20 Section 1. Environmental and Land Use Findings

21 (a) On November 17, 2022, the Planning Commission, in Motion M-21206 certified the
22 Final Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the 2022 Housing Element of the San Francisco
23 General Plan (Housing Element EIR), as in compliance with the California Environmental
24 Quality Act (CEQA) (California Public Resources Code Section 21000 et seq), the CEQA
25 Guidelines (14 Cal. Code Regs. Section 15000 et seq.), and Chapter 31 of the San Francisco
Administrative Code. Copies of the Planning Commission Motion M-21206 and Housing
Element EIR are on file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File No. 230001.

(b) On December 15, 2022, at a duly noticed public hearing, the Planning Commission

1 adopted findings under CEQA regarding the 2022 Housing Element’s environmental impacts,
2 the disposition of mitigation measures, and project alternatives, as well as a statement of
3 overriding considerations (CEQA Findings) and adopted a mitigation monitoring reporting
4 program (MMRP), by Resolution 21220.

5 (c) The Planning Commission then adopted the proposed 2022 Housing Element in
6 Resolution 21221, finding in accordance with Planning Code Section 340 that the public
7 necessity, convenience, and general welfare required the proposed amendments to the
8 General Plan.

9 (d) On January 31, 2023, in Ordinance 010-23, the Board of Supervisors, adopted the
10 2022 Housing Element. That ordinance confirmed the certification of the Housing Element
11 EIR and made certain environmental findings, including adoption of the MMRP and a
12 Statement of Overriding Considerations.

13 (e). On September 3, 2025, the Planning Department published an addendum to the 14 Housing Element EIR, which concluded that no supplemental or subsequent environmental
15 review is required for the Family Housing Rezoning Program, because the environmental 16 impacts of these amendments were adequately identified and analyzed under CEQA in the
17 Housing Element EIR, and the proposed amendments would not result in any new or more
18 severe environmental impacts than were identified previously.

19 (f) The Board of Supervisors has reviewed and considered the Housing Element EIR
20 and the Addendum, and concurs with the Planning Department’s analysis and conclusions,
21 finding that the addendum adequately identified and analyzed the environmental impacts of
22 the Family Housing Rezoning Program, and that no additional environmental review is 23 required under CEQA Section 21166 and CEQA Guideline Sections 15162-15164 for the 24 following reasons:

25 (1) the Family Housing Rezoning Program would not involve new significant

1 environmental effects or a substantial increase in the severity of significant effects previously
2 identified in the Housing Element EIR;

3 (2) no substantial changes have occurred that would require major revisions to
4 the Final EIR due to the involvement of new environmental effects or a substantial increase in
5 the severity of effects identified in the Housing Element EIR; and

6 (3) no new information of substantial importance has become available which
7 would indicate that (i) the Family Housing Rezoning Program will have significant effects not
8 discussed in the Final EIR; (ii) significant environmental effects will be substantially more
9 severe; (iii) mitigation measure or alternatives found not feasible that would reduce one or 10 more significant effects have become feasible, or (iv) mitigation measures or alternatives that
11 are considerably different from those in the Housing Element EIR would substantially reduce 12 one or more significant effects on the environment. The Addendum is on file with the Clerk of
13 the Board of Supervisors in File No. 250701.

14 (g) The Planning Department has determined that the amendments to the Local
15 Coastal Program are exempt from CEQA review under Public Resources Code Sections
16 21080.5 and 21080.9, and CEQA Guidelines Section 15265. Said determination is on file with
17 the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File No. 250701. The Board affirms this
18 determination and incorporates the determination by reference.

19 (h) On September 11, 2025, the Planning Commission, in Resolution No. 21810,
20 adopted findings that the actions contemplated in this ordinance are consistent, on balance,
21 with the City's General Plan and eight priority policies of Planning Code Section 101.1. The
22 Board adopts these findings as its own. A copy of said Resolution is on file with the Clerk of 23 the Board of Supervisors in File No. 250701, and is incorporated herein by reference.

24 (i) Pursuant to Planning Code Section 302, this Board finds that these Planning Code
25 amendments will serve the public necessity, convenience, and welfare for the reasons set

1 forth in Planning Commission Resolution No. 21810, and the Board adopts such reasons as
2 its own. A copy of said resolution is on file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File
3 No. 250701 and is incorporated herein by reference.

4
5 Section 2. Additional Findings.

6 (a) This ordinance shall be known as the San Francisco Family Zoning Plan.

7 (b) California faces a severe crisis of housing affordability and availability, which has
8 prompted the Legislature to declare, in Section 65589.5 of the Government Code, that
9 “California has a housing supply and affordability crisis of historic proportions. The
10 consequences of failing to effectively and aggressively confront this crisis are hurting millions
11 of Californians, robbing future generations of a chance to call California home, stifling
12 economic opportunities for workers and businesses, worsening poverty and homelessness,
13 and undermining the state’s environmental and climate objectives.”

14 (c) Numerous factors have contributed to the high cost of housing in most of 15 California’s coastal cities and suburbs, including the dwindling supply and high cost of 16 available land, and zoning regulations that restrict residential density, limit efficient land use,
17 and create and reinforce inequitable patterns of discrimination and segregation.

18 (d) This crisis of housing affordability and availability is particularly severe in San 19 Francisco. The City has seen dramatic increases in both rent prices and home sale prices
20 over recent years.

21 (e) Limits on residential density can also contribute to the housing crisis by restricting
22 the number of units per lot. The origins of density limits in San Francisco date back to the
23 Cubic Air Ordinance, an 1870 anti-Chinese ordinance requiring 500 cubic feet of space for
24 every person residing in a lodging. The City’s first zoning law was passed in 1921 and largely
25 reproduced the City’s existing development pattern, limiting density in areas of the City that

1 were already low-density. In the 1960s, the City underwent a rezoning process, though the
2 existing development patterns were largely maintained, with the exception of downtown and
3 neighborhoods significantly impacted by City planning redevelopment plans.

4 (f) Starting in 1980, the Board of Supervisors, the Planning Commission, and the
5 Planning Department responded to community concerns about neighborhood character by
6 establishing and refining a set of new districts covering many of the City's neighborhood
7 commercial streets. These districts imposed highly-detailed controls tailored to the specific
8 character of each neighborhood. The 1987 Neighborhood Commercial Districts were based 9 on the then-relatively new idea that the City should be more selective in its pursuit of
10 economic growth. All of these Neighborhood Commercial District plans included numerical
11 density limits for residential development.

12 (g) By removing these numerical density limits from Neighborhood Commercial
13 Districts and replacing them with form-based density, which allows the density to be
14 determined by the buildable area of a building, this ordinance aims to increase housing supply
15 and reduce the factors that have contributed to the lack of housing in San Francisco.

16 (h) Under California Housing Element law, San Francisco must identify sites to 17 accommodate its Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) goal of 82,069 new units in the 18 next eight years. Because San Francisco does not currently have sufficient capacity to
19 accommodate the RHNA goals, it must rezone sites to meet these goals, and must do so by
20 January 31, 2026. Additional capacity will be created through amendments to the Planning
21 Code and Zoning Maps. This ordinance implements commitments made in the City's 2022
22 Housing Element Update. The ordinance modifies zoning policies primarily in the well-
23 resourced neighborhoods, which are sometimes referred to as Housing Opportunity Areas,
24 are neighborhoods or areas with existing infrastructure, transit, businesses, well-performing
25 public schools and lower levels of environmental pollution. The ordinance also aims to

1 increase capacity for multi-family housing. The ordinance satisfies the City’s obligation to
2 rezone and address the RHNA shortfall of 36,200 housing units.

3 (i) This ordinance, in Section 3, creates the Housing Choice-San Francisco (HC-SF)
4 program which includes a local residential bonus program (Local Program), and a Housing
5 Sustainability District (HSD). The bonus program is similar to state law programs (such as the
6 State Density Bonus law), in that it allows additional residential development opportunities in
7 certain circumstances. The HC-SF Program offers certain benefits compared to State Density
8 Bonus law projects, however, by including more diverse affordable housing types and more
9 predictable urban form.

10 (j) State law allows local jurisdictions to create HSDs to encourage housing production
11 on infill sites near public transportation. Housing projects that are compliant with applicable
12 general plan and zoning standards are eligible for streamlined approval by the City. There
13 must be an approved Environmental Impact Report (EIR) in the area to establish an HSD, and
14 HSD projects must adopt and implement any applicable mitigation measures. The City
15 certified the 2022 Housing Element Update EIR on December 15, 2022. As of May 2025, the
16 City has one HSD, the Central SoMa Housing Sustainability District, codified in Planning Code
17 343. This ordinance creates the Housing Choice-San Francisco (HC-SF) HSD that would
18 work in conjunction with the HC-SF Program described above.

19 (k) This ordinance, in Section 4, makes changes to San Francisco’s height and bulk
20 requirements in the well-resourced neighborhoods, located primarily on the north and west
21 sides of the City, which will create capacity to meet the City’s RHNA obligation. The
22 ordinance also creates a new R-4 Height and Bulk District, which will provide for form-based
23 density, and increased height limits for projects using the HC-SF Program. The HC-SF HSD,
24 mentioned above, would apply within the boundaries of the R-4 Height and Bulk District,
25 except that it would not apply to any parcels zoned as Residential House (RH), or Residential

1 Mixed (RM).

2 (l) This ordinance, in Section 5, modifies the Planning Code's wind reduction
3 obligations by creating a new objective standard for projects greater than 85 feet in the C-3,
4 Van Ness SUD, Folsom and Main Residential/Commercial SUD, Downtown Residential, and
5 Central SoMa SUD.

6 (m) This ordinance, in Section 6, makes conforming changes to the RH (Residential,
7 House), RM (Residential, Mixed), and RC (Residential-Commercial) Districts and Zoning
8 Tables. The changes implement the changes reflected in other parts of this ordinance.

9 (n) This ordinance, in Section 7, makes changes to the Residential Transit Oriented
10 (RTO) zoning districts. RTO districts are composed of multi-family moderate-density areas,
11 primarily areas that are well served within short walking distance of transit and neighborhood
12 commercial areas. The Planning Code currently identifies two types of RTO zoning districts:
13 RTO and RTO-M (Mission) districts. This ordinance creates a third type of RTO district: RTO-
14 C (Commercial), which is an RTO district where a greater number of ground floor non-
15 residential uses are permitted to provide goods and services to residents and visitors,
16 especially adjacent to existing NC districts and along transit corridors, though ground floor
17 commercial uses are not required. In addition, the ordinance refers to the three types of RTO
18 zoning districts individually as RTO-1, RTO-M, and RTO-C, and collectively, as RTO zoning
19 districts.

20 (o) This ordinance, in Section 8, makes changes to implement the Metropolitan
21 Transportation Commission's (MTC) Transit-Oriented Communities (TOC) Policy, and
22 Housing Element law. The MTC endorsed the TOC Policy in MTC Resolution 4530 in
23 September 2022, to support the region's transit investments by creating communities around
24 transit stations and along transit corridors that not only enable transit ridership, but also are
25 places where Bay Area residents of all abilities, income levels, and racial and ethnic

1 backgrounds can live, work, and access services. The TOC Policy applies to the half-mile
2 area around existing and planned fixed-guideway transit stops and stations (i.e., regional rail,
3 commuter rail, light-rail transit, bus rapid transit, and ferries). MTC has indicated that
4 subsequent One Bay Area Grant (OBAG) funding cycles will consider prioritizing investments
5 in transit station areas that are subject to and compliant with the TOC Policy.

6 (p) The TOC Policy requirements consist of four elements: (1) minimum required and
7 allowed residential and/or commercial office densities for new development; (2) policies
8 focused on housing production, preservation and protection, and commercial anti-
9 displacement and stabilization policies; (3) parking management; and (4) transit station
10 access and circulation.

11 (q) Consistent with the TOC Policy, Planning Code Section 155.2 already requires one
12 secure bike parking spot per Dwelling Unit, and one secure bike parking spot per 5,000
13 square feet of Occupied Floor Area for Office uses. This ordinance also creates minimum
14 required and allowed residential densities and commercial development intensities for areas
15 subject to the TOC Policy, and Housing Element law. Housing Element law (Government
16 Code Section 65583.2(c) and (h)) requires cities to identify sites that were previously identified
17 as appropriate for housing in prior Housing Element cycles, and sites that are appropriate to 18 accommodate 100% of the City's allocation of lower-income housing. Lists of those sites are
19 on file with the Clerk of the Board in File No. 250701. It also modifies the parking
20 requirements be consistent with the TOC Policy.

21 (r) The ordinance also specifies that projects proposing the demolition, merger, or
22 reduction in number of Dwelling Units are subject to a maximum Dwelling Unit size of 4,000
23 square feet of Gross Floor Area, but allows projects to seek a conditional use authorization to 24 exceed this objective standard.

25 (s) This ordinance, in Section 9, makes changes to off-street parking and curb cut

1 requirements to clarify and simplify the requirements.

2 (t) This ordinance, in Section 10, creates the San Francisco Municipal Transportation
3 Agency (SFMTA) Non-Contiguous Sites Special Use District (SUD) consistent with the
4 SFMTA's Joint Development Program, approved by the SFMTA's Board of Directors on
5 February 4, 2025 in Resolution No. 250204-010. The SUD is comprised of parcels owned by
6 the SFMTA, most of which are currently used as parking lots. The SUD allows development
7 of market-rate and affordable housing consistent with each parcel's surrounding zoning
8 district, as well as other zoning modifications specific to the SUD.

9 (u) Increased residential development could result in displacement of existing
10 businesses. The City's Legacy Business program, in Administrative Code Section 2A.242,
11 offers certain benefits for qualifying businesses. This ordinance, in Section 11, makes
12 changes to the Planning Code that permit Displaced Businesses to relocate within the City
13 without having to obtain a conditional use authorization or pay development impact fees.

14 (v) This ordinance, in Section 12, includes miscellaneous definitional and other
15 changes that are appurtenant to the rezoning program.

16 (w) This ordinance, in Section 13, amends the Neighborhood Commercial District and
17 Mixed-Use District tables to conform to the amendments in Sections 3-12. Section 13 also
18 implements other changes contemplated in the Housing Element, such as eliminating numeric
19 density controls in zoning districts that are located in well-resourced areas.

20 (x) This ordinance, In Section 14, amends the Business and Tax Regulations Code to
21 include the new HC-HSD streamlining requirements.

22 (y) The Board of Supervisors finds that the Planning Code amendments in this
23 ordinance constitute amendments to the City's Local Coastal Program ("LCP"). The Board of 24 Supervisors finds that the LCP amendment conforms with the applicable provisions of the 25 Coastal Act of 1976, and that the amendments are consistent with and adequate to carry out

1 the provisions of the City’s certified LCP Land Use Plan—the Western Shoreline Area Plan.
2 The Board further finds that the amendments will be implemented in full conformance with the
3 Coastal Act’s provisions, and acknowledges that the amendments in the Western Shoreline
4 Area Plan are consistent with San Francisco’s Housing Element’s housing goals.

5 (z) The Board of Supervisors finds that promoting higher-density housing opportunities
6 in the Coastal Zone is consistent with the Coastal Act’s goal of providing “new affordable
7 housing opportunities for persons of low and moderate income in the coastal zone.” (Cal.
8 Pub. Resources Code, § 30604(g).) Further, providing these opportunities in the Coastal
9 Zone is consistent with the Housing Element’s goal of creating new housing in well-resourced
10 neighborhoods. To that end, this ordinance amends the Implementation Program of the City’s
11 certified LCP, including updating the use and development controls in the RH, RM, RTO-C,
12 NC-1, and NC-2 use districts that comprise the Coastal Zone. These amendments are
13 necessary to ensure housing opportunities in the Coastal Zone, and the City’s approval of 14 these amendments satisfies California Government Code Section 65583.

16 Section 3. Housing Choice – San Francisco Program. Articles 2 and 3 of the Planning
17 Code are hereby amended by adding Sections 206.10, 334, and 344, to read, as follows:

18 SEC. 206.10 HOUSING CHOICE-SAN FRANCISCO PROGRAM.

19 (a) Purpose. This Section 206.10 sets forth the Housing Choice-San Francisco Program
20 (HC-SF Program). The HC-SF Program provides additional residential development capacity,
21 additional options for complying with the Inclusionary Housing Ordinance, modifications to certain
22 Planning Code and design standards, and an administrative or discretionary review process for
23 eligible residential projects that comply with the program. Except as provided in this Section
24 206.10, all HC-SF projects shall comply with Article 4 of the Planning Code.

25 (b) Applicability. An HC-SF Project under this Section 206.10 shall be a project that

1 complies with all of the following requirements:

2 (1) consists of new construction, an addition to an existing structure, or a conversion of
3 an existing structure, and results in a net increase in the number of Dwelling Units or Group Housing
4 bedrooms;

5 (2) contains two or more Dwelling Units or Group Housing bedrooms. Accessory
6 Dwelling Units shall not count towards the minimum number of required Dwelling Units, but an HC-
7 SF Project may contain ADUs;

8 (3) is located on a Lot in the R-4 Height and Bulk District;

9 (4) does not demolish a building that is designated as a landmark under Article 10, is
10 listed as a contributor to an historic district in Article 10, is listed as a Significant or Contributory
11 Building under Article 11, is listed in the California Register of Historical Resources, or is listed on the 12 National Register of Historic Places;

13 (5) does not receive any density or development bonuses or relief from applicable
14 Planning Code standards in any other State or local law or program, including but not limited to
15 California Government Code Sections 65915 et seq., Government Code sections 65912.113(e),
16 65912.114(f)(1), 65912.123(b), (c), (d), (e), (i), (j)(1), and (j)(3) and 65912.124(f), and Sections
17 65852.28(b)(2), 65913.4.5, and 66499.41, as may be updated from time to time; and Planning Code
18 Section 124(f), Section 202.2(f), Sections 206.3 to 206.9, inclusive, Section 207(c ), Section 304, and
19 Section 328;

20 (6) complies with Objective Standards, except as otherwise modified by the HC-SF
21 Program in this Section 206.10, or through the modification process in Section 334;

22 (7) is a project in which at least two-thirds of the new or converted square footage is
23 designated for Residential Uses; or, a project with at least 50% new or converted square footage for
24 Residential Uses if the project converts an existing Non-Residential Use and does not expand that use
25 by more than 25%. Basements shall not count in the calculation of square footage. For additions to

1 existing structures or conversions of existing buildings, only the net new or converted space shall be
2 considered in the calculation of square footage; and,

3 (8) is not located in a Special Use District that implements a Development Agreement
4 adopted under California Government Code 65864 et seq and/or Administrative Code Chapter 56;
5 and

6 (9) is not located on a site containing more than two residential units where the
7 project would require the demolition of residential uses that are subject to the rent increase
8 limitations set forth in Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code; and

9 (10) does not demolish or convert any portion of a Hotel.

10 (c) Inclusionary Housing Ordinance Alternatives. HC-SF Projects of 10 or more units shall
11 comply with Section 415 et seq., and if applicable Section 419 et seq., except as allowed by this
12 subsection (c). Projects that elect the off-site alternative in Section 415.5(g)(1)(B) or the Land
13 Dedication Alternative in Section 419.5(a)(2) allowed in subsection (c)(2), shall provide the required
14 units within the R-4 Height and Bulk District, or within one-half mile of the project. In addition to the
15 alternatives set forth in Section 415.3(g), HC-SF Projects may satisfy the requirements of Section 415
16 et seq. by choosing one of the following options:

17 (1) if the project is a Rental Project with 24 or fewer units, including any additional
18 units allowed by this Section 206.10, a project sponsor shall subject all units in the project to the San 19 Francisco Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance (Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code) for 20 the Life of the Project; or

21 (2) applicants shall comply with the Land Dedication Alternative requirements of 22 Section 419.5(a)(2), regardless of project location.

23 (d) Modified Development Standards. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions found in the
24 Planning Code, including any provision in a Special Use District not implementing a Development
25 Agreement adopted under California Government Code 65864 et seq. and/or Administrative Code

1 Chapter 56, or in any adopted Design Standard, the following development standards apply to eligible
2 HC-SF Projects. Projects may also seek additional modifications under Section 334.

3 (1) Standards Applicable to All Projects: All HC-SF Projects shall receive the
4 following zoning modifications:

5 (A) Form-Based Residential Density. An HC-SF Project shall be subject to
6 Form-Based Density limits. Floor Area Ratio requirements or limitations shall not apply to the
7 Residential Uses in an HC-SF Project.

8 (B) Dwelling Unit Mix. Section 207.6 and Section 207.7 shall not apply. HC-
9 SF Projects of four units or more shall comply with the following:

10 (i) a project with four dwelling units shall contain at least one unit with 11 two or more bedrooms;

12 (ii) for a project with between five and nine dwelling units, inclusive, at 13 least 25% of its units shall contain two or more bedrooms, including at least one unit with three or
14 more bedrooms; and

15 (iii) for a project with ten or more dwelling units, at least 25% of its
16 units shall contain two or more bedrooms, including at least 5% of its units containing three or more
17 bedrooms.

18 (iv) The Dwelling Unit mix requirement in this subsection (d)(1)(B) shall
19 not apply to 100% Affordable Housing projects or Residential Uses listed in Section 207.7(b)(2). The 20 Dwelling Unit mix requirement may be modified pursuant to Section 334.

21 (C) Additional Height. The applicable height limit for an HC-SF Project shall
22 be the height pursuant to Section 263.19(b). Planning Code Section 261 shall not apply.
23 Notwithstanding any lower height limit in this Code, including Section 263.19, the height limit of an
24 HC-SF Project located on a Corner Lot or a Lot larger than 8,000 square feet shall be 65 feet, unless a
25 higher height limit is provided elsewhere in the Code.

1                                    (D) Ground Floor Setbacks on 19th Avenue. Projects on a lot with frontage on
2 19th Avenue may reduce the setback required under Section 131 and 132 if the proposed project
3 expands the publicly available sidewalk into the subject property and the resulting overall sidewalk
4 width is not less than 15 feet. In such cases, the setback and sidewalk shall have a minimum vertical
5 clearance of not less than 25 feet from grade, and the property owner shall record a Notice of Special
6 Restrictions allowing for public access to the expanded sidewalk for the life of the project.

7                                    (E) Rear Yard and Lot Coverage. The rear yard requirements of Section 134
8 may be modified as follows:

9                                    (i) Except for large lots subject to Section 134(d)(6), or lots in
10 Residential Districts other than the Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial (RTO-C) district, the rear
11 yard shall be equal to at least 18% of the total depth of the lot, or 15 feet, whichever is greater;

12                                    (ii) Except for large lots subject to the lot coverage limits of Section
13 134(d)(6), in Neighborhood Commercial, Named Neighborhood Commercial, Commercial Districts,
14 Residential-Commercial (RC) and Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial (RTO-C) Districts, no
15 rear yard is required at the ground floor;

16                                    (iii) On Corner Lots, or Lots at the intersection of a Street and an Alley
17 of at least 25 feet in width, where a rear yard can meet the requirements of Section 134(h), the area of
18 the required open area shall be equal to 18% of the depth of the lot and a minimum of 15 feet in every
19 horizontal direction.

20                                    (iv) In C districts, other than on large lots subject to Section 134(d)(6),
21 lot coverage is limited to 82% at all levels containing Residential Uses. All other provisions of Section
22 134(d)(6) shall apply.

23                                    (F) Open Space. The open space requirements of Section 135 shall not apply.

24                                    (G) Dwelling Unit Exposure. The dwelling unit exposure requirements of 25 Section 140 shall not apply.

1 (H) Non-Residential Use Size Limits. Non-Residential Uses may exceed the
2 non-residential use size limits in Section 121.2 without the need for a Conditional Use authorization.

3 (I) Height Limits for Vertical Non-Habitable Architectural Elements. Vertical
4 Non-Habitable Architectural Elements may exceed height limits consistent with the requirements in
5 Section 263.21(c).

6 (J) Development of Large Lots in Residential Transit Oriented Commercial
7 (RTO-C) Districts. Sections 121.1 and 303(r) shall not apply to HC-SF Projects on large lots in the
8 RTO-C Zoning District.

9 (K) Ground Floor Ceiling Heights For Nine-Story Projects. The ground floor
10 ceiling height requirements in Section 145.1(c)(4) shall not apply to HC-SF Projects proposing nine
11 stories in a district with a height limit of 85 feet.

12 (L) Maximum Dwelling Unit Size. Notwithstanding any other provision of this
13 Code, Section 207.10 shall apply.

14 (M) Reduction of Quantitative Objective Standards. Any quantitative Objective
15 Standard may be modified by up to 15% of the standard except for the following: standards set forth in
16 subsection (d)(1)(A) through (d)(1)(L) inclusive, standards set forth in subsection (e), rear yard or lot
17 coverage standards, standards ineligible for Major Modifications under Section 334(d)(3), and
18 maximum average floor plate requirements in Section 270(i).

19 (2) Standards Applicable to 100% Affordable Projects.

20 (A) Definitions. A 100% Affordable HC-SF Housing Project shall be an eligible
21 HC-SF Project where all Residential Uses, except a manager's unit, are comprised solely of Dwelling
22 Units or Group Housing bedrooms that are restricted for the Life of the Project as "Affordable Units,"
23 as defined in Section 401, and meet the requirements in Section 406(b)(1)(A) and (C).

24 (B) Additional Planning Code Modifications. In addition to the modifications
25 in subsection (d)(1), 100% Affordable HC-SF Housing Projects are entitled to the following Planning

1 Code modifications:

2 (i) Ground-floor ceiling height. Ground floor ceiling height
3 requirements in Section 145.1(c)(4) shall not apply.

4 (ii) Active use requirement. Active use requirements in Section
5 145.1(c)(3) shall be reduced by 20% of all the required dimensions.

6 (iii) Curb cuts. Curb cut restrictions in Section 155(r) shall not apply.
7 However, where a site has two or more frontages, frontages with the fewest restrictions under Section
8 155(r) shall be prioritized for vehicular and loading access.

9 (iv) Height Limit. The height limit shall be 20 feet greater than the HC-
10 SF height limit set forth in Section 263.19(b), and in subsection (d)(1)(C), and maybe be supplemented
11 by any height bonus pursuant to subsection (e).

12 (3) Authorization. HC-SF Projects under this Section 206.10 shall be reviewed and
13 approved under the provisions set forth in Section 334, and any other required entitlement except for
14 Section 309 and Section 329. Approval procedures under Section 309 and Section 329 shall not apply.

15 (4) Exclusions. In no event shall this Section 206.10 be interpreted as
16 relieving a HC-SF project from complying with: Article 4 of the Planning Code other than as
17 specified in this subsection (d); Section 202.17; any tenant protections contained elsewhere in
18 the Planning Code, including Section 317 et seq.; or Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code.

19 (e) Additional Height, Square Footage, and Other Bonuses. HC-SF Projects that contain
20 certain uses, amenities, or other building features are eligible for additional bonuses and code
21 modifications, as described below.

22 (1) Micro-Retail and/or Community Benefit Uses. For projects that include, at or
23 above grade, (A) one or more Micro-Retail spaces, which shall mean space for a Retail Use measuring
24 no less than 100 gross square feet and no greater than 1,000 gross square feet; and/or (B) one or more
25 Community Benefit Uses, shall receive additional square footage and height as set forth below. For the

1 purposes of this subsection, Community Benefit Uses means: Child Care Facility, Community Facility,
2 Job Training, Public Facilities, Social Service or Philanthropic Facility, Laundromat, Trade School,
3 Grocery (General or Specialty), and/or any Displaced Business, as that term is defined in Section
4 202.17. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, all such Community Benefit Uses shall be
5 principally permitted without limit on use size. The following provisions apply to projects providing
6 Micro-Retail space(s) and/or on-site Community Benefit Use(s):

7 (A) For every square foot of Community Benefit Use(s), or every 1.5 square feet
8 of Micro-Retail, the Project shall be permitted to include an additional:

9 (i) up to two square feet for other project use(s); and

10 (ii) up to a maximum of 10 feet total above the permitted height limit to
11 accommodate the additional square footage.

12 (B) On-site Community Benefits Use(s) and Micro-Retail space(s) must be
13 included in the project for a minimum of 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and
14 the use and space requirement shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions. If the Community
15 Benefits Use(s) is discontinued, it must be replaced with another Community Benefits Use(s). If the
16 Micro-Retail space(s) is reconfigured, the new resulting space(s) must meet the definition of a Micro-
17 Retail space and the cumulative square footage must not decrease in size.

18 (2) Warm Retail Shells. For the purposes of this subsection (e)(2), “Warm Retail
19 Shell” means a ground floor retail space in a “warm shell” condition suitable for food service use,
20 with the improvements described in this subsection (e)(2) as a Food Service Warm Shell or a
21 General Warm Shell. ~~which space~~ A Food Service Warm Shell shall ~~contains~~ all of the
22 following: a concrete floor slab, exterior walls, roof, storefront, restroom(s) ~~designed to meeting~~
23 ADA accessibility requirements, electrical panel with breakers and outlets, fire sprinklers and alarm
24 system that ~~meet shell~~ satisfy building code, HVAC unit, Type 1 grease exhaust hood with
25 appropriate ductwork, water meter(s), distribution piping for domestic water (hot/cold), and waste

1 water plumbing, including floor drains. A General Warm Shell shall contain all of the following: a
2 finished concrete floor, exterior walls, sheet rock on walls, roof, restroom(s) satisfying ADA
3 accessibility requirements, electrical panel with breakers and outlets, fire sprinklers and alarm
4 system that satisfy building code, and basic lighting. The following provisions apply to projects
5 providing Warm Retail Shells.

6 (A) For every square foot of Warm Retail Shell(s), the Project shall be permitted
7 to include an additional:

8 (i) up to three square feet for other project use(s) for a Food Service
9 Warm Shell; and

10 (ii) up to 2.5 square feet for other project use(s) for a General
11 Warm Shell; and

12 (iii) up to a maximum of 10 feet total above the permitted height limit to
13 accommodate the additional square footage.

14 (B) The Warm Retail Shell shall be included in the project for a minimum of 30
15 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the requirement shall be recorded in a Notice
16 of Special Restrictions. If the space is modified within this period such that it no longer meets the
17 definition of a Warm Retail Shell, it must be replaced with a qualifying Community Benefit Use or a
18 Micro-Retail use per subsection (e)(1) above. No Temporary or Final Certificate of Occupancy shall be
19 issued unless the Planning Department, in consultation with the Department of Building Inspection,
20 determines that the requirements of this subsection (e)(2) have been completed.

21 (3) Family-Friendly Amenities. In Residential Districts, projects that provide certain
22 Family Friendly Amenities, as defined below, shall be permitted to include an additional:

23 (A) up to two square feet for project uses for each square foot of any one or more
24 Family Friendly Amenity; and

25 (B) horizontal addition to the permitted building volume to accommodate this

1 extra square footage through any combination of the following:

2 (i) reducing the required rear yard above the ground floor (Section 134)
3 to 25% or 20 feet, whichever is greater;

4 (ii) reducing the required ground floor rear yard (Section 134) to 18%
5 or 15 feet, whichever is greater;

6 (iii) reducing the required side yard (Section 133) to 0 feet, and/or

7 (iv) reducing the required upper-story setback to 10 feet for additions to
8 Historic Buildings.

9 (C) Family Friendly Amenities shall be defined as the following:

10 (i) an indoor common recreational room of not less than 150 square feet
11 that is directly accessible to an adjacent outdoor common open space of at least 150 square feet;

12 (ii) a common shared kitchen of not less than 150 square feet, equipped
13 at minimum with a refrigerator, oven, stovetop, sink, dishwasher, and countertops for food
14 preparation;

15 (iii) an overnight suite with a bedroom and bathroom, but that is not a
16 Dwelling Unit and has no cooking facilities, that is a common building amenity and reservable
17 exclusively by residents for overnight guests;

18 (iv) secured storage space for residents, that is external to individual
19 residential units, intended for large objects, and located on the ground floor or below or accessed from
20 within a garage or loading area;

21 (v) bicycle parking space or storage area intended to accommodate
22 cargo bicycles as shall be described in specifications published by the Zoning Administrator; and

23 (vi) an in-home childcare unit that meets the requirements of Section
24 414A.6(a)(2), (3), and (5). Projects that construct an in-home childcare unit shall receive a waiver of 25 the requirements of Section 414A.

1 (D) Family-Friendly Amenities shall be included in the project for a minimum of
2 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the use and space requirement shall be
3 recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions. If the Family-Friendly Amenity is discontinued, it must be
4 replaced with another Family-Friendly Amenity.

5 (4) Units With ~~Two~~ Three or More Bedrooms. Projects that contain units with two three or
6 more bedrooms shall be permitted to include additional square footage, as set forth below:

7 (A) 250 square feet for every two-bedroom unit provided in excess of the 8 number of two-bedroom units required by subsection (d)(1)(B); and

9 (B) 250 square feet for every three-bedroom unit provided, including any three-
10 bedroom units required pursuant to subsection (d)(1)(B); and

11 (~~BC~~) 400 square feet for every unit provided that contains four or more
12 bedrooms, including any such units required pursuant to subsection (d)(1)(B); and

13 (~~CD~~) horizontal additions to accommodate the extra square footage described
14 in subsection (e)(4)(A)-(~~BC~~) through any combination of the following:

15 (i) reducing the required rear yard above the ground floor (Section 134)
16 to 25% or 20 feet, whichever is greater; and

17 (ii) reducing the required ground floor rear yard (Section 134) to 18%
18 or 15 feet, whichever is greater;

19 (iii) reducing the required side yard (Section 133) to zero feet, and/or

20 (iv) reducing the required upper-story setback to 10 feet for additions to
21 Historic Buildings; and

22 (~~DE~~) in all districts except Residential districts, vertical additions not to exceed
23 10 feet total above the Housing Choice-SF height limit (Section 263.19) to accommodate the extra
24 square footage described in subsections (e)(4)(A)and-(~~BC~~).

25 (~~EF~~) The units containing two three or more bedrooms shall be included in the

1 project for a minimum of 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the use and space
2 requirement shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions.

3 (5) Replacement of Commercial Space. In districts other than Residential
4 districts, projects proposing the alteration or demolition of a building with existing Commercial
5 Uses shall be permitted to include additional square footage, as set forth below. For the 6 purposes of this subsection (e)(5), a “Replacement Commercial Space” shall satisfy all of the 7 following for each Commercial Use: (1) the space(s) contains between 90% to 110% of the
8 gross floor area of the existing Commercial Use(s); (2) the storefront(s) occupies between 90
9 to 110% of the length of the street frontage occupied by the existing Commercial Use(s),
10 except that if the street frontage for the existing Commercial Use is 50 feet or less, up to 10
11 feet of frontage can be used for a lobby; and if the street frontage for the existing Commercial
12 Use is greater than 50 feet, up to 15 feet of the frontage can be used for a lobby; and (3) the
13 space contains a Warm Retail Shell, as that term is defined in subsection (e)(2), provided that
14 if the existing Commercial Use involves food service, the project must provide a Food Service
15 Warm Shell.

16 _____ (A) up to 1.5 square feet for project uses for each square foot of 17 Replacement Commercial Space; and

18 _____ (B) up to a maximum of 10 feet total above the permitted height limit to
19 accommodate the additional square footage.

20 _____ (C) A project providing Replacement Commercial Space is also eligible
21 for the Warm Retail Shell bonuses in subsection (e)(2).

22 _____ (D) The Replacement Commercial Space shall be included in the project
23 for a minimum of 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the use
24 requirement shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions.

25 (6) Preservation of Historic Buildings. In districts other than Residential districts, projects

1 proposing an alteration to a Historic Building and/or constructing new buildings on sites that contain a
2 Historic Building shall be permitted to include additional square footage, as provided below:

3 (A) up to 1.5 times the gross floor area foregone by retaining the Historic
4 Building and complying with Objective Standards pertaining to Historic Buildings, including through
5 setting back building additions and/or new construction in relation to the Historic Building. For the
6 purposes of this subsection (e)(56)(A), the foregone gross floor area shall be equal to the gross floor
7 area within the volume that would otherwise be permitted under the Planning Code and all applicable
8 Objective Standards, inclusive of modifications allowed pursuant to this Section 206.10, but is not
9 being constructed in order to accommodate a reduced building mass above or around a Historic
10 Building and that complies with or exceeds the setbacks or mass reductions required by the Objective
11 Standards pertaining to Historic Buildings. The Zoning Administrator may publish further guidance on 12 the calculation of foregone gross floor area; and

13 (B) for Historic Buildings with storefronts that contain character-defining
14 features, an additional 0.25 square feet for every square foot of space in the storefront,
15 provided that the project preserves the storefront in compliance with Objective Standards
16 pertaining to Historic Buildings; and

17 (C) horizontal or vertical additions to accommodate this extra square footage,
18 except that any such additions shall not:

19 (i) exceed 20 feet above the Housing Choice-SF height limit (Section 20 263.19); or

21 (ii) reduce the required rear yard above the ground floor to less than 15
22 feet where the site abuts the rear yard of adjacent parcels containing residential uses.

23 (D) The Historic Building and/or historic storefront shall be maintained in
24 compliance with the Preservation Design Standards for the life of the project, and the requirement
25 shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions.

1                    (67) Limits on Bonuses. Except as provided below, An HC-SF Project can
2 combine the heights, square footage, and additional bonuses in subsections (e)(1) through (e)(56), as
3 provided below:

4                    (1) Height. A project may combine the bonuses in subsections (e)(1) through
5 (e)(45) provided that any height bonus is limited to 10 feet above the Housing Choice-SF height limit.
6 A project may combine the bonuses in subsections (e)(1) through (e)(56) provided that any height
7 bonus is limited to 30 feet above the Housing Choice-SF height limit.

8                    (2) Rear Yard. A project cannot reduce the required rear yard beyond the 9 lowest of the limits set forth in subsections (e)(3)-(e)(56).

11                    SEC. 334. HOUSING CHOICE-SAN FRANCISCO PROJECT AUTHORIZATION.

12                    (a) Purpose and Applicability. The purpose of this Section 334 is to provide for the review and
13 approval of a Housing Choice San Francisco (HC-SF) project, as defined in Section 206.10.

14                    (b) General Process.

15                    (1) Application. An HC-SF Project shall apply through the Planning Department's
16 procedures for Development Applications and review. An HC-SF project application shall be submitted
17 with and processed concurrently with all other applications. The HC-SF project application shall be
18 submitted on a form prescribed by the Department, and shall include all of the following information:

19                    (i) A full plan set, including a site plan, elevations, sections, and floor plans,
20 showing total number of units, and the number of and location of affordable units as applicable; and a
21 draft Regulatory Agreement, if the project elects to subject units to the Rent Stabilization Ordinance
22 under Section 206.10(c)(1);

23                    (ii) Except as noted in subsection (iii), demonstration of compliance with the 24 Planning Code and provisions of the HC-SF Program, including any permitted zoning modifications;

25                    (iii) Requested Major Modifications under subsection (d).

1                   (2) Procedures. The review of an HC-SF Project shall be conducted as part of, and
2 incorporated into, a Development Application. Where there is a conflict, the provisions of Section
3 206.10 shall govern. Unless modified by Section 206.10, if a project requires a conditional use
4 authorization, or any other entitlement that requires a public hearing before the Planning Commission
5 and/or the Historic Preservation Commission, the HC-SF Project shall be reviewed by the Planning
6 Commission and/or the Historic Preservation Commission, as applicable.

7                   (3) Discretionary Review. As long as the Planning Commission has delegated its
8 authority to the Planning Department to review applications for an HC-SF Project, the Planning
9 Commission shall not hold a public hearing for discretionary review of an HC-SF that is subject to this
10 Section 334.

11                   (4) Regulatory Agreement for Projects Using Section 206.10(c)(1).

12                   (A) Sponsors of HC-SF Projects that elect to comply with the provisions of
13 Section 206.10(c)(1) shall enter into a regulatory agreement with the City subjecting all units, except
14 for any units required to be Affordable Units as defined in Planning Code Section 401, to the
15 Residential Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance (Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code), as a
16 condition of approval (“Regulatory Agreement”).

17                   (B) The property owner and the Planning Director, or the Director’s designee,
18 on behalf of the City, will execute the Regulatory Agreement, which is subject to review and approval
19 by the City Attorney’s Office. The Regulatory Agreement shall be executed prior to the City’s issuance
20 of the First Construction Document for the project, as defined in Section 107A.13.1 of the Building
21 Code. Following execution of the Regulatory Agreement by all parties and approval by the City
22 Attorney, the Regulatory Agreement or a memorandum thereof shall be recorded in the title records in
23 the Office of the Assessor-Recorder against the property and shall be binding on all future owners and 24 successors in interest.

25                   (C) At a minimum, the Regulatory Agreement shall contain the following:

1 (i) A description of the total number of Dwelling Units approved,
2 including the number of units subject to the Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance and other
3 restricted units, if any, and the location, square footage of Dwelling Units, and number of bedrooms in
4 each unit;

5 (ii) A statement that the Dwelling Units are not subject to the Costa-
6 Hawkins Rental Housing Act (California Civil Code Section 1954.50 et seq.). Further, that under
7 Section 1954.52(b), the property owner has entered into and agreed to the terms of the agreement with
8 the City in consideration for an exception from residential density limits, or other direct financial
9 contribution or other forms of assistance specified in California Government Code Section 65915 et
10 seq.;

11 (iii) A description of the residential density exception or other direct 12 financial contribution or forms of assistance provided to the property owner; and

13 (iv) A description of the remedies for breach of the agreement and other
14 provisions to ensure implementation and compliance with the agreement; and,

15 (v) An agreement that any lease, sublease, or other agreement regarding
16 tenancy of units not subject to the Costa-Hawkins Rental Housing Act (California Civil Code Sections
17 1954.50 et seq.) shall include the following text: “This unit is a rental unit subject to the San Francisco
18 Residential Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance.”

19 (5) Other Agreements. HC-SF Projects that provide on-site affordable units under
20 Section 415 et seq. or other state or local program that requires or allows the provision of on-site
21 affordable units, shall comply with any applicable recording or regulatory agreement requirement of 22 that state or local program.

23 (6) Timeline of Review. Unless the Environmental Review Officer determines that
24 compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act would take more than 180 days, review of
25 an HC-SF Project not seeking a Major Modification under this Section 334 shall be completed within

1 180 days of submittal of a complete Development Application. Unless the Environmental Review
2 Officer determines that compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act would take more
3 than 180 days, the Planning Commission shall hold a public hearing for projects seeking a Major
4 Modification within 180 days of submittal of a complete project application.

5 (c) Administrative Review. The Planning Department shall administratively review an HC-SF
6 Project, unless the Project seeks a Major Modification pursuant to subsection (d), or any HC-SF
7 Project that is a 100% Affordable HC-SF Project. The Planning Department’s determination regarding
8 an HC-SF Project under this subsection (c) shall not be appealable. Nothing in this Section 334
9 abrogates permit, license, or other requirements codified outside the Planning Code.

10 (d) Projects Seeking Major Modifications to Standards and Requirements. An HC-SF
11 Project may seek a Major Modification using the process in this subsection (d).

12 (1) Definition. A “Major Modification” means any deviation from any quantitative
13 standard in the Planning Code or any applicable Objective Standard not otherwise provided in Section
14 206.10(d) through (e). A project seeking a Major Modification to an Objective Standard shall not be 15 considered code compliant.

16 (2) Additional Modifications. HC-SF Projects seeking Major Modifications pursuant
17 to this subsection (d) may also pursue additional modifications that are not Major Modifications under 18 the provisions elsewhere in this Code.

19 (3) Exclusions. In no case may an HC-SF Project receive a Major Modification or
20 other exception under any provision of this Code to the following requirements: maximum building
21 height; maximum permitted accessory off-street parking amounts; wind standards; minimum density
22 requirements; Floor Area Ratio limits; any standard set forth in Articles 1.7, 3, 3.5, 4, 10, and 11 of the
23 Planning Code; definitions; permitted land uses; the Transportation Demand Management Program
24 under Section 169; and any standard or provision adopted by the voters.

25 (4) Required Findings for Major Modifications. To grant a Major Modification, the

1 Planning Commission shall find: (a) that the proposed modification achieves equal or superior design
2 quality, and (b) the project would provide a significant community benefit by producing housing near
3 transit, or otherwise promote the general welfare.

4 (5) Conditions of Approval. The Planning Commission may adopt conditions of
5 approval for granted modification(s). Such conditions shall be limited to addressing the potential
6 impact of such granted modification(s).

7 (6) Process for Applicants Seeking Major Modifications.

8 (A) Decision. The Planning Commission, at a noticed public hearing, shall
9 review, and approve, disapprove, or approve with conditions, a request for a Major Modification. The
10 Planning Commission shall find that the proposed Major Modification(s) meet the criteria in 11 subsection (d)(4). As part of its review and decision, the Planning Commission may impose additional 12 conditions, requirements, modifications, and limitations on a proposed project in order to mitigate the
13 effect of the requested modification(s) and thereby achieve the objectives, policies, and intent of the 14 General Plan and/or applicable Objective Standards.

15 (B) Notification. Notice of a hearing required by subsection (6)(A) shall be
16 provided in accordance with Planning Code Section 333.

17 (e) Notification and Record of Decision. Notification and record of decision of an HC-SF
18 Project shall be provided as set forth in the Planning Department procedures for review and approval
19 of Development Applications.

20 (f) Change of Conditions. Once a project is approved, a change in any condition previously
21 imposed by the Planning Commission shall require approval by the Planning Commission subject to 22 the procedures set forth in this Section 334.

24 SEC. 344. HOUSING CHOICE HOUSING SUSTAINABILITY DISTRICT.

25 (a) Purpose. This Section 344 establishes the Housing Choice - San Francisco Housing

1 Sustainability District (“HSD”) under California Government Code Sections 66200 et seq. The
2 purpose of the HSD is to encourage the development of on-site affordable housing in new residential
3 and mixed-use projects by providing a streamlined, ministerial approval process for such projects. This
4 Section 344 sets forth eligibility criteria, design review standards, and entitlement and approval
5 procedures for projects seeking approval pursuant to the HSD.

6 (b) Geography. The HSD shall be comprised of all parcels, other than those zoned as RH or
7 RM, in the R-4 Height and Bulk District.

8 (c) Relationship to Other Planning Code Provisions. Except as otherwise provided in this
9 Section 344, the Planning Code shall apply to projects approved pursuant to this Section 344. In the 10 event of a conflict between other provisions of the Planning Code and this Section 344, this Section
11 shall control.

12 (d) Eligibility. Projects seeking approval pursuant to this Section 344 shall meet all of the 13 following requirements:

14 (1) The project is located in a zoning district where Residential uses are principally
15 permitted.

16 (2) For Dwelling Unit projects, the project’s residential density is no less than 50
17 Dwelling Units per acre, and no more than 1,000 Dwelling Units per acre.

18 (3) At least one-half of the project’s Gross Floor Area is designated for Residential
19 uses. All proposed Non-Residential uses must be principally permitted in the underlying zoning district
20 and any applicable SUD(s). The project shall not include more than 24,999 square feet of Gross Floor
21 Area of Office use that would be subject to the annual limit on office development set forth in Sections
22 321 et seq.

23 (4) The project does not demolish or substantially alter a historic resource that is:
24 designated as a landmark or listed as a contributor to or located within a historic district under
25 Article 10; listed as a Significant or Contributory Building under Article 11; listed in the

1 California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places;
2 identified in an adopted survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for
3 individual listing in the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of
4 Historic Places; or, located within an historic district that is listed in, or identified in an adopted
5 survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for listing in, the California Register
6 of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places a building that is designated
7 as a landmark under Article 10, is listed as a contributor to an historic district in Article 10, is
8 listed as a Significant or Contributory Building under Article 11, is listed in the California
9 Register of Historical Resources, or is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

10 (5) Consistent with California Government Code Section 66201(f), the project shall
11 provide no less than 10% of dwelling units as units affordable to very low or low income households. A
12 project subject to Section 415 may apply any such affordable units towards its compliance with Section
13 415. Projects not subject to Section 415 shall enter into a regulatory agreement with the City to 14 restrict the affordability of any such units for no less than 55 years.

15 (6) The project does not demolish, remove, or convert to another use any existing
16 Dwelling Unit(s), or Residential Flat.

17 (7) The project complies with all applicable Planning Code requirements and any
18 adopted Objective Standards. Projects seeking approval pursuant to this Section 344 may not seek any
19 exceptions to height and bulk limits pursuant to Section 309(a)(17).

20 (8) The project sponsor complies with all applicable mitigation measures in the 21 Housing Element 2022 Update Environmental Impact Report (“Housing Element EIR”).

22 (9) The project sponsor certifies that the project will comply with all applicable
23 requirements of California Government Code Section 66201(f)(4).

24 (10) The project complies with the requirement of Government Code Section
25 66201(f)(5).

1 (11) The project provides relocation assistance to any displaced residential tenants.

2 (12) A project is not deemed to be for residential use if it is infeasible for actual use as
3 a single or multifamily residence.

4 (13) The project does not demolish or convert any portion of a Hotel.

5 (e) Approving Authority. The Planning Department is the approving authority designated to
6 review permit applications for compliance with this Section 344.

7 (f) Application. In addition to any requirements under other provisions of this Code for
8 submittal of application materials, an application under this Section 344 shall be submitted to the
9 Department on a form prescribed by the Department and shall not be considered complete until the
10 project sponsor has provided all of the following:

11 (1) A full plan set, including site plan, elevations, sections, and floor plans, showing
12 total number of units, and number of and location of units affordable to very low or low income
13 households;

14 (2) All documentation required by the Planning Department and sufficient to support
15 determinations that:

16 (A) The project meets all applicable zoning and any Objective Standards.

17 (B) The project sponsor will implement any and all mitigation measures in the 18 Housing Element EIR that the Environmental Review Officer determines are applicable. The project
19 sponsor shall submit scope(s) of work for any studies required as part of any mitigation measure, and
20 the application shall not be deemed complete until such studies are completed to the satisfaction of the 21 Environmental Review Officer.

22 (C) The project will comply with subsections (d)(10) and (d)(11) of this Section
23 344.

24 (g) Decision and Hearing. The Department shall ministerially approve projects that meet all
25 the requirements in this Section 344, as follows:

1                   (1) Hearing. The Planning Department shall conduct an informational public hearing
2 for all projects that are subject to this Section 344 within 100 days of receipt of a complete application,
3 as set forth in subsection (f).

4                   (2) Decision. Within 120 days of receipt of a complete application, as set forth in
5 subsection (f), the Planning Director or the Director’s designee shall issue a written decision
6 approving, disapproving, or approving subject to conditions, the project. The applicant and the
7 Department may mutually agree to extend this 120-day period. If no written decision is issued within
8 120 days of the Department’s receipt of a complete application, or within the period mutually agreed
9 upon by the Department and applicant, the project shall be deemed approved. The Planning Director
10 or the Director’s designee shall include any certifications required by California Government Code
11 Section 66205(e) in a copy of the written decision.

12                   (3) Grounds for Permit Denial. The Department may deny an HSD project application
13 only for one or more of the following reasons:

14                   (A) The proposed project does not fully comply with this Section 344, including
15 but not limited to meeting all adopted Objective Standards and/or implementing all mitigation
16 measures in the Housing Element EIR that the Department determines are applicable.

17                   (B) The project sponsor has not submitted all of the information or paid any
18 application fee required by this Section 344 and necessary for an adequate and timely design review or
19 assessment of potential impacts on nearby properties.

20                   (C) The Department determines, based upon substantial evidence in light of the 21 whole record of the public hearing on the project, that a physical condition on the site of development
22 that was not known and could not have been discovered with reasonable investigation at the time the
23 application was submitted would have a specific adverse impact upon the public health or safety and
24 that there is no feasible method to satisfactorily mitigate or avoid the specific adverse impact. As used
25 in this subsection (g)(3)(C), “specific adverse impact” means a significant, quantifiable, direct, and

1 unavoidable impact based on identified objective written public health or safety standards, policies, or
2 conditions, in existence at the time the application was deemed complete.

3 (4) Appeal. The procedures for appeal to the Board of Appeals of a decision by the
4 Department under this Section 344 shall be as set forth in Section 8 of the Business and Tax
5 Regulations Code.

6 (5) Discretionary Review. No requests for discretionary review shall be accepted by
7 the Planning Department for projects subject to this Section 344. As long as the Planning Commission
8 has delegated its authority to the Planning Department to review applications for projects subject to
9 this Section 344, the Planning Commission shall not hold a public hearing for discretionary review of
10 projects subject to this Section 344.

11 (6) Progress Requirement. Approval of a project pursuant to this Section 344 shall 12 expire if the project sponsor has not procured a building permit or site permit for construction of the
13 project within 30 months of the date of the Department's issuance of a written decision pursuant to
14 subsection (g)(2). If the Planning Director or the Director's designee finds that the project sponsor has
15 demonstrated good faith in its efforts to obtain the first site or building permit for the project, the
16 Planning Director or designee may extend the approval for the project for a maximum of six additional
17 months. Such deadline shall additionally be extended in the event of any appeal of such approval for 18 the duration of the appeal, and in the event of litigation seeking to invalidate the approval for the 19 duration of the litigation.

20 (h) Design Review Standards. Projects subject to this Section 344 shall be reviewed for
21 compliance with the design standards set forth in the Planning Code and any Objective Standards.

22 (i) District Affordability Requirement. At the request of the California Department of Housing
23 and Community Development, the Planning Department shall demonstrate that at least 20% of the
24 residential units constructed in the HSD during the life of the District and pursuant to this Section 344
25 will be affordable to very low, low, and moderate-income households and subject to a recorded

1 affordability restriction for at least 55 years.

2 (j) Monitoring and Enforcement. The Planning Department shall include, as conditions of
3 approval of all projects approved pursuant to this Section 344, monitoring and enforcement provisions
4 to ensure that the project meets all applicable labor and wage requirements and complies with all
5 identified applicable mitigation measures. Projects found to be in violation of any of these conditions
6 shall be subject to the Administrative Enforcement Procedures in Section 176 of this Code, including
7 initiation of abatement proceedings or referral to the City Attorney or District Attorney for prosecution,
8 if not corrected within 90 days of service of any notice of violation issued under Section 176(b)(1).

9 Conditions of approval shall include, but are not limited to:

10 (1) A project sponsor shall submit weekly reports to the Office of Labor Standards
11 Enforcement, certifying that a project approved pursuant to this Section 344 is complying with 12 subsections (d)(11) and (d)(12), if applicable to the project. Projects found to be in violation of
13 subsections (d)(11) and (d)(12) shall be subject to penalties pursuant to Section 1741 of the Labor
14 Code, in addition to any penalties assessed pursuant to Section 176 of this Code. All penalties shall be
15 paid prior to issuance of the project's First Certificate of Occupancy, as defined in Section 401 of this
16 Code.

17 (2) The Planning Department shall monitor compliance with the Housing Element EIR
18 mitigation measures for projects approved under the HSD.

19 (3) The Planning Department shall monitor and report the construction of affordable
20 housing units under the HSD in its annual Housing Inventory, which shall include the following
21 information:

22 (A) Number of projects approved pursuant to this Section 344.

23 (B) Number of projects under construction pursuant to approvals obtained under
24 this Section 344.

25 (C) Number of projects completed pursuant to approvals obtained under this

1 Section 344.

2 (D) Number of Dwelling Units or Group Housing beds within projects completed
3 pursuant to approvals obtained under this Section 344.

4 (E) Number of Dwelling Units affordable to very low, low, moderate, and middle
5 income households within projects completed pursuant to approvals obtained under this Section 344.

6 (k) Operative and Sunset Dates.

7 (1) This Section 344 shall become operative upon confirmation of approval by the
8 California Department of Housing and Community Development under California Government Code
9 Section 66202(c) (“Operative Date”).

10 (2) This Section 344 shall expire by operation of law seven years from the Operative
11 Date, unless this Section 344 is renewed by ordinance pursuant to Government Code Section 66201(g),
12 in which case this Section 344 shall expire on the date specified in that ordinance (“Sunset Date”).
13 Upon the expiration of this Section 344, the City Attorney shall cause this Section 344 to be removed
14 from the Planning Code. Pursuant to Government Code Section 66205(b), this Section 344 shall govern
15 the processing and review of any complete application submitted pursuant to this Section 344 prior to

18 Section 4. Height and Bulk Limits. Article 2.5 of the Planning Code is hereby amended
19 by revising Sections 260, 263.19, 263.20, and 270, and adding Sections 270.3 to read as
20 follows:

21 SEC. 260. HEIGHT LIMITS: MEASUREMENT.

22 (a) Method of Measurement. The limits upon the height of buildings and structures
23 shall be as specified on the Zoning Map, except as permitted by Section 206. In the 24 measurement of height, the following rules shall be applicable:

25 (1) The point above which such measurements shall be taken shall be as

1 specified as follows.

2 (A) In the case of either subsection (a)(1)(B) or (C) below, such point shall
3 be taken at the centerline of the building or, where the building steps laterally in relation to a
4 street that is the basis for height measurement, separate points shall be taken at the
5 centerline of each building step.

6 (B) Where the lot is level with or slopes downward from a street at the
7 centerline of the building or building step, such point shall be taken at curb level on such a
8 street. This point shall be used for height measurement only for a lot depth not extending
9 beyond a line 100 feet from and parallel to such street, or beyond a line equidistant between
10 such street and the street on the opposite side of the block, whichever depth is greater.
11 Measurement of height for any portion of the lot extending beyond such line shall be
12 considered in relation to the opposite (lower) end of the lot, and that portion shall be
13 considered an upward sloping lot in accordance with ~~§~~subsection (a)(1)(C) below, whether or 14 not the lot also has frontage on a lower street.

15 (C) Where the lot slopes upward from a street at the centerline of the 16 building or building step, such point shall be taken at curb level for purposes of measuring the
17 height of the closest part of the building within 10 feet of the property line of such street; at
18 every other cross-section of the building, at right angles to the centerline of the building or
19 building step, such point shall be taken as the average of the ground elevations at either side
20 of the building or building step at that cross-section. The ground elevations used shall be
21 either existing elevations or the elevations resulting from new grading operations
22 encompassing an entire block. Elevations beneath the building shall be taken by projecting a
23 straight line between ground elevations at the exterior walls at either side of the entire building
24 in the same plane.

25 (D) Where the lot has frontage on two or more streets, the owner may

1 choose the street or streets from which the measurement of height is to be taken, within the
2 scope of the rules stated above.

3 Where the height limits for buildings and structures are established by this Code,
4 the upper points to be taken for measurement of height shall be as prescribed in the
5 provisions relating to such height limits.

6 (2) The upper point to which such measurement shall be taken shall be the
7 highest point on the finished roof in the case of a flat roof, and the average height of the rise in
8 the case of a pitched or stepped roof, or similarly sculptured roof form, or any higher point of a
9 feature not exempted under § subsection (b) below. For any building taller than 550 feet in
10 height in the S-2 Bulk District, the height of the building shall be measured at the upper point
11 of all features of the building and exempted features in such cases shall be limited to only
12 those permitted in § subsection (b)(1)(M) and which are permitted by the Planning Commission
13 according to the procedures of Section 309.

14 (3) In cases where the height limit is 65 feet or less and a street from which
15 height measurements are made slopes laterally along the lot, or the ground slopes laterally on
16 a lot that also slopes upward from the street, there shall be a maximum width for the portion of
17 the building or structure that may be measured from a single point at curb or ground level,
18 according to the definition of "height," as specified in the following table. These requirements
19 shall not apply to any property to which the bulk limitations in Section 270 of this Code are 20 applicable.

21 (4) The following requirements shall apply to all parcels within the R-4 Height and Bulk
22 District, at or below 85 feet. In cases where the height limit is 85 feet or less and a street from which
23 height measurements are made slopes laterally along the lot, or the ground slopes laterally on a lot
24 that also slopes upward from the street, there shall be a maximum width for the portion of the building
25 or structure that may be measured from a single point at curb or ground level, according to the

1 definition of “height” as specified in the following table. These requirements shall not apply to any
 2 property to which the bulk limitations in Sections 270 through 270.3 of this Code are applicable.

5 (b) Exemptions. In addition to other height exceptions permitted by this Code, the
6 features listed in this subsection (b) shall be exempt from the height limits established by this
7 Code, in an amount up to but not exceeding that which is specified.

8 * * * *

10 SEC. 263.19. HEIGHT LIMITS: PERMITTED ~~PODIUM AND~~ TOWER HEIGHTS IN 11 THE R BULK DISTRICTS.

12 (a) This Section 263.19(a) shall apply to R Bulk Districts, except for the R-4 Height and Bulk
13 District.

14 (a)(1) Intent. The general development concept for R Bulk Districts is of podium
15 buildings that vary from 65 to 170 feet in height depending on the district and location, with 16 adequately spaced slender towers up to 650 feet in height rising above the podium buildings.

17 (b)(2) Maximum Height Controls for Podiums and Towers. In the ~~R-bulk~~
18 ~~districts, which include the~~ R, R-2, and R-3 bulk districts as designated on Sectional Map No.
19 HT01, HT02, and HT07 of the Zoning Map, maximum permitted building heights for both
20 podiums and towers are expressed as two numbers separated by a slash. The number
21 preceding the slash represents the height limit for podium buildings. The number following the
22 slash represents the height limit for towers. No building may exceed the podium height limit
23 except for towers meeting the bulk and tower spacing controls established in Section 270(e)
24 and (f).

1                    ~~(e)~~(3) Maximum Height Controls for Podiums and Towers in the R-2 Bulk
2 District and the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District. In the R-2 bulk
3 district and within the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District, maximum
4 permitted building heights for both podiums and towers are expressed as two sets of numbers
5 separated by a double slash in the format described above, in subsection (a)(2b). Each set of
6 numbers represents the maximum heights for podium and tower applicable to the parcel and
7 as regulated per subsection (a)(2b) above as follows: The first set of numbers represents the
8 principally permitted height limits for the parcel, both for the podium and for the tower. The 9 second set of numbers after the double slash represents the maximum height limits for
10 podium and tower that can be granted by the Planning Commission for that parcel through an
11 exception pursuant to the procedures and findings of Section 309(a)(17).

12                    (b) This Section 263.19(b) shall apply to the R-4 Height and Bulk District.

13                    (1) Intent. The general development concept for the R-4 Height and Bulk District is for
14 buildings that vary in height depending on the location, and in some locations providing for adequately
15 spaced slender towers rising above the podiums of lower height(s). In addition to establishing bulk
16 controls for all buildings in the district as further described in Section 270(i), the R-4 district
17 implements the Housing Choice-San Francisco (HC-SF) program by providing for a secondary height
18 limit for projects using the HC-SF Program per Section 206.10.

19                    (2) Maximum Height Controls for the HC-SF Program. In the R-4 Height and Bulk
20 District, as designated on Sectional Maps Nos. HT01, 02, 03, 04, 05, 06, 07, 11, 12, and 13 of the 21 Zoning Map, the permitted building heights are expressed as two sets of numbers separated by a double
22 slash. Preceding the double slash is the permitted building height limit for projects not using the HC-
23 SF Program. Following the double slash is the height limit for projects using the HC-SF Program per 24 Section 206.10. Where there is a set of two numbers separated by a single slash, the number preceding
25 the single slash is the maximum height for podium buildings and the number following the single slash

1 is the maximum tower height subject to the bulk and tower spacing controls of Section 270(i).

2 The following represents an example of height limits subject to both podium and tower controls,
3 and high limits for projects not using the HC-SF Program and projects using the HC-SF Program.

12 SEC. 263.20. SPECIAL HEIGHT EXCEPTION: ADDITIONAL FIVE FEET HEIGHT
13 FOR ACTIVE GROUND FLOOR USES IN CERTAIN DISTRICTS AND ALL GROUND
14 FLOOR USES IN THE R-4 HEIGHT AND BULK DISTRICT.

17 (b) Applicability. The special height exception described in this ~~s~~Section 263.20 shall
18 only apply to projects that meet all both of the following criteria:

19 (1) project is located in a 30-X, 40-X, or 50-X Height and Bulk District, or in the 20 R-4 Height and Bulk District with a height limit of 40, 50, or 80 feet, as designated on the Zoning

22 (2) ~~project is located in one of the following districts:~~

23 ~~(A) in an NCT district as designated on the Zoning Map;~~

24 ~~(B) in the Castro Street, Inner Clement Street, Outer Clement Street, Excelsior~~
25 ~~Outer Mission Street, Irving Street, Japantown, Judah Street, Noriega Street, Taraval Street, and 24th~~

1 ~~Street—Noe Valley NCDs;~~

2 ~~————— (C) on a NC-2 designated parcel on Balboa Street between 2nd Avenue and 8th~~
3 ~~Avenue, and between 32nd Avenue and 39th Avenue;~~

4 ~~————— (D) on a NC-1 designated parcel within the boundaries of Sargent Street to~~
5 ~~Orizaba Avenue to Lobos Street to Plymouth Avenue to Farallones Street to San Jose Avenue to~~
6 ~~Alemaney Boulevard to 19th Avenue to Randolph Street to Monticello Street and back to Sargent Street;~~

7 ~~————— (E) on a NC-3 designated parcel fronting on Geary Boulevard from Masonic~~
8 ~~Avenue to 28th Avenue, except for parcels on the north side of Geary Boulevard between Palm Avenue~~
9 ~~and Parker Avenue; or~~

10 ~~————— (F) on a parcel zoned NC-1 on Noriega, Irving, Taraval, or Judah Streets west~~
11 ~~of 19th Avenue.~~

12 ~~———— (3) project features ground floor commercial space or other active use as~~
13 ~~defined by Section 145.1(b)(2) with clear ceiling heights in excess of ten feet from sidewalk~~

25 SEC. 270. BULK LIMITS: MEASUREMENT.

(a) The limits upon the bulk of buildings and structures shall be as stated in this Section 270 (including Sections 270.1, 270.2, and 270.3) and in Sections 271 and 272. The terms Diagonal Dimension, Height, Length, and Plan Dimensions shall be as defined in this Code. In each height and bulk district, the maximum plan dimensions shall be as specified in the following table, at all horizontal cross-sections above the height indicated.

(i) R-4 Height and Bulk District. In the R-4 Height and Bulk District, the bulk limitation are as follows:

(1) Tower Bulk and Spacing. In the R-4 Height and Bulk District, the otherwise applicable bulk controls for structures below a height of 85 feet or below a different height threshold where explicitly specified elsewhere in the Code (“Podium Height”) shall govern, including, but not

1 limited to, those found in the Citywide Design Standards. Portions of structures above the podium
2 height shall comply with the bulk limitations described in subsection (i)(1)(A) and (B) below.

3 (A) Buildings between the Podium Height and 140 feet in height (exclusive of 4 permitted height exceptions) shall:

5 (i) Provide 15-foot setback(s) from any interior property line(s) for
6 portion(s) of the building above the Podium Height.

8 floor plate shall not exceed 12,000 square feet.

10 length of 130 feet and a maximum diagonal of 160 feet are permitted.

11 (iv) Building portions above the Podium Height and up to 140 feet must 12 maintain a 30-foot distance from other buildings above the Podium Height on any lot.

14 shall:

16 portion(s) of the building above the Podium Height.

18 floor plate shall not exceed 12,000 square feet.

20 length of 130 feet and a maximum diagonal of 160 feet are permitted.

22 less than 115 feet from other buildings above 85 feet on any lot.

24 unbroken wall width of 100 feet is permitted. For building masses above 85 feet in height and with a
25 plan length in excess of 100 feet, relief shall be provided through:

1 a. a notch, defined as a building recess or volumetric reduction
2 that is provided at the indicated height and extending the full vertical height of the subject facade above
3 85-feet, of at least 10 feet by 10 feet; or

4 b. a change in plane of at least 10 feet.

5 (vi) The top one-third of a building above 85 feet shall be reduced in
6 both floor plate and the allowed maximum plan and diagonal dimensions set forth in subsection
7 (i)(1)(B) by 10% each.

8
9 SEC. 270.3. SPECIAL BULK REQUIREMENTS: MID-BLOCK ALLEYS IN LARGE LOT
10 DEVELOPMENT OUTSIDE OF THE EASTERN NEIGHBORHOODS MIXED USE DISTRICTS,
11 SOUTH OF MARKET COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT, FOLSOM STREET
12 NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT, REGIONAL COMMERCIAL
13 DISTRICT, C-3 AND DTR DISTRICTS.

14 (a) Findings. This Section 270.3 incorporates the findings in Section 270.2(a), and determines
15 that the conditions in Section 270.2 are applicable outside of the geographic area specified in Section 16 270.2..

17 (b) Purpose. The mid-block alley requirements of this Section 270.3 are intended to ameliorate
18 the conditions and impacts described in the findings in Section 270.2(a) and make the subject areas
19 appropriate for a higher density of activity and population in areas being targeted for more intense
20 development. The horizontal mass reductions and mid-block alleys will ensure that block sizes for new
21 housing support walkable neighborhoods. To encourage pedestrian movement, walking to nearby
22 destinations including to and from transit, and neighborhood blocks with shortened distances to
23 facilitate this activity, the bulk limitations noted below will apply.

24 (c) Applicability. This Section 270.3 applies to all development lots not subject to the
25 requirements of Section 270.2, except development lots in PDR districts or that contain exclusively

1 government or Public Facilities, that:

2 (1) Are two acres or larger; and/or

3 (2) Have a frontage of 200 feet or greater on a single block face that is 400 feet or 4 greater.

5 (d) Requirements. New construction on development lots that meet the criteria in subsection
6 (c) above must be divided into smaller resultant lots and blocks in either one of the two following ways:

7 (1) Option 1. Lots shall be divided into resultant blocks such that:

8 (A) no block frontage exceeds a length of 300 feet between intersections;

9 (B) no block perimeter exceeds a total of 1,200 feet; and

10 (C) the resultant blocks shall be separated from each other by newly created
11 public street(s), alley(s), or publicly-accessible privately-owned street(s) or alley(s). Such street(s)
12 shall meet San Francisco street standards including the Better Streets Plan as codified in Section 138.1
13 and pursuant to Public Works Code requirements. If privately-owned street(s) or alley(s) are created,
14 they shall be maintained and must provide public access pursuant to the standards provided in
15 Planning Code Section 270.2(e).

16 (2) Option 2. Lots shall be divided into resultant blocks of not more than 400 feet in
17 length between intersections of streets or alleys per subsection (d)(1)(C) above, that are bisected by
18 alleys or passageways, and that do not exceed a total block perimeter of 1,400 feet. Such mid-block
19 alleys or passageways shall meet the following conditions:

20 (A) Location. Be located as close to the middle portion of the subject block face,
21 defined as within 50 lateral feet from the block centerline, perpendicular to the subject frontage and
22 connecting to any existing adjacent streets and alleys. If the subject lot is not within the central portion
23 of the block, the passageway shall cross the subject lot at its centerline or within 50 lateral feet from
24 the lot centerline. For Development projects that include a Public Facility or are immediately abutting
25 a parcel containing a Public Facility, this locational requirement shall not apply.

1                                    (B) Hours of Operation. The passageway(s) must be open to the public 24
2 hours a day, seven days a week. Fences and/or gates that would prevent public access at any point
3 within the passageway(s) are prohibited.

4                                    (C) Width. The passageway(s) must maintain minimum width(s) of 20 feet
5 measured from building-to-building at any point.

6                                    (D) Walking Width. Have a minimum clear walking width of 10 feet free of any
7 obstructions in the case of a pedestrian-only right-of-way, and dual sidewalks each of not less than six
8 feet in width with not less than four feet minimum clear width in the case of an alley with vehicular
9 access.

10                                   (E) Open to the Sky. At least 60% of the passageway area must be open to the
11 sky. Obstructions permitted within setbacks pursuant to Planning Code Section 136, that do not conflict
12 with or obstruct the required walking width, may be located within the portion of the alley or
13 passageway that is required to be open to the sky. All portions of the alley or pathway not open to the
14 sky shall have a minimum clearance height from grade of 15 feet at all points. For Development
15 Projects that include a Public Facility or are immediately abutting a parcel containing to a Public
16 Facility, the required percent of the passageway area that must be open to the sky may be reduced to 17 50%.

18                                   (F) Topography. Changes in grade or steps are not permitted in an alley or
19 passageway unless required by the natural topography and average grade.

20                                   (G) Frontage. Alleys or passageways must be fronted by active ground-floor
21 uses, as defined in Section 145.1, for no less than 60% of their fronting length and in no case feature
22 more than 50 continuous feet of inactive use(s) in any segment. For development projects that include a
23 Public Facility or are immediately abutting a parcel containing a Public Facility, the required percent
24 for active ground-floor uses may be reduced to 40% and may be unevenly distributed between the
25 alley's or passageway's two sides.

1                                    (H) Visual access. Alleys or passageways must be configured to allow clear
2 visual access from one end of the passageway through the development lot to its opposite end.

3                                    (e) Additional Requirements for Private Passageways and Alleys.

4                                    (1) Maintenance. Mid-block passageways and alleys required under this Section 270.3
5 shall be maintained at no public expense unless a publicly-accepted street or alley is created pursuant
6 to subsection (d)(1) above. The owner of the property on which the alley or passageway is located shall
7 maintain it by keeping the area clean and free of litter and by keeping it in an acceptable state of
8 repair. Conditions intended to assure continued maintenance of the right-of-way for the actual lifetime
9 of the building giving rise to the open space requirement may be imposed.

10                                   (2) Informational Plaque. Prior to issuance of a permit of occupancy, a plaque shall be
11 placed in a publicly conspicuous location for pedestrian viewing. The plaque shall state the right of the 12 public to pass through the alley and stating the name and address of the owner or owner's agent
13 responsible for maintenance. The plaque shall be of no less than 24 inches by 36 inches in size.

14                                   (3) Property owners providing a pathway or alley under this Section 270.3 shall hold
15 harmless the City and County of San Francisco, its officers, agents, and employees, from any damage
16 or injury caused by the design, construction, or maintenance of the right-of-way, and are solely liable
17 for any damage or loss occasioned by any act or neglect in respect to the design, construction, or
18 maintenance of the right-of-way.

19                                   (f) Any non-vehicular portions of such a passageway or alley, including sidewalks or other
20 walking areas, seating areas, or landscaping, may count toward any open space requirements of this
22 Section 135.

24                                   Section 5. Wind Controls. Articles 1, and 2 of the Planning Code are hereby amended
25 by revising Sections 148, 243, 249.1, and 249.78, to read as follows:

1           SEC. 148. REDUCTION OF GROUND-LEVEL WIND CURRENTS FOR BUILDINGS
2 TALLER THAN 85 FEET IN C-3 CERTAIN DISTRICTS.

3           (a) Applicability. In the C-3 Districts, Van Ness Special Use District, Folsom and Main
4 Residential/Commercial Special Use District, Downtown Residential (DTR) Districts, and Central
5 SoMa Special Use District, this Section 148 shall apply to new buildings taller than 85 feet in Height,
6 vertical additions of more than 30 feet resulting in a total building height greater than 85 feet, or
7 vertical additions of more than 30 feet to an existing building that is taller than 85 feet. Building height
8 for the purpose of applicability of this Section shall be calculated pursuant to the provisions of Sections
9 260 and 263.21.

10           (b) Definitions.

11           “Equivalent Wind Speed” means an hourly average wind speed adjusted to incorporate the
12 effects of gustiness or turbulence on pedestrians, pursuant to the methodology adopted by the Planning
13 Commission, as amended from time to time.

14           “Nine-Hour Hazard Criterion” means a ground-level equivalent wind speed of 26 miles per
15 hour for nine or more hours per year.

16           (c) Controls for Hazardous Winds. Projects shall not result in any net new locations that
17 exceed the Nine-Hour Hazard Criterion.

18           (d) Wind-reducing Features. All wind-reducing features necessary to meet the requirements
19 of this Section 148 shall be identified on the approved project plan set.

20           (e) Maintenance of Wind-reducing Features. All wind-reducing features necessary to meet the
21 requirements of this Section 148 must be maintained for the life of the project. The Zoning
22 Administrator may approve, including after installation, substitution of alternate wind-reducing
23 features that would have an equal or superior effect on reducing ground-level winds at the subject
24 location, provided that such features do not conflict with or increase noncompliance with other
25 provisions of the Planning Code or other adopted Citywide Design Standards.

1           ~~(a) Requirement and Exception. In C-3 Districts, buildings and additions to existing buildings~~
2 ~~shall be shaped, or other wind-baffling measures shall be adopted, so that the developments will not~~
3 ~~cause ground level wind currents to exceed, more than 10 percent of the time year round, between 7:00~~
4 ~~a.m. and 6:00 p.m., the comfort level of 11 m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in areas of substantial~~
5 ~~pedestrian use and seven m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in public seating areas.~~

6           ~~—When preexisting ambient wind speeds exceed the comfort level, or when a proposed~~
7 ~~building or addition may cause ambient wind speeds to exceed the comfort level, the building shall be~~
8 ~~designed to reduce the ambient wind speeds to meet the requirements. An exception may be granted, in~~
9 ~~accordance with the provisions of Section 309, allowing the building or addition to add to the amount~~
10 ~~of time that the comfort level is exceeded by the least practical amount if (1) it can be shown that a~~
11 ~~building or addition cannot be shaped and other wind-baffling measures cannot be adopted to meet the~~
12 ~~foregoing requirements without creating an unattractive and ungainly building form and without~~
13 ~~unduly restricting the development potential of the building site in question, and (2) it is concluded~~
14 ~~that, because of the limited amount by which the comfort level is exceeded, the limited location in which~~
15 ~~the comfort level is exceeded, or the limited time during which the comfort level is exceeded, the~~
16 ~~addition is insubstantial.~~

17           ~~—No exception shall be granted and no building or addition shall be permitted that causes~~
18 ~~equivalent wind speeds to reach or exceed the hazard level of 26 miles per hour for a single hour of the~~
19 ~~year.~~

20           ~~(b) Definition. The term "equivalent wind speed" shall mean an hourly mean wind speed~~
21 ~~adjusted to incorporate the effects of gustiness or turbulence on pedestrians.~~

22           ~~(c) Guidelines. Procedures and Methodologies for implementing this Section shall be specified~~
23 ~~by the Office of Environmental Review of the Planning Department.~~

25           SEC. 243. VAN NESS SPECIAL USE DISTRICT.

1 * * * *

2 (c) Controls. All provisions of the Planning Code applicable to an RC-4 District shall
3 apply except as otherwise provided in this Section 243.

