To whom it may concern,

I recently read an article on a salary increase for city workers. I'd like to share that I oppose it and would like to ask you to vote against it.

This increase will cost $250 million. With 175,000 individuals filing for unemployment since March, a city budget deficit of $1.5 billion, small businesses closing, many residents leaving, and large companies relocating I'd like to urge the city government to rethink this increase and postpone this decision until the economy in the city will turn around.

Thank you for your consideration of this important matter,

Irina

Dear Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed.

I am writing to oppose the 3% increase for city employees. I am a very concerned resident of San Francisco with a projected deficit of $1.5B- $2B this year. While I recognize the hard work that city employees put in during Covid, we have well over 150K in the city filing for unemployment insurance since March and many small businesses still shut down. The tech industry also laid off many of their staff. There are headlines every day of Pinterest and Twitter ending lease or in the process of looking for sub-tenants, Square and Stripe both moving headquarters away from SF. All things considered, with a $1.5-$2B deficit, I think City Hall and the Board of Supervisors need to be more prudent in managing the finance of the city. 3% is normally a cost of living adjustment, but with rents dropping and most of entertainment and leisure activities still not back to normal, many households are reducing spendings during this period too. Every sector is suffering: small businesses, tech industry, tourism & leisure, small rental housing providers. I have a hard time understanding why city employees should receive this 3% raise. Thus, I am writing to oppose this salary increase and urge the city to defer this $250M expenditure.

It is outrageous for 37,000 city employees to get a 3% pay raise when small businesses are going bankrupt and people can't even pay their rent.

I believe that this is a bad idea and a selfish decision. My business is closed, my one investment building has lost one tenant and is losing the other. SF is suffering a pandemic and a huge deficit and raises can be put off for a while. Please reconsider this proposal.

Dear Board:

The City is suffering from businesses closed, massive unemployment, lower tax revenues, urban blight, declines in tourism, and a host of other problems too numerous to name. Schools are not operating normally. Muni is not operating normally. Most government offices are closed or only partially operating. Large numbers of people have fled the city for better environments and quality of life. There can't be a worse time to increase City salaries. There's no economic justification for it whatsoever. Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors-

San Francisco is losing people daily because they feel they get very little benefit by living in a city that already has a $10 billion budget . The City has boarded up windows, homeless wandering the streets like zombies in a dystopia accentuated by smoke and red skies. We have decided somehow to keep The City shut by closing schools and keeping those that might otherwise occupy our streets and patronizing our local merchants tucked away in tax-free states and getting them comfortable so that those people may never return.

So rather than trying to lower an already excessive budget, you want to increase it as tax revenues are disappearing at the fastest rate in the history of our most beautiful yet beleaguered city and state.

Please wake up and realize that you need to cut costs, not increase them or else San Francisco will wind up looking just like New York City in the 1970s. Please use your heads. Our city needs you to be strong now or our lovely city will only see worse days as we progress forward.

With all the best intentions and hopes that you realize how bad things are and be proactive toward improving our city's conditions,

John Shuhda

I am writing to voice my concern regarding the irresponsible decision to raise the salary of 37k city employees during this recession where so many of our neighbors do not even have a job. This reckless use of our precious tax dollars during this difficult time is completely irresponsible and malpractice. There is a time and place for pay raises. This is a slap in the face to those who have had to close their businesses or have lost their job. Do the right thing. You can give a pay raise when the time is right and there are fewer competing priorities. I am embarrassed for the board of supervisors. To All supervisors,

During this epidemic when everyone is suffering business and personal, This is not the time to give SF City employees a raise while so many are unemployed have lost their jobs and the city has a 1.5 billion deficit.

Crimes Homeless are increasing In every neighborhood. We live in the marina and our offices are in the mission and downtown where homeslessness proliferate.

If this Dire situation is not improved, instead city workers get paid themselves and increase, this is indeed fiddling while the Formerly beautiful San Fran goes to rot.

This selfish and uncaring attitude is adding insult to injury and will contribute to more people joining the flight bandwagon from SF which has already started. Please put the money into cleaning the streets and helping to bring small business people back to the city so that the inhabitants will feel there's something to stay for.

We all love this city but cannot tolerate our tax dollars abused.

Be Grateful that your job Is secure while many go without.

Thank you,

This is grotesque.

At a time when most of us are taking paycuts, experiencing reduced hours, are being furloughed, or layed off, this is REPULSIVE.

Small businesses are closing.
Large companies are leaving.
Everyone is making difficult decisions and making cuts.

SF is one of the WORST run cities in the US AND has a budget deficit of 1.5B. This salary increase is an act of unimaginable irresponsibility.

I simply fail to understand how you can vote for this and sleep at night?

Please show some self awareness and respect for the tax paying citizens of San Francisco.

Thanks,

Samantha Wagner, D5

Dear Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed,

As I understand it, on Tuesday, Sept 15th the San Francisco Board of Supervisors will vote to approve a salary increase for 37,000 city employees. I find this extremely disturbing and tone deaf to what is going on in our community. In the past few months, my organization has made critical budget cuts due to the impact of COVID 19. My neighborhood businesses have closed (my hair salon, my gym, some favorite restaurants). Meanwhile, city hall has not made any budget cuts or furloughs. You are actually proposing additional taxes to fund your bloated government.

This salary increase will cost $250 million. With 175,000 individuals filing for unemployment since March, a city budget deficit of $1.5 billion, small businesses closing, many residents leaving and large companies relocating, one can only wonder why 37,000 city employees should receive an increase of salary. I love this city and would like to remain, although I am one of the many who is ready to pull the trigger on moving. I simply cannot stand by and watch this irresponsible behavior.

Best regards,
Elizabeth Hosfield

Don't you dare grant those salary increases on Sept. 15. This is not the time to do that.
How can we possibly afford it?

There are unemployed people here. There are homeless people everywhere. It's clear there's little accounting for where all the money is going now!

I've lived in the Marina for 30 years and you've allowed it and anything good and clean about the rest of this city to rot.

Where are your priorities? Or is it just to jack up the taxes again. And again. My God, something's got to give here instead of the usual: The taxpayers.

Please listen. Thank you.

With so many people unemployed and the looking budget deficit due to COVID 19, I think it is irresponsible to giving raises at this time. A lot of us who are still employed have either taken a salary cut or have had our salaries frozen.

I strongly urge you to be fiscally responsible and delay raises.

To the Board of Supervisors -

With the city reeling from the pandemic - unemployment, business closures, decreased tourism, increased crime and homelessness and a $1.5 billion budget deficit - I am appalled that the BOS is prepared to endorse salary increases for city employees.

The proposed increase is in excess of average inflation cost of living adjustments. Further it is an insult to the many city residents and small businesses who are giving up so much in the spirit of shared sacrifice.

Trying to justify it by saying not passing may lead to layoffs not only defies common sense but also represents a gross absence of leadership.

If this passes it will be yet another example of the BOS and City Employees cynically ignoring fiscal and civic responsibility to grab whatever you can get for yourselves at a time no one can afford it.

