Statement of Qualifications

Ellen Joslin Johnck, RPA is a sole proprietor firm providing project consultant services for environmental and cultural resources planning, permitting and management. These services also include government and community relations and political, legislative and funding strategies. Prior to establishing her business in 2009, Ellen was the founding executive director of the Bay Planning Coalition (1983-2011) and served the dual roles as chief of staff and also consultant to the Coalition's 200 S. F. Bay business and industry members' for permitting in-water and landside projects. (see attached list)

Her project consulting experience are in the areas of marine and shoreside construction; dredging and dredged material beneficial reuse; air and water quality compliance; flood protection and climate change; fish and wildlife habitat restoration; water and shoreside recreation facilities', e.g. marinas, parks and trails; and environmental stewardship.

With the award of a Master's Degree in Cultural Resources Management (CRM) in 2008, Ellen's consulting practice also includes cultural resources management archaeology covering historic resources' surveys, archaeological site and materials recording, monitoring, documentation, and analysis; cultural landscape reports and landscape treatments.

Ellen's work has also involved the creation of stakeholder organizations to achieve collaboration and partnerships and a consensus-based approach for needed infrastructure projects linked to environmental improvements.

Over the course of her career, Ellen has written new and shaped existing, California and federal environmental laws and policy related to Bay fill; public access, water and air quality; dredging and dredged material disposal and beneficial reuse, parks and recreation, fish and wildlife habitat restoration and climate change.

Ellen Joslin Johnck, RPA

Environmental and Cultural Resources Permitting, Planning and Management

Port of Richmond (1995-2010): Assisted with planning, funding and permitting for parking lot construction using dredged sediment; assisted with resolution of S. F. Bay Trail issues among port tenants and the GGNRA.

Bair Island Restoration/Port of Redwood City (2005-present):

Initiated a partnership between the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to achieve the Port of Redwood City's harbor annual federal maintenance dredging and the beneficial reuse of dredged material as a joint project with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) 1,400-acre Bair Island habitat restoration and public access plan in the Don Edwards National Wildlife Refuge. I wrote a Memorandum of Understanding identifying Bair Island restoration project goals for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and USFWS which has formed the basis for the continuing partnership. The strategic combination of elements including the MOA along with the convening of the public-private entity stakeholder group resulted in the landmark approval of over $6M in the federal Energy and Water Appropriations for 2010, for the Port of Redwood City Harbor Project. The joint project involves planning and negotiation around such issues as public access, a major sewer pipeline, the adjacent general aviation airport in addition to navigation and habitat restoration. I convened and continue to facilitate the multi-public sector-private sector agency stakeholder group, the Bair Island Task Force today.

Chevron Refinery's Castro Cove Remediation Project, Richmond, Ca (1990-2010): assisted Chevron with advocacy and permit strategy for cleanup plan and wetland creation at the S. F. Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Montezuma Slough wetland restoration project (1999-present), Solano County: Ellen assisted property owner, Jim Levine, as an advisor with local, state and federal agency permitting and funding advocacy for this 1,800-acre, dredged material beneficial reuse site. The site has a 20mcy capacity. About 3mcy has been placed at the site, primarily from the Port of Oakland.

Alameda Marina Village Master Plan, Alameda, and Ca (1972-1982: assisted with the master planning and master plan permit strategy.

Re: Historic Preservation Commission Support Letter for Ellen Johnck

I highly recommend the appointment of Ellen Johnck for Seat 5 to the Historic Preservation Commission. Ellen's background clearly meets the criteria for the preservation professional position in land use and community planning with specialized training in historic preservation.

As a San Francisco resident since 1967, Ellen Johnck has over 45-years of professional work and leadership in the land use planning and environmental public policy arena locally, as well as statewide and nationwide. She has been involved in the writing and implementation of legislation which established the preeminent environmental institutions of today, such as BCDC, California Coastal Commission, state and regional water boards, state and federal EPA, and local and state parks, such as the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

One of Ellen's hallmarks throughout her career is her ability to balance varying interests to achieve consensus on major projects and programs. This skill was honed in her positions ranging from legislative/office manager for a San Francisco state legislator to her 12-year appointment and chairmanship, of the California Coastal Commission's north central region, and service as founding Executive Director of the Bay Planning Coalition for the past 28 years.

Her planning and policy experience is enhanced by her training in historic preservation, thus making her a unique and valuable asset to the Commission, and greater community of San Francisco. Ellen's historic preservation training is through her M.A. degree in Cultural Resources Management. Based on her master's thesis, Ellen was invited to develop and now teaches a new interdisciplinary course at the University of California at Berkeley's Extension Department of Landscape Architecture, "The Cultural Landscape: Preservation and Sustainable Practice."

Of value to the workforce in the port city of San Francisco is Ellen's leadership as co-chair of the Port's Maritime Commerce Advisory Committee. She has a depth of knowledge of the maritime and related industries and its workers that gave rise to San Francisco's prominence as an international city based on trade.

Ellen's background and philosophy will be an asset to the preservation of this City's resources and build greater public awareness of the value of the rich diversity of the City's cultural history reflected in its buildings, sites, landscapes, and community.

Thank you for your consideration of our support for Ellen Johnck's appointment to the HPC.

Sincerely,

RE: Appointment of Ellen Joslin Johnck to Historic Preservation Commission

Dear Supervisors:

I have known Ellen Johnck professionally for twenty years. I am delighted to provide her with my highest recommendation for Seat 5 on the Historic Preservation Commission.

As a member of the Society of Architectural Historians and a thirty-year teacher of the history of architecture and urban design, I know Ellen will be an excellent Historic Preservation Commissioner. Her education and background clearly meets the criteria for the preservation professional position in land use and community planning with specialized training in historic preservation.

Not only is she very experienced in planning and public policy, but she is also trained in historic preservation, thus making her a unique and valuable asset to the Commission, and greater community of San Francisco. She has an M.A. degree in Cultural Resources Management. She also teaches a new interdisciplinary course at the excellent University of California at Berkeley's Extension Department of Landscape Architecture, "The Cultural Landscape: Preservation and Sustainable Practice."

Ellen's background and philosophy will be an asset to the preservation of this City's resources and build greater public awareness of the value of the rich diversity of the City's cultural history reflected in its buildings, sites, landscapes, and community.

As founding Executive Director of the Bay Planning Coalition for the past 28 years, Ellen aptly demonstrated her ability to balance varying interests to achieve consensus on major projects and programs. This skill was honed in her other positions ranging from legislative/office manager for a San Francisco state legislator to her 12-year appointment and chairmanship of the California Coastal Commission's north central region.

As the former President and Executive Director of SPUR, I have seen her bring these values to a variety of difficult public policy questions, with fairness, public-spiritedness, grace and aplomb.

She has been involved in the writing and implementation of legislation which established the preeminent environmental institutions of today, such as BCDC, California Coastal Commission, state and regional water boards, state and federal EPA, and local and state parks, such as the Golden Gate National Recreation Area. She has been co-chair of the Port's Maritime Commerce Advisory Committee.

She is committed, hard working, respectful, and highly ethical. I highly recommend Ellen Johnck for appointment to the HPC. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Jim Chappell