4 * * * *

5 (15) Wind Standards. Wind standards shall apply pursuant to Section 148. ~~Reduction~~
6 of Ground Level Wind Currents.

7 (A) New buildings and additions to existing buildings shall be shaped, or other
8 wind baffling measures shall be adopted, so that the development will not cause year-round ground
9 level wind currents to exceed, more than 10 percent of the time, between 7:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m., the
10 comfort level of 11 m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in areas of pedestrian use and seven m.p.h. equivalent
11 wind speed in public seating areas. When pre-existing ambient wind speeds exceed the comfort levels
12 specified above, the building shall be designed to reduce the ambient wind speeds in efforts to meet the 13 goals of this requirement.

14 (B) An exception to this requirement may be permitted but only if and to the 15 extent that the project sponsor demonstrates that the building or addition cannot be shaped or wind
16 baffling measures cannot be adopted without unduly restricting the development potential of the

18 (i) The exception may permit the building or addition to increase the 19 time that the comfort level is exceeded, but only to the extent necessary to avoid undue restriction of the

21 (ii) Notwithstanding the above, no exception shall be allowed and no
22 building or addition shall be permitted that causes equivalent wind speeds to reach or exceed the
23 hazard level of 26 m.p.h. for a single hour of the year. For the purposes of this Section, the term
24 "equivalent wind speed" shall mean an hourly wind speed adjusted to incorporate the effects of

3 SEC. 249.1. FOLSOM AND MAIN RESIDENTIAL/COMMERCIAL SPECIAL USE
4 DISTRICT.

5 * * * *

6 (b) Controls. The following zoning controls are applicable in the
7 Residential/Commercial Special Use District.

8 (1) Wind Standards. Wind standards shall apply pursuant to Section 148. ~~Reduction of~~
9 ~~Ground-Level Wind Currents.~~

10 (A) ~~Requirement.~~ New buildings and additions to existing buildings shall be
11 shaped, or other wind-baffling measures shall be adopted, so that the developments will not cause
12 ground-level wind currents to exceed, more than 10 percent of the time year-round, between 7:00 a.m.
13 and 6:00 p.m., the comfort level of 11 m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in areas of substantial pedestrian
14 use and seven m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in public seating areas. The term "equivalent wind speed"
15 shall mean an hourly mean wind speed adjusted to incorporate the effects of gustiness or turbulence on
16 pedestrians.

17 When preexisting ambient wind speeds exceed the comfort level, or when a proposed
18 building or addition may cause ambient wind speeds to exceed the comfort level, the building shall be
19 designed to reduce the ambient wind speeds to meet the requirements. The provisions of this Section
20 249.1(b)(3) shall not apply to any buildings or additions to existing buildings for which a draft EIR has
21 been published prior to January 1, 1985.

22 (B) ~~Exception.~~ The Zoning Administrator may allow the building or addition to
23 add to the amount of time the comfort level is exceeded by the least practical amount if (1) it can be
24 shown that a building or addition cannot be shaped and other wind-baffling measures cannot be
25 adopted to meet the foregoing requirements without creating an unattractive and ungainly building

1 ~~form and without unduly restricting the development potential of the building site in question, and (2) it~~
2 ~~is concluded that, because of the limited amount by which the comfort level is exceeded, the limited~~
3 ~~location in which the comfort level is exceeded, or the limited time during which the comfort level is~~
4 ~~exceeded, the addition is insubstantial.~~

5 ~~The Zoning Administrator shall not grant an exception and no building or addition~~
6 ~~shall be permitted that causes equivalent wind speeds to reach or exceed the hazard level of 26 miles~~
7 ~~per hour for a single hour of the year.~~

8 ~~(C) Procedures. Procedures and methodologies for implementing this Section~~
9 ~~shall be specified by the Office of Environmental Review of the Planning Department.~~

14 (d) Urban Design and Density Controls.

15 * * * *

16 (9) Wind Standards. Wind standards shall apply pursuant to Section 148.

17 ~~(A) Applicability. This subsection shall apply to new buildings above 85 feet in~~
18 ~~Height and additions to existing buildings that result in a building above 85 feet in Height.~~

20 ~~“Comfort Level” means ground-level equivalent wind speeds of 11 miles per hour in~~
21 ~~areas of substantial pedestrian use and seven miles per hour in public seating areas between 7:00 a.m.~~
22 ~~and 6:00 p.m. when occurring for more than 15 percent of the time year round.~~

23 ~~“Equivalent Wind Speed” means an hourly mean wind speed adjusted to incorporate the~~
24 ~~effects of gustiness or turbulence on pedestrians.~~

25 ~~“Nine Hour Hazard Criterion” means a ground-level equivalent wind speed of 26 miles~~

1 per hour for more than nine hours per year per test location.

2 “One-Hour Hazard Criterion” means a ground-level equivalent wind speed of 26 miles
3 per hour for more than one hour per year per test location.

4 “Substantial Increase” means an increase in wind speeds of more than six miles per
5 hour for more than 15 percent of the time year round.

6 ~~(C) Controls for Wind Comfort.~~

7 (i) Projects may not result in wind speeds that exceed the Comfort Level
8 at any location.

9 (ii) Projects may not cause a Substantial Increase in wind speed at any
10 location where the existing or resulting wind speed exceeds the Comfort Level.

11 (iii) Pursuant to Section 329, the Planning Commission may grant an
12 exception to the standards of subsections (i) and (ii) above as applied to a project if it finds that the
13 project meets the following criteria:

14 (aa) It has undertaken all feasible measures to reduce wind
15 speeds through such means as building sculpting and appurtenances, permanent wind baffling
16 measures, and landscaping; and

17 (bb) Reducing wind speeds further would substantially detract
18 from the building design or unduly restrict the square footage of the project.

19 ~~(D) Controls for Hazardous Winds.~~

20 (i) Projects shall not result in net new locations with an exceedance of
21 the One-Hour Hazard Criterion, except as allowed by the Planning Commission based on criteria
22 described in subsection (ii) below.

23 (ii) Pursuant to Section 329, the Planning Commission may grant an
24 exception to the standard of subsection (i) above as applied to a proposed project if it finds that the
25 proposed project meets all of the following criteria:

1 ~~(aa) The project with wind reduction measures does not result~~
2 ~~in net new locations with an exceedance of the Nine-Hour Hazard Criterion;~~

3 ~~(bb) The project has undertaken all feasible measures to reduce~~
4 ~~hazardous wind speeds, such as building sculpting and appurtenances, permanent wind baffling~~
5 ~~measures, and landscaping; and~~

6 ~~(cc) Meeting the requirements of subsection (i) would detract~~
7 ~~from the building design or unduly restrict the square footage of the project.~~

8 ~~(iii) No exception shall be granted and no building or addition shall be~~
9 ~~permitted for any project that causes net new locations with an exceedance in the Nine-Hour Hazard~~
10 ~~Criterion.~~

11 ~~(E) Guidelines. Procedures and methodologies for implementing this~~
12 ~~subsection shall be issued by the Department.~~

14 Section 6. Residential Districts. Article 2 of the Planning Code is hereby amended by 15 revising Sections 209, 209.1, 209.2, and 209.3, to read as follows:

17 SEC. 209. DESCRIPTION AND PURPOSE OF RESIDENTIAL AND RESIDENTIAL-
18 COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

19 The following statements of description and purpose outline the main functions of the 20 Residential and Residential-Commercial (Residential) Districts in the zoning plan for San
21 Francisco, supplementing the statements of purpose contained in Section 101 of this Code.

22 (a) Purpose. These Districts are established for purposes of implementing the
23 Residence element and other elements of the General Plan, according to the objectives,
24 principles and policies stated therein. Among these purposes are the following:

- 25 (1) Preservation, improvement and maintenance of the existing housing stock

1 through protection of neighborhood environments and encouragement of sound ownership
2 practices and rehabilitation efforts;

3 (2) Recognition and protection of the architectural characteristics and urban
4 patterns ~~densities~~ of existing residential areas;

5 (3) Maximizing of housing choice by assuring the availability of quality owner
6 and rental housing of various kinds, suitable for a whole range of household types, lifestyles
7 and economic levels;

8 (4) Encouragement of residential development that will meet outstanding
9 community needs, provide adequate indoor and outdoor spaces for its occupants, and relate
10 well to the character and scale of existing neighborhoods and structures; and

11 (5) Promotion of balanced and convenient neighborhoods having appropriate
12 public improvements and services, suitable nonresidential activities that are compatible with 13 housing and meet the needs of residents, and other amenities that contribute to the livability
14 of residential areas.

15 (b) Uses and Features Permitted in Residential and Residential-Commercial
16 Districts. The uses and features permitted in Residential and Residential-Commercial
17 Districts are listed in the Zoning Control Tables in Sections 209.1 through 209.4.

19 SEC. 209.1. RH (RESIDENTIAL, HOUSE) DISTRICTS.

20 These Districts are intended to recognize, ~~protect, conserve,~~ and enhance areas
21 characterized by dwellings in the form of houses and small multi-family buildings, usually with
22 one, two, or three units with separate entrances, and limited scale in terms of building width
23 and height, and characterized by rear yards and a pattern of mid-block open spaces. Such 24 areas tend to have similarity of building styles and predominantly contain large units suitable
25 for family occupancy, considerable open space, and limited nonresidential uses. In all RH

1 Districts, multi-family buildings with four or more units are permitted under various provisions of this
2 Code. The RH Districts are composed of five separate classes of districts, as follows:

3 RH-1(D) Districts: One-Family (Detached Dwellings). These Districts are
4 characterized by lots of greater width and area than in other parts of the City, and by single-
5 family houses with side yards. The structures are relatively large, but rarely exceed 35 feet in
6 height. Ground level open space and landscaping at the front and rear are usually abundant.
7 Much of the development has been in sizable tracts with similarities of building style and
8 narrow streets following the contours of hills. ~~In some cases private covenants have controlled the~~
9 ~~nature of development and helped to maintain the street areas.~~

10 RH-1 Districts: One-Family. These Districts ~~are~~have been occupied almost entirely by
11 single-family houses on lots 25 feet in width, without side yards. Floor sizes and building
12 styles vary, but tend to be uniform within tracts developed in distinct time periods. Though
13 built on separate lots, the structures have the appearance of small-scale row housing, rarely
14 exceeding 35 feet in height. Front setbacks are common, and ground level open space is 15 generous. ~~In most cases the single-family character of these Districts has been maintained for a~~
16 ~~considerable time.~~

17 RH-1(S) Districts: One-Family with Minor Second Unit. These Districts are similar in 18 character to RH-1 Districts, except that a small second dwelling unit has been installed in
19 many structures, usually by conversion of a ground-story space formerly part of the main unit
20 or devoted to storage. The second unit remains subordinate to the owner's unit, and may 21 house one or two persons related to the owner or be rented to others. Despite these
22 conversions, the structures retain the appearance of single-family dwellings.

23 RH-2 Districts: Two-Family. These Districts ~~are devoted to~~have been historically
24 developed with one-family and two-family houses, with the latter commonly consisting of two
25 large flats, one occupied by the owner and the other available for rental. Structures are finely

1 scaled and usually do not exceed 25 feet in width or 40 feet in height. Building styles are often
 2 more varied than in historically single-family areas, but certain streets and tracts are quite
 3 uniform. Considerable ground-level open space is available, and it frequently is private for
 4 each unit. The Districts may have easy access to shopping facilities and transit lines. In some
 5 cases, Group Housing and institutions are found in these areas, although nonresidential uses
 6 tend to be quite limited.

7 RH-3 Districts: Three-Family. These Districts have many similarities to RH-2 Districts,
 8 but structures with three units are common in addition to one-family and two-family houses.
 9 The predominant form is has historically been large flats rather than apartments, with lots 25 feet
 10 wide, a fine or moderate scale, and separate entrances for each unit. Building styles tend to 11 be varied but complementary to one another. Outdoor space is available at ground level, and 12 also on decks and balconies for individual units. Nonresidential uses are more common in 13 these areas than in RH-2 Districts.

SEC. 209.3. RC (RESIDENTIAL-COMMERCIAL) DISTRICTS.

These Districts are intended to recognize, protect, conserve, and enhance areas characterized by structures combining Residential uses with neighborhood-serving Commercial uses. The predominant Residential uses are preserved, while provision is made for supporting Commercial uses, usually in or below the ground story, that meet the frequent needs of nearby residents without generating excessive vehicular traffic. The compact, walkable, transit-oriented and mixed-use nature of these Districts is recognized by no off-street parking requirements. The RC Districts are composed of two separate districts, as follows:

RC-3 Districts: ~~Medium Density.~~ These Districts provide for Residential Uses~~a mixture of medium-density Dwellings similar to those in RM-3 Districts,~~ with supporting Commercial ~~u~~Uses. Open spaces are required for Dwellings in the same manner as in RM-3 Districts, except that rear yards need not be at ground level and front setback areas are not required.

RC-4 Districts: ~~High Density.~~ These Districts provide for Residential Uses~~, a mixture of high-density Dwellings similar to those in RM-4 Districts~~ with supporting Commercial uses. Open spaces are required for Dwellings in the same manner as in RM-4 Districts, except that rear yards need not be at ground level and front setback areas are not required.

 14 SEC. 124. BASIC FLOOR AREA RATIO.

15 (a) Except as provided in subsections (b), (c), (d), (e), (k), and (l) of this Section 124,
 16 the basic Floor Area Ratio limits specified in the Zoning Control Table for the district in which 17 the lot is located, or in Table 124 below, shall apply to each building or development in the 18 districts indicated.

(b) In R, RC, NC, and Mixed Use Districts, ~~F~~floor ~~A~~area ~~R~~ratio limits shall not apply to ~~dwelling~~s or to other ~~r~~Residential ~~u~~Uses. However, projects proposing new construction of a Dwelling Unit that would exceed the maximum dwelling unit size described in Section 207.10 may require Conditional Use authorization by the Planning Commission as set forth in Section 207.10. In Chinatown Mixed Use Districts, the above floor area ratio limits shall not apply to institutions, and mezzanine commercial space shall not be calculated as part of the floor area ratio.

SEC. 132. FRONT SETBACK AREAS IN RTO, RH, AND RM DISTRICTS AND FOR REQUIRED SETBACKS FOR PROJECTS IN NC AND RTO-C DISTRICTS, AND PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENTS.

The following requirements for minimum front setback areas shall apply to every building in all RH, RTO, and RM Districts, in order to relate the setbacks provided to the existing front setbacks of adjacent buildings. ~~Buildings in RTO Districts which have more than 75 feet of street frontage are additionally subject to the Ground Floor Residential Design Guidelines, as adopted and periodically amended by the Planning Commission.~~ Planned Unit Developments or PUDs, as defined in Section 304, shall also provide landscaping in required setbacks in accord with Section 132(g).

(c) Applicability to Special Lot Situations.

1                   (3) Lots Abutting RC, C, M, and P Districts. In the case of any lot that abuts
2 property in an RC, C, M, or P District, any property in such district shall be disregarded, and
3 the required setback for the subject lot shall be equal to the front setback of the adjacent
4 building in the RH, RTO, or RM District.

5                   * * * *

6                   (e) Required Front Setbacks and Sidewalk Widths in RTO-C and NC Districts.

7                   (1) Applicability. This subsection (e) applies to projects located in RTO-C and
8 Neighborhood Commercial (NC) Districts that meet any of the following criteria:

9                                   (A) Have a street frontage of 50 feet or more;

10                                  (B) Are located on a Corner Lot; or

11                                  (C) Are adjacent to a building with a front setback consistent with the 12 requirements of this subsection.

13                   (2) Setback Requirement. Where the sidewalk does not meet the recommended width
14 required by the Better Streets Plan, a front setback shall be provided to widen the publicly accessible
15 sidewalk. The setback must be wide enough so that, when combined with the existing sidewalk, the total
16 distance from the curb to the building frontage meets or exceeds the recommended width under the
17 Better Streets Plan. If a greater front setback is required under Section 132 or any other provision of 18 this Code, the greater requirement shall apply. This setback is required only up to 15 feet above street
19 grade.

20                   * * * *

21                   (h) Permeable Surfaces. The front setback area shall be at least 50% permeable so
22 as to increase stormwater infiltration. The Permeable Surface may be inclusive of the area
23 counted towards the landscaping requirement; provided, however, that turf pavers or similar
24 planted hardscapes shall be counted only toward the Permeable Surface requirement and not
25 the landscape requirement.

1 (1) The Zoning Administrator, after consultation with the Director of Public
2 Works, may waive the Permeable Surface requirement if the site does not qualify as a
3 suitable location pursuant to Department of Public Works rules and regulations.

4 (2) If the site receives stormwater run-off from outside the lot boundaries, the
5 Zoning Administrator, after consultation with the General Manager of the Public Utilities
6 Commission, may modify the Permeable Surface requirement to include alternative
7 management strategies, such as bio-retention or other strategies, pursuant to Public Utilities
8 Commission rules and regulations.

9 (3) If a portion of the front setback is designed as a publicly-accessible sidewalk
10 extension to satisfy the Better Streets Standard width standards under subsection (e), then the 11 provisions of this subsection (h) do not apply.

14 SEC. 134. REAR YARDS IN R, RC, RTO, NC, M, CMUO, MUG, MUO, MUR, RED,
15 RED-MX, SPD, UMU, AND WMUG DISTRICTS; AND LOT COVERAGE REQUIREMENTS
16 IN C DISTRICTS.

17 * * * *

18 (b) Applicability. The rear yard requirements established by this Section 134 shall
19 apply to every building in the districts listed below, ~~except NC-S Districts, where no rear yard is~~
20 ~~required.~~ To the extent that these provisions are inconsistent with any Special Use District or
21 Residential Character District, the provisions of the Special Use District or Residential
22 Character District shall apply.

23 (c) Basic Requirements. The basic rear yard requirements shall be as follows for the 24 districts indicated:

25 (1) In RH, RM-1, RM-2, RTO-1, and RTO-M Zoning Districts, the basic rear

1 yard shall be equal to 30% of the total depth of the lot on which the building is situated, but in
2 no case less than 15 feet.

3 * * * *

4 (d) Rear Yard Location Requirements.

5 (1) RH, RM, RTO-I, RTO-M, NC-1, NCT-1, Inner Sunset, Outer Clement
6 Street, Cole Valley, Haight Street, Lakeside Village, Sacramento Street, 24th Street-Noe
7 Valley, Pacific Avenue, and West Portal Avenue NC Districts. Rear yards shall be
8 provided at grade level and at each succeeding level or story of the building.

9 (2) RTO-C, NC-S, NC-2, NCT-2, Ocean Avenue, Inner Balboa Street, Outer
10 Balboa Street, Castro Street, Cortland Avenue, Divisadero Street NCT, Excelsior-Outer
11 Mission Street, Inner Clement Street, Upper Fillmore Street, Lower Haight Street, Judah
12 Street, Noriega Street, North Beach, San Bruno Avenue, Taraval Street, Inner Taraval
13 Street, Irving Street, Union Street, Valencia Street, 24th Street-Mission, Glen Park, and
14 Folsom Street NC Districts, and the Regional Commercial District and Folsom Street Districts.

15 Rear yards shall be provided at the second story, and at each succeeding story of the 16 building, and at the First Story if it contains a Dwelling Unit.

17 * * * *

18 (~~6H~~) Lot Coverage in C Districts. Lot coverage is limited to 80% at all levels
19 containing residential uses, except that on levels that include only lobbies and circulation
20 areas and on levels in which all residential uses, including circulation areas, are within 40
21 horizontal feet from a property line fronting a street or alley, up to 100% lot coverage may
22 occur. The unbuilt portion of the lot shall be open to the sky except for those obstructions
23 permitted in yards pursuant to subsections (1) through (23) of Section 136(c). Where the 24 adjacent properties have an existing rear yard, the unbuilt area of the new project shall be
25 designed to adjoin that rear yard. In accordance with Section 210.5, lot coverage

1 requirements shall not be applicable for Commercial to Residential Adaptive Reuse projects.

2 * * * *

3 (f) Second Building on Corner Lots and Through Lots in RH, RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, RM-1,
4 and RM-2 Districts. Where a lot is a Corner Lot, or is a through lot having both its front and
5 its rear lot line along Streets, Alleys, or a Street and an Alley, the subject lot may have two
6 buildings, each fronting at one end of the lot, provided that all the other requirements of this
7 Code are met. In such cases, the rear yard required by this Section 134 for the subject lot
8 shall be located in the central portion of the lot, between the two buildings on such lot. In no
9 case shall the total minimum rear yard for the subject lot be thus reduced to less than a depth
10 equal to 30% of the total depth of the subject lot or to less than 15 feet, whichever is greater;
11 provided, however, that the Zoning Administrator may reduce the total depth to 20% pursuant
12 to Section 307(l) of this Code if the reduction is for the sole purpose of constructing an
13 Accessory Dwelling Unit under Section 207.1, and provided further that the reduction/waiver is 14 in consideration of the property owner entering into a Regulatory Agreement pursuant to
15 Section 207.1 subjecting the ADU to the San Francisco Rent Stabilization and Arbitration
16 Ordinance. For buildings fronting on a Narrow Street as defined in Section 261.1 of this Code,
17 the additional height limits of Section 261.1 shall apply. Furthermore, in all cases in which this
18 subsection (f) is applied, the requirements of Section 132 of this Code for front setback areas
19 shall be applicable along both Street or Alley frontages of the subject through lot.

20 * * * *

21 (l) Lot Coverage for Large Lots. This subsection (l) shall apply to all districts except C-3
22 districts. In lieu of rear yard and lot coverage controls described in this Section 134, where a
23 development lot is two acres or greater, the allowed lot coverage for any project containing residential
24 uses shall be limited to 60% of lot area at street grade and above with a corresponding requirement of
25 40% unbuilt area in Residential Districts other than RTO-C, and in all other districts 65% lot coverage

1 from the second story and above with 35% lot area unbuilt. Obstructions permitted in setbacks and
2 yards per Section 136 are permitted in the unbuilt area. New rights-of-way, pedestrian passageways or
3 any portion of the site provided for publicly-accessible circulation or open space, including but not
4 limited to any such space provided pursuant to Planning Code Sections 270.2, 270.3, or elsewhere in
5 this Code, may count toward the required unbuilt area.

6
7 SEC. 135. USABLE OPEN SPACE FOR DWELLING UNITS AND GROUP
8 HOUSING, R, NC, MIXED USE, C, AND M DISTRICTS.

9 * * * *

10 (a) Character of Space Provided. Usable open space shall generally be composed of 11 an outdoor area or areas designed for outdoor living, recreation or landscaping, including 12 such areas on the ground and on decks, balconies, porches and roofs, which are safe and
13 suitably surfaced and screened, and which conform to the other requirements of this Section.
14 Such area or areas shall be on the same lot as the dwelling units (or bedrooms in group
15 housing) they serve, and shall be designed and oriented in a manner that will make the best
16 practical use of available sun and other climatic advantages. "Private usable open space"
17 shall mean an area or areas private to and designed for use by only one dwelling unit (or 18 bedroom in group housing). "Common usable open space" shall mean an area or areas
19 designed for use jointly by two or more dwelling units (or bedrooms in group housing).
20 "Privately-owned public open space," only allowed in DTR and Eastern Neighborhood Mixed
21 Use under this Section, shall mean an area of areas designed for use of the general public
22 while owned and maintained by private owners as described in Section 138. For senior
23 housing, usable open space requirements are set forth in subsection (d)(3) below.

24 * * * *

25 (d) Amount Required. Usable open space shall be provided for each building in the

1 amounts specified herein and in Tables 135A and B for the district in which the building is
2 located; provided, however, that (i) in the Downtown Residential (DTR) Districts, open space
3 shall be provided in the amounts specified in Section 825, and (ii) in accordance with Section
4 210.5, usable open space shall not be required for Commercial to Residential Adaptive Reuse
5 projects.

6 * * * *

7 (3) In all districts, For dwellings specifically designed for and occupied by
8 senior citizens, as defined and regulated by Section 102.6.1 of this Code, the minimum
9 amount of usable open space to be provided for use by each dwelling unit shall be one-half
10 the amount required for each dwelling unit as specified in Paragraph (d)(1) above or 36 square
11 feet, whichever is less. Notwithstanding 135(a), for these dwellings, “common usable open space” shall
12 also include indoor community space, defined as indoor space that is not less than 10 feet wide in all
13 directions at all points, is accessible to all residents of the building or site equally at no additional cost,
14 is specifically configured and designed for leisure and/or recreational use, and shall not include any
15 building circulation spaces, lobbies, or other building or resident support facilities not specifically
16 intended for leisure and/or recreational use.

17 * * * *

18 (6) ~~Efficiency Dwelling Units With Reduced Square Footage. Common usable open~~
19 ~~space shall be the preferred method of meeting the open space requirement for Efficiency Dwelling~~
20 ~~Units with reduced square footage, as defined in Section 318 of this Code. Private open space shall not~~
21 ~~be credited toward satisfaction of the open space requirement for such units unless the Zoning~~
22 ~~Administrator determines that the provision of common open space is infeasible or undesirable, in~~ 23 ~~whole or in part, due to~~

- 24 ~~——(A) site constraints,~~
- 25 ~~——(B) the special needs of anticipated residents, or~~

1           —(C) ~~conflicts with other applicable policies and regulations, including but not limited to~~
 2 ~~standards for the treatment of historic properties, the Americans with Disabilities Act, or the Building~~
 3 ~~Code.~~

4           —(7) Homeless Shelters. Homeless Shelters, as defined in Section 102 of this
 5 Code, are exempt from the open space requirements described in this Section 135.

22           SEC. 144. STREET FRONTAGES IN RH, RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, AND RM DISTRICTS.

23           (a) Purpose. This Section 144 is enacted to assure that in RH, RM, and RTO and
 24 ~~RTO-M~~ Districts the ground story of dwellings as viewed from the street is compatible with the
 25 scale and character of the existing street frontage, visually interesting and attractive in relation

1 to the pattern of the neighborhood, and so designed that adequate areas are provided for
2 front landscaping, street trees and on-street parking between driveways. The design of
3 ground story frontages subject to this Section 144 shall also be reviewed for consistency with
4 applicable design guidelines, including the Ground Floor Residential Design Guidelines.

5 (b) Controls.

6 (1) Entrances to Off-Street Parking. Except as otherwise provided herein, in
7 the case of every dwelling in such districts no more than one-third of the width of the ground
8 story along the front lot line, or along a street side lot line, or along a building wall that is set
9 back from any such lot line, shall be devoted to entrances to off-street parking, except that in
10 no event shall a lot be limited by this requirement to a single such entrance of less than 10 ~~ten~~
11 feet in width, or to a single such entrance of less than 8 ~~eight~~ feet in RTO ~~and RTO-M~~
12 ~~Districts~~. In addition, no entrance to off-street parking on any lot shall be wider than 20 feet,
13 and where two or more separate entrances are provided there shall be a minimum separation
14 between such entrances of six feet. Lots ~~in RTO and RTO-M districts~~ are limited to a total of 20
15 feet per block frontage devoted to entrances to off-street parking. Street-facing garage
16 structures and garage doors may not extend closer to the street than a primary building
17 facade unless the garage structure and garage door are consistent with the features listed in
18 Section 136 of this Code. Entrances to off-street parking shall be located at least six feet from 19 a lot corner located at the intersection of two public rights-of-way.

22 SEC. 186. EXEMPTION OF LIMITED COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL
23 NONCONFORMING USES IN RH, RM, RTO-1, RTO-M, AND RED DISTRICTS.

24 * * * *

25 (a) Exemption from Termination Provisions. The following nonconforming uses in

1 R Districts shall be exempt from the termination provisions of Section 185, provided such uses
2 comply with all the conditions specified in subsection (b) below:

4 (4) In the RED Districts, any nonconforming use that is Arts Activities, Business
5 Service, Catering, Design Professional, Light Manufacturing, Personal Service, Trade Office,
6 Trade Shop, Wholesale Sales, or Wholesale Storage, use.

7 (b) Conditions on Limited Nonconforming Uses. The limited nonconforming uses
8 described above shall meet the following conditions:

9 * * * *

10 (3) The hours during which the use is open to the public shall be limited to the
11 period between 6:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m., however, in RED, RTO-1, and RTO-M Districts
12 only, the Planning Commission may extend the hours of operation to 12:00 a.m. through
13 Conditional Use authorization, as outlined in Section 303 of this Code;

14 * * * *

17 RTO-1, AND RTO-M DISTRICTS.

18 Any use listed as a Principal or Conditional Use permitted on the ground floor in an NC-
19 1 District, when located in a structure on a landmark site designated pursuant to Article 10 of
20 this Code, is permitted with Conditional Use authorization pursuant to Section 303 of this
21 Code, provided that no Conditional Use shall be authorized under this ~~provision~~ Section 186.3
22 unless (1) such authorization conforms to the applicable provisions of Section 303 of this
23 Code, and (2) the specific use so authorized is essential to the feasibility of retaining and
24 preserving the landmark.

25 SEC. 201. CLASSES OF USE DISTRICTS.

Residential Districts
(Defined in Sec. 209.1-209.4)
* * * *
RTO-I	Residential, Transit-Oriented Neighborhood Districts (Defined in Sec. 209.4)
RTO-C	Residential, Transit-Oriented, Commercial Districts (Defined in Sec. 209.4)
RTO-M	Residential, Transit-Oriented – Mission Neighborhood Districts (Defined in Sec. 209.4)

* * * *

In addition to the classes of use districts in the above table, the following terms shall apply:

* * * *

"RTO District" shall mean any RTO-I, RTO-C, or RTO-M District;

SEC. 207.6. REQUIRED MINIMUM DWELLING UNIT MIX IN RTO-I, RTO-M, RCD, NCT, DTR, EASTERN NEIGHBORHOODS MIXED USE DISTRICTS, THE VAN NESS & MARKET RESIDENTIAL SPECIAL USE DISTRICT, AND THE POLK STREET AND PACIFIC AVENUE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

(a) Purpose. In order to foster flexible and creative infill development while maintaining the character of the district, dwelling unit density is not controlled by lot area in RTO-I, RTO-M, NCT, and Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts but rather by the physical constraints of this Code (such as height, bulk, setbacks, open space, and dwelling

1 unit exposure). However, to ensure an adequate supply of family-sized units in existing and
2 new housing stock, new residential construction must include a minimum percentage of units
3 of at least two bedrooms. In the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street Neighborhood Commercial
4 Districts, and the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District, a dwelling unit mix
5 requirement addresses the need for family-sized housing production in these districts.

6 (b) Applicability.

7 (1) This Section 207.6 shall apply in the RTO-I, RTO-M, RCD, NCT, DTR,
8 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use
9 District, and the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street NCDs.

10 * * * *

11 (c) Controls. For all RTO-I, RTO-M, RCD and NCT districts, as well as DTR,

12 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use
13 District, and the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street NCDs, one of the following three must apply:

14 (1) no less than 40% of the total number of proposed Dwelling Units shall 15 contain at least two bedrooms. Any fraction resulting from this calculation shall be rounded to
16 the nearest whole number of Dwelling Units, or

17 (2) no less than 30% of the total number of proposed Dwelling Units shall
18 contain at least three bedrooms. Any fraction resulting from this calculation shall be rounded
19 to the nearest whole number of Dwelling Units, or

20 (3) no less than 35% of the total number of proposed Dwelling Units shall 21 contain at least two or three bedrooms with at least 10% of the total number of proposed
22 Dwelling Units containing three bedrooms. Any fraction resulting from this calculation shall be
23 rounded to the nearest whole number of Dwelling Units.

24 (d) Modifications.

25 (1) In NCT, RCD, RTO-I, RTO-M and the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street NC

1 Districts, these requirements may be waived or modified with Conditional Use Aauthorization.
2 In addition to those conditions set forth in Section 303, the Planning Commission shall
3 consider the following criteria:

4 (A) The project demonstrates a need or mission to serve unique
5 populations, or

6 (B) The project site or existing building(s), if any, feature physical
7 constraints that make it unreasonable to fulfill these requirements.

8 (2) In Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, these requirements may be
9 waived in return for provision of family-sized affordable units, pursuant to Section 419 et seq.
10 To receive this waiver, 100%~~percent~~ of the total number of inclusionary units required under 11 Section 415 et seq. or Section 419 et seq. shall contain at least two bedrooms. Also in
12 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, these requirements may be waived or modified
13 through the Variance process set forth in Section 305, or in the case of projects subject to
14 Section 329, through the procedures of that section.

15 (3) In DTR Districts, these requirements may be modified per the procedures of
16 Section 309.1.

17 (4) In the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District, these 18 requirements may only be modified pursuant to the procedures of Section 309, regardless of 19 the underlying zoning district.

22 SEC. 207.7. REQUIRED MINIMUM DWELLING UNIT MIX.

23 (a) Purpose. To ensure an adequate supply of family-sized units in new housing
24 stock, new residential construction must include a minimum percentage of units of at least two
25 and three bedrooms.

1 (b) Applicability.

2 (1) This Section 207.7 shall apply to all applications for building permits and/or
3 Planning Commission entitlements that propose the creation of 10 or more Dwelling Units in
4 all districts that allow residential uses, unless that project is located in the RTO-I, RTO-M,
5 RCD, NCT, DTR, and Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, or in an area or Special
6 Use District with higher specific bedroom mix requirements, or is a HOME SF project subject
7 to the requirements of Planning Code Section 206.3.

8 * * * *

9
10 SEC. 208. DENSITY LIMITATIONS FOR GROUP HOUSING OR HOMELESS
11 SHELTERS.

12 The density limitations for Group Housing or Homeless Shelters, as described in
13 Sections 102 and 890.88(b) and (c) of this Code, shall be as follows:

14 (a) For Group Housing, the maximum number of Bedrooms on each Lot shall be as
15 specified in the Zoning Control Table for the District in which the Lot is located, except that in
16 RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, RCD, UMU, MUG, WMUG, MUR, MUO, CMUO, WMUO, RED, RED-MX, SPD,
17 DTR, and all NCT Districts the density of Group Housing shall not be limited by lot area, and
18 except that for Lots in NC Districts, the group housing density shall not exceed the number of
19 Bedrooms permitted in the nearest R District provided that the maximum density not be less
20 than the amount permitted by the ratio specified for the NC District in which the lot is located.
21 For Homeless Shelters, the maximum number of beds on each lot shall be regulated pursuant
22 to the requirements of the Standards of Care for City Shelters contained in Administrative
23 Code, Chapter 20, Article XIII, in addition to the applicable requirements of the Building Code
24 and Fire Code.

1
2           SEC. 209.4. RTO (RESIDENTIAL TRANSIT ORIENTED) DISTRICTS.

3           ~~These~~RTO (Residential Transit Oriented) Districts, inclusive of RTO-1, RTO-M, and RTO-C
4 Districts, are intended to recognize, ~~protect, conserve,~~ and enhance areas characterized by a
5 mixture of houses and apartment buildings, covering a range of densities and building forms.
6 RTO-1 (Residential, Transit -Oriented Neighborhood) and RTO-M (Residential Transit Oriented,
7 Mission) Districts are composed of multi-family moderate-density areas, primarily areas
8 formerly designated RM and RH-3; RTO-C (Residential Transit Oriented, Commercial) permits
9 neighborhood-serving uses at limited sizes along with housing. RTO Districts~~and~~ are well served
10 within short walking distance, generally less than one-quarter mile, of transit and 11 neighborhood commercial areas. Transit available on nearby streets is frequent and/or
12 provides multiple lines serving different parts of the City or region. In RTO-1 and RTO-M
13 Districts, ~~limited~~ small-scale neighborhood-oriented retail and services ~~is~~are common and
14 permitted throughout the neighborhood on Corner Lots only to provide goods and services to 15 residents within walking distance, but the ~~the~~Districts are otherwise residential. In RTO-1 and
16 RTO-M Districts, ~~only~~ retail compatible with housing, generally those permitted in NC-1
17 Districts, is permitted and auto-oriented uses are not permitted; ~~the~~hours of operation are
18 restricted and off-street parking is not permitted for these very locally-oriented uses. In the
19 RTO-C District, a greater amount and wider range of non-residential uses are permitted and not
20 limited to corners, to provide goods and services to residents and visitors, especially adjacent to 21 existing NC Districts and along transit corridors, though ground floor commercial uses are not
22 required.

23           ~~Areas of these districts off of major commercial or transit streets are largely characterized by~~
24 a fine-grain pattern of 25-foot to 35-foot building widths, with some larger and wider structures
25 on major streets is prevalent, and structures typically range from two to five stories in height. While

1 some one- and two-family structures are present, the character of the District is primarily of
 2 structures with three or more units of a range of sizes and types suitable for a variety of
 3 households. Buildings are moderately scaled and segmented, and units or groups of units
 4 have separate entrances directly from the street. ~~The overall residential density is regulated by the~~
 5 ~~permitted and required height, bulk, setbacks, and open space of each parcel, along with residential~~
 6 ~~design guidelines. Except in the RTO-1 District, housing density is generally limited not by lot area, but~~
 7 ~~by the regulations on the built envelope of buildings, including height, bulk, setbacks, and lot coverage,~~
 8 ~~and standards for Residential Uses, including open space and exposure, and urban design standards.~~
 9 Because of the high availability of transit service and the proximity of retail and services within
 10 walking distance, many households do not own cars; it is common that not every Dwelling
 11 Unit has a parking space and overall off-street residential parking is limited. Open space is 12 provided on site, in the form of rear yards, decks, balconies, roof-decks, and courtyards, and
 13 is augmented by nearby public parks, plazas, and enhanced streetscapes.

17 ~~the Gross Floor Area of the largest unit in the building.~~ No use size limit applies for Non-residential
18 uses located on a lot where at least 2/3 of the total gross floor area contains Residential uses. No use
19 size limit applies to a Non-residential use that is principally permitted in a RM-1 District. Conditional
20 Use authorization is required for all use sizes if the Use does not meet one of those conditions. The 21 controls applicable to each Use as provided in this Table 209.4 continue to apply. Nothing in the 22 foregoing principally permits or conditionally authorizes a Use that is not permitted in this Table
23 209.4.

25 SEC. 231. LIMITED CORNER COMMERCIAL USES IN RH, RTO-I, RTO-M, AND RM

1 DISTRICTS.

2 (a) Purpose. Corner stores enhance and support the character and traditional pattern
3 of development in San Francisco. These small neighborhood-oriented establishments provide
4 convenience goods and services on a retail basis to meet the frequent and recurring needs of
5 neighborhood residents within a short walking distance of their homes. These uses tend to be
6 small in scale, to serve primarily walk-in trade, and cause minimum interference with nearby
7 streets and properties. These uses are permitted only on the ground floor of corner buildings,
8 and their intensity and operating hours are limited to ensure compatibility with the 9 predominantly residential character of the district. Accessory off-street parking is prohibited for 10 these uses to maintain the local neighborhood walk-in character of the uses.

11 (b) Location. Uses permitted under this Section 231 must be located:

- 12 (1) completely within an RH, RTO-1, RTO-M, or RM District;
- 13 (2) on or below the ground floor;
- 14 (3) in RH, RM-1, RM-2, ~~and~~ RTO-1, ~~and~~ RTO-M Districts, on a Corner Lot, with

15 no part of the use extending more than 50 feet in depth from said corner, as illustrated in 16 Figure 231; ~~and~~

17 (4) in a space that would not require the Residential Conversion of a
18 Residential Unit or Unauthorized Unit under Planning Code Section 317, unless the space
19 proposed for conversion is occupied by a garage or storage space located in the Basement or 20 First Story; ~~and~~

21 [Figure 231 remains]

22 (5) in RM-3, RM-4, and RTO-M Districts, on a Corner Lot, with no part of the 23 use extending more than 100 feet in depth from said corner.

24 * * * *

25 (d) Use Size. In any RH, RM-1, or RM-2 District, the use size shall comply with the

1 use size limitations of a Neighborhood Commercial District or Special Use District located
2 within one-quarter mile of the use, up to a maximum of 1,200 square feet of Occupied Floor
3 Area of commercial area. In any RM-3 or RM-4 District, the use size shall comply with the use
4 size limitations of a Neighborhood Commercial District or Special Use District located within
5 one-quarter mile of the use, up to a maximum of 2,500 square feet of Commercial Use. No
6 more than 1,200 square feet of Occupied Floor Area of commercial area in a RTO-I District or
7 in a RH, RM-1, or RM-2 District if the use is more than one-quarter mile from a Neighborhood
8 Commercial District or Special Use District, and no more than 2,500 occupied square feet of
9 Commercial Use in a RTO-M District or in a RM-3 or RM-4 District if the use is more than one-
10 quarter mile from a Neighborhood Commercial District or Special Use District shall be allowed
11 per Corner Lot, subject to the following exception. On lots which occupy more than one corner
12 on a given block, an additional 1,200 square feet of Occupied Floor Area of Commercial Use
13 shall be allowed per additional corner, so long as the commercial space is distributed
14 equitably throughout appropriate parts of the parcel or project.

15 (e) Formula Retail Uses. All uses meeting the definition of “formula retail” use per 16 Section 303.1 shall not be permitted except by Conditional Use through the procedures of
17 Section 303 for RTO and RTO-M Districts and shall not be permitted in RH and RM Districts.-

18 * * * *

19 (k) Outdoor Activity Area. An Outdoor Activity Area is principally permitted if it is
20 located at the front of the building. An Outdoor Activity Area that is not at the front of the 21 building is principally permitted in RTO-I and RTO-M Districts only if it complies with the
22 operating restrictions in Section 202.2(a)(7) and shall not be permitted in RH or RM Districts.

24 * * * *

25 (r) Development of Large Lots in RTO-I and RTO-M Districts. In order to promote,

1 protect, and maintain a scale of development that is appropriate to each district and
2 compatible with adjacent buildings, new construction or significant enlargement of existing
3 buildings on lots of the same size or larger than the square footage stated in Table 209.4
4 under Large Project Review shall be permitted only as Conditional Uses subject to the
5 provisions set forth in this Section 303 of this Code.

7
8 SEC. 303.1. FORMULA RETAIL USES.

9 * * * *

10 (e) Conditional Use Authorization Required. A Conditional Use Authorization shall 11 be required for a Formula Retail use in the following zoning districts unless explicitly 12 exempted:

14 (8) Limited Commercial Uses in RTO-1, RTO-M, and RED Districts, as 15 permitted by Sections 186, 186.3, and 231;

16 * * * *

17 (9) Third Street Formula Retail Restricted Use District, as defined in Section
18 786; and

19 (10) Central SoMa Special Use District as defined in Section 848, except for 20 those uses not permitted pursuant to subsection (f) below; and

23
24 SEC. 304. PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENTS.

25 * * * *

1 (d) Criteria and Limitations. The proposed development must meet the criteria
2 applicable to conditional uses as stated in Section 303(c) and elsewhere in this Code. In
3 addition, it shall:

4 * * * *

5 (5) In R Districts, include Commercial Uses only to the extent that such uses
6 are necessary to serve residents of the immediate vicinity, subject to the limitations for NC-1
7 Districts under this Code, and in RTO-1 and RTO-M Districts include Commercial Uses only
8 according to the provisions of Section 231 of this Code;

9 * * * *

10 SEC. 603. EXEMPTED SIGNS.

11 * * * *

12 (c) Two General Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square feet in area on 13 either a transit shelter or associated advertising kiosk furnished by contract with the Municipal
14 Transportation Agency or predecessor agency for the Municipal Railway in RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, RM-
15 2, RM-3, RM-4, RC, NC, C, M, PDR, Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, and in 16 those P Districts where such Signs would not adversely affect the character, harmony, or
17 visual integrity of the district as determined by the Planning Commission; eight General
18 Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square feet in area on transit shelters located on
19 publicly owned property on a high level Municipal Railway boarding platform in an RH-1D
20 District adjacent to a C-2 District, provided that such advertising signs solely face the C-2
21 District; up to three double-sided General Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square
22 feet in area on or adjacent to transit shelters on publicly owned high level Municipal Railway
23 boarding platforms along The Embarcadero south of the Ferry Building, up to six double-sided
24 panels at 2nd and King Streets, and up to four double-sided panels at 4th and King Streets;
25 up to two double-sided panels not exceeding 24 square feet in area on each low-level

1 boarding platform at the following E-Line stops: Folsom Street and The Embarcadero,
2 Brannan Street and The Embarcadero, 2nd and King Streets, and 4th and King Streets; and a
3 total of 71 double-sided General Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square feet in area
4 on or adjacent to transit shelters on 28 publicly owned high level Municipal Railway boarding
5 platforms serving the Third Street Light Rail Line. Each advertising sign on a low-level or high-
6 level boarding platform shall be designed and sited in such a manner as to minimize
7 obstruction of public views from pedestrian walkways and/or public open space.

8 Notwithstanding the above, no Sign shall be placed on any transit shelter or 9 associated advertising kiosk located on any sidewalk which shares a common boundary with
10 any property under the jurisdiction of the Recreation and Park Commission, with the exception
11 of Justin Herman Plaza; on any sidewalk on Zoo Road; on Skyline Boulevard between Sloat
12 Boulevard and John Muir Drive; on John Muir Drive between Skyline Boulevard and Lake
13 Merced Boulevard; or on Lake Merced Boulevard on the side of Harding Park Municipal Golf
14 Course, or on any sidewalk on Sunset Boulevard between Lincoln Way and Lake Merced
15 Boulevard; on any sidewalk on Legion of Honor Drive; or in the Civic Center Special Sign
16 Districts as established in Section 608.3 of this Code.

17 The provisions of this subsection (c) shall be subject to the authority of the Port
18 Commission under Sections 4.114 and B3.581 of the City Charter and under State law.

19 * * * *

21 SEC. 606. RESIDENTIAL AND RESIDENTIAL ENCLAVE DISTRICTS.

22 Signs in Residential and Residential Enclave Districts, excluding the Residential Transit
23 Oriented-Commercial (RTO-C) District, and other than those signs exempted by Section 603 of 24 this Code, shall conform to the following provisions:

2           SEC. 607.1. NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL AND RESIDENTIAL-COMMERCIAL
3 DISTRICTS, AND RESIDENTIAL TRANSIT ORIENTED-COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

4           * * * *

5           (a) Purposes and Findings. In addition to the purposes stated in Sections 101 and
6 601 of this Code, the following purposes apply to Neighborhood Commercial and Residential-
7 Commercial Districts. These purposes constitute findings that form a basis for regulations and
8 provide guidance for their application.

9           (1) As Neighborhood Commercial, and Residential-Commercial, and Residential
10 Transit Oriented-Commercial Districts change, they need to maintain their attractiveness to
11 residents, customers and potential new businesses alike. Physical amenities and a pleasant
12 appearance will profit both existing and new enterprises.

13           (2) The character of signs and other features projecting from buildings is an
14 important part of the visual appeal of a street and the general quality and economic stability of
15 the area. Opportunities exist to relate these signs and projections more effectively to street
16 design and building design. These regulations establish a framework that will contribute
17 toward a coherent appearance of Neighborhood Commercial and Residential-Commercial
18 Districts.

19           (3) Neighborhood Commercial, and Residential-Commercial, and Residential
20 Transit Oriented-Commercial Districts are typically mixed use areas with commercial units on 21 the ground or lower stories and residential uses on upper stories. Although signs are essential
22 to a vital commercial district, they should not be allowed to interfere with or diminish the
23 livability of residential units within a Neighborhood Commercial District or in adjacent
24 residential districts.

25           (4) The scale of most Neighborhood Commercial and Residential-Commercial

1 Districts as characterized by building height, bulk, and appearance, and the width of streets
2 and sidewalks differs from that of other commercial and industrial districts. Sign sizes should
3 relate and be compatible with the surrounding district scale.

4 (5) Signs controls in Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial Districts are determined
5 by the sign controls of the nearest Neighborhood Commercial District described in this Section 607.1.

8 Section 8. Transit Oriented Communities and Parking. Articles 1.5 and 2 of the 9 Planning Code are hereby amended by deleting Section 151 in its entirety, revising Sections
10 151.1, 153, 154, 155, 155.2, and 161, and adding Sections 207.9 and 207.10, to read as
11 follows:

12 ~~SEC. 151. SCHEDULE OF REQUIRED OFF-STREET PARKING SPACES.~~

13 ~~(a) Applicability. Off-street parking spaces shall be provided in the minimum quantities~~
14 ~~specified in Table 151, except as otherwise provided in Section 151.1 and Section 161 of this Code.~~
15 ~~Where the building or lot contains uses in more than one of the categories listed, parking requirements~~
16 ~~shall be calculated in the manner provided in Section 153 of this Code. Where off-street parking is~~
17 ~~provided which exceeds certain amounts in relation to the quantities specified in Table 151, as set forth~~
18 ~~in subsection (c), such parking shall be classified not as accessory parking but as either a Principal or~~
19 ~~a Conditional Use, depending upon the use provisions applicable to the district in which the parking is~~
20 ~~located. In considering an application for a Conditional Use for any such parking, due to the amount~~
21 ~~being provided, the Planning Commission shall consider the criteria set forth in Section 303(t) or~~

18 SEC. 151.1. SCHEDULE OF PERMITTED ACCESSORY OFF-STREET PARKING
 19 SPACES IN SPECIFIED DISTRICTS.

1 (a) Applicability. Unless otherwise specified in a Special Use District, this Section 151.1
2 shall apply. This Section 151.1 shall apply only to NCT, RC, RCD, RTO, Mixed Use, M-1, PDR-1-D,
3 PDR-1-G, and C-3 Districts, and to the Broadway, Excelsior Outer Mission Street, Japantown, North
4 Beach, Polk, and Pacific Avenue Neighborhood Commercial Districts.

5 (b) Off-street Accessory Parking. Off-street accessory parking shall not be required for any
6 use, and the quantities of off-street parking specified in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2 shall serve as the
7 maximum amount of off-street parking that may be provided as accessory to the uses specified. In
8 addition:

9 (1) Accessory off-street parking spaces shall be permitted up to quantities specified in
10 Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, except where provision of such parking would conflict with other
11 provisions of this Code, including but not limited to Sections 144, 145.1, 145.4, and 155(r), in which
12 case the Code Sections other than this Section 151.1 shall apply.

13 (2) Where a building or lot contains more than one use, the applicable accessory
14 parking limit shall be calculated in the manner provided in Section 153 of this Code.

15 (3) Where the amount of off-street parking exceeds the quantities specified in Tables
16 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, such parking shall be considered a separate use requiring a separate entitlement
17 and not considered an accessory use, unless it is existing non-conforming accessory parking that may
18 only be expanded or intensified pursuant to Section 150(e).

19 (4) Off-street parking shall be reduced, if required for a Development Project to comply
20 with the Transportation Demand Management Program set forth in Section 169 of this Code.

21 (b) ~~Controls. Off-street accessory parking shall not be required for any use, and the quantities~~
22 ~~of off-street parking specified in Table 151.1 shall serve as the maximum amount of off-street parking~~
23 ~~that may be provided as accessory to the uses specified. Variances from accessory off-street parking~~
24 ~~limits, as described in this Section 151.1, may not be granted. Where off-street parking is provided that~~
25 ~~exceeds the quantities specified in Table 151.1 or as explicitly permitted by this Section, such parking~~

1 ~~shall be classified not as accessory parking but as either a principally permitted or Conditional Use,~~
2 ~~depending upon the use provisions applicable to the district in which the parking is located. In~~
3 ~~considering an application for a Conditional Use for any such parking due to the amount being~~
4 ~~provided, the Planning Commission shall consider the criteria set forth in Sections 303(t) or 303(u) of~~
5 ~~this Code.~~

6 (c) Definition. Where a number or ratio of spaces are described in Tables 151.1-1 or
7 151.1-2, such number or ratio shall refer to the total number of parked ~~cars~~ vehicles
8 accommodated in the project ~~proposal~~, regardless of the arrangement of parking, and shall
9 include all spaces accessed by mechanical means, valet, or non-independently accessible
10 means. For the purposes of determining the total number of ~~cars~~ vehicles parked, the area of 11 an individual parking space, except for those spaces specifically designated for persons with 12 physical disabilities, may not exceed 185 square feet, including spaces in tandem, or in
13 parking lifts, elevators, or other means of vertical stacking. Any off-street surface area
14 accessible to motor vehicles with a width of 7.5 feet and a length of 17 feet (127.5 square
15 feet) not otherwise designated on plans as a parking space may be considered and counted
16 as an off-street parking space at the discretion of the Zoning Administrator if the Zoning
17 Administrator, in considering the possibility for tandem and valet arrangements, determines
18 that such area is likely to be used for parking a vehicle on a regular basis and that such area
19 is not necessary for the exclusive purpose of vehicular circulation to the parking or loading
20 facilities otherwise permitted.

21 (d) Car-Share Parking. Any off-street parking space dedicated for use as a car-share
22 parking space, as defined in Section 166, shall not ~~be credited~~ count toward the total parking
23 permitted as accessory in this Section 151.1.

(e) Non-Residential Uses. Unless otherwise specified in Tables 151.1-1 or 151.1-2, or elsewhere in this Section 151.1, the maximum accessory parking permitted for non-residential uses shall be one of the following:

(1) One parking space per 2,000 square feet of Occupied Floor Area of use; or

(2) Three parking spaces where the use or activity has no Occupied Floor Area.

(fe) Excess Residential Parking. Any request for accessory residential parking, in excess of what is principally permitted in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, shall be reviewed by the Planning Commission as a Conditional Use, provided that the request does not exceed the maximum amount stated in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2. In MUG, WMUG, MUR, MUO, RED, RED-MX, and SPD Districts, any project subject to Section 329 and that requests residential accessory parking in excess of that which is principally permitted in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, but which does not exceed the maximum amount stated in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, shall be reviewed by the Planning Commission according to the procedures of Section 329. Projects that are not subject to Section 329 shall be reviewed under the procedures detailed in subsection (g) below.

(fg) Small Residential Projects in MUG, WMUG, MUR, MUO, CMUO, WMUO, RED, RED-MX, and SPD Districts. Any project that is not subject to the requirements of Section 329 and that requests residential accessory parking in excess of what is principally permitted

1 in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2 shall be reviewed by the Zoning Administrator subject to Section
2 307(i). The Zoning Administrator may grant parking in excess of what is principally permitted
3 in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, not to exceed the maximum amount stated in Tables 151.1-1
4 and 151.1-2, only if the Zoning Administrator determines that:

5 (1) all the following conditions have been met:

6 (A) Vehicle movement on or around the project does not unduly impact
7 pedestrian spaces or movement, transit service, bicycle movement, or the overall traffic
8 movement in the district;

9 (B) Accommodating excess accessory parking does not degrade the
10 overall urban design quality of the project proposal;

11 (C) All above-grade parking is architecturally screened and lined with 12 active uses according to the standards of Section 145.1, and the project sponsor is not
13 requesting any exceptions or variances requiring such treatments elsewhere in this Code; and

14 (D) Excess accessory parking does not diminish the quality and viability
15 of existing or planned streetscape enhancements;

16 (2) parking is not accessed from any protected Transit or Pedestrian Street
17 described in Section 155(r), and

18 (3) where more than 10 spaces are proposed at least half of them, rounded
19 down to the nearest whole number, are stored and accessed by mechanical stackers or lifts,
20 valet, or other space-efficient means that reduces space used for parking and maneuvering,
21 and maximizes other uses.

22 ~~(g) Excess Parking for Non-Residential Uses greater than 20,000 square feet. Where~~
23 ~~permitted by Table 151.1 for a Non-Residential Use greater than 20,000 square feet, any request for~~
24 ~~accessory parking in excess of what is principally permitted in Table 151.1, but which does not exceed~~
25 ~~the maximum amount stated in Table 151.1, shall be reviewed by the Planning Commission as a~~

2 (h) Transit-Oriented Communities Parking Limits. Consistent with the Transit-Oriented
3 Communities Policies of the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, this Section 151.1 implements
4 the maximum parking limits based on the presence of certain transit services within one-half mile of the
5 development. Notwithstanding the provisions of Table 151.1-2, if any portion of the subject
6 development falls within the geographic areas listed in Table 151.1-2, the lower of the maximum limits
7 in either Table 151.1-1 or Table 151.1-2 shall apply as the maximum amount of parking.

21 Group Housing projects in Transit Station Areas.

22 ** As used in Table 151.1-2, the distance of one-half mile shall be measured in accordance with
23 the methodology established by the Metropolitan Transportation Commission.

1           SEC. 153. RULES FOR CALCULATION OF ~~REQUIRED~~ PARKING SPACES.

2           (a) In the calculation of off-street parking, freight loading spaces, and bicycle parking
3 spaces permitted or required under Sections 151.1, 152, 152.1, 155.2, 155.3, and 155.4 of this
4 Code, or pursuant to any Special Use District, the following rules shall apply:

5                   (1) In the case of mixed uses in the same structure, on the same lot, or in the
6 same development, or more than one type of activity involved in the same use, the total
7 ~~requirements for permitted~~ off-street parking and requirements for loading spaces shall be the
8 sum of the requirements for the various uses or activities computed separately, including
9 fractional values.

10                   (2) Where an initial quantity of floor area, rooms, seats, or other form of
11 measurement is exempted from ~~off-street parking or~~ loading requirements, such exemption
12 shall apply only once to the aggregate of that form of measurement. If the initial exempted
13 quantity is exceeded, for either a structure or a lot or a development, the requirement shall 14 apply to the entire such structure, lot, or development, unless the contrary is specifically
15 stated in this Code. In combining the requirements for use categories in mixed use buildings,
16 all exemptions for initial quantities of square footage for the uses in question shall be
17 disregarded, excepting the exemption for the initial quantity which is the least among all the 18 uses in question.

19                   (3) Where a structure or use is divided by a zoning district boundary line, the
20 requirements as to quantity of ~~off-street parking and~~ loading spaces and permitted off-street
21 parking shall be calculated in proportion to the amount of such structure or use located in each
22 zoning district.

23                   (4) Where seats are used as the form of measurement, each 22 inches of 24 space on benches, pews and similar seating facilities shall be considered one seat.

25                   (5) When the calculation of the ~~required~~ number of ~~off-street parking or~~ required

1 freight loading or permitted off-street parking spaces results in a fractional number, a fraction of
2 ~~½ one-half~~ or more shall be adjusted to the next higher whole number of spaces, and a fraction
3 of less than ~~one-half ½ may~~ shall be disregarded, except where the number of permitted spaces is
4 less than one, in which case one parking space shall be permitted.

5 (6) In C-3, MUG, MUR, MUO, CMUO, and UMU Districts, substitution of two
6 service vehicle spaces for each required off-street freight loading space may be made,
7 provided that a minimum of 50% ~~percent~~ of the required number of spaces are provided for
8 freight loading. Where the 50% ~~percent~~ allowable substitution results in a fraction, the fraction
9 shall be disregarded.

10 (b) The requirements for off-street ~~parking and~~ loading and permitted off-street parking for
11 any use not specifically mentioned in Sections 151.1 and 152 shall be the same as for a use
12 specified which is similar, as determined by the Zoning Administrator.

13 (c) For all uses and all districts covered by Section 151.1, the rules of calculation
14 established by subsection (a) of this Section 153 shall apply to the determination of maximum
15 permitted spaces ~~at~~ allowed by Section 151.1.

17 SEC. 154. DIMENSIONS FOR OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND 18 SERVICE VEHICLE SPACES.

19 (a) Parking Spaces. ~~Required parking~~ Parking spaces may be either independently
20 accessible or space-efficient as described in Section 154(a)(4) and 154(a)(5), except as 21 required elsewhere in the Building Code for spaces specifically designated for persons with
22 physical disabilities. Space-efficient parking is encouraged.

23 (1) Each independently accessible off-street parking space ~~shall have a minimum~~
24 measuring an area of 144 square feet (8 feet by 18 feet) ~~shall count as for~~ a standard space and
25 measuring 112.5 square feet ~~for~~ shall count as a compact space (7.5 feet by 15 feet), except for

1 the types of parking spaces authorized by subsection Paragraph (a)(4) below and spaces
2 specifically designated for persons with physical disabilities, the requirements for which are
3 set forth in the Building Code. Every ~~required~~ parking space shall be of usable shape. The area
4 of any such space shall be exclusive of driveways, aisles, and maneuvering areas. ~~The parking~~
5 ~~space requirements for the Bernal Heights Special Use District are set forth in Section 242.~~

6 (2) Any ratio of standard spaces to compact spaces may be permitted, so long
7 as compact car spaces are specifically marked and identified as a compact space. ~~Special~~
8 ~~provisions relating to the Bernal Heights Special Use District are set forth in Section 242.~~

9 (3) Off-street parking spaces in DTR, C-3, RTO, NCT, Eastern Neighborhoods
10 Mixed Use, PDR-1-D, and PDR-1-G Districts shall have no ~~minimum~~ defined area or dimension
11 requirements, except as required elsewhere in the Building Code for spaces specifically
12 designated for persons with physical disabilities. For all uses in all Districts, ~~for which there is~~
13 ~~no minimum off-street parking requirement, per Section 151.1,~~ refer to Sections 153 and 151.1(c) for 14 rules regarding calculation of parking spaces.

15 (4) Permitted off-street parking ~~Parking~~ spaces in mechanical parking structures
16 that allow a vehicle to be accessed without having to move another vehicle under its own
17 power shall be deemed to be independently accessible. Parking spaces that are accessed by
18 a valet attendant and are subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Zoning
19 Administrator to insure the availability of attendant service at the time the vehicle may 20 reasonably be needed or desired by the user ~~for whom the space is required~~, shall be deemed to
21 be independently accessible. Any conditions imposed by the Zoning Administrator pursuant to
22 this Section 154 shall be recorded as a Notice of Special Restriction.

23 (5) Space-efficient parking is parking in which vehicles are stored and accessed
24 by valet, mechanical stackers or lifts, certain tandem spaces, or other space-efficient means.
25 Tandem spaces shall ~~only~~ count ~~towards satisfying the parking requirement~~ toward permitted off-

1 street parking spaces if no more than one car needs to be moved to access the desired parking
2 space. ~~Space-efficient parking is encouraged, and may be used to satisfy minimum parking~~
3 ~~requirements so long as the project sponsor can demonstrate that all required parking can be~~
4 ~~accommodated by the means chosen.~~

6
8 OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND SERVICE VEHICLE FACILITIES.

9 Required off-street parking and freight loading facilities shall meet the following
10 standards as to location and arrangement. Facilities which are not required but are actually
11 provided shall also meet the following standards unless such standards are stated to be
12 applicable solely to required facilities. In application of the standards of this Code for off-street
13 parking and loading, reference may be made to provisions of other portions of the Municipal
14 Code concerning off-street parking and loading facilities, and to standards of the Better
15 Streets Plan and the Bureau of Engineering of the Department of Public Works. Final authority
16 for the application of such standards under this Code, and for adoption of regulations and
17 interpretations in furtherance of the stated provisions of this Code shall, however, rest with the 18 Planning Department.

20 (u) Driveway and Loading Operations Plan (DLOP) ~~in the Central SoMa Special Use~~
21 ~~District and Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District.~~

22 (1) Purpose. The purpose of a Driveway and Loading Operations Plan (DLOP)
23 is to reduce potential conflicts between driveway and loading operations, including passenger
24 and freight loading activities, and pedestrians, bicycles, and vehicles, to maximize reliance of 25 on-site loading spaces to accommodate new loading demand, and to ensure that off-site

loading activity is considered in the design of new buildings.

(2) Applicability. Development projects of more than 100,000 net new Gross square feet Floor Area ~~in the Central SoMa Special Use District and Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District.~~

(3) Requirement. Applicable projects shall prepare a DLOP for review and approval by the Planning Department, in consultation with the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency. The DLOP shall be written in accordance with any guidelines issued by the Planning Department.

SEC. 161. EXEMPTIONS AND EXCEPTIONS FROM OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND SERVICE VEHICLE REQUIREMENTS.

The following exemptions shall apply to the requirements for off-street parking and loading spaces set forth in Sections 151.1 through 155 of this Code. These provisions, as exemptions, shall be narrowly construed. Reductions or waivers by the Zoning Administrator permitted by this Section 161 shall be conducted pursuant to the procedures of Section 307(h)(2). Where exceptions in this Section 161 require approval by the Zoning Administrator, the Zoning Administrator shall consider the criteria of Section 307(i).

~~(a) Topography. No off-street parking shall be required for a one family or two family dwelling where the lot on which such dwelling is located is entirely inaccessible by automobile because of topographic conditions.~~

~~(ba) Parking or Loading Across Very Wide Sidewalks. No off-street parking or loading shall be required where access to the lot cannot be provided other than by means of a driveway across a sidewalk 25 feet or more in width from the curb to the front lot line which would cause serious disruption to pedestrian traffic.~~

~~(eb) Joint Use of Off-Street Parking. Joint use of the same off-street parking spaces to meet the requirements of this Code for two or more structures or uses is may be permitted, where the normal hours of operation of such structures or uses are such as to assure the feasibility of~~

1 ~~such joint use of parking and where the total quantity of spaces provided is at least equal to the total of~~
2 ~~the required spaces for the structures or uses in operation at any given time.~~

3 ~~(d) Exceptions to Improve Conformity with Setbacks, Yards, Open Space, and Other~~
4 ~~Requirements of the Code. The Zoning Administrator may reduce or waive the off-street parking~~
5 ~~requirement for existing buildings if removal of parking and associated structures increases conformity~~
6 ~~with required front setbacks, side yards, and rear yards, increases conformity with open space or street~~
7 ~~frontage requirements, reduces or eliminates any nonconforming encroachment onto public rights-of-~~
8 ~~way or other public property or easement, and/or reduces or eliminates any other code nonconformity.~~

9 (ec) Freight Loading and Service Vehicle Spaces. In recognition of the fact that site
10 constraints may make provision of required freight loading and service vehicle spaces
11 impractical or undesirable, a reduction in or waiver of the provision of freight loading and
12 service vehicle spaces for uses may be permitted, by the Zoning Administrator in all ~~d~~Districts,
13 or in accordance with the provisions of Section 309 of this Code in C-3 Districts. In
14 considering any such reduction or waiver, the following criteria shall be considered:

15 (1) Provision of freight loading and service vehicle spaces cannot be
16 accomplished underground because site constraints will not permit ramps, elevators,
17 turntables and maneuvering areas with reasonable safety;

18 (2) Provision of the required number of freight loading and service vehicle
19 spaces on-site would result in the use of an unreasonable percentage of ground-floor area,
20 and thereby preclude more desirable use of the ground floor for retail, pedestrian circulation or
21 open space uses;

22 (3) A jointly used underground facility with access to a number of separate
23 buildings and meeting the collective needs for freight loading and service vehicles for all uses
24 in the buildings involved, cannot be provided; and

25 (4) Spaces for delivery functions can be provided at the adjacent curb without

1 adverse effect on pedestrian circulation, transit operations or general traffic circulation, and
2 off-street space permanently reserved for service vehicles is provided either on-site or in the
3 immediate vicinity of the building.

4 (~~g~~d) Historic Buildings. There shall be no minimum off-street ~~parking or~~ loading
5 requirements for any principal or Conditional Use located in (1) a landmark building
6 designated per Article 10 of this Code, (2) a contributing building located within a designated
7 historic district per Article 10, (3) any building designated Category I-IV per Article 11 of this
8 Code, or (4) buildings listed on the National Register and/or California Register.

9 (~~h~~e) Landmark and Significant Trees. The required off-street ~~parking and~~ loading may
10 be reduced or waived if the Zoning Administrator determines that provision of required ~~off-~~
11 ~~street parking or~~ loading would result in the loss of or damage to a designated Landmark Tree
12 or Significant Tree, as defined in the Public Works Code. The Zoning Administrator's decision
13 shall be governed by Section 307(~~i~~) and shall require either (1) the recommendation of the 14 Department of Public Works Bureau of Urban Forestry, or its successor agency, or (2) the
15 recommendation of a certified arborist as documented in the subject tree's required tree
16 protection plan.

17 (~~i~~f) Geologic Hazards. No off-street ~~parking or~~ loading shall be required where the
18 Planning Department finds that required ~~parking or~~ loading cannot practically be provided
19 without compromising the earthquake safety or geologic stability of a building and/or 20 neighboring structures and properties.

21 (~~j~~g) Protected Street Frontages and Transit Stops. No off-street ~~parking or~~ loading is
22 required on any lot whose sole feasible automobile access is across a protected street
23 frontage identified in Section 155(r).

24 (~~k~~h) Curbside Transit Lanes and Bikeways. No off-street parking or loading is 25 required on any lot whose sole feasible automobile access is across a curbside transit lane or

1 bikeway.

2
3 SEC. 207.9. MINIMUM DWELLING UNIT DENSITIES AND MINIMUM OFFICE
4 INTENSITIES, USES “BY-RIGHT.”

5 (a) Purpose. This Section 207.9 establishes minimum residential and commercial density
6 standards in Transit-Oriented Communities, as identified by the Metropolitan Transit Commission, and
7 implements the City’s Housing Element obligations pursuant to Government Code 65583, including
8 requirements for both minimum densities and approval of certain projects on Housing Element Sites.
9 Consistent with the Transit-Oriented Communities Policies of the Metropolitan Transportation
10 Commission, this Section establishes the minimum Dwelling Unit densities for residential development
11 and minimum intensities for Office use. Consistent with Government Code Sections 65583.2(c), and
12 (h), this Section permits certain types of housing projects as a “use by right,” as that term is defined in
13 Government Code Section 65583.2(i).

14 (b) Minimum Dwelling Unit Density.

15 (1) Applicability.

16 (A) Transit-Oriented Community Tiers. This Section 207.9 applies to all
17 projects proposing new construction of one or more Residential Buildings on sites that do not already
18 contain Residential uses unless such uses are demolished, and that are located in the geographic areas
19 or satisfy the applicability criteria described in Table 207.9. These minimum residential densities shall
20 apply only in zoning Districts where Residential uses are permitted. Changes of use of existing
21 building space to Residential use, additions of Residential use to existing structures, and additions of
22 Residential or Office uses to lots where such uses are already existing, and that are not proposed for
23 demolition, are not subject to the requirements of this Section.

24 (B) Housing Element Sites. Residential projects on sites identified pursuant to
25 Government Code Section 65583.2(c) and (h) in which at least 20% of the units are set aside to

1 households with incomes at 80% of Area Median Income or lower shall be approved “by-right” as that
2 term is defined in Government Code Section 65583.2(i).

3 (2) Minimum Densities. New construction proposing Dwelling Units on sites within
4 the geographic areas described in Table 207.9 must provide at least the number of Dwelling Units
5 specified in Table 207.9. Sites that meet more than one applicable Tier requirement in Table 207.9
6 shall comply with the higher minimum density. Fractions of units shall be rounded per Section
7 207(b)(1). For purposes of this Section 207.9, Accessory Dwelling Units shall count toward any
8 minimum density requirement.

9 (c) Minimum Office Intensity.

10 (1) Applicability. This subsection (c) applies to all projects proposing new construction
11 of Office use on sites that do not already contain Office uses, and that are located in the geographic
12 areas or satisfy the applicability criteria described in Table 207.9; provided that the minimum Office
13 intensities in this subsection (c) shall not exceed the amount of permissible Office use allowed in the
14 District. These minimum densities shall only apply in Districts where Office uses are permitted.
15 Changes of use of existing building space to Office use, additions of Office use to existing structures,
16 and additions of Office uses to Lots where such uses are already existing, and that are not proposed for
17 demolition are not subject to the requirements of this Section 207.9.

18 (2) Minimum Intensity. New construction proposing Office use on sites within the
19 geographic areas described in Table 207.9 must comply with the FAR requirements in Table 207.9.

13 * As used in Table 207.9, the distance of one-half mile shall be measured in accordance with
14 the methodology established by the Metropolitan Transportation Commission.

15 ** Housing Projects in which at least 20% of the units are set aside to households with incomes
16 at 80% of Area Median Income or lower on sites in this category shall be approved consistent with
17 California Government Code Section 65583.2(c) and (i).

18 *** Housing Projects in which at least 20% of the units are set aside to households with
19 incomes at 80% of Area Median Income or lower on sites in this category shall be approved consistent
20 with California Government Code Section 65583.2(h) and (i).

21 (d) Gross Floor Area. For purposes of determining the Gross Floor Area of a development Lot
22 subject to this Section 207.9, the calculation shall exclude Gross Floor Area to be dedicated for
23 publicly accessible streets. In instances where portions of a Lot are unbuildable due to topographic or
24 geologic conditions, a development is proposed on only a portion of the Lot, or the Lot is otherwise
25 constrained, the Zoning Administrator is authorized to determine that a smaller portion of a Lot shall

1 serve as the development Lot.

2 (e) Mixed-uses. For purposes of determining minimum Residential Density and Office Intensity,
3 as long as one of the land uses satisfies the minimum Residential Density and/or Office Intensity the
4 respective land uses are prorated to comply individually.

5 (f) Conditional Use Authorizations for Projects that Fail to Comply with this Section.
6 Projects that fail to comply with the objective standards in this Section 207.9 shall be considered non-
7 code-compliant. If not otherwise prohibited by the Code, a project may not comply with the minimum
8 Residential Density and Office Intensity, if the Planning Commission approves a Conditional Use
9 Authorization.

11 SEC. 207.10. MAXIMUM DWELLING UNIT SIZE.

12 (a) Purpose. To encourage new infill multi-family housing, limit the proliferation and
13 expansion of large houses that do not increase the housing stock of moderately-priced units, support
14 the preservation of existing housing that serves lower- and middle-income households, and encourage
15 maximizing residential density, this Section 207.10 sets forth citywide maximum Dwelling Unit sizes.

16 (b) Applicability. This Section 207.10 applies to projects proposing to construct one or more
17 Dwelling Units for which a Development Application is filed after January 31, 2026, and the project
18 proposes any of the following:

19 (1) construction of new Dwelling Unit(s), including the construction of a Dwelling Unit
20 where an existing unit is proposed for demolition as defined in Section 317(b)(2);

21 (2) merger of two or more Dwelling Units as defined in Section 317(b)(7); or

22 (3) reduction in the number of existing Dwelling Units.

23 (c) Requirements. Any project that meets one or more of the criteria in subsection (b) shall be
24 restricted to a maximum Dwelling Unit size of 4,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area or an equivalent
25 Floor Area Ratio for any individual Dwelling Unit of 1.2:1, whichever is greater, except in the

1 following conditions:

2 (1) any new construction project of four to nine Dwelling Units, where not more than
3 one Dwelling Unit exceeds 4,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area; or

4 (2) any new construction project of 10 or more Dwelling Units, where not more than
5 10% of such units exceed 4,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area.

6 (d) Conditional Use Authorizations for Projects that Fail to Comply with this Section.

7 Projects that fail to comply with the objective standards in this Section 207.10 shall be considered non-
8 code-compliant. If not otherwise prohibited by the Code, a project may exceed the maximum Dwelling
9 Unit size, without satisfying the conditions in subsection (c), if the Planning Commission approves a
10 Conditional Use Authorization for the larger Dwelling Unit(s).

11 (e) Conditional Use Criteria. In addition to the criteria outlined in Planning Code Section
12 303(c), in acting upon an application for Conditional Use Authorization, the Planning Commission
13 shall consider whether facts are presented to establish based on the record before the Commission, that
14 all of the following criteria are met:

15 (1) the proposed project meets applicable Residential Design Guidelines, Citywide
16 Design Standards, and other applicable adopted guidelines or standards;

17 (2) the proposed project does not propose to reduce the size of any other existing 18 Dwelling Unit or negatively impact the characteristics of a Residential Flat, as set forth in Section
19 317(g);

20 (3) the proposed project increases the number of Dwelling Units on the Lot and, if
21 applicable, meets the applicable minimum density requirement under Section 207.9; and

22 (4) the proposed project will not have specific adverse impacts on a Historic Building
23 as defined in Planning Code Section 102 or would render the property ineligible for historic 24 designation as an individual or contributing resource.

25 (f) Calculation of Gross Floor Area. For the purposes of this Section 207.10, the following

1 shall apply in the calculation of a Dwelling Unit's total Gross Floor Area:

2 (1) Gross Floor Area shall have the meaning set forth in Planning Code Section 401;

3 (2) Shared spaces and common areas in multi-unit buildings shall not be included;

4 (3) Storage areas, sheds, or other enclosed areas on the property that are accessory to
5 and assigned to a specific Dwelling Unit but not contiguous with and directly accessible from the unit
6 shall not be included; and

7 (4) Gross Floor Area shall include (A) all expansions of the Residential Building for
8 which a building permit was issued within the previous 10 years, and (B) any Gross Floor Area
9 resulting from construction performed without a validly issued permit regardless of the date of 10 construction.

12
13 Section 9. Off-Street Parking and Curb Cuts. Article 1 and Article 2 of the Planning
14 Code are hereby amended by revising Sections 155, 249.49, and 249.71, to read as follows

16 OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND SERVICE VEHICLE FACILITIES.

17 * * * *

18 (r) Protected Pedestrian-, Cycling-, and Transit-Oriented Street Frontages. In 19 order to protect and improve ~~preserve the~~ pedestrian and bicycle safety and transit service, ~~character~~
20 ~~of certain districts and to minimize delays to transit, service, garage entries, driveways, or other~~
21 vehicular access to off-street parking or loading via curb cuts ~~on development lots~~ shall be
22 regulated as set forth in this subsection (r). However, Fthese limitations ~~do shall~~ not apply to the
23 creation of new publicly-accessible Streets and Alleys. Any lot where the only ~~whose sole feasible~~
24 vehicular access is via a protected street frontage described in this subsection (r) shall be
25 exempted from any off-street ~~parking or~~ loading requirement found elsewhere in this Code,

1 unless a curb cut is otherwise authorized.

2 (1) Curb Cuts Not Permitted. No new or expanded curb cuts shall be permitted on the
3 frontages listed in Table 155(r)(1) below:

4 (2) Protected Street Features. No new or expanded curb cuts shall be permitted within
5 the following street features:

6 (A) An adjacent on-street curbside striped bus stop (e.g., curbside bus stop
7 zones with striping or red curb) that has been approved by the San Francisco Municipal
8 Transportation Agency (SFMTA) Board of Directors;

9 (B) A transit bulb-out, as defined in the Better Streets Plan; or

10 (C) A transit boarding island, as defined in the Better Streets Plan, if vehicles
11 accessing the curb cut would be required to cross over the boarding island.