In short you're kicking the City, it's citizens & businesses when we are all down and out and our quality of life continues to deteriorate.

Please know this will be brought to fore when you are running for re-election. You should be ashamed to call yourselves "representatives" if you vote to pass.

Sincerely,

Minott Wessinger

Hello,

I am writing to ask that the SF BOS vote against salary increases for city employees. The City employs approximately 33,000 people to manage 49 square miles—that is roughly 673 people per square mile.

Despite these astronomical staffing numbers, the city suffers from the following:

- crumbling streets
- trash, litter, and waste (human and animal) on medians, sidewalks, and green spaces
- decimated business environment, which was on the decline pre-covid due to onerous regulations and antibusiness policies
- inability to build or maintain infrastructure—Van Ness debacle, TransBay terminal mess, failed transit system
- inability to maintain social order through overly permissive and inhumane social policies

No company or business in the world would reward employees that produced outcomes such as the ones listed above. City management and the board of supervisors need to tighten the belt and focus on accountability and auditing. The taxpayers who pay these salaries deserve cost effective policies and meaningful services.

Thank you for your consideration,

Susan McDonough

BoS & Mayor Breed,

175,000 have lost their jobs. 70+ restaurants have shuttered. The city remains locked down and tech is leaving at an alarming rate. All the while you continue to think taxing those of us remaining is the path forward. No. We've had enough.

Do NOT approve the salary increase for S.F. city workers. With over 600 employees making over 300k in total comp and countless others making over 200k, now is not the time for pay raises. The city has not revisited total comp packages or layoffs. Stop throwing money at the problem. Your tax paying constituents have had enough.

I oppose salary increases for city employees.

Rather than raise salaries, let's focus on slimming down programs and repetitive tasks. Let's focus on managing the budget and making smarter decisions.

If our city leaders worked together more than in opposition, I'm sure we could find more economies of scale and best practices. Right now, so many special interest groups and pockets and we lose sight of the SF community.

I strongly oppose and object to the salary increase for City Employees at this point in time.
Our City is in economic and social crisis and this is NOT the time to further burden our City budgets.
City employees historically have been well salaried and there is no need to increase salaries cross the board.

Dear SF Supervisors:

I am a 30 year resident of San Francisco and urge you to postpone any compensation increase at this time for city employees. I'm the CFO of an SF-based company and we, like many others, have frozen compensation for all employees until we navigate through these unprecedented times. Unemployment is at record levels, our economy is in a very tenuous position, and it's unclear when a real recovery that benefits all wage earners will emerge.

In addition, over the next few years, SF will almost certainly struggle to fund existing city services in an era of declining tax revenues. To raise city employee salaries during this time does not at all seem like a responsible or prudent thing to do.

Please postpone this decision until we have a better understanding of the next 12-24 month's economic situation.

Sincerely,

September 12, 2020

Dear Board:

PLEASE DO NOT INCREASE SALARIES for city employees.

The City is suffering from businesses closed, massive unemployment, lower tax revenues, urban blight, declines in tourism, and a host of other problems too numerous to name. Schools are not operating normally. Muni is not operating normally. Most government offices are closed or only partially operating. Large numbers of people have fled the city for better environments and quality of life. There can't be a worse time to increase City salaries. There's no economic justification for it whatsoever. Do not pass the proposed salary increase.

Sincerely,

Whitney Arnautou

Please do not give city employees a raise. We are all suffering, losing money and jobs, and a raise for city employees is a slap in the face to all citizens of San Francisco.
You can revisit this issue when the city has come back from the devastation of the pandemic. We all have to tighten our belts, city employees should have to do it, too.

Dear Mayor Breed and SF Board of Supervisors,

It has come to my attention that a vote to increase salaries for City employees will be taken by the BOS on Tuesday, September 15th. I am writing to strongly encourage you to vote NO on this increase.

According to the State Controller's Government Compensation in California website, salaries paid out to city employees in 2018 represented a 22% increase over salaries paid out in 2013. To clarify- that is a 22% increase in 5 years.

Given the current state of San Francisco's financial situation (eg: budget deficit of approximately $1.5B over the next two years, looming vacancy rates in both residential and commercial real estate, countless shuttered businesses all leading to plummeting tax revenues) I can't imagine why you think this would be a good idea.

As our representatives, your first priority should be to make this city livable again. Our schools need to be improved, our streets need to be safe, clean and drivable, our homeless need appropriate care.

I urge you to put your efforts and our tax dollars towards programs that will positively impact the standard of living in our city. Giving a raise to employees during this time when many are happy to have a job at all is absolutely unwarranted.

Please vote NO on the increase.

Sincerely,

Lori Collier

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am emailing you in opposition of a city employee salary increase at this time. During this pandemic, city employees are the last to need additional funds as they have been one of the least affected financially. It would be much better to use the funds to help small businesses, people out of work due to the pandemic, and crime prevention in our city.

Thank you for your consideration,

SF citizens loosing jobs, businesses going out of business.

Come on people!!!

Living in San Fran and California is certainly ridiculously expensive enough before you burden tax payers even further!

Our state already pays 70 cents on each tax dollar for public service jobs and related retirement! I have worked my butt off for 40 years and still have to fund my own retirement.

Further tax burden only makes Nevada, Texas, and Florida more attractive, and I pay almost six figures in annual state taxes, yes, state taxes alone.

It is not in the state's economic interest to alienate the hard working middle class that pays status quo inflated existing city employee salaries. Yes, ridiculously high. How many lazy city workers driving Porsches can we afford? And, yes, I know a few.

Consider trimming excess fat in City Hall, and returning tax breaks to the people that really work hard to keep this city afloat, the tax payers!

At least wake up and smell the dust of the economic tax base eroding with every stupid tax-increase move you money grubbers make. And even better yet, take a basic course in economics so you might actually understand the repercussions of your ignorance!

Respectfully submitted,
Kevin Dede

Dear Mayor Breed and Supervisor Peskin,

I was shocked and dismayed to read about the salary increases proposed for 37,000 city workers in these difficult times, when so many city residents are already struggling to make ends meet.

These are our TAX DOLLARS you're spending, so I'm assuming we should have a say in how they're spent.

In representative government, the responsibility falls on the representatives to work in the best interests of their constituency. While we know your jobs are difficult, that does not excuse the waste and lack of progress we see in so many areas of city life.

The last thing that should be happening is pay increases for city employees, who are already well compensated. At a cost of $250 million, with a city budget deficit of $1.5B, and the specter of even HIGHER TAXES, I'm hard pressed to understand why a pay increase is even being considered.

Please DO NOT let this salary increase get approved.

Sincerely,
Nora Beach

I strongly oppose salary increases for city employees right now. SF city employees are extremely well paid. All industries including tech are experiencing unprecedented lay-offs and cuts in salary, not raises. The cost of living “was” high in SF but rentals are down more than 11%.

