Power Scooter Share Pilot Program

- Scoot and Skip were selected to pilot the power scooter program in San Francisco.
- There are questions whether Scott actually has a program to serve low-income residents. Allegedly they did not submit a plan.
- The selected companies have not completely translated their Apps into Spanish and Chinese. The application requires that selected companies provide services translated into these languages.
- The companies selected do not offer cash payment for services, omitting many low income residents.
- What are the processes to select these companies?
- How was the rubric designed?
- Can we see a side-by-side comparison of the RFP scoring?
