Dear Vijay,

Thank you for your generous sponsorship of SF Environment's new EcoCenter.

As the face of SF Environment, this 1000ft² environmental showcase is the first area visitors enter after stepping off the elevator into our new site at 1455 Market.

Our current EcoCenter at 11 Grove Street is truly the City's environmental portal. It serves as a community meeting space for the residential, commercial and municipal sectors and annually receives more than 7000 visitors. SF Environment hosts performing arts events, films, brown bags, quarterly art installations and openings, and international business and policy making delegations several times a month. We expect the new EcoCenter to be just as busy!

The new EcoCenter will feature information about emerging environmental trends and technologies. It will have LED computer displays providing access to SF Environment's program resources and real-time data on SF Environment's green office performance.

The first art installation will feature the work of David Gottfried. While many know him as the founder of the US Green Building Council, he is also an accomplished painter. We are very proud the EcoCenter will host his first public show.

Thank you again for supporting our work.

Sincerely,

Melanie Nutter
Director