It’s hard for me as a former owner/founder of a tech company and member of several For profit and publically traded boards of directors to even fathom you are thinking of a pay raise right now. In fact if anything the city of SF should be looking at salary reductions, and lay offs to go along with the huge deficits that will be with us for some time. This is quite irresponsible in my book and most others. And if the thought is to continue to raise taxes I believe the exodus from SF already happening will just worsen. I saw it happen when BofA, Chevron, Pacific Bell and a whole host of other major corporations ( employers) left along with their workers. Let’s try to stem the flow of people leaving and not even consider raises at a critical time like this. Cut backs is the responsible thing to do as is everyone else.

Thank you for reading ( hopefully)and please know I care about this city and all of you, but come on, share the pain everyone else is experiencing. Timing is astonishing.

This is certainly a shock to think that employees lucky to have jobs in this environment deserve a raise. And that this group supposedly plans to vote for this raise

I hope that is not true. But I'm writing to be clear how I stand.

Do you actually think people with JOBSAND PENSIONS are going to leave? That these people are irreplaceable with a lot of amazing individuals on the market now looking for work??

Get real. No actual business would ever make this decision at this time given the disaster of our city budget. The world is changing. You really need to get a grip on how angry people are and will continue to be now that we all are seeing how protest and activism truly creates change.

Tighten the belts people. And vote no to this.

I find it ridiculous that SF employees are asking for pay increases when their clients/citizens are lucky to be able to even maintain their income due to the economic disaster created by the overly aggressive shutdown of businesses in the City. As Supervisors you have the duty to protect citizens from the financial calamity that is occurring with income going down dramatically. Reduce expenses now and eliminate the waste of non-essential programs.

Absolutely not. I oppose this salary increase.

Hello Board of Supervisors,

I strongly oppose any increase in salary for city employees for many reasons, but the highest on my list is the complete lack of any justification for those increases! This city has come to be a disgrace and I am now embarrassed to call this home. What do my taxes do? Do they clean up the trash and excrement on the street? Deal with homeless druggies everywhere? Update our infrastructure? Beautify this increasingly ugly place?? No. Clearly my very hard-earned tax dollars are going to fund ridiculously undeserved wage increases, all while businesses here go under, people are filing for unemployment-- how dare you! I am disgusted.

Meanwhile, this stares me in the face as I drive around.

You guys should be ashamed of yourselves. This city is a disgrace, a total joke to those lucky enough not to live here, but for those of us who do, it's dangerous and disgusting. How dare you attempt to give yourselves a raise when the city is falling apart. You can have a raise when I don't have to step over human feces, needles (provided by you of course) as well as garbage that my $69,000 in property taxes buys me each year. Despicable.

Please vote against a pay increase for city employees. It is completely inappropriate given the homelessness, dire financial condition of the city, and all the many truly high priority needs the city faces. Our city employees are the highest paid in country, and are about only sector that hasn't had to make any financial sacrifices or face layoffs.

Supervisors – It beggars belief that the Board of Supervisors is considering a salary increase for city employees at the moment. Perhaps it isn't apparent to you that the core tax base of the city is collapsing, in part – and only in part – due to Covid. Major employers are evacuating from San Francisco, largely because the city is inhospitable to businesses. The city does literally nothing to protect small businesses from the criminal abuse of the misdemeanor limitations of Prop 47. Quality of life across the board – risks to personal safety due to inadequate staffing and budgets for police, risks to citizens from the mentally ill on our streets, lack of public transportation, one could go on and on – is deteriorating daily.

And yet, in your ivory tower, you imagine that instead of making difficult choices about city priorities, and reducing city expenditures, instead we should be financing salary increases for city employees across the board.

Get a clue. One of you ought to have the moral courage to do the right thing. Exert yourselves, once, to provide some leadership instead of disowning your tax paying constituents.

As a retired employee of SF, I totally oppose the salary increase. The city is in terrible shape & any additional money should go to the small businesses that are now closing up due to COVID and city incompetence in dealing with the homeless problem.

This email is in response to the planned vote to approve a salary increase for all city employees.

I would urge the Board to not pass this measure. In a time where so many of our City's residents are losing jobs, losing housing, and/or taking pay cuts, now is not the time to raise salaries for city employees. The City is facing significant financial pressure, and another $250M obligation will only put increased financial pressure on our fellow citizens who are currently hurting financially, economically, and psychologically. This seems irresponsible and immoral.

Sincerely,

Given the widespread job losses, failing small businesses, and exodus from the city, I fail to see how we can justify pay increases for city employees. Particularly when this excludes first responders. Self-dealing is not a good look. And solving every city problem and social issue by raising taxes is a failure of leadership.

It is criminal to give salary increases when the city is sinking, unemployment is through the roof and small businesses are closing daily. The city is falling apart. None of you deserve increases. Shame on all of you and you want it to come from reserves?! SHAMEFULLY. Police and fire deserve raises over you and they've politely deferred. The city has a deficit. That doesn't mean to reward yourself for being unable to balance a budget or manage the city in a way that there aren't homeless people and feces all over our streets. NO. THIS IS MADNESS AND SHAMEFUL.

Hi All,

We are in the middle of a pandemic, and everyone is taking pay cuts or worse, except city workers. Giving workers a pay increase now is completely tone deaf, and not in line with proper mgmt when we know the city is going to have a huge deficit. Its time to have some fiscal responsibility.

Thanks,

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a native San Franciscan and parents who were also born here in this city, I have seen many phases of transitions over the years in this wonderful city. However I do not endorse any pay raises to the city employees of this city. The city and county of San Francisco provides it's workers with many medical, retirement benefits and a generous living wage. The city's budget is already in crisis due to economic crisis and a global pandemic. Please use fiscal wisdom and do not provide a raise at this time for city employees.

Hello Supervisors,

I write to strenuously object to the proposed budget, especially with two aspects:

1) We're in the middle of a financial crisis - hundreds of thousands have lost their jobs, their businesses, their livelihood and countless others have taken pay-cuts. We are all struggling. In the face of that it would be an outrageous abuse of power to grant yourselves and your colleagues in SF city government a RAISE. Completely inappropriate and tone-deaf.

You do realize that by doing that you are forcing San Franciscans who have lost their jobs or taken pay-cuts to pay for your increased salaries -right? You get that?

2) Dipping into reserves to fund salary increases is completely irresponsible. Are you aware of the potential consequences of lowering our reserves - to fund raises? Reduced credit rating, higher cost of borrowing, resulting in higher across the board costs for SF city government.

While some of you may feel you owe your buddies something in exchange for getting you elected, I urge you to do the right thing for San Francisco and for the people you supposedly represent.

