's office fighting on behalf of survivors of domestic violence and other violent crimes.

I believe that she has worked hard in her time at the Police Commission and especially as President to hear the public and the communities while maintaining balance and sustainable leadership at SFPD.

Is this an easy job? No. Do Suzy and I agree on every issue? No. But Suzy is willing to listen, create change and provide stable leadership during a time when our city needs it the most. I believe we need Suzy Loftus on the Police Commission and I hope that you agree.

As the executive director of the San Francisco Domestic Violence Consortium for nearly fifteen years, I am writing to wholeheartedly support Suzy Loftus' reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission.

Yours toward safety and justice,

Beverly Upton

Dear Mayor Lee:

As a former member of the San Francisco Police Commissioner, appointed by the late Mayor George Moscone, I am honored to recommend the reappointment and confirmation of Police Commissioner, Thomas "Tippy" Mazzucco to continue his well-reasoned, sound and compassionate service to the City and County of San Francisco. As a longtime civil rights advocate, I'm impressed with Commissioner Mazzucco's commitment to building strong police-community relations, especially with communities of color and in maintaining a solid balance of trust and confidence with all the Department's stakeholders.

I firmly believe the progress the Department continues to make is due to the strong and positive message of excellence you and the Board of Supervisors expect from the Chief, Commissioners and entire force. Reappointing Commissioner Mazzucco will allow him to continue his demonstrated good judgment, openness to responsible renewal and reform for the safety and wellbeing of all who live, work or visit our great City.

Thank you,

Dear Supervisors:

I am writing to express my support for Suzy Loftus's reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission. Last summer, Suzy played an essential role in turning the Community Safety Initiative ideas into reforms. Her leadership on the commission has demonstrated her commitment to the police department and citizens of San Francisco.

Suzy and I have worked together on reforms with the police department. Now community service is mandatory for all officers before graduating the academy. During the Police Commission, we stressed the importance of police officers being present at community gatherings. Since then there has been multiple community events, such as barbeques, that the police has attended. Most importantly, Suzy Loftus has helped change our inner city youth. Through employing youth as cadets, the negative stereotypes about police officers have begun to subside. Not only are our communities becoming comfortable with police; they get to experience working alongside them. As a result, community-police relations are becoming stronger.

What inspires me to write this letter is knowing that with Suzy as the president of the Police Commission, we will continue to implement lasting reforms and build the relationship between police and community. As a member of the Police Commission, Suzy has stood for equality, justice and the wellbeing of San Francisco's underserved citizens. She is the sole reason for my acceptance to multiple University of California institutions.

Suzy knows our cities public safety needs and understands citizens within our community on a personal level. Suzy will continue to be an outstanding commissioner and is undoubtedly the perfect person for the job.

Dear Supervisors:

I am writing to express my support for Suzy Loftus's reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission. Suzy has been nothing but supportive to me and my situation. She has treated me with nothing but respect, and has shown me nothing but love. From meeting Suzy last year during my time working with The Community Safety Initiative she has nurtured me as if I was her own child, from the first time I met her at the police commission she was the model of a genuine person who was willing to help students like me that come from the neighborhoods I come from. Suzy's leadership on the Commission has demonstrated that she is someone deeply committed to rebuilding trust with the community, she's there at everything the Bayview has, when I invite her and is always willing to help when I need her. The power in her standing up for vulnerable people and ensuring community voice has effected my family and I so much especially after I gave the commission my recommendations on how we can improve community and police relations.

Suzy and I have worked together on various projects. For example we worked on figuring out how we can bridge the gap between police and the community. With this our team came up with various ways and actions we can put together to start rebuilding relationships and it has ultimately been opening up conversations on how people feel about the police and what they can do to bridge and what the community can also can do. I am extremely hopeful on bridging relations between both police and the community for the simple reason that when we as a youth worked so diligently with the law enforcement over summer, some actually started to explore careers in it. With that my point is that if we continue to expose youth to these careers and they like it they will make an impact on their friends and family to do better and hopefully that's one way we can start to bridge together.

I am ecstatic about writing this letter. Suzy has stood for nothing but good, and sometimes it was things that wouldn't even benefit her and she didn't care if it wouldn't. I love that about her, the selfless acts of kindness. For example at the commission there is this lady that comes for her deceased son, and some may get tired of her but they don't feel her pain, but Suzy being the person she is, always asks how can she support her and she has built a trust with her. You usually don't see that coming from other commissioners but she does it and I can definitely say I enjoy that. This is what inspires me to take the time out from my schoolwork and extra circulars to write this letter. I can't stress it enough that Suzy is really working for the community not only by rebuilding trust but also by how she implements the reforms the group and I have last summer that is now benefiting both the community and officers.