12 (3) Corner Lots in the SALI District. For corner lots in the SALI District, no new curb
13 cut shall be permitted, nor any existing curb cut expanded, on any Street or Alley identified as an Alley
14 in the Western SoMa Area Plan of the General Plan if any property on the same block with frontage
15 along that Street or Alley is designated as a RED or RED-MX District.

16 (4) Curb Cuts Requiring Planning Commission Approval. In all zoning districts
17 except RH, M, NC-S, P, PDR, and SALI, no new or expanded curb cuts shall be permitted on the
18 frontages listed in Table 155(r)(4), unless approved by the Planning Commission through a
19 Conditional Use Authorization pursuant to Planning Code Section 303. However, if the new or 20 expanded curb cut is part of a project that requires Planning Commission approval under a separate
21 section, such as Section 309 or 329, then the Planning Commission shall consider the curb cut as part
22 of that approval. Regardless of the type of approval, in order to approve such a curb cut, the Planning
23 Commission must make the findings required by Section 303(y). For projects within the C-3-0(SD) and
24 the Central SoMa Special Use District, in no case shall such curb cut approval be granted where the
25 proposed accessory parking would be greater than the amount principally permitted.

1 (A) Protected Streets. Planning Commission approval is required for any new or
 2 expanded curb cut that directly fronts any of the streets listed in Table 155(r)(4) below.

Table 155(r)(4). PLANNING COMMISSION APPROVAL OF CURB CUTS

4                                    (B) Protected Street Types with Alternative Frontage. Planning Commission
5 approval is required for any new or expanded curb cut that directly fronts any of the following when an
6 alternative street frontage is available:

- 7                                    (i) Transit Preferential Streets designated in the Transportation Element;
- 8                                    (ii) Neighborhood Commercial Streets or Commercial Throughways
9 defined by the Better Streets Plan; or
- 10                                   (iii) Bicycle routes or lanes as adopted by SFMTA Board of Directors.

11 On such bicycle routes or lanes where the bicycle facility is only on one side of the street, the curb cut
12 restriction shall apply to the side of the street with the bicycle facility, and shall not apply to the 13 opposite side of the street.

14                                   (C) Protected Street Types with No Alternative Frontage. A new or expanded
15 curb cut on street types listed in subsection (r)(4)(B) where no alternative frontage exists shall still
16 require Planning Commission approval. However, in such cases the Planning Commission shall not
17 make the findings of Section 303(y) and instead must find that the final design minimizes negative
18 impacts to transit movement and to the safety of pedestrians and bicyclists to the fullest extent feasible.

19                                   (5) Existing Curb Cuts. Existing curb cuts on frontages listed in subsections (r)(1)-
20 (r)(4) shall not be retained as part of a project that involves new construction, a building alteration
21 that increases the Gross Floor Area of a structure by 20% or more, or a change of use affecting more
22 than 50% of the structure's Gross Floor Area. However, the Planning Commission may allow retention
23 or relocation of up to one existing curb cut along any of the site's frontages, through Conditional Use
24 authorization or other applicable discretionary Planning Commission approval, provided that no
25 existing curb cut shall be maintained if it is located in or affects a protected transit stop feature

1 pursuant to subsection (r)(2), and no existing curb cut may be relocated to newly affect such features.
2 In granting such approval, the Planning Commission must make the additional findings required under
3 Planning Code Section 303(y) and must also find that (1) the project represents an increase in
4 residential density and/or non-residential intensity that is appropriate to the site, such as its proximity
5 to transit or its location within a mixed-use area; and (2) the proposed curb cut is necessary to support
6 the project's scale and function, while being sited and designed to minimize to the fullest extent feasible
7 negative impacts on pedestrian activity, street-level commercial activity, the movement of transit
8 vehicles and passengers, and bicycle facilities.

9 (6) Sites owned by the City and County of San Francisco under the jurisdiction of the 10 SFMTA are not subject to the provisions of this Section 155(r).

10 ~~restricted street identified in this subsection 155(r)(3).~~

11 ~~——(A) Except as provided in Section 155(r), in all zoning districts except RH, M, NC-S, P,~~
12 ~~PDR, and SALI, no curb cuts accessing off-street parking or loading shall be created or expanded on~~
13 ~~street frontages identified along any Transit Preferential Street as designated in the Transportation~~
14 ~~Element of the General Plan, or Neighborhood Commercial Street and Commercial Throughways as~~
15 ~~defined in the Better Streets Plan, or any SFMTA Board of Directors adopted bicycle routes or lanes,~~
16 ~~where an alternative frontage is available. On such bicycles routes or lanes where the bicycle facility is~~
17 ~~only on one side of the street, the curb cut restriction shall apply to the side of the street with the~~
18 ~~bicycle facility, and shall not apply to the opposite side of the street.~~

19 ~~——(B) The entire portion of California Street,~~

21 ~~C-3 Districts,~~

22 ~~——(D) Grant Avenue from Market Street to Sacramento Street,~~

23 ~~——(E) Montgomery Street from Market Street to Columbus Avenue,~~

24 ~~——(F) Church Street and 16th Street in the RTO District,~~

25 ~~——(G) Duboce Street from Noe Street to Market Street,~~

1           ~~——(H) Octavia Street from Fell Street to Market Street,~~

2           ~~——(I) 1st, Fremont and Beale Streets from Market to Folsom Street,~~

3           ~~——(J) The eastern (water) side of The Embarcadero between Townsend and Taylor Streets;~~

4           ~~——(K) Fillmore Street from Hermann Street to Duboce Avenue,~~

5           ~~——(L) Noe Street from Duboce Avenue to Market Street, and~~

6           ~~——(M) Dolores Street from Market Street to 16th Street.~~

7           ~~——(N) Harrison Street from 2nd Street to 6th Street,~~

8           ~~——(O) Bryant Street from 2nd Street to 6th Street, and~~

9           ~~——(P) 5th Street from Howard Street to Townsend Street.~~

10           ~~——(4) In all zoning districts except RH, M, NC-S, P, PDR, and SALI, where an alternative~~
11 ~~frontage is not available, parking or loading access along any Transit Preferential Street as designated~~
12 ~~in the Transportation Element of the General Plan, or Neighborhood Commercial Street or~~
13 ~~Commercial Throughways defined in the Better Streets Plan, or any SFMTA Board of Directors~~
14 ~~adopted bicycle routes or lanes, may be allowed on streets not listed in subsection (r)(2) above as an~~
15 ~~exception in the manner provided in Section 309 for C-3 O(SD) Districts, Section 329 for Mixed Use~~
16 ~~Districts, and in Section 303 for all other Districts in cases where the Planning Commission can~~
17 ~~determine that the final design of the parking access minimizes negative impacts to transit movement~~
18 ~~and to the safety of pedestrians and bicyclists to the fullest extent feasible.~~

19           ~~——(5) Corner lots in the SALI District. For corner lots in the SALI District, no new curb~~
20 ~~cut shall be permitted, nor any existing curb cut expanded, on any Street or Alley identified as an alley~~
21 ~~in the Western SoMa Area Plan of the General Plan if any property on the same block with frontage~~
22 ~~along that Street or Alley is designated as a RED or RED-MX District.~~

23           ~~(6) A “development lot” shall mean any lot containing a proposal for new~~
24 ~~construction, building alterations which would increase the gross square footage of a structure by 20~~
25 ~~percent or more, or change of use of more than 50 percent of the gross floor area of a structure~~

1 containing parking. Pre-existing access to off-street parking and loading on development lots that
2 violates the restrictions of this Section 155(r) may not be maintained.

4 (t) Garage Additions in the North Beach Neighborhood Commercial District,
5 North Beach-Telegraph Hill Residential Special Use District, and Chinatown Mixed Use
6 Districts. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code to the contrary, a mandatory
7 discretionary review hearing by the Planning Commission is required in order to install a
8 garage in an existing or proposed structure of two units or more in the North Beach NCD, the
9 North Beach-Telegraph Hill Residential SUD, and the Chinatown Mixed Use Districts.

10 In order to approve the installation of any garage in these districts, the City shall 11 find that: (1) the proposed garage opening/addition of off-street parking will not cause the
12 elimination or reduction of ground-story retail or commercial space; (2) the proposed garage
13 opening/addition of off-street parking will not eliminate or decrease the square footage of any
14 ~~dwelling unit~~, (3) the building has not had two or more evictions with each eviction
15 associated with a separate ~~dwelling unit~~(s) within the past ~~10~~ years, and (4) the garage
16 would not front on an Alley pursuant to Section 155(r)(2)(1) of this Code or on a public right-of-
17 way narrower than 41 feet, and (5) the proposed garage/addition of off-street parking is
18 consistent with the Priority Policies of Section 101.1 of this Code. Prior to the issuance of
19 notification under Section 311 or 312 of this Code, the Department shall require a signed
20 affidavit by the project sponsor attesting to (1), (2), and (3) above, which the Department shall
21 independently verify, and the Department shall determine whether the project complies with 22 subsection (4) above. If the project sponsor does not provide such signed affidavit, or the 23 garage would front on an Alley or on a public right-of-way narrower than 41 feet, the 24 Department shall disapprove the application and no Planning Commission hearing shall be
25 required.

8 (2) Installation of a Parking Garage. Installation of a garage in an existing or
9 proposed residential building of two or more units requires a mandatory discretionary review
10 hearing by the Planning Commission. In order to approve the installation of any garage in 11 these districts, the Commission shall find that: (1) the proposed garage opening/addition of 12 off-street parking will not cause the elimination or reduction of ground-story retail or 13 commercial space; (2) the proposed garage opening/addition of off-street parking will not
14 eliminate or decrease the square footage of any dwelling unit; (3) the building has not had two
15 or more evictions within the past 10 years, with each eviction associated with a separate
16 unit(s), (4) the garage would not front on an Alley pursuant to Section 155(r)~~(2)~~(1) of this Code
17 or on a public right-of-way narrower than 41 feet, and (5) the proposed garage opening/
18 addition of off-street parking is consistent with the Priority Policies of Section 101.1 of this
19 Code.

23 * * * *

25 * * * *

1 (8) Protected Street Frontages.

2 (A) Section 155(r)~~(3)~~(4)(A)-(B) shall not apply within the special use
3 district.

4 (B) For the purposes of Section 155(r)(4)(C), the project does not have
5 alternative frontage to Third Street and Mission Street, and therefore curb cuts accessing off-
6 street parking or loading off Third Street and Mission Street may be permitted as an exception
7 pursuant to Section 309 and Section 155(r)(4)(C).

9 Section 10. San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Special Use District.
10 Article 2 of the Planning Code is hereby amended by adding Section 249.11, to read as
11 follows:

12 SEC. 249.11 NON-CONTIGUOUS SAN FRANCISCO MUNICIPAL TRANSPORTATION
13 AGENCY SITES SPECIAL USE DISTRICT.

14 (a) Purpose. There shall be a non-contiguous Special Use District (“SUD”) for sites owned by
15 the City and County of San Francisco and under the jurisdiction of the San Francisco Municipal
16 Transportation Agency (SFMTA) to enable SFMTA to use the sites for transportation and other Public
17 uses as well as uses permitted by the underlying zoning district. This SUD also enables mixed-use
18 residential development with characteristics not accommodated by underlying zoning.

19 (b) Applicability. The provisions in this Section 249.11 shall apply to the following Assessor’s
20 Block/Lots: 0019/001; 0490/009, 010, 011, 012, 013; 0635/009, 009A; 0669/012; 1072/001; 1439/035,
21 036, 045, 048, 049; 1440/028, 029, 030; 1453/020; 1526/002, 028, 028A; 1596/044, 045; 1730/050;
22 1763/044; 2647/034, 017; 2864/050; 2979A/002, 034; 2988A/007; 3582/087; 6507/023; 6972/036;
23 7225/013; 7226/016. Notwithstanding Planning Code Section 206.10, which prohibits projects within
24 SUDs that implement Development Agreements from using the HC-SF Program, residential
25 development projects within this SUD may use the HC-SF Program even when such development is

1 associated with a Development Agreement, Project Agreement or other similar agreement.

2 (c) General Controls.

3 (1) Permitted Uses. In addition to any uses permitted by the zoning district in which the
4 lot is located, uses permitted under Section 211.1 shall be principally permitted and uses conditionally
5 permitted under 211.2 shall be conditionally permitted. Where there is a conflict between land use
6 controls in the underlying zoning district and those in Sections 211.1 or 211.2, the more permissive
7 control shall apply.

8 (2) Residential Density. Maximum residential density limits or Floor Area Ratio limits
9 shall not apply to Residential Uses in the SUD. Form Based density shall apply to Residential Uses in
10 the SUD.

11 (3) Measurement of Height. Notwithstanding Planning Code Section 260(a) regarding
12 Method of Measurement, the height of a structure containing a Public Facility may be measured from 13 the centerline of such structure along any frontage for that structure's entire depth.

14 (4) Bulk and Lot Coverage. For Development projects that are in height districts that
15 allow heights of 400 feet or greater, and are using the HC-SF Program in Section 206.10, the following
16 bulk controls and lot coverage provisions shall apply:

17 (A) Notwithstanding Sections 270(i)(1)(A)(i) and 270(i)(1)(B)(i) no setbacks are
18 required for interior property lines abutting lots with a Public Facility.

19 (B) Below a height of 85 feet, no rear yard or lot coverage limits shall apply.
20 For portions of a building between 85 feet in height and 120 feet in height, the bulk controls of Section
21 270(i) shall not apply; rather, for a lot that does not include a Public Facility, the lot coverage shall be
22 limited to 60% of the lot area.

23 (C) For portions of a building above 120 feet in height (herein "above the 24 podium"), building mass may be provided in up to two towers that meet the bulk limits of Section
25 270(i)(1). However, the following exceptions to Section 270(i)(1) shall apply:

1 (i) Tower separation may be reduced to not less than 50 feet if the height
3 podium.

4 (ii) A tower's average floorplate above the podium shall be no larger
5 than 14,000 square feet.

6 (iii) If there are two towers, one of the towers shall not be taller than 360
7 feet.

8 (iv) The combined maximum gross floor area of two towers, measured
9 for floors between 120 feet and 360 feet in height shall be limited to 576,000 square feet.

10 (v) The average floorplate for the top 1/3 portion of a tower above the
11 podium shall be reduced in square footage by 10% from the average floorplate of the lower 2/3 portion
12 of the tower, and the allowed maximum dimensions in Section 270(i)(B) for such top 1/3 portion of the 13 tower shall be reduced by 5% from the lower 2/3 portion of the tower.

14 (vi) The standards in this subsection (c)(4)(C) are not eligible for the
15 reduction or modification of standards in Section 206.10(d)(1)(M).

16 (5) Open Space. Section 135 shall apply, except as follows:

17 (A) On-Site Publicly Accessible Usable Open Space. The usable open space
18 requirement may be met for projects subject to the SUD with on-site publicly accessible usable open
19 space, including open space otherwise required by Planning Code Section 270.3. When on-site
20 publicly accessible usable open space is provided, the maintenance, information plaque, and liability
21 provisions of Section 270.3(e) shall apply.

22 (B) Off-Site Publicly Accessible Usable Open Space. When additional off-site
23 improvements are made to meet the usable open space requirement, including improvements on 24 adjacent sidewalks and public rights-of-way, such open space improvements shall comply with all
25 applicable regulations of the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency, San Francisco Art

1 Commission, the Department of Public Works, the Bureau of Light, Heat and Power of the Public
2 Utility Commission, or any other public agency, as applicable. The property owner shall maintain all
3 such improvements and meet the liability provisions of Section 270.3(e) for the life of the project.

4 (6) Development Impact Fees. For a development project on land subject to the SUD:

5 (A) With the recommendation of the SFMTA Board of Directors, the Board of
6 Supervisors may waive all or a portion of any applicable Transportation Sustainability Fee under
7 Section 411A, and all or a portion of any applicable Jobs-Housing Linkage Program requirements
8 under Section 413.

9 (B) The provisions of Section 415 et seq., as amended or replaced from time to
10 time, shall apply. Notwithstanding Section 415.6(h)(1), a development project may receive development
11 subsidies if the development provides the same number of on-site affordable units as required by the
12 applicable on-site affordable housing requirement in Section 415 et seq., or any temporary reduction
13 as set forth in Sections 415A et seq. or 415B et seq., plus an additional number of on-site affordable
14 units equal to 25% of the applicable on-site affordable units. Additional units shall be provided as
15 affordable to households at or below 80% of Area Median Income. Any units required to be affordable
16 to middle- or moderate-income households under Sections 415.6(a), 415A, or 415B, as applicable, or
17 this subsection 249.11(c)(6)(B), may instead be affordable to moderate- or low-income households.
18 Notwithstanding Section 415.6(f)(1), the moderate and low income units may be located anywhere in 19 the project.

21 Section 11. Displaced Businesses. Article 2 of the Planning Code is hereby amended
22 by adding Section 202.17, to read as follows:

24 BUSINESSES; NOTICE REQUIREMENT.

25 (a) Purpose. It is to the general benefit of the people of San Francisco and the unique

1 character of the City and its neighborhoods to retain commercially viable businesses that are forced to
2 close and relocate for a variety of reasons, including but not limited to new development, escalating
3 commercial rent, or other economic hardship. The provisions of this Section 202.17 are intended to
4 streamline and increase opportunities for Displaced Businesses to relocate within the City, but do not
5 override any controls enacted by voter initiative.

6 (b) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply to this Section 202.17.

7 New Location means the site or location where a Displaced Business seeks to be
8 permitted.

9 Prior Location means the place of operation where a Displaced Business was lawfully
10 permitted and operated for at least five years prior to relocating to the New Location.

11 Displaced Business means a commercial or institutional use with less than 50,000
12 square feet of Gross Floor Area, whose lease expired and was not renewed, or was otherwise
13 terminated by the property owner, and submits a complete Development Application to relocate to a
14 New Location within five years of the property owner submitting a complete Development Application
15 for development at the site of the Prior Location. Any Displaced Business shall not be considered a
16 Displaced Business upon the Department’s approval of the first Development Application to relocate to 17 the New Location.

18 (c) Controls.

19 (1) Conditional Use Authorization Not Required. Notwithstanding any other provision
20 of this Code, if the use and use size associated with a Displaced Business is either principally or
21 conditionally permitted in the zoning district of the New Location, the use and use size of the Displaced
22 Business shall be principally permitted. In no event shall this subsection be construed to permit a use
23 or use size that is not permitted in the zoning district of a proposed New Location, or to allow Formula
24 Retail uses in the Neighborhood Commercial Districts without Conditional Use authorization.

25 (2) No Development Impact Fees. A relocating Displaced Business shall not be subject

1 to fees pursuant to Article 4.

2 (d) Notice of Development Applications to Existing Businesses. Within 15 days of
3 determining that a Development Application is complete or deemed complete, if the Development
4 Application is proposed at a property where there is an existing commercial or industrial use with less
5 than 50,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area, the Department shall provide mailed and electronic
6 notice of the Development Application to the existing non-residential tenant and the Office of Small
7 Business. This provision does not increase or decrease the rights or obligations of the property owner
8 or non-residential tenant pursuant to a private agreement, such as a lease.

10 Section 12. Miscellaneous Amendments. These amendments are related to the 11 Housing Element rezoning, and include other code changes to streamline the consideration of 12 housing projects. Articles 1, 1.2, 2, and 3 of the Planning Code are hereby amended by 13 revising Sections 102, 202.2, 306.1, 311 and 317, and deleting Sections 140.1, 206.5, and 14 318, to read as follows.

15 SEC. 102. DEFINITIONS.

16 * * * *

17 DBI. The San Francisco Department of Building Inspection or its successor.

18 Density, Form-Based. A type of residential density where the maximum number of residential
19 units is not numerically limited by lot or lot area but by the number of units that could be built within
20 the volume of a proposed development that complies with all applicable Planning Code requirements
21 and Objective Standards. Such requirements and standards include, but are not limited to, Height,
22 Bulk, Rear Yard, Lot Coverage, Setbacks, Open Space, Dwelling Unit Exposure, and Dwelling Unit
23 Mix.

24 Density, Numeric. A type of residential density where the permitted maximum number of 25 residential units is calculated based on a specified number of units per lot, or number of units per lot

1 area.

3 Objective Standard. A standard that does not involve personal or subjective judgment and is
4 publicly available and uniformly verifiable by reference to a benchmark or criterion and knowable,
5 including but not limited to those in the Planning Code or any applicable standards adopted by the
6 Planning Commission, Zoning Administrator, or Board of Supervisors (by ordinance), which are under
7 the purview of the Planning Commission, Planning Department, or Zoning Administrator, including
8 any Citywide Design Standards.

9 Occupied Floor Area. See Floor Area, Occupied.

10 * * * *

11 Residential Care Facility. An Institutional Healthcare Use providing lodging, board,
12 and care for a period of 24 hours or more to persons in need of specialized aid by personnel
13 licensed by the State of California. Such facility shall display nothing on or near the facility that 14 gives an outward indication of the nature of the occupancy except for a sign as permitted by
15 Article 6 of this Code, shall not provide outpatient services, and shall be located in a structure
16 which remains residential in character. Such facilities shall include, but not necessarily be
17 limited to, a board and care home, family care home, long-term nursery, orphanage, rest
18 home or home for the treatment of addictive, contagious or other diseases, or psychological
19 disorders.

20 Residential Flat. A Residential Unit in a building containing two or more Dwelling Units, that
21 has contiguous habitable space that extends the full depth of the building on the same story from the
22 front street-facing façade to the rear of the building, and has windows or doorways on both front and

24 * * * *

1            ~~SEC. 140.1. COMMON AREA REQUIREMENT FOR EFFICIENCY DWELLING UNITS~~
2 ~~WITH REDUCED SQUARE FOOTAGE.~~

3            ~~Buildings with 20 or more Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square footage, as defined in~~
4 ~~Section 318 of this Code, shall include at least one common room for use by the residents. Such~~
5 ~~common room(s) may be used as study or reading rooms, shared kitchen or dining facilities, media~~
6 ~~rooms, game rooms, fitness facilities, or similar uses appropriate to the needs of residents. Interior~~
7 ~~common areas shall be of sufficient size to reasonably accommodate residents' needs, but in no event~~
8 ~~shall the area required be less than ten square feet per unit.~~

9
10           SEC. 202.2. LOCATION AND OPERATING CONDITIONS.

11           * * * *

12           (f) Residential Uses. The Residential Uses listed below shall be subject to the 13 corresponding conditions:

14           (1) Senior Housing. To qualify as Senior Housing, as defined in Section 102
15 of this Code, the following definitions shall apply and shall have the same meaning as the
16 definitions in California Civil Code Sections 51.2, 51.3, and 51.4, as amended from time to
17 time. These definitions shall apply as shall all of the other provisions of Civil Code Sections
18 51.2, 51.3, and 51.4. Any Senior Housing must also be consistent with the Fair Housing Act,
19 42 U.S.C. §§ 3601-3631 and the Fair Employment and Housing Act, California Government
20 Code Sections 12900-12996.

21           * * * *

22           (C) Definition. "Senior Citizen Housing Development" means a
23 residential development developed, substantially rehabilitated, or substantially renovated for
24 senior citizens ~~that has at least 35 Dwelling Units~~. Any Senior Citizen Housing Development that
25 is required to obtain a public report under Section 11010 of the Business and Professions

1 Code and that submits its application for a public report after July 1, 2001, shall be required to
2 have been issued a public report as a Senior Citizen Housing Development under Section
3 11010.05 of the Business and Professions Code. No housing development constructed prior
4 to January 1, 1985, shall fail to qualify as a Senior Citizen Housing Development because it
5 was not originally developed or put to use or occupancy by senior citizens.

7
8 ~~SEC. 206.5. STATE RESIDENTIAL DENSITY BONUS PROGRAM: ANALYZED.~~

9 ~~(a) Purpose. Sections 206.5, 206.6, and 206.7 shall be referred to as the San Francisco State~~
10 ~~Residential Density Bonus Program or the State Density Bonus Program. First, the Analyzed State~~
11 ~~Density Bonus Program in Section 206.5 offers an expedited process for projects that seek a density~~
12 ~~bonus that is consistent with the pre-vetted menu of incentives, concessions and waivers that the~~
13 ~~Planning Department and its consultants have already determined are feasible, result in actual cost~~
14 ~~reductions, and do not have specific adverse impacts upon public health and safety of the physical~~
15 ~~environment. Second the Individually Requested State Density Bonus Program in Section 206.6 details~~
16 ~~the review, analysis and approval process for any project seeking a density bonus that is consistent~~
17 ~~with State Law, but is not consistent with the requirements for the Analyzed State Density Bonus~~
18 ~~Program established in Section 206.5. Third, Section 206.7 describes density bonuses available under~~
19 ~~the State code for the provision of childcare facilities.~~

20 ~~This Section 206.5 implements the Analyzed State Density Bonus Program or “Analyzed State~~
21 ~~Program.” The Analyzed State Program offers an expedited process for projects that seek a density~~
22 ~~bonus that is consistent with, among other requirements set forth below, the pre-vetted menu of~~
23 ~~incentives, waiver and concessions.~~

24 ~~(b) Applicability.~~

25 ~~(1) A Housing Project that meets all of the requirements of this subsection (b)(1) or is a~~

1 ~~Senior Housing Project meeting the criteria of (b)(2) shall be an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project~~
2 ~~or an “Analyzed Project” for purposes of Sections 206 et seq. A Housing Project that does not meet all~~
3 ~~of the requirements of this subsection (b), but seeks a density bonus under State law may apply for a~~
4 ~~density bonus under Section 206.6 as an Individually Requested State Density Bonus Project. To~~
5 ~~qualify for the Analyzed State Density Bonus Program a Housing Project must meet all of the~~
6 ~~following:~~

7 ~~(A) contain five or more residential units, as defined in Section 102, not~~
8 ~~including any Group Housing as defined in Section 102, efficiency dwelling units with reduced square~~
9 ~~footage defined in Section 318, and Density Bonus Units permitted through this Section 206.5 or other~~
10 ~~density program;~~

11 ~~(B) is not seeking and receiving a density or development bonus under Section~~
12 ~~207; the HOME-SF Program, Section 206.3; the 100 Percent Affordable Housing Bonus Program,~~
13 ~~Section 206.4; or any other local or State density bonus program that provides development bonuses;~~

14 ~~(C) for projects located in Neighborhood Commercial Districts is not seeking to~~
15 ~~merge lots that result in more than 125 linear feet in lot frontage on any one street;~~

16 ~~(D) is located in any zoning district that: (i) is not designated as an RH-1 or~~
17 ~~RH-2 Zoning District; (ii) establishes a maximum dwelling unit density through a ratio of number of~~
18 ~~units to lot area, including but not limited to, RH-3, RM, RC, C-2, Neighborhood Commercial, Named~~
19 ~~Neighborhood Commercial, and SoMa Mixed Use Districts, but only if the SoMa Mixed Use District~~
20 ~~has a density measured by a maximum number of dwelling units per square foot of lot area; (iii) is not~~
21 ~~in the North of Market Residential Special Use District, Planning Code Section 249.5 until the~~
22 ~~Affordable Housing Incentive Study is completed at which time the Board will review whether the North~~
23 ~~of Market Residential Special Use District should continue to be excluded from this Program. The~~
24 ~~Study will explore opportunities to support and encourage the provision of housing at the low,~~
25 ~~moderate, and middle income range in neighborhoods where density controls have been eliminated.~~

1 ~~The goal of this analysis is to incentivize increased affordable housing production levels at deeper and~~
2 ~~wider ranges of AMI and larger unit sizes in these areas through 100% affordable housing~~
3 ~~development as well as below market rate units within market rate developments; (iv) is not located~~
4 ~~within the boundaries of the Northeastern Waterfront Area Plan south of the centerline of Broadway;~~
5 ~~and (v) is not located on property under the jurisdiction of the Port of San Francisco;~~

6 ~~(E) is providing all Inclusionary Units as On-site Units under Section 415.6;~~

7 ~~(F) includes a minimum of nine foot ceilings on all residential floors;~~

8 ~~(G) is seeking only Concessions or Incentives set forth in subsection (c)(4);~~

9 ~~(H) is seeking height increases only in the form of a waiver as described in~~
10 ~~subsection (c)(5);~~

11 ~~(I) does not demolish, remove, or convert any residential units;~~

12 ~~(J) consists only of new construction, and excluding any project that includes an~~
13 ~~addition to an existing structure;~~

14 ~~(K) includes at the ground floor level active uses, as defined in Section 145.1 at~~
15 ~~the same square footages as any neighborhood commercial uses demolished or removed;~~

16 ~~(L) if any retail use is demolished or removed, does not include a Formula~~
17 ~~Retail use, as defined in Section 303.1, unless the retail use demolished or removed was also a Formula~~
18 ~~Retail use, or one of the following uses: Gas Stations, Private or Public Parking Lots, Financial~~
19 ~~Services, Fringe Financial Services, Self Storage, Motel, Automobile Sales or Rental, Automotive~~
20 ~~Wash, Mortuaries, Adult Business, Massage Establishment, Medical Cannabis Dispensary, and~~
21 ~~Tobacco Paraphernalia Establishment, as those uses are defined in Planning Code Section 102;~~

22 ~~(M) all on-site income-restricted residential units in the Housing Project are no~~
23 ~~smaller than the minimum unit sizes set forth by the California Tax Credit Allocation Committee as of~~
24 ~~May 16, 2017; and~~

25 ~~(N) notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, includes a minimum~~

~~dwelling unit mix of at least 40% of all units as two or three bedroom units, including at least 10% of units as three bedroom units. Larger units should be distributed on all floors, and prioritized in spaces adjacent to open spaces or play yards. Units with two or three bedrooms should incorporate family friendly amenities, including bathtubs, dedicated cargo bicycle parking, dedicated stroller storage, and open space and yards designed for use by children.~~

~~(2) A Senior Housing Project, as defined in Section 102, may qualify as an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project if it follows all of the procedures and conditions set forth in Planning Code Section 202.2(f).~~

~~(3) If located north of the centerline of Post Street and east of the centerline of Van Ness Avenue, all otherwise eligible Analyzed State Law Density Bonus Projects shall only be permitted on:~~

~~(A) lots containing no existing buildings; or~~

~~(B) lots equal to or greater than 12,500 square feet where existing buildings are developed to less than 20% of the lot's principally permitted buildable gross floor area as determined by height limits, rear yard requirements and required setbacks.~~

~~(c) Development Bonuses. All Analyzed State Law Density Bonus Projects shall receive, at the project sponsor's written request, any or all of the following:~~

~~(1) Priority Processing. Analyzed Projects that provide 30% or more of Units as On-site Inclusionary Housing Units or Restricted Affordable Units that meet all of the requirements for an Inclusionary Housing Unit shall receive Priority Processing.~~

~~(2) Density Bonus. Analyzed Projects that provide On-site Inclusionary Housing Units or Restricted Affordable Units that meet all of the requirements for an Inclusionary Housing Unit shall receive a density bonus as described in Table 206.5A as follows:~~

Table 206.5A Density Bonus Summary—Analyzed

Restricted Affordable Units or Category	Minimum Percentage of Restricted Affordable Units	Percentage of Density Bonus Granted	Additional Bonus for Each 1% Increase In Restricted Affordable Units	Percentage of Restricted Units Required for Maximum 35% Density Bonus
Very Low Income	5%	20%	2.50%	11%
Lower Income	10%	20%	1.50%	20%
Moderate Income	10%	5%	1%	40%
Senior Citizen Housing, as defined in § 102, and meeting the requirements of § 202.2(f).	100%	50%	—	—

Note: A density bonus may be selected from more than one category, up to a maximum of 35% of the Maximum Allowable Gross Residential Density.

In calculating density bonuses under this subsection 206.5(c)(2) the following shall apply:

(A) When calculating the number of permitted Density Bonus Units or Restricted Affordable Units, any fractions of units shall be rounded to the next highest number. Analyzed Density Bonus Program projects must include the minimum percentage of Restricted Affordable Units identified in Column B of Table 206.5A for at least one income category, but may combine density bonuses from more than one income category, up to a maximum of 35% of the Maximum Allowable Gross Residential Density.

(B) An applicant may elect to receive a Density Bonus that is less than the amount permitted by this Section; however, the City shall not be required to similarly reduce the number of Restricted Affordable Units required to be dedicated pursuant to this Section and Government Code Section 65915(b).

1 number of Restricted Affordable Units required to qualify for a Density Bonus. Density bonuses shall
 2 be calculated as a percentage of the Maximum Allowable Gross Residential Density.

3 (E) Any Restricted Affordable Unit provided pursuant to the on-site
 4 requirements of the Inclusionary Affordable Housing Program, Section 415 et seq., shall be included
 5 when determining the number of Restricted Affordable Units required to qualify for a Development
 6 Bonus under this Section 206.5. The payment of the Affordable Housing Fee shall not qualify for a
 7 Development Bonus under this Section. The provision of Off-site Units shall not qualify the Principal
 8 Project for a Density Bonus under this Section; however an Off-site Unit may qualify as a Restricted
 9 Affordable Unit to obtain a density bonus for the Off-site Project.

10 (F) In accordance with state law, neither the granting of a Concession,
 11 Incentive, waiver, or modification, nor the granting of a Density Bonus, shall be interpreted, in and of
 12 itself, to require a general plan amendment, zoning change, variance, or other discretionary approval.

13 (3) ~~Concessions and Incentives.~~ Analyzed Projects shall receive concessions or
 14 incentives, in the amounts specified in Table 206.5B:

Table 206.5B
Concessions and Incentives Summary — Analyzed Projects
Target Group	Restricted Affordable Units
Very Low Income	5%	10%	15%
Lower Income	10%	20%	30%
Moderate Income (Common Interest Development)	10%	20%	30%
Maximum Incentive(s)/ Concession(s)	1	2	3

20 Notes: 1. Common Interest Development is defined in California Civil Code Section 4100.

21 (4) ~~Menu of Concessions and Incentives:~~ In submitting a request for Concessions or
 22 Incentives, an applicant for an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project may request the specific
 23 Concessions and Incentives set forth below. The Planning Department, based on Department research
 25

1 San Francisco Planning Department dated August 2015, on file with the Clerk of the Board of
2 Supervisors in File No. 150969, has determined that the following Concessions and Incentives are
3 generally consistent with Government Code Section 65915(d) because, in general, they: are required in
4 order to provide for affordable housing costs; will not be deemed by the Department to have a specific
5 adverse impact as defined in Government Code Section 65915(d); and are not contrary to State or
6 Federal law.

7 (A) Rear yard: the required rear yard per Section 134 or any applicable special
8 use district may be reduced to no less than 20% of the lot depth, or 15 feet, whichever is greater.
9 Corner properties may provide 20% of the lot area at the interior corner of the property to meet the
10 minimum rear yard requirement, provided that each horizontal dimension of the open area is a
11 minimum of 15 feet; and that the open area is wholly or partially contiguous to the existing midblock
12 open space, if any, formed by the rear yards of adjacent properties.

13 (B) Dwelling Unit Exposure: the dwelling unit exposure requirements of
14 Section 140(a)(2) may be satisfied through qualifying windows facing an unobstructed open area that
15 is no less than 25 feet in every horizontal dimension, and such open area is not required to expand in 16 every horizontal dimension at each subsequent floor.

18 required.

19 (D) Parking: up to a 50% reduction in the residential and commercial parking
20 requirement, per Section 151 or any applicable special use district.

21 (E) Open Space: up to a 5% reduction in required common open space per
22 Section 135, or any applicable special use district.

23 (F) Additional Open Space: up to an additional 5% reduction in required
24 common open space per Section 135 or any applicable special use district, beyond the 5% provided in

1           ~~(5) Waiver or Modification of Height Limits. Analyzed Projects may request a waiver~~
2 ~~of the applicable height restrictions if the applicable height limitation will have the effect of physically~~
3 ~~precluding the construction of a Housing Project at the densities or with the Concessions or Incentives~~
4 ~~permitted by subsection (c)(4). Analyzed Projects may receive a height bonus as of right of up to twenty~~
5 ~~feet or two stories, excluding exceptions permitted per Section 260(b), if the applicant demonstrates~~
6 ~~that it qualifies for a height waiver through the following formula:~~

7           ~~Step one: Calculate Base Density and Bonus Density Limits~~

8           ~~Calculate Base Density (BD), as defined in Section 206.2.~~

9           ~~Bonus Density Limit (BD): ED multiplied by 1.XX where XX is the density bonus~~
10 ~~requested per Section 206.5 of this Code (e.g. 7%, 23%, 35%), not to exceed 1.35, the maximum density~~
11 ~~bonus available by this Section.~~

12           ~~Step two: Calculate Permitted Envelope (PE). Buildable envelope available under~~ 13 ~~existing height and bulk controls.~~

14           ~~PE equals lot area multiplied by permitted lot coverage, where lot coverage equals .75,~~
15 ~~or .8 if the developer elects to request a rear yard modification under Section 206.5(c)(4)(A), multiplied~~
16 ~~by existing height limit (measured in number of stories), minus one story for projects in districts where~~
17 ~~non-residential uses are required on the ground floor, and minus any square footage subject to bulk~~
18 ~~limitations (for parcels that do not have an X bulk designation).~~

19           ~~Step three: Calculate Bonus Envelope (BE). Residential envelope necessary to~~
20 ~~accommodate additional density (“Bonus envelope” or “BE”).~~

21           ~~BE equals Bonus Density multiplied by 1,000 gross square feet.~~

22           ~~Step four: Calculate Additional Residential Floors. Determine the number of stories~~
23 ~~required to accommodate bonus:~~

24           ~~(A) If BE is less than or equal to PE, the project is not awarded height under~~
25 ~~this subsection (c)(5).~~

1 ~~(B) If BE is greater than PE, the project is awarded height, as follows:~~

2 ~~(i) If BE minus PE is less than the lot area multiplied by 0.75, project is~~
3 ~~allowed one extra story; total gross square footage of building not to exceed BE; or~~

4 ~~(ii) If BE minus PE is greater than the lot area multiplied by 0.75 (i.e. if~~
5 ~~the difference is greater than one story), project is allowed two extra stories; total gross square footage~~
6 ~~of building not to exceed BE.~~

7 ~~(d) Application. An application for an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project under this Section~~
8 ~~206.5 shall be submitted with the first application for approval of a Housing Project and shall be~~
9 ~~processed concurrently with all other applications required for the Housing Project. The application~~
10 ~~shall be on a form prescribed by the City and, in addition to any information required for other~~
11 ~~applications, shall include the following information:~~

12 ~~(1) A description of the proposed Housing Project, including the total number of~~
13 ~~dwelling units, Restricted Affordable Units, and Density Bonus Units proposed;~~

14 ~~(2) Any zoning district designation, Base Density, assessor's parcel number(s) of the~~
15 ~~project site, and a description of any Density Bonus, Concession or Incentive, or waiver requested;~~

16 ~~(3) A list of the requested Concessions and Incentives from Section 206.5(c)(4);~~

17 ~~(4) If a waiver or modification of height is requested under Section 206.5(c)(5), a~~
18 ~~calculation demonstrating how the project qualifies for such waiver under the formula;~~

19 ~~(5) A full plan set including site plan, elevations, sections, and floor plans, number of~~
20 ~~market rate units, Restricted Affordable Units, and Density Bonus units within the proposed Housing~~
21 ~~Project. The location of all units must be approved by the Planning Department before the issuance of~~
22 ~~the building permit;~~

23 ~~(6) Level of affordability of the Restricted Affordable Units and a draft Regulatory~~ 24 ~~Agreement; and~~

25 ~~(7) Documentation that the applicant has provided written notification to all existing~~

1 ~~commercial tenants that the applicant intends to develop the property pursuant to this section. Any~~
2 ~~affected commercial tenants shall be given priority processing similar to the Department's Community~~
3 ~~Business Priority Processing Program, as adopted by the Planning Commission on February 12, 2015~~
4 ~~under Resolution Number 19323 to support relocation of such business in concert with access to~~
5 ~~relevant local business support programs. In no case may a project receive a site permit or any~~
6 ~~demolition permit prior to 18 months from the date of written notification required by this Section~~
7 ~~206.5(d)(7).~~

8 ~~(e) Review Procedures. An application for an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project, shall be~~
9 ~~acted upon concurrently with the application for other permits related to the Housing Project.~~

10 ~~(1) Before approving an application for an Analyzed Project, the Planning Department~~
11 ~~or Commission shall make written findings that the Housing Project is qualified as an Analyzed State~~
12 ~~Density Bonus Project.~~

13 ~~(2) Analyzed Projects shall be governed by the conditional use procedures of Section~~
14 ~~303. All notices shall specify that the Housing Project is seeking a Development Bonus and shall~~
15 ~~provide a description of the Development Bonuses requested. Analyzed Projects shall also be reviewed~~
16 ~~for consistency with the Affordable Housing Bonus Program Design Guidelines.~~

17 ~~(f) Regulatory Agreements. Recipients of a Density Bonus, Incentive, Concession, waiver, or~~
18 ~~modification shall enter into a Regulatory Agreement with the City, as follows.~~

19 ~~(1) The terms of the agreement shall be acceptable in form and content to the Planning~~
20 ~~Director, the Director of MOHCD, and the City Attorney. The Planning Director shall have the~~
21 ~~authority to execute such agreements.~~

22 ~~(2) Following execution of the agreement by all parties, the completed Density Bonus~~
23 ~~Regulatory Agreement, or memorandum thereof, shall be recorded and the conditions filed and~~
24 ~~recorded on the Housing Project.~~

25 ~~(3) The approval and recordation of the Regulatory Agreement shall take place prior to~~

1 ~~the issuance of the First Construction Document. The Regulatory Agreement shall be binding to all~~
2 ~~future owners and successors in interest.~~

3 ~~(4) The Regulatory Agreement shall be consistent with the guidelines of the City's~~
4 ~~Inclusionary Housing Program and shall include at a minimum the following:~~

5 ~~(A) The total number of dwelling units approved for the Housing Project,~~
6 ~~including the number of Restricted Affordable Units, Inclusionary Units, HOME-SF Units or other~~
7 ~~restricted units;~~

8 ~~(B) A description of the household income group to be accommodated by the~~
9 ~~Restricted Affordable Units, and the standards for determining the corresponding Affordable Rent or~~
10 ~~Affordable Sales Price;~~

11 ~~(C) The location, dwelling unit sizes (in square feet), and number of bedrooms~~
12 ~~of the Restricted Affordable Units;~~

13 ~~(D) Term of use restrictions for Restricted Affordable Units of at least 55 years~~
14 ~~for Moderate Income units and at least 55 years for Low and Very Low units;~~

15 ~~(E) A schedule for completion and occupancy of Restricted Affordable Units;~~

16 ~~(F) A description of any Concession, Incentive, waiver, or modification, if any,~~
17 ~~being provided by the City;~~

18 ~~(G) A description of remedies for breach of the agreement (the City may identify~~ 19 ~~tenants or qualified purchasers as third party beneficiaries under the agreement);~~

20 ~~(H) A list of all on-site family friendly amenities. Family friendly amenities shall~~
21 ~~include, but are not limited to, dedicated cargo bicycle parking, dedicated stroller storage, and open~~
22 ~~space and yards designed for use by children; and~~

23 ~~(I) Other provisions to ensure implementation and compliance with this Section.~~

25 SEC. 306.1. APPLICATIONS AND FILING FEES.

1                   * * * *

2                   (c) Content of Applications. The content of applications shall be in accordance with
3 the policies, rules and regulations of the Planning Department, Zoning Administrator and the
4 Planning Commission. All applications shall be upon forms prescribed therefor, and shall
5 contain or be accompanied by all information required to assure the presentation of pertinent
6 facts for proper consideration of the case and for the permanent record. The applicant may be
7 required to file with his application the information needed for the preparation and mailing of
8 notices as specified in Section 306.3. In addition to any other information required by the
9 Planning Department, the Zoning Administrator and the Planning Commission, an applicant
10 for a conditional use permit or variance who proposes a commercial use for the subject
11 property shall disclose the name under which business will be, or is expected to be,
12 conducted at the subject property, if such name is known at the time of application. The term
13 "known" shall mean actual, not imputed knowledge, and shall consist of direct evidence
14 including but not limited to a contract of sale, lease, or rental, or letter of intent or agreement,
15 between the applicant and a commercial entity. If the business name becomes known to the
16 applicant during the conditional use permit or variance processing period, the applicant
17 promptly shall amend the application to disclose such business name. All applications must
18 disclose whether there are existing residential uses and non-residential uses, and disclose the presence
19 of any residential or non-residential tenants, located at the subject property at the time the application
20 is submitted.

21                   SEC. 311. PERMIT REVIEW PROCEDURES.

22                   (a) Purpose. The purpose of this Section 311 is to establish procedures for reviewing
23 ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Applications ~~applications~~ to determine compatibility of the 24 proposal with the neighborhood and for providing notice to property owners, tenants, and
25 residents on the site and neighboring the site of the proposed project and to interested

1 neighborhood organizations, so that concerns about a project may be identified and resolved
2 during the review of the permit. For purposes of this Section 311, a planning entitlement
3 Development Application ~~application~~ means the application submitted by a project sponsor to
4 the Planning Department, provided said application has been deemed complete by the
5 Planning Department, that includes the information necessary to conduct environmental
6 review, determine Planning Code compliance, and assess conformity with the General Plan.

7 (b) Applicability.

8 (1) Within the Priority Equity Geographies SUD, all planning entitlement
9 *Development A*pplications in Residential, NC, NCT, RTO, Chinatown Mixed Use Districts, and
10 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts for demolition, new construction, or alteration of
11 buildings shall be subject to the notification and review procedures required by this Section
12 311. Notwithstanding the foregoing or any other requirement of this Section 311, planning
13 *entitlement Development A*pplications to construct an Accessory Dwelling Unit pursuant to
14 Section 207.2 shall not be subject to the notification or review requirements of this Section
15 311. A change of use to a principally permitted use in the Western SoMa Plan Area, Central
16 SoMa Plan Area, or East SoMa Plan Area shall not be subject to the provisions of this Section 17 311.

18 * * * *

19 (3) In all Other Projects in Residential, NC, NCT, and Eastern
20 Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts. All *planning entitlement Development A*pplications in 21 Residential, NC, NCT, and Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts that propose any of 22 the following shall be subject to the notification and review procedures required by this
23 Section 311.

24 * * * *

25 (c) Planning-Entitlement Development* Application Review for Compliance. Upon

1 acceptance of any Development Application subject to this Section 311, the Planning
2 Department shall review the proposed project for compliance with the Planning Code and any
3 applicable design guidelines, and standards approved by the Planning Commission.
4 Applications determined ~~not~~ to be in compliance with the Objective Standards of Articles 1.2,
5 1.5, 2, and 2.5 of the Planning Code, and any applicable Objective Standards adopted by the
6 Commission shall be considered to be code-compliant. Development Applications for projects other
7 than code-compliant residential projects may be subject to additional controls, including the
8 Residential Design Guidelines, ~~including~~ design guidelines for specific areas adopted by the
9 Planning Commission, ~~or with~~ any applicable conditions of previous approvals regarding the 10 project, ~~shall be held until either the application is determined to be in compliance, is disapproved or a~~
11 ~~recommendation for cancellation is sent to the Department of Building Inspection.~~

12 (1) Design Guidelines and Standards. The construction of new buildings and 13 alteration of existing buildings shall be consistent with the design policies and guidelines of
14 the General Plan, applicable Objective Standards, ~~and with~~ the “Residential Design Guidelines,”
15 and all other applicable design guidelines and standards as adopted and periodically amended
16 for specific areas or conditions by the Planning Commission. ~~The design for new buildings with~~
17 ~~residential uses in RTO Districts shall also be consistent with the design standards and guidelines of~~
18 ~~the “Ground Floor Residential Units Design Guidelines” as adopted and periodically amended by the~~
19 ~~Planning Commission.~~ The Planning Director may require modifications to the exterior of a 20 proposed new building or proposed alteration of an existing building in order to bring it into 21 conformity with the applicable design guidelines. These modifications may include, but are not
22 limited to, changes in siting, building envelope, scale texture and detailing, openings, and
23 landscaping.

24 * * * *

25 (d) Notification. Upon determination that an application ~~is in compliance~~ complies with

1 the development standards of the Planning Code, the Planning Department shall cause a
2 notice to be posted on the site pursuant to rules established by the Zoning Administrator and
3 shall cause a written notice describing the proposed project to be sent in the manner
4 described below. This notice shall be in addition to any notices required by the Building Code
5 and shall have a format and content determined by the Zoning Administrator. The notice shall
6 describe the project review process and shall set forth the mailing date of the notice and the
7 expiration date of the notification period.

8 * * * *

9 (5) Notification Period. All ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Applications shall
10 be held for a period of 30 calendar days from the date of the mailed notice to allow review by 11 residents and owners of neighboring properties and by neighborhood groups.

12 (6) Elimination of Duplicate Notice. The notice provisions of this Section 311
13 may be waived by the Zoning Administrator for ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Applications
14 for projects that have been, or before approval will be, the subject of a duly noticed public
15 hearing before the Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator, provided that the nature of 16 work for which the ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Application is required is both
17 substantially included in the hearing notice and is the subject of the hearing.

18 (7) Notification Package. The notification package for a project subject to
19 notice under this Section 311 shall include a written notice and reduced-size drawings of the 20 project. Distributed plans and drawings may be limited to comply with applicable state laws.

21 * * * *

22 (D) The ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Application number(s) shall be
23 disclosed in the written notice. The start and expiration dates of the notice shall be stated. A
24 description about the recipient's rights to request additional information, to request
25 Discretionary Review by the Planning Commission and to appeal to other boards or

1 commissions shall be provided.

2 * * * *

3 (e) Requests for Planning Commission Review. A request for the Planning
4 Commission to exercise its discretionary review powers over a specific ~~planning entitlement~~
5 Development Application shall be considered by the Planning Commission if received by the
6 Planning Department no later than 5:00 p.m. of the last day of the notification period as
7 described in this Section 311, subject to guidelines adopted by the Planning Commission. The
8 project sponsor of a ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Application may request discretionary
9 review by the Planning Commission to resolve conflicts between the Director of Planning and
10 the project sponsor concerning requested modifications to comply with the Residential Design
11 Guidelines, or other applicable design guidelines or standard.

12 * * * *

14 SEC. 317. LOSS OF RESIDENTIAL AND UNAUTHORIZED UNITS THROUGH
15 DEMOLITION, MERGER, AND CONVERSION.

16 (a) Findings. San Francisco faces a continuing shortage of affordable housing. There
17 is a high ratio of rental to ownership tenure among the City's residents. The General Plan
18 recognizes that existing housing is the greatest stock of rental and financially accessible
19 residential units, and is a resource in need of protection. Therefore, a public hearing will be
20 held prior to approval of any permit that would remove existing housing, reduce the size of a
21 Residential Flat, merge any portion of a Residential Flat with another unit, or change the configuration
22 of a Residential Flat such that the unit is no longer considered a Residential Flat, with certain
23 exceptions, as described below. The Planning Commission shall develop a Code
24 Implementation Document setting forth procedures and regulations for the implementation of 25 this Section 317 as provided further below. The Zoning Administrator shall modify economic

1 criteria related to property values and construction costs in the Implementation Document as
2 warranted by changing economic conditions to meet the intent of this Section.

3 (b) Definitions. For the purposes of this Section 317, the terms below shall be as
4 defined below. Capitalized terms not defined below are defined in Section 102 of this Code.

5 * * * *

6 (7) "Residential Merger" shall mean the combining of two or more Residential
7 or Unauthorized Units, resulting in a decrease in the number of Residential Units and
8 Unauthorized Units within a building, or the enlargement of one or more existing units while
9 ~~substantially~~ reducing the size of others by more than 25% of their original floor area, even if
10 the number of units is not reduced. The Planning Commission may reduce the numerical
11 element of this criterion by up to 20% of its value should it deem that adjustment is necessary
12 to implement the intent of this Section 317, to conserve existing housing and preserve
13 affordable housing. Residential Merger shall also include the reconfiguration of a Residential Flat
14 with another Dwelling Unit, if the proposed project would reconfigure an existing Residential Flat such
15 that the reconfigured Residential Flat would no longer meet the definition of a Residential Flat, even if
16 the number of Dwelling Units is not reduced and the Residential Flat is not reduced in size.

17 * * * *

18 (c) Applicability; Exemptions.

19 * * * *

20 ~~(12) Residential Flats. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section~~
21 ~~317, projects that propose the Merger, reconfiguration, or reduction in size of Residential Flats~~
22 ~~shall not require a Conditional Use authorization if the project would increase the number of~~
23 ~~Dwelling Units on the property.~~

24 * * * *

25 (g) Conditional Use Criteria.

1 * * * *

2 (6) Residential Demolition. The Planning Commission shall consider the
3 following additional criteria in the review of applications for Residential Demolition:

4 * * * *

5 (L) whether the project increases the number of family-sized units on-
6 site, and in the case of demolition of any Residential Flats whether the proposed project is
7 maintaining or increasing the number of units on the lot that contain at least two or more
8 bedrooms or that are at least equivalent in size to the Residential Flats being demolished;

9 * * * *

10 (8) Denial of Application to Remove an Unauthorized Unit; Requirement to
11 Legalize the Unit. If the Planning Commission denies an application to Remove an
12 Unauthorized Unit, the property owner shall file an Development Application and any necessary
13 application for a building permit to legalize the Unit. Failure to do so within a reasonable
14 period of time, as determined by the Zoning Administrator, shall be deemed to be a violation
15 of the Planning Code.

16 (9) Residential Flats. In addition to the other considerations in this subsection (g), the 17 Planning Commission shall consider the criteria below when reviewing a project application that
18 would merge a Residential Flat such that it would no longer meet the definition of a Residential Flat:

19 (A) whether reduction in size, reconfiguration, or merger of the Flat(s) would
20 reduce the size of any Flat by more than 25% of its original floor area; and

21 (B) whether the proposed project is maintaining or increasing the number of
22 units on the Lot that contain at least two or more bedrooms or that are at least equivalent in size to the
23 Residential Flats being reduced or reconfigured.

24 * * * *

25 ~~SEC. 318. EFFICIENCY DWELLING UNITS WITH REDUCED SQUARE FOOTAGE.~~

1            ~~(a) Definition. For purposes of this Section, an "Efficiency Dwelling Unit with reduced square~~
2 ~~footage" shall mean an Efficiency Dwelling Unit with a living room of less than 220 square feet and~~
3 ~~meeting the requirements of Section 1208.4 of the San Francisco Building Code that is not affordable~~
4 ~~housing, group housing, or student housing as defined in this Code.~~

5            ~~(b) Limitation on the Total Number of Efficiency Dwelling Units with Reduced Square~~
6 ~~Footage That Can Be Constructed. The Planning Department may approve the construction of up to a~~
7 ~~total number of 375 Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square footage; provided, however, that~~
8 ~~Efficiency Dwelling Units shall not be included in this total. For purposes of this subsection, individual~~
9 ~~units will be counted even if they comprise less than the total number of units in the building.~~

10           ~~(c) Reporting and Reauthorization. After the approval of approximately 325 Efficiency~~
11 ~~Dwelling Units with reduced square footage, the Planning Department in collaboration with the~~
12 ~~Mayor's Office of Housing shall submit a report to the Board of Supervisors that provides whatever~~
13 ~~information those Departments believe will assist the Board in determining whether to increase the~~
14 ~~numerical cap on the number of Efficiency Units with reduced square footage or to otherwise modify~~
15 ~~the requirements. At a minimum, the report shall include the following information:~~

16                    ~~(1) Pricing information, based on data from the Assessor's Office, for sales properties~~
17 ~~and, to the extent feasible, rental prices for the Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square footage;~~

18                    ~~(2) A comparison of the sales and rental pricing information for Efficiency Dwelling~~
19 ~~Units with reduced square footage to similar data for studio and 1-bedroom dwelling units;~~

21 ~~are located, both projects that are entitled but not yet built and projects that have been constructed;~~

22                    ~~(4) A comparison of the numbers of Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square~~
23 ~~footage that are entitled and/or built and the goals for other dwelling unit sizes within any adopted~~
24 ~~Area Plans; and~~

25                    ~~(5) A comparison of the numbers of Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square~~

1 footage with the quantified housing production goals, to the extent available by household income
 2 level, set forth in the Regional Housing Needs Allocation.

2 SEC. 710. NC-1 – NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL CLUSTER DISTRICT.

3 NC-1 Districts are intended to serve as local neighborhood shopping districts, providing
4 convenience retail goods and services for the immediately surrounding neighborhoods
5 primarily during daytime hours.

6 These NC-1 Districts are characterized by their location in residential neighborhoods,
7 often in outlying areas of the City. The commercial intensity of these districts varies. Many of
8 these districts have the lowest intensity of commercial development in the City, generally
9 consisting of small clusters with three or more commercial establishments, commonly grouped
10 around a corner; and in some cases short linear commercial strips with low-scale,
11 interspersed mixed-use (residential-commercial) development.

12 Building controls for the NC-1 District promote lower-intensity development which is
13 compatible with the existing scale and character of these neighborhood areas. Commercial
14 development is limited to one story, with certain exceptions. Rear yard requirements at all levels
15 preserve existing backyard space.

16 NC-1 commercial use provisions encourage the full range of neighborhood-serving
17 convenience retail sales and services ~~at the first story provided that the use size generally is limited~~
18 ~~to 3,000 square feet, subject to certain use size~~ limitations. However, commercial uses and
19 features which could impact residential livability are prohibited, such as auto uses, financial
20 services, general advertising signs, drive-up facilities, hotels, and late-night activity. ~~;~~ ~~eating and~~
21 ~~drinking establishments are restricted, depending upon the intensity of such uses in nearby commercial~~
22 ~~districts.~~

23 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~in most~~
24 ~~districts. Existing residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story~~

1 ~~and limitations on demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant~~
 2 ~~to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

21 SEC. 711. NC-2 – SMALL-SCALE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

22 The NC-2 District is intended to serve as the City's Small-Scale Neighborhood
23 Commercial District. These districts are linear shopping streets which provide convenience
24 goods and services to the surrounding neighborhoods as well as limited comparison shopping
25 goods for a wider market. The range of comparison goods and services offered is varied and

1 often includes specialty retail stores, restaurants, and neighborhood-serving offices. NC-2
2 Districts are commonly located along both collector and arterial streets which have transit
3 routes.

4 These districts range in size from two or three blocks to many blocks, although the
5 commercial development in longer districts may be interspersed with housing or other land
6 uses. Buildings typically range in height from two to four stories with occasional one-story
7 commercial buildings.

8 The small-scale district controls provide for mixed-use buildings which approximate or
9 slightly exceed the standard development pattern. Rear yard requirements above the ground
10 story and at residential levels preserve open space corridors of interior blocks.

11 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
12 Neighborhood-serving businesses are strongly encouraged. ~~The second story may be used by~~
13 ~~some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.~~ Parking and
14 hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities, and other
15 automobile uses protect the livability within and around the district, and promote continuous
16 retail frontage.

17 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground ~~story~~floor.
18 ~~Existing residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions.~~
19 Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

18 SEC. 712. NC-3 – MODERATE-SCALE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL
19 DISTRICT.

20 NC-3 Districts are intended in most cases to offer a wide variety of comparison and
21 specialty goods and services to a population greater than the immediate neighborhood,
22 additionally providing convenience goods and services to the surrounding neighborhoods.
23 NC-3 Districts are linear districts located along heavily trafficked thoroughfares which also 24 serve as major transit routes.

1 NC-3 Districts include some of the longest linear commercial streets in the City, some
 2 of which have continuous retail development for many blocks. Large-scale lots and buildings
 3 and wide streets distinguish the districts from smaller-scaled commercial streets, although the
 4 districts may include small as well as moderately scaled lots. Buildings typically range in
 5 height from two to four stories with occasional taller structures.

6 NC-3 building standards permit moderately large commercial uses and buildings. Rear
 7 yards are protected at residential levels.

8 A diversified commercial environment is encouraged for the NC-3 District, and a wide
 9 variety of uses are permitted with special emphasis on neighborhood-serving businesses.
 10 Eating and drinking, entertainment, financial service and certain auto uses generally are
 11 permitted with certain limitations at the first and second stories. Other retail businesses,
 12 personal services and offices are permitted at all stories of new buildings. Limited storage and
 13 administrative service activities are permitted with some restrictions.

14 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing~~
 15 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
 16 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

 20 SEC. 713. NC-S – NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL SHOPPING CENTER
 21 DISTRICT.

22 NC-S Districts are intended to serve as small shopping centers or supermarket sites
 23 which provide retail goods and services for primarily car-oriented shoppers. They commonly 24 contain at least one anchor store or supermarket, and some districts also have small medical
 25 office buildings. The range of services offered at their retail outlets usually is intended to serve

1 the immediate and nearby neighborhoods. These districts encompass some of the most
 2 recent (post-1945) retail development in San Francisco's neighborhoods and serve as an
 3 alternative to the linear shopping street.

4 Shopping centers and supermarket sites contain mostly one-story buildings which are
 5 removed from the street edge and set in a parking lot. Outdoor pedestrian activity consists
 6 primarily of trips between the parking lot and the stores on-site. Ground and second stories
 7 are devoted to retail sales and some personal services and offices.

8 The NC-S standards and use provisions allow for medium-size commercial uses ~~in low-~~
 9 ~~scale buildings. Rear yards are not required for new development.~~ Most neighborhood-serving retail
 10 businesses are permitted at the first and second stories.

11 Housing development in new buildings is permitted. ~~Existing residential units are~~
 12 ~~protected by limitations on demolitions and prohibitions of upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
 13 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

 5 mix of uses. Building standards permit small- and mid-scale buildings and uses and protect
 6 rear yards above the ground story and at residential levels. In new buildings, most commercial
 7 uses are permitted at the ground and second stories. Special controls are necessary to
 8 preserve the existing equilibrium of neighborhood-serving convenience and specialty
 9 commercial uses. In order to maintain convenience stores and protect adjacent residential
 10 livability, controls authorize some additional drinking establishments with a conditional use,
 11 permit self-service specialty food establishments, and permit with certain limitations new late-
 12 night uses, adult and other entertainment, and financial service uses. The continuous retail
 13 frontage is maintained by prohibiting most automobile and drive-up uses. Housing
 14 development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing housing units are~~

1           SEC. 716. INNER CLEMENT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

2           The Inner Clement Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located on Clement
3 Street between Arguello Boulevard and Funston Avenue in the eastern portion of the
4 Richmond District of northwest San Francisco. The ~~d~~District provides a wide selection of
5 convenience goods and services for the residents of the Inner Richmond neighborhood. Inner
6 Clement Street has one of the greatest concentrations of restaurants of any commercial street
7 in San Francisco, drawing customers from throughout the City and region. There are also a
8 significant number of professional, realty, and business offices as well as financial institutions.
9 The pleasant pedestrian character of the district is derived directly from the intensely active
10 retail frontage on Clement Street.

11           The ~~Inner Clement Street~~ District controls are designed to promote development that is
12 consistent with its existing land use patterns and to maintain a harmony of uses that supports
13 the ~~d~~District's vitality. The building standards allow small- to mid-scale buildings and uses,
14 protecting rear yards above the ground story and at residential levels. In new development,
15 most commercial uses are permitted at the first two stories, although certain limitations apply
16 to uses at the second story. Special controls are necessary to preserve the equilibrium of 17 neighborhood-serving convenience and comparison shopping businesses and protect
18 adjacent residential livability. These controls limit additional financial service uses, additional 19 eating and drinking establishments, and late-night commercial uses. In order to maintain the 20 street's active retail frontage, controls also prohibit most new automobile and drive-up uses.

21           Housing development is encouraged in new buildings above the ground story. ~~Existing~~
22 ~~residential units are protected by prohibitions on upper-story conversions and limitations on~~
23 ~~demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~

SEC. 717. OUTER CLEMENT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL

DISTRICT.

The Outer Clement Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located on Clement Street between 19th Avenue and 27th Avenue in the western portion of the Richmond District. The shopping area contains small-scale convenience businesses, as well as many restaurants and a movie theater. The dDistrict's restaurants serve a neighborhood and Citywide clientele during the evening hours, while convenience shopping uses cater for the most part to daytime neighborhood shoppers. Outer Clement Street contains many mixed-use buildings with some fully commercial and fully residential buildings interspersed between them.

The Outer Clement Street District controls are designed to promote development that is in keeping with the dDistrict's existing small-scale, mixed-use character. The building standards monitor/guide large-scale development and protect rear yards at all levels. Future commercial growth is directed to the ground story in order to promote more continuous and active retail frontage. Additional eating and drinking establishments are regulated to prevent over-concentration, while ground-story entertainment and financial service uses are monitored in order to limit the problems of traffic, congestion, noise and late-night activity associated with such uses and to protect existing neighborhood-serving businesses. Other controls restricting

 2 low-intensity character of the district.

 4 residential units are protected by prohibitions of upper-story conversions and limitations on
 5 demolitions. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of

15 SEC. 718. UPPER FILLMORE STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL

16 DISTRICT.

17 The Upper Fillmore Street Neighborhood Commercial District is situated in the south-

18 central portion of Pacific Heights. It runs north-south along Fillmore Street from Jackson to

19 Bush and extends west one block along California and Pine Streets. This medium-scaled,

20 multi-purpose commercial district provides convenience goods to its immediate neighborhood

21 as well as comparison shopping goods and services on a specialized basis to a wider trade

22 area. Commercial businesses are active during both day and evening and include a number

23 of bars, restaurants, specialty groceries, and specialty clothing stores.

24 The Upper Fillmore District controls are designed to ~~protect~~reflect the existing building

1 Building standards regulate large lot and use development and protect rear yards above the
 2 ground story and at residential levels. Most commercial uses are permitted at the first two
 3 stories of new buildings. Special controls are designed to preserve ~~the existing~~an equilibrium of
 4 neighborhood-serving convenience and specialty commercial uses. In order to maintain
 5 convenience stores and protect adjacent livability, additional bars (unless part of a restaurant)
 6 and formula retail establishments are prohibited, and financial service uses are limited. In
 7 order to promote continuous retail frontage, drive-up and most automobile uses are
 8 prohibited.

9 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing~~
 10 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
 11 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

SEC. 719. HAIGHT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

Northwest of the City's geographical center, the Haight Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located in the Haight-Ashbury neighborhood, extending along Haight Street between Stanyan and Central Avenue, including a portion of Stanyan Street between Haight and Beulah. The shopping area provides convenience goods and services to local Haight-Ashbury residents, as well as comparison shopping goods and services to a larger market area. The commercial district is also frequented by users of Golden Gate Park on weekends and by City residents for its eating, drinking, and entertainment places. Numerous housing units establish the ~~the~~ District's mixed residential-commercial character.

The Haight Street District controls are designed to ~~protect~~ reflect the existing building scale and promote new mixed-use development which is in character with adjacent buildings. The building standards regulate large-lot and use development and protect rear yards above the ground story and at residential levels. To promote the prevailing mixed-use character, most commercial uses are directed primarily to the ground story with some upper-story restrictions in new buildings. In order to maintain the balanced mix and variety of neighborhood-serving commercial uses and regulate the more intensive commercial uses which can generate congestion and nuisance problems, special controls limit additional drinking uses and tourist hotels. Prohibitions of most automobile and drive-up uses protect the ~~the~~ District's continuous retail frontage.

Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~Existing residential units are protected by prohibition of upper-story conversions and limitations on demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

SEC. 722. NORTH BEACH NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The North Beach Neighborhood Commercial District is a nonlinear district centered on Columbus Avenue, located in the valley between Telegraph Hill and Russian Hill north of

1 Broadway. North Beach functions as a neighborhood-serving marketplace, eCitywide specialty
 2 shopping, and dining district, and a tourist attraction, as well as an apartment and residential
 3 hotel zone. Traditionally, the dDistrict has provided most convenience goods and services for
 4 residents of North Beach and portions of Telegraph and Russian Hills. North Beach’s eating,
 5 drinking, and entertainment establishments remain open into the evening to serve a much
 6 wider trade area and attract many tourists. The balance between neighborhood-serving
 7 convenience stores and Citywide specialty businesses has shifted, as convenience stores
 8 have been replaced by restaurants and bars. The proliferation of financial services, limited
 9 financial services, and professional services has also upset the dDistrict’s balance of uses.
 10 The relocation of business and professional offices from downtown to North Beach threatens
 11 the loss of upper-story residential units.

12 * * * *

13 In keeping with the dDistrict’s existing mixed-use character, housing development in
 14 new buildings is encouraged above the ground floor. Existing residential units are protected
 15 by ~~prohibitions~~limitations of upper-story conversions, mergers, removals, and demolitions. ~~Per~~
 16 ~~Section 207.1 of this Code,~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the existing building
 17 envelope, but may not eliminate or reduce ground-story retail or commercial space.

* * * *

1           (1) Purposes. The Polk Street District controls are designed to encourage and
2 promote development that is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood. The building
3 standards ~~monitor~~guide large-scale development and protect rear yards at residential levels.
4 Consistent with Polk Street’s existing mixed-use character, new buildings may contain most
5 commercial uses at the First Story. The controls encourage neighborhood-serving
6 businesses. They also prohibit new adult entertainment uses. Restrictions on drive-up and
7 most automobile uses protect the district’s continuous retail frontage and prevent further traffic
8 congestion.

9           Housing developed in new buildings is encouraged above the First Story, especially in
10 the less intensely developed portions of the district along Larkin Street and on large lots
11 throughout the district. New housing development requires 40% or more two-bedroom plus
12 units to encourage families to live in the district. Parking is limited in new developments given
13 the ~~d~~District’s transit access and the proximity to bus rapid transit along Van Ness Avenue
14 parallel to the district. ~~Existing housing units are protected by on demolitions and upper-story~~
15 ~~conversions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~
16 ~~this Code.~~

17           * * * *

18           ~~————(4) Loss of Residential Units. To prevent the loss of existing Residential Units, the~~
19 ~~removal, demolition, merger, or conversion of Residential Units above the First Story are prohibited~~
20 ~~even if such loss of Residential Units would otherwise be allowed pursuant to Section 317 of this Code.~~

21           (54) Neighborhood Commercial Design Guidelines. The construction of new
22 buildings and alteration of existing buildings in the Polk Street NC District shall be consistent
23 with the design policies and guidelines of the General Plan and with the “Polk/Pacific Special
24 Area Design Guidelines” as adopted by the Planning Commission. The Planning Director may 25 require modifications to the exterior of a proposed new building or proposed alteration of an

1 existing residential building in order to bring it into conformity with the Citywide Design
 2 Standards, “Polk/Pacific Special Area Design Guidelines” and with the General Plan. These
 3 modifications may include, but are not limited to, changes in siting, building envelope, scale
 4 texture and detailing, openings, and landscaping.

SEC. 724. SACRAMENTO STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

Located in the Presidio Heights neighborhood in north-central San Francisco, the Sacramento Street Neighborhood Commercial District functions as a small-scale linear shopping area. It extends along Sacramento Street between Lyon and Spruce Streets. Interspersed among residential buildings and garages, the district's daytime-oriented retail stores provide a limited array of convenience goods to the immediate neighborhood. Sacramento Street also has many elegant clothing, accessory, and antique stores and services, such as hair salons, which attract customers from a wider trade area. Its numerous medical and business offices draw clients from throughout the City. Evening activity in the district is limited to one movie theater, a few restaurants, and some stores near Presidio Avenue.

1 The Sacramento Street District controls are designed to promote adequate growth
 2 opportunities for development that is compatible with the surrounding low-density residential
 3 neighborhood. The building standards ~~monitor~~guide large-scale development and protect rear
 4 yards at the grade level and above. Most new commercial development is permitted at the
 5 first story; a conditional use authorization is required if a general retail uses ~~are permitted at the~~
 6 ~~second story only if such use~~ would ~~not~~ involve conversion of any existing housing units. Special
 7 controls are designed to protect existing neighborhood-serving ground-story retail uses. Limits
 8 on financial service uses are intended to minimize the environmental impacts generated by
 9 the growth of such uses. The daytime orientation of the ~~d~~District is encouraged by requiring
 10 conditional use authorization for bars and restricting late-night commercial activity. New hotels
 11 and parking facilities are limited in scale and operation to minimize disruption to the 12 neighborhood. Most new automobile and drive-up uses are prohibited to promote continuous
 13 retail frontage.

14 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing~~
 15 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and prohibitions of upper-story~~
 16 ~~conversions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~
 17 ~~this Code.~~

SEC. 725. UNION STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

* * * *

The Union Street District controls are designed to provide sufficient growth opportunities for commercial development that is in keeping with the existing scale and character, promote continuous retail frontage, and protect adjacent residential livability. Small-to mid-scale buildings and neighborhood-serving uses are promoted, and rear yards above the ground story and at all residential levels are protected. Most commercial development is permitted at the first two stories of new buildings, while retail service uses are monitored at the third story and above. Controls are necessary to preserve the remaining convenience businesses and to reduce the cumulative impacts which the growth of certain uses have on neighborhood residents. Such controls require Conditional Use authorization for additional drinking establishments and limit additional entertainment, and financial service uses. Most automobile and drive-up uses are prohibited in order to maintain continuous retail frontage and minimize further traffic congestion.

Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

3           (b) Controls.

4                 (1) Purposes. The Pacific Avenue Neighborhood Commercial District controls
5 are designed to promote a small, neighborhood serving mixed-use commercial street that 6 preserves the surrounding neighborhood residential character. These controls are intended to 7 preserve livability in a largely low-rise development residential neighborhood, enhance solar 8 access on a narrow street right-of-way, and protect residential rear yard patterns at the
9 ground floor. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1~~

SEC. 727. LAKESIDE VILLAGE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Lakeside Village Neighborhood Commercial District is located in the southwestern part of the City and stretches along Ocean Avenue from Junipero Serra Boulevard to 19th Avenue. It is a neighborhood serving shopping corridor nestled among single-family homes.

1 Lakeside Village has small ground-floor retail, restaurant, and medical office space and is
 2 serviced by the M-line streetcar.

3 Building controls for the Lakeside Village Neighborhood Commercial District promote
 4 ~~low-intensity~~ various scales of development which ~~is~~are compatible with the existing scale and
 5 character of the District. Commercial development is limited ~~to one story,~~ with certain exceptions.
 6 Rear yard requirements at all levels preserve existing backyard space.

7 Commercial use provisions encourage the full range of neighborhood-serving
 8 convenience retail sales and services provided that the use size generally is limited to 3,000
 9 square feet. However, commercial uses and features which could impact residential livability
 10 are prohibited, such as auto uses, financial services, general advertising signs, drive-up
 11 facilities, hotels, and late-night activity.

12 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~Existing~~
 13 ~~residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story and limitations on~~
 14 ~~demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the District ~~pursuant to Sections 207.1~~

1           SEC. 728. 24TH STREET – NOE VALLEY NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL
2 DISTRICT.

3           The 24th Street – Noe Valley Neighborhood Commercial District is situated along 24th
4 Street between Chattanooga and Diamond in the Noe Valley neighborhood of central San
5 Francisco. This daytime-oriented, multi-purpose commercial district provides a mixture of
6 convenience and comparison shopping goods and services to a predominantly local market
7 area. It contains primarily retail sales and personal services at the street level, some office
8 uses on the second story, and residential use almost exclusively on the third and upper 9 stories.

10          The 24th Street – Noe Valley District controls are designed to allow for development
11 that is compatible with the existing small-scale, mixed-use neighborhood commercial character
12 and surrounding residential area. The small-to mid- scale of new buildings and neighborhood-
13 serving uses is encouraged and rear yard open space corridors at all levels are protected.
14 Most commercial uses are directed to the ground story and limited at the second story of new
15 buildings. In order to maintain the variety and mix of retail sales and services along the
16 commercial strip and to control the problems of traffic, congestion, noise and late-night
17 activity, certain potentially troublesome commercial uses are regulated. Financial service uses
18 are restricted to and at the ground story. Prohibitions on drive-up and most automobile uses
19 help prevent additional traffic and parking congestion.

21 housing units are protected by prohibitions on upper-story conversions and limitations on demolitions.
22 Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.

14 SEC. 729. WEST PORTAL AVENUE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

15 Located in the southwestern part of the City, the West Portal Avenue Neighborhood

16 Commercial District stretches for three long blocks along West Portal Avenue from Ulloa

17 Street to 15th Avenue and extends one block east along Ulloa Street from the Twin Peaks

18 Tunnel entrance to Claremont Boulevard. West Portal Avenue provides a selection of goods

19 and services for customers coming mainly from the surrounding west of Twin Peaks and

20 Sunset single-family residential neighborhoods. The lively, small-scale retail frontage is

21 interrupted at several locations by large-scale financial institutions which take up a large

22 amount of commercial ground-story frontage. More than half of the number of medical,

23 professional and business offices are located at the ground level. ~~Except for one three-movie~~

24 ~~theater complex, West Portal offers no entertainment uses and its restaurants are mainly family-~~

25 ~~oriented.~~

1 The West Portal Avenue District controls are designed to preserve the existing family-
 2 oriented, village character of West Portal Avenue. ~~The building standards limit building heights to~~
 3 ~~26 feet and two stories and maintain the existing pattern of rear yards at the ground level and above.~~
 4 The height, bulk and design of new development, especially on large lots, should respect the
 5 small- to mid-scale character of the district and its surrounding residential neighborhoods. Lot
 6 mergers creating large lots are discouraged. Individual nonresidential uses require conditional
 7 use permits above 2,500 square feet and are restricted to 4,000 square feet as an absolute
 8 limit to conform with the existing small use sizes in the district.

9 * * * *

10 Housing development ~~is limited~~ in new buildings is encouraged. ~~Existing residential units are~~
 11 ~~protected by limitations on demolition and prohibition of upper-story conversions~~; new construction
 12 ~~is to be carefully reviewed to~~ should ensure appropriate scale, design and compatibility with 13 adjacent development. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to~~
 14 ~~Section 207.1 of this Code~~.

SEC. 731. NORIEGA STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Noriega Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located in the Outer Sunset neighborhood and includes ~~the non-residential currently zoned NC-2~~ properties fronting both sides of Noriega Street between 19th and 27th and 30th through 33rd Avenues.