As a resident of SF (I unfortunately, have Matt Haney as the Supervisor of my District), I am beyond sick and tired of seeing how disgusting this city has become. It is filthy, unsafe, dirty, and an embarrassment. The amount of money I pay in taxes is obscene and it is now being wasted and spent on pay raises for City Employees. Are you all blind and deaf to what is happening not just in SF or California, but the Nation? Millions have no jobs, local businesses are suffering, and residents in this City are suffering and families are struggling just to get through the day. It is also disgraceful how the budget for our law enforcement and first responders has been reduced, making this city even more unsafe than it already is. Of all the people who should be getting pay raises, it's our Police and Fire Departments and first responders and essential workers. Why don't you all spend money working on reopening schools and businesses and helping those who are truly struggling during this pandemic. And spend money and resources making this City as beautiful and welcoming as it once was before. Now it is depressing driving through the streets and seeing so many businesses boarded up, garbage everywhere, and kids and families unable to play and go to all the amazing places this City has to offer. Do your jobs and stop wasting money and get this City and the citizens of this City "back in business." This City is literally falling apart and you should all be ashamed of yourselves.

I'm amazed that the BOS thinks dipping into city reserves to grant themselves and other city employees pay raises at a time when unemployment is so high, and the reliable tax base, both private and business, is so low. That isn't the purpose of reserves. Let the BOS and city employees defer their raises, as many first responders, firefighters, police, etc., have already done for the benefit of the City.

The BOS in particular should be taking salary cuts, as its members have failed to serve the citizens of San Francisco with any level of adequacy in recent years.

Let City employees share in the overall financial malaise that the rest of San Francisco's inhabitants are enduring.

Hi there, I'm a SF resident who opposes this increase due to current budget deficits and honestly how poorly the city is being managed at this time. It is not the city that my grandparents loved and not only is crime up but so is the level of homeless and people up to no good. I'm just so disappointed right now in how this city is being managed it makes me not want to raise my kids here. No wage increase or pats on the back for our city employees please.

SF BOS,

Please be responsible adults and recognize that now is not the time for a raise for city workers. Since none of you are actually accountable for balancing the city's financial budget, please harken back to a time in your life when you were just scraping by financially. While struggling, did you feel it was a good time to buy more expensive clothing, meals, entertainment or travel? No, of course you didn't because you were on hard times.

This isn't complicated. Now are hard times.

Just a reminder that you work for and represent the citizens of SF, not the city's agencies and departments. Please honor your duty to do what's right for the city and its residents.

We need to fix the problems we already have. Not pay more to already over paid city employees you can start by paying the police way less.

I understand that the proposed budget includes pay raises for City employees in the amount of $250 million. The City should, in normal circumstances, abide by its agreements. But in the unprecedented circumstances we find ourselves, the priority must be what is best for the City as a whole. Many costs of living are decreasing. Rents are down. There is less cause for daily spending (e.g., coffee, lunch, transportation). It does not seem that pay raises are necessary now. It is far more important that people retain their jobs, and that resources be directed to small businesses, schools, public transit and other engines of our economy. Pay raises can be deferred and “trued up” at a later date, just as is the case in the private sector.

City employees, specifically including supervisors and the mayor, are grossly overpaid. Employee unions are a disgraceful scourge on the city. The level of corruption among city employees is unforgivable and apparently tolerated with a wink and a nod. Clean up your act and act honestly for a change.

Hello BoS,

I'm concerned about increased salaries. It's expensive to live here and raises are valid, but is the city really monitoring current spend well enough? Will it jeopardize jobs?

Tech is leaving, tourism is down, revenue will shrink and the protected encampments are growing with millions thrown at failed band aid solutions to address the situation. Purchasing more hotels is a solution? If just housing was a solution that would be easy. Where's the requirements around mental health / drug addiction support for those that need it (I hope Joel Engardio is elected)? Who is living in the encampments/hotels? Or no one cares (even if it violates Megan's Law)? Do you live next to them too? Do you get called c*nt or b*tch when you go for a walk and can't respond for fear of physical threats? Do you smell pee and step over trash while being harassed and hear screaming at night? Do you try to support local businesses and wear your mask to follow covid guidelines and try to make a purchase while someone and their trash is sprawled in the doorway?

Back to the issue, where will the money come from?

Please stop feeding Trump's talk track of the failure of California, helping his team-election. Make some common sense decisions for your city and how the money is spent.

Thanks,
Ashley

Dear Supervisors,

It appears that financial prudence could be required during these difficult times as many residents are losing jobs and questioning whether they can remain in the City.

Perhaps a deferral of any increase in salaries could/should be considered.

Sincerely yours,

Do not give this salary increase at this time - we need road improvements, cleaner streets & sidewalks, getting homeless off the streets, etc. - SF is a mess at this time & we just don't have the money for salary increases - What r u thinking when this was proposed- start improving SF as we r going to lose more people moving out of the City if u don't take quality of life issues seriously.

To Whom It Concerns,

Now certainly doesn't seem to be the time to offer city employees a raise. We're all working hard, but many have had to take pay cuts and/or lost their jobs completely. Putting additional strain on the city's financial system makes zero sense. Please do not approve this raise, as it is completely insensitive to the times and what everyone is going through.

This is a time in which all of us are struggling. City employees have more job security than most citizens. We don't have pensions and benefits when we retire or lose our jobs. This is NOT a time to give city workers pay raises, while so many are struggling because they have no jobs. Please vote against pay raises until our economy is fully functional and jobs are available.

Hello,

I am very concerned about the upcoming decision to increase pay for city employees. How could such a thing take place given the current circumstances? All city employees should be lucky to even have a job! As a small business owner, native San Franciscan, and the parent of two public school attending children, I would be extremely angered! I would find it offensive that these funds would go to city employees when others could use them. City employees don't need it, no matter how you spin it. It would be complete BS and hypocritical for local leaders to vote for a pay increase. I am very upset at how local leaders have ruined MY city. I was born and raised here and I am completely embarrassed by your leadership thus far. If you vote for this increase, this is going to be the final nail in the coffin for what had already been a horrific time for my family. My father, who came to SF 50 years ago as an immigrant (and never left), died of heart failure in April. He was in the ICU for a month. We could not see him or be with him. It was heart wrenching. Several weeks later, people were allowed to protest in the street shoulder to shoulder, without any condemnation from the mayor or supervisors. Voting for an increase in pay will just be another bad decision by our SF politicians. Thanks for your time.

Hi all,

If what I'm reading in the chronicle and the examiner is correct, it seems that pay raises for city employees has been included while not enough support for small businesses. At a time when we have a large deficit (likely to increase) we should not be giving pay raises. Especially while small businesses are closing, and/or laying off people.

Thanks for your consideration,

Ron

All,

The idea of a pay increase for city employees at this time is irresponsible and not acting in good faith of being a fiduciary of tax payer dollars and to the tax payers:

- City has not even laid off any employees like most businesses have had to in times like these. SF Tax payers didn't sign up for the full employment act with city employees.
- There is no justifiable reason for a pay increase. Cost of living has been going down - FACT. Mortgage rates are down, housing prices are down, rents are down, gas is down, etc.
- It should be the opposite, city employees need to be let go and employees need to take a pay cut - austerity measures are needed in times like this when we have a budget crisis.
- It is HIGHLY hypocritical for city employees to get a pay raise while you have not allowed landlords to increase rent, yet their costs like insurance go up, and most importantly, you're increasing property tax again this year! I find this completely unbelievable!
- Frankly, the SFBOS should roll back their 12% pay increase from last year

As a result, I vehemently oppose Salary Increase For City Employees.

