11
12 WHEREAS, On July 3, 2023, the San Francisco Police Department (SFPD) responded
13 to a report of an aggravated assault that occurred in the area around 3rd Street and Egbert
14 Avenue where officers found a 63-year-old female victim, Yanfang Wu, lying on the ground
15 with life-threatening injuries, who later succumbed to those injuries in the hospital on July 7, 16 2023; and

17 WHEREAS, On July 6, 2023, the SFPD issued a statement reporting that SFPD’s
18 Homicide Detail Unit was leading an investigation, including an Assistant District Attorney 19 (ADA), into Mrs. Wu’s death as a potential homicide, after receiving witness accounts that an 20 unknown female suspect had pushed Mrs. Wu to the ground; and

21 WHEREAS, Per standard homicide investigation procedure, the SFPD Homicide Detail 22 Unit assigned to the case interviewed witnesses, reviewed video footage of the incident, and 23 interviewed a detained person of interest, but ultimately determined, with the participation of 24 the On Call Homicide ADA, not to pursue an arrest beyond the initial detention or file charges;
25 and

1           WHEREAS, On August 21, 2023, the SFPD released a press statement deeming the 2 case closed after determining in consultation with the District Attorney’s Office that Mrs. Wu’s 3 death was actually an “accidental death”; and

4           WHEREAS, Given the “accidental death” determination, it is unclear what steps were 5 taken by the Homicide Detail Unit and assigned ADA to ensure that the suspect was not 6 released directly back into the population without a thorough psychological and health 7 evaluation and appropriate treatment; and

8           WHEREAS, Because Mrs. Wu’s death was ruled as an “accidental death”, her husband 9 was not eligible for the county-funded victim services that are currently housed within the 10 District Attorney’s Office, and it is not clear what resources, if any, were actually offered and 11 afforded him before he ultimately made the decision to move back to China after the loss of 12 his wife; and

13           WHEREAS, The percipient witness in this case was an elderly monolingual Cantonese
14 speaker, and it is not clear that a Cantonese-fluent (versus Cantonese-certified) interviewer 15 was present and conducted the interview of the percipient witness; and

16           WHEREAS, On March 8, 2024, the District Attorney’s Office announced that Thea
17 Hopkins is being charged in connection to an attack on a 71-year-old monolingual Cantonese-18 speaking woman, also in the Bayview neighborhood; and

19           WHEREAS, A media outlet later revealed that Ms. Hopkins was also the same person 20 of interest that the SFPD detained and then released after Mrs. Yanfang Wu was pushed and 21 killed in July 2023, after the Homicide Detail Unit and ADA determined it an “accidental 22 death;” and

23           WHEREAS, A diversity of community-based organizations have raised awareness of 24 this case and are circulating petitions with demands that include the release of the 25 investigation details of Mrs. Wu’s death, which is of particularly urgent interest for the AAPI

1 communities in the wake of a spike in anti-Asian hate crimes during the COVID-19 pandemic;
2 now, therefore, be it

18 accounts, and video information related to the death of Yanfang Wu on July 3, 2023, that 19 formed the factual basis to determine the incident an "accidental death", as well as an 20 accounting of what culturally-competent and in-language victims' support resources, if any, 21 were offered to Mrs. Wu's surviving family on behalf of the City and what preventative steps 22 were taken to ensure the released suspect was evaluated and provided treatment, or other 23 services.