The District provides a selection of convenience goods and services for the residents of the Outer Sunset District. There are a high concentration of restaurants, drawing customers

1 from throughout the City and the region. There are also a significant number of professional,
 2 realty, and business offices as well as financial institutions.

3 The Noriega Street Neighborhood Commercial District controls are designed to
 4 promote development that is consistent with its existing land use patterns and to maintain a
 5 harmony of uses that support the District’s vitality. The building standards allow ~~small~~-various
 6 scales of buildings and uses, protecting rear yards above the ground story and at residential
 7 levels. In new development, most commercial uses are permitted at the first two stories,
 8 although certain limitations apply to uses at the second story. Special controls are necessary
 9 to preserve the equilibrium of neighborhood-serving convenience and comparison shopping
 10 businesses and to protect adjacent residential livability. To protect continuous frontage, drive-
 11 up uses are prohibited and active, pedestrian-oriented ground floor uses generally must be
 12 provided, unless such uses are authorized by Conditional Use. These controls are designed 13 to encourage the street’s active retail frontage, and local fabrication and production of goods.

14 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Accessory
 15 Dwelling Units are permitted.

4 SEC. 732. IRVING STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

5 The Irving Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located in the Outer Sunset
6 neighborhood and includes ~~the non-residential currently zoned NC 2~~ properties fronting both 7 sides of Irving Street between 19th and 27th Avenues. The District provides a selection of 8 convenience goods and services for the residents of the Outer Sunset District. There are a 9 high concentration of restaurants, drawing customers from throughout the City and the region.
10 There are also a significant number of professional, realty, and business offices as well as 11 financial institutions.

12 The Irving Street Neighborhood Commercial District controls are designed to promote 13 development that is consistent with its existing land use patterns and to maintain a harmony of 14 uses that support the District’s vitality. The building standards allow small- to mid-scale
15 buildings and uses, protecting rear yards above the ground story and at residential levels. In 16 new development, most commercial uses are permitted at the first two stories, although 17 certain limitations apply to uses at the second story. Special controls are necessary to 18 preserve the equilibrium of neighborhood-serving convenience and comparison shopping
19 businesses and to protect adjacent residential livability. These controls are designed to 20 encourage the street’s active retail frontage, and local fabrication and production of goods.

21 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Accessory
22 Dwelling Units are permitted.

4 SEC. 735. INNER BALBOA STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

5 The Inner Balboa Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Balboa
6 Street between 2nd Avenue and 8th Avenue in the Richmond District of San Francisco. The
7 District is a small-scale linear shopping street which provides convenience goods and
8 services to the surrounding neighborhood as well as limited comparison shopping goods for a
9 wider market.

10 The Inner Balboa Street Neighborhood Commercial District controls provide for mixed-
11 use buildings which approximate or slightly exceed the standard development pattern. Rear
12 yard requirements above the ground story and at residential levels preserve open space
13 corridors of interior blocks.

14 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
15 Neighborhood- serving businesses are strongly encouraged. The second story may be used
16 by some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
17 Parking and hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities,
18 and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the District, and promote
19 continuous retail frontage.

21 residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions. Accessory
22 Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.

4 SEC. 736. OUTER BALBOA STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

5 The Outer Balboa Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Balboa
6 Street between 32nd Avenue and 39th Avenue in the Richmond District of San Francisco. The
7 District is a small-scale linear shopping street which provides convenience goods and
8 services to the surrounding neighborhood as well as limited comparison shopping goods for a
9 wider market.

10 The Outer Balboa Street Neighborhood Commercial District controls provide for mixed-
11 use buildings which approximate or ~~slightly~~moderately exceed the standard development
12 pattern. Rear yard requirements above the ground story and at residential levels preserve 13 open space corridors of interior blocks.

14 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
15 Neighborhood-serving businesses are strongly encouraged. The second story may be used
16 by some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
17 Parking and hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities,
18 and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the District, and promote
19 continuous retail frontage.

20 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~Existing~~
21 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
22 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.~~

SEC. 739. GEARY BOULEVARD NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Geary Boulevard Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Geary Boulevard between Masonic and 28th Avenues. It is a linear district located along a heavily trafficked thoroughfare which also serves as a major transit route. In addition to providing convenience goods and services to the surrounding neighborhood, the District offers a wide variety of comparison and specialty goods and services to a population greater than the immediate neighborhood.

The building standards permit moderately large commercial uses and buildings. Rear yards are protected at residential levels.

1 A diversified commercial environment is encouraged for the District, and a wide variety
 2 of uses are permitted with special emphasis on neighborhood-serving businesses. Financial
 3 service uses generally are permitted with certain limitations at the first and second stories.
 4 Other retail businesses, personal services, and offices are permitted at all stories of new
 5 buildings. Limited storage and administrative service activities are permitted with some
 6 restrictions.

7 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. Existing
 8 residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions. Accessory
 9 Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.

15 SEC. 742. COLE VALLEY NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

16 The Cole Valley Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Cole Street from 17 Frederick to Grattan Streets and includes some parcels north of Carl Street and south of
 18 Parnassus. It is a local shopping district with a mix of retail uses in a residential neighborhood
 19 that is near a transit line.

20 Building controls for the Cole Valley Neighborhood Commercial District promote small
 21 to mid-scale low-intensity development which is compatible with the existing scale and
 22 character of the area. Commercial development is limited to one story with some exceptions.
 23 Rear yard requirements at all levels preserve existing backyard space.

24 Commercial use provisions encourage the full range of neighborhood-serving
 25 convenience retail sales and services at the first story provided that the use size generally is

1 limited to 3,000 square feet. However, commercial uses and features which could impact
 2 residential livability are prohibited, such as auto uses, financial services, general advertising
 3 signs, drive-up facilities, hotels, and late-night activity.

4 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Existing
 5 residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story and limitations on
 6 demolitions. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1
 7 and 207.2 of this Code.

SEC. 743. LOWER HAIGHT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Lower Haight Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Haight Street between Webster and Steiner Streets. The District is a small-scale linear shopping street which provides convenience goods and services to the surrounding neighborhood as well as limited comparison shopping goods for a wider market.

The District controls provide for mixed-use buildings which approximate or ~~slightly~~moderately exceed the standard development pattern. Rear yard requirements above the ground story and at residential levels preserve open space corridors of interior blocks.

1 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
 2 Neighborhood-serving businesses are strongly encouraged. The second story may be used
 3 by some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
 4 Parking and hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities,
 5 and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the District, and promote
 6 continuous retail frontage.

7 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Existing
 8 residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions. Accessory
 9 Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.

SEC. 750. NCT-1 – NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT CLUSTER

DISTRICT.

NCT-1 Districts are intended to serve as local neighborhood shopping districts, providing convenience retail goods and services for the immediately surrounding neighborhoods primarily during daytime hours. NCT-1 Districts are located near major transit services. They are small mixed-use clusters, generally surrounded by residential districts, with small-scale neighborhood-serving commercial uses on lower floors and housing above. Housing density is limited not by lot area, but by the regulations on the built envelope of buildings, including height, bulk, setbacks, and lot coverage, and standards for residential uses, including open space and exposure, and urban design guidelines. There are prohibitions on access (i.e. driveways, garage entries) to off-street parking and loading on critical stretches of commercial and transit street frontages to preserve and enhance the pedestrian-oriented character and transit function. Residential parking is not required and generally limited. Commercial establishments are discouraged from building excessive accessory off-street parking in order to preserve the pedestrian-oriented character of the district and prevent attracting auto traffic.

NCT-1 Districts are generally characterized by their location in residential neighborhoods. The commercial intensity of these districts varies. Many of these districts have the lowest intensity of commercial development in the City, generally consisting of small

1 clusters with three or more commercial establishments, commonly grouped around a corner;
 2 and in some cases short linear commercial strips with low-scale, interspersed mixed-use
 3 (residential-commercial) development. Building controls for the NCT-1 District promote low-
 4 intensity development which is compatible with the existing scale and character of these
 5 neighborhood areas. Commercial development is limited to one story, with certain exceptions.
 6 Rear yard requirements at all levels preserve existing backyard space.

7 * * * *

8 Existing residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story
 9 and limitations on demolitions.

Commercial uses are encouraged at the ground story. Retail frontages and pedestrian-oriented streets are protected by limiting curb cuts (i.e. driveways, garage entries) as well as requiring ground floor commercial uses on portions of Diamond and Chenery Streets. Housing development is encouraged above the ground story. Housing density is not controlled by the size of the lot but by dwelling unit standards, physical envelope controls and unit mix

1 requirements. Given the area’s location and accessibility to the transit network, accessory
 2 parking for residential and commercial uses is not required. Any new parking is required to be

1           The Divisadero Street Neighborhood Commercial Transit District (“Divisadero Street
2 NCT”) extends along Divisadero Street between Haight and O’Farrell Streets. Divisadero
3 Street’s dense mixed-use character consists of buildings with residential units above ground-
4 story commercial use. Buildings typically range in height from two to four stories with occasional
5 one-story commercial buildings. The ~~d~~District has an active and continuous commercial frontage
6 along Divisadero Street for most of its length. Divisadero Street is an important public transit
7 corridor and throughway street. The commercial district provides convenience goods and
8 services to the surrounding neighborhoods as well as limited comparison shopping goods for
9 a wider market.

10           The Divisadero Street NCT controls are designed to encourage and promote 11 development that enhances the walkable, mixed-use character of the corridor and 12 surrounding neighborhoods. Rear yard requirements above the ground story and at residential
13 levels preserve open space corridors of interior blocks. Housing development in new buildings
14 is encouraged above the ground story. Existing residential units are protected by limitations on
15 demolition and upper-story conversions. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district~~
16 pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.

17           Consistent with Divisadero Street’s existing mixed-use character, new commercial
18 development is permitted at the ground and second stories. Most neighborhood-serving
19 businesses are strongly encouraged. Controls on new Formula Retail uses are consistent with
20 Citywide policy for Neighborhood Commercial Districts; The second story may be used by
21 some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
22 Additional flexibility is offered for second-floor Eating and Drinking, Entertainment, and Trade
23 Shop uses in existing non-residential buildings to encourage the preservation and reuse of 24 such buildings. Hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up
25

1 facilities, and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the district, and
 2 promote continuous retail frontage.

3 If the Planning Department determines that any site proposed for residential
 4 development and located within the Divisadero Street NCT has received a 50% or greater
 5 increase in residential densities over prior zoning through the adoption of Ordinance No. 127-
 6 15, any development project that is subject to the Inclusionary Affordable Housing Program on
 7 such site shall pay the Affordable Housing Fee, or provide one of the Alternatives to Payment
 8 of the Affordable Housing Fee, set forth in Planning Code Sections 415 et seq., except that
 9 the amount of the Affordable Housing Fee or Alternatives to Payment of the Affordable
 10 Housing Fee shall be modified as set forth in Planning Code Sections 428 et seq.

SEC. 760. FILLMORE STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT.

* * * *

The Fillmore Street NCT controls are designed to encourage and promote development that enhances the walkable, mixed-use character of the corridor and

1 surrounding neighborhoods. Rear yard requirements at residential levels preserve open space
 2 corridors of interior blocks. Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the
 3 ground story. ~~Existing residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story~~
 4 ~~conversions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~
 5 ~~this Code.~~

4 SEC. 761. HAYES-GOUGH NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT.

5 * * * *

6 The Hayes-Gough District controls are designed to allow for growth and expansion that
7 is compatible with the existing building and use scales. Building standards protect the
8 moderate building and Use Size and require rear yards at residential levels. To maintain the 9 mixed-use character of the district, most commercial uses are permitted at the first and
10 second stories and housing is strongly encouraged ~~at the third story and above~~. Retail sales
11 activity, especially neighborhood-serving businesses, is further promoted by restricting new
12 ground-story medical, business and professional offices. To protect continuous frontage,
13 drive-up and most automobile uses are prohibited, above-ground parking is required to be
14 setback or below ground, and active, pedestrian-oriented ground floor uses are required on
15 Hayes Street and portions of Octavia Boulevard.

16 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged ~~above the second story~~, and is
17 controlled not by lot area but by physical envelope controls. ~~Existing residential units are~~
18 ~~protected by limitations on demolitions, mergers, subdivisions, and upper story conversions~~. Given the
19 area’s central location and accessibility to the downtown and to the City’s transit network,
20 accessory parking for Residential Uses is not required. The code controls for this district are
21 supported and augmented by design guidelines and policies in the Market and Octavia Area
22 Plan of the General Plan. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted.

* * * *

The Upper Market Street Transit District controls are designed to promote moderate-scale development which contributes to the definition of Market Street’s design and character. They are also intended to preserve the existing mix of Commercial Uses and maintain the livability of the district and its surrounding residential areas. Large-lot and use development is reviewed for consistency with existing development patterns. Rear yards are protected at all levels. To promote mixed-use buildings, most Commercial Uses are permitted with some limitations above the second story. In order to maintain continuous retail frontage and

1 preserve a balanced mix of Commercial Uses, ground-story neighborhood-serving uses are
 2 encouraged, and financial service uses are limited. Ground floor-commercial space is required
 3 along Market and Church Streets. Most Automotive Service and Drive-Up ~~Facility~~Facility uses
 4 are prohibited or conditional.

5 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged ~~above the Second Story. Existing~~
 6 ~~upper-story Residential Units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~
 7 Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of~~
 8 ~~this Code.~~

20 SEC. 780.1. LAKESHORE PLAZA SPECIAL USE DISTRICT.

21 (a) Purpose and Findings. In addition to the purposes stated in Section 701 of this

22 Code, the following purpose and findings form a basis for special regulations and provide

23 guidance for their application in the Lakeshore Plaza Special Use District.

24 * * * *

25 (3) Housing development in new buildings is encouraged.

1 (b) Controls. The controls for the NC-S District, as set forth in Section 713 of this
 2 Code, shall apply to the Lakeshore Plaza Special Use District, except as provided below:

Zoning Category No.	Controls
.10	The 26-40 X height district requires Conditional Use authorization for heights over 26 feet not exceeding 40 feet. Varies. See Height and Bulk District Maps.

5 SEC. 810. CHINATOWN COMMUNITY BUSINESS DISTRICT.

6 The Chinatown Community Business District, located in the northeast quadrant of San
7 Francisco, extends along Broadway from the eastern portal of the Broadway Tunnel to
8 Columbus Avenue and along Kearny Street from Columbus to Sacramento Street. This district
9 also includes portions of Commercial Street between Montgomery Street and Grant Avenue
10 and portions of Grant Avenue between Bush and California Streets. It is part of the larger core
11 area of Chinatown.

12 The portions of Broadway, Kearny, and Commercial Streets and Grant Avenue in this
13 district are transitional edges or entries to Chinatown. North and east of the two blocks of 14 Broadway contained in this district are North Beach and the Broadway Entertainment Districts.
15 Kearny and Columbus Streets are close to intensive office development in the Downtown
16 Financial District. Both Grant Avenue and Commercial Street provide important pedestrian
17 entries to Chinatown. Generally, this district has more potential for added retail and
18 commercial development than other parts of Chinatown.

19 This zoning district is intended to protect existing housing, encourage new housing and
20 to accommodate modest expansion of Chinatown business activities as well as street-level
21 retail uses. The size of individual professional or business office use is limited in order to 22 prevent these areas from being used to accommodate larger office uses spilling over from the 23 financial district.

24 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged at upper stories. ~~Existing housing~~
25 ~~is protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory dwelling units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Subsection 207(e)(4) of this Code.~~

8 The Mixed Use-Office (MUO) is designed to encourage office uses and housing, as 9 well as small-scale light manufacturing and arts activities. Nighttime entertainment and small
10 tourist hotels are permitted as a conditional use. Large tourist hotels are permitted as a
11 conditional use in certain height districts. Dwelling units and group housing are permitted,
12 while demolition or conversion of existing dwelling units or group housing requires conditional
13 use authorization. Family-sized housing is encouraged. Accessory Dwelling Units are 14 permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

25 South Park is an attractive affordable mixed-use neighborhood. The South Park District

(SPD) is intended to preserve the scale, ~~density~~ and mix of commercial and residential activities within this unique neighborhood. The district is characterized by small-scale, continuous-frontage warehouse, retail and residential structures built in a ring around an oval-shaped, grassy park. Retention of the existing structures is encouraged, as is a continued mix of uses, family-sized housing units, and in-fill development which contributes positively to the neighborhood scale and use mix. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the ~~d~~District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.

8 Commission or its Director, and as otherwise specified in this Section 8, appeals to the Board
9 of Appeals shall be taken within 15 days from the making or entry of the order or decision
10 from which the appeal is taken. Appeals of variance decisions shall be taken within 10 days.

11 (b) Appeals to the Board of Appeals of permit decisions made pursuant to a Housing
12 Sustainability District Planning Code Section 343 shall be taken within 10 days of the permit
13 decision. This subsection (b) shall expire on the latter of the Sunset Date of Planning Code
14 Section 343 or Section 344, as defined in ~~that~~ those Sections. Upon the expiration of this 15 subsection, the City Attorney shall cause this subsection to be removed from the Business
16 and Tax Regulations Code.

24 744, 745, 746, 750, 751, 763, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 920, 960,
25 963, 964. In the event the Planning Code contains other references to “Section 151,” the City

1 Attorney shall direct the publisher of the Municipal Code to change such references to
3

4 Section 16. Local Coastal Program. This ordinance constitutes an amendment to the
5 Implementation Plan (“IP”) of the City’s Local Coastal Program. In the event of an
6 inconsistency between this ordinance and previously certified sections of the IP, this
7 ordinance shall prevail. The Local Coastal Program is hereby amended to:

8 (a) Add Planning Code Sections 206.10, 334, and 344, as set forth above in Section 3
9 of this ordinance [“Housing Choice – San Francisco Program”];

10 (b) Add Planning Code Section 270.3 and modify Planning Code Sections 260,
11 263.19, 263.20, and 270, as set forth above in Section 4 of this ordinance [“Height and Bulk
12 Limits”];

13 (c) Modify Planning Code Sections 209, 209.1, and 209.2, as set forth above in
14 Section 6 of this ordinance [“Residential Districts”]. For the purposes of certification by the
15 Coastal Commission, Planning Code Tables 209.1 and 209.2 are reprinted in their entirety,
16 which include the relevant use and development controls for RH, RM-1, and RM-2 properties
17 in the Coastal Zone;

18 (d) Modify Planning Code Sections 124, 132, 134, 135, 144, 186, 186.3, 201, 207.6, 19 207.7, 208, 209.4, 231, 303, 304, 603, 606, and 607.1, as set forth above in Section 7 of this
20 ordinance [“Residential, Transit Oriented (RTO) Districts”]. For the purposes of certification by
21 the Coastal Commission, Planning Code Table 209.4 is reprinted in its entirety, which
22 includes the relevant use and development controls for RTO-C properties in the Coastal Zone;

23 (e) Add Planning Code Sections 207.9 and 207.10 and modify Planning Code
24 Sections 151.1, 153, 154, 155, 155.2, and 161, as set forth above in Section 8 of this
25 ordinance [“Transit Oriented Communities and Parking”];

1 (f) Modify Planning Code Section 155, as set forth above in Section 9 of this ordinance
2 [“Off-Street Parking and Curb Cuts”];

3 (g) Add Planning Code Section 249.11, as set forth above in Section 10 of this
4 ordinance [“San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Special Use District”];

5 (h) Add Planning Code Section 202.17, as set forth above in Section 11 of this
6 ordinance [“Displaced Businesses”];

7 (i) Modify Planning Code Sections 102, 202.2, 311, and 317, as set forth above in
8 Section 12 of this ordinance [“Miscellaneous Amendments”]; and

9 (j) Modify Planning Code Sections 710 and 711, as set forth above in Section 13 of
10 this ordinance [“Conforming Changes to Zoning Tables”]. For the purposes of certification by
11 the Coastal Commission, Planning Code Tables 710 and 711 are reprinted in their entirety,
12 which include the relevant use and development controls for NC-1 and NC-2 properties in the 13 Coastal Zone.

14
15 Section 17. Effective and Operative Dates Outside the Coastal Zone.

16 (a) In the portions of the City that are not located in the Coastal Zone Permit Area, as
17 that permit area is designated on Section Maps CZ4, CZ5, and CZ13 of the Zoning Map, this
18 ordinance shall become effective 30 days after enactment. Enactment occurs when the 19 Mayor signs the ordinance, the Mayor returns the ordinance unsigned or does not sign the 20 ordinance within ten days of receiving it, or the Board of Supervisors overrides the Mayor’s
21 veto of the ordinance.

22 (b) In the portions of the City that are not located in the Coastal Zone Permit Area, this
23 ordinance shall become operative upon its effective date.

24
25 Section 18. Effective and Operative Dates in the Coastal Zone.

1 (a) In the portions of the City that are located in the Coastal Zone Permit Area, this
2 ordinance shall become effective 30 days after enactment. Enactment occurs when the Mayor
3 signs the ordinance, the Mayor returns the ordinance unsigned or does not sign the ordinance
4 within ten days of receiving it, or the Board of Supervisors overrides the Mayor's veto of the 5 ordinance.

6 (b) Upon enactment, the Director of the Planning Department shall submit this
7 ordinance to the California Coastal Commission for certification as a Local Coastal Program
8 Amendment. This ordinance shall become operative in the Coastal Zone Permit Area upon
9 final certification by the California Coastal Commission. If the California Coastal Commission
10 certifies this ordinance subject to modifications, this ordinance, as so modified, shall become
11 operative in the Coastal Zone Permit Area 30 days after enactment of the modifications.

12 (c) This ordinance satisfies the City's obligations pursuant to Government Code
13 Section 65583(c). Any consideration of the Ordinance by the California Coastal Commission
14 after the City's enactment is consistent with the Coastal Act, and permissible pursuant to
15 Government Code Section 65583(f)(1). Certification of the Local Coastal Program
16 Amendment shall proceed pursuant to the California Coastal Commissions regulations and 17 procedures, including any public participation and scheduling requirements.

18
19 Section 19. Transmittal of Ordinance. To facilitate the Coastal Commission's review of
20 the Local Coastal Program Amendment, the Director of the Planning Department is authorized
21 to submit the amendment for certification in the form desired by the Coastal Commission,
22 including making any necessary non-substantive changes (e.g., formatting or redlining), to
23 show the changes to the text of the Local Coastal Program. Upon certification by the
24 California Coastal Commission, the Director of the Planning Department shall transmit a copy
25 of the certified Local Coastal Program Amendment to the Clerk of the Board for inclusion in

1 File No. 250701. The Planning Department shall also retain a copy of the certified Local
2 Coastal Program Amendment in its Local Coastal Program files.

3

4 Section 20. The ordinance in Board File No. _____ would amend the Planning Code
5 to make various clarifying and typographical changes. Some of the changes in the ordinance
6 in Board File No. _____ would amend portions of the Code that overlap with this ordinance.
7 In particular, the ordinance in Board File No. _____ proposes to reorganize Section
8 303.1(e) and (f), which list the formula retail controls for various districts, including RTO-C and
9 the other RTO districts. That reorganization overlaps with formula retail controls for the RTO-
10 C District listed in Section 303.1 of this ordinance. In the event this ordinance is enacted
11 before the ordinance in Board File No. _____, the City Attorney shall direct the publisher of
12 the Municipal Code to integrate the changes in this ordinance into Section 303.1, as amended
13 by the ordinance in Board File No. _____, to ensure that the substantive changes to the
14 formula retail controls for the RTO-C district established in this ordinance are included in the 15 reorganized Section 303.1, such that both (a) RTO-C, and (b) Limited Commercial Uses in 16 RTO-1 and RTO-M Districts are listed in Section 303.1(e).

18 Section 21. Housing Choice San Francisco Policy. It shall be the policy of the City of
19 San Francisco that the Housing Choice San Francisco Program, codified in Planning Code
20 Section 206.10, shall be interpreted liberally in favor of producing more units. Consistent with
21 Housing Element Implementing Policy 8.1.6, the City shall not adopt changes to the Housing
22 Choice San Francisco Program that constitute new governmental constraints to the 23 development of housing unless those increased constraints are offset by the removal or 24 reduction of other constraints. The Planning Department shall evaluate, and the Board shall
25 consider, any proposed substantive amendments to the Housing Choice San Francisco

REVISED LEGISLATIVE DIGEST
(Amended in Committee – November 3, 2025)

[Planning, Business and Tax Regulations Codes - Family Zoning Plan]

Ordinance amending the Planning Code to: 1) create the Housing Choice-San Francisco Program to incent housing development through a local bonus program and by adopting a Housing Sustainability District, 2) modify height and bulk limits to provide for additional capacity in well-resourced neighborhoods, and to allow additional height and bulk for projects using the local bonus program, 3) require only buildings taller than 85 feet in certain Districts to reduce ground level wind currents, 4) make conforming changes to the RH (Residential, House), RM (Residential, Mixed), and RC (Residential-Commercial) District zoning tables to reflect the changes to density controls, and parking requirements made in this ordinance, 5) create the RTO-C (Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial) District, 6) implement the Metropolitan Transportation Commission’s Transit-Oriented Communities Policy by making changes to parking requirements, minimum residential densities, and minimum office intensities, and requiring maximum dwelling unit sizes, 7) revise off-street parking and curb cut obligations citywide, 8) create the Non-contiguous San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Sites Special Use District, 9) permit businesses displaced by new construction to relocate without a conditional use authorization and waive development impact fees for those businesses, 10) make technical amendments to the Code to implement the above changes, 11) make conforming changes to zoning tables in various Districts, including the Neighborhood Commercial District and Mixed Use Districts, and 12) reduce usable open space and bicycle parking requirements for senior housing; amending the Business and Tax Regulations Code regarding the Board of Appeals’ review of permits in the Housing Choice Program Housing Sustainability District; also, amending the Local Coastal Program to implement the Housing Choice-San Francisco Program and other associated changes in the City’s Coastal Zone, and directing the Planning Director to transmit the ordinance to the Coastal Commission upon enactment; affirming the Planning Department’s determination under the California Environmental Quality Act; making findings of consistency with the General Plan, and the eight priority policies of Planning Code, Section 101.1; and making public necessity, convenience, and welfare findings under Planning Code, Section 302.

Existing Law

Under California Housing Element law, San Francisco must identify sites to accommodate its Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) goal of 82,069 new units at various income levels, in the next eight years. Because San Francisco does not currently have sufficient capacity to accommodate the RHNA goals, it must rezone sites to meet these goals, and must do so by January 31, 2026. Additional capacity will be created through amendments to the Planning Code and Zoning Maps. The City must also maintain lists of sites that have been used in prior Housing Element cycles, and sites to accommodate its allocation for lower-income housing.

The Planning Code generally regulates the size of both residential and non-residential development in San Francisco through various height and bulk districts. In addition, the Planning Code regulates the size and intensity of residential and commercial uses, the number of parking spaces allowed or required, the location of curb cuts, floor area ratios, setbacks, rear yards, mid-block alleys, and specifies controls for wind impacts created by new buildings. Residential and non-residential (i.e. commercial, industrial, institutional) uses may be either principally permitted, not permitted, or conditionally permitted with authorization from the Planning Commission.

Specific use requirements, building form requirements, and procedural requirements found throughout the Code are consolidated in a number of zoning control tables that are organized by the type of use (Residential, Commercial, Mixed Use) or by location (Neighborhood Commercial, Named Neighborhood Commercial). Zoning districts for primarily residential uses include “Residential Housing” (RH), “Residential Mixed” (RM), “Residential Commercial” (RC), and “Residential Transit Oriented” (RTO) districts. RTO districts generally include a mixture of house and apartment buildings in a range of densities and building forms, primarily within one-quarter mile of transit and neighborhood commercial areas. Article 7 generally provides the planning requirements for Neighborhood Commercial Districts, and Article 8 generally provides the planning requirements for Mixed-Use Districts.

The Metropolitan Transportation Commission’s Transit Oriented Communities Policy prioritizes transportation and other funding to communities that adopt maximum parking and minimum density standards within a half-mile area around specified transit stops.

The San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency owns multiple parcels throughout the City. Many of these parcels are currently used for parking, and currently zoned for Public uses, which allows public facilities such as transportation maintenance yards and parking, as well as parks and 100% affordable housing. Other parcels are zoned the same as surrounding parcels. These parcels are generally located in Neighborhood Commercial Districts, and zoned Neighborhood Commercial (NC), which allows for a variety of residential and commercial uses, either as principally permitted uses, or conditionally permitted uses.

California law allows cities to create “housing sustainability districts” (HSDs), which allows for the ministerial approval of residential projects meeting certain criteria if the creation of the district was previously reviewed in an environmental impact report under the California Environmental Quality Act.

The Business and Tax Code, in Section 8, governs the Board of Appeals’ review of certain permits and licenses, including building permits.

Under the California Coastal Act of 1976 (Public Resources Code Section 30000 et seq.), the City administers the Local Coastal Program (“LCP”), which has been certified by the Coastal Commission. The LCP addresses coastal access, public recreation, transportation, land use, and habitat protection within the San Francisco Coastal Zone. The LCP is comprised of the Land Use Plan – the Western Shoreline Area Plan – and the Implementation Program, which generally consists of the City’s procedures for approving projects in the Coastal Zone and the applicable zoning controls for the Coastal Zone.

Amendments to Current Law

This ordinance would make several changes to the Planning Code, and one amendment to the Business and Tax Code.

Housing Choice-San Francisco Program

The ordinance would create the Housing Choice-San Francisco (HC-SF) program, or Local Program, which would apply to projects within “Housing Opportunity Areas.” Generally, Housing Opportunity Areas, also sometimes described as “well-resourced areas,” are neighborhoods or areas with existing infrastructure, transit, businesses, well-performing public schools and lower levels of environmental pollution. The HC-SF Program would also include a Housing Sustainability District, which would apply to qualifying projects in the R-4 Height and Bulk District (described below). Projects on sites with three or more rent controlled units, and require demolition of residential uses would be excluded from the Local Program.

The Local Program would grant eligible projects additional density and height, as well as other Planning Code modifications, including requirements related to unit mix, front setback and rear yard, usable open space, and dwelling unit exposure. Projects would have additional options to comply with the Inclusionary Housing Ordinance (Planning Code Section 415). The following table lists existing zoning requirements and the allowable modifications for projects using the Local Program.

	Applicable Planning Code or Design Standard	Local Program modifications
Density	Depending on location, projects may be subject to density limits based on lot size.	Form-Based Density.
Height	Projects are subject to the height limits in the base zoning, which would match the existing Zoning Map.	Additional height, as provided on the proposed Zoning Map, as described in the R-4 Height and Bulk District.

	(Projects may exceed the height limit under the rules of the State Density Bonus law, or other state and local programs).	Corner lots and lots larger than 8,000 square feet may go up to 65'. Projects may receive up to a 5' height increase to accommodate certain architectural features, such as stoops and entries.
Vertical Bonus for Community Serving Uses, Micro-Retail, Warm Shell Retail, Large Units, and Historic Preservation	n/a	Projects may receive additional square footage for providing specific uses. Additional square footage may be accommodated by adding up to a maximum of 10 feet in additional height: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Up to 2 additional feet of building square footage for every square foot provided of Community Serving uses, which includes but is not limited to: childcare, displaced business, grocery, laundromat, nonprofit office, trade office.</li> <li>• Up to 1.5 additional feet of building square footage for every square foot provided of "micro-retail" spaces (measuring 100-1,000 square feet).</li> <li>• Up to 3 additional feet of building square footage for every square foot provided of Food Warm Shell retail space. Up to 2.5 additional feet of building square footage for every square foot provided for General Warm Shell retail space.</li> <li>• Outside of Residential Districts, up to 250 additional feet of building square footage for every: two bedroom unit provided in excess of the Dwelling Unit requirements; three bedroom unit provided,</li> </ul>

		including any required three bedroom units; and up to 400 additional feet of building square footage for every unit provided that contains four or more bedrooms, including any required units. Projects that adaptively reuse Historic Buildings located outside of Residential Districts may receive up to two stories (20 feet) of additional height to recapture gross floor area that the project foregoes in preserving the Historic Building and complying with Preservation Design Standards. A project can combine this preservation incentive with other incentives to receive a maximum of three stories (30 feet) of additional height.
Horizontal Bonus for Family Friendly Amenities, Large Units, and Historic Preservation		Projects may receive additional square footage for providing certain uses. Additional square footage may be accommodated by reducing required rear yard, required side yard, and upper-story setbacks for historic buildings. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• up to 2 additional feet of building square footage for each square foot of Family Friendly Amenities (common areas, childcare units, guest suites, common storage) provided.</li> <li>• up to 250 additional feet of building square footage for every two bedroom in excess of required dwelling unit mix.</li> <li>• up to 250 additional feet of building square footage for every three bedroom unit</li> </ul>

		provided, including any required three bedroom units. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• up to 400 additional feet of building square footage for every unit provided that contains four or more bedrooms, including any required units.</li> <li>• For historic adaptive reuse, up to 1.5 times the gross floor area foregone by retaining the Historic Building.</li> </ul> A project cannot reduce the required rear yard beyond the lowest of the limits provided in the Ordinance.
Inclusionary Housing	Projects (10+ units) may satisfy the Inclusionary Housing Ordinance (Section 415 et seq) through a combination of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Affordable Housing Fee;</li> <li>• On-site Affordable Housing;</li> <li>• Off-Site Affordable Housing;</li> <li>• Small Sites;</li> <li>• Land Dedication (currently available in select districts).</li> </ul>	Same as existing; however, projects that elect off-site or land-dedication must provide the required units or land within the geography of the Housing Opportunity Areas. Land Dedication option available regardless of project location. In addition, projects of 10-24 units have the option to provide 100% of units subject to rent-control.
Dwelling Unit Mix	Most rezoned areas (NC, C districts): 25% 2+ bedrooms, including at least 10% 3 bedrooms (applicable starting at 10+ units). RTO Districts and Van Ness &amp; Market SUD: 35% 2+ bedrooms, including at least 10% 3 BRs (applicable starting at 5+ units).	Applicable starting at 4+ units. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 4-unit building: at least one unit with two or more bedrooms.</li> <li>• 5-9 units: 25% two or more bedrooms, including at least one unit with three or more bedrooms.</li> <li>• 10+ units: 25% two or more bedrooms, including at least 5% of its units containing three or more bedrooms.</li> </ul>

Street-facing legislated and front setback	Required dimensions vary depending on legislated setbacks or zoning district.	Projects on 19th Avenue may reduce legislated and front setback if sidewalk expands and is at least 15 feet wide.
Rear Yard	RH, RM-1, RM-2, RTO, RTO-M Districts: 30% rear yard required. All other Zoning Districts: 25% rear yard required.	Rear yard may be reduced by up to 18% of lot depth, or 15' whichever is greater; For corner lots, the required rear yard may be reduced up to 18% of the lot area. In NC and C Districts, where otherwise not permitted, the ground floor is allowed 100% lot coverage.
Usable Open Space	Outside of Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, requirement varies from 36 square feet per Dwelling Unit to 300 square feet per Dwelling Unit.	Not required.
Dwelling Unit Exposure	Dwelling Units citywide must face an open area meeting one of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A public street, public alley at least 20 feet in width, side yard at least 25 feet in width, or rear yard; if an outer court whose width is less than 25 feet, then depth is no greater than its width; or</li> <li>• An open area (whether an inner court or a space between separate buildings on the same lot) that is unobstructed, (except for fire escapes not more than 4 1/2 feet, chimneys, and certain permitted obstructions), and is no less than 25 feet in every horizontal dimension at the</li> </ul>	Not required.

	floor the Dwelling Unit is located.
Ground Floor Ceiling Heights	Ground floor uses in various districts have required ceiling heights that range from 10-17 feet.	Ground floor ceiling heights in § 145.1 are not applicable to projects proposing 9 stories in a district with a height limit of 85 feet.
New ground floor non-residential use size limits	Use size cap varies from 2,000 square feet to 25,000 square feet, depending on the District.	No cap; no Conditional Use Authorization required.
Height limits for vertical non-habitable architectural elements	Height exceptions for non-habitable architectural elements are only available in Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts in projects of 85 feet in height or less: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• One element per lot;</li> <li>• Not to exceed 1,000 Gross Floor Area</li> <li>• Element shall not have a plan dimension greater than 50’;</li> <li>• Element’s height should not exceed 50% of the applicable height limit;</li> <li>• Must be consistent with design, materials, and character of the building.</li> </ul>	Allow same height exceptions for vertical non-habitable architectural elements on lots zoned for 85 feet or less (even outside the Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use District).
Additional “catchall” modifications	n/a	Projects may seek an additional 15% reduction of any other quantitative Planning Code standard, with some exceptions. No exceptions for height.
Additional modifications for 100% Affordable	Various Planning Code sections.	100% affordable projects can use any of the incentives above, plus: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reduce active ground floor requirement by 20%</li> </ul>

Housing Project		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Additional 20 feet of height above Local Program height.</li> <li>• Curb Cut restrictions do not apply.</li> <li>• Certain Ground floor ceiling height requirements do not apply.</li> <li>• Dwelling unit mix does not apply.</li> </ul>
Ministerial project review	Qualifying projects may opt to use state laws that enable ministerial review (e.g., SB 423, AB 2011, Housing Element low-income sites provision).	Qualifying projects may use state laws that enable ministerial review, but may not combine ministerial approvals with additional height or relaxed zoning standards within those state laws. Qualifying projects may use new Housing Sustainability District (HSD).
Major modification from Planning Code Standards	Per Planning Code 304, where not specified elsewhere in the code, a modification is possible on lots of at least ½-acre through a discretionary Planning Commission approval of a Planned Unit Development.	Projects of any size may choose to seek a major modification for any additional relief needed beyond the above list and the 15% “catchall” modification, subject to certain exceptions. The Planning Commission must grant any Major Modification.

Local Program projects would be reviewed and approved administratively by the Planning Director, unless the project seeks a “Major Modification” to an Objective Standard, which would be reviewed by the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission would not hear discretionary review of administratively reviewed projects. Review of projects using the Local Program would be completed within 30-60 days, unless additional environmental review was required. Local Program project would not be permitted to demolish Hotel Uses.

Height and Bulk Districts, including the new R-4 Height and Bulk District

The ordinance would create the R-4 Height and Bulk District. Sites within the R-4 Height and Bulk District would be eligible for the Local Program (above), and therefore would not be subject to numeric densities, but would instead be governed by form-based density, which is a density calculation based on the permitted building volume. Sites within the R-4 Height and Bulk District would also be governed by two height limits: the first height limit (base zoning) would apply to all projects, and the second, higher height limit would apply only to projects using the Local Program. The ordinance would also codify an objective design standard related to the bulk and spacing of towers. The tower bulk and spacing requirements would generally apply to towers above 85 feet, unless otherwise specified in the Code. In addition to the height and bulk requirements, the ordinance would create special bulk requirements for large development lots, similar to existing requirements for several districts located downtown, such as the Eastern Neighborhoods Commercial District and the C-3. But the requirement would not apply to large sites in PDR Districts, or certain government or public facilities in P Districts. The bulk requirement would include obligations based on the size of the frontage and resulting block sizes, and include obligations to keep walking paths open to the public, and maintained for the life of the project.

Objective Wind Standards.

The ordinance would create a new objective wind standard that requires projects to not exceed a ground-level equivalent wind speed of 26 miles per hour for more than nine or more hours per year. The standard would apply to new buildings taller than 85 feet in the C-3 District, Van Ness Special Use District, Folsom and Main Residential/Commercial Special Use District, DTR Districts, and Central SoMa Special Use District.

Residential Uses.

The ordinance would amend multiple sections in the Planning Code that regulate residential uses, either in specific areas or citywide. The following table identifies the amendments and the applicable geography.

Topic	Key Provisions	Applicable Geography
Density	Establish maximum unit sizes, applicable to new construction. New units may be up to 4,000 square feet, or have a Floor Area Ratio of 1.2:1 (whichever is greater). Exceptions:                      5 – 9 unit building: one unit may be greater than 4,000 square feet;                      10+ unit building: 10% of units may be greater than 4,000 square feet.	Citywide.
	Establish minimum residential densities, and non-residential intensities within ½ mile of fixed guideway transit stops and stations and on certain Housing Element sites.	Within ½ mile of transit hubs and on sites identified as appropriate for Very Low Income

	Establish Form-Based zoning (aka “density decontrol”) in various areas:          - On the main commercial and transit streets proposed for rezoning, density limits would be removed, including in: NC districts (NC-1, NC-2, NC-3, NC-S, named NC’s), RC and C-2 districts within the Housing Opportunity Areas, and on properties on some corridors that will be rezoned to a new form-based zoning district, RTO-C (Residential Transit Oriented – Commercial). In most residential areas not on main corridors, density limits would continue apply. Projects in these areas are eligible for form-based density by opting into the Local Program.	or Low Income in the Housing Element Sites Inventory, and as required by Housing Element law. Rezoned properties in Housing Opportunity Areas. Create and establish new Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial (RTO-C) zoning district that would apply to portions of transit and commercial streets that are currently zoned residential.

Displaced Businesses

The ordinance would allow a Displaced Businesses, as defined in the ordinance, to relocate anywhere in San Francisco where the Displaced Business’s use (e.g., Bar, or Restaurant) is not prohibited, without the need for a conditional use authorization from the Planning Commission. The ordinance would waive applicable development impact fees for those Displaced Businesses. The ordinance would also require that the Planning Department provide notice to non-residential uses and the Office of Small Business when a development application is received.

Non-contiguous San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Special Use District

The ordinance would create the Non-contiguous San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Special Use District (SFMTA SUD). The SFMTA SUD would amend the types of uses allowed on SFMTA owned parcels to include both public uses as well as the uses allowed in the surrounding districts, and modifies certain zoning controls for projects constructed in the SFMTA SUD. The SFMTA SUD would allow the Board of Supervisors to reduce or waive development impact fees for projects on the parcels, including the Jobs Housing Linkage Fee and the Transportation Sustainability Fee, upon the recommendation of the SFMTA Board of Directors.

Business and Tax Regulations Code

The ordinance would amend the Business and Tax Regulations Code Section 8, to set forth the standards by which the grant or denial of a permit under the HC-SF HSD should be reviewed.

Local Coastal Program

The ordinance would amend the Implementation Program of the City's Local Coastal Program to incorporate the amendments described above that are applicable in the Coastal Zone. This includes the zoning controls for the RH, RM-1, RM-2, RTO-C, NC-1, and NC-2 use districts; the SFMTA SUD that applies to one parcel in the Coastal Zone; the Housing Choice-SF Program; the R-4 Height and Bulk District; and the Displaced Business changes. The amendments to the LCP are subject to certification by the Coastal Commission.

Background Information

This ordinance (Version 3) is a substitute for the ordinance (Version 2) that was introduced on July 29, 2025. Version 1 of this ordinance was introduced on June 24, 2025. This ordinance (Version 3) incorporates the recommendations proposed by the Planning Department at the September 11, 2025 Planning Commission hearing, other than staff recommendation #13.

On October 20, 2025, the Land Use and Transportation Committee amended the ordinance in the following ways. First, the committee amended the ordinance to prohibit projects using the Local Program if the project requires demolition of housing where there are 3 or more rent controlled units. The committee also amended the bonus for "warm shell" commercial spaces by limiting the proposed 3 square foot bonus to food service-ready "warm shells" and creating a 2.5 square foot bonus for "general warm shells." The committee also amended the local program bonus to offer an additional bonus where the Local Program project replaces existing commercial space. The committee then duplicated the amended file twice, and made additional amendments in ordinances in Board File Nos. 251072, and 251073.

On November 3, 2025, the Land Use and Transportation Committee amended the amendment to prohibit projects using the Local Program from demolition Hotel Uses. The committee further amended the Local Program to state that other City's laws would apply to Local Program projects, such as Article 4 development impact fees and requirements, displaced business requirements in new Section 202.17, tenant protections in the Planning Code or SF Rent Ordinance, or other permitting or licensing requirements outside of the Planning Code. The committee also amended the Housing Sustainability District to prohibit any projects using the Housing Sustainability District streamlining from demolishing or substantially altering Category A historic resources, or demolishing or converting any portion of a Hotel. The committee also amended the ordinance by removing the exception to Section 317 for residential demolition that did not require a Conditional Use Authorization to merge, reconfigure or reduce a residential flats, if the project adds at least one unit.

Housing Element Law

Under State law, every city and county must have a general plan, and each general plan must include a housing element. State law requires that a housing element identify and analyze the jurisdiction's existing and projected housing needs, include a statement of goals, policies and objectives for the preservation, improvement and development of housing, and identify adequate sites for housing for all economic segments of the community. (Gov't Code § 65583.) The City's adopted the 2022 Housing Element update on January 31, 2023.

A jurisdiction's existing and projected housing needs is known as its Regional Housing Needs Allocation ("RHNA"). If a jurisdiction does not have sufficient sites to accommodate its RHNA, it must adopt zoning changes, generally within three years of housing element adoption. San Francisco's RHNA is approximately 82,000 units, and because the City does not have sufficient capacity to accommodate its RHNA, it must rezone sufficient sites to allow for additional units by January 31, 2026. State Housing Element law also mandates that jurisdictions affirmatively further fair housing, in part by providing housing opportunities in "well-resourced areas," a state law designation that takes into consideration access to amenities such as good schools, jobs, transportation and open space, and lower rates of poverty.

Housing Element law requires cities to maintain a list of sites that have been used in previous housing element cycles, or have been identified as appropriate to accommodate a city's allocation of lower-income housing. Cities must provide "by-right" approval for projects that propose to build 20% affordable housing these sites.

Family Zoning Plan

This ordinance is part of a package of ordinances that will implement the Family Zoning Plan. The Family Zoning Plan includes this ordinance as well as a Zoning Map amendment and a General Plan amendment. The Zoning Map amendment is in Board File 250700, and the General Plan amendment will be introduced in July 2025.

The Family Zoning Plan – Planning Code amendment implements several goals outlined in the 2022 Housing Element Update, which include:

- Concentrate new housing on major transit routes, commercial streets, and other major hubs of activity, which are generally better served by transit, retail, and other amenities, and contain more sites that are suitable and likely to be developed into housing.
- Add new housing across the "Housing Opportunity Areas."

- Rezone (with height changes and removal of density limits) certain corridors to result in mid-rise development (65' to 85', or 6-to-8 stories). Heights of 85' are generally proposed for wider streets adjacent to or near major transit lines and stations (such as rail and bus rapid transit).
- Increase heights (ranging from 140' – 650', or 14-to-65 stories) in areas that:
  - currently allow high-rise construction above 85' (e.g., the greater Van Ness corridor);
  - are key intersections and locations along major corridors (e.g., sections of Geary Boulevard and 19th Avenue);
  - have wider streets and contain medium- and large-sized parcels that are well suited for housing development (for example, Market Street and Lombard Street); and
  - are near major transit stops (e.g., Market Street, Geary Boulevard, Glen Park).
- Remove density limits and institute Form-based density in residential areas surrounding major transit and commercial streets.
- Encourage development on opportunity sites (public, nonprofit and religious sites) throughout the Well-Resourced neighborhoods that meet a certain size threshold by allowing higher height limits.
- Consider the core physical patterns of San Francisco in keeping with principles of the Urban Design Element. Include consideration of key characteristic views from major public vantage points, such as from the tops of hills, parks known for their views, and from the waterfront.
- Fulfill the Urban Design Element's guidance to locate taller buildings in areas of greater activity and transit access and to mark key locations in the City. While the visual impact of new buildings will be felt most acutely by properties that are in their immediate proximity, the Program is not intended to introduce major areas of tall buildings that would block key public views or change the overall perception of the landscape of the city.

MTC's Transit Oriented Communities Policy

In September 2022, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission endorsed a "Transit Oriented Communities" (TOC) policy, which supports transit investments by creating communities around transit stations and along transit corridors. MTC has indicated that future grant money will be prioritized for areas that comply with the TOC policy. The TOC Policy includes requirements for, among other zoning policies, minimum residential and commercial densities and parking and circulation requirements. This ordinance includes amendments to the Planning Code to comply with MTC's TOC policy.

17 Section 1. Environmental and Land Use Findings

18 (a) On November 17, 2022, the Planning Commission, in Motion M-21206 certified the
19 Final Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the 2022 Housing Element of the San Francisco
20 General Plan (Housing Element EIR), as in compliance with the California Environmental
21 Quality Act (CEQA) (California Public Resources Code Section 21000 et seq), the CEQA
22 Guidelines (14 Cal. Code Regs. Section 15000 et seq.), and Chapter 31 of the San Francisco
23 Administrative Code. Copies of the Planning Commission Motion M-21206 and Housing
24 Element EIR are on file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File No. 230001.

25 (b) On December 15, 2022, at a duly noticed public hearing, the Planning Commission

1 adopted findings under CEQA regarding the 2022 Housing Element’s environmental impacts,
2 the disposition of mitigation measures, and project alternatives, as well as a statement of
3 overriding considerations (CEQA Findings) and adopted a mitigation monitoring reporting
4 program (MMRP), by Resolution 21220.

5 (c) The Planning Commission then adopted the proposed 2022 Housing Element in
6 Resolution 21221, finding in accordance with Planning Code Section 340 that the public
7 necessity, convenience, and general welfare required the proposed amendments to the
8 General Plan.

9 (d) On January 31, 2023, in Ordinance 010-23, the Board of Supervisors, adopted the
10 2022 Housing Element. That ordinance confirmed the certification of the Housing Element
11 EIR and made certain environmental findings, including adoption of the MMRP and a
12 Statement of Overriding Considerations.

13 (e). On September 3, 2025, the Planning Department published an addendum to the
14 Housing Element EIR, which concluded that no supplemental or subsequent environmental
15 review is required for the Family Housing Rezoning Program, because the environmental 16 impacts of these amendments were adequately identified and analyzed under CEQA in the
17 Housing Element EIR, and the proposed amendments would not result in any new or more
18 severe environmental impacts than were identified previously.

19 (f) The Board of Supervisors has reviewed and considered the Housing Element EIR
20 and the Addendum, and concurs with the Planning Department’s analysis and conclusions,
21 finding that the addendum adequately identified and analyzed the environmental impacts of
22 the Family Housing Rezoning Program, and that no additional environmental review is
23 required under CEQA Section 21166 and CEQA Guideline Sections 15162-15164 for the 24 following reasons:

- 25 (1) the Family Housing Rezoning Program would not involve new significant

1 environmental effects or a substantial increase in the severity of significant effects previously
2 identified in the Housing Element EIR;

3 (2) no substantial changes have occurred that would require major revisions to
4 the Final EIR due to the involvement of new environmental effects or a substantial increase in
5 the severity of effects identified in the Housing Element EIR; and

6 (3) no new information of substantial importance has become available which
7 would indicate that (i) the Family Housing Rezoning Program will have significant effects not
8 discussed in the Final EIR; (ii) significant environmental effects will be substantially more
9 severe; (iii) mitigation measure or alternatives found not feasible that would reduce one or
10 more significant effects have become feasible, or (iv) mitigation measures or alternatives that
11 are considerably different from those in the Housing Element EIR would substantially reduce
12 one or more significant effects on the environment. The Addendum is on file with the Clerk of
13 the Board of Supervisors in File No. 250701.

14 (g) The Planning Department has determined that the amendments to the Local
15 Coastal Program are exempt from CEQA review under Public Resources Code Sections
16 21080.5 and 21080.9, and CEQA Guidelines Section 15265. Said determination is on file with
17 the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File No. 250701. The Board affirms this
18 determination and incorporates the determination by reference.

19 (h) On September 11, 2025, the Planning Commission, in Resolution No. 21810,
20 adopted findings that the actions contemplated in this ordinance are consistent, on balance,
21 with the City's General Plan and eight priority policies of Planning Code Section 101.1. The
22 Board adopts these findings as its own. A copy of said Resolution is on file with the Clerk of 23 the Board of Supervisors in File No. 250701, and is incorporated herein by reference.

24 (i) Pursuant to Planning Code Section 302, this Board finds that these Planning Code
25 amendments will serve the public necessity, convenience, and welfare for the reasons set

1 forth in Planning Commission Resolution No. 21810, and the Board adopts such reasons as
2 its own. A copy of said resolution is on file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File
3 No. 250701 and is incorporated herein by reference.

4
5 Section 2. Additional Findings.

6 (a) This ordinance shall be known as the San Francisco Family Zoning Plan.

7 (b) California faces a severe crisis of housing affordability and availability, which has
8 prompted the Legislature to declare, in Section 65589.5 of the Government Code, that
9 “California has a housing supply and affordability crisis of historic proportions. The
10 consequences of failing to effectively and aggressively confront this crisis are hurting millions
11 of Californians, robbing future generations of a chance to call California home, stifling
12 economic opportunities for workers and businesses, worsening poverty and homelessness,
13 and undermining the state’s environmental and climate objectives.”

14 (c) Numerous factors have contributed to the high cost of housing in most of 15 California’s coastal cities and suburbs, including the dwindling supply and high cost of
16 available land, and zoning regulations that restrict residential density, limit efficient land use,
17 and create and reinforce inequitable patterns of discrimination and segregation.

18 (d) This crisis of housing affordability and availability is particularly severe in San
19 Francisco. The City has seen dramatic increases in both rent prices and home sale prices
20 over recent years.

21 (e) Limits on residential density can also contribute to the housing crisis by restricting
22 the number of units per lot. The origins of density limits in San Francisco date back to the
23 Cubic Air Ordinance, an 1870 anti-Chinese ordinance requiring 500 cubic feet of space for
24 every person residing in a lodging. The City’s first zoning law was passed in 1921 and largely
25 reproduced the City’s existing development pattern, limiting density in areas of the City that

1 were already low-density. In the 1960s, the City underwent a rezoning process, though the
2 existing development patterns were largely maintained, with the exception of downtown and
3 neighborhoods significantly impacted by City planning redevelopment plans.

4 (f) Starting in 1980, the Board of Supervisors, the Planning Commission, and the
5 Planning Department responded to community concerns about neighborhood character by
6 establishing and refining a set of new districts covering many of the City's neighborhood
7 commercial streets. These districts imposed highly-detailed controls tailored to the specific
8 character of each neighborhood. The 1987 Neighborhood Commercial Districts were based 9 on the then-relatively new idea that the City should be more selective in its pursuit of
10 economic growth. All of these Neighborhood Commercial District plans included numerical
11 density limits for residential development.

12 (g) By removing these numerical density limits from Neighborhood Commercial
13 Districts and replacing them with form-based density, which allows the density to be
14 determined by the buildable area of a building, this ordinance aims to increase housing supply
15 and reduce the factors that have contributed to the lack of housing in San Francisco.

16 (h) Under California Housing Element law, San Francisco must identify sites to 17 accommodate its Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) goal of 82,069 new units in the 18 next eight years. Because San Francisco does not currently have sufficient capacity to
19 accommodate the RHNA goals, it must rezone sites to meet these goals, and must do so by
20 January 31, 2026. Additional capacity will be created through amendments to the Planning
21 Code and Zoning Maps. This ordinance implements commitments made in the City's 2022
22 Housing Element Update. The ordinance modifies zoning policies primarily in the well-
23 resourced neighborhoods, which are sometimes referred to as Housing Opportunity Areas,
24 are neighborhoods or areas with existing infrastructure, transit, businesses, well-performing
25 public schools and lower levels of environmental pollution. The ordinance also aims to

1 increase capacity for multi-family housing. The ordinance satisfies the City’s obligation to
2 rezone and address the RHNA shortfall of 36,200 housing units.

3 (i) This ordinance, in Section 3, creates the Housing Choice-San Francisco (HC-SF)
4 program which includes a local residential bonus program (Local Program), and a Housing
5 Sustainability District (HSD). The bonus program is similar to state law programs (such as the
6 State Density Bonus law), in that it allows additional residential development opportunities in
7 certain circumstances. The HC-SF Program offers certain benefits compared to State Density
8 Bonus law projects, however, by including more diverse affordable housing types and more
9 predictable urban form.

10 (j) State law allows local jurisdictions to create HSDs to encourage housing production
11 on infill sites near public transportation. Housing projects that are compliant with applicable
12 general plan and zoning standards are eligible for streamlined approval by the City. There
13 must be an approved Environmental Impact Report (EIR) in the area to establish an HSD, and
14 HSD projects must adopt and implement any applicable mitigation measures. The City
15 certified the 2022 Housing Element Update EIR on December 15, 2022. As of May 2025, the
16 City has one HSD, the Central SoMa Housing Sustainability District, codified in Planning Code
17 343. This ordinance creates the Housing Choice-San Francisco (HC-SF) HSD that would
18 work in conjunction with the HC-SF Program described above.

19 (k) This ordinance, in Section 4, makes changes to San Francisco’s height and bulk
20 requirements in the well-resourced neighborhoods, located primarily on the north and west
21 sides of the City, which will create capacity to meet the City’s RHNA obligation. The
22 ordinance also creates a new R-4 Height and Bulk District, which will provide for form-based
23 density, and increased height limits for projects using the HC-SF Program. The HC-SF HSD,
24 mentioned above, would apply within the boundaries of the R-4 Height and Bulk District,
25 except that it would not apply to any parcels zoned as Residential House (RH), or Residential

1 Mixed (RM).

2 (l) This ordinance, in Section 5, modifies the Planning Code's wind reduction
3 obligations by creating a new objective standard for projects greater than 85 feet in the C-3,
4 Van Ness SUD, Folsom and Main Residential/Commercial SUD, Downtown Residential, and
5 Central SoMa SUD.

6 (m) This ordinance, in Section 6, makes conforming changes to the RH (Residential,
7 House), RM (Residential, Mixed), and RC (Residential-Commercial) Districts and Zoning
8 Tables. The changes implement the changes reflected in other parts of this ordinance.

9 (n) This ordinance, in Section 7, makes changes to the Residential Transit Oriented
10 (RTO) zoning districts. RTO districts are composed of multi-family moderate-density areas,
11 primarily areas that are well served within short walking distance of transit and neighborhood
12 commercial areas. The Planning Code currently identifies two types of RTO zoning districts:
13 RTO and RTO-M (Mission) districts. This ordinance creates a third type of RTO district: RTO-
14 C (Commercial), which is an RTO district where a greater number of ground floor non-
15 residential uses are permitted to provide goods and services to residents and visitors,
16 especially adjacent to existing NC districts and along transit corridors, though ground floor
17 commercial uses are not required. In addition, the ordinance refers to the three types of RTO
18 zoning districts individually as RTO-1, RTO-M, and RTO-C, and collectively, as RTO zoning
19 districts.

20 (o) This ordinance, in Section 8, makes changes to implement the Metropolitan
21 Transportation Commission's (MTC) Transit-Oriented Communities (TOC) Policy, and
22 Housing Element law. The MTC endorsed the TOC Policy in MTC Resolution 4530 in
23 September 2022, to support the region's transit investments by creating communities around
24 transit stations and along transit corridors that not only enable transit ridership, but also are
25 places where Bay Area residents of all abilities, income levels, and racial and ethnic

1 backgrounds can live, work, and access services. The TOC Policy applies to the half-mile
2 area around existing and planned fixed-guideway transit stops and stations (i.e., regional rail,
3 commuter rail, light-rail transit, bus rapid transit, and ferries). MTC has indicated that
4 subsequent One Bay Area Grant (OBAG) funding cycles will consider prioritizing investments
5 in transit station areas that are subject to and compliant with the TOC Policy.

6 (p) The TOC Policy requirements consist of four elements: (1) minimum required and
7 allowed residential and/or commercial office densities for new development; (2) policies
8 focused on housing production, preservation and protection, and commercial anti-
9 displacement and stabilization policies; (3) parking management; and (4) transit station
10 access and circulation.

11 (q) Consistent with the TOC Policy, Planning Code Section 155.2 already requires one
12 secure bike parking spot per Dwelling Unit, and one secure bike parking spot per 5,000
13 square feet of Occupied Floor Area for Office uses. This ordinance also creates minimum
14 required and allowed residential densities and commercial development intensities for areas
15 subject to the TOC Policy, and Housing Element law. Housing Element law (Government
16 Code Section 65583.2(c) and (h)) requires cities to identify sites that were previously identified
17 as appropriate for housing in prior Housing Element cycles, and sites that are appropriate to 18 accommodate 100% of the City's allocation of lower-income housing. Lists of those sites are
19 on file with the Clerk of the Board in File No. 250701. It also modifies the parking
20 requirements be consistent with the TOC Policy.

21 (r) The ordinance also specifies that projects proposing the demolition, merger, or
22 reduction in number of Dwelling Units are subject to a maximum Dwelling Unit size of 4,000
23 square feet of Gross Floor Area, but allows projects to seek a conditional use authorization to 24 exceed this objective standard.

25 (s) This ordinance, in Section 9, makes changes to off-street parking and curb cut

1 requirements to clarify and simplify the requirements.

2 (t) This ordinance, in Section 10, creates the San Francisco Municipal Transportation
3 Agency (SFMTA) Non-Contiguous Sites Special Use District (SUD) consistent with the
4 SFMTA's Joint Development Program, approved by the SFMTA's Board of Directors on
5 February 4, 2025 in Resolution No. 250204-010. The SUD is comprised of parcels owned by
6 the SFMTA, most of which are currently used as parking lots. The SUD allows development
7 of market-rate and affordable housing consistent with each parcel's surrounding zoning
8 district, as well as other zoning modifications specific to the SUD.

9 (u) Increased residential development could result in displacement of existing
10 businesses. The City's Legacy Business program, in Administrative Code Section 2A.242,
11 offers certain benefits for qualifying businesses. This ordinance, in Section 11, makes
12 changes to the Planning Code that permit Displaced Businesses to relocate within the City
13 without having to obtain a conditional use authorization or pay development impact fees.

14 (v) This ordinance, in Section 12, includes miscellaneous definitional and other
15 changes that are appurtenant to the rezoning program.

16 (w) This ordinance, in Section 13, amends the Neighborhood Commercial District and
17 Mixed-Use District tables to conform to the amendments in Sections 3-12. Section 13 also
18 implements other changes contemplated in the Housing Element, such as eliminating numeric
19 density controls in zoning districts that are located in well-resourced areas.

20 (x) This ordinance, In Section 14, amends the Business and Tax Regulations Code to
21 include the new HC-HSD streamlining requirements.

22 (y) The Board of Supervisors finds that the Planning Code amendments in this
23 ordinance constitute amendments to the City's Local Coastal Program ("LCP"). The Board of 24 Supervisors finds that the LCP amendment conforms with the applicable provisions of the 25 Coastal Act of 1976, and that the amendments are consistent with and adequate to carry out

1 the provisions of the City’s certified LCP Land Use Plan—the Western Shoreline Area Plan.
2 The Board further finds that the amendments will be implemented in full conformance with the
3 Coastal Act’s provisions, and acknowledges that the amendments in the Western Shoreline
4 Area Plan are consistent with San Francisco’s Housing Element’s housing goals.

5 (z) The Board of Supervisors finds that promoting higher-density housing opportunities
6 in the Coastal Zone is consistent with the Coastal Act’s goal of providing “new affordable
7 housing opportunities for persons of low and moderate income in the coastal zone.” (Cal.
8 Pub. Resources Code, § 30604(g).) Further, providing these opportunities in the Coastal
9 Zone is consistent with the Housing Element’s goal of creating new housing in well-resourced
10 neighborhoods. To that end, this ordinance amends the Implementation Program of the City’s
11 certified LCP, including updating the use and development controls in the RH, RM, RTO-C,
12 NC-1, and NC-2 use districts that comprise the Coastal Zone. These amendments are
13 necessary to ensure housing opportunities in the Coastal Zone, and the City’s approval of 14 these amendments satisfies California Government Code Section 65583.

15
16 Section 3. Housing Choice – San Francisco Program. Articles 2 and 3 of the Planning
17 Code are hereby amended by adding Sections 206.10, 334, and 344, to read, as follows:

18 SEC. 206.10 HOUSING CHOICE-SAN FRANCISCO PROGRAM.

19 (a) Purpose. This Section 206.10 sets forth the Housing Choice-San Francisco Program
20 (HC-SF Program). The HC-SF Program provides additional residential development capacity,
21 additional options for complying with the Inclusionary Housing Ordinance, modifications to certain
22 Planning Code and design standards, and an administrative or discretionary review process for
23 eligible residential projects that comply with the program. Except as provided in this Section
24 206.10, all HC-SF projects shall comply with Article 4 of the Planning Code.

25 (b) Applicability. An HC-SF Project under this Section 206.10 shall be a project that

1 complies with all of the following requirements:

2 (1) consists of new construction, an addition to an existing structure, or a conversion of
3 an existing structure, and results in a net increase in the number of Dwelling Units or Group Housing
4 bedrooms;

5 (2) contains two or more Dwelling Units or Group Housing bedrooms. Accessory
6 Dwelling Units shall not count towards the minimum number of required Dwelling Units, but an HC-
7 SF Project may contain ADUs;

8 (3) is located on a Lot in the R-4 Height and Bulk District;

9 (4) does not demolish a building that is designated as a landmark under Article 10, is
10 listed as a contributor to an historic district in Article 10, is listed as a Significant or Contributory
11 Building under Article 11, is listed in the California Register of Historical Resources, or is listed on the 12 National Register of Historic Places;

13 (5) does not receive any density or development bonuses or relief from applicable
14 Planning Code standards in any other State or local law or program, including but not limited to
15 California Government Code Sections 65915 et seq., Government Code sections 65912.113(e),
16 65912.114(f)(1), 65912.123(b), (c), (d), (e), (i), (j)(1), and (j)(3) and 65912.124(f), and Sections
17 65852.28(b)(2), 65913.4.5, and 66499.41, as may be updated from time to time; and Planning Code
18 Section 124(f), Section 202.2(f), Sections 206.3 to 206.9, inclusive, Section 207(c ), Section 304, and
19 Section 328;

20 (6) complies with Objective Standards, except as otherwise modified by the HC-SF
21 Program in this Section 206.10, or through the modification process in Section 334;

22 (7) is a project in which at least two-thirds of the new or converted square footage is
23 designated for Residential Uses; or, a project with at least 50% new or converted square footage for
24 Residential Uses if the project converts an existing Non-Residential Use and does not expand that use
25 by more than 25%. Basements shall not count in the calculation of square footage. For additions to

1 existing structures or conversions of existing buildings, only the net new or converted space shall be
2 considered in the calculation of square footage; and,

3 (8) is not located in a Special Use District that implements a Development Agreement
4 adopted under California Government Code 65864 et seq and/or Administrative Code Chapter 56;
5 and

6 (9) is not located on a site containing more than two residential units where the
7 project would require the demolition of residential uses that are subject to the rent increase
8 limitations set forth in Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code; and

9 (10) does not demolish or convert any portion of a Hotel.

10 (c) Inclusionary Housing Ordinance Alternatives. HC-SF Projects of 10 or more units shall
11 comply with Section 415 et seq., and if applicable Section 419 et seq., except as allowed by this
12 subsection (c). Projects that elect the off-site alternative in Section 415.5(g)(1)(B) or the Land
13 Dedication Alternative in Section 419.5(a)(2) allowed in subsection (c)(2), shall provide the required
14 units within the R-4 Height and Bulk District, or within one-half mile of the project. In addition to the
15 alternatives set forth in Section 415.3(g), HC-SF Projects may satisfy the requirements of Section 415
16 et seq. by choosing one of the following options:

17 (1) if the project is a Rental Project with 24 or fewer units, including any additional
18 units allowed by this Section 206.10, a project sponsor shall subject all units in the project to the San
19 Francisco Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance (Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code) for 20 the Life of the Project; or

21 (2) applicants shall comply with the Land Dedication Alternative requirements of 22 Section 419.5(a)(2), regardless of project location.

23 (d) Modified Development Standards. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions found in the
24 Planning Code, including any provision in a Special Use District not implementing a Development
25 Agreement adopted under California Government Code 65864 et seq. and/or Administrative Code

1 Chapter 56, or in any adopted Design Standard, the following development standards apply to eligible
2 HC-SF Projects. Projects may also seek additional modifications under Section 334.

3 (1) Standards Applicable to All Projects: All HC-SF Projects shall receive the
4 following zoning modifications:

5 (A) Form-Based Residential Density. An HC-SF Project shall be subject to
6 Form-Based Density limits. Floor Area Ratio requirements or limitations shall not apply to the
7 Residential Uses in an HC-SF Project.

8 (B) Dwelling Unit Mix. Section 207.6 and Section 207.7 shall not apply. HC-
9 SF Projects of four units or more shall comply with the following:

10 (i) a project with four dwelling units shall contain at least one unit with
11 two or more bedrooms;

12 (ii) for a project with between five and nine dwelling units, inclusive, at 13 least 25% of its units shall contain two or more bedrooms, including at least one unit with three or
14 more bedrooms; and

15 (iii) for a project with ten or more dwelling units, at least 25% of its
16 units shall contain two or more bedrooms, including at least 5% of its units containing three or more
17 bedrooms.

18 (iv) The Dwelling Unit mix requirement in this subsection (d)(1)(B) shall
19 not apply to 100% Affordable Housing projects or Residential Uses listed in Section 207.7(b)(2). The
20 Dwelling Unit mix requirement may be modified pursuant to Section 334.

21 (C) Additional Height. The applicable height limit for an HC-SF Project shall
22 be the height pursuant to Section 263.19(b). Planning Code Section 261 shall not apply.
23 Notwithstanding any lower height limit in this Code, including Section 263.19, the height limit of an
24 HC-SF Project located on a Corner Lot or a Lot larger than 8,000 square feet shall be 65 feet, unless a
25 higher height limit is provided elsewhere in the Code.

1                                    (D) Ground Floor Setbacks on 19th Avenue. Projects on a lot with frontage on
2 19th Avenue may reduce the setback required under Section 131 and 132 if the proposed project
3 expands the publicly available sidewalk into the subject property and the resulting overall sidewalk
4 width is not less than 15 feet. In such cases, the setback and sidewalk shall have a minimum vertical
5 clearance of not less than 25 feet from grade, and the property owner shall record a Notice of Special
6 Restrictions allowing for public access to the expanded sidewalk for the life of the project.

7                                    (E) Rear Yard and Lot Coverage. The rear yard requirements of Section 134
8 may be modified as follows:

9                                    (i) Except for large lots subject to Section 134(d)(6), or lots in
10 Residential Districts other than the Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial (RTO-C) district, the rear
11 yard shall be equal to at least 18% of the total depth of the lot, or 15 feet, whichever is greater;

12                                    (ii) Except for large lots subject to the lot coverage limits of Section
13 134(d)(6), in Neighborhood Commercial, Named Neighborhood Commercial, Commercial Districts,
14 Residential-Commercial (RC) and Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial (RTO-C) Districts, no
15 rear yard is required at the ground floor;

16                                    (iii) On Corner Lots, or Lots at the intersection of a Street and an Alley
17 of at least 25 feet in width, where a rear yard can meet the requirements of Section 134(h), the area of
18 the required open area shall be equal to 18% of the depth of the lot and a minimum of 15 feet in every
19 horizontal direction.

20                                    (iv) In C districts, other than on large lots subject to Section 134(d)(6),
21 lot coverage is limited to 82% at all levels containing Residential Uses. All other provisions of Section
22 134(d)(6) shall apply.

23                                    (F) Open Space. The open space requirements of Section 135 shall not apply.

24                                    (G) Dwelling Unit Exposure. The dwelling unit exposure requirements of
25 Section 140 shall not apply.

1 (H) Non-Residential Use Size Limits. Non-Residential Uses may exceed the
2 non-residential use size limits in Section 121.2 without the need for a Conditional Use authorization.

3 (I) Height Limits for Vertical Non-Habitable Architectural Elements. Vertical
4 Non-Habitable Architectural Elements may exceed height limits consistent with the requirements in
5 Section 263.21(c).

6 (J) Development of Large Lots in Residential Transit Oriented Commercial
7 (RTO-C) Districts. Sections 121.1 and 303(r) shall not apply to HC-SF Projects on large lots in the
8 RTO-C Zoning District.

9 (K) Ground Floor Ceiling Heights For Nine-Story Projects. The ground floor
10 ceiling height requirements in Section 145.1(c)(4) shall not apply to HC-SF Projects proposing nine
11 stories in a district with a height limit of 85 feet.

12 (L) Maximum Dwelling Unit Size. Notwithstanding any other provision of this
13 Code, Section 207.10 shall apply.

14 (M) Reduction of Quantitative Objective Standards. Any quantitative Objective
15 Standard may be modified by up to 15% of the standard except for the following: standards set forth in
16 subsection (d)(1)(A) through (d)(1)(L) inclusive, standards set forth in subsection (e), rear yard or lot
17 coverage standards, standards ineligible for Major Modifications under Section 334(d)(3), and
18 maximum average floor plate requirements in Section 270(i).

19 (2) Standards Applicable to 100% Affordable Projects.

20 (A) Definitions. A 100% Affordable HC-SF Housing Project shall be an eligible
21 HC-SF Project where all Residential Uses, except a manager's unit, are comprised solely of Dwelling
22 Units or Group Housing bedrooms that are restricted for the Life of the Project as "Affordable Units,"
23 as defined in Section 401, and meet the requirements in Section 406(b)(1)(A) and (C).

24 (B) Additional Planning Code Modifications. In addition to the modifications
25 in subsection (d)(1), 100% Affordable HC-SF Housing Projects are entitled to the following Planning

1 Code modifications:

2 (i) Ground-floor ceiling height. Ground floor ceiling height
3 requirements in Section 145.1(c)(4) shall not apply.

4 (ii) Active use requirement. Active use requirements in Section
5 145.1(c)(3) shall be reduced by 20% of all the required dimensions.

6 (iii) Curb cuts. Curb cut restrictions in Section 155(r) shall not apply.
7 However, where a site has two or more frontages, frontages with the fewest restrictions under Section
8 155(r) shall be prioritized for vehicular and loading access.

9 (iv) Height Limit. The height limit shall be 20 feet greater than the HC-
10 SF height limit set forth in Section 263.19(b), and in subsection (d)(1)(C), and maybe be supplemented
11 by any height bonus pursuant to subsection (e).

12 (3) Authorization. HC-SF Projects under this Section 206.10 shall be reviewed and
13 approved under the provisions set forth in Section 334, and any other required entitlement except for
14 Section 309 and Section 329. Approval procedures under Section 309 and Section 329 shall not apply.

15 (4) Exclusions. In no event shall this Section 206.10 be interpreted as
16 relieving a HC-SF project from complying with: Article 4 of the Planning Code other than as
17 specified in this subsection (d); Section 202.17; any tenant protections contained elsewhere in
18 the Planning Code, including Section 317 et seq.; or Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code.

19 (e) Additional Height, Square Footage, and Other Bonuses. HC-SF Projects that contain
20 certain uses, amenities, or other building features are eligible for additional bonuses and code
21 modifications, as described below.

22 (1) Micro-Retail and/or Community Benefit Uses. For projects that include, at or
23 above grade, (A) one or more Micro-Retail spaces, which shall mean space for a Retail Use measuring
24 no less than 100 gross square feet and no greater than 1,000 gross square feet; and/or (B) one or more
25 Community Benefit Uses, shall receive additional square footage and height as set forth below. For the

1 purposes of this subsection, Community Benefit Uses means: Child Care Facility, Community Facility,
2 Job Training, Public Facilities, Social Service or Philanthropic Facility, Laundromat, Trade School,
3 Grocery (General or Specialty), and/or any Displaced Business, as that term is defined in Section
4 202.17. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, all such Community Benefit Uses shall be
5 principally permitted without limit on use size. The following provisions apply to projects providing
6 Micro-Retail space(s) and/or on-site Community Benefit Use(s):

7 (A) For every square foot of Community Benefit Use(s), or every 1.5 square feet
8 of Micro-Retail, the Project shall be permitted to include an additional:

- 9 (i) up to two square feet for other project use(s); and
10 (ii) up to a maximum of 10 feet total above the permitted height limit to
11 accommodate the additional square footage.

12 (B) On-site Community Benefits Use(s) and Micro-Retail space(s) must be
13 included in the project for a minimum of 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and
14 the use and space requirement shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions. If the Community
15 Benefits Use(s) is discontinued, it must be replaced with another Community Benefits Use(s). If the
16 Micro-Retail space(s) is reconfigured, the new resulting space(s) must meet the definition of a Micro-
17 Retail space and the cumulative square footage must not decrease in size.

18 (2) Warm Retail Shells. For the purposes of this subsection (e)(2), “Warm Retail
19 Shell” means a ground floor retail space in a “warm shell” condition suitable for food service use,
20 with the improvements described in this subsection (e)(2) as a Food Service Warm Shell or a
21 General Warm Shell. ~~which space~~ A Food Service Warm Shell shall ~~contains~~ all of the
22 following: a concrete floor slab, exterior walls, roof, storefront, restroom(s) ~~designed to meeting~~
23 ADA accessibility requirements, electrical panel with breakers and outlets, fire sprinklers and alarm
24 system that ~~meet shell~~ satisfy building code, HVAC unit, Type 1 grease exhaust hood with
25 appropriate ductwork, water meter(s), distribution piping for domestic water (hot/cold), and waste

1 water plumbing, including floor drains. A General Warm Shell shall contain all of the following: a
2 finished concrete floor, exterior walls, sheet rock on walls, roof, restroom(s) satisfying ADA
3 accessibility requirements, electrical panel with breakers and outlets, fire sprinklers and alarm
4 system that satisfy building code, and basic lighting. The following provisions apply to projects
5 providing Warm Retail Shells.

6 (A) For every square foot of Warm Retail Shell(s), the Project shall be permitted
7 to include an additional:

8 (i) up to three square feet for other project use(s) for a Food Service
9 Warm Shell; and

10 (ii) up to 2.5 square feet for other project use(s) for a General
11 Warm Shell; and

12 (iii) up to a maximum of 10 feet total above the permitted height limit to
13 accommodate the additional square footage.

14 (B) The Warm Retail Shell shall be included in the project for a minimum of 30
15 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the requirement shall be recorded in a Notice
16 of Special Restrictions. If the space is modified within this period such that it no longer meets the
17 definition of a Warm Retail Shell, it must be replaced with a qualifying Community Benefit Use or a
18 Micro-Retail use per subsection (e)(1) above. No Temporary or Final Certificate of Occupancy shall be
19 issued unless the Planning Department, in consultation with the Department of Building Inspection,
20 determines that the requirements of this subsection (e)(2) have been completed.