SF Resident.

Greetings -
Thank you for your work.

Two issues:

- 1) Please do not give raises to City Employees at this time. Rather keep people employed.
- 2) What is happening with street cleaning? Our streets are stained and filthy and the garage is not being collected. Can we employ appropriate homeless and city staff to clean up the streets and sidewalks. It is a health hazard and disgusting. Dogs are now urinating on the sidewalks in front of restaurants. Recently, I have been to other Bay Area cities, none are as unsightly as SF.

Hello board of supervisors,

I'd like to voice my opinion as a SF resident that I oppose the upcoming 2-3% salary increases to over 35,000 City workers. So many small businesses have permanently closed, laid off workers or are simply trying to stay afloat. This pandemic is not over and as many private businesses are not increasing salaries, I think this should be further postponed especially given the large deficits we face. This is not a responsible move and I believe Mayor London Breed agrees as well. Please kindly take note of any emails you receive from your community residents. We hope you will hear us on this important topic.

Thank you and stay safe!

It is unconscionable to even consider salary increases for city/gov employees in what is essentially an economic depression. It is not just the optics that should be a concern but the ethics. Anyone who has a secure job, generous benefits, and pension guarantees (massively unfunded) in these hard times on the taxpayer dime should consider themselves very fortunate.

That is just so wrong on so many levels!!! You are all suppose to be Public Servants! So serve the Public needs, not yours! At this time in our country why do we even need to state the obvious: people are hurting, the vulnerable need assistance and none of you are it.

And for God's sake, deal with the homeless problem once and for all!!!!!! You now have the money, use it. How embarrassing for you all to even try to get richer at this time.

Shame.

Something seems off about raises during a time when people are losing their jobs. More transparency is needed before this can shift. Please VOTE NO in the meantime.

Shocked and disgusted to learn that in the midst of the economic tsunami that has hit our city and nation as a result of the COVID19 pandemic and its resultant job losses and business closures, you are actually considering giving City Hall employees raises! What are you thinking? Do you not understand now why you are overwhelming viewed as a bunch of progressive posturing, parasitic politicians concerned solely with enriching yourselves and the rest of this city's vastly overpaid bureaucrats? Beware disgusted voters when you next face re-election!

Hello, I am a San Francisco voter and I oppose a salary increase for city employees using our taxes given what's going on.

I have no problem with how you spend your own money, but please remember that you take our money and serve us. This is a time for spending reduction, not increases.

Thanks kindly for reading.

I am a 3rd generation San Franciscan and honestly am bewildered by what the city has become. Like an abandoned city where shops are forced to close, and many salons have gone out of business because of covid policies. Other cities have treated their citizens like adults and have been more open for business with masks required. No one is abandoning Los Angeles as they are more lenient. Many places I frequent are now out of business. My facialist is too. Even now, she can not open as you can not do a facial on someone who is wearing a mask. A proposed salary increase at the tune of $250 million with the level of debt we are in, with unemployment being what it is, this pay raise is truly coming at the wrong time. Please consider putting this off 2 years.

On a further note, I want to say that you all need to dig deep and stop marching to the party line. Nancy Pelosi, while a great lady in so many ways, has embarrassed our city and has made all of our leadership appear like “Do as I say, not as I do.”

I do not care what party she is from. I do not care that she was “set up.” She knew right from wrong. She is to lead by example. It brings to mind the famous book by George Orwell - Animal Farm.

It was against the law for animals to sleep in beds. Then suddenly the pigs are sleeping in beds and of course, bending the rules for themselves. She could not wash and blow dry her hair herself, like the rest of us? She looks like a pig and to many, the leadership of San Francisco is all in her pen. We must pull it together. This is not Fox news. Even my liberal friends in Europe are shaking their heads.

The homeless: I decided to lose a big amount of weight for my health years ago. I did it by walking the city streets for 2 hours a day. My route took me from Pac Heights through the Tenderloin. During those 5 years of walking 6 days a week, I not only changed my body, but also my mind. I spoke to so many people living on the street. The truth is that while there are people down and out, the biggest problem we have is people on drugs and people with mental illness, sometime because of drugs and sometime just mental illness. Throwing money at the homeless issue unless done with focus, will not solve the problem. If Ronald Reagan shut the mental facilities and everyone blames him, and we know now it was wrong, then open them up. Put our dollars into drug treatment and mental health. Our city is very dirty place now and we are losing our magic. That magic is what makes people want to live here and tourists come here for our beauty. No one can see our beauty through feces and needles on the sidewalk.

Crime, often caused by drug addicts in need of money for a fix by breaking into cars and the state of our city is need of some real law and order. Liberal friends are leaving the city, as we seem to be out of control. Driving down Hyde Street in the TL towards market and having my son see one junkie shooting up another junkie in the neck in plain site is insanity. What would you tell him, if you were in the car?

I know you are doing your best and we support and believe in you. We can still be socially liberal in the spirit of what makes this city historically great and still support law and order.

Best,

In an unprecedented time of economic & financial distress which is affecting all San Franciscans, it is appalling that SF Govt' workers, who have been TOTALLY UNAFFECTED FINANCIALLY by all this are asking for raises.

The timing of this, the optics, are TERRIBLE. Show some compassion for all those people thrown out of work, "non-essential" workers, small business people, etc. etc. etc.

As Supervisors you have the duty to protect the interests of ALL San Franciscans. With large budget deficits looming, now is the time for ALL SF Govt employees to take pay CUTS across the board.

Dear members of the Board!
Madame Mayor!

I am writing to all of you regarding the suggested plan to increase city employees salary by 3%. Our city has a huge budget deficit. Small businesses are closing, many residents are leaving and large companies are relocating. A lot of San Francisco residents are out of work and are struggling to pay rent and to put food on the table.

How can you justify a salary increase that will cost our city over $250 million on the top of projected $1.5 billion deficit?

This is fiscally irresponsible and unpatriotic.

As a long time resident of San Francisco, I strongly oppose this measure.

Please vote No on this proposal. This is insane!

Dear Board of Supervisors,

We ask that you DO NOT approve a salary increase for city employees at this time. Our city has a budget deficit, hundreds of thousands are out of work and our small businesses need help! Additionally, we have many residents leaving and large companies relocating. Now is not the time to give raises.

Dear All,

I urge you to reject the upcoming pay raise for city employees and divert those funds to address the pressing issues facing our city at this time. I am a 30 year resident of San Francisco and have been a homeowner for the last 16 years.

The livability of this city has decreased significantly over the past several years, pre-dating and exacerbated by the Covid 19 related shut down. The streets are filthy, the mentally unwell roam the streets, presenting a danger to themselves and others. As a retail sales associate at Union Square, I can tell you that clients are unwilling to come downtown because they feel unsafe; this affects my ability to earn a living.