Suzy really understands the seriousness in our public safety needs and she knows the souls of its communities, and this is not from what she hears this is from her constantly coming around and participating in community actions. I truly know she will continue to be an outstanding, phenomenal Commissioner. Mrs. Loftus's is wholly worthy of your support.

Mike'l Gregory

Honorable Board of Supervisors

Dear Supervisors:

I am writing to express my support for Suzy Loftus's reappointment to the San Francisco Police Commission. I had the privilege of working with Suzy last summer through the Mayors Office Community Safety Initiative Internship Program, and without her help and support, the entire program would not have been possible. From my experience, Suzy exemplified every characteristic needed towards building a better San Francisco. She has done a tremendous job bringing together communities of all socioeconomic backgrounds, bridging the gap between communities and the San Francisco Police Department, and ensuring that it is the right of every citizen to have their voice heard.

While having the pleasure of working with Suzy, I had the opportunity to firsthand observe her undeniable work ethic; which reflects her successful work as the commissioner. Suzy and I worked on ways we could better serve San Francisco through police and community relations. Throughout America, police officers tend to be victimized due to negative events portrayed on social media outlets. Unfortunately, this victimization resonates throughout San Francisco as well. However, Suzy's emphasis on exposing young men and women of color to fields within criminal justice is an important step towards diminishing these thoughts on the police. It allows young adults to really build trust and friendships with the people who protect this great city. On the other hand, it benefits our police department as well.

By opening the doors to these young men and women, our police officers get to hear stories about what these young adults must endure, their encounters with the police, and their suggestions on what they should be doing better in order to gain the public's trust. Just like the young men and women, the police officers get to build friendships with hopes of eliminating the pre-conceived notions that tend to be at the root of many issues revolving around police departments and communities. I know that many of the suggestions my cohort presented have already been put in place and have been successful. It just goes to show you how incredibly important Suzy is to this department and to our city. Without her leadership, several high school and college students would have not had summer jobs, and would not have had the opportunity to work on improving their community's relationships with the police.

Being a fifth generation San Franciscan, there is nothing more important to me than seeing my city come together as a whole to overcome challenges. However, in order for us to accomplish this, we need both our citizens and police officers to get along. Now, I understand that this will not happen over night, but we are moving in the right direction and making progress. At police commission meetings, Suzy makes sure that everyone is heard, she makes sure that everyone is granted with the respect of an entire room's undivided attention, and she makes sure that no matter what is said, it will be taken into consideration. Suzy is the type of person we need to help lead the city. I plan to work with Suzy and the entire police department on these same issues this summer, and together we will make progress towards a better San Francisco.

Suzy understands that it is in San Francisco's best interest to have a police department that is trusted by its citizens. She will continue putting everything she has into improving police and community relations and is wholly worthy of your support.

Sincerely,
Jordan Wilson

Subject: Rules Committee - Suzy Loftus reappointment to Police Commission - SUPPORT

To Supervisors Tang, Mar and Cohen,

I'm writing to you today to express the SF Bicycle Coalition's strong support of the reappointment of Suzy Loftus on the Police Commission when the matter comes before the Rules Committee on April 14.

President Loftus has been a champion of Vision Zero, our city's coordinated effort to end all serious injuries and fatalities on our streets. She has shown leadership at the Police Commission in urging SFPD officers to use data to guide enforcement and was a proponent in passing a resolution to ensure quarterly reports were made by the SFPD Traffic Commander to show progress.

We're pleased that progress has been made, with SFPD issuing more tickets that focus on the five known dangerous behaviors that cause the majority of crashes in San Francisco. With that said, there is still progress to be made as people biking and walking continue to be hit and killed on our streets, and we need key leadership on the Police Commission to get us to Vision Zero.

President Loftus has also been a balanced voice in working closely with the community and its advocates who care about street safety. The SF Bicycle Coalition is often critical of SFPD's enforcement and traffic crime investigation, but President Loftus has helped bridge the gap and create lines of communication. Our connection and coordination with the SFPD is at an all-time high, and we look forward to working together (and continuing our work with the Board of Supervisors) to achieve Vision Zero.

Thank you for your attention to this email, and I look forward to the reappointment.

Best regards,
Janice Li