21 (3) Family-Friendly Amenities. In Residential Districts, projects that provide certain
22 Family Friendly Amenities, as defined below, shall be permitted to include an additional:

23 (A) up to two square feet for project uses for each square foot of any one or more
24 Family Friendly Amenity; and

25 (B) horizontal addition to the permitted building volume to accommodate this

1 extra square footage through any combination of the following:

2 (i) reducing the required rear yard above the ground floor (Section 134)
3 to 25% or 20 feet, whichever is greater;

4 (ii) reducing the required ground floor rear yard (Section 134) to 18%
5 or 15 feet, whichever is greater;

6 (iii) reducing the required side yard (Section 133) to 0 feet, and/or

7 (iv) reducing the required upper-story setback to 10 feet for additions to
8 Historic Buildings.

9 (C) Family Friendly Amenities shall be defined as the following:

10 (i) an indoor common recreational room of not less than 150 square feet
11 that is directly accessible to an adjacent outdoor common open space of at least 150 square feet;

12 (ii) a common shared kitchen of not less than 150 square feet, equipped
13 at minimum with a refrigerator, oven, stovetop, sink, dishwasher, and countertops for food
14 preparation;

15 (iii) an overnight suite with a bedroom and bathroom, but that is not a
16 Dwelling Unit and has no cooking facilities, that is a common building amenity and reservable
17 exclusively by residents for overnight guests;

18 (iv) secured storage space for residents, that is external to individual
19 residential units, intended for large objects, and located on the ground floor or below or accessed from
20 within a garage or loading area;

21 (v) bicycle parking space or storage area intended to accommodate
22 cargo bicycles as shall be described in specifications published by the Zoning Administrator; and

23 (vi) an in-home childcare unit that meets the requirements of Section
24 414A.6(a)(2), (3), and (5). Projects that construct an in-home childcare unit shall receive a waiver of 25 the requirements of Section 414A.

1 (D) Family-Friendly Amenities shall be included in the project for a minimum of
2 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the use and space requirement shall be
3 recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions. If the Family-Friendly Amenity is discontinued, it must be
4 replaced with another Family-Friendly Amenity.

5 (4) Units With ~~Two~~ ~~Three~~ or More Bedrooms. Projects that contain units with ~~two~~ ~~three~~ or
6 more bedrooms shall be permitted to include additional square footage, as set forth below:

7 (A) 250 square feet for every two-bedroom unit provided in excess of the 8 number of two-bedroom units required by subsection (d)(1)(B); and

9 (B) 250 square feet for every three-bedroom unit provided, including any three-
10 bedroom units required pursuant to subsection (d)(1)(B); and

11 (~~B~~C) 400 square feet for every unit provided that contains four or more
12 bedrooms, including any such units required pursuant to subsection (d)(1)(B); and

13 (~~C~~D) horizontal additions to accommodate the extra square footage described
14 in subsection (e)(4)(A)-(~~B~~C) through any combination of the following:

15 (i) reducing the required rear yard above the ground floor (Section 134)
16 to 25% or 20 feet, whichever is greater; and

17 (ii) reducing the required ground floor rear yard (Section 134) to 18%
18 or 15 feet, whichever is greater;

19 (iii) reducing the required side yard (Section 133) to zero feet, and/or

20 (iv) reducing the required upper-story setback to 10 feet for additions to
21 Historic Buildings; and

22 (~~D~~E) in all districts except Residential districts, vertical additions not to exceed
23 10 feet total above the Housing Choice-SF height limit (Section 263.19) to accommodate the extra
24 square footage described in subsections (e)(4)(A) and (~~B~~C).

25 (~~E~~F) The units containing ~~two~~ ~~three~~ or more bedrooms shall be included in the

1 project for a minimum of 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the use and space
2 requirement shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions.

3 (5) Replacement of Commercial Space. In districts other than Residential
4 districts, projects proposing the alteration or demolition of a building with existing Commercial
5 Uses shall be permitted to include additional square footage, as set forth below. For the
6 purposes of this subsection (e)(5), a “Replacement Commercial Space” shall satisfy all of the
7 following for each Commercial Use: (1) the space(s) contains between 90% to 110% of the
8 gross floor area of the existing Commercial Use(s); (2) the storefront(s) occupies between 90
9 to 110% of the length of the street frontage occupied by the existing Commercial Use(s),
10 except that if the street frontage for the existing Commercial Use is 50 feet or less, up to 10
11 feet of frontage can be used for a lobby; and if the street frontage for the existing Commercial
12 Use is greater than 50 feet, up to 15 feet of the frontage can be used for a lobby; and (3) the
13 space contains a Warm Retail Shell, as that term is defined in subsection (e)(2), provided that
14 if the existing Commercial Use involves food service, the project must provide a Food Service
15 Warm Shell.

16 _____ (A) up to 1.5 square feet for project uses for each square foot of 17 Replacement Commercial Space; and

18 _____ (B) up to a maximum of 10 feet total above the permitted height limit to
19 accommodate the additional square footage.

20 _____ (C) A project providing Replacement Commercial Space is also eligible
21 for the Warm Retail Shell bonuses in subsection (e)(2).

22 _____ (D) The Replacement Commercial Space shall be included in the project
23 for a minimum of 30 years, or the life of the project, whichever is shorter, and the use
24 requirement shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions.

25 (6) Preservation of Historic Buildings. In districts other than Residential districts, projects

1 proposing an alteration to a Historic Building and/or constructing new buildings on sites that contain a
2 Historic Building shall be permitted to include additional square footage, as provided below:

3 (A) up to 1.5 times the gross floor area foregone by retaining the Historic
4 Building and complying with Objective Standards pertaining to Historic Buildings, including through
5 setting back building additions and/or new construction in relation to the Historic Building. For the
6 purposes of this subsection (e)(56)(A), the foregone gross floor area shall be equal to the gross floor
7 area within the volume that would otherwise be permitted under the Planning Code and all applicable
8 Objective Standards, inclusive of modifications allowed pursuant to this Section 206.10, but is not
9 being constructed in order to accommodate a reduced building mass above or around a Historic
10 Building and that complies with or exceeds the setbacks or mass reductions required by the Objective
11 Standards pertaining to Historic Buildings. The Zoning Administrator may publish further guidance on 12 the calculation of foregone gross floor area; and

13 (B) for Historic Buildings with storefronts that contain character-defining
14 features, an additional 0.25 square feet for every square foot of space in the storefront,
15 provided that the project preserves the storefront in compliance with Objective Standards
16 pertaining to Historic Buildings; and

17 _____ (C) horizontal or vertical additions to accommodate this extra square footage,
18 except that any such additions shall not:

19 (i) exceed 20 feet above the Housing Choice-SF height limit (Section 20 263.19); or

21 (ii) reduce the required rear yard above the ground floor to less than 15
22 feet where the site abuts the rear yard of adjacent parcels containing residential uses.

23 (D) The Historic Building and/or historic storefront shall be maintained in
24 compliance with the Preservation Design Standards for the life of the project, and the requirement
25 shall be recorded in a Notice of Special Restrictions.

1                    (67) Limits on Bonuses. Except as provided below, An HC-SF Project can
2 combine the heights, square footage, and additional bonuses in subsections (e)(1) through (e)(56), as
3 provided below:

4                    (1) Height. A project may combine the bonuses in subsections (e)(1) through
5 (e)(45) provided that any height bonus is limited to 10 feet above the Housing Choice-SF height limit.
6 A project may combine the bonuses in subsections (e)(1) through (e)(56) provided that any height
7 bonus is limited to 30 feet above the Housing Choice-SF height limit.

8                    (2) Rear Yard. A project cannot reduce the required rear yard beyond the 9 lowest of the limits set forth in subsections (e)(3)-(e)(56).

10
11                    SEC. 334. HOUSING CHOICE-SAN FRANCISCO PROJECT AUTHORIZATION.

12                    (a) Purpose and Applicability. The purpose of this Section 334 is to provide for the review and
13 approval of a Housing Choice San Francisco (HC-SF) project, as defined in Section 206.10.

14                    (b) General Process.

15                    (1) Application. An HC-SF Project shall apply through the Planning Department's
16 procedures for Development Applications and review. An HC-SF project application shall be submitted
17 with and processed concurrently with all other applications. The HC-SF project application shall be
18 submitted on a form prescribed by the Department, and shall include all of the following information:

19                    (i) A full plan set, including a site plan, elevations, sections, and floor plans,
20 showing total number of units, and the number of and location of affordable units as applicable; and a
21 draft Regulatory Agreement, if the project elects to subject units to the Rent Stabilization Ordinance
22 under Section 206.10(c)(1);

23                    (ii) Except as noted in subsection (iii), demonstration of compliance with the
24 Planning Code and provisions of the HC-SF Program, including any permitted zoning modifications;

25                    (iii) Requested Major Modifications under subsection (d).

1                   (2) Procedures. The review of an HC-SF Project shall be conducted as part of, and
2 incorporated into, a Development Application. Where there is a conflict, the provisions of Section
3 206.10 shall govern. Unless modified by Section 206.10, if a project requires a conditional use
4 authorization, or any other entitlement that requires a public hearing before the Planning Commission
5 and/or the Historic Preservation Commission, the HC-SF Project shall be reviewed by the Planning
6 Commission and/or the Historic Preservation Commission, as applicable.

7                   (3) Discretionary Review. As long as the Planning Commission has delegated its
8 authority to the Planning Department to review applications for an HC-SF Project, the Planning
9 Commission shall not hold a public hearing for discretionary review of an HC-SF that is subject to this
10 Section 334.

11                   (4) Regulatory Agreement for Projects Using Section 206.10(c)(1).

12                   (A) Sponsors of HC-SF Projects that elect to comply with the provisions of
13 Section 206.10(c)(1) shall enter into a regulatory agreement with the City subjecting all units, except
14 for any units required to be Affordable Units as defined in Planning Code Section 401, to the
15 Residential Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance (Chapter 37 of the Administrative Code), as a
16 condition of approval (“Regulatory Agreement”).

17                   (B) The property owner and the Planning Director, or the Director’s designee,
18 on behalf of the City, will execute the Regulatory Agreement, which is subject to review and approval
19 by the City Attorney’s Office. The Regulatory Agreement shall be executed prior to the City’s issuance
20 of the First Construction Document for the project, as defined in Section 107A.13.1 of the Building
21 Code. Following execution of the Regulatory Agreement by all parties and approval by the City
22 Attorney, the Regulatory Agreement or a memorandum thereof shall be recorded in the title records in
23 the Office of the Assessor-Recorder against the property and shall be binding on all future owners and 24 successors in interest.

25                   (C) At a minimum, the Regulatory Agreement shall contain the following:

1 (i) A description of the total number of Dwelling Units approved,
2 including the number of units subject to the Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance and other
3 restricted units, if any, and the location, square footage of Dwelling Units, and number of bedrooms in
4 each unit;

5 (ii) A statement that the Dwelling Units are not subject to the Costa-
6 Hawkins Rental Housing Act (California Civil Code Section 1954.50 et seq.). Further, that under
7 Section 1954.52(b), the property owner has entered into and agreed to the terms of the agreement with
8 the City in consideration for an exception from residential density limits, or other direct financial
9 contribution or other forms of assistance specified in California Government Code Section 65915 et
10 seq.;

11 (iii) A description of the residential density exception or other direct 12 financial contribution or forms of assistance provided to the property owner; and

13 (iv) A description of the remedies for breach of the agreement and other
14 provisions to ensure implementation and compliance with the agreement; and,

15 (v) An agreement that any lease, sublease, or other agreement regarding
16 tenancy of units not subject to the Costa-Hawkins Rental Housing Act (California Civil Code Sections
17 1954.50 et seq.) shall include the following text: “This unit is a rental unit subject to the San Francisco
18 Residential Rent Stabilization and Arbitration Ordinance.”

19 (5) Other Agreements. HC-SF Projects that provide on-site affordable units under
20 Section 415 et seq. or other state or local program that requires or allows the provision of on-site
21 affordable units, shall comply with any applicable recording or regulatory agreement requirement of 22 that state or local program.

23 (6) Timeline of Review. Unless the Environmental Review Officer determines that
24 compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act would take more than 180 days, review of
25 an HC-SF Project not seeking a Major Modification under this Section 334 shall be completed within

1 180 days of submittal of a complete Development Application. Unless the Environmental Review
2 Officer determines that compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act would take more
3 than 180 days, the Planning Commission shall hold a public hearing for projects seeking a Major
4 Modification within 180 days of submittal of a complete project application.

5 (c) Administrative Review. The Planning Department shall administratively review an HC-SF
6 Project, unless the Project seeks a Major Modification pursuant to subsection (d), or any HC-SF
7 Project that is a 100% Affordable HC-SF Project. The Planning Department’s determination regarding
8 an HC-SF Project under this subsection (c) shall not be appealable. Nothing in this Section 334
9 abrogates permit, license, or other requirements codified outside the Planning Code.

10 (d) Projects Seeking Major Modifications to Standards and Requirements. An HC-SF
11 Project may seek a Major Modification using the process in this subsection (d).

12 (1) Definition. A “Major Modification” means any deviation from any quantitative
13 standard in the Planning Code or any applicable Objective Standard not otherwise provided in Section
14 206.10(d) through (e). A project seeking a Major Modification to an Objective Standard shall not be 15 considered code compliant.

16 (2) Additional Modifications. HC-SF Projects seeking Major Modifications pursuant
17 to this subsection (d) may also pursue additional modifications that are not Major Modifications under 18 the provisions elsewhere in this Code.

19 (3) Exclusions. In no case may an HC-SF Project receive a Major Modification or
20 other exception under any provision of this Code to the following requirements: maximum building
21 height; maximum permitted accessory off-street parking amounts; wind standards; minimum density
22 requirements; Floor Area Ratio limits; any standard set forth in Articles 1.7, 3, 3.5, 4, 10, and 11 of the
23 Planning Code; definitions; permitted land uses; the Transportation Demand Management Program
24 under Section 169; and any standard or provision adopted by the voters.

25 (4) Required Findings for Major Modifications. To grant a Major Modification, the

1 Planning Commission shall find: (a) that the proposed modification achieves equal or superior design
2 quality, and (b) the project would provide a significant community benefit by producing housing near
3 transit, or otherwise promote the general welfare.

4 (5) Conditions of Approval. The Planning Commission may adopt conditions of
5 approval for granted modification(s). Such conditions shall be limited to addressing the potential
6 impact of such granted modification(s).

7 (6) Process for Applicants Seeking Major Modifications.

8 (A) Decision. The Planning Commission, at a noticed public hearing, shall
9 review, and approve, disapprove, or approve with conditions, a request for a Major Modification. The
10 Planning Commission shall find that the proposed Major Modification(s) meet the criteria in 11 subsection (d)(4). As part of its review and decision, the Planning Commission may impose additional 12 conditions, requirements, modifications, and limitations on a proposed project in order to mitigate the
13 effect of the requested modification(s) and thereby achieve the objectives, policies, and intent of the 14 General Plan and/or applicable Objective Standards.

15 (B) Notification. Notice of a hearing required by subsection (6)(A) shall be
16 provided in accordance with Planning Code Section 333.

17 (e) Notification and Record of Decision. Notification and record of decision of an HC-SF
18 Project shall be provided as set forth in the Planning Department procedures for review and approval
19 of Development Applications.

20 (f) Change of Conditions. Once a project is approved, a change in any condition previously
21 imposed by the Planning Commission shall require approval by the Planning Commission subject to 22 the procedures set forth in this Section 334.

23
24 SEC. 344. HOUSING CHOICE HOUSING SUSTAINABILITY DISTRICT.

25 (a) Purpose. This Section 344 establishes the Housing Choice - San Francisco Housing

1 Sustainability District (“HSD”) under California Government Code Sections 66200 et seq. The
2 purpose of the HSD is to encourage the development of on-site affordable housing in new residential
3 and mixed-use projects by providing a streamlined, ministerial approval process for such projects. This
4 Section 344 sets forth eligibility criteria, design review standards, and entitlement and approval
5 procedures for projects seeking approval pursuant to the HSD.

6 (b) Geography. The HSD shall be comprised of all parcels, other than those zoned as RH or
7 RM, in the R-4 Height and Bulk District.

8 (c) Relationship to Other Planning Code Provisions. Except as otherwise provided in this
9 Section 344, the Planning Code shall apply to projects approved pursuant to this Section 344. In the 10 event of a conflict between other provisions of the Planning Code and this Section 344, this Section
11 shall control.

12 (d) Eligibility. Projects seeking approval pursuant to this Section 344 shall meet all of the 13 following requirements:

14 (1) The project is located in a zoning district where Residential uses are principally
15 permitted.

16 (2) For Dwelling Unit projects, the project’s residential density is no less than 50
17 Dwelling Units per acre, and no more than 1,000 Dwelling Units per acre.

18 (3) At least one-half of the project’s Gross Floor Area is designated for Residential
19 uses. All proposed Non-Residential uses must be principally permitted in the underlying zoning district
20 and any applicable SUD(s). The project shall not include more than 24,999 square feet of Gross Floor
21 Area of Office use that would be subject to the annual limit on office development set forth in Sections
22 321 et seq.

23 (4) The project does not demolish or substantially alter a historic resource that is:
24 designated as a landmark or listed as a contributor to or located within a historic district under
25 Article 10; listed as a Significant or Contributory Building under Article 11; listed in the

1 California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places;
2 identified in an adopted survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for
3 individual listing in the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of
4 Historic Places; or, located within an historic district that is listed in, or identified in an adopted
5 survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for listing in, the California Register
6 of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places a building that is designated
7 as a landmark under Article 10, is listed as a contributor to an historic district in Article 10, is
8 listed as a Significant or Contributory Building under Article 11, is listed in the California
9 Register of Historical Resources, or is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

10 (5) Consistent with California Government Code Section 66201(f), the project shall
11 provide no less than 10% of dwelling units as units affordable to very low or low income households. A
12 project subject to Section 415 may apply any such affordable units towards its compliance with Section
13 415. Projects not subject to Section 415 shall enter into a regulatory agreement with the City to 14 restrict the affordability of any such units for no less than 55 years.

15 (6) The project does not demolish, remove, or convert to another use any existing
16 Dwelling Unit(s), or Residential Flat.

17 (7) The project complies with all applicable Planning Code requirements and any
18 adopted Objective Standards. Projects seeking approval pursuant to this Section 344 may not seek any
19 exceptions to height and bulk limits pursuant to Section 309(a)(17).

20 (8) The project sponsor complies with all applicable mitigation measures in the 21 Housing Element 2022 Update Environmental Impact Report (“Housing Element EIR”).

22 (9) The project sponsor certifies that the project will comply with all applicable
23 requirements of California Government Code Section 66201(f)(4).

24 (10) The project complies with the requirement of Government Code Section
25 66201(f)(5).

1 (11) The project provides relocation assistance to any displaced residential tenants.

2 (12) A project is not deemed to be for residential use if it is infeasible for actual use as
3 a single or multifamily residence.

4 (13) The project does not demolish or convert any portion of a Hotel.

5 (e) Approving Authority. The Planning Department is the approving authority designated to
6 review permit applications for compliance with this Section 344.

7 (f) Application. In addition to any requirements under other provisions of this Code for
8 submittal of application materials, an application under this Section 344 shall be submitted to the
9 Department on a form prescribed by the Department and shall not be considered complete until the
10 project sponsor has provided all of the following:

11 (1) A full plan set, including site plan, elevations, sections, and floor plans, showing
12 total number of units, and number of and location of units affordable to very low or low income
13 households;

14 (2) All documentation required by the Planning Department and sufficient to support
15 determinations that:

16 (A) The project meets all applicable zoning and any Objective Standards.

17 (B) The project sponsor will implement any and all mitigation measures in the 18 Housing Element EIR that the Environmental Review Officer determines are applicable. The project
19 sponsor shall submit scope(s) of work for any studies required as part of any mitigation measure, and
20 the application shall not be deemed complete until such studies are completed to the satisfaction of the 21 Environmental Review Officer.

22 (C) The project will comply with subsections (d)(10) and (d)(11) of this Section
23 344.

24 (g) Decision and Hearing. The Department shall ministerially approve projects that meet all
25 the requirements in this Section 344, as follows:

1                   (1) Hearing. The Planning Department shall conduct an informational public hearing
2 for all projects that are subject to this Section 344 within 100 days of receipt of a complete application,
3 as set forth in subsection (f).

4                   (2) Decision. Within 120 days of receipt of a complete application, as set forth in
5 subsection (f), the Planning Director or the Director’s designee shall issue a written decision
6 approving, disapproving, or approving subject to conditions, the project. The applicant and the
7 Department may mutually agree to extend this 120-day period. If no written decision is issued within
8 120 days of the Department’s receipt of a complete application, or within the period mutually agreed
9 upon by the Department and applicant, the project shall be deemed approved. The Planning Director
10 or the Director’s designee shall include any certifications required by California Government Code
11 Section 66205(e) in a copy of the written decision.

12                   (3) Grounds for Permit Denial. The Department may deny an HSD project application
13 only for one or more of the following reasons:

14                   (A) The proposed project does not fully comply with this Section 344, including
15 but not limited to meeting all adopted Objective Standards and/or implementing all mitigation
16 measures in the Housing Element EIR that the Department determines are applicable.

17                   (B) The project sponsor has not submitted all of the information or paid any
18 application fee required by this Section 344 and necessary for an adequate and timely design review or
19 assessment of potential impacts on nearby properties.

20                   (C) The Department determines, based upon substantial evidence in light of the 21 whole record of the public hearing on the project, that a physical condition on the site of development
22 that was not known and could not have been discovered with reasonable investigation at the time the
23 application was submitted would have a specific adverse impact upon the public health or safety and
24 that there is no feasible method to satisfactorily mitigate or avoid the specific adverse impact. As used
25 in this subsection (g)(3)(C), “specific adverse impact” means a significant, quantifiable, direct, and

1 unavoidable impact based on identified objective written public health or safety standards, policies, or
2 conditions, in existence at the time the application was deemed complete.

3 (4) Appeal. The procedures for appeal to the Board of Appeals of a decision by the
4 Department under this Section 344 shall be as set forth in Section 8 of the Business and Tax
5 Regulations Code.

6 (5) Discretionary Review. No requests for discretionary review shall be accepted by
7 the Planning Department for projects subject to this Section 344. As long as the Planning Commission
8 has delegated its authority to the Planning Department to review applications for projects subject to
9 this Section 344, the Planning Commission shall not hold a public hearing for discretionary review of
10 projects subject to this Section 344.

11 (6) Progress Requirement. Approval of a project pursuant to this Section 344 shall 12 expire if the project sponsor has not procured a building permit or site permit for construction of the 13 project within 30 months of the date of the Department's issuance of a written decision pursuant to
14 subsection (g)(2). If the Planning Director or the Director's designee finds that the project sponsor has
15 demonstrated good faith in its efforts to obtain the first site or building permit for the project, the
16 Planning Director or designee may extend the approval for the project for a maximum of six additional
17 months. Such deadline shall additionally be extended in the event of any appeal of such approval for 18 the duration of the appeal, and in the event of litigation seeking to invalidate the approval for the 19 duration of the litigation.

20 (h) Design Review Standards. Projects subject to this Section 344 shall be reviewed for
21 compliance with the design standards set forth in the Planning Code and any Objective Standards.

22 (i) District Affordability Requirement. At the request of the California Department of Housing
23 and Community Development, the Planning Department shall demonstrate that at least 20% of the
24 residential units constructed in the HSD during the life of the District and pursuant to this Section 344
25 will be affordable to very low, low, and moderate-income households and subject to a recorded

1 affordability restriction for at least 55 years.

2 (j) Monitoring and Enforcement. The Planning Department shall include, as conditions of
3 approval of all projects approved pursuant to this Section 344, monitoring and enforcement provisions
4 to ensure that the project meets all applicable labor and wage requirements and complies with all
5 identified applicable mitigation measures. Projects found to be in violation of any of these conditions
6 shall be subject to the Administrative Enforcement Procedures in Section 176 of this Code, including
7 initiation of abatement proceedings or referral to the City Attorney or District Attorney for prosecution,
8 if not corrected within 90 days of service of any notice of violation issued under Section 176(b)(1).

9 Conditions of approval shall include, but are not limited to:

10 (1) A project sponsor shall submit weekly reports to the Office of Labor Standards
11 Enforcement, certifying that a project approved pursuant to this Section 344 is complying with 12 subsections (d)(11) and (d)(12), if applicable to the project. Projects found to be in violation of
13 subsections (d)(11) and (d)(12) shall be subject to penalties pursuant to Section 1741 of the Labor
14 Code, in addition to any penalties assessed pursuant to Section 176 of this Code. All penalties shall be
15 paid prior to issuance of the project's First Certificate of Occupancy, as defined in Section 401 of this
16 Code.

17 (2) The Planning Department shall monitor compliance with the Housing Element EIR
18 mitigation measures for projects approved under the HSD.

19 (3) The Planning Department shall monitor and report the construction of affordable
20 housing units under the HSD in its annual Housing Inventory, which shall include the following
21 information:

22 (A) Number of projects approved pursuant to this Section 344.

23 (B) Number of projects under construction pursuant to approvals obtained under
24 this Section 344.

25 (C) Number of projects completed pursuant to approvals obtained under this

1 Section 344.

2 (D) Number of Dwelling Units or Group Housing beds within projects completed
3 pursuant to approvals obtained under this Section 344.

4 (E) Number of Dwelling Units affordable to very low, low, moderate, and middle
5 income households within projects completed pursuant to approvals obtained under this Section 344.

6 (k) Operative and Sunset Dates.

7 (1) This Section 344 shall become operative upon confirmation of approval by the
8 California Department of Housing and Community Development under California Government Code
9 Section 66202(c) (“Operative Date”).

10 (2) This Section 344 shall expire by operation of law seven years from the Operative
11 Date, unless this Section 344 is renewed by ordinance pursuant to Government Code Section 66201(g),
12 in which case this Section 344 shall expire on the date specified in that ordinance (“Sunset Date”).
13 Upon the expiration of this Section 344, the City Attorney shall cause this Section 344 to be removed
14 from the Planning Code. Pursuant to Government Code Section 66205(b), this Section 344 shall govern
15 the processing and review of any complete application submitted pursuant to this Section 344 prior to 16 the Sunset Date.

18 Section 4. Height and Bulk Limits. Article 2.5 of the Planning Code is hereby amended
19 by revising Sections 260, 263.19, 263.20, and 270, and adding Sections 270.3 to read as
20 follows:

21 SEC. 260. HEIGHT LIMITS: MEASUREMENT.

22 (a) Method of Measurement. The limits upon the height of buildings and structures
23 shall be as specified on the Zoning Map, except as permitted by Section 206. In the
24 measurement of height, the following rules shall be applicable:

25 (1) The point above which such measurements shall be taken shall be as

1 specified as follows.

2 (A) In the case of either subsection (a)(1)(B) or (C) below, such point shall
3 be taken at the centerline of the building or, where the building steps laterally in relation to a
4 street that is the basis for height measurement, separate points shall be taken at the
5 centerline of each building step.

6 (B) Where the lot is level with or slopes downward from a street at the
7 centerline of the building or building step, such point shall be taken at curb level on such a
8 street. This point shall be used for height measurement only for a lot depth not extending
9 beyond a line 100 feet from and parallel to such street, or beyond a line equidistant between
10 such street and the street on the opposite side of the block, whichever depth is greater.
11 Measurement of height for any portion of the lot extending beyond such line shall be
12 considered in relation to the opposite (lower) end of the lot, and that portion shall be
13 considered an upward sloping lot in accordance with ~~§~~subsection (a)(1)(C) below, whether or
14 not the lot also has frontage on a lower street.

15 (C) Where the lot slopes upward from a street at the centerline of the 16 building or building step, such point shall be taken at curb level for purposes of measuring the
17 height of the closest part of the building within 10 feet of the property line of such street; at
18 every other cross-section of the building, at right angles to the centerline of the building or
19 building step, such point shall be taken as the average of the ground elevations at either side
20 of the building or building step at that cross-section. The ground elevations used shall be
21 either existing elevations or the elevations resulting from new grading operations
22 encompassing an entire block. Elevations beneath the building shall be taken by projecting a
23 straight line between ground elevations at the exterior walls at either side of the entire building
24 in the same plane.

25 (D) Where the lot has frontage on two or more streets, the owner may

1 choose the street or streets from which the measurement of height is to be taken, within the
2 scope of the rules stated above.

3 Where the height limits for buildings and structures are established by this Code,
4 the upper points to be taken for measurement of height shall be as prescribed in the
5 provisions relating to such height limits.

6 (2) The upper point to which such measurement shall be taken shall be the
7 highest point on the finished roof in the case of a flat roof, and the average height of the rise in
8 the case of a pitched or stepped roof, or similarly sculptured roof form, or any higher point of a
9 feature not exempted under § subsection (b) below. For any building taller than 550 feet in
10 height in the S-2 Bulk District, the height of the building shall be measured at the upper point
11 of all features of the building and exempted features in such cases shall be limited to only
12 those permitted in § subsection (b)(1)(M) and which are permitted by the Planning Commission
13 according to the procedures of Section 309.

14 (3) In cases where the height limit is 65 feet or less and a street from which
15 height measurements are made slopes laterally along the lot, or the ground slopes laterally on
16 a lot that also slopes upward from the street, there shall be a maximum width for the portion of
17 the building or structure that may be measured from a single point at curb or ground level,
18 according to the definition of "height," as specified in the following table. These requirements
19 shall not apply to any property to which the bulk limitations in Section 270 of this Code are 20 applicable.

21 (4) The following requirements shall apply to all parcels within the R-4 Height and Bulk
22 District, at or below 85 feet. In cases where the height limit is 85 feet or less and a street from which
23 height measurements are made slopes laterally along the lot, or the ground slopes laterally on a lot
24 that also slopes upward from the street, there shall be a maximum width for the portion of the building
25 or structure that may be measured from a single point at curb or ground level, according to the

1 definition of “height” as specified in the following table. These requirements shall not apply to any
 2 property to which the bulk limitations in Sections 270 through 270.3 of this Code are applicable.

5 (b) Exemptions. In addition to other height exceptions permitted by this Code, the
6 features listed in this subsection (b) shall be exempt from the height limits established by this
7 Code, in an amount up to but not exceeding that which is specified.

10 SEC. 263.19. HEIGHT LIMITS: PERMITTED ~~PODIUM AND~~ TOWER HEIGHTS IN
11 THE R BULK DISTRICTS.

13 District.

14 (a)(1) Intent. The general development concept for R Bulk Districts is of podium
15 buildings that vary from 65 to 170 feet in height depending on the district and location, with 16 adequately spaced slender towers up to 650 feet in height rising above the podium buildings.

17 (b)(2) Maximum Height Controls for Podiums and Towers. In the R-bulk
18 districts, which include the R, R-2, and R-3 bulk districts as designated on Sectional Map No.
19 HT01, HT02, and HT07 of the Zoning Map, maximum permitted building heights for both
20 podiums and towers are expressed as two numbers separated by a slash. The number
21 preceding the slash represents the height limit for podium buildings. The number following the
22 slash represents the height limit for towers. No building may exceed the podium height limit
23 except for towers meeting the bulk and tower spacing controls established in Section 270(e)
24 and (f).
25

1                    ~~(e)~~(3) Maximum Height Controls for Podiums and Towers in the R-2 Bulk
2 District and the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District. In the R-2 bulk
3 district and within the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District, maximum
4 permitted building heights for both podiums and towers are expressed as two sets of numbers
5 separated by a double slash in the format described above, in subsection (a)(2b). Each set of
6 numbers represents the maximum heights for podium and tower applicable to the parcel and
7 as regulated per subsection (a)(2b) above as follows: The first set of numbers represents the
8 principally permitted height limits for the parcel, both for the podium and for the tower. The 9 second set of numbers after the double slash represents the maximum height limits for
10 podium and tower that can be granted by the Planning Commission for that parcel through an
11 exception pursuant to the procedures and findings of Section 309(a)(17).

12                    (b) This Section 263.19(b) shall apply to the R-4 Height and Bulk District.

13                    (1) Intent. The general development concept for the R-4 Height and Bulk District is for
14 buildings that vary in height depending on the location, and in some locations providing for adequately
15 spaced slender towers rising above the podiums of lower height(s). In addition to establishing bulk
16 controls for all buildings in the district as further described in Section 270(i), the R-4 district
17 implements the Housing Choice-San Francisco (HC-SF) program by providing for a secondary height
18 limit for projects using the HC-SF Program per Section 206.10.

19                    (2) Maximum Height Controls for the HC-SF Program. In the R-4 Height and Bulk
20 District, as designated on Sectional Maps Nos. HT01, 02, 03, 04, 05, 06, 07, 11, 12, and 13 of the
21 Zoning Map, the permitted building heights are expressed as two sets of numbers separated by a double
22 slash. Preceding the double slash is the permitted building height limit for projects not using the HC-
23 SF Program. Following the double slash is the height limit for projects using the HC-SF Program per 24 Section 206.10. Where there is a set of two numbers separated by a single slash, the number preceding
25 the single slash is the maximum height for podium buildings and the number following the single slash

1 is the maximum tower height subject to the bulk and tower spacing controls of Section 270(i).

2 The following represents an example of height limits subject to both podium and tower controls,
3 and high limits for projects not using the HC-SF Program and projects using the HC-SF Program.

12 SEC. 263.20. SPECIAL HEIGHT EXCEPTION: ADDITIONAL FIVE FEET HEIGHT

14 FLOOR USES IN THE R-4 HEIGHT AND BULK DISTRICT.

17 (b) Applicability. The special height exception described in this ~~s~~Section 263.20 shall
18 only apply to projects that meet all both of the following criteria:

19 (1) project is located in a 30-X, 40-X, or 50-X Height and Bulk District, or in the 20 R-4 Height and Bulk District with a height limit of 40, 50, or 80 feet, as designated on the Zoning

22 (2) ~~project is located in one of the following districts:~~

23 ~~(A) in an NCT district as designated on the Zoning Map;~~

24 ~~(B) in the Castro Street, Inner Clement Street, Outer Clement Street, Excelsior~~
25 ~~Outer Mission Street, Irving Street, Japantown, Judah Street, Noriega Street, Taraval Street, and 24th~~

1 ~~Street—Noe Valley NCDs;~~

2 ~~————— (C) on a NC-2 designated parcel on Balboa Street between 2nd Avenue and 8th~~
3 ~~Avenue, and between 32nd Avenue and 39th Avenue;~~

4 ~~————— (D) on a NC-1 designated parcel within the boundaries of Sargent Street to~~
5 ~~Orizaba Avenue to Lobos Street to Plymouth Avenue to Farallones Street to San Jose Avenue to~~
6 ~~Alemaney Boulevard to 19th Avenue to Randolph Street to Monticello Street and back to Sargent Street;~~

7 ~~————— (E) on a NC-3 designated parcel fronting on Geary Boulevard from Masonic~~
8 ~~Avenue to 28th Avenue, except for parcels on the north side of Geary Boulevard between Palm Avenue~~
9 ~~and Parker Avenue; or~~

10 ~~————— (F) on a parcel zoned NC-1 on Noriega, Irving, Taraval, or Judah Streets west~~
11 ~~of 19th Avenue.~~

12 ~~———— (3) project features ground floor commercial space or other active use as~~
13 ~~defined by Section 145.1(b)(2) with clear ceiling heights in excess of ten feet from sidewalk~~
14 ~~grade, or in the case of residential uses, such walk-up residential units are raised up from~~ 15 ~~sidewalk level;~~

16 ~~———— (4) said ground floor commercial space, active use, or walk-up residential use is~~
17 ~~primarily oriented along a right-of-way wider than 40 feet;~~

18 ~~———— (5) said ground floor commercial space or active use occupies at least 50% of the~~ 19 ~~project's ground floor area; and~~

20 ~~———— (6) except for projects located in NCT districts, the project sponsor has conclusively~~
21 ~~demonstrated that the additional 5' increment allowed through Section 263.20 would not add new~~ 22 ~~shadow to any public open spaces.~~

25 SEC. 270. BULK LIMITS: MEASUREMENT.

(a) The limits upon the bulk of buildings and structures shall be as stated in this Section 270 (including Sections 270.1, 270.2, and 270.3) and in Sections 271 and 272. The terms Diagonal Dimension, Height, Length, and Plan Dimensions shall be as defined in this Code. In each height and bulk district, the maximum plan dimensions shall be as specified in the following table, at all horizontal cross-sections above the height indicated.

(i) R-4 Height and Bulk District. In the R-4 Height and Bulk District, the bulk limitation are as follows:

(1) Tower Bulk and Spacing. In the R-4 Height and Bulk District, the otherwise applicable bulk controls for structures below a height of 85 feet or below a different height threshold where explicitly specified elsewhere in the Code (“Podium Height”) shall govern, including, but not

1 limited to, those found in the Citywide Design Standards. Portions of structures above the podium
2 height shall comply with the bulk limitations described in subsection (i)(1)(A) and (B) below.

3 (A) Buildings between the Podium Height and 140 feet in height (exclusive of 4 permitted height exceptions) shall:

5 (i) Provide 15-foot setback(s) from any interior property line(s) for
6 portion(s) of the building above the Podium Height.

7 (ii) For portions of structures above the Podium Height, the average
8 floor plate shall not exceed 12,000 square feet.

9 (iii) For portions of structures above the Podium Height, a maximum
10 length of 130 feet and a maximum diagonal of 160 feet are permitted.

11 (iv) Building portions above the Podium Height and up to 140 feet must 12 maintain a 30-foot distance from other buildings above the Podium Height on any lot.

13 (B) Buildings above 140 feet in height (exclusive of permitted height exceptions)
14 shall:

15 (i) Provide 15-foot setback(s) from any interior property line(s) for
16 portion(s) of the building above the Podium Height.

17 (ii) For portions of structures above the Podium Height, the average
18 floor plate shall not exceed 12,000 square feet.

19 (iii) For portions of structures above the Podium Height, a maximum
20 length of 130 feet and a maximum diagonal of 160 feet are permitted.

21 (iv) Building portions above the Podium Height shall be separated by no
22 less than 115 feet from other buildings above 85 feet on any lot.

23 (v) For portions of buildings above the Podium Height, a maximum
24 unbroken wall width of 100 feet is permitted. For building masses above 85 feet in height and with a
25 plan length in excess of 100 feet, relief shall be provided through:

1 a. a notch, defined as a building recess or volumetric reduction
2 that is provided at the indicated height and extending the full vertical height of the subject facade above
3 85-feet, of at least 10 feet by 10 feet; or

4 b. a change in plane of at least 10 feet.

5 (vi) The top one-third of a building above 85 feet shall be reduced in
6 both floor plate and the allowed maximum plan and diagonal dimensions set forth in subsection
7 (i)(1)(B) by 10% each.

8
9 SEC. 270.3. SPECIAL BULK REQUIREMENTS: MID-BLOCK ALLEYS IN LARGE LOT
10 DEVELOPMENT OUTSIDE OF THE EASTERN NEIGHBORHOODS MIXED USE DISTRICTS,
11 SOUTH OF MARKET COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT, FOLSOM STREET
12 NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT, REGIONAL COMMERCIAL
13 DISTRICT, C-3 AND DTR DISTRICTS.

14 (a) Findings. This Section 270.3 incorporates the findings in Section 270.2(a), and determines
15 that the conditions in Section 270.2 are applicable outside of the geographic area specified in Section 16 270.2..

17 (b) Purpose. The mid-block alley requirements of this Section 270.3 are intended to ameliorate
18 the conditions and impacts described in the findings in Section 270.2(a) and make the subject areas
19 appropriate for a higher density of activity and population in areas being targeted for more intense
20 development. The horizontal mass reductions and mid-block alleys will ensure that block sizes for new
21 housing support walkable neighborhoods. To encourage pedestrian movement, walking to nearby
22 destinations including to and from transit, and neighborhood blocks with shortened distances to
23 facilitate this activity, the bulk limitations noted below will apply.

24 (c) Applicability. This Section 270.3 applies to all development lots not subject to the
25 requirements of Section 270.2, except development lots in PDR districts or that contain exclusively

1 government or Public Facilities, that:

2 (1) Are two acres or larger; and/or

3 (2) Have a frontage of 200 feet or greater on a single block face that is 400 feet or 4 greater.

5 (d) Requirements. New construction on development lots that meet the criteria in subsection
6 (c) above must be divided into smaller resultant lots and blocks in either one of the two following ways:

7 (1) Option 1. Lots shall be divided into resultant blocks such that:

8 (A) no block frontage exceeds a length of 300 feet between intersections;

9 (B) no block perimeter exceeds a total of 1,200 feet; and

10 (C) the resultant blocks shall be separated from each other by newly created
11 public street(s), alley(s), or publicly-accessible privately-owned street(s) or alley(s). Such street(s)
12 shall meet San Francisco street standards including the Better Streets Plan as codified in Section 138.1
13 and pursuant to Public Works Code requirements. If privately-owned street(s) or alley(s) are created,
14 they shall be maintained and must provide public access pursuant to the standards provided in
15 Planning Code Section 270.2(e).

16 (2) Option 2. Lots shall be divided into resultant blocks of not more than 400 feet in
17 length between intersections of streets or alleys per subsection (d)(1)(C) above, that are bisected by
18 alleys or passageways, and that do not exceed a total block perimeter of 1,400 feet. Such mid-block
19 alleys or passageways shall meet the following conditions:

20 (A) Location. Be located as close to the middle portion of the subject block face,
21 defined as within 50 lateral feet from the block centerline, perpendicular to the subject frontage and
22 connecting to any existing adjacent streets and alleys. If the subject lot is not within the central portion
23 of the block, the passageway shall cross the subject lot at its centerline or within 50 lateral feet from
24 the lot centerline. For Development projects that include a Public Facility or are immediately abutting
25 a parcel containing a Public Facility, this locational requirement shall not apply.

1                                    (B) Hours of Operation. The passageway(s) must be open to the public 24
2 hours a day, seven days a week. Fences and/or gates that would prevent public access at any point
3 within the passageway(s) are prohibited.

4                                    (C) Width. The passageway(s) must maintain minimum width(s) of 20 feet
5 measured from building-to-building at any point.

6                                    (D) Walking Width. Have a minimum clear walking width of 10 feet free of any
7 obstructions in the case of a pedestrian-only right-of-way, and dual sidewalks each of not less than six
8 feet in width with not less than four feet minimum clear width in the case of an alley with vehicular
9 access.

10                                   (E) Open to the Sky. At least 60% of the passageway area must be open to the
11 sky. Obstructions permitted within setbacks pursuant to Planning Code Section 136, that do not conflict
12 with or obstruct the required walking width, may be located within the portion of the alley or
13 passageway that is required to be open to the sky. All portions of the alley or pathway not open to the
14 sky shall have a minimum clearance height from grade of 15 feet at all points. For Development
15 Projects that include a Public Facility or are immediately abutting a parcel containing to a Public
16 Facility, the required percent of the passageway area that must be open to the sky may be reduced to 17 50%.

18                                   (F) Topography. Changes in grade or steps are not permitted in an alley or
19 passageway unless required by the natural topography and average grade.

20                                   (G) Frontage. Alleys or passageways must be fronted by active ground-floor
21 uses, as defined in Section 145.1, for no less than 60% of their fronting length and in no case feature
22 more than 50 continuous feet of inactive use(s) in any segment. For development projects that include a
23 Public Facility or are immediately abutting a parcel containing a Public Facility, the required percent
24 for active ground-floor uses may be reduced to 40% and may be unevenly distributed between the
25 alley's or passageway's two sides.

1                                    (H) Visual access. Alleys or passageways must be configured to allow clear
2 visual access from one end of the passageway through the development lot to its opposite end.

3                                    (e) Additional Requirements for Private Passageways and Alleys.

4                                    (1) Maintenance. Mid-block passageways and alleys required under this Section 270.3
5 shall be maintained at no public expense unless a publicly-accepted street or alley is created pursuant
6 to subsection (d)(1) above. The owner of the property on which the alley or passageway is located shall
7 maintain it by keeping the area clean and free of litter and by keeping it in an acceptable state of
8 repair. Conditions intended to assure continued maintenance of the right-of-way for the actual lifetime
9 of the building giving rise to the open space requirement may be imposed.

10                                   (2) Informational Plaque. Prior to issuance of a permit of occupancy, a plaque shall be
11 placed in a publicly conspicuous location for pedestrian viewing. The plaque shall state the right of the
12 public to pass through the alley and stating the name and address of the owner or owner's agent
13 responsible for maintenance. The plaque shall be of no less than 24 inches by 36 inches in size.

14                                   (3) Property owners providing a pathway or alley under this Section 270.3 shall hold
15 harmless the City and County of San Francisco, its officers, agents, and employees, from any damage
16 or injury caused by the design, construction, or maintenance of the right-of-way, and are solely liable
17 for any damage or loss occasioned by any act or neglect in respect to the design, construction, or
18 maintenance of the right-of-way.

19                                   (f) Any non-vehicular portions of such a passageway or alley, including sidewalks or other
20 walking areas, seating areas, or landscaping, may count toward any open space requirements of this
21 Code which permit publicly-accessible open space, provided that such space meets the standards of
22 Section 135.

23
24                                   Section 5. Wind Controls. Articles 1, and 2 of the Planning Code are hereby amended
25 by revising Sections 148, 243, 249.1, and 249.78, to read as follows:

1           SEC. 148. REDUCTION OF GROUND-LEVEL WIND CURRENTS FOR BUILDINGS
2 TALLER THAN 85 FEET IN C-3 CERTAIN DISTRICTS.

3           (a) Applicability. In the C-3 Districts, Van Ness Special Use District, Folsom and Main
4 Residential/Commercial Special Use District, Downtown Residential (DTR) Districts, and Central
5 SoMa Special Use District, this Section 148 shall apply to new buildings taller than 85 feet in Height,
6 vertical additions of more than 30 feet resulting in a total building height greater than 85 feet, or
7 vertical additions of more than 30 feet to an existing building that is taller than 85 feet. Building height
8 for the purpose of applicability of this Section shall be calculated pursuant to the provisions of Sections
9 260 and 263.21.

10           (b) Definitions.

11           “Equivalent Wind Speed” means an hourly average wind speed adjusted to incorporate the
12 effects of gustiness or turbulence on pedestrians, pursuant to the methodology adopted by the Planning
13 Commission, as amended from time to time.

14           “Nine-Hour Hazard Criterion” means a ground-level equivalent wind speed of 26 miles per
15 hour for nine or more hours per year.

16           (c) Controls for Hazardous Winds. Projects shall not result in any net new locations that
17 exceed the Nine-Hour Hazard Criterion.

18           (d) Wind-reducing Features. All wind-reducing features necessary to meet the requirements
19 of this Section 148 shall be identified on the approved project plan set.

20           (e) Maintenance of Wind-reducing Features. All wind-reducing features necessary to meet the
21 requirements of this Section 148 must be maintained for the life of the project. The Zoning
22 Administrator may approve, including after installation, substitution of alternate wind-reducing
23 features that would have an equal or superior effect on reducing ground-level winds at the subject
24 location, provided that such features do not conflict with or increase noncompliance with other
25 provisions of the Planning Code or other adopted Citywide Design Standards.

1           ~~(a) Requirement and Exception. In C-3 Districts, buildings and additions to existing buildings~~
2 ~~shall be shaped, or other wind-baffling measures shall be adopted, so that the developments will not~~
3 ~~cause ground-level wind currents to exceed, more than 10 percent of the time year round, between 7:00~~
4 ~~a.m. and 6:00 p.m., the comfort level of 11 m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in areas of substantial~~
5 ~~pedestrian use and seven m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in public seating areas.~~

6           ~~—When preexisting ambient wind speeds exceed the comfort level, or when a proposed~~
7 ~~building or addition may cause ambient wind speeds to exceed the comfort level, the building shall be~~
8 ~~designed to reduce the ambient wind speeds to meet the requirements. An exception may be granted, in~~
9 ~~accordance with the provisions of Section 309, allowing the building or addition to add to the amount~~
10 ~~of time that the comfort level is exceeded by the least practical amount if (1) it can be shown that a~~
11 ~~building or addition cannot be shaped and other wind-baffling measures cannot be adopted to meet the~~
12 ~~foregoing requirements without creating an unattractive and ungainly building form and without~~
13 ~~unduly restricting the development potential of the building site in question, and (2) it is concluded~~
14 ~~that, because of the limited amount by which the comfort level is exceeded, the limited location in which~~
15 ~~the comfort level is exceeded, or the limited time during which the comfort level is exceeded, the~~
16 ~~addition is insubstantial.~~

17           ~~—No exception shall be granted and no building or addition shall be permitted that causes~~
18 ~~equivalent wind speeds to reach or exceed the hazard level of 26 miles per hour for a single hour of the~~
19 ~~year.~~

20           ~~(b) Definition. The term "equivalent wind speed" shall mean an hourly mean wind speed~~
21 ~~adjusted to incorporate the effects of gustiness or turbulence on pedestrians.~~

22           ~~(c) Guidelines. Procedures and Methodologies for implementing this Section shall be specified~~
23 ~~by the Office of Environmental Review of the Planning Department.~~

24
25           SEC. 243. VAN NESS SPECIAL USE DISTRICT.

1 * * * *

2 (c) Controls. All provisions of the Planning Code applicable to an RC-4 District shall
3 apply except as otherwise provided in this Section 243.

4 * * * *

5 (15) Wind Standards. Wind standards shall apply pursuant to Section 148. ~~Reduction~~
6 of Ground Level Wind Currents.

7 (A) New buildings and additions to existing buildings shall be shaped, or other
8 wind baffling measures shall be adopted, so that the development will not cause year-round ground
9 level wind currents to exceed, more than 10 percent of the time, between 7:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m., the
10 comfort level of 11 m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in areas of pedestrian use and seven m.p.h. equivalent
11 wind speed in public seating areas. When pre-existing ambient wind speeds exceed the comfort levels
12 specified above, the building shall be designed to reduce the ambient wind speeds in efforts to meet the
13 goals of this requirement.

14 (B) An exception to this requirement may be permitted but only if and to the 15 extent that the project sponsor demonstrates that the building or addition cannot be shaped or wind
17 building site in question.

18 (i) The exception may permit the building or addition to increase the
19 time that the comfort level is exceeded, but only to the extent necessary to avoid undue restriction of the 20 development potential of the site.

21 (ii) Notwithstanding the above, no exception shall be allowed and no
22 building or addition shall be permitted that causes equivalent wind speeds to reach or exceed the
23 hazard level of 26 m.p.h. for a single hour of the year. For the purposes of this Section, the term
24 "equivalent wind speed" shall mean an hourly wind speed adjusted to incorporate the effects of
25 gustiness or turbulence on pedestrians.

6 (b) Controls. The following zoning controls are applicable in the
7 Residential/Commercial Special Use District.

8 (1) Wind Standards. Wind standards shall apply pursuant to Section 148. ~~Reduction of~~
9 ~~Ground-Level Wind Currents.~~

10 (A) ~~Requirement. New buildings and additions to existing buildings shall be~~
11 ~~shaped, or other wind-baffling measures shall be adopted, so that the developments will not cause~~
12 ~~ground-level wind currents to exceed, more than 10 percent of the time year-round, between 7:00 a.m.~~
13 ~~and 6:00 p.m., the comfort level of 11 m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in areas of substantial pedestrian~~
14 ~~use and seven m.p.h. equivalent wind speed in public seating areas. The term "equivalent wind speed"~~
15 ~~shall mean an hourly mean wind speed adjusted to incorporate the effects of gustiness or turbulence on~~
16 ~~pedestrians.~~

17 ~~When preexisting ambient wind speeds exceed the comfort level, or when a proposed~~
18 ~~building or addition may cause ambient wind speeds to exceed the comfort level, the building shall be~~
19 ~~designed to reduce the ambient wind speeds to meet the requirements. The provisions of this Section~~
20 ~~249.1(b)(3) shall not apply to any buildings or additions to existing buildings for which a draft EIR has~~
21 ~~been published prior to January 1, 1985.~~

22 (B) ~~Exception. The Zoning Administrator may allow the building or addition to~~
23 ~~add to the amount of time the comfort level is exceeded by the least practical amount if (1) it can be~~
24 ~~shown that a building or addition cannot be shaped and other wind-baffling measures cannot be~~
25 ~~adopted to meet the foregoing requirements without creating an unattractive and ungainly building~~

1 ~~form and without unduly restricting the development potential of the building site in question, and (2) it~~
2 ~~is concluded that, because of the limited amount by which the comfort level is exceeded, the limited~~
3 ~~location in which the comfort level is exceeded, or the limited time during which the comfort level is~~
4 ~~exceeded, the addition is insubstantial.~~

5 ~~The Zoning Administrator shall not grant an exception and no building or addition~~
6 ~~shall be permitted that causes equivalent wind speeds to reach or exceed the hazard level of 26 miles~~
7 ~~per hour for a single hour of the year.~~

8 ~~(C) Procedures. Procedures and methodologies for implementing this Section~~
9 ~~shall be specified by the Office of Environmental Review of the Planning Department.~~

16 (9) Wind Standards. Wind standards shall apply pursuant to Section 148.

17 ~~(A) Applicability. This subsection shall apply to new buildings above 85 feet in~~
18 ~~Height and additions to existing buildings that result in a building above 85 feet in Height.~~

19 ~~(B) Definitions.~~

20 ~~“Comfort Level” means ground-level equivalent wind speeds of 11 miles per hour in~~
21 ~~areas of substantial pedestrian use and seven miles per hour in public seating areas between 7:00 a.m.~~
22 ~~and 6:00 p.m. when occurring for more than 15 percent of the time year round.~~

23 ~~“Equivalent Wind Speed” means an hourly mean wind speed adjusted to incorporate the~~
24 ~~effects of gustiness or turbulence on pedestrians.~~

25 ~~“Nine Hour Hazard Criterion” means a ground-level equivalent wind speed of 26 miles~~

1 per hour for more than nine hours per year per test location.

2 “One-Hour Hazard Criterion” means a ground-level equivalent wind speed of 26 miles
3 per hour for more than one hour per year per test location.

4 “Substantial Increase” means an increase in wind speeds of more than six miles per
5 hour for more than 15 percent of the time year round.

6 ~~(C) Controls for Wind Comfort.~~

7 (i) Projects may not result in wind speeds that exceed the Comfort Level
8 at any location.

9 (ii) Projects may not cause a Substantial Increase in wind speed at any
10 location where the existing or resulting wind speed exceeds the Comfort Level.

11 (iii) Pursuant to Section 329, the Planning Commission may grant an
12 exception to the standards of subsections (i) and (ii) above as applied to a project if it finds that the
13 project meets the following criteria:

14 (aa) It has undertaken all feasible measures to reduce wind
15 speeds through such means as building sculpting and appurtenances, permanent wind baffling
16 measures, and landscaping; and

17 (bb) Reducing wind speeds further would substantially detract
18 from the building design or unduly restrict the square footage of the project.

19 ~~(D) Controls for Hazardous Winds.~~

20 (i) Projects shall not result in net new locations with an exceedance of
21 the One-Hour Hazard Criterion, except as allowed by the Planning Commission based on criteria
22 described in subsection (ii) below.

23 (ii) Pursuant to Section 329, the Planning Commission may grant an
24 exception to the standard of subsection (i) above as applied to a proposed project if it finds that the
25 proposed project meets all of the following criteria:

1 ~~(aa) The project with wind reduction measures does not result~~
2 ~~in net new locations with an exceedance of the Nine-Hour Hazard Criterion;~~

3 ~~(bb) The project has undertaken all feasible measures to reduce~~
4 ~~hazardous wind speeds, such as building sculpting and appurtenances, permanent wind baffling~~
5 ~~measures, and landscaping; and~~

6 ~~(cc) Meeting the requirements of subsection (i) would detract~~
7 ~~from the building design or unduly restrict the square footage of the project.~~

8 ~~(iii) No exception shall be granted and no building or addition shall be~~
9 ~~permitted for any project that causes net new locations with an exceedance in the Nine-Hour Hazard~~
10 ~~Criterion.~~

11 ~~(E) Guidelines. Procedures and methodologies for implementing this~~
12 ~~subsection shall be issued by the Department.~~

14 Section 6. Residential Districts. Article 2 of the Planning Code is hereby amended by 15 revising Sections 209, 209.1, 209.2, and 209.3, to read as follows:

17 SEC. 209. DESCRIPTION AND PURPOSE OF RESIDENTIAL AND RESIDENTIAL-
18 COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

19 The following statements of description and purpose outline the main functions of the 20 Residential and Residential-Commercial (Residential) Districts in the zoning plan for San
21 Francisco, supplementing the statements of purpose contained in Section 101 of this Code.

22 (a) Purpose. These Districts are established for purposes of implementing the
23 Residence element and other elements of the General Plan, according to the objectives,
24 principles and policies stated therein. Among these purposes are the following:

- 25 (1) Preservation, improvement and maintenance of the existing housing stock

1 through protection of neighborhood environments and encouragement of sound ownership
2 practices and rehabilitation efforts;

3 (2) Recognition and protection of the architectural characteristics and urban
4 patterns densities of existing residential areas;

5 (3) Maximizing of housing choice by assuring the availability of quality owner
6 and rental housing of various kinds, suitable for a whole range of household types, lifestyles
7 and economic levels;

8 (4) Encouragement of residential development that will meet outstanding
9 community needs, provide adequate indoor and outdoor spaces for its occupants, and relate
10 well to the character and scale of existing neighborhoods and structures; and

11 (5) Promotion of balanced and convenient neighborhoods having appropriate
12 public improvements and services, suitable nonresidential activities that are compatible with 13 housing and meet the needs of residents, and other amenities that contribute to the livability
14 of residential areas.

15 (b) Uses and Features Permitted in Residential and Residential-Commercial
16 Districts. The uses and features permitted in Residential and Residential-Commercial
17 Districts are listed in the Zoning Control Tables in Sections 209.1 through 209.4.

18
19 SEC. 209.1. RH (RESIDENTIAL, HOUSE) DISTRICTS.

20 These Districts are intended to recognize, ~~protect, conserve,~~ and enhance areas
21 characterized by dwellings in the form of houses and small multi-family buildings, usually with
22 one, two, or three units with separate entrances, and limited scale in terms of building width
23 and height, and characterized by rear yards and a pattern of mid-block open spaces. Such
24 areas tend to have similarity of building styles and predominantly contain large units suitable
25 for family occupancy, considerable open space, and limited nonresidential uses. In all RH

1 Districts, multi-family buildings with four or more units are permitted under various provisions of this
2 Code. The RH Districts are composed of five separate classes of districts, as follows:

3 RH-1(D) Districts: One-Family (Detached Dwellings). These Districts are
4 characterized by lots of greater width and area than in other parts of the City, and by single-
5 family houses with side yards. The structures are relatively large, but rarely exceed 35 feet in
6 height. Ground level open space and landscaping at the front and rear are usually abundant.
7 Much of the development has been in sizable tracts with similarities of building style and
8 narrow streets following the contours of hills. ~~In some cases private covenants have controlled the~~
9 ~~nature of development and helped to maintain the street areas.~~

10 RH-1 Districts: One-Family. These Districts ~~are~~have been occupied almost entirely by
11 single-family houses on lots 25 feet in width, without side yards. Floor sizes and building
12 styles vary, but tend to be uniform within tracts developed in distinct time periods. Though
13 built on separate lots, the structures have the appearance of small-scale row housing, rarely
14 exceeding 35 feet in height. Front setbacks are common, and ground level open space is 15 generous. ~~In most cases the single-family character of these Districts has been maintained for a~~
16 ~~considerable time.~~

17 RH-1(S) Districts: One-Family with Minor Second Unit. These Districts are similar in 18 character to RH-1 Districts, except that a small second dwelling unit has been installed in
19 many structures, usually by conversion of a ground-story space formerly part of the main unit
20 or devoted to storage. The second unit remains subordinate to the owner's unit, and may 21 house one or two persons related to the owner or be rented to others. Despite these
22 conversions, the structures retain the appearance of single-family dwellings.

23 RH-2 Districts: Two-Family. These Districts ~~are devoted to~~have been historically
24 developed with one-family and two-family houses, with the latter commonly consisting of two
25 large flats, one occupied by the owner and the other available for rental. Structures are finely

1 scaled and usually do not exceed 25 feet in width or 40 feet in height. Building styles are often
 2 more varied than in historically single-family areas, but certain streets and tracts are quite
 3 uniform. Considerable ground-level open space is available, and it frequently is private for
 4 each unit. The Districts may have easy access to shopping facilities and transit lines. In some
 5 cases, Group Housing and institutions are found in these areas, although nonresidential uses
 6 tend to be quite limited.

7 RH-3 Districts: Three-Family. These Districts have many similarities to RH-2 Districts,
 8 but structures with three units are common in addition to one-family and two-family houses.
 9 The predominant form is has historically been large flats rather than apartments, with lots 25 feet
 10 wide, a fine or moderate scale, and separate entrances for each unit. Building styles tend to 11 be varied but complementary to one another. Outdoor space is available at ground level, and
 12 also on decks and balconies for individual units. Nonresidential uses are more common in 13 these areas than in RH-2 Districts.

SEC. 209.3. RC (RESIDENTIAL-COMMERCIAL) DISTRICTS.

These Districts are intended to recognize, protect, conserve, and enhance areas characterized by structures combining Residential uses with neighborhood-serving Commercial uses. The predominant Residential uses are preserved, while provision is made for supporting Commercial uses, usually in or below the ground story, that meet the frequent needs of nearby residents without generating excessive vehicular traffic. The compact, walkable, transit-oriented and mixed-use nature of these Districts is recognized by no off-street parking requirements. The RC Districts are composed of two separate districts, as follows:

RC-3 Districts: ~~Medium Density.~~ These Districts provide for Residential Uses~~a mixture of medium-density Dwellings similar to those in RM-3 Districts,~~ with supporting Commercial ~~u~~Uses. Open spaces are required for Dwellings in the same manner as in RM-3 Districts, except that rear yards need not be at ground level and front setback areas are not required.

RC-4 Districts: ~~High Density.~~ These Districts provide for Residential Uses~~, a mixture of high-density Dwellings similar to those in RM-4 Districts~~ with supporting Commercial uses. Open spaces are required for Dwellings in the same manner as in RM-4 Districts, except that rear yards need not be at ground level and front setback areas are not required.

SEC. 132. FRONT SETBACK AREAS IN RTO, RH, AND RM DISTRICTS AND FOR REQUIRED SETBACKS FOR PROJECTS IN NC AND RTO-C DISTRICTS, AND PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENTS.

The following requirements for minimum front setback areas shall apply to every building in all RH, RTO, and RM Districts, in order to relate the setbacks provided to the existing front setbacks of adjacent buildings. ~~Buildings in RTO Districts which have more than 75 feet of street frontage are additionally subject to the Ground Floor Residential Design Guidelines, as adopted and periodically amended by the Planning Commission.~~ Planned Unit Developments or PUDs, as defined in Section 304, shall also provide landscaping in required setbacks in accord with Section 132(g).

(c) Applicability to Special Lot Situations.

* * * *

1                   (3) Lots Abutting RC, C, M, and P Districts. In the case of any lot that abuts
2 property in an RC, C, M, or P District, any property in such district shall be disregarded, and
3 the required setback for the subject lot shall be equal to the front setback of the adjacent
4 building in the RH, RTO, or RM District.

5                   * * * *

6                   (e) Required Front Setbacks and Sidewalk Widths in RTO-C and NC Districts.

7                   (1) Applicability. This subsection (e) applies to projects located in RTO-C and
8 Neighborhood Commercial (NC) Districts that meet any of the following criteria:

9                                   (A) Have a street frontage of 50 feet or more;

10                                  (B) Are located on a Corner Lot; or

11                                  (C) Are adjacent to a building with a front setback consistent with the 12 requirements of this subsection.

13                   (2) Setback Requirement. Where the sidewalk does not meet the recommended width
14 required by the Better Streets Plan, a front setback shall be provided to widen the publicly accessible
15 sidewalk. The setback must be wide enough so that, when combined with the existing sidewalk, the total
16 distance from the curb to the building frontage meets or exceeds the recommended width under the
17 Better Streets Plan. If a greater front setback is required under Section 132 or any other provision of 18 this Code, the greater requirement shall apply. This setback is required only up to 15 feet above street
19 grade.

20                   * * * *

21                   (h) Permeable Surfaces. The front setback area shall be at least 50% permeable so
22 as to increase stormwater infiltration. The Permeable Surface may be inclusive of the area
23 counted towards the landscaping requirement; provided, however, that turf pavers or similar
24 planted hardscapes shall be counted only toward the Permeable Surface requirement and not
25 the landscape requirement.

1 (1) The Zoning Administrator, after consultation with the Director of Public
2 Works, may waive the Permeable Surface requirement if the site does not qualify as a
3 suitable location pursuant to Department of Public Works rules and regulations.

4 (2) If the site receives stormwater run-off from outside the lot boundaries, the
5 Zoning Administrator, after consultation with the General Manager of the Public Utilities
6 Commission, may modify the Permeable Surface requirement to include alternative
7 management strategies, such as bio-retention or other strategies, pursuant to Public Utilities
8 Commission rules and regulations.

9 (3) If a portion of the front setback is designed as a publicly-accessible sidewalk
10 extension to satisfy the Better Streets Standard width standards under subsection (e), then the 11 provisions of this subsection (h) do not apply.

12 * * * *

14 SEC. 134. REAR YARDS IN R, RC, RTO, NC, M, CMUO, MUG, MUO, MUR, RED,
15 RED-MX, SPD, UMU, AND WMUG DISTRICTS; AND LOT COVERAGE REQUIREMENTS
16 IN C DISTRICTS.

17 * * * *

18 (b) Applicability. The rear yard requirements established by this Section 134 shall
19 apply to every building in the districts listed below, ~~except NC-S Districts, where no rear yard is~~
20 ~~required.~~ To the extent that these provisions are inconsistent with any Special Use District or
21 Residential Character District, the provisions of the Special Use District or Residential
22 Character District shall apply.

23 (c) Basic Requirements. The basic rear yard requirements shall be as follows for the 24 districts indicated:

25 (1) In RH, RM-1, RM-2, RTO-1, and RTO-M Zoning Districts, the basic rear

1 yard shall be equal to 30% of the total depth of the lot on which the building is situated, but in
2 no case less than 15 feet.

3 * * * *

4 (d) Rear Yard Location Requirements.

5 (1) RH, RM, RTO-I, RTO-M, NC-1, NCT-1, Inner Sunset, Outer Clement
6 Street, Cole Valley, Haight Street, Lakeside Village, Sacramento Street, 24th Street-Noe
7 Valley, Pacific Avenue, and West Portal Avenue NC Districts. Rear yards shall be
8 provided at grade level and at each succeeding level or story of the building.

9 (2) RTO-C, NC-S, NC-2, NCT-2, Ocean Avenue, Inner Balboa Street, Outer
10 Balboa Street, Castro Street, Cortland Avenue, Divisadero Street NCT, Excelsior-Outer
11 Mission Street, Inner Clement Street, Upper Fillmore Street, Lower Haight Street, Judah
12 Street, Noriega Street, North Beach, San Bruno Avenue, Taraval Street, Inner Taraval
13 Street, Irving Street, Union Street, Valencia Street, 24th Street-Mission, Glen Park, and
14 Folsom Street NC Districts, and the Regional Commercial District and Folsom Street Districts.

15 Rear yards shall be provided at the second story, and at each succeeding story of the 16 building, and at the First Story if it contains a Dwelling Unit.

17 * * * *

18 (~~6H~~) Lot Coverage in C Districts. Lot coverage is limited to 80% at all levels
19 containing residential uses, except that on levels that include only lobbies and circulation
20 areas and on levels in which all residential uses, including circulation areas, are within 40
21 horizontal feet from a property line fronting a street or alley, up to 100% lot coverage may
22 occur. The unbuilt portion of the lot shall be open to the sky except for those obstructions
23 permitted in yards pursuant to subsections (1) through (23) of Section 136(c). Where the
24 adjacent properties have an existing rear yard, the unbuilt area of the new project shall be
25 designed to adjoin that rear yard. In accordance with Section 210.5, lot coverage

1 requirements shall not be applicable for Commercial to Residential Adaptive Reuse projects.

2 * * * *

3 (f) Second Building on Corner Lots and Through Lots in RH, RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, RM-1,
4 and RM-2 Districts. Where a lot is a Corner Lot, or is a through lot having both its front and
5 its rear lot line along Streets, Alleys, or a Street and an Alley, the subject lot may have two
6 buildings, each fronting at one end of the lot, provided that all the other requirements of this
7 Code are met. In such cases, the rear yard required by this Section 134 for the subject lot
8 shall be located in the central portion of the lot, between the two buildings on such lot. In no
9 case shall the total minimum rear yard for the subject lot be thus reduced to less than a depth
10 equal to 30% of the total depth of the subject lot or to less than 15 feet, whichever is greater;
11 provided, however, that the Zoning Administrator may reduce the total depth to 20% pursuant
12 to Section 307(l) of this Code if the reduction is for the sole purpose of constructing an
13 Accessory Dwelling Unit under Section 207.1, and provided further that the reduction/waiver is
14 in consideration of the property owner entering into a Regulatory Agreement pursuant to
15 Section 207.1 subjecting the ADU to the San Francisco Rent Stabilization and Arbitration
16 Ordinance. For buildings fronting on a Narrow Street as defined in Section 261.1 of this Code,
17 the additional height limits of Section 261.1 shall apply. Furthermore, in all cases in which this
18 subsection (f) is applied, the requirements of Section 132 of this Code for front setback areas
19 shall be applicable along both Street or Alley frontages of the subject through lot.

20 * * * *

21 (l) Lot Coverage for Large Lots. This subsection (l) shall apply to all districts except C-3
22 districts. In lieu of rear yard and lot coverage controls described in this Section 134, where a
23 development lot is two acres or greater, the allowed lot coverage for any project containing residential
24 uses shall be limited to 60% of lot area at street grade and above with a corresponding requirement of
25 40% unbuilt area in Residential Districts other than RTO-C, and in all other districts 65% lot coverage

1 from the second story and above with 35% lot area unbuilt. Obstructions permitted in setbacks and
2 yards per Section 136 are permitted in the unbuilt area. New rights-of-way, pedestrian passageways or
3 any portion of the site provided for publicly-accessible circulation or open space, including but not
4 limited to any such space provided pursuant to Planning Code Sections 270.2, 270.3, or elsewhere in
5 this Code, may count toward the required unbuilt area.

6
7 SEC. 135. USABLE OPEN SPACE FOR DWELLING UNITS AND GROUP
8 HOUSING, R, NC, MIXED USE, C, AND M DISTRICTS.

9 * * * *

10 (a) Character of Space Provided. Usable open space shall generally be composed of 11 an outdoor area or areas designed for outdoor living, recreation or landscaping, including 12 such areas on the ground and on decks, balconies, porches and roofs, which are safe and
13 suitably surfaced and screened, and which conform to the other requirements of this Section.
14 Such area or areas shall be on the same lot as the dwelling units (or bedrooms in group
15 housing) they serve, and shall be designed and oriented in a manner that will make the best
16 practical use of available sun and other climatic advantages. "Private usable open space"
17 shall mean an area or areas private to and designed for use by only one dwelling unit (or 18 bedroom in group housing). "Common usable open space" shall mean an area or areas
19 designed for use jointly by two or more dwelling units (or bedrooms in group housing).
20 "Privately-owned public open space," only allowed in DTR and Eastern Neighborhood Mixed
21 Use under this Section, shall mean an area of areas designed for use of the general public
22 while owned and maintained by private owners as described in Section 138. For senior
23 housing, usable open space requirements are set forth in subsection (d)(3) below.

24 * * * *

25 (d) Amount Required. Usable open space shall be provided for each building in the

1 amounts specified herein and in Tables 135A and B for the district in which the building is
2 located; provided, however, that (i) in the Downtown Residential (DTR) Districts, open space
3 shall be provided in the amounts specified in Section 825, and (ii) in accordance with Section
4 210.5, usable open space shall not be required for Commercial to Residential Adaptive Reuse
5 projects.

6 * * * *

7 (3) In all districts, For dwellings specifically designed for and occupied by
8 senior citizens, as defined and regulated by Section 102.6.1 of this Code, the minimum
9 amount of usable open space to be provided for use by each dwelling unit shall be one-half
10 the amount required for each dwelling unit as specified in Paragraph (d)(1) above or 36 square
11 feet, whichever is less. Notwithstanding 135(a), for these dwellings, “common usable open space” shall
12 also include indoor community space, defined as indoor space that is not less than 10 feet wide in all
13 directions at all points, is accessible to all residents of the building or site equally at no additional cost,
14 is specifically configured and designed for leisure and/or recreational use, and shall not include any
15 building circulation spaces, lobbies, or other building or resident support facilities not specifically
16 intended for leisure and/or recreational use.

17 * * * *

18 (6) ~~Efficiency Dwelling Units With Reduced Square Footage. Common usable open~~
19 ~~space shall be the preferred method of meeting the open space requirement for Efficiency Dwelling~~
20 ~~Units with reduced square footage, as defined in Section 318 of this Code. Private open space shall not~~
21 ~~be credited toward satisfaction of the open space requirement for such units unless the Zoning~~
22 ~~Administrator determines that the provision of common open space is infeasible or undesirable, in~~ 23 ~~whole or in part, due to~~

- 24 ~~——(A) site constraints,~~
- 25 ~~——(B) the special needs of anticipated residents, or~~

1           —(C) ~~conflicts with other applicable policies and regulations, including but not limited to~~
 2 ~~standards for the treatment of historic properties, the Americans with Disabilities Act, or the Building~~
 3 ~~Code.~~

4           —(7) Homeless Shelters. Homeless Shelters, as defined in Section 102 of this
 5 Code, are exempt from the open space requirements described in this Section 135.

22           SEC. 144. STREET FRONTAGES IN RH, RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, AND RM DISTRICTS.

23           (a) Purpose. This Section 144 is enacted to assure that in RH, RM, ~~and~~ RTO ~~and~~
 24 ~~RTO-M~~ Districts the ground story of dwellings as viewed from the street is compatible with the
 25 scale and character of the existing street frontage, visually interesting and attractive in relation

1 to the pattern of the neighborhood, and so designed that adequate areas are provided for
2 front landscaping, street trees and on-street parking between driveways. The design of
3 ground story frontages subject to this Section 144 shall also be reviewed for consistency with
4 applicable design guidelines, including the Ground Floor Residential Design Guidelines.

5 (b) Controls.

6 (1) Entrances to Off-Street Parking. Except as otherwise provided herein, in
7 the case of every dwelling in such districts no more than one-third of the width of the ground
8 story along the front lot line, or along a street side lot line, or along a building wall that is set
9 back from any such lot line, shall be devoted to entrances to off-street parking, except that in
10 no event shall a lot be limited by this requirement to a single such entrance of less than 10 ~~ten~~
11 feet in width, or to a single such entrance of less than 8 ~~eight~~ feet in RTO ~~and RTO-M~~
12 ~~Districts~~. In addition, no entrance to off-street parking on any lot shall be wider than 20 feet,
13 and where two or more separate entrances are provided there shall be a minimum separation
14 between such entrances of six feet. Lots ~~in RTO and RTO-M districts~~ are limited to a total of 20
15 feet per block frontage devoted to entrances to off-street parking. Street-facing garage
16 structures and garage doors may not extend closer to the street than a primary building
17 facade unless the garage structure and garage door are consistent with the features listed in
18 Section 136 of this Code. Entrances to off-street parking shall be located at least six feet from 19 a lot corner located at the intersection of two public rights-of-way.

20 * * * *

22 SEC. 186. EXEMPTION OF LIMITED COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL
23 NONCONFORMING USES IN RH, RM, RTO-1, RTO-M, AND RED DISTRICTS.

24 * * * *

25 (a) Exemption from Termination Provisions. The following nonconforming uses in

1 R Districts shall be exempt from the termination provisions of Section 185, provided such uses
2 comply with all the conditions specified in subsection (b) below:

3 * * * *

4 (4) In the RED Districts, any nonconforming use that is Arts Activities, Business
5 Service, Catering, Design Professional, Light Manufacturing, Personal Service, Trade Office,
6 Trade Shop, Wholesale Sales, or Wholesale Storage, use.

7 (b) Conditions on Limited Nonconforming Uses. The limited nonconforming uses
8 described above shall meet the following conditions:

9 * * * *

10 (3) The hours during which the use is open to the public shall be limited to the
11 period between 6:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m., however, in RED, RTO-1, and RTO-M Districts
12 only, the Planning Commission may extend the hours of operation to 12:00 a.m. through
13 Conditional Use authorization, as outlined in Section 303 of this Code;

14 * * * *

16 SEC. 186.3. NON-RESIDENTIAL USES IN LANDMARK BUILDINGS IN RH, RM,
17 RTO-1, AND RTO-M DISTRICTS.

18 Any use listed as a Principal or Conditional Use permitted on the ground floor in an NC-
19 1 District, when located in a structure on a landmark site designated pursuant to Article 10 of
20 this Code, is permitted with Conditional Use authorization pursuant to Section 303 of this
21 Code, provided that no Conditional Use shall be authorized under this ~~provision~~ Section 186.3
22 unless (1) such authorization conforms to the applicable provisions of Section 303 of this
23 Code, and (2) the specific use so authorized is essential to the feasibility of retaining and
24 preserving the landmark.

25 SEC. 201. CLASSES OF USE DISTRICTS.

Residential Districts
(Defined in Sec. 209.1-209.4)
* * * *
RTO-1	Residential, Transit-Oriented Neighborhood Districts (Defined in Sec. 209.4)
RTO-C	Residential, Transit-Oriented, Commercial Districts (Defined in Sec. 209.4)
RTO-M	Residential, Transit-Oriented – Mission Neighborhood Districts (Defined in Sec. 209.4)

* * * *

In addition to the classes of use districts in the above table, the following terms shall apply:

* * * *

"RTO District" shall mean any RTO-1, RTO-C, or RTO-M District;

* * * *

SEC. 207.6. REQUIRED MINIMUM DWELLING UNIT MIX IN RTO-1, RTO-M, RCD, NCT, DTR, EASTERN NEIGHBORHOODS MIXED USE DISTRICTS, THE VAN NESS & MARKET RESIDENTIAL SPECIAL USE DISTRICT, AND THE POLK STREET AND PACIFIC AVENUE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

(a) Purpose. In order to foster flexible and creative infill development while maintaining the character of the district, dwelling unit density is not controlled by lot area in RTO-1, RTO-M, NCT, and Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts but rather by the physical constraints of this Code (such as height, bulk, setbacks, open space, and dwelling

1 unit exposure). However, to ensure an adequate supply of family-sized units in existing and
2 new housing stock, new residential construction must include a minimum percentage of units
3 of at least two bedrooms. In the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street Neighborhood Commercial
4 Districts, and the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District, a dwelling unit mix
5 requirement addresses the need for family-sized housing production in these districts.