I am all for city employees being paid their agreed upon wages and would be more than happy to support a salary increase at a future date. Right now however, it seems that the city's funds could be better used to make the streets cleaner and safer, provide meaningful support for our most vulnerable, and preventing beloved local small businesses from closing, and other pressing.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Supervisors:

I understand that at tomorrow's Board of Supervisors meeting you will be voting on whether or not to approve a salary increase for some 35,000+ city employees. While normally I would not begrudge any city employee a salary increase, I feel it is unconscionable to consider one at this time for the following reasons:

- San Francisco is already running a $1.5 billion budget deficit and certainly does not need to be adding to that, especially if our next balanced budget will come at the expense of other services for tax-paying residents, which is very likely.
- If we do have to add to the deficit and cut other services, funds should not be allocated to city employees with jobs when there are so many residents and businesses that are still going without or greatly reduced income due to city imposed Covid-19 restrictions. Plus, it will take these people months, if not years to make up their personal losses/deficits. Let's support them before we add to the income of people already with jobs. Sacrifices have been made by all, and we continue to make those sacrifices. So should city employees until the economic tide brought on by Covid-19 turns.
- The San Francisco coffers are likely to be depressed and suffer for a while due to the closing of local businesses, the exodus of large employer companies and the relocation of so many residents from the city. None of this is likely to help fiscal concerns and certainly not services for tax-paying residents.

I hope you take my position to heart. Thank you for your consideration.

May I ask why 37,000 city employees will be getting a raise which will cost $250 million dollars? Don't they make enough according to the Forbes article below?

This is ridiculous. I ask that you all reconsider this raise in light of 175,000 individuals filing for unemployment since March, a city budget deficit of $1.5 billion, small businesses closing, and many residents leaving and large companies relocating.

Why should 37,000 city employees receive a salary increase?

Mayor Breed / Members of the Board of Supervisors: City of San Francisco,

I oppose granting pay raises to City employees at this time due to the economic effects of the pandemic on the City's revenue and budget.

All citizens of San Francisco are tightening their belt. The City must do the same. Now is not the time to increase pay.

This action must be deferred until economic times justify such action.

Dear Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed,

I learned with dismay that city employees are in line for raises at this time. I'm not sure how this could be and question the wisdom of doing this right now. While I support fair and living wages for everyone, I suspect our city employees can manage for now on their salaries. We all know these are crazy times, small businesses suffering, people out of work--I could go on and on.

Please don't do this now. You do not have my support and I dare say many San Franciscans will not be behind this pay increase at this time.

This increase will cost $250 million. With 175,000 individuals filing for unemployment since March, a city budget deficit of $1.5 billion, small businesses closing, many residents leaving and large companies relocating, one can only wonder why 37,000 city employees should receive an increase of salary.

SF needs to figure out how to live within its decreasing means, and how to fix its problems in an effective efficient manner. We all live within budgets and within our means. Why can't the city?

Dear SF Leadership,

I am a 3rd generation San Franciscan and honestly am bewildered by what the city has become. Like an abandoned city where shops are forced to close, and many salons have gone out of business because of COVID policies. Other cities have treated their citizens like adults and have been more open for business with masks required. No one is abandoning Los Angeles as they are more lenient. Many places I frequent are now out of business. My facialist is too. Even now, she can not open as you can not do a facial on someone who is wearing a mask. A proposed salary increase at the tune of $250 million with the level of debt we are in, with unemployment being what it is tells me that this pay raise is truly coming at the wrong time. Please consider putting this off 2 years.

On a further note, I want to say that you all need to dig deep and stop marching to the party line. Nancy Pelosi, while a great lady in so many ways, has embarrassed our city and has made all of our leadership appear like “Do as I say, not as I do.”

I do not care what party she is from. I do not care that she was “set up.” She knew right from wrong. She is to lead by example. It brings to mind the famous book by George Orwell - Animal Farm.

It was against the law for animals to sleep in beds. Then suddenly the pigs are sleeping in beds and of course, bending the rules for themselves. Couldn't she wash and blow dry her hair herself, like the rest of us? She looks like a pig and to many people, the leadership of San Francisco is all in her pen. We must pull it together. This is not Fox news. Even my liberal friends in Europe are shaking their heads.

The homeless: I decided to lose a big amount of weight for my health years ago. I did it by walking the city streets for 2 hours a day. My route took me from Pac Heights through the Tenderloin. During those 5 years of walking 6 days a week, I not only changed my body but also my mind. I spoke to so many people living on the street. The truth is that while there are people down and out, the biggest problem we have is people on drugs and people with mental illness, sometimes because of drugs and sometimes just mental illness. Throwing money at the homeless issue, unless done with focus, will not solve the problem. If Ronald Reagan shut the mental facilities and everyone blames him, and we know now it was wrong, then open them up. Put our dollars into drug treatment and mental health. Our city is a very dirty place now and we are losing our magic. That magic is what makes people want to live here and attracts tourists to come here for our beauty. No one can see our beauty through feces and needles on the sidewalk. It is killing tourism.

Crime, often caused by drug addicts in need of money for a fix by breaking into cars and the state of our city is need of some real law and order. Liberal friends are leaving the city, as we seem to be out of control.

Pre COVID, I was driving down Hyde Street in the TL towards Market and my son saw one junkie shooting up another junkie in the neck, in plain sight. This is insanity. What would you tell him, if you were in the car?

I know you are doing your best and we support and believe in you. We can still be socially liberal in the spirit of what makes this city historically great and still support law and order.

Best,

Elise

With the insane budget deficit, the number of unemployed residents and the current physical condition of the city (read: homelessness, litter, filth) this proposed salary increase is laughable.

I am writing to oppose any salary increase for City Employees at this time.

They are very well paid.

You need to prioritize our budget by using funds to hire more police to better protect our City and to hire workers who will solve the homeless problem by relocating the homeless to a humane site where land is available, outside of San Francisco, as the City of San Antonio has done so successfully.

Now is not the time to be raising salaries of City Employees. I was a state employee and went without pay raises and was furloughed when the state financial situation required it.

City employees are lucky to have jobs right now. Many city residents are not so lucky.

There are so many things that are putting a strain on the city government right now. These raises should be postponed.

Mayor Breed and Board of Supervisors,

I read with disbelief that the City is considering pay raises for thousands of City workers. Consider that 175,000 San Franciscans filed for unemployment yet not a single city worker has been laid off. Let that sink in. This makes a mockery of the, "we are all in this together" trope. Mayor Breed made that exact statement in July on CNN, "I want to be clear, we are living in COVID for the next, you know, 12 to 18 months and we are really all in this together... We can't have governors, mayors, even our President, making different decisions because we are all impacted by bad choices."

The bad choice would be continuing to drive the City into the ground by poor financial management. Our Mayor is the highest paid mayor in the nation yet seems incapable of making tough human resource decisions yet expects salons, gyms and restaurants to basically fold. I guess getting paid $500k plus a year to hand out masks in Dolores park is more important than protecting the fiscal stability of this once great city.