6 (b) Applicability.

7 (1) This Section 207.6 shall apply in the RTO-I, RTO-M, RCD, NCT, DTR,
8 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use
9 District, and the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street NCDs.

10 * * * *

11 (c) Controls. For all RTO-I, RTO-M, RCD and NCT districts, as well as DTR,

12 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use
13 District, and the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street NCDs, one of the following three must apply:

14 (1) no less than 40% of the total number of proposed Dwelling Units shall 15 contain at least two bedrooms. Any fraction resulting from this calculation shall be rounded to
16 the nearest whole number of Dwelling Units, or

17 (2) no less than 30% of the total number of proposed Dwelling Units shall
18 contain at least three bedrooms. Any fraction resulting from this calculation shall be rounded
19 to the nearest whole number of Dwelling Units, or

20 (3) no less than 35% of the total number of proposed Dwelling Units shall
21 contain at least two or three bedrooms with at least 10% of the total number of proposed
22 Dwelling Units containing three bedrooms. Any fraction resulting from this calculation shall be
23 rounded to the nearest whole number of Dwelling Units.

24 (d) Modifications.

25 (1) In NCT, RCD, RTO-I, RTO-M and the Pacific Avenue and Polk Street NC

1 Districts, these requirements may be waived or modified with Conditional Use Aauthorization.
2 In addition to those conditions set forth in Section 303, the Planning Commission shall
3 consider the following criteria:

4 (A) The project demonstrates a need or mission to serve unique
5 populations, or

6 (B) The project site or existing building(s), if any, feature physical
7 constraints that make it unreasonable to fulfill these requirements.

8 (2) In Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, these requirements may be
9 waived in return for provision of family-sized affordable units, pursuant to Section 419 et seq.
10 To receive this waiver, 100%~~percent~~ of the total number of inclusionary units required under 11 Section 415 et seq. or Section 419 et seq. shall contain at least two bedrooms. Also in
12 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, these requirements may be waived or modified
13 through the Variance process set forth in Section 305, or in the case of projects subject to
14 Section 329, through the procedures of that section.

15 (3) In DTR Districts, these requirements may be modified per the procedures of
16 Section 309.1.

17 (4) In the Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District, these
18 requirements may only be modified pursuant to the procedures of Section 309, regardless of 19 the underlying zoning district.

20 * * * *

21

22 SEC. 207.7. REQUIRED MINIMUM DWELLING UNIT MIX.

23 (a) Purpose. To ensure an adequate supply of family-sized units in new housing
24 stock, new residential construction must include a minimum percentage of units of at least two
25 and three bedrooms.

1 (b) Applicability.

2 (1) This Section 207.7 shall apply to all applications for building permits and/or
3 Planning Commission entitlements that propose the creation of 10 or more Dwelling Units in
4 all districts that allow residential uses, unless that project is located in the RTO-I, RTO-M,
5 RCD, NCT, DTR, and Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, or in an area or Special
6 Use District with higher specific bedroom mix requirements, or is a HOME SF project subject
7 to the requirements of Planning Code Section 206.3.

8 * * * *

9
10 SEC. 208. DENSITY LIMITATIONS FOR GROUP HOUSING OR HOMELESS
11 SHELTERS.

12 The density limitations for Group Housing or Homeless Shelters, as described in
13 Sections 102 and 890.88(b) and (c) of this Code, shall be as follows:

14 (a) For Group Housing, the maximum number of Bedrooms on each Lot shall be as
15 specified in the Zoning Control Table for the District in which the Lot is located, except that in
16 RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, RCD, UMU, MUG, WMUG, MUR, MUO, CMUO, WMUO, RED, RED-MX, SPD,
17 DTR, and all NCT Districts the density of Group Housing shall not be limited by lot area, and
18 except that for Lots in NC Districts, the group housing density shall not exceed the number of
19 Bedrooms permitted in the nearest R District provided that the maximum density not be less
20 than the amount permitted by the ratio specified for the NC District in which the lot is located.
21 For Homeless Shelters, the maximum number of beds on each lot shall be regulated pursuant
22 to the requirements of the Standards of Care for City Shelters contained in Administrative
23 Code, Chapter 20, Article XIII, in addition to the applicable requirements of the Building Code
24 and Fire Code.

25 * * * *

1
2           SEC. 209.4. RTO (RESIDENTIAL TRANSIT ORIENTED) DISTRICTS.

3           ~~These~~RTO (Residential Transit Oriented) Districts, inclusive of RTO-1, RTO-M, and RTO-C
4 Districts, are intended to recognize, ~~protect, conserve,~~ and enhance areas characterized by a
5 mixture of houses and apartment buildings, covering a range of densities and building forms.
6 RTO-1 (Residential, Transit -Oriented Neighborhood) and RTO-M (Residential Transit Oriented,
7 Mission) Districts are composed of multi-family moderate-density areas, primarily areas
8 formerly designated RM and RH-3; RTO-C (Residential Transit Oriented, Commercial) permits
9 neighborhood-serving uses at limited sizes along with housing. RTO Districts~~and~~ are well served
10 within short walking distance, generally less than one-quarter mile, of transit and
11 neighborhood commercial areas. Transit available on nearby streets is frequent and/or
12 provides multiple lines serving different parts of the City or region. In RTO-1 and RTO-M
13 Districts, ~~limited~~ small-scale neighborhood-oriented retail and services ~~is~~are common and
14 permitted throughout the neighborhood on Corner Lots only to provide goods and services to
15 residents within walking distance, but the ~~the~~Districts are otherwise residential. In RTO-1 and
16 RTO-M Districts, ~~only~~ retail compatible with housing, generally those permitted in NC-1
17 Districts, is permitted and auto-oriented uses are not permitted; ~~the~~hours of operation are
18 restricted and off-street parking is not permitted for these very locally-oriented uses. In the
19 RTO-C District, a greater amount and wider range of non-residential uses are permitted and not
20 limited to corners, to provide goods and services to residents and visitors, especially adjacent to 21 existing NC Districts and along transit corridors, though ground floor commercial uses are not
22 required.

23           ~~Areas of these districts off of major commercial or transit streets are largely characterized by~~
24 a fine-grain pattern of 25-foot to 35-foot building widths, with some larger and wider structures
25 on major streets is prevalent, and structures typically range from two to five stories in height. While

1 some one- and two-family structures are present, the character of the District is primarily of
 2 structures with three or more units of a range of sizes and types suitable for a variety of
 3 households. Buildings are moderately scaled and segmented, and units or groups of units
 4 have separate entrances directly from the street. ~~The overall residential density is regulated by the~~
 5 ~~permitted and required height, bulk, setbacks, and open space of each parcel, along with residential~~
 6 ~~design guidelines. Except in the RTO-1 District, housing density is generally limited not by lot area, but~~
 7 ~~by the regulations on the built envelope of buildings, including height, bulk, setbacks, and lot coverage,~~
 8 ~~and standards for Residential Uses, including open space and exposure, and urban design standards.~~
 9 Because of the high availability of transit service and the proximity of retail and services within
 10 walking distance, many households do not own cars; it is common that not every Dwelling
 11 Unit has a parking space and overall off-street residential parking is limited. Open space is 12 provided on site, in the form of rear yards, decks, balconies, roof-decks, and courtyards, and 13 is augmented by nearby public parks, plazas, and enhanced streetscapes.

24
25 SEC. 231. LIMITED CORNER COMMERCIAL USES IN RH, RTO-I, RTO-M, AND RM

1 DISTRICTS.

2 (a) Purpose. Corner stores enhance and support the character and traditional pattern
3 of development in San Francisco. These small neighborhood-oriented establishments provide
4 convenience goods and services on a retail basis to meet the frequent and recurring needs of
5 neighborhood residents within a short walking distance of their homes. These uses tend to be
6 small in scale, to serve primarily walk-in trade, and cause minimum interference with nearby
7 streets and properties. These uses are permitted only on the ground floor of corner buildings,
8 and their intensity and operating hours are limited to ensure compatibility with the 9 predominantly residential character of the district. Accessory off-street parking is prohibited for 10 these uses to maintain the local neighborhood walk-in character of the uses.

11 (b) Location. Uses permitted under this Section 231 must be located:

- 12 (1) completely within an RH, RTO-1, RTO-M, or RM District;
- 13 (2) on or below the ground floor;
- 14 (3) in RH, RM-1, RM-2, ~~and~~ RTO-1, ~~and~~ RTO-M Districts, on a Corner Lot, with

15 no part of the use extending more than 50 feet in depth from said corner, as illustrated in 16 Figure 231; ~~and~~

17 (4) in a space that would not require the Residential Conversion of a
18 Residential Unit or Unauthorized Unit under Planning Code Section 317, unless the space
19 proposed for conversion is occupied by a garage or storage space located in the Basement or 20 First Story; ~~and~~

21 [Figure 231 remains]

22 (5) in RM-3, RM-4, and RTO-M Districts, on a Corner Lot, with no part of the 23 use extending more than 100 feet in depth from said corner.

24 * * * *

25 (d) Use Size. In any RH, RM-1, or RM-2 District, the use size shall comply with the

1 use size limitations of a Neighborhood Commercial District or Special Use District located
2 within one-quarter mile of the use, up to a maximum of 1,200 square feet of Occupied Floor
3 Area of commercial area. In any RM-3 or RM-4 District, the use size shall comply with the use
4 size limitations of a Neighborhood Commercial District or Special Use District located within
5 one-quarter mile of the use, up to a maximum of 2,500 square feet of Commercial Use. No
6 more than 1,200 square feet of Occupied Floor Area of commercial area in a RTO-I District or
7 in a RH, RM-1, or RM-2 District if the use is more than one-quarter mile from a Neighborhood
8 Commercial District or Special Use District, and no more than 2,500 occupied square feet of
9 Commercial Use in a RTO-M District or in a RM-3 or RM-4 District if the use is more than one-
10 quarter mile from a Neighborhood Commercial District or Special Use District shall be allowed
11 per Corner Lot, subject to the following exception. On lots which occupy more than one corner
12 on a given block, an additional 1,200 square feet of Occupied Floor Area of Commercial Use
13 shall be allowed per additional corner, so long as the commercial space is distributed
14 equitably throughout appropriate parts of the parcel or project.

15 (e) Formula Retail Uses. All uses meeting the definition of “formula retail” use per
16 Section 303.1 shall not be permitted except by Conditional Use through the procedures of
17 Section 303 for RTO and RTO-M Districts and shall not be permitted in RH and RM Districts.-

18 * * * *

19 (k) Outdoor Activity Area. An Outdoor Activity Area is principally permitted if it is
20 located at the front of the building. An Outdoor Activity Area that is not at the front of the 21 building is principally permitted in RTO-I and RTO-M Districts only if it complies with the
22 operating restrictions in Section 202.2(a)(7) and shall not be permitted in RH or RM Districts.

23 SEC. 303. CONDITIONAL USES.

24 * * * *

25 (r) Development of Large Lots in RTO-I and RTO-M Districts. In order to promote,

1 protect, and maintain a scale of development that is appropriate to each district and
2 compatible with adjacent buildings, new construction or significant enlargement of existing
3 buildings on lots of the same size or larger than the square footage stated in Table 209.4
4 under Large Project Review shall be permitted only as Conditional Uses subject to the
5 provisions set forth in this Section 303 of this Code.

6 * * * *

7
8 SEC. 303.1. FORMULA RETAIL USES.

9 * * * *

10 (e) Conditional Use Authorization Required. A Conditional Use Authorization shall 11 be required for a Formula Retail use in the following zoning districts unless explicitly 12 exempted:

13 * * * *

14 (8) Limited Commercial Uses in RTO-1, RTO-M, and RED Districts, as 15 permitted by Sections 186, 186.3, and 231;

16 * * * *

17 (9) Third Street Formula Retail Restricted Use District, as defined in Section
18 786; and

19 (10) Central SoMa Special Use District as defined in Section 848, except for 20 those uses not permitted pursuant to subsection (f) below; and

21 (11) RTO-C District, as defined in Section 209.4.

23
24 SEC. 304. PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENTS.

25 * * * *

1 (d) Criteria and Limitations. The proposed development must meet the criteria
2 applicable to conditional uses as stated in Section 303(c) and elsewhere in this Code. In
3 addition, it shall:

4 * * * *

5 (5) In R Districts, include Commercial Uses only to the extent that such uses
6 are necessary to serve residents of the immediate vicinity, subject to the limitations for NC-1
7 Districts under this Code, and in RTO-1 and RTO-M Districts include Commercial Uses only
8 according to the provisions of Section 231 of this Code;

9 * * * *

10 SEC. 603. EXEMPTED SIGNS.

11 * * * *

12 (c) Two General Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square feet in area on 13 either a transit shelter or associated advertising kiosk furnished by contract with the Municipal
14 Transportation Agency or predecessor agency for the Municipal Railway in RTO, ~~RTO-M~~, RM-
15 2, RM-3, RM-4, RC, NC, C, M, PDR, Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts, and in 16 those P Districts where such Signs would not adversely affect the character, harmony, or
17 visual integrity of the district as determined by the Planning Commission; eight General
18 Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square feet in area on transit shelters located on
19 publicly owned property on a high level Municipal Railway boarding platform in an RH-1D
20 District adjacent to a C-2 District, provided that such advertising signs solely face the C-2
21 District; up to three double-sided General Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square
22 feet in area on or adjacent to transit shelters on publicly owned high level Municipal Railway
23 boarding platforms along The Embarcadero south of the Ferry Building, up to six double-sided
24 panels at 2nd and King Streets, and up to four double-sided panels at 4th and King Streets;
25 up to two double-sided panels not exceeding 24 square feet in area on each low-level

1 boarding platform at the following E-Line stops: Folsom Street and The Embarcadero,
2 Brannan Street and The Embarcadero, 2nd and King Streets, and 4th and King Streets; and a
3 total of 71 double-sided General Advertising Signs each not exceeding 24 square feet in area
4 on or adjacent to transit shelters on 28 publicly owned high level Municipal Railway boarding
5 platforms serving the Third Street Light Rail Line. Each advertising sign on a low-level or high-
6 level boarding platform shall be designed and sited in such a manner as to minimize
7 obstruction of public views from pedestrian walkways and/or public open space.

8 Notwithstanding the above, no Sign shall be placed on any transit shelter or 9 associated advertising kiosk located on any sidewalk which shares a common boundary with
10 any property under the jurisdiction of the Recreation and Park Commission, with the exception
11 of Justin Herman Plaza; on any sidewalk on Zoo Road; on Skyline Boulevard between Sloat
12 Boulevard and John Muir Drive; on John Muir Drive between Skyline Boulevard and Lake
13 Merced Boulevard; or on Lake Merced Boulevard on the side of Harding Park Municipal Golf
14 Course, or on any sidewalk on Sunset Boulevard between Lincoln Way and Lake Merced
15 Boulevard; on any sidewalk on Legion of Honor Drive; or in the Civic Center Special Sign
16 Districts as established in Section 608.3 of this Code.

17 The provisions of this subsection (c) shall be subject to the authority of the Port
18 Commission under Sections 4.114 and B3.581 of the City Charter and under State law.

19 * * * *

20
21 SEC. 606. RESIDENTIAL AND RESIDENTIAL ENCLAVE DISTRICTS.

22 Signs in Residential and Residential Enclave Districts, excluding the Residential Transit
23 Oriented-Commercial (RTO-C) District, and other than those signs exempted by Section 603 of 24 this Code, shall conform to the following provisions:

25 * * * *

2           SEC. 607.1. NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL AND RESIDENTIAL-COMMERCIAL
3 DISTRICTS, AND RESIDENTIAL TRANSIT ORIENTED-COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

4           * * * *

5           (a) Purposes and Findings. In addition to the purposes stated in Sections 101 and
6 601 of this Code, the following purposes apply to Neighborhood Commercial and Residential-
7 Commercial Districts. These purposes constitute findings that form a basis for regulations and
8 provide guidance for their application.

9           (1) As Neighborhood Commercial, and Residential-Commercial, and Residential
10 Transit Oriented-Commercial Districts change, they need to maintain their attractiveness to
11 residents, customers and potential new businesses alike. Physical amenities and a pleasant
12 appearance will profit both existing and new enterprises.

13           (2) The character of signs and other features projecting from buildings is an
14 important part of the visual appeal of a street and the general quality and economic stability of
15 the area. Opportunities exist to relate these signs and projections more effectively to street
16 design and building design. These regulations establish a framework that will contribute
17 toward a coherent appearance of Neighborhood Commercial and Residential-Commercial
18 Districts.

19           (3) Neighborhood Commercial, and Residential-Commercial, and Residential
20 Transit Oriented-Commercial Districts are typically mixed use areas with commercial units on 21 the ground or lower stories and residential uses on upper stories. Although signs are essential
22 to a vital commercial district, they should not be allowed to interfere with or diminish the
23 livability of residential units within a Neighborhood Commercial District or in adjacent
24 residential districts.

25           (4) The scale of most Neighborhood Commercial and Residential-Commercial

1 Districts as characterized by building height, bulk, and appearance, and the width of streets
2 and sidewalks differs from that of other commercial and industrial districts. Sign sizes should
3 relate and be compatible with the surrounding district scale.

4 (5) Signs controls in Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial Districts are determined
5 by the sign controls of the nearest Neighborhood Commercial District described in this Section 607.1.

6 * * * *

8 Section 8. Transit Oriented Communities and Parking. Articles 1.5 and 2 of the
9 Planning Code are hereby amended by deleting Section 151 in its entirety, revising Sections
10 151.1, 153, 154, 155, 155.2, and 161, and adding Sections 207.9 and 207.10, to read as
11 follows:

12 ~~SEC. 151. SCHEDULE OF REQUIRED OFF-STREET PARKING SPACES.~~

13 ~~(a) Applicability. Off-street parking spaces shall be provided in the minimum quantities~~
14 ~~specified in Table 151, except as otherwise provided in Section 151.1 and Section 161 of this Code.~~
15 ~~Where the building or lot contains uses in more than one of the categories listed, parking requirements~~
16 ~~shall be calculated in the manner provided in Section 153 of this Code. Where off-street parking is~~
17 ~~provided which exceeds certain amounts in relation to the quantities specified in Table 151, as set forth~~
18 ~~in subsection (c), such parking shall be classified not as accessory parking but as either a Principal or~~
19 ~~a Conditional Use, depending upon the use provisions applicable to the district in which the parking is~~
20 ~~located. In considering an application for a Conditional Use for any such parking, due to the amount~~
21 ~~being provided, the Planning Commission shall consider the criteria set forth in Section 303(t) or~~
22 ~~303(u) of this Code. Minimum off-street parking requirements shall be reduced, to the extent needed,~~
23 ~~when such reduction is part of a Development Project's compliance with the Transportation Demand~~
24 ~~Management Program set forth in Section 169 of this Code.~~

 16 has zero Occupied Floor Area or the maximum specified elsewhere in this Section.
 17

18 SEC. 151.1. SCHEDULE OF PERMITTED ACCESSORY OFF-STREET PARKING
 19 SPACES IN SPECIFIED DISTRICTS.

1 (a) Applicability. Unless otherwise specified in a Special Use District, this Section 151.1
2 shall apply. This Section 151.1 shall apply only to NCT, RC, RCD, RTO, Mixed Use, M-1, PDR-1-D,
3 PDR-1-G, and C-3 Districts, and to the Broadway, Excelsior Outer Mission Street, Japantown, North
4 Beach, Polk, and Pacific Avenue Neighborhood Commercial Districts.

5 (b) Off-street Accessory Parking. Off-street accessory parking shall not be required for any
6 use, and the quantities of off-street parking specified in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2 shall serve as the
7 maximum amount of off-street parking that may be provided as accessory to the uses specified. In
8 addition:

9 (1) Accessory off-street parking spaces shall be permitted up to quantities specified in
10 Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, except where provision of such parking would conflict with other
11 provisions of this Code, including but not limited to Sections 144, 145.1, 145.4, and 155(r), in which
12 case the Code Sections other than this Section 151.1 shall apply.

13 (2) Where a building or lot contains more than one use, the applicable accessory
14 parking limit shall be calculated in the manner provided in Section 153 of this Code.

15 (3) Where the amount of off-street parking exceeds the quantities specified in Tables
16 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, such parking shall be considered a separate use requiring a separate entitlement
17 and not considered an accessory use, unless it is existing non-conforming accessory parking that may
18 only be expanded or intensified pursuant to Section 150(e).

19 (4) Off-street parking shall be reduced, if required for a Development Project to comply
20 with the Transportation Demand Management Program set forth in Section 169 of this Code.

21 (b) ~~Controls. Off-street accessory parking shall not be required for any use, and the quantities~~
22 ~~of off-street parking specified in Table 151.1 shall serve as the maximum amount of off-street parking~~
23 ~~that may be provided as accessory to the uses specified. Variances from accessory off-street parking~~
24 ~~limits, as described in this Section 151.1, may not be granted. Where off-street parking is provided that~~
25 ~~exceeds the quantities specified in Table 151.1 or as explicitly permitted by this Section, such parking~~

1 ~~shall be classified not as accessory parking but as either a principally permitted or Conditional Use,~~
2 ~~depending upon the use provisions applicable to the district in which the parking is located. In~~
3 ~~considering an application for a Conditional Use for any such parking due to the amount being~~
4 ~~provided, the Planning Commission shall consider the criteria set forth in Sections 303(t) or 303(u) of~~
5 ~~this Code.~~

6 (c) Definition. Where a number or ratio of spaces are described in Tables 151.1-1 or
7 151.1-2, such number or ratio shall refer to the total number of parked ~~cars~~ vehicles
8 accommodated in the project ~~proposal~~, regardless of the arrangement of parking, and shall
9 include all spaces accessed by mechanical means, valet, or non-independently accessible
10 means. For the purposes of determining the total number of ~~cars~~ vehicles parked, the area of 11 an individual parking space, except for those spaces specifically designated for persons with 12 physical disabilities, may not exceed 185 square feet, including spaces in tandem, or in
13 parking lifts, elevators, or other means of vertical stacking. Any off-street surface area
14 accessible to motor vehicles with a width of 7.5 feet and a length of 17 feet (127.5 square
15 feet) not otherwise designated on plans as a parking space may be considered and counted
16 as an off-street parking space at the discretion of the Zoning Administrator if the Zoning
17 Administrator, in considering the possibility for tandem and valet arrangements, determines
18 that such area is likely to be used for parking a vehicle on a regular basis and that such area
19 is not necessary for the exclusive purpose of vehicular circulation to the parking or loading
20 facilities otherwise permitted.

21 (d) Car-Share Parking. Any off-street parking space dedicated for use as a car-share
22 parking space, as defined in Section 166, shall not ~~be credited~~ count toward the total parking
23 permitted as accessory in this Section 151.1.

(e) Non-Residential Uses. Unless otherwise specified in Tables 151.1-1 or 151.1-2, or elsewhere in this Section 151.1, the maximum accessory parking permitted for non-residential uses shall be one of the following:

(1) One parking space per 2,000 square feet of Occupied Floor Area of use; or

(2) Three parking spaces where the use or activity has no Occupied Floor Area.

(fe) Excess Residential Parking. Any request for accessory residential parking, in excess of what is principally permitted in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, shall be reviewed by the Planning Commission as a Conditional Use, provided that the request does not exceed the maximum amount stated in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2. In MUG, WMUG, MUR, MUO, RED, RED-MX, and SPD Districts, any project subject to Section 329 and that requests residential accessory parking in excess of that which is principally permitted in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, but which does not exceed the maximum amount stated in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, shall be reviewed by the Planning Commission according to the procedures of Section 329. Projects that are not subject to Section 329 shall be reviewed under the procedures detailed in subsection (g) below.

(fg) Small Residential Projects in MUG, WMUG, MUR, MUO, CMUO, WMUO, RED, RED-MX, and SPD Districts. Any project that is not subject to the requirements of Section 329 and that requests residential accessory parking in excess of what is principally permitted

1 in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2 shall be reviewed by the Zoning Administrator subject to Section
2 307(i). The Zoning Administrator may grant parking in excess of what is principally permitted
3 in Tables 151.1-1 and 151.1-2, not to exceed the maximum amount stated in Tables 151.1-1
4 and 151.1-2, only if the Zoning Administrator determines that:

5 (1) all the following conditions have been met:

6 (A) Vehicle movement on or around the project does not unduly impact
7 pedestrian spaces or movement, transit service, bicycle movement, or the overall traffic
8 movement in the district;

9 (B) Accommodating excess accessory parking does not degrade the
10 overall urban design quality of the project proposal;

11 (C) All above-grade parking is architecturally screened and lined with 12 active uses according to the standards of Section 145.1, and the project sponsor is not
13 requesting any exceptions or variances requiring such treatments elsewhere in this Code; and

14 (D) Excess accessory parking does not diminish the quality and viability
15 of existing or planned streetscape enhancements;

16 (2) parking is not accessed from any protected Transit or Pedestrian Street
17 described in Section 155(r), and

18 (3) where more than 10 spaces are proposed at least half of them, rounded
19 down to the nearest whole number, are stored and accessed by mechanical stackers or lifts,
20 valet, or other space-efficient means that reduces space used for parking and maneuvering,
21 and maximizes other uses.

22 ~~(g) Excess Parking for Non-Residential Uses greater than 20,000 square feet. Where~~
23 ~~permitted by Table 151.1 for a Non-Residential Use greater than 20,000 square feet, any request for~~
24 ~~accessory parking in excess of what is principally permitted in Table 151.1, but which does not exceed~~
25 ~~the maximum amount stated in Table 151.1, shall be reviewed by the Planning Commission as a~~

2 (h) Transit-Oriented Communities Parking Limits. Consistent with the Transit-Oriented
3 Communities Policies of the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, this Section 151.1 implements
4 the maximum parking limits based on the presence of certain transit services within one-half mile of the
5 development. Notwithstanding the provisions of Table 151.1-2, if any portion of the subject
6 development falls within the geographic areas listed in Table 151.1-2, the lower of the maximum limits
7 in either Table 151.1-1 or Table 151.1-2 shall apply as the maximum amount of parking.

21 Group Housing projects in Transit Station Areas.

22 ** As used in Table 151.1-2, the distance of one-half mile shall be measured in accordance with
23 the methodology established by the Metropolitan Transportation Commission.

1           SEC. 153. RULES FOR CALCULATION OF ~~REQUIRED~~ PARKING SPACES.

2           (a) In the calculation of off-street parking, freight loading spaces, and bicycle parking
3 spaces permitted or required under Sections 151.1, 152, 152.1, 155.2, 155.3, and 155.4 of this
4 Code, or pursuant to any Special Use District, the following rules shall apply:

5                   (1) In the case of mixed uses in the same structure, on the same lot, or in the
6 same development, or more than one type of activity involved in the same use, the total
7 ~~requirements for permitted~~ off-street parking and requirements for loading spaces shall be the
8 sum of the requirements for the various uses or activities computed separately, including
9 fractional values.

10                   (2) Where an initial quantity of floor area, rooms, seats, or other form of
11 measurement is exempted from ~~off-street parking or~~ loading requirements, such exemption
12 shall apply only once to the aggregate of that form of measurement. If the initial exempted
13 quantity is exceeded, for either a structure or a lot or a development, the requirement shall
14 apply to the entire such structure, lot, or development, unless the contrary is specifically
15 stated in this Code. In combining the requirements for use categories in mixed use buildings,
16 all exemptions for initial quantities of square footage for the uses in question shall be
17 disregarded, excepting the exemption for the initial quantity which is the least among all the 18 uses in question.

19                   (3) Where a structure or use is divided by a zoning district boundary line, the
20 requirements as to quantity of ~~off-street parking and~~ loading spaces and permitted off-street
21 parking shall be calculated in proportion to the amount of such structure or use located in each
22 zoning district.

23                   (4) Where seats are used as the form of measurement, each 22 inches of 24 space on benches, pews and similar seating facilities shall be considered one seat.

25                   (5) When the calculation of the ~~required~~ number of ~~off-street parking or~~ required

1 freight loading or permitted off-street parking spaces results in a fractional number, a fraction of
2 ½-one-half or more shall be adjusted to the next higher whole number of spaces, and a fraction
3 of less than one-half ½ may shall be disregarded, except where the number of permitted spaces is
4 less than one, in which case one parking space shall be permitted.

5 (6) In C-3, MUG, MUR, MUO, CMUO, and UMU Districts, substitution of two
6 service vehicle spaces for each required off-street freight loading space may be made,
7 provided that a minimum of 50% percent of the required number of spaces are provided for
8 freight loading. Where the 50% percent allowable substitution results in a fraction, the fraction
9 shall be disregarded.

10 (b) The requirements for off-street ~~parking and~~ loading and permitted off-street parking for
11 any use not specifically mentioned in Sections 151.1 and 152 shall be the same as for a use
12 specified which is similar, as determined by the Zoning Administrator.

13 (c) For all uses and all districts covered by Section 151.1, the rules of calculation
14 established by subsection (a) of this Section 153 shall apply to the determination of maximum
15 permitted spaces ~~at~~ allowed by Section 151.1.

17 SEC. 154. DIMENSIONS FOR OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND 18 SERVICE VEHICLE SPACES.

19 (a) Parking Spaces. ~~Required parking~~ Parking spaces may be either independently
20 accessible or space-efficient as described in Section 154(a)(4) and 154(a)(5), except as
21 required elsewhere in the Building Code for spaces specifically designated for persons with
22 physical disabilities. Space-efficient parking is encouraged.

23 (1) Each independently accessible off-street parking space ~~shall have a minimum~~
24 measuring an area of 144 square feet (8 feet by 18 feet) shall count as for a standard space and
25 measuring 112.5 square feet ~~for~~ shall count as a compact space (7.5 feet by 15 feet), except for

1 the types of parking spaces authorized by subsection Paragraph (a)(4) below and spaces
2 specifically designated for persons with physical disabilities, the requirements for which are
3 set forth in the Building Code. Every ~~required~~ parking space shall be of usable shape. The area
4 of any such space shall be exclusive of driveways, aisles, and maneuvering areas. ~~The parking~~
5 ~~space requirements for the Bernal Heights Special Use District are set forth in Section 242.~~

6 (2) Any ratio of standard spaces to compact spaces may be permitted, so long
7 as compact car spaces are specifically marked and identified as a compact space. ~~Special~~
8 ~~provisions relating to the Bernal Heights Special Use District are set forth in Section 242.~~

9 (3) Off-street parking spaces in DTR, C-3, RTO, NCT, Eastern Neighborhoods
10 Mixed Use, PDR-1-D, and PDR-1-G Districts shall have no ~~minimum~~ defined area or dimension
11 requirements, except as required elsewhere in the Building Code for spaces specifically
12 designated for persons with physical disabilities. For all uses in all Districts, ~~for which there is~~
13 ~~no minimum off-street parking requirement, per Section 151.1,~~ refer to Sections 153 and 151.1(c) for 14 rules regarding calculation of parking spaces.

15 (4) Permitted off-street parking ~~Parking~~ spaces in mechanical parking structures
16 that allow a vehicle to be accessed without having to move another vehicle under its own
17 power shall be deemed to be independently accessible. Parking spaces that are accessed by
18 a valet attendant and are subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Zoning
19 Administrator to insure the availability of attendant service at the time the vehicle may 20 reasonably be needed or desired by the user ~~for whom the space is required~~, shall be deemed to
21 be independently accessible. Any conditions imposed by the Zoning Administrator pursuant to
22 this Section 154 shall be recorded as a Notice of Special Restriction.

23 (5) Space-efficient parking is parking in which vehicles are stored and accessed
24 by valet, mechanical stackers or lifts, certain tandem spaces, or other space-efficient means.
25 Tandem spaces shall ~~only~~ count ~~towards satisfying the parking requirement~~ toward permitted off-

1 street parking spaces if no more than one car needs to be moved to access the desired parking
2 space. ~~Space-efficient parking is encouraged, and may be used to satisfy minimum parking~~
3 ~~requirements so long as the project sponsor can demonstrate that all required parking can be~~
4 ~~accommodated by the means chosen.~~

6
7 SEC. 155. GENERAL STANDARDS AS TO LOCATION AND ARRANGEMENT OF
8 OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND SERVICE VEHICLE FACILITIES.

9 Required off-street parking and freight loading facilities shall meet the following
10 standards as to location and arrangement. Facilities which are not required but are actually
11 provided shall also meet the following standards unless such standards are stated to be
12 applicable solely to required facilities. In application of the standards of this Code for off-street
13 parking and loading, reference may be made to provisions of other portions of the Municipal
14 Code concerning off-street parking and loading facilities, and to standards of the Better
15 Streets Plan and the Bureau of Engineering of the Department of Public Works. Final authority
16 for the application of such standards under this Code, and for adoption of regulations and
17 interpretations in furtherance of the stated provisions of this Code shall, however, rest with the 18 Planning Department.

20 (u) Driveway and Loading Operations Plan (DLOP) ~~in the Central SoMa Special Use~~
21 ~~District and Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District.~~

22 (1) Purpose. The purpose of a Driveway and Loading Operations Plan (DLOP)
23 is to reduce potential conflicts between driveway and loading operations, including passenger
24 and freight loading activities, and pedestrians, bicycles, and vehicles, to maximize reliance of 25 on-site loading spaces to accommodate new loading demand, and to ensure that off-site

loading activity is considered in the design of new buildings.

(2) Applicability. Development projects of more than 100,000 net new Gross square feet Floor Area ~~in the Central SoMa Special Use District and Van Ness & Market Residential Special Use District.~~

(3) Requirement. Applicable projects shall prepare a DLOP for review and approval by the Planning Department, in consultation with the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency. The DLOP shall be written in accordance with any guidelines issued by the Planning Department.

SEC. 161. EXEMPTIONS AND EXCEPTIONS FROM OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND SERVICE VEHICLE REQUIREMENTS.

The following exemptions shall apply to the requirements for off-street parking and loading spaces set forth in Sections 151.1 through 155 of this Code. These provisions, as exemptions, shall be narrowly construed. Reductions or waivers by the Zoning Administrator permitted by this Section 161 shall be conducted pursuant to the procedures of Section 307(h)(2). Where exceptions in this Section 161 require approval by the Zoning Administrator, the Zoning Administrator shall consider the criteria of Section 307(i).

~~(a) Topography. No off-street parking shall be required for a one family or two family dwelling where the lot on which such dwelling is located is entirely inaccessible by automobile because of topographic conditions.~~

~~(ba) Parking or Loading Across Very Wide Sidewalks. No off-street parking or loading shall be required where access to the lot cannot be provided other than by means of a driveway across a sidewalk 25 feet or more in width from the curb to the front lot line which would cause serious disruption to pedestrian traffic.~~

~~(eb) Joint Use of Off-Street Parking. Joint use of the same off-street parking spaces to meet the requirements of this Code for two or more structures or uses is may be permitted, where the normal hours of operation of such structures or uses are such as to assure the feasibility of~~

1 ~~such joint use of parking and where the total quantity of spaces provided is at least equal to the total of~~
2 ~~the required spaces for the structures or uses in operation at any given time.~~

3 ~~(d) Exceptions to Improve Conformity with Setbacks, Yards, Open Space, and Other~~
4 ~~Requirements of the Code. The Zoning Administrator may reduce or waive the off-street parking~~
5 ~~requirement for existing buildings if removal of parking and associated structures increases conformity~~
6 ~~with required front setbacks, side yards, and rear yards, increases conformity with open space or street~~
7 ~~frontage requirements, reduces or eliminates any nonconforming encroachment onto public rights-of-~~
8 ~~way or other public property or easement, and/or reduces or eliminates any other code nonconformity.~~

9 (ec) Freight Loading and Service Vehicle Spaces. In recognition of the fact that site
10 constraints may make provision of required freight loading and service vehicle spaces
11 impractical or undesirable, a reduction in or waiver of the provision of freight loading and
12 service vehicle spaces for uses may be permitted, by the Zoning Administrator in all ~~d~~Districts,
13 or in accordance with the provisions of Section 309 of this Code in C-3 Districts. In
14 considering any such reduction or waiver, the following criteria shall be considered:

15 (1) Provision of freight loading and service vehicle spaces cannot be
16 accomplished underground because site constraints will not permit ramps, elevators,
17 turntables and maneuvering areas with reasonable safety;

18 (2) Provision of the required number of freight loading and service vehicle
19 spaces on-site would result in the use of an unreasonable percentage of ground-floor area,
20 and thereby preclude more desirable use of the ground floor for retail, pedestrian circulation or
21 open space uses;

22 (3) A jointly used underground facility with access to a number of separate
23 buildings and meeting the collective needs for freight loading and service vehicles for all uses
24 in the buildings involved, cannot be provided; and

25 (4) Spaces for delivery functions can be provided at the adjacent curb without

1 adverse effect on pedestrian circulation, transit operations or general traffic circulation, and
2 off-street space permanently reserved for service vehicles is provided either on-site or in the
3 immediate vicinity of the building.

4 ~~(gd)~~ Historic Buildings. There shall be no minimum off-street ~~parking or~~ loading
5 requirements for any principal or Conditional Use located in (1) a landmark building
6 designated per Article 10 of this Code, (2) a contributing building located within a designated
7 historic district per Article 10, (3) any building designated Category I-IV per Article 11 of this
8 Code, or (4) buildings listed on the National Register and/or California Register.

9 ~~(he)~~ Landmark and Significant Trees. The required off-street ~~parking and~~ loading may
10 be reduced or waived if the Zoning Administrator determines that provision of required ~~off-~~
11 ~~street parking or~~ loading would result in the loss of or damage to a designated Landmark Tree
12 or Significant Tree, as defined in the Public Works Code. The Zoning Administrator's decision
13 shall be governed by Section 307~~(i)~~ and shall require either (1) the recommendation of the 14 Department of Public Works Bureau of Urban Forestry, or its successor agency, or (2) the
15 recommendation of a certified arborist as documented in the subject tree's required tree
16 protection plan.

17 ~~(if)~~ Geologic Hazards. No off-street ~~parking or~~ loading shall be required where the
18 Planning Department finds that required ~~parking or~~ loading cannot practically be provided
19 without compromising the earthquake safety or geologic stability of a building and/or
20 neighboring structures and properties.

21 ~~(jg)~~ Protected Street Frontages and Transit Stops. No off-street ~~parking or~~ loading is
22 required on any lot whose sole feasible automobile access is across a protected street
23 frontage identified in Section 155(r).

24 ~~(kh)~~ Curbside Transit Lanes and Bikeways. No off-street parking or loading is 25 required on any lot whose sole feasible automobile access is across a curbside transit lane or

1 bikeway.

3 SEC. 207.9. MINIMUM DWELLING UNIT DENSITIES AND MINIMUM OFFICE
4 INTENSITIES, USES “BY-RIGHT.”

5 (a) Purpose. This Section 207.9 establishes minimum residential and commercial density
6 standards in Transit-Oriented Communities, as identified by the Metropolitan Transit Commission, and
7 implements the City’s Housing Element obligations pursuant to Government Code 65583, including
8 requirements for both minimum densities and approval of certain projects on Housing Element Sites.
9 Consistent with the Transit-Oriented Communities Policies of the Metropolitan Transportation
10 Commission, this Section establishes the minimum Dwelling Unit densities for residential development
11 and minimum intensities for Office use. Consistent with Government Code Sections 65583.2(c), and
12 (h), this Section permits certain types of housing projects as a “use by right,” as that term is defined in
13 Government Code Section 65583.2(i).

14 (b) Minimum Dwelling Unit Density.

15 (1) Applicability.

16 (A) Transit-Oriented Community Tiers. This Section 207.9 applies to all
17 projects proposing new construction of one or more Residential Buildings on sites that do not already
18 contain Residential uses unless such uses are demolished, and that are located in the geographic areas
19 or satisfy the applicability criteria described in Table 207.9. These minimum residential densities shall
20 apply only in zoning Districts where Residential uses are permitted. Changes of use of existing
21 building space to Residential use, additions of Residential use to existing structures, and additions of
22 Residential or Office uses to lots where such uses are already existing, and that are not proposed for
23 demolition, are not subject to the requirements of this Section.

24 (B) Housing Element Sites. Residential projects on sites identified pursuant to
25 Government Code Section 65583.2(c) and (h) in which at least 20% of the units are set aside to

1 households with incomes at 80% of Area Median Income or lower shall be approved “by-right” as that
2 term is defined in Government Code Section 65583.2(i).

3 (2) Minimum Densities. New construction proposing Dwelling Units on sites within
4 the geographic areas described in Table 207.9 must provide at least the number of Dwelling Units
5 specified in Table 207.9. Sites that meet more than one applicable Tier requirement in Table 207.9
6 shall comply with the higher minimum density. Fractions of units shall be rounded per Section
7 207(b)(1). For purposes of this Section 207.9, Accessory Dwelling Units shall count toward any
8 minimum density requirement.

9 (c) Minimum Office Intensity.

10 (1) Applicability. This subsection (c) applies to all projects proposing new construction
11 of Office use on sites that do not already contain Office uses, and that are located in the geographic
12 areas or satisfy the applicability criteria described in Table 207.9; provided that the minimum Office
13 intensities in this subsection (c) shall not exceed the amount of permissible Office use allowed in the
14 District. These minimum densities shall only apply in Districts where Office uses are permitted.
15 Changes of use of existing building space to Office use, additions of Office use to existing structures,
16 and additions of Office uses to Lots where such uses are already existing, and that are not proposed for
17 demolition are not subject to the requirements of this Section 207.9.

18 (2) Minimum Intensity. New construction proposing Office use on sites within the
19 geographic areas described in Table 207.9 must comply with the FAR requirements in Table 207.9.

13 * As used in Table 207.9, the distance of one-half mile shall be measured in accordance with
14 the methodology established by the Metropolitan Transportation Commission.

15 ** Housing Projects in which at least 20% of the units are set aside to households with incomes
16 at 80% of Area Median Income or lower on sites in this category shall be approved consistent with
17 California Government Code Section 65583.2(c) and (i).

18 *** Housing Projects in which at least 20% of the units are set aside to households with
19 incomes at 80% of Area Median Income or lower on sites in this category shall be approved consistent
20 with California Government Code Section 65583.2(h) and (i).

21 (d) Gross Floor Area. For purposes of determining the Gross Floor Area of a development Lot
22 subject to this Section 207.9, the calculation shall exclude Gross Floor Area to be dedicated for
23 publicly accessible streets. In instances where portions of a Lot are unbuildable due to topographic or
24 geologic conditions, a development is proposed on only a portion of the Lot, or the Lot is otherwise
25 constrained, the Zoning Administrator is authorized to determine that a smaller portion of a Lot shall

1 serve as the development Lot.

2 (e) Mixed-uses. For purposes of determining minimum Residential Density and Office Intensity,
3 as long as one of the land uses satisfies the minimum Residential Density and/or Office Intensity the
4 respective land uses are prorated to comply individually.

5 (f) Conditional Use Authorizations for Projects that Fail to Comply with this Section.
6 Projects that fail to comply with the objective standards in this Section 207.9 shall be considered non-
7 code-compliant. If not otherwise prohibited by the Code, a project may not comply with the minimum
8 Residential Density and Office Intensity, if the Planning Commission approves a Conditional Use
9 Authorization.

10
11 SEC. 207.10. MAXIMUM DWELLING UNIT SIZE.

12 (a) Purpose. To encourage new infill multi-family housing, limit the proliferation and
13 expansion of large houses that do not increase the housing stock of moderately-priced units, support
14 the preservation of existing housing that serves lower- and middle-income households, and encourage
15 maximizing residential density, this Section 207.10 sets forth citywide maximum Dwelling Unit sizes.

16 (b) Applicability. This Section 207.10 applies to projects proposing to construct one or more
17 Dwelling Units for which a Development Application is filed after January 31, 2026, and the project
18 proposes any of the following:

19 (1) construction of new Dwelling Unit(s), including the construction of a Dwelling Unit
20 where an existing unit is proposed for demolition as defined in Section 317(b)(2);

21 (2) merger of two or more Dwelling Units as defined in Section 317(b)(7); or

22 (3) reduction in the number of existing Dwelling Units.

23 (c) Requirements. Any project that meets one or more of the criteria in subsection (b) shall be
24 restricted to a maximum Dwelling Unit size of 4,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area or an equivalent
25 Floor Area Ratio for any individual Dwelling Unit of 1.2:1, whichever is greater, except in the

1 following conditions:

2 (1) any new construction project of four to nine Dwelling Units, where not more than
3 one Dwelling Unit exceeds 4,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area; or

4 (2) any new construction project of 10 or more Dwelling Units, where not more than
5 10% of such units exceed 4,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area.

6 (d) Conditional Use Authorizations for Projects that Fail to Comply with this Section.

7 Projects that fail to comply with the objective standards in this Section 207.10 shall be considered non-
8 code-compliant. If not otherwise prohibited by the Code, a project may exceed the maximum Dwelling
9 Unit size, without satisfying the conditions in subsection (c), if the Planning Commission approves a
10 Conditional Use Authorization for the larger Dwelling Unit(s).

11 (e) Conditional Use Criteria. In addition to the criteria outlined in Planning Code Section
12 303(c), in acting upon an application for Conditional Use Authorization, the Planning Commission
13 shall consider whether facts are presented to establish based on the record before the Commission, that
14 all of the following criteria are met:

15 (1) the proposed project meets applicable Residential Design Guidelines, Citywide
16 Design Standards, and other applicable adopted guidelines or standards;

17 (2) the proposed project does not propose to reduce the size of any other existing 18 Dwelling Unit or negatively impact the characteristics of a Residential Flat, as set forth in Section
19 317(g);

20 (3) the proposed project increases the number of Dwelling Units on the Lot and, if
21 applicable, meets the applicable minimum density requirement under Section 207.9; and

22 (4) the proposed project will not have specific adverse impacts on a Historic Building
23 as defined in Planning Code Section 102 or would render the property ineligible for historic 24 designation as an individual or contributing resource.

25 (f) Calculation of Gross Floor Area. For the purposes of this Section 207.10, the following

1 shall apply in the calculation of a Dwelling Unit's total Gross Floor Area:

2 (1) Gross Floor Area shall have the meaning set forth in Planning Code Section 401;

3 (2) Shared spaces and common areas in multi-unit buildings shall not be included;

4 (3) Storage areas, sheds, or other enclosed areas on the property that are accessory to
5 and assigned to a specific Dwelling Unit but not contiguous with and directly accessible from the unit
6 shall not be included; and

7 (4) Gross Floor Area shall include (A) all expansions of the Residential Building for
8 which a building permit was issued within the previous 10 years, and (B) any Gross Floor Area
9 resulting from construction performed without a validly issued permit regardless of the date of 10 construction.

12
13 Section 9. Off-Street Parking and Curb Cuts. Article 1 and Article 2 of the Planning
14 Code are hereby amended by revising Sections 155, 249.49, and 249.71, to read as follows

15 SEC. 155. GENERAL STANDARDS AS TO LOCATION AND ARRANGEMENT OF 16 OFF-STREET PARKING, FREIGHT LOADING, AND SERVICE VEHICLE FACILITIES.

17 * * * *

18 (r) Protected Pedestrian-, Cycling-, and Transit-Oriented Street Frontages. In 19 order to protect and improve ~~preserve the~~ pedestrian and bicycle safety and transit service, ~~character~~
20 ~~of certain districts and to minimize delays to transit, service, garage entries, driveways, or other~~
21 vehicular access to off-street parking or loading via curb cuts ~~on development lots~~ shall be
22 regulated as set forth in this subsection (r). However, Fthese limitations ~~do shall~~ not apply to the
23 creation of new publicly-accessible Streets and Alleys. Any lot where the only ~~whose sole feasible~~
24 vehicular access is via a protected street frontage described in this subsection (r) shall be
25 exempted from any off-street ~~parking or~~ loading requirement found elsewhere in this Code,

1 unless a curb cut is otherwise authorized.

2 (1) Curb Cuts Not Permitted. No new or expanded curb cuts shall be permitted on the
3 frontages listed in Table 155(r)(1) below:

4 (2) Protected Street Features. No new or expanded curb cuts shall be permitted within
5 the following street features:

6 (A) An adjacent on-street curbside striped bus stop (e.g., curbside bus stop
7 zones with striping or red curb) that has been approved by the San Francisco Municipal
8 Transportation Agency (SFMTA) Board of Directors;

9 (B) A transit bulb-out, as defined in the Better Streets Plan; or

10 (C) A transit boarding island, as defined in the Better Streets Plan, if vehicles
11 accessing the curb cut would be required to cross over the boarding island.

12 (3) Corner Lots in the SALI District. For corner lots in the SALI District, no new curb
13 cut shall be permitted, nor any existing curb cut expanded, on any Street or Alley identified as an Alley
14 in the Western SoMa Area Plan of the General Plan if any property on the same block with frontage
15 along that Street or Alley is designated as a RED or RED-MX District.

16 (4) Curb Cuts Requiring Planning Commission Approval. In all zoning districts
17 except RH, M, NC-S, P, PDR, and SALI, no new or expanded curb cuts shall be permitted on the
18 frontages listed in Table 155(r)(4), unless approved by the Planning Commission through a
19 Conditional Use Authorization pursuant to Planning Code Section 303. However, if the new or
20 expanded curb cut is part of a project that requires Planning Commission approval under a separate
21 section, such as Section 309 or 329, then the Planning Commission shall consider the curb cut as part
22 of that approval. Regardless of the type of approval, in order to approve such a curb cut, the Planning
23 Commission must make the findings required by Section 303(y). For projects within the C-3-0(SD) and
24 the Central SoMa Special Use District, in no case shall such curb cut approval be granted where the
25 proposed accessory parking would be greater than the amount principally permitted.

1 (A) Protected Streets. Planning Commission approval is required for any new or
 2 expanded curb cut that directly fronts any of the streets listed in Table 155(r)(4) below.

4 (B) Protected Street Types with Alternative Frontage. Planning Commission
5 approval is required for any new or expanded curb cut that directly fronts any of the following when an
6 alternative street frontage is available:

- 7 (i) Transit Preferential Streets designated in the Transportation Element;
- 8 (ii) Neighborhood Commercial Streets or Commercial Throughways
9 defined by the Better Streets Plan; or
- 10 (iii) Bicycle routes or lanes as adopted by SFMTA Board of Directors.

11 On such bicycle routes or lanes where the bicycle facility is only on one side of the street, the curb cut
12 restriction shall apply to the side of the street with the bicycle facility, and shall not apply to the 13 opposite side of the street.

14 (C) Protected Street Types with No Alternative Frontage. A new or expanded
15 curb cut on street types listed in subsection (r)(4)(B) where no alternative frontage exists shall still
16 require Planning Commission approval. However, in such cases the Planning Commission shall not
17 make the findings of Section 303(y) and instead must find that the final design minimizes negative
18 impacts to transit movement and to the safety of pedestrians and bicyclists to the fullest extent feasible.

19 (5) Existing Curb Cuts. Existing curb cuts on frontages listed in subsections (r)(1)-
20 (r)(4) shall not be retained as part of a project that involves new construction, a building alteration
21 that increases the Gross Floor Area of a structure by 20% or more, or a change of use affecting more
22 than 50% of the structure's Gross Floor Area. However, the Planning Commission may allow retention
23 or relocation of up to one existing curb cut along any of the site's frontages, through Conditional Use
24 authorization or other applicable discretionary Planning Commission approval, provided that no
25 existing curb cut shall be maintained if it is located in or affects a protected transit stop feature

1 pursuant to subsection (r)(2), and no existing curb cut may be relocated to newly affect such features.
2 In granting such approval, the Planning Commission must make the additional findings required under
3 Planning Code Section 303(y) and must also find that (1) the project represents an increase in
4 residential density and/or non-residential intensity that is appropriate to the site, such as its proximity
5 to transit or its location within a mixed-use area; and (2) the proposed curb cut is necessary to support
6 the project's scale and function, while being sited and designed to minimize to the fullest extent feasible
7 negative impacts on pedestrian activity, street-level commercial activity, the movement of transit
8 vehicles and passengers, and bicycle facilities.

9 (6) Sites owned by the City and County of San Francisco under the jurisdiction of the 10 SFMTA are not subject to the provisions of this Section 155(r).

- 24           ~~——(3) Not permitted without Conditional Use authorization or Sections 309 or 329~~
- 25 ~~exception. In the C-3-O(SD) and the Central SoMa Special Use Districts, the Planning Commission~~

1 ~~may grant permission for a new curb cut or an expansion of an existing one as an exception pursuant to~~
2 ~~Sections 309 or 329 in lieu of a Conditional Use authorization as long as the Commission makes the~~
3 ~~findings required under Section 303(y) and where the amount of parking proposed does not exceed the~~
4 ~~amounts permitted as accessory according to Section 151.1. In addition, in the MUG, WMUG, MUR,~~
5 ~~MUO, RED, RED-MX, and SPD Districts, the Planning Commission may grant permission for a new~~
6 ~~curb cut or an expansion of an existing one as an exception pursuant to Section 329 in lieu of a~~
7 ~~Conditional Use authorization as long as the Commission makes the findings required under Section~~
8 ~~303(y). A Planning Commission Conditional Use authorization subject to the additional findings under~~
9 ~~Section 303(y) is required to allow a new curb cut or expansion of an existing one on any other~~
10 ~~restricted street identified in this subsection 155(r)(3).~~

11 ~~——(A) Except as provided in Section 155(r), in all zoning districts except RH, M, NC-S, P,~~
12 ~~PDR, and SALI, no curb cuts accessing off-street parking or loading shall be created or expanded on~~
13 ~~street frontages identified along any Transit Preferential Street as designated in the Transportation~~
14 ~~Element of the General Plan, or Neighborhood Commercial Street and Commercial Throughways as~~
15 ~~defined in the Better Streets Plan, or any SFMTA Board of Directors adopted bicycle routes or lanes,~~
16 ~~where an alternative frontage is available. On such bicycles routes or lanes where the bicycle facility is~~
17 ~~only on one side of the street, the curb cut restriction shall apply to the side of the street with the~~
18 ~~bicycle facility, and shall not apply to the opposite side of the street.~~

19 ~~——(B) The entire portion of California Street,~~

20 ~~——(C) Folsom Street, Geary Street, Mission Street, Powell Street and Stockton Street in the~~ 21 ~~C-3 Districts,~~

22 ~~——(D) Grant Avenue from Market Street to Sacramento Street,~~

23 ~~——(E) Montgomery Street from Market Street to Columbus Avenue,~~

24 ~~——(F) Church Street and 16th Street in the RTO District,~~

25 ~~——(G) Duboce Street from Noe Street to Market Street,~~

1           ~~—(H) Octavia Street from Fell Street to Market Street,~~

2           ~~—(I) 1st, Fremont and Beale Streets from Market to Folsom Street,~~

3           ~~—(J) The eastern (water) side of The Embarcadero between Townsend and Taylor Streets,~~

4           ~~—(K) Fillmore Street from Hermann Street to Duboce Avenue,~~

5           ~~—(L) Noe Street from Duboce Avenue to Market Street, and~~

6           ~~—(M) Dolores Street from Market Street to 16th Street.~~

7           ~~—(N) Harrison Street from 2nd Street to 6th Street,~~

8           ~~—(O) Bryant Street from 2nd Street to 6th Street, and~~

9           ~~—(P) 5th Street from Howard Street to Townsend Street.~~

10           ~~—(4) In all zoning districts except RH, M, NC-S, P, PDR, and SALI, where an alternative~~
11 ~~frontage is not available, parking or loading access along any Transit Preferential Street as designated~~
12 ~~in the Transportation Element of the General Plan, or Neighborhood Commercial Street or~~
13 ~~Commercial Throughways defined in the Better Streets Plan, or any SFMTA Board of Directors~~
14 ~~adopted bicycle routes or lanes, may be allowed on streets not listed in subsection (r)(2) above as an~~
15 ~~exception in the manner provided in Section 309 for C-3 O(SD) Districts, Section 329 for Mixed Use~~
16 ~~Districts, and in Section 303 for all other Districts in cases where the Planning Commission can~~
17 ~~determine that the final design of the parking access minimizes negative impacts to transit movement~~
18 ~~and to the safety of pedestrians and bicyclists to the fullest extent feasible.~~

19           ~~—(5) Corner lots in the SALI District. For corner lots in the SALI District, no new curb~~
20 ~~cut shall be permitted, nor any existing curb cut expanded, on any Street or Alley identified as an alley~~
21 ~~in the Western SoMa Area Plan of the General Plan if any property on the same block with frontage~~
22 ~~along that Street or Alley is designated as a RED or RED-MX District.~~

23           ~~(6) A “development lot” shall mean any lot containing a proposal for new~~
24 ~~construction, building alterations which would increase the gross square footage of a structure by 20~~
25 ~~percent or more, or change of use of more than 50 percent of the gross floor area of a structure~~

1 containing parking. Pre-existing access to off-street parking and loading on development lots that
2 violates the restrictions of this Section 155(r) may not be maintained.

4 (t) Garage Additions in the North Beach Neighborhood Commercial District,
5 North Beach-Telegraph Hill Residential Special Use District, and Chinatown Mixed Use
6 Districts. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code to the contrary, a mandatory
7 discretionary review hearing by the Planning Commission is required in order to install a
8 garage in an existing or proposed structure of two units or more in the North Beach NCD, the
9 North Beach-Telegraph Hill Residential SUD, and the Chinatown Mixed Use Districts.

10 In order to approve the installation of any garage in these districts, the City shall 11 find that: (1) the proposed garage opening/addition of off-street parking will not cause the
12 elimination or reduction of ground-story retail or commercial space; (2) the proposed garage
13 opening/addition of off-street parking will not eliminate or decrease the square footage of any
14 ~~d~~Dwelling ~~u~~Unit, (3) the building has not had two or more evictions with each eviction
15 associated with a separate ~~u~~Dwelling Unit(s) within the past 10 ~~ten~~ years, and (4) the garage
16 would not front on an Alley pursuant to Section 155(r)~~(2)~~(1) of this Code or on a public right-of-
17 way narrower than 41 feet, and (5) the proposed garage/addition of off-street parking is
18 consistent with the Priority Policies of Section 101.1 of this Code. Prior to the issuance of
19 notification under Section 311 or 312 of this Code, the Department shall require a signed
20 affidavit by the project sponsor attesting to (1), (2), and (3) above, which the Department shall
21 independently verify, and the Department shall determine whether the project complies with 22 subsection (4) above. If the project sponsor does not provide such signed affidavit, or the 23 garage would front on an Alley or on a public right-of-way narrower than 41 feet, the 24 Department shall disapprove the application and no Planning Commission hearing shall be
25 required.

8 (2) Installation of a Parking Garage. Installation of a garage in an existing or
9 proposed residential building of two or more units requires a mandatory discretionary review
10 hearing by the Planning Commission. In order to approve the installation of any garage in 11 these districts, the Commission shall find that: (1) the proposed garage opening/addition of 12 off-street parking will not cause the elimination or reduction of ground-story retail or
13 commercial space; (2) the proposed garage opening/addition of off-street parking will not
14 eliminate or decrease the square footage of any dwelling unit; (3) the building has not had two
15 or more evictions within the past 10 years, with each eviction associated with a separate
16 unit(s), (4) the garage would not front on an Alley pursuant to Section 155(r)~~(2)~~(1) of this Code
17 or on a public right-of-way narrower than 41 feet, and (5) the proposed garage opening/
18 addition of off-street parking is consistent with the Priority Policies of Section 101.1 of this
19 Code.

23 * * * *

24 (c) Use Controls. The following provisions shall apply to the special use district:

25 * * * *

1 (8) Protected Street Frontages.

2 (A) Section 155(r)~~(3)~~(4)(A)-(B) shall not apply within the special use
3 district.

4 (B) For the purposes of Section 155(r)(4)(C), the project does not have
5 alternative frontage to Third Street and Mission Street, and therefore curb cuts accessing off-
6 street parking or loading off Third Street and Mission Street may be permitted as an exception
7 pursuant to Section 309 and Section 155(r)(4)(C).

9 Section 10. San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Special Use District.
10 Article 2 of the Planning Code is hereby amended by adding Section 249.11, to read as
11 follows:

12 SEC. 249.11 NON-CONTIGUOUS SAN FRANCISCO MUNICIPAL TRANSPORTATION
13 AGENCY SITES SPECIAL USE DISTRICT.

14 (a) Purpose. There shall be a non-contiguous Special Use District (“SUD”) for sites owned by
15 the City and County of San Francisco and under the jurisdiction of the San Francisco Municipal
16 Transportation Agency (SFMTA) to enable SFMTA to use the sites for transportation and other Public
17 uses as well as uses permitted by the underlying zoning district. This SUD also enables mixed-use
18 residential development with characteristics not accommodated by underlying zoning.

19 (b) Applicability. The provisions in this Section 249.11 shall apply to the following Assessor’s
20 Block/Lots: 0019/001; 0490/009, 010, 011, 012, 013; 0635/009, 009A; 0669/012; 1072/001; 1439/035,
21 036, 045, 048, 049; 1440/028, 029, 030; 1453/020; 1526/002, 028, 028A; 1596/044, 045; 1730/050;
22 1763/044; 2647/034, 017; 2864/050; 2979A/002, 034; 2988A/007; 3582/087; 6507/023; 6972/036;
23 7225/013; 7226/016. Notwithstanding Planning Code Section 206.10, which prohibits projects within
24 SUDs that implement Development Agreements from using the HC-SF Program, residential
25 development projects within this SUD may use the HC-SF Program even when such development is

1 associated with a Development Agreement, Project Agreement or other similar agreement.

2 (c) General Controls.

3 (1) Permitted Uses. In addition to any uses permitted by the zoning district in which the
4 lot is located, uses permitted under Section 211.1 shall be principally permitted and uses conditionally
5 permitted under 211.2 shall be conditionally permitted. Where there is a conflict between land use
6 controls in the underlying zoning district and those in Sections 211.1 or 211.2, the more permissive
7 control shall apply.

8 (2) Residential Density. Maximum residential density limits or Floor Area Ratio limits
9 shall not apply to Residential Uses in the SUD. Form Based density shall apply to Residential Uses in
10 the SUD.

11 (3) Measurement of Height. Notwithstanding Planning Code Section 260(a) regarding
12 Method of Measurement, the height of a structure containing a Public Facility may be measured from 13 the centerline of such structure along any frontage for that structure's entire depth.

14 (4) Bulk and Lot Coverage. For Development projects that are in height districts that
15 allow heights of 400 feet or greater, and are using the HC-SF Program in Section 206.10, the following
16 bulk controls and lot coverage provisions shall apply:

17 (A) Notwithstanding Sections 270(i)(1)(A)(i) and 270(i)(1)(B)(i) no setbacks are
18 required for interior property lines abutting lots with a Public Facility.

19 (B) Below a height of 85 feet, no rear yard or lot coverage limits shall apply.
20 For portions of a building between 85 feet in height and 120 feet in height, the bulk controls of Section
21 270(i) shall not apply; rather, for a lot that does not include a Public Facility, the lot coverage shall be
22 limited to 60% of the lot area.

23 (C) For portions of a building above 120 feet in height (herein "above the 24 podium"), building mass may be provided in up to two towers that meet the bulk limits of Section
25 270(i)(1). However, the following exceptions to Section 270(i)(1) shall apply:

1 (i) Tower separation may be reduced to not less than 50 feet if the height
2 of the shorter tower above the podium is no taller than one-half the height of the taller tower above the
3 podium.

4 (ii) A tower's average floorplate above the podium shall be no larger
5 than 14,000 square feet.

6 (iii) If there are two towers, one of the towers shall not be taller than 360
7 feet.

8 (iv) The combined maximum gross floor area of two towers, measured
9 for floors between 120 feet and 360 feet in height shall be limited to 576,000 square feet.

10 (v) The average floorplate for the top 1/3 portion of a tower above the
11 podium shall be reduced in square footage by 10% from the average floorplate of the lower 2/3 portion
12 of the tower, and the allowed maximum dimensions in Section 270(i)(B) for such top 1/3 portion of the 13 tower shall be reduced by 5% from the lower 2/3 portion of the tower.

14 (vi) The standards in this subsection (c)(4)(C) are not eligible for the
15 reduction or modification of standards in Section 206.10(d)(1)(M).

16 (5) Open Space. Section 135 shall apply, except as follows:

17 (A) On-Site Publicly Accessible Usable Open Space. The usable open space
18 requirement may be met for projects subject to the SUD with on-site publicly accessible usable open
19 space, including open space otherwise required by Planning Code Section 270.3. When on-site
20 publicly accessible usable open space is provided, the maintenance, information plaque, and liability
21 provisions of Section 270.3(e) shall apply.

22 (B) Off-Site Publicly Accessible Usable Open Space. When additional off-site
23 improvements are made to meet the usable open space requirement, including improvements on
24 adjacent sidewalks and public rights-of-way, such open space improvements shall comply with all
25 applicable regulations of the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency, San Francisco Art

1 Commission, the Department of Public Works, the Bureau of Light, Heat and Power of the Public
2 Utility Commission, or any other public agency, as applicable. The property owner shall maintain all
3 such improvements and meet the liability provisions of Section 270.3(e) for the life of the project.

4 (6) Development Impact Fees. For a development project on land subject to the SUD:

5 (A) With the recommendation of the SFMTA Board of Directors, the Board of
6 Supervisors may waive all or a portion of any applicable Transportation Sustainability Fee under
7 Section 411A, and all or a portion of any applicable Jobs-Housing Linkage Program requirements
8 under Section 413.

9 (B) The provisions of Section 415 et seq., as amended or replaced from time to
10 time, shall apply. Notwithstanding Section 415.6(h)(1), a development project may receive development
11 subsidies if the development provides the same number of on-site affordable units as required by the
12 applicable on-site affordable housing requirement in Section 415 et seq., or any temporary reduction
13 as set forth in Sections 415A et seq. or 415B et seq., plus an additional number of on-site affordable
14 units equal to 25% of the applicable on-site affordable units. Additional units shall be provided as
15 affordable to households at or below 80% of Area Median Income. Any units required to be affordable
16 to middle- or moderate-income households under Sections 415.6(a), 415A, or 415B, as applicable, or
17 this subsection 249.11(c)(6)(B), may instead be affordable to moderate- or low-income households.
18 Notwithstanding Section 415.6(f)(1), the moderate and low income units may be located anywhere in 19 the project.

20
21 Section 11. Displaced Businesses. Article 2 of the Planning Code is hereby amended
22 by adding Section 202.17, to read as follows:

23 SEC. 202.17. PERMITTED USES AND USE SIZE LIMITS FOR DISPLACED
24 BUSINESSES; NOTICE REQUIREMENT.

25 (a) Purpose. It is to the general benefit of the people of San Francisco and the unique

1 character of the City and its neighborhoods to retain commercially viable businesses that are forced to
2 close and relocate for a variety of reasons, including but not limited to new development, escalating
3 commercial rent, or other economic hardship. The provisions of this Section 202.17 are intended to
4 streamline and increase opportunities for Displaced Businesses to relocate within the City, but do not
5 override any controls enacted by voter initiative.

6 (b) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply to this Section 202.17.

7 New Location means the site or location where a Displaced Business seeks to be
8 permitted.

9 Prior Location means the place of operation where a Displaced Business was lawfully
10 permitted and operated for at least five years prior to relocating to the New Location.

11 Displaced Business means a commercial or institutional use with less than 50,000
12 square feet of Gross Floor Area, whose lease expired and was not renewed, or was otherwise
13 terminated by the property owner, and submits a complete Development Application to relocate to a
14 New Location within five years of the property owner submitting a complete Development Application
15 for development at the site of the Prior Location. Any Displaced Business shall not be considered a
16 Displaced Business upon the Department’s approval of the first Development Application to relocate to 17 the New Location.

18 (c) Controls.

19 (1) Conditional Use Authorization Not Required. Notwithstanding any other provision
20 of this Code, if the use and use size associated with a Displaced Business is either principally or
21 conditionally permitted in the zoning district of the New Location, the use and use size of the Displaced
22 Business shall be principally permitted. In no event shall this subsection be construed to permit a use
23 or use size that is not permitted in the zoning district of a proposed New Location, or to allow Formula
24 Retail uses in the Neighborhood Commercial Districts without Conditional Use authorization.

25 (2) No Development Impact Fees. A relocating Displaced Business shall not be subject

1 to fees pursuant to Article 4.

2 (d) Notice of Development Applications to Existing Businesses. Within 15 days of
3 determining that a Development Application is complete or deemed complete, if the Development
4 Application is proposed at a property where there is an existing commercial or industrial use with less
5 than 50,000 square feet of Gross Floor Area, the Department shall provide mailed and electronic
6 notice of the Development Application to the existing non-residential tenant and the Office of Small
7 Business. This provision does not increase or decrease the rights or obligations of the property owner
8 or non-residential tenant pursuant to a private agreement, such as a lease.

9
10 Section 12. Miscellaneous Amendments. These amendments are related to the 11 Housing Element rezoning, and include other code changes to streamline the consideration of 12 housing projects. Articles 1, 1.2, 2, and 3 of the Planning Code are hereby amended by 13 revising Sections 102, 202.2, 306.1, 311 and 317, and deleting Sections 140.1, 206.5, and 14 318, to read as follows.

15 SEC. 102. DEFINITIONS.

16 * * * *

17 DBI. The San Francisco Department of Building Inspection or its successor.

18 Density, Form-Based. A type of residential density where the maximum number of residential
19 units is not numerically limited by lot or lot area but by the number of units that could be built within
20 the volume of a proposed development that complies with all applicable Planning Code requirements
21 and Objective Standards. Such requirements and standards include, but are not limited to, Height,
22 Bulk, Rear Yard, Lot Coverage, Setbacks, Open Space, Dwelling Unit Exposure, and Dwelling Unit
23 Mix.

24 Density, Numeric. A type of residential density where the permitted maximum number of 25 residential units is calculated based on a specified number of units per lot, or number of units per lot

1 area.

2 * * * *

3 Objective Standard. A standard that does not involve personal or subjective judgment and is
4 publicly available and uniformly verifiable by reference to a benchmark or criterion and knowable,
5 including but not limited to those in the Planning Code or any applicable standards adopted by the
6 Planning Commission, Zoning Administrator, or Board of Supervisors (by ordinance), which are under
7 the purview of the Planning Commission, Planning Department, or Zoning Administrator, including
8 any Citywide Design Standards.

9 Occupied Floor Area. See Floor Area, Occupied.

10 * * * *

11 Residential Care Facility. An Institutional Healthcare Use providing lodging, board,
12 and care for a period of 24 hours or more to persons in need of specialized aid by personnel
13 licensed by the State of California. Such facility shall display nothing on or near the facility that 14 gives an outward indication of the nature of the occupancy except for a sign as permitted by
15 Article 6 of this Code, shall not provide outpatient services, and shall be located in a structure
16 which remains residential in character. Such facilities shall include, but not necessarily be
17 limited to, a board and care home, family care home, long-term nursery, orphanage, rest
18 home or home for the treatment of addictive, contagious or other diseases, or psychological
19 disorders.

20 Residential Flat. A Residential Unit in a building containing two or more Dwelling Units, that
21 has contiguous habitable space that extends the full depth of the building on the same story from the
22 front street-facing façade to the rear of the building, and has windows or doorways on both front and

24 * * * *

1            ~~SEC. 140.1. COMMON AREA REQUIREMENT FOR EFFICIENCY DWELLING UNITS~~
2 ~~WITH REDUCED SQUARE FOOTAGE.~~

3            ~~Buildings with 20 or more Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square footage, as defined in~~
4 ~~Section 318 of this Code, shall include at least one common room for use by the residents. Such~~
5 ~~common room(s) may be used as study or reading rooms, shared kitchen or dining facilities, media~~
6 ~~rooms, game rooms, fitness facilities, or similar uses appropriate to the needs of residents. Interior~~
7 ~~common areas shall be of sufficient size to reasonably accommodate residents' needs, but in no event~~
8 ~~shall the area required be less than ten square feet per unit.~~

9
10           SEC. 202.2. LOCATION AND OPERATING CONDITIONS.

11           * * * *

12           (f) Residential Uses. The Residential Uses listed below shall be subject to the 13 corresponding conditions:

14           (1) Senior Housing. To qualify as Senior Housing, as defined in Section 102
15 of this Code, the following definitions shall apply and shall have the same meaning as the
16 definitions in California Civil Code Sections 51.2, 51.3, and 51.4, as amended from time to
17 time. These definitions shall apply as shall all of the other provisions of Civil Code Sections
18 51.2, 51.3, and 51.4. Any Senior Housing must also be consistent with the Fair Housing Act,
19 42 U.S.C. §§ 3601-3631 and the Fair Employment and Housing Act, California Government
20 Code Sections 12900-12996.

21           * * * *

22           (C) Definition. "Senior Citizen Housing Development" means a
23 residential development developed, substantially rehabilitated, or substantially renovated for
24 senior citizens ~~that has at least 35 Dwelling Units~~. Any Senior Citizen Housing Development that
25 is required to obtain a public report under Section 11010 of the Business and Professions

1 Code and that submits its application for a public report after July 1, 2001, shall be required to
2 have been issued a public report as a Senior Citizen Housing Development under Section
3 11010.05 of the Business and Professions Code. No housing development constructed prior
4 to January 1, 1985, shall fail to qualify as a Senior Citizen Housing Development because it
5 was not originally developed or put to use or occupancy by senior citizens.

7
8 ~~SEC. 206.5. STATE RESIDENTIAL DENSITY BONUS PROGRAM: ANALYZED.~~

9 ~~(a) Purpose. Sections 206.5, 206.6, and 206.7 shall be referred to as the San Francisco State~~
10 ~~Residential Density Bonus Program or the State Density Bonus Program. First, the Analyzed State~~
11 ~~Density Bonus Program in Section 206.5 offers an expedited process for projects that seek a density~~
12 ~~bonus that is consistent with the pre-vetted menu of incentives, concessions and waivers that the~~
13 ~~Planning Department and its consultants have already determined are feasible, result in actual cost~~
14 ~~reductions, and do not have specific adverse impacts upon public health and safety of the physical~~
15 ~~environment. Second the Individually Requested State Density Bonus Program in Section 206.6 details~~
16 ~~the review, analysis and approval process for any project seeking a density bonus that is consistent~~
17 ~~with State Law, but is not consistent with the requirements for the Analyzed State Density Bonus~~
18 ~~Program established in Section 206.5. Third, Section 206.7 describes density bonuses available under~~
19 ~~the State code for the provision of childcare facilities.~~

20 ~~This Section 206.5 implements the Analyzed State Density Bonus Program or “Analyzed State~~
21 ~~Program.” The Analyzed State Program offers an expedited process for projects that seek a density~~
22 ~~bonus that is consistent with, among other requirements set forth below, the pre-vetted menu of~~
23 ~~incentives, waiver and concessions.~~

24 ~~(b) Applicability.~~

25 ~~(1) A Housing Project that meets all of the requirements of this subsection (b)(1) or is a~~

1 ~~Senior Housing Project meeting the criteria of (b)(2) shall be an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project~~
2 ~~or an “Analyzed Project” for purposes of Sections 206 et seq. A Housing Project that does not meet all~~
3 ~~of the requirements of this subsection (b), but seeks a density bonus under State law may apply for a~~
4 ~~density bonus under Section 206.6 as an Individually Requested State Density Bonus Project. To~~
5 ~~qualify for the Analyzed State Density Bonus Program a Housing Project must meet all of the~~
6 ~~following:~~

7 ~~(A) contain five or more residential units, as defined in Section 102, not~~
8 ~~including any Group Housing as defined in Section 102, efficiency dwelling units with reduced square~~
9 ~~footage defined in Section 318, and Density Bonus Units permitted through this Section 206.5 or other~~
10 ~~density program;~~

11 ~~(B) is not seeking and receiving a density or development bonus under Section~~
12 ~~207; the HOME-SF Program, Section 206.3; the 100 Percent Affordable Housing Bonus Program,~~
13 ~~Section 206.4; or any other local or State density bonus program that provides development bonuses;~~

14 ~~(C) for projects located in Neighborhood Commercial Districts is not seeking to~~
15 ~~merge lots that result in more than 125 linear feet in lot frontage on any one street;~~

16 ~~(D) is located in any zoning district that: (i) is not designated as an RH-1 or~~
17 ~~RH-2 Zoning District; (ii) establishes a maximum dwelling unit density through a ratio of number of~~
18 ~~units to lot area, including but not limited to, RH-3, RM, RC, C-2, Neighborhood Commercial, Named~~
19 ~~Neighborhood Commercial, and SoMa Mixed Use Districts, but only if the SoMa Mixed Use District~~
20 ~~has a density measured by a maximum number of dwelling units per square foot of lot area; (iii) is not~~
21 ~~in the North of Market Residential Special Use District, Planning Code Section 249.5 until the~~
22 ~~Affordable Housing Incentive Study is completed at which time the Board will review whether the North~~
23 ~~of Market Residential Special Use District should continue to be excluded from this Program. The~~
24 ~~Study will explore opportunities to support and encourage the provision of housing at the low,~~
25 ~~moderate, and middle income range in neighborhoods where density controls have been eliminated.~~

1 ~~The goal of this analysis is to incentivize increased affordable housing production levels at deeper and~~
2 ~~wider ranges of AMI and larger unit sizes in these areas through 100% affordable housing~~
3 ~~development as well as below market rate units within market rate developments; (iv) is not located~~
4 ~~within the boundaries of the Northeastern Waterfront Area Plan south of the centerline of Broadway;~~
5 ~~and (v) is not located on property under the jurisdiction of the Port of San Francisco;~~

6 ~~(E) is providing all Inclusionary Units as On-site Units under Section 415.6;~~

7 ~~(F) includes a minimum of nine foot ceilings on all residential floors;~~

8 ~~(G) is seeking only Concessions or Incentives set forth in subsection (c)(4);~~

9 ~~(H) is seeking height increases only in the form of a waiver as described in~~
10 ~~subsection (c)(5);~~

11 ~~(I) does not demolish, remove, or convert any residential units;~~

12 ~~(J) consists only of new construction, and excluding any project that includes an~~
13 ~~addition to an existing structure;~~

14 ~~(K) includes at the ground floor level active uses, as defined in Section 145.1 at~~
15 ~~the same square footages as any neighborhood commercial uses demolished or removed;~~

16 ~~(L) if any retail use is demolished or removed, does not include a Formula~~
17 ~~Retail use, as defined in Section 303.1, unless the retail use demolished or removed was also a Formula~~
18 ~~Retail use, or one of the following uses: Gas Stations, Private or Public Parking Lots, Financial~~
19 ~~Services, Fringe Financial Services, Self Storage, Motel, Automobile Sales or Rental, Automotive~~
20 ~~Wash, Mortuaries, Adult Business, Massage Establishment, Medical Cannabis Dispensary, and~~
21 ~~Tobacco Paraphernalia Establishment, as those uses are defined in Planning Code Section 102;~~

22 ~~(M) all on-site income-restricted residential units in the Housing Project are no~~
23 ~~smaller than the minimum unit sizes set forth by the California Tax Credit Allocation Committee as of~~
24 ~~May 16, 2017; and~~

25 ~~(N) notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, includes a minimum~~

1 dwelling unit mix of at least 40% of all units as two or three bedroom units, including at least 10% of
2 units as three bedroom units. Larger units should be distributed on all floors, and prioritized in spaces
3 adjacent to open spaces or play yards. Units with two or three bedrooms should incorporate family
4 friendly amenities, including bathtubs, dedicated cargo bicycle parking, dedicated stroller storage, and 5 open space and yards designed for use by children.