Vote no for raises for city workers.

While I'm not following news that closely, a friend sent me the following:

On Tuesday, Sept 15th the Board of Supervisors will discuss and vote to approve a salary increase for all city employees, that will cost the city $250 million. With 175,000 individuals filing for unemployment since March, a city budget deficit of $1.5 billion, small businesses closing, many residents leaving and large companies relocating, one can only wonder why city employees should receive an increase of salary.

The BOS budget includes millions in raises for city employees and not a single dollar in the budget for small business relief. Sounds like officials are looking out for themselves and have forgotten "the people."

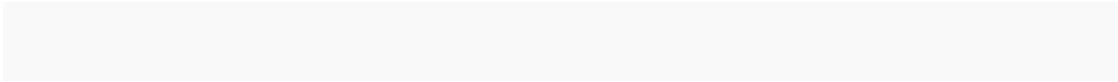

Notably, some of those most deserving of a raise, our first responders, the fire and police departments should be praised as they have agreed to defer raises - so the $250M doesn't even include them. The BOS budget committee, led by Sandra Fewer, cut fire and police overtime and police academy classes, ensuring that police numbers will dwindle, impacting the safety of our community.

Our understanding is the Board of Supervisors will approve this increase unless they hear from citizens objecting to increased spending when so many are losing their jobs and taking pay-cuts.

More concerning, the BOS will dip into SF reserves to do so (and then tax us to refill). Lowering reserves is irresponsible and will result in a lowering of our credit rating, causing increased costs across the board as it becomes more expensive for the city to borrow money. SOAR-D1 does not agree with this salary increase at this time. Your voice is extremely important and we need your help to oppose it.

At a time when millions are out of work, I myself have survived several layoffs at my company and took a 15% paycut, this is absurd.
Please consider voting no on this.

Thank you,
-Pat

Hello this is a vote against the pay raise planned for tomorrow for city employees-in a time of economic challenge I vote against the pay raise, we should all tighten our belts and I don't see why this is a necessary measure.

Thank you for your consideration, I know many in this city agree with me so I wanted to reach out and speak for many of us.

It is unbelievable that city works are planning to give themselves more money.

Our city officials are paid more than any other city in the country. Our populations is not close to NYC or LA.

While people are losing jobs and do not have enough to eat.

You have the tenacity to want to increase your salaries.

Shame on you. We are going to have a budget fall in the next years. You are thinking of given yourself raises

Just appalling.

With SF historic decline in economy, safety, employment, tax revenue, etc., it would be incomprehensible to see city employees receive a pay increase that would result in even further $250M budget increase.

SF should be a leader in fiscal responsibility and run on a balanced budget.

To be consistent, if we are allowing for 3% increases in salaries, then perhaps we should allow for 3% increase in rent this year for all housing.

Board of Supervisors BOS,

I work for the City and County of San Francisco, and I support the Budget & Appropriation Committee's proposed budget, which protects our vital public services and the dedicated workers who serve our residents each day in the face of a dangerous pandemic.

I believe that every Supervisor should support this proposed budget that was unanimously passed by the Budget & Appropriations Committee.

Ten of you have committed to standing with labor — we are now urging you to act on that commitment by voting YES to approve the proposed budget on September 22nd.

We've been on the frontline risking our lives day in, day out, to keep our communities safe and our vital services running. We also have families who are more at risk to COVID-19 exposure and depend on us for stability in these challenging times. We are asking the Board of Supervisors to treat city workers with respect and dignity.

Vote yes on September 22nd!

Board of Supervisors BOS,

Since March 10 of this year I have been a Disaster Service Worker for the City, providing essential epidemiology support. I am here for the long haul, doing the work needed to protect my community-- even when that means overtime and forgoing holidays. I am proud to serve the City and County of San Francisco, and I believe honoring existing contracts with City workers- and not reneging in a pandemic- it is the right thing to do. I support the Budget & Appropriation Committee's proposed budget, which protects our vital public services and the dedicated workers who serve our residents each day.

Hello,

I am deeply opposed to salary increases for City Employees, especially the BOS and the Mayor, Mayor's staff, and all those in Leadership and elected offices. Everyone is having a very hard year financially amongst many other hardships. This City has the horrible quality of life issues that have become all the more apparent as we have sheltered in place. We need our elected officials to show that they should be paid the highest salaries in the nation before they give themselves a raise and solve some of these problems. It is very disturbing to read how high many of the City employees are paid for jobs that their non-City employees would be paid for. We have pensions for these same City officials, including yourselves that aren't funded which will bankrupt this City. Meanwhile, many people are wondering why they are living here anymore while theft is up, petty crime is up and it is no longer pleasant to walk down their local neighborhood due to the homeless and drugged-out causing unpleasantness which is not being addressed.

I am particularly disturbed with the salaries of the Homeless departments while the problems have only increased. This is the City's #1 problem. I hear no good solutions to this from any elected officials. You should all join Nextdoor. Your constituents ("or those who WILL vote you" out in November) are fed up.

So, my advice is to not be short-sighted. I don't know anyone who thinks San Francisco is in good shape today. If you give yourself a raise in these times, you are proving yourself to be completely deaf to the times. Perhaps, I should say nothing as I will be voting for change in November. However, I care also about the financial interest of this City and us taxpayers. If anything you should be taking a pay cut. This would show understanding because SF is grossly overpaid over other government positions. SF is notoriously corrupt politically. Be a part of the change.

Thank you for your time,
Michelle

Board of Supervisors BOS,

If you want San Francisco to really stand for workers and livable wages, then you need to support the contracts that we negotiated. As more and more people leave the city because of affordability issues - the city must do what is right and pay their workforce.

I work for the City and County of San Francisco and live here too. I support the Budget & Appropriation Committee's proposed budget, which protects our vital public services and the dedicated workers who serve our residents each day in the face of a dangerous pandemic.

All,

I strongly oppose the salary increase for city employees for the following reasons:

- This increase will cost $250 million
- With 175,000 individuals filing for unemployment since March, a city budget deficit of $1.5 billion, small businesses closing, many residents leaving and large companies relocating, it is clear that increases should not be occurring
- No city employees have been laid off as a result of the pandemic and the city is the second largest employer in San Francisco. Those employees kept their jobs and kept getting paid, unlike the 175,000 that were let go and filing for unemployment
- It is my understanding that the city plans on using the “Emergency Funds” to pay for the salary increase. If this is correct, this is another reason why I strongly oppose the increase and a clear misuse of funds.

As well as what is mentioned above, some other statistics have come to light which make it even more frustrating that you are considering providing increases for City employees.

- On average, the city’s employees received pay and perks costing taxpayers $131,335 a piece.
- 18,749 city workers – received a compensation package exceeding $150,000 per year.
- 4,418 employees of the city’s law enforcement agencies cost taxpayers $831 million in compensation last year for an average cost of over $188,000 per person and you actually aren’t even allowing the police officers to do their job, working to have citizens uphold the law. You don’t provide the police the ability to arrest anyone with any consequences, you care more about the criminals than you do the taxpaying citizens of San Francisco, allow home break-ins, car break-ins, and harassment of citizens by criminals.
- Public Works – Cases of human waste on San Francisco streets spiked to 31,000 in 2019 – an all-time high. The agency in charge of cleaning up the mess has a quarter-billion-dollar budget ($224 million). Public works employs a staff of 1,790, including truck drivers ($218,495), arborists ($206,107), and general laborers ($188,975). Team members on the self-styled “poop patrol” cost us, the taxpayers up to $184,000 each.
- 31 staffers in Mayor Breeds office have total comp exceeding $200,000 annually and Mayor Breed is the highest paid Mayor in the country.

During this time of the pandemic when so many others are suffering and lost their jobs, we have a huge budget deficit already and we are seeing a consistent decline of the quality of life in our city with significant mismanagement of funds and resources, this is not the time to provide pay increases to the city employees. I strongly oppose.

Respectfully,

Peter Elden

Subject: Oppose Salary Increase For City Employees
Date: Wednesday, September 16, 2020 12:10:20 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

I strongly oppose the salary increase for city employees for the following reasons:

- This increase will cost $250 million
- With 175,000 individuals filing for unemployment since March, a city budget deficit of $1.5 billion, small businesses closing, many residents leaving and large companies relocating, it is clear that increases should not be occurring
- No city employees have been laid off as a result of the pandemic and the city is the second largest employer in San Francisco. Those employees kept their jobs and kept getting paid, unlike the 175,000 that were let go and filing for unemployment
- It is my understanding that the city plans on using the “Emergency Funds” to pay for the salary increase. If this is correct, this is another reason why I strongly oppose the increase and a clear misuse of funds.

As well as what is mentioned above, some other statistics have come to light which make it even more frustrating that you are considering providing increases for City employees.

- On average, the city’s employees received pay and perks costing taxpayers $131,335 a piece.
- 18,749 city workers – received a compensation package exceeding $150,000 per year.
- 4,418 employees of the city’s law enforcement agencies cost taxpayers $831 million in compensation last year for an average cost of over $188,000 per person and you actually aren’t even allowing the police officers to do their job, working to have citizens uphold the law. You don’t provide the police the ability to arrest anyone with any consequences, you care more about the criminals than you do the taxpaying citizens of San Francisco, allow home break-ins, car break-ins, and harassment of citizens by criminals.
- Public Works – Cases of human waste on San Francisco streets spiked to 31,000 in 2019 – an all-time high. The agency in charge of cleaning up the mess has a quarter-billion-dollar budget ($224 million). Public works employs a staff of 1,790, including truck drivers ($218,495), arborists ($206,107), and general laborers ($188,975). Team members on the self-styled “poop patrol” cost us, the taxpayers up to $184,000 each.
- 31 staffers in Mayor Breed’s office have total comp exceeding $200,000 annually and Mayor Breed is the highest paid Mayor in the country.

During this time of the pandemic when so many others are suffering and lost their jobs, we have a huge budget deficit already and we are seeing a consistent decline of the quality of life in our city with significant mismanagement of funds and resources, this is not the time to provide pay increases to the city employees. I strongly oppose.

Respectfully,

Board of Supervisors BOS,

I work for the City and County of San Francisco, and I support the Budget & Appropriation Committee's proposed budget, which protects our vital public services and the dedicated workers who serve our residents each day in the face of a dangerous pandemic.

I believe that every Supervisor should support this proposed budget that was unanimously passed by the Budget & Appropriations Committee.

Ten of you have committed to standing with labor — we are now urging you to act on that commitment by voting YES to approve the proposed budget on September 22nd.

We've been on the frontline risking our lives day in, day out, to keep our communities safe and our vital services running. We also have families who are more at risk to COVID-19 exposure and depend on us for stability in these challenging times. We are asking the Board of Supervisors to treat city workers with respect and dignity.

Vote yes on September 22nd!

Board of Supervisors BOS,

I believe that every Supervisor should support this proposed budget that was unanimously passed by the Budget & Appropriations Committee.

We've continually been on the frontline risking our lives day in, day out, to keep our communities safe and our vital services running. This is particularly true as one of your Transit Service Planners who has been been tirelessly committing evenings and weekends to support my fellow San Franciscan neighbors, and help fill in for colleagues that live outside of San Francisco. As a member of a vulnerable population, I feel even more justified in asking that you vote for what is fair. My continued exposure is not only worrisome to me, but to my family, who I love dearly. We are asking the Board of Supervisors to treat city workers with respect and dignity.

Board of Supervisors BOS,

I work for the City and County of San Francisco, and I support the Budget & Appropriation Committee's proposed budget, which protects our vital public services and the dedicated workers who serve our residents each day in the face of a dangerous pandemic.

I believe that every Supervisor should support this proposed budget that was unanimously passed by the Budget & Appropriations Committee.

Ten of you have committed to standing with labor — we are now urging you to act on that commitment by voting YES to approve the proposed budget on September 22nd.

We've been on the frontline risking our lives day in, day out, to keep our communities safe and our vital services running. We also have families who are more at risk to COVID-19 exposure and depend on us for stability in these challenging times. We are asking the Board of Supervisors to treat city workers with respect and dignity.

Vote yes on September 22nd!

I write to you as an employee of the San Francisco Public Library, as a Disaster Service Worker previously deployed as a site monitor at one of the shelter-in-place hotels in the city, who is now using her trilingual skills as a contact tracer, reaching out to our Latino residents, one of the communities most impacted by this pandemic.

Vote yes on September 22nd and show your continued support for the work of your city workers!

San Francisco cannot praise frontline workers as essential one moment and then treat us like we are expendable in the next.

But the budget submitted by the Mayor's office on July 21 doesn't ensure that we'll be able to address the disproportionate impact of COVID-19 on communities of color. It instead attempts to balance the budget on the backs of the public workers risking their lives to provide disaster services.

There is another path forward. The City has over $1 billion in reserves, thousands of vacancies yet to be frozen, and federal aid on the way. As the Board of Supervisors deliberates on the next budget, we urge you to consider three steps that avoids the crushing, harmful austerity that our community cannot endure:

- 1.) Tap into the city's rainy day and reserve funds.
- 2.) Curtail expensive contracting- and granting-out.
- 3.) Support initiatives to make sure billionaires and wealthy corporations pay their fair share to fund public services.

City workers, in addition to risking our lives every day on the frontlines of COVID-19, have already given back tens of millions in scheduled raises. We are doing more with less each and every day as a result of over $560 million in annualized vacant budget positions.

San Francisco is reeling from the impacts of a global pandemic, systemic racism, and an economy that favors the wealthy. We need the Board of Supervisors to take these necessary steps to protect every resident of San Francisco, the vital public services we all benefit from, and the dedicated workers who serve our residents each day in the face of a dangerous pandemic.

Yours sincerely,

Prasanthi