6 (2) ~~A Senior Housing Project, as defined in Section 102, may qualify as an Analyzed~~
7 ~~State Density Bonus Project if it follows all of the procedures and conditions set forth in Planning Code~~
8 ~~Section 202.2(f).~~

9 (3) ~~If located north of the centerline of Post Street and east of the centerline of Van~~
10 ~~Ness Avenue, all otherwise eligible Analyzed State Law Density Bonus Projects shall only be permitted~~ 11 ~~on:~~

12 (A) ~~lots containing no existing buildings; or~~

13 (B) ~~lots equal to or greater than 12,500 square feet where existing buildings are~~
14 ~~developed to less than 20% of the lot's principally permitted buildable gross floor area as determined~~
15 ~~by height limits, rear yard requirements and required setbacks.~~

16 (c) ~~Development Bonuses.~~ All Analyzed State Law Density Bonus Projects shall receive, at the 17 project sponsor's written request, any or all of the following:

18 (1) ~~Priority Processing.~~ Analyzed Projects that provide 30% or more of Units as On-
19 site Inclusionary Housing Units or Restricted Affordable Units that meet all of the requirements for an 20 Inclusionary Housing Unit shall receive Priority Processing.

21 (2) ~~Density Bonus.~~ Analyzed Projects that provide On-site Inclusionary Housing Units
22 or Restricted Affordable Units that meet all of the requirements for an Inclusionary Housing Unit shall 23 receive a density bonus as described in Table 206.5A as follows:

24

Table 206.5A
Density Bonus Summary — Analyzed

Restricted Affordable Units or Category	Minimum Percentage of Restricted Affordable Units	Percentage of Density Bonus Granted	Additional Bonus for Each 1% Increase In Restricted Affordable Units	Percentage of Restricted Units Required for Maximum 35% Density Bonus
Very Low Income	5%	20%	2.50%	11%
Lower Income	10%	20%	1.50%	20%
Moderate Income	10%	5%	1%	40%
Senior Citizen Housing, as defined in § 102, and meeting the requirements of § 202.2(f).	100%	50%	—	—

Note: A density bonus may be selected from more than one category, up to a maximum of 35% of the Maximum Allowable Gross Residential Density.

In calculating density bonuses under this subsection 206.5(c)(2) the following shall apply:

(A) When calculating the number of permitted Density Bonus Units or Restricted Affordable Units, any fractions of units shall be rounded to the next highest number. Analyzed Density Bonus Program projects must include the minimum percentage of Restricted Affordable Units identified in Column B of Table 206.5A for at least one income category, but may combine density bonuses from more than one income category, up to a maximum of 35% of the Maximum Allowable Gross Residential Density.

(B) An applicant may elect to receive a Density Bonus that is less than the amount permitted by this Section; however, the City shall not be required to similarly reduce the number of Restricted Affordable Units required to be dedicated pursuant to this Section and Government Code Section 65915(b).

(C) In no case shall a Housing Project be entitled to a Density Bonus of more than 35%, unless it is a Senior Housing Project meeting the requirements of Section 202.2(f).

(D) The Density Bonus Units shall not be included when determining the

1 number of Restricted Affordable Units required to qualify for a Density Bonus. Density bonuses shall
 2 be calculated as a percentage of the Maximum Allowable Gross Residential Density.

3 (E) Any Restricted Affordable Unit provided pursuant to the on-site
 4 requirements of the Inclusionary Affordable Housing Program, Section 415 et seq., shall be included
 5 when determining the number of Restricted Affordable Units required to qualify for a Development
 6 Bonus under this Section 206.5. The payment of the Affordable Housing Fee shall not qualify for a
 7 Development Bonus under this Section. The provision of Off-site Units shall not qualify the Principal
 8 Project for a Density Bonus under this Section; however an Off-site Unit may qualify as a Restricted
 9 Affordable Unit to obtain a density bonus for the Off-site Project.

10 (F) In accordance with state law, neither the granting of a Concession,
 11 Incentive, waiver, or modification, nor the granting of a Density Bonus, shall be interpreted, in and of
 12 itself, to require a general plan amendment, zoning change, variance, or other discretionary approval.

13 (3) Concessions and Incentives. Analyzed Projects shall receive concessions or 14 incentives, in the amounts specified in Table 206.5B:

Table 206.5B
Concessions and Incentives Summary — Analyzed Projects
Target Group	Restricted Affordable Units
Very Low Income	5%	10%	15%
Lower Income	10%	20%	30%
Moderate Income (Common Interest Development)	10%	20%	30%
Maximum Incentive(s)/ Concession(s)	1	2	3

20 Notes: 1. Common Interest Development is defined in California Civil Code Section 4100.

21 (4) Menu of Concessions and Incentives: In submitting a request for Concessions or
 22 Incentives, an applicant for an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project may request the specific
 23 Concessions and Incentives set forth below. The Planning Department, based on Department research
 24 and a Residential Density Bonus Study prepared by David Baker Architects, Seifel Consulting, and the 25

1 San Francisco Planning Department dated August 2015, on file with the Clerk of the Board of
2 Supervisors in File No. 150969, has determined that the following Concessions and Incentives are
3 generally consistent with Government Code Section 65915(d) because, in general, they: are required in
4 order to provide for affordable housing costs; will not be deemed by the Department to have a specific
5 adverse impact as defined in Government Code Section 65915(d); and are not contrary to State or
6 Federal law.

7 (A) Rear yard: the required rear yard per Section 134 or any applicable special
8 use district may be reduced to no less than 20% of the lot depth, or 15 feet, whichever is greater.
9 Corner properties may provide 20% of the lot area at the interior corner of the property to meet the
10 minimum rear yard requirement, provided that each horizontal dimension of the open area is a
11 minimum of 15 feet; and that the open area is wholly or partially contiguous to the existing midblock
12 open space, if any, formed by the rear yards of adjacent properties.

13 (B) Dwelling Unit Exposure: the dwelling unit exposure requirements of
14 Section 140(a)(2) may be satisfied through qualifying windows facing an unobstructed open area that
15 is no less than 25 feet in every horizontal dimension, and such open area is not required to expand in 16 every horizontal dimension at each subsequent floor.

18 required.

19 (D) Parking: up to a 50% reduction in the residential and commercial parking
20 requirement, per Section 151 or any applicable special use district.

21 (E) Open Space: up to a 5% reduction in required common open space per
22 Section 135, or any applicable special use district.

23 (F) Additional Open Space: up to an additional 5% reduction in required
24 common open space per Section 135 or any applicable special use district, beyond the 5% provided in
25 subsection (E) above.

1            ~~(5) Waiver or Modification of Height Limits. Analyzed Projects may request a waiver~~
2 ~~of the applicable height restrictions if the applicable height limitation will have the effect of physically~~
3 ~~precluding the construction of a Housing Project at the densities or with the Concessions or Incentives~~
4 ~~permitted by subsection (c)(4). Analyzed Projects may receive a height bonus as of right of up to twenty~~
5 ~~feet or two stories, excluding exceptions permitted per Section 260(b), if the applicant demonstrates~~
6 ~~that it qualifies for a height waiver through the following formula:~~

7            ~~Step one: Calculate Base Density and Bonus Density Limits~~

8            ~~Calculate Base Density (BD), as defined in Section 206.2.~~

9            ~~Bonus Density Limit (BD): ED multiplied by 1.XX where XX is the density bonus~~
10 ~~requested per Section 206.5 of this Code (e.g. 7%, 23%, 35%), not to exceed 1.35, the maximum density~~
11 ~~bonus available by this Section.~~

12            ~~Step two: Calculate Permitted Envelope (PE). Buildable envelope available under~~
13 ~~existing height and bulk controls.~~

14            ~~PE equals lot area multiplied by permitted lot coverage, where lot coverage equals .75,~~
15 ~~or .8 if the developer elects to request a rear yard modification under Section 206.5(c)(4)(A), multiplied~~
16 ~~by existing height limit (measured in number of stories), minus one story for projects in districts where~~
17 ~~non-residential uses are required on the ground floor, and minus any square footage subject to bulk~~
18 ~~limitations (for parcels that do not have an X bulk designation).~~

19            ~~Step three: Calculate Bonus Envelope (BE). Residential envelope necessary to~~
20 ~~accommodate additional density (“Bonus envelope” or “BE”).~~

21            ~~BE equals Bonus Density multiplied by 1,000 gross square feet.~~

22            ~~Step four: Calculate Additional Residential Floors. Determine the number of stories~~
23 ~~required to accommodate bonus:~~

24            ~~(A) If BE is less than or equal to PE, the project is not awarded height under~~
25 ~~this subsection (c)(5).~~

1 ~~(B) If BE is greater than PE, the project is awarded height, as follows:~~

2 ~~(i) If BE minus PE is less than the lot area multiplied by 0.75, project is~~
3 ~~allowed one extra story; total gross square footage of building not to exceed BE; or~~

4 ~~(ii) If BE minus PE is greater than the lot area multiplied by 0.75 (i.e. if~~
5 ~~the difference is greater than one story), project is allowed two extra stories; total gross square footage~~
6 ~~of building not to exceed BE.~~

7 ~~(d) Application. An application for an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project under this Section~~
8 ~~206.5 shall be submitted with the first application for approval of a Housing Project and shall be~~
9 ~~processed concurrently with all other applications required for the Housing Project. The application~~
10 ~~shall be on a form prescribed by the City and, in addition to any information required for other~~
11 ~~applications, shall include the following information:~~

12 ~~(1) A description of the proposed Housing Project, including the total number of~~
13 ~~dwelling units, Restricted Affordable Units, and Density Bonus Units proposed;~~

14 ~~(2) Any zoning district designation, Base Density, assessor's parcel number(s) of the~~
15 ~~project site, and a description of any Density Bonus, Concession or Incentive, or waiver requested;~~

16 ~~(3) A list of the requested Concessions and Incentives from Section 206.5(c)(4);~~

17 ~~(4) If a waiver or modification of height is requested under Section 206.5(c)(5), a~~
18 ~~calculation demonstrating how the project qualifies for such waiver under the formula;~~

19 ~~(5) A full plan set including site plan, elevations, sections, and floor plans, number of~~
20 ~~market rate units, Restricted Affordable Units, and Density Bonus units within the proposed Housing~~
21 ~~Project. The location of all units must be approved by the Planning Department before the issuance of~~
22 ~~the building permit;~~

23 ~~(6) Level of affordability of the Restricted Affordable Units and a draft Regulatory~~ 24 ~~Agreement; and~~

25 ~~(7) Documentation that the applicant has provided written notification to all existing~~

1 ~~commercial tenants that the applicant intends to develop the property pursuant to this section. Any~~
2 ~~affected commercial tenants shall be given priority processing similar to the Department's Community~~
3 ~~Business Priority Processing Program, as adopted by the Planning Commission on February 12, 2015~~
4 ~~under Resolution Number 19323 to support relocation of such business in concert with access to~~
5 ~~relevant local business support programs. In no case may a project receive a site permit or any~~
6 ~~demolition permit prior to 18 months from the date of written notification required by this Section~~
7 ~~206.5(d)(7).~~

8 ~~(e) Review Procedures. An application for an Analyzed State Density Bonus Project, shall be~~
9 ~~acted upon concurrently with the application for other permits related to the Housing Project.~~

10 ~~(1) Before approving an application for an Analyzed Project, the Planning Department~~
11 ~~or Commission shall make written findings that the Housing Project is qualified as an Analyzed State~~
12 ~~Density Bonus Project.~~

13 ~~(2) Analyzed Projects shall be governed by the conditional use procedures of Section~~
14 ~~303. All notices shall specify that the Housing Project is seeking a Development Bonus and shall~~
15 ~~provide a description of the Development Bonuses requested. Analyzed Projects shall also be reviewed~~
16 ~~for consistency with the Affordable Housing Bonus Program Design Guidelines.~~

17 ~~(f) Regulatory Agreements. Recipients of a Density Bonus, Incentive, Concession, waiver, or~~
18 ~~modification shall enter into a Regulatory Agreement with the City, as follows.~~

19 ~~(1) The terms of the agreement shall be acceptable in form and content to the Planning~~
20 ~~Director, the Director of MOHCD, and the City Attorney. The Planning Director shall have the~~
21 ~~authority to execute such agreements.~~

22 ~~(2) Following execution of the agreement by all parties, the completed Density Bonus~~
23 ~~Regulatory Agreement, or memorandum thereof, shall be recorded and the conditions filed and~~
24 ~~recorded on the Housing Project.~~

25 ~~(3) The approval and recordation of the Regulatory Agreement shall take place prior to~~

1 ~~the issuance of the First Construction Document. The Regulatory Agreement shall be binding to all~~
2 ~~future owners and successors in interest.~~

3 ~~(4) The Regulatory Agreement shall be consistent with the guidelines of the City's~~
4 ~~Inclusionary Housing Program and shall include at a minimum the following:~~

5 ~~(A) The total number of dwelling units approved for the Housing Project,~~
6 ~~including the number of Restricted Affordable Units, Inclusionary Units, HOME-SF Units or other~~
7 ~~restricted units;~~

8 ~~(B) A description of the household income group to be accommodated by the~~
9 ~~Restricted Affordable Units, and the standards for determining the corresponding Affordable Rent or~~
10 ~~Affordable Sales Price;~~

11 ~~(C) The location, dwelling unit sizes (in square feet), and number of bedrooms~~
12 ~~of the Restricted Affordable Units;~~

13 ~~(D) Term of use restrictions for Restricted Affordable Units of at least 55 years~~
14 ~~for Moderate Income units and at least 55 years for Low and Very Low units;~~

15 ~~(E) A schedule for completion and occupancy of Restricted Affordable Units;~~

16 ~~(F) A description of any Concession, Incentive, waiver, or modification, if any,~~
17 ~~being provided by the City;~~

18 ~~(G) A description of remedies for breach of the agreement (the City may identify~~ 19 ~~tenants or qualified purchasers as third party beneficiaries under the agreement);~~

20 ~~(H) A list of all on-site family friendly amenities. Family friendly amenities shall~~
21 ~~include, but are not limited to, dedicated cargo bicycle parking, dedicated stroller storage, and open~~
22 ~~space and yards designed for use by children; and~~

23 ~~(I) Other provisions to ensure implementation and compliance with this Section.~~

24
25 SEC. 306.1. APPLICATIONS AND FILING FEES.

1                   * * * *

2                   (c) Content of Applications. The content of applications shall be in accordance with
3 the policies, rules and regulations of the Planning Department, Zoning Administrator and the
4 Planning Commission. All applications shall be upon forms prescribed therefor, and shall
5 contain or be accompanied by all information required to assure the presentation of pertinent
6 facts for proper consideration of the case and for the permanent record. The applicant may be
7 required to file with his application the information needed for the preparation and mailing of
8 notices as specified in Section 306.3. In addition to any other information required by the
9 Planning Department, the Zoning Administrator and the Planning Commission, an applicant
10 for a conditional use permit or variance who proposes a commercial use for the subject
11 property shall disclose the name under which business will be, or is expected to be,
12 conducted at the subject property, if such name is known at the time of application. The term
13 "known" shall mean actual, not imputed knowledge, and shall consist of direct evidence
14 including but not limited to a contract of sale, lease, or rental, or letter of intent or agreement,
15 between the applicant and a commercial entity. If the business name becomes known to the
16 applicant during the conditional use permit or variance processing period, the applicant
17 promptly shall amend the application to disclose such business name. All applications must
18 disclose whether there are existing residential uses and non-residential uses, and disclose the presence
19 of any residential or non-residential tenants, located at the subject property at the time the application
20 is submitted.

21                   SEC. 311. PERMIT REVIEW PROCEDURES.

22                   (a) Purpose. The purpose of this Section 311 is to establish procedures for reviewing
23 ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Applications ~~applications~~ to determine compatibility of the 24 proposal with the neighborhood and for providing notice to property owners, tenants, and
25 residents on the site and neighboring the site of the proposed project and to interested

1 neighborhood organizations, so that concerns about a project may be identified and resolved
2 during the review of the permit. For purposes of this Section 311, a planning entitlement
3 Development Application ~~application~~ means the application submitted by a project sponsor to
4 the Planning Department, provided said application has been deemed complete by the
5 Planning Department, that includes the information necessary to conduct environmental
6 review, determine Planning Code compliance, and assess conformity with the General Plan.

7 (b) Applicability.

8 (1) Within the Priority Equity Geographies SUD, all planning entitlement
9 *Development A*pplications in Residential, NC, NCT, RTO, Chinatown Mixed Use Districts, and
10 Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts for demolition, new construction, or alteration of
11 buildings shall be subject to the notification and review procedures required by this Section
12 311. Notwithstanding the foregoing or any other requirement of this Section 311, planning
13 *entitlement Development A*pplications to construct an Accessory Dwelling Unit pursuant to
14 Section 207.2 shall not be subject to the notification or review requirements of this Section
15 311. A change of use to a principally permitted use in the Western SoMa Plan Area, Central
16 SoMa Plan Area, or East SoMa Plan Area shall not be subject to the provisions of this Section
17 311.

18 * * * *

19 (3) In all Other Projects in Residential, NC, NCT, and Eastern
20 Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts. All *planning entitlement Development A*pplications in 21 Residential, NC, NCT, and Eastern Neighborhoods Mixed Use Districts that propose any of 22 the following shall be subject to the notification and review procedures required by this
23 Section 311.

24 * * * *

25 (c) Planning-Entitlement Development* Application Review for Compliance. Upon

1 acceptance of any Development Application subject to this Section 311, the Planning
2 Department shall review the proposed project for compliance with the Planning Code and any
3 applicable design guidelines, and standards approved by the Planning Commission.
4 Applications determined ~~not~~ to be in compliance with the Objective Standards of Articles 1.2,
5 1.5, 2, and 2.5 of the Planning Code, and any applicable Objective Standards adopted by the
6 Commission shall be considered to be code-compliant. Development Applications for projects other
7 than code-compliant residential projects may be subject to additional controls, including the
8 Residential Design Guidelines, ~~including~~ design guidelines for specific areas adopted by the
9 Planning Commission, ~~or with~~ any applicable conditions of previous approvals regarding the
10 project, ~~shall be held until either the application is determined to be in compliance, is disapproved or a~~
11 ~~recommendation for cancellation is sent to the Department of Building Inspection.~~

12 (1) Design Guidelines and Standards. The construction of new buildings and
13 alteration of existing buildings shall be consistent with the design policies and guidelines of
14 the General Plan, applicable Objective Standards, ~~and with~~ the “Residential Design Guidelines,”
15 and all other applicable design guidelines and standards as adopted and periodically amended
16 for specific areas or conditions by the Planning Commission. ~~The design for new buildings with~~
17 ~~residential uses in RTO Districts shall also be consistent with the design standards and guidelines of~~
18 ~~the “Ground Floor Residential Units Design Guidelines” as adopted and periodically amended by the~~
19 ~~Planning Commission.~~ The Planning Director may require modifications to the exterior of a 20 proposed new building or proposed alteration of an existing building in order to bring it into 21 conformity with the applicable design guidelines. These modifications may include, but are not
22 limited to, changes in siting, building envelope, scale texture and detailing, openings, and
23 landscaping.

24 * * * *

25 (d) Notification. Upon determination that an application ~~is in compliance~~ complies with

1 the development standards of the Planning Code, the Planning Department shall cause a
2 notice to be posted on the site pursuant to rules established by the Zoning Administrator and
3 shall cause a written notice describing the proposed project to be sent in the manner
4 described below. This notice shall be in addition to any notices required by the Building Code
5 and shall have a format and content determined by the Zoning Administrator. The notice shall
6 describe the project review process and shall set forth the mailing date of the notice and the
7 expiration date of the notification period.

8 * * * *

9 (5) Notification Period. All ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Applications shall
10 be held for a period of 30 calendar days from the date of the mailed notice to allow review by 11 residents and owners of neighboring properties and by neighborhood groups.

12 (6) Elimination of Duplicate Notice. The notice provisions of this Section 311
13 may be waived by the Zoning Administrator for ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Applications
14 for projects that have been, or before approval will be, the subject of a duly noticed public
15 hearing before the Planning Commission or Zoning Administrator, provided that the nature of 16 work for which the ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Application is required is both
17 substantially included in the hearing notice and is the subject of the hearing.

18 (7) Notification Package. The notification package for a project subject to
19 notice under this Section 311 shall include a written notice and reduced-size drawings of the 20 project. Distributed plans and drawings may be limited to comply with applicable state laws.

21 * * * *

22 (D) The ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Application number(s) shall be
23 disclosed in the written notice. The start and expiration dates of the notice shall be stated. A
24 description about the recipient's rights to request additional information, to request
25 Discretionary Review by the Planning Commission and to appeal to other boards or

1 commissions shall be provided.

2 * * * *

3 (e) Requests for Planning Commission Review. A request for the Planning
4 Commission to exercise its discretionary review powers over a specific ~~planning entitlement~~
5 Development Application shall be considered by the Planning Commission if received by the
6 Planning Department no later than 5:00 p.m. of the last day of the notification period as
7 described in this Section 311, subject to guidelines adopted by the Planning Commission. The
8 project sponsor of a ~~planning entitlement~~ Development Application may request discretionary
9 review by the Planning Commission to resolve conflicts between the Director of Planning and
10 the project sponsor concerning requested modifications to comply with the Residential Design
11 Guidelines, or other applicable design guidelines or standard.

13
14 SEC. 317. LOSS OF RESIDENTIAL AND UNAUTHORIZED UNITS THROUGH
15 DEMOLITION, MERGER, AND CONVERSION.

16 (a) Findings. San Francisco faces a continuing shortage of affordable housing. There
17 is a high ratio of rental to ownership tenure among the City's residents. The General Plan
18 recognizes that existing housing is the greatest stock of rental and financially accessible
19 residential units, and is a resource in need of protection. Therefore, a public hearing will be
20 held prior to approval of any permit that would remove existing housing, reduce the size of a
21 Residential Flat, merge any portion of a Residential Flat with another unit, or change the configuration
22 of a Residential Flat such that the unit is no longer considered a Residential Flat, with certain
23 exceptions, as described below. The Planning Commission shall develop a Code
24 Implementation Document setting forth procedures and regulations for the implementation of
25 this Section 317 as provided further below. The Zoning Administrator shall modify economic

1 criteria related to property values and construction costs in the Implementation Document as
2 warranted by changing economic conditions to meet the intent of this Section.

3 (b) Definitions. For the purposes of this Section 317, the terms below shall be as
4 defined below. Capitalized terms not defined below are defined in Section 102 of this Code.

5 * * * *

6 (7) "Residential Merger" shall mean the combining of two or more Residential
7 or Unauthorized Units, resulting in a decrease in the number of Residential Units and
8 Unauthorized Units within a building, or the enlargement of one or more existing units while
9 ~~substantially~~ reducing the size of others by more than 25% of their original floor area, even if
10 the number of units is not reduced. The Planning Commission may reduce the numerical
11 element of this criterion by up to 20% of its value should it deem that adjustment is necessary
12 to implement the intent of this Section 317, to conserve existing housing and preserve
13 affordable housing. Residential Merger shall also include the reconfiguration of a Residential Flat
14 with another Dwelling Unit, if the proposed project would reconfigure an existing Residential Flat such
15 that the reconfigured Residential Flat would no longer meet the definition of a Residential Flat, even if
16 the number of Dwelling Units is not reduced and the Residential Flat is not reduced in size.

17 * * * *

18 (c) Applicability; Exemptions.

19 * * * *

20 ~~(12) Residential Flats. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section~~
21 ~~317, projects that propose the Merger, reconfiguration, or reduction in size of Residential Flats~~
22 ~~shall not require a Conditional Use authorization if the project would increase the number of~~
23 ~~Dwelling Units on the property.~~

24 * * * *

25 (g) Conditional Use Criteria.

1 * * * *

2 (6) Residential Demolition. The Planning Commission shall consider the
3 following additional criteria in the review of applications for Residential Demolition:

4 * * * *

5 (L) whether the project increases the number of family-sized units on-
6 site, and in the case of demolition of any Residential Flats whether the proposed project is
7 maintaining or increasing the number of units on the lot that contain at least two or more
8 bedrooms or that are at least equivalent in size to the Residential Flats being demolished;

9 * * * *

10 (8) Denial of Application to Remove an Unauthorized Unit; Requirement to
11 Legalize the Unit. If the Planning Commission denies an application to Remove an
12 Unauthorized Unit, the property owner shall file an Development Application and any necessary
13 application for a building permit to legalize the Unit. Failure to do so within a reasonable
14 period of time, as determined by the Zoning Administrator, shall be deemed to be a violation
15 of the Planning Code.

16 (9) Residential Flats. In addition to the other considerations in this subsection (g), the
17 Planning Commission shall consider the criteria below when reviewing a project application that
18 would merge a Residential Flat such that it would no longer meet the definition of a Residential Flat:

19 (A) whether reduction in size, reconfiguration, or merger of the Flat(s) would
20 reduce the size of any Flat by more than 25% of its original floor area; and

21 (B) whether the proposed project is maintaining or increasing the number of
22 units on the Lot that contain at least two or more bedrooms or that are at least equivalent in size to the
23 Residential Flats being reduced or reconfigured.

24 * * * *

25 ~~SEC. 318. EFFICIENCY DWELLING UNITS WITH REDUCED SQUARE FOOTAGE.~~

1            ~~(a) Definition. For purposes of this Section, an "Efficiency Dwelling Unit with reduced square~~
2 ~~footage" shall mean an Efficiency Dwelling Unit with a living room of less than 220 square feet and~~
3 ~~meeting the requirements of Section 1208.4 of the San Francisco Building Code that is not affordable~~
4 ~~housing, group housing, or student housing as defined in this Code.~~

5            ~~(b) Limitation on the Total Number of Efficiency Dwelling Units with Reduced Square~~
6 ~~Footage That Can Be Constructed. The Planning Department may approve the construction of up to a~~
7 ~~total number of 375 Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square footage; provided, however, that~~
8 ~~Efficiency Dwelling Units shall not be included in this total. For purposes of this subsection, individual~~
9 ~~units will be counted even if they comprise less than the total number of units in the building.~~

10           ~~(c) Reporting and Reauthorization. After the approval of approximately 325 Efficiency~~
11 ~~Dwelling Units with reduced square footage, the Planning Department in collaboration with the~~
12 ~~Mayor's Office of Housing shall submit a report to the Board of Supervisors that provides whatever~~
13 ~~information those Departments believe will assist the Board in determining whether to increase the~~
14 ~~numerical cap on the number of Efficiency Units with reduced square footage or to otherwise modify~~
15 ~~the requirements. At a minimum, the report shall include the following information:~~

16                 ~~(1) Pricing information, based on data from the Assessor's Office, for sales properties~~
17 ~~and, to the extent feasible, rental prices for the Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square footage;~~

18                 ~~(2) A comparison of the sales and rental pricing information for Efficiency Dwelling~~
19 ~~Units with reduced square footage to similar data for studio and 1-bedroom dwelling units;~~

20                 ~~(3) A map showing where the Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square footage~~
21 ~~are located, both projects that are entitled but not yet built and projects that have been constructed;~~

22                 ~~(4) A comparison of the numbers of Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square~~
23 ~~footage that are entitled and/or built and the goals for other dwelling unit sizes within any adopted~~
24 ~~Area Plans; and~~

25                 ~~(5) A comparison of the numbers of Efficiency Dwelling Units with reduced square~~

1 footage with the quantified housing production goals, to the extent available by household income
 2 level, set forth in the Regional Housing Needs Allocation.

2 SEC. 710. NC-1 – NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL CLUSTER DISTRICT.

3 NC-1 Districts are intended to serve as local neighborhood shopping districts, providing
4 convenience retail goods and services for the immediately surrounding neighborhoods
5 primarily during daytime hours.

6 These NC-1 Districts are characterized by their location in residential neighborhoods,
7 often in outlying areas of the City. The commercial intensity of these districts varies. Many of
8 these districts have the lowest intensity of commercial development in the City, generally
9 consisting of small clusters with three or more commercial establishments, commonly grouped
10 around a corner; and in some cases short linear commercial strips with low-scale,
11 interspersed mixed-use (residential-commercial) development.

12 Building controls for the NC-1 District promote lower-intensity development which is
13 compatible with the existing scale and character of these neighborhood areas. Commercial
14 development is limited to one story, with certain exceptions. Rear yard requirements at all levels
15 preserve existing backyard space.

16 NC-1 commercial use provisions encourage the full range of neighborhood-serving
17 convenience retail sales and services ~~at the first story provided that the use size generally is limited~~
18 ~~to 3,000 square feet, subject to certain use size~~ limitations. However, commercial uses and
19 features which could impact residential livability are prohibited, such as auto uses, financial
20 services, general advertising signs, drive-up facilities, hotels, and late-night activity. ~~;~~ ~~eating and~~
21 ~~drinking establishments are restricted, depending upon the intensity of such uses in nearby commercial~~
22 ~~districts.~~

23 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~in most~~
24 ~~districts. Existing residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story~~

1 ~~and limitations on demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant~~
 2 ~~to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

21 SEC. 711. NC-2 – SMALL-SCALE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

22 The NC-2 District is intended to serve as the City's Small-Scale Neighborhood
23 Commercial District. These districts are linear shopping streets which provide convenience
24 goods and services to the surrounding neighborhoods as well as limited comparison shopping
25 goods for a wider market. The range of comparison goods and services offered is varied and

1 often includes specialty retail stores, restaurants, and neighborhood-serving offices. NC-2
2 Districts are commonly located along both collector and arterial streets which have transit
3 routes.

4 These districts range in size from two or three blocks to many blocks, although the
5 commercial development in longer districts may be interspersed with housing or other land
6 uses. Buildings typically range in height from two to four stories with occasional one-story
7 commercial buildings.

8 The small-scale district controls provide for mixed-use buildings which approximate or
9 slightly exceed the standard development pattern. Rear yard requirements above the ground
10 story and at residential levels preserve open space corridors of interior blocks.

11 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
12 Neighborhood-serving businesses are strongly encouraged. ~~The second story may be used by~~
13 ~~some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.~~ Parking and
14 hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities, and other
15 automobile uses protect the livability within and around the district, and promote continuous
16 retail frontage.

17 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground ~~story~~floor.
18 ~~Existing residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions.~~
19 Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

18 SEC. 712. NC-3 – MODERATE-SCALE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL
19 DISTRICT.

20 NC-3 Districts are intended in most cases to offer a wide variety of comparison and
21 specialty goods and services to a population greater than the immediate neighborhood,
22 additionally providing convenience goods and services to the surrounding neighborhoods.
23 NC-3 Districts are linear districts located along heavily trafficked thoroughfares which also 24 serve as major transit routes.
25

1 NC-3 Districts include some of the longest linear commercial streets in the City, some
 2 of which have continuous retail development for many blocks. Large-scale lots and buildings
 3 and wide streets distinguish the districts from smaller-scaled commercial streets, although the
 4 districts may include small as well as moderately scaled lots. Buildings typically range in
 5 height from two to four stories with occasional taller structures.

6 NC-3 building standards permit moderately large commercial uses and buildings. Rear
 7 yards are protected at residential levels.

8 A diversified commercial environment is encouraged for the NC-3 District, and a wide
 9 variety of uses are permitted with special emphasis on neighborhood-serving businesses.
 10 Eating and drinking, entertainment, financial service and certain auto uses generally are
 11 permitted with certain limitations at the first and second stories. Other retail businesses,
 12 personal services and offices are permitted at all stories of new buildings. Limited storage and
 13 administrative service activities are permitted with some restrictions.

14 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing~~
 15 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
 16 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

20 SEC. 713. NC-S – NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL SHOPPING CENTER

21 DISTRICT.

22 NC-S Districts are intended to serve as small shopping centers or supermarket sites
 23 which provide retail goods and services for primarily car-oriented shoppers. They commonly 24 contain at least one anchor store or supermarket, and some districts also have small medical
 25 office buildings. The range of services offered at their retail outlets usually is intended to serve

1 the immediate and nearby neighborhoods. These districts encompass some of the most
 2 recent (post-1945) retail development in San Francisco's neighborhoods and serve as an
 3 alternative to the linear shopping street.

4 Shopping centers and supermarket sites contain mostly one-story buildings which are
 5 removed from the street edge and set in a parking lot. Outdoor pedestrian activity consists
 6 primarily of trips between the parking lot and the stores on-site. Ground and second stories
 7 are devoted to retail sales and some personal services and offices.

8 The NC-S standards and use provisions allow for medium-size commercial uses ~~in low-~~
 9 ~~scale buildings. Rear yards are not required for new development.~~ Most neighborhood-serving retail
 10 businesses are permitted at the first and second stories.

11 Housing development in new buildings is permitted. ~~Existing residential units are~~
 12 ~~protected by limitations on demolitions and prohibitions of upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
 13 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

3           (b) Intent of Controls. The Castro Street District controls are designed to
4 accommodate various scales of ~~maintain existing small-scale~~ development and promote a balanced
5 mix of uses. Building standards permit small- and mid-scale buildings and uses and protect
6 rear yards above the ground story and at residential levels. In new buildings, most commercial
7 uses are permitted at the ground and second stories. Special controls are necessary to
8 preserve the existing equilibrium of neighborhood-serving convenience and specialty
9 commercial uses. In order to maintain convenience stores and protect adjacent residential
10 livability, controls authorize some additional drinking establishments with a conditional use,
11 permit self-service specialty food establishments, and permit with certain limitations new late-
12 night uses, adult and other entertainment, and financial service uses. The continuous retail
13 frontage is maintained by prohibiting most automobile and drive-up uses. Housing
14 development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing housing units are~~
15 ~~protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are

1           SEC. 716. INNER CLEMENT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

2           The Inner Clement Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located on Clement
3 Street between Arguello Boulevard and Funston Avenue in the eastern portion of the
4 Richmond District of northwest San Francisco. The ~~d~~District provides a wide selection of
5 convenience goods and services for the residents of the Inner Richmond neighborhood. Inner
6 Clement Street has one of the greatest concentrations of restaurants of any commercial street
7 in San Francisco, drawing customers from throughout the City and region. There are also a
8 significant number of professional, realty, and business offices as well as financial institutions.
9 The pleasant pedestrian character of the district is derived directly from the intensely active
10 retail frontage on Clement Street.

11           The ~~Inner Clement Street~~ District controls are designed to promote development that is
12 consistent with its existing land use patterns and to maintain a harmony of uses that supports
13 the ~~d~~District's vitality. The building standards allow small- to mid-scale buildings and uses,
14 protecting rear yards above the ground story and at residential levels. In new development,
15 most commercial uses are permitted at the first two stories, although certain limitations apply
16 to uses at the second story. Special controls are necessary to preserve the equilibrium of 17 neighborhood-serving convenience and comparison shopping businesses and protect
18 adjacent residential livability. These controls limit additional financial service uses, additional 19 eating and drinking establishments, and late-night commercial uses. In order to maintain the 20 street's active retail frontage, controls also prohibit most new automobile and drive-up uses.

21           Housing development is encouraged in new buildings above the ground story. ~~Existing~~
22 ~~residential units are protected by prohibitions on upper-story conversions and limitations on~~
23 ~~demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~

SEC. 717. OUTER CLEMENT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL

DISTRICT.

The Outer Clement Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located on Clement Street between 19th Avenue and 27th Avenue in the western portion of the Richmond District. The shopping area contains small-scale convenience businesses, as well as many restaurants and a movie theater. The dDistrict's restaurants serve a neighborhood and Citywide clientele during the evening hours, while convenience shopping uses cater for the most part to daytime neighborhood shoppers. Outer Clement Street contains many mixed-use buildings with some fully commercial and fully residential buildings interspersed between them.

The Outer Clement Street District controls are designed to promote development that is in keeping with the dDistrict's existing small-scale, mixed-use character. The building standards monitor/guide large-scale development and protect rear yards at all levels. Future commercial growth is directed to the ground story in order to promote more continuous and active retail frontage. Additional eating and drinking establishments are regulated to prevent over-concentration, while ground-story entertainment and financial service uses are monitored in order to limit the problems of traffic, congestion, noise and late-night activity associated with such uses and to protect existing neighborhood-serving businesses. Other controls restricting

1 late-night activity, hotels, automobile uses, and drive-up facilities are designed to preserve the
 2 low-intensity character of the district.

3 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Existing
 4 residential units are protected by prohibitions of upper-story conversions and limitations on
 5 demolitions. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of

15 SEC. 718. UPPER FILLMORE STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL

16 DISTRICT.

17 The Upper Fillmore Street Neighborhood Commercial District is situated in the south-

18 central portion of Pacific Heights. It runs north-south along Fillmore Street from Jackson to

19 Bush and extends west one block along California and Pine Streets. This medium-scaled,

20 multi-purpose commercial district provides convenience goods to its immediate neighborhood

21 as well as comparison shopping goods and services on a specialized basis to a wider trade

22 area. Commercial businesses are active during both day and evening and include a number

23 of bars, restaurants, specialty groceries, and specialty clothing stores.

24 The Upper Fillmore District controls are designed to ~~protect~~reflect the existing building

25 scale and promote new mixed-use development which is in character with adjacent buildings.

1 Building standards regulate large lot and use development and protect rear yards above the
 2 ground story and at residential levels. Most commercial uses are permitted at the first two
 3 stories of new buildings. Special controls are designed to preserve ~~the existing~~an equilibrium of
 4 neighborhood-serving convenience and specialty commercial uses. In order to maintain
 5 convenience stores and protect adjacent livability, additional bars (unless part of a restaurant)
 6 and formula retail establishments are prohibited, and financial service uses are limited. In
 7 order to promote continuous retail frontage, drive-up and most automobile uses are
 8 prohibited.

9 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing~~
 10 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
 11 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.~~

SEC. 719. HAIGHT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

Northwest of the City's geographical center, the Haight Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located in the Haight-Ashbury neighborhood, extending along Haight Street between Stanyan and Central Avenue, including a portion of Stanyan Street between Haight and Beulah. The shopping area provides convenience goods and services to local Haight-Ashbury residents, as well as comparison shopping goods and services to a larger market area. The commercial district is also frequented by users of Golden Gate Park on

1 weekends and by City residents for its eating, drinking, and entertainment places. Numerous
 2 housing units establish the ~~the~~ District's mixed residential-commercial character.

3 The Haight Street District controls are designed to ~~protect~~ reflect the existing building
 4 scale and promote new mixed-use development which is in character with adjacent buildings.
 5 The building standards regulate large-lot and use development and protect rear yards above
 6 the ground story and at residential levels. To promote the prevailing mixed-use character,
 7 most commercial uses are directed primarily to the ground story with some upper-story
 8 restrictions in new buildings. In order to maintain the balanced mix and variety of 9 neighborhood-serving commercial uses and regulate the more intensive commercial uses 10 which can generate congestion and nuisance problems, special controls limit additional 11 drinking uses and tourist hotels. Prohibitions of most automobile and drive-up uses protect the 12 ~~the~~ District's continuous retail frontage.

13 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~Existing~~ 14 ~~residential units are protected by prohibition of upper-story conversions and limitations on~~
 15 ~~demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~
 16 ~~this Code.~~

23 SEC. 722. NORTH BEACH NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

24 The North Beach Neighborhood Commercial District is a nonlinear district centered on

25 Columbus Avenue, located in the valley between Telegraph Hill and Russian Hill north of

1 Broadway. North Beach functions as a neighborhood-serving marketplace, eCitywide specialty
 2 shopping, and dining district, and a tourist attraction, as well as an apartment and residential
 3 hotel zone. Traditionally, the dDistrict has provided most convenience goods and services for
 4 residents of North Beach and portions of Telegraph and Russian Hills. North Beach’s eating,
 5 drinking, and entertainment establishments remain open into the evening to serve a much
 6 wider trade area and attract many tourists. The balance between neighborhood-serving
 7 convenience stores and Citywide specialty businesses has shifted, as convenience stores
 8 have been replaced by restaurants and bars. The proliferation of financial services, limited
 9 financial services, and professional services has also upset the dDistrict’s balance of uses.
 10 The relocation of business and professional offices from downtown to North Beach threatens
 11 the loss of upper-story residential units.

12 * * * *

13 In keeping with the dDistrict’s existing mixed-use character, housing development in
 14 new buildings is encouraged above the ground floor. Existing residential units are protected
 15 by ~~prohibitions~~limitations of upper-story conversions, mergers, removals, and demolitions. ~~Per~~
 16 ~~Section 207.1 of this Code,~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the existing building
 17 envelope, but may not eliminate or reduce ground-story retail or commercial space.

(b) Controls.

1           (1) Purposes. The Polk Street District controls are designed to encourage and
2 promote development that is compatible with the surrounding neighborhood. The building
3 standards ~~monitor~~guide large-scale development and protect rear yards at residential levels.
4 Consistent with Polk Street’s existing mixed-use character, new buildings may contain most
5 commercial uses at the First Story. The controls encourage neighborhood-serving
6 businesses. They also prohibit new adult entertainment uses. Restrictions on drive-up and
7 most automobile uses protect the district’s continuous retail frontage and prevent further traffic
8 congestion.

9           Housing developed in new buildings is encouraged above the First Story, especially in
10 the less intensely developed portions of the district along Larkin Street and on large lots
11 throughout the district. New housing development requires 40% or more two-bedroom plus
12 units to encourage families to live in the district. Parking is limited in new developments given
13 the ~~d~~District’s transit access and the proximity to bus rapid transit along Van Ness Avenue
14 parallel to the district. ~~Existing housing units are protected by on demolitions and upper-story~~
15 ~~conversions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~
16 ~~this Code.~~

17           * * * *

18           ~~————(4) Loss of Residential Units. To prevent the loss of existing Residential Units, the~~
19 ~~removal, demolition, merger, or conversion of Residential Units above the First Story are prohibited~~
20 ~~even if such loss of Residential Units would otherwise be allowed pursuant to Section 317 of this Code.~~

21           (54) Neighborhood Commercial Design Guidelines. The construction of new
22 buildings and alteration of existing buildings in the Polk Street NC District shall be consistent
23 with the design policies and guidelines of the General Plan and with the “Polk/Pacific Special
24 Area Design Guidelines” as adopted by the Planning Commission. The Planning Director may 25 require modifications to the exterior of a proposed new building or proposed alteration of an

1 existing residential building in order to bring it into conformity with the Citywide Design
 2 Standards, “Polk/Pacific Special Area Design Guidelines” and with the General Plan. These
 3 modifications may include, but are not limited to, changes in siting, building envelope, scale
 4 texture and detailing, openings, and landscaping.

SEC. 724. SACRAMENTO STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

Located in the Presidio Heights neighborhood in north-central San Francisco, the Sacramento Street Neighborhood Commercial District functions as a small-scale linear shopping area. It extends along Sacramento Street between Lyon and Spruce Streets. Interspersed among residential buildings and garages, the district's daytime-oriented retail stores provide a limited array of convenience goods to the immediate neighborhood. Sacramento Street also has many elegant clothing, accessory, and antique stores and services, such as hair salons, which attract customers from a wider trade area. Its numerous medical and business offices draw clients from throughout the City. Evening activity in the district is limited to one movie theater, a few restaurants, and some stores near Presidio Avenue.

1 The Sacramento Street District controls are designed to promote adequate growth
 2 opportunities for development that is compatible with the surrounding low-density residential
 3 neighborhood. The building standards ~~monitor~~guide large-scale development and protect rear
 4 yards at the grade level and above. Most new commercial development is permitted at the
 5 first story; a conditional use authorization is required if a general retail uses ~~are permitted at the~~
 6 ~~second story only if such use~~ would ~~not~~ involve conversion of any existing housing units. Special
 7 controls are designed to protect existing neighborhood-serving ground-story retail uses. Limits
 8 on financial service uses are intended to minimize the environmental impacts generated by
 9 the growth of such uses. The daytime orientation of the ~~d~~District is encouraged by requiring
 10 conditional use authorization for bars and restricting late-night commercial activity. New hotels
 11 and parking facilities are limited in scale and operation to minimize disruption to the 12 neighborhood. Most new automobile and drive-up uses are prohibited to promote continuous
 13 retail frontage.

14 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. ~~Existing~~
 15 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and prohibitions of upper-story~~
 16 ~~conversions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of~~
 17 ~~this Code.~~

1           SEC. 725. UNION STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

2           * * * *

3           The Union Street District controls are designed to provide sufficient growth
 4 opportunities for commercial development that is in keeping with the existing scale and 5 character, promote continuous retail frontage, and protect adjacent residential livability. Small-6 to mid-scale buildings and neighborhood-serving uses are promoted, and rear yards above the 7 ground story and at all residential levels are protected. Most commercial development is 8 permitted at the first two stories of new buildings, while retail service uses are monitored at 9 the third story and above. Controls are necessary to preserve the remaining convenience
 10 businesses and to reduce the cumulative impacts which the growth of certain uses have on 11 neighborhood residents. Such controls require Conditional Use authorization for additional 12 drinking establishments and limit additional entertainment, and financial service uses. Most 13 automobile and drive-up uses are prohibited in order to maintain continuous retail frontage
 14 and minimize further traffic congestion.

15           Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. Existing

17 District shall be consistent with the design policies and guidelines of the General Plan, the 18 Citywide Design Standards, the Urban Design Guidelines and with the “Polk/Pacific Special Area
19 Design Guidelines” as adopted by the Planning Commission. The Planning Director may 20 require modifications to the exterior of a proposed new building or proposed alteration of an
21 existing residential building in order to bring it into conformity with the Citywide Design
22 Standards and the “Polk/Pacific Special Area Design Guidelines” and with the General Plan.
23 These modifications may include, but are not limited to, changes in siting, building envelope,
24 scale texture and detailing, openings, and landscaping.

SEC. 727. LAKESIDE VILLAGE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Lakeside Village Neighborhood Commercial District is located in the southwestern part of the City and stretches along Ocean Avenue from Junipero Serra Boulevard to 19th Avenue. It is a neighborhood serving shopping corridor nestled among single-family homes.

1 Lakeside Village has small ground-floor retail, restaurant, and medical office space and is
 2 serviced by the M-line streetcar.

3 Building controls for the Lakeside Village Neighborhood Commercial District promote
 4 ~~low-intensity~~ various scales of development which ~~is~~are compatible with the existing scale and
 5 character of the District. Commercial development is limited ~~to one story,~~ with certain exceptions.
 6 Rear yard requirements at all levels preserve existing backyard space.

7 Commercial use provisions encourage the full range of neighborhood-serving
 8 convenience retail sales and services provided that the use size generally is limited to 3,000
 9 square feet. However, commercial uses and features which could impact residential livability
 10 are prohibited, such as auto uses, financial services, general advertising signs, drive-up
 11 facilities, hotels, and late-night activity.

12 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~Existing~~
 13 ~~residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story and limitations on~~
 14 ~~demolitions.~~ Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the District ~~pursuant to Sections 207.1~~
 15 ~~and 207.2 of this Code.~~

1           SEC. 728. 24TH STREET – NOE VALLEY NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL
2 DISTRICT.

3           The 24th Street – Noe Valley Neighborhood Commercial District is situated along 24th
4 Street between Chattanooga and Diamond in the Noe Valley neighborhood of central San
5 Francisco. This daytime-oriented, multi-purpose commercial district provides a mixture of
6 convenience and comparison shopping goods and services to a predominantly local market
7 area. It contains primarily retail sales and personal services at the street level, some office
8 uses on the second story, and residential use almost exclusively on the third and upper 9 stories.

10          The 24th Street – Noe Valley District controls are designed to allow for development
11 that is compatible with the existing small-scale, mixed-use neighborhood commercial character
12 and surrounding residential area. The small-to mid- scale of new buildings and neighborhood-
13 serving uses is encouraged and rear yard open space corridors at all levels are protected.
14 Most commercial uses are directed to the ground story and limited at the second story of new
15 buildings. In order to maintain the variety and mix of retail sales and services along the
16 commercial strip and to control the problems of traffic, congestion, noise and late-night
17 activity, certain potentially troublesome commercial uses are regulated. Financial service uses
18 are restricted to and at the ground story. Prohibitions on drive-up and most automobile uses
19 help prevent additional traffic and parking congestion.

21 housing units are protected by prohibitions on upper-story conversions and limitations on demolitions.
22 Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.

SEC. 729. WEST PORTAL AVENUE NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

Located in the southwestern part of the City, the West Portal Avenue Neighborhood Commercial District stretches for three long blocks along West Portal Avenue from Ulloa Street to 15th Avenue and extends one block east along Ulloa Street from the Twin Peaks Tunnel entrance to Claremont Boulevard. West Portal Avenue provides a selection of goods and services for customers coming mainly from the surrounding west of Twin Peaks and Sunset single-family residential neighborhoods. The lively, small-scale retail frontage is interrupted at several locations by large-scale financial institutions which take up a large amount of commercial ground-story frontage. More than half of the number of medical, professional and business offices are located at the ground level. ~~Except for one three-movie theater complex, West Portal offers no entertainment uses and its restaurants are mainly family-oriented.~~

1 The West Portal Avenue District controls are designed to preserve the existing family-
 2 oriented, village character of West Portal Avenue. ~~The building standards limit building heights to~~
 3 ~~26 feet and two stories and maintain the existing pattern of rear yards at the ground level and above.~~
 4 The height, bulk and design of new development, especially on large lots, should respect the
 5 small- to mid-scale character of the district and its surrounding residential neighborhoods. Lot
 6 mergers creating large lots are discouraged. Individual nonresidential uses require conditional
 7 use permits above 2,500 square feet and are restricted to 4,000 square feet as an absolute
 8 limit to conform with the existing small use sizes in the district.

9 * * * *

10 Housing development ~~is limited~~ in new buildings is encouraged. ~~Existing residential units are~~
 11 ~~protected by limitations on demolition and prohibition of upper-story conversions~~; new construction
 12 ~~is to be carefully reviewed to~~ should ensure appropriate scale, design and compatibility with
 13 adjacent development. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to~~
 14 ~~Section 207.1 of this Code~~.

SEC. 731. NORIEGA STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Noriega Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located in the Outer Sunset neighborhood and includes ~~the non-residential currently zoned NC-2~~ properties fronting both sides of Noriega Street between 19th and 27th and 30th through 33rd Avenues.

The District provides a selection of convenience goods and services for the residents of the Outer Sunset District. There are a high concentration of restaurants, drawing customers

1 from throughout the City and the region. There are also a significant number of professional,
 2 realty, and business offices as well as financial institutions.

3 The Noriega Street Neighborhood Commercial District controls are designed to
 4 promote development that is consistent with its existing land use patterns and to maintain a
 5 harmony of uses that support the District’s vitality. The building standards allow ~~small~~-various
 6 scales of buildings and uses, protecting rear yards above the ground story and at residential
 7 levels. In new development, most commercial uses are permitted at the first two stories,
 8 although certain limitations apply to uses at the second story. Special controls are necessary
 9 to preserve the equilibrium of neighborhood-serving convenience and comparison shopping
 10 businesses and to protect adjacent residential livability. To protect continuous frontage, drive-
 11 up uses are prohibited and active, pedestrian-oriented ground floor uses generally must be
 12 provided, unless such uses are authorized by Conditional Use. These controls are designed 13 to encourage the street’s active retail frontage, and local fabrication and production of goods.

14 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Accessory
 15 Dwelling Units are permitted.

4 SEC. 735. INNER BALBOA STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

5 The Inner Balboa Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Balboa
6 Street between 2nd Avenue and 8th Avenue in the Richmond District of San Francisco. The
7 District is a small-scale linear shopping street which provides convenience goods and
8 services to the surrounding neighborhood as well as limited comparison shopping goods for a
9 wider market.

10 The Inner Balboa Street Neighborhood Commercial District controls provide for mixed-
11 use buildings which approximate or slightly exceed the standard development pattern. Rear
12 yard requirements above the ground story and at residential levels preserve open space
13 corridors of interior blocks.

14 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
15 Neighborhood- serving businesses are strongly encouraged. The second story may be used
16 by some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
17 Parking and hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities,
18 and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the District, and promote
19 continuous retail frontage.

20 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Existing
21 residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions. Accessory
22 Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.

SEC. 739. GEARY BOULEVARD NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Geary Boulevard Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Geary Boulevard between Masonic and 28th Avenues. It is a linear district located along a heavily trafficked thoroughfare which also serves as a major transit route. In addition to providing convenience goods and services to the surrounding neighborhood, the District offers a wide variety of comparison and specialty goods and services to a population greater than the immediate neighborhood.

The building standards permit moderately large commercial uses and buildings. Rear yards are protected at residential levels.

1 A diversified commercial environment is encouraged for the District, and a wide variety
 2 of uses are permitted with special emphasis on neighborhood-serving businesses. Financial
 3 service uses generally are permitted with certain limitations at the first and second stories.
 4 Other retail businesses, personal services, and offices are permitted at all stories of new
 5 buildings. Limited storage and administrative service activities are permitted with some
 6 restrictions.

7 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the second story. Existing
 8 residential units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions. Accessory
 9 Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.

15 SEC. 742. COLE VALLEY NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS.

16 The Cole Valley Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Cole Street from 17 Frederick to Grattan Streets and includes some parcels north of Carl Street and south of
 18 Parnassus. It is a local shopping district with a mix of retail uses in a residential neighborhood
 19 that is near a transit line.

20 Building controls for the Cole Valley Neighborhood Commercial District promote small
 21 to mid-scale low-intensity development which is compatible with the existing scale and
 22 character of the area. Commercial development is limited to one story with some exceptions.
 23 Rear yard requirements at all levels preserve existing backyard space.

24 Commercial use provisions encourage the full range of neighborhood-serving
 25 convenience retail sales and services at the first story provided that the use size generally is

1 limited to 3,000 square feet. However, commercial uses and features which could impact
 2 residential livability are prohibited, such as auto uses, financial services, general advertising
 3 signs, drive-up facilities, hotels, and late-night activity.

4 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Existing
 5 residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story and limitations on
 6 demolitions. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1
 7 and 207.2 of this Code.

SEC. 743. LOWER HAIGHT STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

The Lower Haight Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Haight Street between Webster and Steiner Streets. The District is a small-scale linear shopping street which provides convenience goods and services to the surrounding neighborhood as well as limited comparison shopping goods for a wider market.

The District controls provide for mixed-use buildings which approximate or ~~slightly~~moderately exceed the standard development pattern. Rear yard requirements above the ground story and at residential levels preserve open space corridors of interior blocks.

1 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
 2 Neighborhood-serving businesses are strongly encouraged. The second story may be used
 3 by some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
 4 Parking and hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities,
 5 and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the District, and promote
 6 continuous retail frontage.

7 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. Existing
 8 residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions. Accessory
 9 Dwelling Units are permitted within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.

7 Controls: A Residential Use may be converted to an Institutional Use, other than a
8 Medical Cannabis Dispensary, as a Conditional Use on the third story and above if in addition 9 to the criteria set forth in Section § 303317, the Commission finds that:

10 (a) The structure in which the Residential Use is to be converted has been found
11 eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places;

12 (b) The proposed use is to be operated by a nonprofit public benefit corporation;
13 and

14 (c) No legally residing residential tenants will be displaced.

17 SEC. 745. INNER TARAVAL STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

18 The Inner Taraval Street Neighborhood Commercial District is located along Taraval
19 Street between 19th and Forest Side Avenues in the Inner Sunset neighborhood. It is 20 separated from the Taraval Street Neighborhood Commercial District by 19th Avenue. The 21 District is a small-scale linear shopping street which provides convenience goods and
22 services to the surrounding neighborhood as well as limited comparison shopping goods for a
23 wider market.

1 The District controls provide for mixed-use buildings which approximate or
 2 ~~slightly/moderately~~ exceed the standard development pattern. Rear yard requirements above
 3 the ground story and at residential levels preserve open space corridors of interior blocks.

4 Most new commercial development is permitted at the ground and second stories.
 5 Neighborhood-serving businesses are strongly encouraged. The second story may be used
 6 by some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
 7 Parking and hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up facilities,
 8 and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the District, and promote
 9 continuous retail frontage.

10 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged above the ground story. ~~Existing~~
 11 ~~residential units are protected by limitations on demolition and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory
 12 Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the District pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of this Code.~~

SEC. 750. NCT-1 – NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT CLUSTER

DISTRICT.

NCT-1 Districts are intended to serve as local neighborhood shopping districts, providing convenience retail goods and services for the immediately surrounding neighborhoods primarily during daytime hours. NCT-1 Districts are located near major transit services. They are small mixed-use clusters, generally surrounded by residential districts, with small-scale neighborhood-serving commercial uses on lower floors and housing above. Housing density is limited not by lot area, but by the regulations on the built envelope of buildings, including height, bulk, setbacks, and lot coverage, and standards for residential uses, including open space and exposure, and urban design guidelines. There are prohibitions on access (i.e. driveways, garage entries) to off-street parking and loading on critical stretches of commercial and transit street frontages to preserve and enhance the pedestrian-oriented character and transit function. Residential parking is not required and generally limited. Commercial establishments are discouraged from building excessive accessory off-street parking in order to preserve the pedestrian-oriented character of the district and prevent attracting auto traffic.

NCT-1 Districts are generally characterized by their location in residential neighborhoods. The commercial intensity of these districts varies. Many of these districts have the lowest intensity of commercial development in the City, generally consisting of small

1 clusters with three or more commercial establishments, commonly grouped around a corner;
 2 and in some cases short linear commercial strips with low-scale, interspersed mixed-use
 3 (residential-commercial) development. Building controls for the NCT-1 District promote low-
 4 intensity development which is compatible with the existing scale and character of these
 5 neighborhood areas. Commercial development is limited to one story, with certain exceptions.
 6 Rear yard requirements at all levels preserve existing backyard space.

7 * * * *

8 ~~Existing residential units are protected by prohibitions of conversions above the ground story~~
 9 ~~and limitations on demolitions.~~

SEC. 756. GLEN PARK NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT.

* * * *

Commercial uses are encouraged at the ground story. Retail frontages and pedestrian-oriented streets are protected by limiting curb cuts (i.e. driveways, garage entries) as well as requiring ground floor commercial uses on portions of Diamond and Chenery Streets. Housing development is encouraged above the ground story. Housing density is not controlled by the size of the lot but by dwelling unit standards, physical envelope controls and unit mix

1 requirements. Given the area’s location and accessibility to the transit network, accessory
 2 parking for residential and commercial uses is not required. Any new parking is required to be
 3 set back to support a pedestrian friendly streetscape. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted
 4 within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.

SEC. 759. DIVISADERO STREET NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT.

1           The Divisadero Street Neighborhood Commercial Transit District (“Divisadero Street
2 NCT”) extends along Divisadero Street between Haight and O’Farrell Streets. Divisadero
3 Street’s dense mixed-use character consists of buildings with residential units above ground-
4 story commercial use. Buildings typically range in height from two to four stories with occasional
5 one-story commercial buildings. The ~~d~~District has an active and continuous commercial frontage
6 along Divisadero Street for most of its length. Divisadero Street is an important public transit
7 corridor and throughway street. The commercial district provides convenience goods and
8 services to the surrounding neighborhoods as well as limited comparison shopping goods for
9 a wider market.

10           The Divisadero Street NCT controls are designed to encourage and promote
11 development that enhances the walkable, mixed-use character of the corridor and
12 surrounding neighborhoods. Rear yard requirements above the ground story and at residential
13 levels preserve open space corridors of interior blocks. Housing development in new buildings
14 is encouraged above the ground story. Existing residential units are protected by limitations on
15 demolition and upper-story conversions. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district~~
16 pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.

17           Consistent with Divisadero Street’s existing mixed-use character, new commercial
18 development is permitted at the ground and second stories. Most neighborhood-serving
19 businesses are strongly encouraged. Controls on new Formula Retail uses are consistent with
20 Citywide policy for Neighborhood Commercial Districts; The second story may be used by
21 some retail stores, personal services, and medical, business and professional offices.
22 Additional flexibility is offered for second-floor Eating and Drinking, Entertainment, and Trade
23 Shop uses in existing non-residential buildings to encourage the preservation and reuse of 24 such buildings. Hotels are monitored at all stories. Limits on late-night activity, drive-up
25

1 facilities, and other automobile uses protect the livability within and around the district, and
 2 promote continuous retail frontage.

3 If the Planning Department determines that any site proposed for residential
 4 development and located within the Divisadero Street NCT has received a 50% or greater
 5 increase in residential densities over prior zoning through the adoption of Ordinance No. 127-
 6 15, any development project that is subject to the Inclusionary Affordable Housing Program on
 7 such site shall pay the Affordable Housing Fee, or provide one of the Alternatives to Payment
 8 of the Affordable Housing Fee, set forth in Planning Code Sections 415 et seq., except that
 9 the amount of the Affordable Housing Fee or Alternatives to Payment of the Affordable
 10 Housing Fee shall be modified as set forth in Planning Code Sections 428 et seq.

4 SEC. 761. HAYES-GOUGH NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL TRANSIT DISTRICT.

5 * * * *

6 The Hayes-Gough District controls are designed to allow for growth and expansion that
7 is compatible with the existing building and use scales. Building standards protect the
8 moderate building and Use Size and require rear yards at residential levels. To maintain the
9 mixed-use character of the district, most commercial uses are permitted at the first and
10 second stories and housing is strongly encouraged ~~at the third story and above~~. Retail sales
11 activity, especially neighborhood-serving businesses, is further promoted by restricting new
12 ground-story medical, business and professional offices. To protect continuous frontage,
13 drive-up and most automobile uses are prohibited, above-ground parking is required to be
14 setback or below ground, and active, pedestrian-oriented ground floor uses are required on
15 Hayes Street and portions of Octavia Boulevard.

16 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged ~~above the second story~~, and is
17 controlled not by lot area but by physical envelope controls. ~~Existing residential units are~~
18 ~~protected by limitations on demolitions, mergers, subdivisions, and upper story conversions~~. Given the
19 area’s central location and accessibility to the downtown and to the City’s transit network,
20 accessory parking for Residential Uses is not required. The code controls for this district are
21 supported and augmented by design guidelines and policies in the Market and Octavia Area
22 Plan of the General Plan. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted.

* * * *

The Upper Market Street Transit District controls are designed to promote moderate-scale development which contributes to the definition of Market Street’s design and character. They are also intended to preserve the existing mix of Commercial Uses and maintain the livability of the district and its surrounding residential areas. Large-lot and use development is reviewed for consistency with existing development patterns. Rear yards are protected at all levels. To promote mixed-use buildings, most Commercial Uses are permitted with some limitations above the second story. In order to maintain continuous retail frontage and

1 preserve a balanced mix of Commercial Uses, ground-story neighborhood-serving uses are
 2 encouraged, and financial service uses are limited. Ground floor-commercial space is required
 3 along Market and Church Streets. Most Automotive Service and Drive-Up ~~Facility~~Facility uses
 4 are prohibited or conditional.

5 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged ~~above the Second Story. Existing~~
 6 ~~upper-story Residential Units are protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~
 7 Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Sections 207.1 and 207.2 of~~
 8 ~~this Code.~~

5 SEC. 810. CHINATOWN COMMUNITY BUSINESS DISTRICT.

6 The Chinatown Community Business District, located in the northeast quadrant of San
7 Francisco, extends along Broadway from the eastern portal of the Broadway Tunnel to
8 Columbus Avenue and along Kearny Street from Columbus to Sacramento Street. This district
9 also includes portions of Commercial Street between Montgomery Street and Grant Avenue
10 and portions of Grant Avenue between Bush and California Streets. It is part of the larger core
11 area of Chinatown.

12 The portions of Broadway, Kearny, and Commercial Streets and Grant Avenue in this
13 district are transitional edges or entries to Chinatown. North and east of the two blocks of 14 Broadway contained in this district are North Beach and the Broadway Entertainment Districts.
15 Kearny and Columbus Streets are close to intensive office development in the Downtown
16 Financial District. Both Grant Avenue and Commercial Street provide important pedestrian
17 entries to Chinatown. Generally, this district has more potential for added retail and
18 commercial development than other parts of Chinatown.

19 This zoning district is intended to protect existing housing, encourage new housing and
20 to accommodate modest expansion of Chinatown business activities as well as street-level
21 retail uses. The size of individual professional or business office use is limited in order to
22 prevent these areas from being used to accommodate larger office uses spilling over from the 23 financial district.

24 Housing development in new buildings is encouraged at upper stories. ~~Existing housing~~
25 ~~is protected by limitations on demolitions and upper-story conversions.~~ Accessory dwelling units are permitted ~~within the district pursuant to Subsection 207(e)(4) of this Code.~~

SEC. 829. SOUTH BEACH DOWNTOWN RESIDENTIAL MIXED USE DISTRICT (SB-DTR).

* * * *

While lot coverage is limited for all levels with residential uses that do not face onto streets or alleys, traditional rear yard open spaces are not required. Specific height, bulk, and setback controls establish appropriate heights for both towers and mid-rise podium

1 development and ensure adequate spacing between towers in order to establish a
 2 neighborhood scale and ensure light and air to streets and open spaces. Setbacks are 3 required where necessary to provide transition space for ground floor residential uses and to
 4 ensure sunlight access to streets and open spaces. Off-street parking must be located below
 5 grade. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the district pursuant to Section 207.1 of this

(SPD) is intended to preserve the scale, ~~density~~ and mix of commercial and residential activities within this unique neighborhood. The district is characterized by small-scale, continuous-frontage warehouse, retail and residential structures built in a ring around an oval-shaped, grassy park. Retention of the existing structures is encouraged, as is a continued mix of uses, family-sized housing units, and in-fill development which contributes positively to the neighborhood scale and use mix. Accessory Dwelling Units are permitted within the ~~d~~District pursuant to Section 207.1 of this Code.

4 Section 16. Local Coastal Program. This ordinance constitutes an amendment to the
5 Implementation Plan (“IP”) of the City’s Local Coastal Program. In the event of an
6 inconsistency between this ordinance and previously certified sections of the IP, this
7 ordinance shall prevail. The Local Coastal Program is hereby amended to:

8 (a) Add Planning Code Sections 206.10, 334, and 344, as set forth above in Section 3
9 of this ordinance [“Housing Choice – San Francisco Program”];

10 (b) Add Planning Code Section 270.3 and modify Planning Code Sections 260,
11 263.19, 263.20, and 270, as set forth above in Section 4 of this ordinance [“Height and Bulk
12 Limits”];

13 (c) Modify Planning Code Sections 209, 209.1, and 209.2, as set forth above in
14 Section 6 of this ordinance [“Residential Districts”]. For the purposes of certification by the
15 Coastal Commission, Planning Code Tables 209.1 and 209.2 are reprinted in their entirety,
16 which include the relevant use and development controls for RH, RM-1, and RM-2 properties
17 in the Coastal Zone;

18 (d) Modify Planning Code Sections 124, 132, 134, 135, 144, 186, 186.3, 201, 207.6,
19 207.7, 208, 209.4, 231, 303, 304, 603, 606, and 607.1, as set forth above in Section 7 of this
20 ordinance [“Residential, Transit Oriented (RTO) Districts”]. For the purposes of certification by
21 the Coastal Commission, Planning Code Table 209.4 is reprinted in its entirety, which
22 includes the relevant use and development controls for RTO-C properties in the Coastal Zone;

23 (e) Add Planning Code Sections 207.9 and 207.10 and modify Planning Code
24 Sections 151.1, 153, 154, 155, 155.2, and 161, as set forth above in Section 8 of this
25 ordinance [“Transit Oriented Communities and Parking”];

1 (f) Modify Planning Code Section 155, as set forth above in Section 9 of this ordinance
2 ["Off-Street Parking and Curb Cuts”];

3 (g) Add Planning Code Section 249.11, as set forth above in Section 10 of this
4 ordinance ["San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Special Use District”];

5 (h) Add Planning Code Section 202.17, as set forth above in Section 11 of this
6 ordinance ["Displaced Businesses”];

7 (i) Modify Planning Code Sections 102, 202.2, 311, and 317, as set forth above in
8 Section 12 of this ordinance ["Miscellaneous Amendments”]; and

9 (j) Modify Planning Code Sections 710 and 711, as set forth above in Section 13 of
10 this ordinance ["Conforming Changes to Zoning Tables”]. For the purposes of certification by
11 the Coastal Commission, Planning Code Tables 710 and 711 are reprinted in their entirety,
12 which include the relevant use and development controls for NC-1 and NC-2 properties in the 13 Coastal Zone.

14
15 Section 17. Effective and Operative Dates Outside the Coastal Zone.

16 (a) In the portions of the City that are not located in the Coastal Zone Permit Area, as
17 that permit area is designated on Section Maps CZ4, CZ5, and CZ13 of the Zoning Map, this
18 ordinance shall become effective 30 days after enactment. Enactment occurs when the
19 Mayor signs the ordinance, the Mayor returns the ordinance unsigned or does not sign the
20 ordinance within ten days of receiving it, or the Board of Supervisors overrides the Mayor’s
21 veto of the ordinance.

22 (b) In the portions of the City that are not located in the Coastal Zone Permit Area, this
23 ordinance shall become operative upon its effective date.

24
25 Section 18. Effective and Operative Dates in the Coastal Zone.

1 (a) In the portions of the City that are located in the Coastal Zone Permit Area, this
2 ordinance shall become effective 30 days after enactment. Enactment occurs when the Mayor
3 signs the ordinance, the Mayor returns the ordinance unsigned or does not sign the ordinance
4 within ten days of receiving it, or the Board of Supervisors overrides the Mayor's veto of the 5 ordinance.

6 (b) Upon enactment, the Director of the Planning Department shall submit this
7 ordinance to the California Coastal Commission for certification as a Local Coastal Program
8 Amendment. This ordinance shall become operative in the Coastal Zone Permit Area upon
9 final certification by the California Coastal Commission. If the California Coastal Commission
10 certifies this ordinance subject to modifications, this ordinance, as so modified, shall become
11 operative in the Coastal Zone Permit Area 30 days after enactment of the modifications.

12 (c) This ordinance satisfies the City's obligations pursuant to Government Code
13 Section 65583(c). Any consideration of the Ordinance by the California Coastal Commission
14 after the City's enactment is consistent with the Coastal Act, and permissible pursuant to
15 Government Code Section 65583(f)(1). Certification of the Local Coastal Program
16 Amendment shall proceed pursuant to the California Coastal Commissions regulations and 17 procedures, including any public participation and scheduling requirements.

18
19 Section 19. Transmittal of Ordinance. To facilitate the Coastal Commission's review of
20 the Local Coastal Program Amendment, the Director of the Planning Department is authorized
21 to submit the amendment for certification in the form desired by the Coastal Commission,
22 including making any necessary non-substantive changes (e.g., formatting or redlining), to
23 show the changes to the text of the Local Coastal Program. Upon certification by the
24 California Coastal Commission, the Director of the Planning Department shall transmit a copy
25 of the certified Local Coastal Program Amendment to the Clerk of the Board for inclusion in

1 File No. 250701. The Planning Department shall also retain a copy of the certified Local
2 Coastal Program Amendment in its Local Coastal Program files.

3

4 Section 20. The ordinance in Board File No. _____ would amend the Planning Code
5 to make various clarifying and typographical changes. Some of the changes in the ordinance
6 in Board File No. _____ would amend portions of the Code that overlap with this ordinance.
7 In particular, the ordinance in Board File No. _____ proposes to reorganize Section
8 303.1(e) and (f), which list the formula retail controls for various districts, including RTO-C and
9 the other RTO districts. That reorganization overlaps with formula retail controls for the RTO-
10 C District listed in Section 303.1 of this ordinance. In the event this ordinance is enacted
11 before the ordinance in Board File No. _____, the City Attorney shall direct the publisher of
12 the Municipal Code to integrate the changes in this ordinance into Section 303.1, as amended
13 by the ordinance in Board File No. _____, to ensure that the substantive changes to the
14 formula retail controls for the RTO-C district established in this ordinance are included in the 15 reorganized Section 303.1, such that both (a) RTO-C, and (b) Limited Commercial Uses in 16 RTO-1 and RTO-M Districts are listed in Section 303.1(e).

18 Section 21. Housing Choice San Francisco Policy. It shall be the policy of the City of
19 San Francisco that the Housing Choice San Francisco Program, codified in Planning Code
20 Section 206.10, shall be interpreted liberally in favor of producing more units. Consistent with
21 Housing Element Implementing Policy 8.1.6, the City shall not adopt changes to the Housing
22 Choice San Francisco Program that constitute new governmental constraints to the 23 development of housing unless those increased constraints are offset by the removal or
24 reduction of other constraints. The Planning Department shall evaluate, and the Board shall
25 consider, any proposed substantive amendments to the Housing Choice San Francisco

Introduction

The purpose of this memorandum is to document why proposed amendments to the Family Zoning Plan legislation do not require further analysis pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) beyond the previously prepared environmental impact report, addendum, and supplemental memo.

Following the publication of the Housing Element 2022 Update Final Environmental Impact Report (FEIR) and adoption of the Housing Element, the San Francisco Planning Department (department) undertook an iterative process to develop a proposed rezoning program. The Mayor introduced the Family Zoning Plan (rezoning program) on June 24 and July 28, 2025. The department reviewed the legislation in compliance with CEQA, determined that there would be no new environmental impacts from the legislation, and prepared an addendum to the FEIR to confirm the findings of the FEIR analysis. The department published Addendum No. 1 to the Housing Element 2022 Update FEIR (addendum) on September 3, 2025, pursuant to CEQA.<sup>1</sup> The Planning Commission (commission) heard the rezoning program on September 11, 2025 and recommended its approval with modifications to the Board of Supervisors (board).

After the September 11 hearing at the Planning Commission, the Mayor submitted substitute legislation on September 30, 2025 that included minor changes to the zoning map and the planning code.<sup>2</sup> An October 16, 2025 memorandum to the file provided analysis for the modifications in the substitute legislation (Version 3

– September 30, 2025) pursuant to CEQA Statute section 21166 and CEQA Guidelines section 15162-15164, and incorporated by reference analysis in the FEIR and addendum.

On October 20, 2025 the Land Use and Transportation Committee (land use committee) of the Board of Supervisors (board) held a hearing on the family zoning program. Proposed amendments to both the proposed zoning ordinance and zoning map were introduced (See attachment A). The land use committee will hold a second hearing on the family zoning program as well as the proposed amendments on November 3, 2025. This memorandum 2 provides analysis for the proposed amendments to the substitute legislation (Version 3 – September 30, 2025) pursuant to CEQA Statute section 21166 and CEQA Guidelines section 15162-15164, and incorporates by reference analysis in the FEIR, addendum, and supplemental memorandum.

Description and Analysis of Proposed Amendments

The full text of the proposed ordinances and map changes are available online at on the board’s Legislative Research Center (<https://sfbos.org/legislative-research-center-lrc>) under board file nos. 250700, 250701, and 250966.

The proposed amendments include modifications to the Zoning map as well as the Planning Code. The proposed modifications with the potential to result in physical environmental effects are discussed further below. Table 1 below presents the environmental analysis of proposed map changes. Table 2 presents the potential environmental analysis of proposed planning code changes.

3 The various square footage bonuses cannot cumulatively add more than one story onto a building, except on projects involving historic preservation on the parcel (see proposed code change #12 “Square Footage Bonus and Code Flexibility for Preservation of Historic Structures”. Projects that utilize the square footage bonus and code flexibility for preservation of historic structures may be allowed up to two additional stories for the preservation bonus, plus one additional story cumulatively for the non-preservation incentives. In total, a project may be allowed to add up to three stories if they achieve the maximum allowable square footage bonus for both the preservation and non-preservation incentives. However, note that the square footage bonuses would not automatically grant additional height as horizontal bonuses would be considered and the total amount of square footage bonus would need to add up to one additional story. Furthermore, parcels in residential districts would not be allowed to use the additional square footage bonus as height at all and would be required to use the bonus space in other horizontal ways (e.g., reduced rear yard, etc.).

Conclusion

The proposed amendments to the family zoning program zoning map and planning code could result in minor increases in height, density, and housing unit growth in certain parts of the city, primarily in well-resourced areas. Limited growth could occur in areas adjacent to well-resourced areas, but the Housing Element FEIR and addendum acknowledged that the height and growth distribution depicted in the FEIR was hypothetical and not intended to be a precise depiction of future zoning changes. In addition, the FEIR indicated that future growth would likely be concentrated in, but is not limited to, the well-resourced areas of the city. The incremental growth would not result in new or substantially more severe significant impacts that were not already disclosed in the EIR. The mitigation measures that were identified in the FEIR would continue to apply to future development projects as determined applicable, and the department will determine which mitigation measures would apply during the project-specific environmental review phase. For these reasons, additional environmental review is not required for the proposed amendments to the legislation as described above.

Family Zoning Plan: Economic Impact Report

Office of the Controller
Office of Economic Analysis

Items 250700 & 250701
October 29, 2025

Introduction

- Two proposed ordinances would change zoning controls to permit more housing on a large segment of San Francisco, particularly on the western half of the city. They implement changes to the Housing Element of the City's General Plan, a planning document whose revisions were adopted in 2023.
- The Ordinance in file #250700, the Zoning Map Amendment, would generally raise allowable building heights along commercial corridors and transit lines, to permit mid-rise and some high-rise development.
- The Ordinance in file #250701 implements the Housing Choice-San Francisco program, which offers an alternative to the State Density Bonus program.
- The Office of Economic Analysis (OEA) has prepared this report because the proposed legislation may have a material impact on the city's economy. This report uses a model that estimates potential new development, in order to assess economic impact. That model is not a replacement for the City's estimates of realistic capacity under Government Code § 65583.2.

Zoning Map Amendment: Key Provisions

- The Zoning Map Amendment would make changes to allowable building heights and bulk, and/or zoning districts, in over 92,000 parcels in the city.
- The vast majority are residential parcels, whose allowable heights would either remain at 40 feet, or rise to 50 or 65 feet.
- On these and many other rezoned parcels, the Housing Choice San Francisco program (described on the next page) relaxes existing controls on the number of housing units allowed on a parcel.
- Allowable heights are generally increased to 65 to 85 feet along many commercial corridors, with development along wider streets near transit stations or major lines increased to 85 feet.
- Heights above 140 feet are allowed on certain streets that currently allow high-rise development or have larger parcels, at key intersections, and near certain major transit routes and stations. The map on page 5 provides additional details.

Housing Choice San Francisco – Key Provisions

- The Housing Choice San Francisco program, or “Local Program”, gives developers an alternative to the State Density Bonus.
- Many of the rezoned residential parcels are too small to be eligible for the State Density Bonus, but may achieve greater density through the use of the Local Program.
- Local Program users also gain benefits associated with housing unit mix, methods of complying with inclusionary housing requirements, rear-yard and setback requirements, broad code flexibility, and certain process changes.
- The ordinance has several other provisions, including limiting the maximum size of new residential units, reducing allowable parking, and restricting new curb cuts. These policy changes are not considered in this report.
- Additionally, the proposed ordinance gives displaced businesses the right to relocate anywhere in the city where their activity is permitted by zoning, without a conditional use permit, and waives development impact fees associated with the relocation.

Details of the Rezoning

The map to the left, from the City Planning department, indicates which parcels in the city will be rezoned, and to which heights. It reflects the plan as of July.

Gray parcels will be zoned for low-rise, 40-50 feet housing developments. This includes single-family residential zones, within which greater density will be permitted via the Local Program.

Yellow and orange parcels will be upzoned to mid-rise development of 65-105 feet.

Pink and purple parcels will have height limits ranging from 120-180 feet, and the blue and green parcels will be upzoned for high-rise development, of 240 feet or greater.

The Rezoning and the Regional Housing Needs Assessment

- Each jurisdiction in California is required to have its Housing Element be certified by the State's Housing and Community Development Department.
- Certification involves, among other things, ensuring that the City has the zoning capacity to meet the city's obligations under the State's Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA).
- RHNA is a Statewide planning process, in which future needs are forecasted for metropolitan areas, and then allocated to the individual cities and counties that administer land use planning.
- In San Francisco's case, the RHNA obligation requires the City to have realistic capacity for approximately 82,000 new housing units, at different economic levels, within an 8-year planning period ending in 2031.
- Of this 82,000 unit requirement, the City must create capacity for approximately 36,000 units.

Substitutions and Proposed Amendments

- On September 30, a new version of #250700 was substituted by Mayor Lurie, which made relatively minor zoning changes on a number of parcels. This analysis reflects those changes.
- On October 21, Supervisor Melgar proposed an amendment that would prohibit the use of the Local Program on any parcel containing more than two existing housing units, which would involve the demolition of a unit subject to rent control.
- Also on October 21, Supervisor Sauter introduced an amendment that creates incentives for developers to replace lost commercial space.
- As the language of these two amendments was made public less than one week ago, this report does not attempt to model their economic impact.

Economic Impact Factors

- When the City relaxes zoning controls, by reducing density restrictions or increasing allowable heights, more development projects will become financially feasible, and the supply of housing in the city will rise.
- This increased supply will put downward pressure on housing prices in the city. Cheaper housing benefits city residents who move within the city, and also makes San Francisco more affordable for new arrivals.
- The development of new housing also stimulates investment and employment in construction and related industries.
- The population growth associated with new housing also stimulates the local economy, by expanding the numbers of workers and consumers.
- On the other hand, the limited amount of vacant lots in the city means that new housing generally involves the loss of existing buildings, including both residential and commercial properties. This can impose relocation and other costs on residential and commercial tenants.

Estimating the Likelihood of New Housing Development

- The amount of new housing that the rezoning will produce is an important contributor to its economic impact. To estimate this, OEA refined a statistical model that it has used since 2016 to estimate the impact of policy changes on housing production in the city<sup>1</sup>.
- The model was the result of statistical analysis of housing production in San Francisco over the 2004-2024 period. Technical details on the model are provided in the Appendix.
- The first part of the model estimates the likelihood that multifamily housing will be developed on a given parcel, in a given year. The statistical analysis found that a parcel is more likely to develop when:
  - it has smaller existing buildings (or is vacant), and is located closer to downtown.
  - its zoning allows for a greater height, makes it eligible for the State Density Bonus, and does not restrict the number of units that may be constructed.
  - housing prices are relatively high, and construction costs are relatively low, compared to other years.

Estimating the Number of Units Produced

- The second part of the model estimates the number of units that will be produced when a parcel does develop housing. Based on past experience, the statistical analysis found that a parcel developing housing will produce more units when:
  - its land area and allowable maximum height are greater;
  - it is eligible for the State Density Bonus;
  - its zoning does not restrict the number of units that may be built.
- The OEA used the first part of the model to estimate the probability that housing will be built on a parcel over the next twenty years<sup>2</sup>. That probability was multiplied by the estimate of housing units from the second part, to create an expected number of housing units generated for each parcel over twenty years. When this is summed across all parcels, a citywide housing total is generated.
- This method was used to create estimates of housing production under the existing zoning, and the proposed rezoning. The difference is the estimate of housing that could be produced as a result of the proposed zoning changes.

Limitations of the Housing Development Model

- The housing development model can forecast future housing development based on the city's past experience, but important caveats must be made.
- Because of data availability, not every factor that affects housing production could be included. Missing data may include features of the parcel itself, or policies that may have changed over the 2004-24 period, or vary within the aggregated zoning designations used by the model.
- Limited data also prevents the analysis of fine-grained policy changes in the proposed rezoning, such as restrictions on unit size and mix.
- Several new City and State policies that were intended to encourage housing production have been enacted in recent years, such as, for example, the City's 2023 Housing Production Ordinance (0248-23). The model may be unable to properly assess the impact of these policies in the future.
- Despite these limitations, the OEA believes this approach is well-suited to estimating housing production, for the purposes of economic impact reporting.

Future Housing Market Scenarios

- As noted earlier, the amount of housing that will be produced as a result of the rezoning, and its economic impact, will depend on future housing market conditions. This creates an additional level of uncertainty in the forecasts.
- Gauging future market conditions is further complicated by changes in the city's housing market since the COVID-19 pandemic, as described on the next page.
- To understand the scope of what could potentially happen, the OEA created two future scenarios for housing prices and costs in San Francisco.
- In a high-growth scenario, San Francisco's housing prices, relative to the U.S., return to pre-COVID levels by 2030, and grow at the city's pre-COVID rate after that. Construction costs are assumed to grow at the same rate as inflation.
- In a low-growth scenario, San Francisco's post-COVID relative housing prices are assumed to represent a "new normal," and housing prices are assumed to grow only at a national average level over the next twenty years. Construction costs are also assumed to grow at the same rate as inflation.

San Francisco and U.S. Housing Price Trends Since 2000

Typical Condo Values, San Francisco and the United States, 2000-2025
(Not Adjusted for Inflation)

While San Francisco's housing has always been expensive, during the 2010s, average San Francisco condo prices rose much faster than the rest of the U.S., to as much as 5 times the typical U.S. price.

Since 2020, however, San Francisco condo prices have declined, despite rising inflation and rising U.S. condo prices. Adjusted for inflation, typical San Francisco condo prices in 2025 are 25% lower than they were in 2019.

Among other factors, the increase in remote office work during COVID has reduced the value of a residence near large office employment centers like downtown San Francisco.

Housing Price Trends Within the City

Inflation-Adjusted Condo Price Index (2016=100): Selected San Francisco Neighborhoods, 2016-2025

The reduced value of a downtown location has also shifted multifamily price patterns within the city.

Condos in neighborhoods like Downtown and South of Market have experienced inflation-adjusted price drops of more than 40% since 2016, while the Richmond and Sunset have fallen by far less.

Because most multifamily housing in the city is near downtown, but most of the proposed rezoning is not, the use of a citywide average condo price index is inappropriate. This analysis uses an average price across the 10 Zillow neighborhoods most affected by the zoning, which is somewhat higher than the citywide average.

High and Low Growth Scenario Price Forecasts

Historical and Forecast 10-Neighborhood Condo Prices, Inflation-Adjusted;
2000-2043 (2016=100)

Our high-growth scenario assumes that San Francisco's housing prices, relative to the U.S., return to pre-pandemic levels by 2030, and then grow at the city's long-term average rate until 2045. This implies a rapid growth in housing prices over the next five years, of over 10% per year.

In the low-growth scenario, the post-COVID housing market represents a new normal, and San Francisco housing prices are assumed to grow only at the U.S. long-term rate at 1.8% per year, in inflation-adjusted dollars. Under this assumption, San Francisco housing prices would not recover to their pre-COVID peak, in inflation-adjusted dollars, until 2041.

Construction Cost Trends and Scenarios

Construction Materials, Construction Labor, and Blended Construction Cost Indices, 2000-2024 (Inflation-Adjusted, 2016=100)

The housing development model uses two measures of construction costs: materials cost and local construction industry wages. They are blended into a single index for modeling purposes. Details are in the Appendix.

The cost of construction materials and local wages have grown faster than overall inflation, particularly in the last few years. In 2024, real construction materials costs were 18% higher, and real local wages were 10% higher, than they were in 2016.

In both the high-growth and low-growth scenarios, the blended index is assumed to grow at 0% (after inflation) over the 2026-2045 period. This reflects an assumption that both labor and material costs inflation will revert to the broader rate of inflation in the long term.

Total	3,238	1,594	3,199

Generally, the housing development model forecasts that the current zoning will produce fewer units in the next 20 years than the numbers of units that were produced in the last 20 years.

The table to the left only covers the portion of each planning district that is in the proposed rezoning area. In total, under the current zoning, the model forecasts 1,594 or 3,199 units under the low- and high-growth forecasts, respectively, while 3,238 units were built in the same areas over the 2000-2024 period.

On the next two pages, the model's forecasts of the additional housing created by the proposed zoning is discussed.

Forecast Net Effect of the Zoning

- As shown in the table below, under the low-growth and high-growth scenarios described earlier, the rezoning would lead to 8,504 and 14,646 additional housing units, beyond what would be produced under current zoning, over the next 20 years.

Low Growth Scenario	Units
20-Year Housing Production, Existing Zoning	1,594
20-Year Housing Production, Proposed Rezoning	10,098
Effect of Proposed Rezoning	8,504

Total	92,721			8,504			14,646

The table to the left breaks out the results by current zoning. It illustrates how many rezoned parcels are in the RH-1, RH-2, and RH-3 or RM-1 residential zones, primarily in the western side of the city. These areas will see a substantial increase in the likelihood of developing housing over the next 20 years, but the chances are still small, so those 83,000+ parcels are only forecast to produce about additional 4,200 housing units by 2045, in the high growth scenario.

Fewer Public parcels (generally owned by the City or SFUSD) are larger, and more likely to develop housing through the rezoning, though this depends on the owner's decisions.

Estimating the Loss of Existing Residential Units

- To evaluate the economic impact, OEA calculated the net increase in housing units.
- In the low-growth scenario, 463 more units would be lost under the proposed zoning than under current zoning, over the 20-year forecast period. In the high-growth scenario, 1,031 more housing units would be lost. These losses represent a 6-8% of the housing units gained as a result of the rezoning. Amendments proposed on October 20th may reduce these losses, along with overall housing production.
- The loss of existing housing slightly dampens the housing price reductions associated with the rezoning, and may impose financial harms on existing tenants. City and State law heavily restricts, but does not prohibit, the eviction of tenants for the purpose of demolition, or the demolition of rent-controlled housing. These events have been quite rare in recent decades. If this occurs, tenants are entitled to relocation payments.
- Without any way to meaningfully estimate the number of evictions or demolitions of rent-controlled units, or the financial impact on tenants, this report does not attempt to quantify these potential costs.

Impacts on Housing Prices

- The responsiveness of housing prices to increases in housing supply is a function of price elasticities of supply and demand, which the OEA has estimated in past research<sup>4</sup>.
- The elasticities imply that the proposed rezoning would lead to a -2.5% to -4.2% change in housing prices in the city, depending on the scenario. For context, those percentages are also expressed in terms of current housing prices and apartment rents.

	Low Growth Scenario	High Growth Scenario
Net Change in Housing Supply (units produced less demolitions)	8,041	13,615
Percentage Change in Housing Supply <sup>5</sup>	2.0%	3.4%
Price Elasticity of Demand	-0.7	-0.7
Price Elasticity of Supply	0.1	0.1
Percent change in housing prices	-2.5%	-4.2%
Corresponding change in condo prices <sup>6</sup>	-$24,500	-$41,600
Corresponding change in annual apartment market rents <sup>7</sup>	-$903	-$1,529

Estimating Relocation and Disruption Costs

- To account for the impact on commercial businesses, OEA estimated potential displacement costs. Details are provided in the Appendix.
- Displaced businesses are estimated to occupy commercial space ranging from approximately 1.5 to 2.6 million square feet, depending on the scenario. This displacement would occur over twenty years, and it is highly likely that the rezoning would lead to an increase in the amount of commercial space in the city.
- Annual business disruption and relocation costs range from $16 to $28 million, in today's dollars.

	Low Growth	High Growth
Loss of occupied commercial space (million sf)	1.5	2.6
Disruption-relocation cost/sf	$190	$190
Annual disruption/relocation cost (2025 $ million)	$16	$28

REMI Economic Impact Simulation

- Based on the economic impact factors described earlier, the OEA used the REMI model to measure the net economic impact of the changes associated with the high and low growth scenarios to the city's economy over the 2026-2045 period:
  - An increase in the city's residential capital stock of $8.0 billion (low growth) to $13.5 billion (high growth) in today's dollars, representing the investment associated with the new units forecast under the two scenarios. These figures are calculated by multiplying the net increase in units by average prices.
  - A reduction in citywide housing prices, reaching 2.5% (low growth) and 4.2% (high growth) by 2045.
  - Annual business disruption and relocation costs for retail businesses of $16 million (low growth) and $28 million (high growth) in today's dollars, until 2045.

Economic Impact Assessment

- In the low-growth scenario, the city's GDP would be $560 million larger, in today's dollars, on average over the 2026-45 period. Total employment in the city would be approximately 3,000 more than under the current zoning, on average over the period.
- In the high-growth scenario, the city's GDP growth would be $940 million larger than under current zoning, in 2025 dollars. Employment would be about 5,000 higher.
- Employment gains are expected in every sector, but would be most heavily concentrated in the construction, health care, real estate, and accommodations and food services sectors.
- Despite the displacement of businesses, retail trade is forecast to grow as a result of the population and economic growth created by the proposed rezoning, adding about 210 jobs in the low-growth scenario and about 350 jobs in the high-growth scenario.
- Like most major policies, the proposed rezoning involves benefits and costs. Our analysis suggests the proposed rezoning's positive impact on the city's economy, from lower housing prices and construction, outweighs the negative impact from displaced businesses, by a factor of approximately 22:1.

Conclusions

- The context for housing development in San Francisco has changed profoundly in the past several years. Since 2019, after adjusting for inflation, condo prices in San Francisco have dropped by 25%, while our blended construction cost index has risen by 8%.
- Given this starting point, an expansive rezoning effort, like the proposed Family Zoning plan, will be challenged to match the 2010s levels of new housing development in the city, even under an optimistic high-growth scenario.
- Nevertheless, under both scenarios considered in this report, the proposed rezoning would lead to a significant increase in the city's housing supply, and have broadly positive effects on housing prices and the city's broader economy. The benefits of new residential investments and lower housing prices are projected to outweigh the costs of business interruption and displacement by a factor of roughly 22:1.
- If market conditions were such that the 36,000 unit target was achieved, as a result of the rezoning, the economic impact on the city would likely be significantly more positive than the estimates in this report.

Footnotes

1. See, for example, Inclusionary Housing Working Group: Preliminary Report September 2016.
2. Three large parcels were excluded from the analysis: Laguna Honda Hospital, and the USF Main and Lone Mountain campuses. While all three parcels receive height increases in the proposed rezoning, their size and unique uses makes them unsuitable for the model. If the model could accurately estimate the amount of housing likely to occur on those parcels, the total housing estimate reported in this report would be larger.
3. These are the aggregate zoning classifications used by the model. See the Appendix for details.
4. See Potential Effects of Limiting Market-Rate Housing in the Mission.
5. Assuming 406,000 housing units in the city.
6. Based on Zillow's 2025 average condo prices for San Francisco.
7. Based on 2025 average apartment asking rents, from ApartmentList.

Appendix: Housing Development Model: Methodology

- The housing development model is a two-stage step model. The first stage is a logistic regression, covering every parcel in the city, except those subject to a development agreement, over the 2004-2024 period.
- The dependent variable of the logistic regression is 1 if the parcel produced housing in a given year, and 0 otherwise. Parcels that produce housing in a given year were removed from the dataset for subsequent years. Independent variables, reflecting existing land use, market conditions, and zoning, are listed on the next page.
- The second stage is a regression model including all parcels that produced multifamily housing with more than 10 units, over the 2004-24 period. The dependent variable is the number of units produced on the parcel, and the independent variables are the parcel's "building envelope" (its area multiplied by its allowable height), and two interaction variables: the building envelope times a dummy indicating if the parcel was eligible for the State Density Bonus in that year, and the building envelope times a dummy indicating if the parcel was subject to density-restricted zoning in that year. The intercept of the model was fixed at zero.

Appendix: Housing Development Model: Methodology

- The models' coefficients were used in a forecast that calculated the log-likelihood of development for each rezoned parcel, in each of the forecast years 2026-2045, using the site and zoning information, and the price and cost assumptions for each year (shown on the next page). The log-likelihoods were converted into annual probabilities, from which a 20-year probability of development was calculated.
- The model coefficients were also used to calculate a units estimate; the 20-year probability times the units estimate is the expected number of units produced on that parcel in the 20-year forecast period.
- The forecast model was run for both the current and the proposed zoning. See the section "Logic of Applying the Model to the Proposed Rezoning" for more details.
- Three parcels were excluded from the forecast: Laguna Honda Hospital, the University of San Francisco Main Campus, and the University of San Francisco Lone Mountain Campus. While some housing may be built on those parcels in the forecast period, the model is not well-suited for large parcels with unique uses like these.

Appendix: Logic of Applying the Model

- This section of the appendix describes in more detail how the model was used to produce estimates of future housing production.
- For the existing zoning (“baseline”), the application of the model is straightforward. Current zoning was encoded using the zoning classification on the previous page, and current allowable height was used as the height variable in the logistic regression, and to calculate building envelope in the units regression.
- For the proposed rezoning (“policy”), the logic used was as follows: based on the units regression, each 1000 square feet of building envelope results in 0.42 units. The State Density Bonus adds an additional 0.44 units. Parcels that elect to use the Local Program therefore need to accommodate at least 0.44 additional units per 1000 square feet of envelope if developers are to choose this option. For parcels where the Local Program was more desirable, and on parcels that are ineligible for the SDB, because their zoning and size prevents them from building more than 5 units, the Local Program was applied. For all other parcels the SDB was used.

- Probabilities and units for any parcel using the State Density Bonus were calculated by:
  - In the logistic regression, using the first new height in the rezoning table for Height_Ft and in the Env_1000_Area_Height calculation.
  - In the units regression, using the first new height in the rezoning table to calculate Env_1000_Area_Height;
  - Incorporating the SDB_2016_5Plus_EnvFull effect;
  - Incorporating the Zoning_DR_EnvFull if applicable (i.e. the parcel is density-restricted).

- Probabilities and units for any parcel using the Local Program were calculated by:
  - In the logistic regression, setting  $zp_FBDMulti_RTO = 1$ , to account for the relaxation of density controls in the Local Program;
  - In the logistic regression, using the second new height in the rezoning table for Height_Ft and in the Env_1000_Area_Height calculation.
  - In the units regression, using the second new height in the rezoning table to calculate Env_1000_Area_Height;
  - In the units regression, removing the SDB_2016_5Plus_EnvFull effect;
  - In the units regression, removing the Zoning_DR_EnvFull effect.

Appendix: Business Disruption / Relocation Costs

- The analysis makes the following assumptions about business disruption and relocation costs:
  - Lost space will be 10% vacant, so 90% of the loss represents the loss of occupied space.
  - Lost business net income (for 6 months of disruption): $5/occupied square foot.
  - Fixed labor costs (for 6 months): $10/occupied square foot.
  - Moving costs and build-out of space at new premises: $175/occupied square foot

- Legislation under Consideration
- Affordable Housing Sites Analysis & Strategy

Housing diversity makes for stronger communities

San Francisco's Pervasive Housing Crisis

- SF is 2nd most expensive rental market and 2025 rents grew fastest of any US city.
- Rental vacancies are down to 3.8% — on par with pre-pandemic levels.
- It takes more than 4 minimum wage jobs to afford average SF rent.
- In 2024, 81,200 people applied in the lottery for 512 affordable housing units.
- Evictions nearly doubled in 2024 and are at their highest rate since 2018.
- 1/3 of households are cost-burdened, both renters and owners.
- SF has more than 8,300 unsheltered individuals.

California needs 2.5 million housing units. San Francisco's fair share is 82,000 units.

The Family Zoning Plan fulfills state laws by planning for affordable and mixed-income housing to overcome historic patterns of exclusion.

Housing Opportunity Areas*

Housing Production (2005-2019)

90% of housing was built outside “housing opportunity areas,” even though they cover over 50% of the city.

*Areas designated “Highest Resource” and “High Resource” on the Opportunity Area Map (CA Dept of Housing & Community Development)

What's at stake if we don't rezone

BUILDERS REMEDY: Menlo Park 446' proposal; zoned for 70'

If San Francisco does not adopt compliant rezoning, we risk:

- State seizure of local permitting power, a.k.a. “builders remedy”
- Loss of state funding, including transportation & affordable housing
- Fines and lawsuits

San Francisco's obligations under state law

To maintain Housing Element certification, by January 2026 we must:

- Rezone for realistic capacity to meet our RHNA shortfall (36,200 units).
- Affirmatively Further Fair Housing by zoning in high opportunity areas.
- Identify low-income housing sites that will be eligible for ministerial approval.

NOTE:

Housing Element certification will not be revoked if planned units are not ultimately built.

Proposed Local Program Map (Sept 2025)

- MEETS STATE REQUIREMENTS and allows for at least 36,200 new homes.
- KEEPS LOCAL CONTROL by setting base heights lower and incentivizing projects to use a Local Program.
- PUTS TALLER BUILDINGS NEAR TRANSIT AND SERVICES: 6+ stories on main streets and near transit.
- ALLOWS SMALL APARTMENTS ELSEWHERE: keeps existing 40' height (4 stories) while welcoming more homes.

Proposed Base Height Map (Sept 2025)

- ON CORRIDORS, PROJECTS CHOOSE LOCAL OR STATE PROGRAMS: Projects can get to similar heights under either option.
- IN RESIDENTIAL AREAS, PROJECTS MUST USE LOCAL PROGRAM. Projects in program get form-based zoning and may not use State Density bonus.

40' Gentle Density (4 stories)

77% of sites in the rezoning receive no height changes but will get to build more units within their 40' height limit.

These projects cannot use State Density Bonus to increase heights further.

50' Commercial Transition (5 stories)

Commercial transition areas get an additional 1 story (10') through the Local Program.

These projects cannot use State Density Bonus to increase heights further.

5-story building on West Portal Avenue

65' & 85' Mid-Rise Corridors (6 and 8 stories)

Generally 2 to 4 stories above today's height limit.

Projects can choose either Local Program or State Density Bonus to get to similar heights.

6- and 8-story building on Polk St

Select High Rise Area (Height varies)

Projects can choose either Local Program or State Density Bonus to get to similar heights.

16-story building
in Mission Bay

State Law & Capacity Calculations

To meet state law and Housing Element Action 7.1.1: SF must demonstrate that rezoning adds at least 36,200 units of capacity on sites that are suitable and available, using methods that reasonably account for development likelihood.

HCD issued a preliminary approval of the Plan on September 9th, noting that SF must use all three of these methods in combination to demonstrate realistic capacity:

Method	Analysis	Capacity (June &amp; Sept ordinances)
Citywide	Uses an annual pace of development relative to zoned capacity.	39,000 units (meets target of 36,200 units)
Soft Sites	Excludes or discounts parcels based on current uses and other characteristics.	45,000 units (meets target of 36,200 units)
Feasibility	Computational model testing financial feasibility and economic conditions on each parcel.	19,000 units (meets target of 16,000 moderate &amp; above-moderate units)

Senate Bill 79 (SB 79): Applies after July 1, 2026

- SETS MINIMUM HEIGHT & DENSITY: 5 to 9 stories, 1/2-mile around BART, Caltrain, Muni Metro, and Major Bus Stops
- VARIOUS EXEMPTIONS UNTIL 2032: For lots with >50% SB79 density, low-resource census tracts, other conditions. Most SF parcels are exempt under these rules.
- ALLOWS LOCAL “ALTERNATIVE PLAN” IN-LIEU OF SB79: provided that Alternative Plan has at least same cumulative housing capacity as SB79.

SB 79: Family Zoning Plan is Adequate as “Alternative Plan”

Preliminary analysis shows that if the proposed rezoning is adopted, SF will likely have an adequate Alternative Plan, though further analysis is needed.

HCD and MTC will issue additional guidance on SB79 implementation.

Affordable Housing Sites Analysis and Strategies

Topics We'll Cover Today

- Project Purpose and Context
- Research and Analysis:
  - Pipeline and Parcel Analysis
  - Policy and Financial Research
- Recommended Strategies

Affordable Housing Sites Analysis & Strategies Purpose

Affordable Housing Sites Analysis and Strategies (AHSAS) informs how the City and affordable housing developers can acquire and develop sites for 100% affordable housing, focused on:

- Effectively managing the existing pipeline of affordable housing
- Ensuring ongoing affordable housing production along with equitable geographic distribution of affordable housing
- Identifying and acquiring new sites for affordable housing development using a range of approaches

Affordable Housing Funding as the Key Challenge

Funding and cost lowering are key to produce and preserve affordable housing.

Affordable Housing Leadership Council Report (Spring 2024) addresses funding, financing, and costs.

- Increase Federal, State, and regional funding.
- Expand San Francisco's capacity and coordination to fund affordable housing.
- Innovation and alternative approaches to delivering affordable housing.

Local Affordable Housing Funding 2018-2023

Property taxes and other revenue from new development provide majority of local funding

Affordable Housing Pipeline Analysis

Mapping and Analysis of Existing Affordable Housing Pipeline

- Prospective sites & Pre-construction: 12,600+ units (59 projects)
- Under Construction: 2,299 units (30 projects)
- Inclusionary BMR Units: 2,500+ units (124 projects)

Geography: Affordable Housing pipeline mirrors the market-rate pipeline, with most projects in equity geographies.

Significant funding gap holds back the completion of existing pipeline

Site Suitability Analysis (pre-rezoning)

Purpose: Identify potential affordable housing sites based on:

- Policy (local/state law) and development potential
- MOHCD and affordable developer criteria: preference for 100+ units on 8,000+ sq ft for efficiency
- Analysis excludes existing residential units and various public sites

Draft Finding: Under today's rules (pre-rezoning), 1,200 parcels may be suitable for affordable housing with capacity for 148,000 units.

Assembling smaller adjacent lots yields additional 2,200 parcels with capacity for 98,000 units.

100% Affordable Sites: Relationship to Rezoning

FAMILY ZONING PLAN

REZONED SITES (overall)

- Required to meet Housing Element (e.g., RHNA) at all income levels.
- Primarily located in Well-Resourced Neighborhoods.

- Subset of rezoned sites to meet low-income RHNA requirement.
- Must meet minimum size and density.
- Future projects proposing >20% BMR are eligible for ministerial approval

LOW-INCOME SITES

100% AFFORDABLE SITES

- Sites meeting suitability criteria for MOHCD, state, and federal funding.
- Located citywide; overlaps with rezoning & low-income sites
- Rezoning will enable additional parcels to meet criteria.

Affordable Housing Financial and Policy Research

Financial Research: Trends in land and development costs

- Construction costs are 60%+ of affordable housing development costs while land costs averaged about 10% (ranging from 7-14%). Land holding can add cost as well
- Land prices have been relatively stable averaging ~$121K per unit over the last decade. Fewer land sales in down markets; prices fluctuating just 5%.
- Rezoning has limited effect on land costs per unit; effects are linked to economic conditions and financial feasibility. Recent land prices per unit for affordable housing sites were comparable in rezoned areas and areas with no zoning changes

Policy research: Best practices from other cities

- Establishing stable funding and aligning pipeline growth with funding capacity and building on partnerships with public, nonprofit, & faith-based property owners

Affordable Housing Sites Recommended Strategies

- 1. Managing the pipeline of housing development and site acquisition
- 2. Expanding the geography of affordable housing
- 3. Public sites and faith- and nonprofit-owned sites for affordable housing
- 4. Strategic market practices for site acquisition
- 5. Expanding opportunities for "missing middle" affordable housing types.

Updated Informational Resources

Resources providing factual information and addressing misinformation:

- What is the Family Zoning Plan?
- (NEW) Capacity Calculations
- Small Business
- Tenant Protections
- What Happens if We Don't Rezone?
- Example visualizations

A graphic titled "Tenant Protections" with the subtitle "How SF will continue to protect renters as the city grows". It features a circular logo for the "FAMILY ZONING PLAN" and a background image of a family of four sitting at a dining table.

FAST FACTS: How the Family Zoning Plan Benefits Renters

- 1 San Francisco is the 2nd most expensive housing market in the nation. Renters, especially low- and middle-income families, face sky high competition and growing displacement pressure.
- 2 More housing = more affordable housing. Every new project creates Below Market Rate (BMR) units, funds 100% affordable housing, and adds more homes overall.
- 3 Building citywide keeps rents in check. Cities like Boston, Sacramento, Minneapolis, and Austin saw housing costs stabilize—or even drop—after allowing more housing in their community.
- 4 Demolitions are almost non-existent. Our current rules work, and make demolishing rent-controlled homes nearly impossible. Since 2012, an average of 18 housing units a year – most of them single family homes – have been demolished. This is just 0.00004% of SF's total housing stock (420,000 homes).
- 5 The Plan adds even stronger protections. The Family Zoning Plan and Tenant Protections Ordinance would require even stronger requirements for relocating existing tenants and providing a right to return. It also preserves the Planning Commission's decision-making power to approve or deny any proposals to demolish rent-controlled housing.

ow homes generate higher public venues. In addition to fueling the local economy, new homes will increase property taxes, increasing City revenues to fund vital infrastructure and services, such as public safety and neighborhood beautification.

ost housing is built on sites without prefront businesses, helping preserve the vitality of commercial districts. On two SF projects that were rezoned and added 2,800 units, 85% of developments were built on underutilized sites – such as parking lots, bus stations, and vacant commercial buildings or closed banks.

F has a range of programs to support small businesses, which will be strengthened through the Family Zoning Plan. These include programs like leasing support, technical assistance, marketing, and access to grants and loans.

Rezoning will increase housing affordability & diversity.

- 100% AFFORDABLE HOUSING: funded by bonds, inclusionary fees, state & federal funds.
- MIXED-INCOME HOUSING: Market-rate projects contribute at least 15-20% affordable units.
- SITES FOR AFFORDABLE: Enabling sufficient sites for affordable housing
- INCENTIVES FOR 100% AFFORDABLE: through our Local Program.
- DIVERSITY = AFFORDABILITY: Allowing more housing will increase affordability, esp. for middle-income households.

Chair Myrna Melgar
Vice Chair Chyanne Chen
Supervisor Bilal Mahmood
San Francisco Board of Supervisors Land Use and Transportation Committee
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, Suite 244
San Francisco, CA 94102

Dear Chair Melgar, Vice Chair Chen, and Supervisor Mahmood:

I first want to thank Chair Melgar for your efforts in organizing the agenda for today's hearing and allowing us the opportunity for a robust policy discussion on the Mayor's proposed upzoning plan and our proposed amendments.

It is our full intention to meet the State's housing mandate and I believe that San Francisco can both meet this goal and develop without displacement.

Since this summer, I have not only been studying the Mayor's proposed upzoning plan, my team and I have also been in conversations with many stakeholders and community members in the Richmond and citywide. We have heard from many San Franciscans who are questioning whether they will be part of our City's future or whether they will be left in the past because of this proposed upzoning plan.

Together with stakeholders, we have gone to great lengths to study the Housing Element's Site Inventory and Rezoning Program previously submitted by the City and approved by California Department of Housing and Community Development (California HCD). We used the approved guidelines to evaluate the Mayor's proposed upzoning plan and have found that the Mayor's proposed plan is a significant departure from what was already approved, with a great increase of upzoning and density to sites that have existing dwelling units. This ignores the overarching principle already agreed upon by both our local and state governments, that "change that the city needs must not harm people”, as clearly stated on page 36 in the Site Inventory and Rezoning Program document.

As a result, the amendments we propose before the Land Use Committee today, will remarkably improve this Plan and add a balanced approach to encourage housing production and meet the state housing mandate, without incentivizing displacement.

Based on the model used for the Existing Sites Inventory in the Site Inventory and Rezoning Program, again a document approved by California HCD, there is a list of characteristics used to determine non-vacant sites to be excluded for rezoning unit potential. With this model determining site inventory and excluding specific non-vacant sites, the City can still meet the mandate of San Francisco’s Regional Housing Needs Allocation and Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing laws to accommodate about 36,282 new units in Well-Resourced Neighborhoods.

In fact, as indicated in the very same document on page 42, “Sites with existing residential uses of any amount that have not otherwise been wholly excluded from the Rezoning capacity assessment were deemed to have very low reasonable likelihood of redevelopment and, as a result, had their net capacities reduced downward (generally by 98%, leaving only 2% of their theoretical capacity represented in the Rezoning capacity).”

With that in mind, we are proposing language ranging from:

- Furthering demolition controls to protect tenants;
- Implementing nexus studies and impact fees to ensure adequate infrastructure investment, especially given the fact the City is facing existing funding challenges to build out the emergency water firefighting system for well-resourced neighborhoods, a deficit in public transit, and increased risk of tenant and small business displacement;
- Placing a “shot clock” to require developers to build within 30 months to boost housing production in the near future to meet the state mandated timeline of 2031;
- Limiting Form-Based Density to the Local Density Bonus Program to provide meaningful incentives to build family housing with 2-3 bedroom requirements; and
- Strengthening historic preservation to protect the unique characters of our neighborhoods and history of San Francisco;

In the end, when the proposed amendments are overlaid with each other, they meet one policy goal: that the displacement of tenants and small businesses should not be the cost of doing business. Instead, we can meet our housing mandate and provide incentives for developers to drive housing developments at vacant sites.

We have been in discussion with Mayor Lurie and his team almost weekly since the end of summer. Our conversation has been productive and I want to especially thank the Mayor's Deputy Chief of Staff Aly Bonde for her efforts. We have been sharing with her our amendments and continuing our conversations.

As we all know, to build housing we need both land and money. And the housing San Francisco needs most is housing people can afford. In fact, it is my intention to request the drafting and introduction of an Affordable Housing Special Use District at a later date to identify all public land, including SF Municipal Transportation Authority owned land, private land of 8,000 square feet or larger and merger lots, as well as vacant and blighted lots, and rezone them specifically for housing with a different set of local density bonus. We also must identify funding to build, and to this end I will continue to push forward conversations for a Regional Housing Bond in 2028.

I appreciate all the months of dialogue and the incredible amount of work that has gone into this upzoning plan and I know that it is our intent as a City to meet our housing needs without harming San Franciscans. I believe the amendments I have before you today will do just that. We can develop without displacement.

So again thank you, Chair Melgar and the entire Land Use Committee, for doing your due diligence of evaluating the Plan accordingly and reviewing our proposed amendments. I look forward to having your support.

Sincerely,

Connie Chan
Supervisor, District 1

This item is being forwarded to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. The San Francisco Family Zoning Plan is anticipated to be before the Board in the coming months.

Notice of Availability: Addendum to the Housing Element 2022 Update Final Environmental Impact Report

This email is to let you know that the San Francisco Planning Department has published an addendum to the Housing Element 2022 Update Final Environmental Impact Report. You are receiving this notice because you commented on the Environmental Impact Report for the Housing Element 2022 Update or previously expressed interest in the project's environmental review process.

The Planning Commission hearing for the San Francisco Family Zoning Plan will be held on September 11, 2025. The hearing is for the Planning Commission to consider the ordinances to implement the San Francisco Family Zoning Plan.

Neither the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) nor Chapter 31 of the San Francisco Administrative Code requires a hearing specific to the addendum.

A hearing agenda will be posted on the Department webpage by Friday, September 5.

Ordinance and Local Coastal Program Amendment Description: Three Ordinances are proposed for adoption by the City. Because the Ordinances apply in part to property located in the Coastal Zone, enactment requires amending the Land Use Plan and Implementation Plan of the City's Local Coastal Program.

- 1) Board File No. 250700 - Ordinance amending the Zoning Map to implement the Family Zoning Plan by amending the Zoning Use District Maps to: 1) reclassify certain properties currently zoned as various types of Residential to Residential Transit Oriented - Commercial (RTO-C); 2) reclassify properties currently zoned Residential Transit Oriented (RTO) to Residential Transit Oriented - 1 (RTO-1); 3) reclassify certain properties from Residential districts other than RTO to RTO-1; 4) reclassify certain properties currently zoned Neighborhood Commercial (NC) or Public (P) to Community Business (C-2); and 5) reclassify certain properties from Public to Mixed-Use or Neighborhood Commercial Districts; amending the Height and Bulk Map to: 1) reclassify properties in the Family Zoning Plan to R-4 Height and Bulk District; 2) change the height limits on certain lots in the R-4 Height and Bulk District; and 3) designating various parcels to be included in the Non-Contiguous San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Special Use District (SFMTA SUD); amending the Local Coastal Program to: 1) reclassify all properties in the Coastal Zone to R-4 Height and Bulk District; 2) reclassify certain properties to RTO-C and Neighborhood Commercial District; 3) designate one parcel as part of the SFMTA SUD; and 4) directing the Planning Director to transmit the Ordinance to the Coastal Commission upon enactment;
- 2) Board File No. 250701 - Ordinance amending the Planning Code to: 1) create the Housing Choice-San Francisco Program to incent housing development through a local bonus program and by adopting a Housing Sustainability District, 2) modify height and bulk limits to provide for additional capacity in well-resourced neighborhoods, and to allow additional height and bulk for projects using the local bonus program, 3) require only buildings taller than 85 feet in certain Districts to reduce ground level wind currents, 4) make conforming changes to the RH (Residential, House), RM (Residential, Mixed), and RC (Residential-Commercial) District zoning tables to reflect the changes to density controls, and parking requirements made in this ordinance, 5) create the RTO-C (Residential Transit Oriented-Commercial) District, 6) implement the Metropolitan Transportation Commission's Transit-Oriented Communities Policy by making changes to parking requirements, minimum residential densities, and minimum office intensities, and requiring maximum dwelling unit sizes, 7) revise off-street parking and curb cut obligations citywide, 8) create the Non-contiguous San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Sites Special Use District, 9) permit certain Legacy Businesses to relocate without a conditional use authorization and waive development impact fees for those businesses, 10) make technical amendments to the Code to implement the above changes, and 11) make conforming changes to zoning tables in various Districts, including the Neighborhood Commercial District and Mixed Use Districts; amending the Business and Tax Regulations Code regarding the Board of Appeals' review of permits in the Housing Choice Program Housing Sustainability District; amending the Local Coastal Program to implement the Housing Choice-San Francisco Program and other associated changes in the City's Coastal Zone, and directing the Planning Director to transmit the Ordinance to the Coastal Commission upon enactment;

- 3) Planning Commission Case Number 2021-005878GPA - Ordinance amending the General Plan to revise the Urban Design Element, Commerce and Industry Element, Transportation Element, Balboa Park Station Area Plan, Glen Park Community Plan, Market and Octavia Area Plan, Northeastern Waterfront Plan, Van Ness Avenue Area Plan, Western SoMa (South of Market) Area Plan, Western Shoreline Area Plan, Downtown Area Plan, and Land Use Index, to implement the Family Housing Zoning Program, including the Housing Choice-San Francisco Program, by adjusting guidelines regarding building heights, density, design, and other matters; amending the City's Local Coastal Program to implement the Housing Choice- San Francisco Program and other associated changes in the City's Coastal Zone, and directing the Planning Director to transmit the ordinance to the Coastal Commission upon enactment;

The Planning Commission will consider these Amendments on or after September 11, 2025. The Planning Commission recommendation on these Amendments will be advisory to the Board of Supervisors, which has final approval authority over the San Francisco General Plan, Planning Code, Zoning Map, and Local Coastal Program Amendments.

The final decision by the Board of Supervisors will occur no sooner than six weeks after the date of this notice; after which the City shall submit the Local Coastal Program Amendments to the California Coastal Commission for certification. The Ordinances and Local Coastal Program Amendments are not operative within the Coastal Zone until final certification by the California Coastal Commission. If the California Coastal Commission certifies these Local Coastal Program Amendments, subject to modifications, the Local Coastal Program Amendments shall become effective 30 days after enactment of the modifications.

All interested persons are invited to comment on the draft amendment either in person at the scheduled public hearing, or in writing to the San Francisco Planning Department, 49 South Van Ness Avenue, Suite 1400, San Francisco, CA 94103 before September 11, 2025. If you wish to challenge the City's action on the above proceedings in court, you may be limited to addressing only those issues you or someone else have raised at the public hearing described in this notice or written in correspondence to the City at or before the public hearing.

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

The California Housing Defense Fund ("CalHDF") submits this letter to outline the City of San Francisco's legal obligations surrounding its efforts to implement its housing element. Specifically, CalHDF writes to remind the City:

1. The City must rezone as promised in its housing element – it must upzone enough to produce (not merely attain capacity for) 36,282 units based on an analytical model that assesses the probability of development for rezoned parcels under current economic conditions.
2. The City's housing element and the housing element law oblige it to reduce constraints on housing production and refrain from adding new constraints, especially in the City's efforts to satisfy its other housing element obligations.

If the City does not obey the law on these points, CalHDF stands ready to challenge the City's intransigence in court. Such a lawsuit would expose the City to penalties, including the payment of CalHDF's attorney's fees. CalHDF urges the City to avoid such needless litigation and instead comply with state law, the contours of which are explained in detail below.

The City's Proposed Rezonings Are Inadequate

The Housing Element Law (Gov. Code, §§ 65580 et seq.) establishes a clear process for the evaluation, planning, and enactment of the City's housing policy. That process has a two-part structure. In the first part, the City must adopt a housing element on a specified timeline and that meets certain requirements. In the second part, the City must implement the programs promised in its housing element. Crucially, the second step relies on the first step: what, precisely, the City must do in the second step has already been established by the housing element. (See Gov. Code, § 65583, subd. (c).) The second step is not a freestanding exercise in policymaking or policy analysis. (See id.) The policymaking and policy analysis are conducted in the first step, and the Housing Element Law leaves essentially no room to alter the results at the second step.<sup>1</sup>

San Francisco has completed the first step. It adopted a housing element on January 31, 2023, adhering to the substantive and procedural rules in the Housing Element Law. The California Department of Housing and Community Development ("HCD") also certified the City's adopted housing element as legally compliant, pursuant to its statutory authority. (See, e.g., Gov. Code, § 65585.) That housing element made numerous detailed commitments. These commitments include promises to rezone large areas of the City to accommodate housing growth necessary to meet demand and ease upward pressures on housing costs. (See Gov. Code, §§ 65583 [establishing standards for required rezonings]; 65583.1 [same]; 65583.2 [same].) The housing element, moreover, promised not only to rezone, but to engage in detailed analysis that would help shape the rezoning. (See Program 7.1.1 in San Francisco's Housing Element, available here.)

San Francisco is now at the second step of the process: implementing the commitments in its housing element. This includes the aforementioned rezoning and associated policy analyses. The City's proposed rezoning, however, fails to fulfill crucial aspects of housing element commitments – commitments that the City, as explained above, cannot renege on without going through a full amendment process for its housing element.

Program 7.1.1 of the City's housing element commits the City to implementing a rezoning program that "reasonably account[s] for sites' likelihood of development during the planning period using an analytical model." The housing element uses mandatory language, stating that the City "shall" build its rezoning program around such a "probability-of-development" analysis. In sum: the City must rezone to an extent that the expected number of new units that will be built after the rezoning, calculated via a robust probability-of-development analysis, meets the City's projected housing need (i.e. the

<sup>1</sup> If the City wishes to alter the policy analysis or programs promised by its housing element, it has an avenue to do that: it may amend its housing element according to the procedures set forth in Government Code section 65585. But the process remains a two-step process: the City must first amend its housing element, and only then can it proceed to the second step of implementing the promised housing element programs.

Regional Housing Needs Assessment, or “RHNA,” allocation, plus a buffer specified in the housing element).

The current rezoning proposal does not do this. The proposal’s failure is twofold. First, none of the methods the Planning Department has relied on to assess whether the proposal will satisfy San Francisco’s rezoning obligation constitutes a probability-of-development analysis using an analytical model in line with Program 7.1.1 in the housing element. Second, when the City has conducted an analysis that meets the requirements of Program 7.1.1, the analysis shows the current rezoning proposal will not satisfy San Francisco’s rezoning obligation.

With respect to the rezoning proposal’s first failure: the City proposes three methods to project the number of new units the proposed rezoning can be expected to produce. None of the three methods measures up to the standards in Program 7.1.1.

1. The first method is the “soft sites” method, which is described in appendix B of the City’s housing element. This method assumes that a site currently hosting a residential use has a two percent probability of being redeveloped with the rezoning’s planned residential capacity and a site currently hosting a non-residential use has a seventy percent probability of redevelopment. Such rigid calculations based on uniform, citywide assumptions about the odds of development on thousands of very different sites are not an “analytical model” and do not “reasonably account for sites’ likelihood of development” as required by Program 7.1.1. These assumptions, furthermore, are not reasonable and do not rest on any evidence. They are highly motivated guesswork, and highly motivated guesswork will not cut the mustard.
2. The second method rests on an economic model developed by a consultant. This model does not assess the likelihood of a given site’s being developed under the rezoning proposal. Instead, it calculates how many units of housing are “financially feasible” on parcels throughout the City. This is not an “analytical model” that “reasonably account[s] for sites’ likelihood of development” as required by Program 7.1.1. As the City well knows, property owners across the City submit permit applications for only a small portion of economically feasible new housing units, and not all of those permit applications ultimately produce actual housing units. The City attempts to address this problem by assuming – similar to the soft sites method – that two percent of sites with economically feasible new housing developments currently occupied by residential uses and thirty-five percent of other sites with economically feasible new housing developments will be developed. This is inadequate for the same reasons the soft sites method is inadequate. Moreover, this method projects only 19,000 new units of housing over the planning period – far below the 36,282 units the City must accommodate.

3. The third method involves looking at “how much of the City’s overall zoning capacity has gotten built out over the years.” This – again – is not an “analytical model.” Nor does it look at the sites slated for rezoning under the current rezoning proposal and assess the likelihood they will produce new housing. This method is further flawed because much of San Francisco’s recent increase in zoned capacity, and much of the new housing that has been built, took place on vacant sites, whereas the proposed housing element rezoning covers a broad swath of the City and comprises mostly non-vacant sites. Other problems here include unrealistically low estimates of the City’s residential zoning capacity in prior years (thus inflating the share of residential zoned capacity that has been built out) and the inclusion of residential projects built under development agreements, which do not correspond to rezonings, and which were separately counted towards the City’s pre-existing residential zoned capacity in the housing element.

With respect to the rezoning proposal’s second failure, analytical models that would satisfy Program 7.1.1 in the housing element demonstrate that the proposed rezoning will not produce anywhere close to the required number of new units. San Francisco’s City Economist recently released an analysis of the City’s proposed rezoning (available at the link and appended to this letter). This analysis relies on the exact approach that San Francisco’s Housing Element pledged to use: an analytical model that assesses the probability of development. (Indeed, it is the exact approach HCD suggested the city use.) The results are damning. In the best case scenario, San Francisco’s City Economist’s analytical model found that the rezoning can only be reasonably expected to produce around 14,646 units by 2045. Less optimistic assumptions produce a forecast of only 8,504 units by 2045. This indicates the rezoning plan falls far short of what is required: being shown by an analytical model to reasonably be expected to produce 36,282 units by 2031.

These are not minor problems. Program 7.1.1 is central to San Francisco’s compliance with the Housing Element Law. The City’s housing element meets the requirements of the Housing Element Law only because it included Program 7.1.1’s commitment to rezone based on a realistic probability-of-development analysis. To be crystal clear: without Program 7.1.1, the housing element does not comply with Government Code section 65583.2, subdivision (g)(2). This is because the housing element relies on non-vacant sites to accommodate more than half of its RHNA allocation at the lower-income level, and thus the Housing Element Law requires its housing element to “demonstrate that the existing use [on each non-vacant site] does not constitute an impediment to additional residential development.” (Gov. Code, § 65583.2, subd. (g)(2).) “An existing use shall be presumed to impede additional residential development, absent findings based on substantial evidence that the use is likely to be discontinued.” (Ibid.) San Francisco’s housing element does not demonstrate with substantial evidence that specific existing uses on specific sites intended to accommodate low-income housing will not impede additional residential development. Instead, the housing element commits the City, in Program 7.1.1, to rezoning in a manner that “shall reasonably account for sites' likelihood of development during the planning period using an analytical model." That commitment is the basis of the City's compliance with Government Code section 65583.2, subdivision (g)(2). Refusing to follow through on that commitment would leave the City without any basis for compliance with the Housing Element Law on this point.<sup>2</sup>

CalHDF urges the City to do as the law requires. The City must adopt a rezoning that an analytical model such as the City Economists' shows can reasonably be expected to produce 36,282 new units under current economic conditions, as required by Program 7.1.1. Alternatively, the City can increase the probability of sites' development (again, according to a realistic analytical model) by adjusting non-zoning policies that constrain housing production: the City could, for example, reduce transfer taxes for residential projects, impact fees for new residential construction, or inclusionary zoning requirements. The City should not – it cannot – rely on flawed and insufficient analyses to justify its planned rezonings. Doing so violates the law.

The City Must Reduce Constraints on Housing Production, Not Add New Ones

The City's planned rezoning, although on net it adds new capacity, includes constraints on housing development that do not exist under current zoning rules. Specifically, the proposal includes minimum office densities, caps on dwelling unit size, new limits on curb cuts, and lower parking maximums. Furthermore, the City's proposed local zoning bonus program, known as the "Housing Choice–San Francisco" ("HCSF") program, imposes new limitations on residential projects' eligibility for protections and benefits under state laws, including the Statewide Density Bonus Law. While some of these constraints may be good policy, they pose a problem for two reasons.

First, the new constraints were not analyzed by the City's housing element. The Housing Element Law requires local governments to analyze governmental constraints on housing production. (Gov. Code, § 65583, subd. (a)(5).) The results of this analysis then inform the policies and programs in the housing element. (See id.; id. at subd. (c)(3); Californians for Homeownership, Inc. v. City of Beverly Hills (2023) Los Angeles County Superior Court, Case No. 23STCP00143, at p. 6, [finding planned rezonings for housing element site inventory must consider constraints identified by the housing element's constraints analysis] [opinion attached to this letter].) Because the new constraints attached to the City's rezoning proposal were not analyzed in the City's housing element, the City cannot rely on the rezoning proposal to produce as many units as it is required to unless the City analyzes the effects of the new constraints and offsets their impact on housing production.

<sup>2</sup> The City could address this issue by producing site-specific evidence that existing uses on non-vacant sites will not impede additional residential development, adding that evidence to a new draft of its housing element, and adopting the amended housing element. But – again – the City would have to do this before rezoning. The process of developing and adopting housing element commitments and then, separately, implementing those commitments remains a two-step process.

Second, the City's housing element explicitly recognizes this and commits the City to refrain from adding new constraints. Program 7.1.1 states: "The rezoning program ... shall not add government constraints that reduce project financial feasibility as determined by an analysis prior to the rezoning enactment." Program 8.1.6 states: "[A]ny City-adopted rezoning or development controls shall not impose any new governmental constraints to the development of housing unless those increased constraints are offset by the removal or reduction of other constraints." If San Francisco wishes to establish new governmental constraints to housing production (such as making new developments ineligible for the waivers and protections offered by State Density Bonus Law), it must concurrently reduce other constraints to a degree that maintains the overall viability of new residential construction, "as determined by an analysis prior to the rezoning enactment" that assess projects' "financial feasibility." Pursuing the new constraints without offsetting them by reducing existing constraints, however, would violate the commitments in housing element programs 7.1.1 and 8.1.6 and hence violate the Housing Element Law.

As you are well aware, California remains in the throes of a statewide crisis-level housing shortage. New multifamily housing in San Francisco a public benefit: it will help satisfy demand for housing near jobs and transit, thereby reducing displacement pressure; and it will also cut down on transportation-related greenhouse gas emissions by providing housing in a major metro area, as opposed to farther-flung regions in the state (and out of state). CalHDF therefore urges the City to follow through on the commitments in its housing element, as the law requires, and obey state law in drafting and enforcing its land use regulations.

Family Zoning Plan: Economic Impact Report

Office of the Controller
Office of Economic Analysis

Items 250700 & 250701
October 29, 2025

Introduction

- Two proposed ordinances would change zoning controls to permit more housing on a large segment of San Francisco, particularly on the western half of the city. They implement changes to the Housing Element of the City's General Plan, a planning document whose revisions were adopted in 2023.
- The Ordinance in file #250700, the Zoning Map Amendment, would generally raise allowable building heights along commercial corridors and transit lines, to permit mid-rise and some high-rise development.
- The Ordinance in file #250701 implements the Housing Choice-San Francisco program, which offers an alternative to the State Density Bonus program.
- The Office of Economic Analysis (OEA) has prepared this report because the proposed legislation may have a material impact on the city's economy. This report uses a model that estimates potential new development, in order to assess economic impact. That model is not a replacement for the City's estimates of realistic capacity under Government Code § 65583.2.

Zoning Map Amendment: Key Provisions

- The Zoning Map Amendment would make changes to allowable building heights and bulk, and/or zoning districts, in over 92,000 parcels in the city.
- The vast majority are residential parcels, whose allowable heights would either remain at 40 feet, or rise to 50 or 65 feet.
- On these and many other rezoned parcels, the Housing Choice San Francisco program (described on the next page) relaxes existing controls on the number of housing units allowed on a parcel.
- Allowable heights are generally increased to 65 to 85 feet along many commercial corridors, with development along wider streets near transit stations or major lines increased to 85 feet.
- Heights above 140 feet are allowed on certain streets that currently allow high-rise development or have larger parcels, at key intersections, and near certain major transit routes and stations. The map on page 5 provides additional details.

Housing Choice San Francisco – Key Provisions

- The Housing Choice San Francisco program, or “Local Program”, gives developers an alternative to the State Density Bonus.
- Many of the rezoned residential parcels are too small to be eligible for the State Density Bonus, but may achieve greater density through the use of the Local Program.
- Local Program users also gain benefits associated with housing unit mix, methods of complying with inclusionary housing requirements, rear-yard and setback requirements, broad code flexibility, and certain process changes.
- The ordinance has several other provisions, including limiting the maximum size of new residential units, reducing allowable parking, and restricting new curb cuts. These policy changes are not considered in this report.
- Additionally, the proposed ordinance gives displaced businesses the right to relocate anywhere in the city where their activity is permitted by zoning, without a conditional use permit, and waives development impact fees associated with the relocation.

Details of the Rezoning

The map to the left, from the City Planning department, indicates which parcels in the city will be rezoned, and to which heights. It reflects the plan as of July.

Gray parcels will be zoned for low-rise, 40-50 feet housing developments. This includes single-family residential zones, within which greater density will be permitted via the Local Program.

Yellow and orange parcels will be upzoned to mid-rise development of 65-105 feet.

Pink and purple parcels will have height limits ranging from 120-180 feet, and the blue and green parcels will be upzoned for high-rise development, of 240 feet or greater.

The Rezoning and the Regional Housing Needs Assessment

- Each jurisdiction in California is required to have its Housing Element be certified by the State's Housing and Community Development Department.
- Certification involves, among other things, ensuring that the City has the zoning capacity to meet the city's obligations under the State's Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA).
- RHNA is a Statewide planning process, in which future needs are forecasted for metropolitan areas, and then allocated to the individual cities and counties that administer land use planning.
- In San Francisco's case, the RHNA obligation requires the City to have realistic capacity for approximately 82,000 new housing units, at different economic levels, within an 8-year planning period ending in 2031.
- Of this 82,000 unit requirement, the City must create capacity for approximately 36,000 units.

Substitutions and Proposed Amendments

- On September 30, a new version of #250700 was substituted by Mayor Lurie, which made relatively minor zoning changes on a number of parcels. This analysis reflects those changes.
- On October 21, Supervisor Melgar proposed an amendment that would prohibit the use of the Local Program on any parcel containing more than two existing housing units, which would involve the demolition of a unit subject to rent control.
- Also on October 21, Supervisor Sauter introduced an amendment that creates incentives for developers to replace lost commercial space.
- As the language of these two amendments was made public less than one week ago, this report does not attempt to model their economic impact.

Economic Impact Factors

- When the City relaxes zoning controls, by reducing density restrictions or increasing allowable heights, more development projects will become financially feasible, and the supply of housing in the city will rise.
- This increased supply will put downward pressure on housing prices in the city. Cheaper housing benefits city residents who move within the city, and also makes San Francisco more affordable for new arrivals.
- The development of new housing also stimulates investment and employment in construction and related industries.
- The population growth associated with new housing also stimulates the local economy, by expanding the numbers of workers and consumers.
- On the other hand, the limited amount of vacant lots in the city means that new housing generally involves the loss of existing buildings, including both residential and commercial properties. This can impose relocation and other costs on residential and commercial tenants.

Estimating the Likelihood of New Housing Development

- The amount of new housing that the rezoning will produce is an important contributor to its economic impact. To estimate this, OEA refined a statistical model that it has used since 2016 to estimate the impact of policy changes on housing production in the city<sup>1</sup>.
- The model was the result of statistical analysis of housing production in San Francisco over the 2004-2024 period. Technical details on the model are provided in the Appendix.
- The first part of the model estimates the likelihood that multifamily housing will be developed on a given parcel, in a given year. The statistical analysis found that a parcel is more likely to develop when:
  - it has smaller existing buildings (or is vacant), and is located closer to downtown.
  - its zoning allows for a greater height, makes it eligible for the State Density Bonus, and does not restrict the number of units that may be constructed.
  - housing prices are relatively high, and construction costs are relatively low, compared to other years.

Estimating the Number of Units Produced

- The second part of the model estimates the number of units that will be produced when a parcel does develop housing. Based on past experience, the statistical analysis found that a parcel developing housing will produce more units when:
  - its land area and allowable maximum height are greater;
  - it is eligible for the State Density Bonus;
  - its zoning does not restrict the number of units that may be built.
- The OEA used the first part of the model to estimate the probability that housing will be built on a parcel over the next twenty years<sup>2</sup>. That probability was multiplied by the estimate of housing units from the second part, to create an expected number of housing units generated for each parcel over twenty years. When this is summed across all parcels, a citywide housing total is generated.
- This method was used to create estimates of housing production under the existing zoning, and the proposed rezoning. The difference is the estimate of housing that could be produced as a result of the proposed zoning changes.

Limitations of the Housing Development Model

- The housing development model can forecast future housing development based on the city's past experience, but important caveats must be made.
- Because of data availability, not every factor that affects housing production could be included. Missing data may include features of the parcel itself, or policies that may have changed over the 2004-24 period, or vary within the aggregated zoning designations used by the model.
- Limited data also prevents the analysis of fine-grained policy changes in the proposed rezoning, such as restrictions on unit size and mix.
- Several new City and State policies that were intended to encourage housing production have been enacted in recent years, such as, for example, the City's 2023 Housing Production Ordinance (0248-23). The model may be unable to properly assess the impact of these policies in the future.
- Despite these limitations, the OEA believes this approach is well-suited to estimating housing production, for the purposes of economic impact reporting.

Future Housing Market Scenarios

- As noted earlier, the amount of housing that will be produced as a result of the rezoning, and its economic impact, will depend on future housing market conditions. This creates an additional level of uncertainty in the forecasts.
- Gauging future market conditions is further complicated by changes in the city's housing market since the COVID-19 pandemic, as described on the next page.
- To understand the scope of what could potentially happen, the OEA created two future scenarios for housing prices and costs in San Francisco.
- In a high-growth scenario, San Francisco's housing prices, relative to the U.S., return to pre-COVID levels by 2030, and grow at the city's pre-COVID rate after that. Construction costs are assumed to grow at the same rate as inflation.
- In a low-growth scenario, San Francisco's post-COVID relative housing prices are assumed to represent a "new normal," and housing prices are assumed to grow only at a national average level over the next twenty years. Construction costs are also assumed to grow at the same rate as inflation.

San Francisco and U.S. Housing Price Trends Since 2000

Typical Condo Values, San Francisco and the United States, 2000-2025
(Not Adjusted for Inflation)

While San Francisco's housing has always been expensive, during the 2010s, average San Francisco condo prices rose much faster than the rest of the U.S., to as much as 5 times the typical U.S. price.

Since 2020, however, San Francisco condo prices have declined, despite rising inflation and rising U.S. condo prices. Adjusted for inflation, typical San Francisco condo prices in 2025 are 25% lower than they were in 2019.

Among other factors, the increase in remote office work during COVID has reduced the value of a residence near large office employment centers like downtown San Francisco.

Housing Price Trends Within the City

Inflation-Adjusted Condo Price Index (2016=100): Selected San Francisco Neighborhoods, 2016-2025

The reduced value of a downtown location has also shifted multifamily price patterns within the city.

Condos in neighborhoods like Downtown and South of Market have experienced inflation-adjusted price drops of more than 40% since 2016, while the Richmond and Sunset have fallen by far less.

Because most multifamily housing in the city is near downtown, but most of the proposed rezoning is not, the use of a citywide average condo price index is inappropriate. This analysis uses an average price across the 10 Zillow neighborhoods most affected by the zoning, which is somewhat higher than the citywide average.

High and Low Growth Scenario Price Forecasts

Historical and Forecast 10-Neighborhood Condo Prices, Inflation-Adjusted;
2000-2043 (2016=100)

Our high-growth scenario assumes that San Francisco's housing prices, relative to the U.S., return to pre-pandemic levels by 2030, and then grow at the city's long-term average rate until 2045. This implies a rapid growth in housing prices over the next five years, of over 10% per year.

In the low-growth scenario, the post-COVID housing market represents a new normal, and San Francisco housing prices are assumed to grow only at the U.S. long-term rate at 1.8% per year, in inflation-adjusted dollars. Under this assumption, San Francisco housing prices would not recover to their pre-COVID peak, in inflation-adjusted dollars, until 2041.

Construction Cost Trends and Scenarios

Construction Materials, Construction Labor, and Blended Construction Cost Indices, 2000-2024 (Inflation-Adjusted, 2016=100)

The housing development model uses two measures of construction costs: materials cost and local construction industry wages. They are blended into a single index for modeling purposes. Details are in the Appendix.

The cost of construction materials and local wages have grown faster than overall inflation, particularly in the last few years. In 2024, real construction materials costs were 18% higher, and real local wages were 10% higher, than they were in 2016.

In both the high-growth and low-growth scenarios, the blended index is assumed to grow at 0% (after inflation) over the 2026-2045 period. This reflects an assumption that both labor and material costs inflation will revert to the broader rate of inflation in the long term.

Housing Production Forecasts Under Current Zoning

Planning District	Historic, 2000-24	Low-Growth Scenario Forecast, 2026-45	High-Growth Scenario Forecast, 2026-45
Buena Vista	975	43	90
Central	72	192	390

South Central	0	6	11
Western Addition	997	658	1,265
Total	3,238	1,594	3,199

Generally, the housing development model forecasts that the current zoning will produce fewer units in the next 20 years than the numbers of units that were produced in the last 20 years.

The table to the left only covers the portion of each planning district that is in the proposed rezoning area. In total, under the current zoning, the model forecasts 1,594 or 3,199 units under the low- and high-growth forecasts, respectively, while 3,238 units were built in the same areas over the 2000-2024 period.

On the next two pages, the model's forecasts of the additional housing created by the proposed zoning is discussed.

Forecast Net Effect of the Zoning

- As shown in the table below, under the low-growth and high-growth scenarios described earlier, the rezoning would lead to 8,504 and 14,646 additional housing units, beyond what would be produced under current zoning, over the next 20 years.

Low Growth Scenario	Units
20-Year Housing Production, Existing Zoning	1,594
20-Year Housing Production, Proposed Rezoning	10,098
Effect of Proposed Rezoning	8,504

High Growth Scenario	Units
20-Year Housing Production, Existing Zoning	3,199
20-Year Housing Production, Proposed Rezoning	17,845
Effect of Proposed Rezoning	14,646

Summary by Current Zoning District

Form-Based Multifamily	2,053	0.725%	0.725%	46	1.502%	1.502%	94
Total	92,721			8,504			14,646

The table to the left breaks out the results by current zoning. It illustrates how many rezoned parcels are in the RH-1, RH-2, and RH-3 or RM-1 residential zones, primarily in the western side of the city. These areas will see a substantial increase in the likelihood of developing housing over the next 20 years, but the chances are still small, so those 83,000+ parcels are only forecast to produce about additional 4,200 housing units by 2045, in the high growth scenario.

Fewer Public parcels (generally owned by the City or SFUSD) are larger, and more likely to develop housing through the rezoning, though this depends on the owner's decisions.

Estimating the Loss of Existing Residential Units

- To evaluate the economic impact, OEA calculated the net increase in housing units.
- In the low-growth scenario, 463 more units would be lost under the proposed zoning than under current zoning, over the 20-year forecast period. In the high-growth scenario, 1,031 more housing units would be lost. These losses represent a 6-8% of the housing units gained as a result of the rezoning. Amendments proposed on October 20th may reduce these losses, along with overall housing production.
- The loss of existing housing slightly dampens the housing price reductions associated with the rezoning, and may impose financial harms on existing tenants. City and State law heavily restricts, but does not prohibit, the eviction of tenants for the purpose of demolition, or the demolition of rent-controlled housing. These events have been quite rare in recent decades. If this occurs, tenants are entitled to relocation payments.
- Without any way to meaningfully estimate the number of evictions or demolitions of rent-controlled units, or the financial impact on tenants, this report does not attempt to quantify these potential costs.

Impacts on Housing Prices

- The responsiveness of housing prices to increases in housing supply is a function of price elasticities of supply and demand, which the OEA has estimated in past research<sup>4</sup>.
- The elasticities imply that the proposed rezoning would lead to a -2.5% to -4.2% change in housing prices in the city, depending on the scenario. For context, those percentages are also expressed in terms of current housing prices and apartment rents.

	Low Growth Scenario	High Growth Scenario
Net Change in Housing Supply (units produced less demolitions)	8,041	13,615
Percentage Change in Housing Supply <sup>5</sup>	2.0%	3.4%
Price Elasticity of Demand	-0.7	-0.7
Price Elasticity of Supply	0.1	0.1
Percent change in housing prices	-2.5%	-4.2%
Corresponding change in condo prices <sup>6</sup>	-$24,500	-$41,600
Corresponding change in annual apartment market rents <sup>7</sup>	-$903	-$1,529

Estimating Relocation and Disruption Costs

- To account for the impact on commercial businesses, OEA estimated potential displacement costs. Details are provided in the Appendix.
- Displaced businesses are estimated to occupy commercial space ranging from approximately 1.5 to 2.6 million square feet, depending on the scenario. This displacement would occur over twenty years, and it is highly likely that the rezoning would lead to an increase in the amount of commercial space in the city.
- Annual business disruption and relocation costs range from $16 to $28 million, in today's dollars.

	Low Growth	High Growth
Loss of occupied commercial space (million sf)	1.5	2.6
Disruption-relocation cost/sf	$190	$190
Annual disruption/relocation cost (2025 $ million)	$16	$28

REMI Economic Impact Simulation

- Based on the economic impact factors described earlier, the OEA used the REMI model to measure the net economic impact of the changes associated with the high and low growth scenarios to the city's economy over the 2026-2045 period:
  - An increase in the city's residential capital stock of $8.0 billion (low growth) to $13.5 billion (high growth) in today's dollars, representing the investment associated with the new units forecast under the two scenarios. These figures are calculated by multiplying the net increase in units by average prices.
  - A reduction in citywide housing prices, reaching 2.5% (low growth) and 4.2% (high growth) by 2045.
  - Annual business disruption and relocation costs for retail businesses of $16 million (low growth) and $28 million (high growth) in today's dollars, until 2045.

Economic Impact Assessment

- In the low-growth scenario, the city's GDP would be $560 million larger, in today's dollars, on average over the 2026-45 period. Total employment in the city would be approximately 3,000 more than under the current zoning, on average over the period.
- In the high-growth scenario, the city's GDP growth would be $940 million larger than under current zoning, in 2025 dollars. Employment would be about 5,000 higher.
- Employment gains are expected in every sector, but would be most heavily concentrated in the construction, health care, real estate, and accommodations and food services sectors.
- Despite the displacement of businesses, retail trade is forecast to grow as a result of the population and economic growth created by the proposed rezoning, adding about 210 jobs in the low-growth scenario and about 350 jobs in the high-growth scenario.
- Like most major policies, the proposed rezoning involves benefits and costs. Our analysis suggests the proposed rezoning's positive impact on the city's economy, from lower housing prices and construction, outweighs the negative impact from displaced businesses, by a factor of approximately 22:1.

Conclusions

- The context for housing development in San Francisco has changed profoundly in the past several years. Since 2019, after adjusting for inflation, condo prices in San Francisco have dropped by 25%, while our blended construction cost index has risen by 8%.
- Given this starting point, an expansive rezoning effort, like the proposed Family Zoning plan, will be challenged to match the 2010s levels of new housing development in the city, even under an optimistic high-growth scenario.
- Nevertheless, under both scenarios considered in this report, the proposed rezoning would lead to a significant increase in the city's housing supply, and have broadly positive effects on housing prices and the city's broader economy. The benefits of new residential investments and lower housing prices are projected to outweigh the costs of business interruption and displacement by a factor of roughly 22:1.
- If market conditions were such that the 36,000 unit target was achieved, as a result of the rezoning, the economic impact on the city would likely be significantly more positive than the estimates in this report.

Footnotes

1. See, for example, Inclusionary Housing Working Group: Preliminary Report September 2016.
2. Three large parcels were excluded from the analysis: Laguna Honda Hospital, and the USF Main and Lone Mountain campuses. While all three parcels receive height increases in the proposed rezoning, their size and unique uses makes them unsuitable for the model. If the model could accurately estimate the amount of housing likely to occur on those parcels, the total housing estimate reported in this report would be larger.
3. These are the aggregate zoning classifications used by the model. See the Appendix for details.
4. See Potential Effects of Limiting Market-Rate Housing in the Mission.
5. Assuming 406,000 housing units in the city.
6. Based on Zillow's 2025 average condo prices for San Francisco.
7. Based on 2025 average apartment asking rents, from ApartmentList.

Appendix: Housing Development Model: Methodology

- The housing development model is a two-stage step model. The first stage is a logistic regression, covering every parcel in the city, except those subject to a development agreement, over the 2004-2024 period.
- The dependent variable of the logistic regression is 1 if the parcel produced housing in a given year, and 0 otherwise. Parcels that produce housing in a given year were removed from the dataset for subsequent years. Independent variables, reflecting existing land use, market conditions, and zoning, are listed on the next page.
- The second stage is a regression model including all parcels that produced multifamily housing with more than 10 units, over the 2004-24 period. The dependent variable is the number of units produced on the parcel, and the independent variables are the parcel's "building envelope" (its area multiplied by its allowable height), and two interaction variables: the building envelope times a dummy indicating if the parcel was eligible for the State Density Bonus in that year, and the building envelope times a dummy indicating if the parcel was subject to density-restricted zoning in that year. The intercept of the model was fixed at zero.

Appendix: Housing Development Model: Methodology

- The models' coefficients were used in a forecast that calculated the log-likelihood of development for each rezoned parcel, in each of the forecast years 2026-2045, using the site and zoning information, and the price and cost assumptions for each year (shown on the next page). The log-likelihoods were converted into annual probabilities, from which a 20-year probability of development was calculated.
- The model coefficients were also used to calculate a units estimate; the 20-year probability times the units estimate is the expected number of units produced on that parcel in the 20-year forecast period.
- The forecast model was run for both the current and the proposed zoning. See the section "Logic of Applying the Model to the Proposed Rezoning" for more details.
- Three parcels were excluded from the forecast: Laguna Honda Hospital, the University of San Francisco Main Campus, and the University of San Francisco Lone Mountain Campus. While some housing may be built on those parcels in the forecast period, the model is not well-suited for large parcels with unique uses like these.

Appendix: Logic of Applying the Model

- This section of the appendix describes in more detail how the model was used to produce estimates of future housing production.
- For the existing zoning (“baseline”), the application of the model is straightforward. Current zoning was encoded using the zoning classification on the previous page, and current allowable height was used as the height variable in the logistic regression, and to calculate building envelope in the units regression.
- For the proposed rezoning (“policy”), the logic used was as follows: based on the units regression, each 1000 square feet of building envelope results in 0.42 units. The State Density Bonus adds an additional 0.44 units. Parcels that elect to use the Local Program therefore need to accommodate at least 0.44 additional units per 1000 square feet of envelope if developers are to choose this option. For parcels where the Local Program was more desirable, and on parcels that are ineligible for the SDB, because their zoning and size prevents them from building more than 5 units, the Local Program was applied. For all other parcels the SDB was used.

- Probabilities and units for any parcel using the State Density Bonus were calculated by:
  - In the logistic regression, using the first new height in the rezoning table for Height_Ft and in the Env_1000_Area_Height calculation.
  - In the units regression, using the first new height in the rezoning table to calculate Env_1000_Area_Height;
  - Incorporating the SDB_2016_5Plus_EnvFull effect;
  - Incorporating the Zoning_DR_EnvFull if applicable (i.e. the parcel is density-restricted).

- Probabilities and units for any parcel using the Local Program were calculated by:
  - In the logistic regression, setting  $zp_FBDMulti_RTO = 1$ , to account for the relaxation of density controls in the Local Program;
  - In the logistic regression, using the second new height in the rezoning table for Height_Ft and in the Env_1000_Area_Height calculation.
  - In the units regression, using the second new height in the rezoning table to calculate Env_1000_Area_Height;
  - In the units regression, removing the SDB_2016_5Plus_EnvFull effect;
  - In the units regression, removing the Zoning_DR_EnvFull effect.

Appendix: Business Disruption / Relocation Costs

- The analysis makes the following assumptions about business disruption and relocation costs:
  - Lost space will be 10% vacant, so 90% of the loss represents the loss of occupied space.
  - Lost business net income (for 6 months of disruption): $5/occupied square foot.
  - Fixed labor costs (for 6 months): $10/occupied square foot.
  - Moving costs and build-out of space at new premises: $175/occupied square foot

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

The Mayor's blanket upzoning proposal will not solve San Francisco's affordability crisis – it will make it worse without significant amendments, by displacing renters and small businesses, and prioritizing luxury development over the housing our communities need.

There is a better way forward that meets State capacity mandates without displacement, while ensuring housing built is affordable to San Franciscans. As a voting constituent, I urge you to include these policies in any upzoning plan:

Create an Affordable Housing Special Use District (SUD) to require a minimum of 50% truly affordable development on large opportunity parcels.

Carve out ALL 100,000 rent-controlled homes (representing 200k renters) from the Mayor's Plan. Our local electeds voted to adopt a Housing Element that prioritized the preservation of people's homes – this should not be up for negotiation. We can build the housing we need on opportunity sites that do not include rent-controlled homes.

We should be requiring MORE affordable homes – not replacing them with market-rate units.

Please vote down any proposals to swap BMR homes for rent-controlled market rate units. And increase the BMR inclusionary requirements to 20% on-site, so that the private housing that does end up getting built is at least affordable to 20% of working San Franciscans.

Require family-sized housing for a growing San Francisco and require developers to make 50% of the units 2-3 bedrooms plus communal living space.

Truly support mom & pop small businesses in the impacted neighborhood commercial corridors by prohibiting the demolition of SF-certified Legacy Businesses, requiring developers provide relocation costs starting at $150k and turn-key "warm shell" tenant improvements for displaced small businesses.

Workers who build our housing deserve a living wage. Include local prevailing wage requirements in Mayor's Plan.

Protect public access to our waterfront and environmental protections for our coast. Do not side with Trump policies to privatize and develop our protected coastal waterfront and carve out the parcels that should be protected for the public.

Finally, beyond this legislation — please get serious about an affordable housing financing strategy. The lack of political will to move forward voters' number one priority is disheartening – the City can and must be stronger advocates for San Franciscans to the State and the Feds, beyond private fundraising for Downtown. Our neighborhoods cannot afford to wait for the private market to do the job of local government. We need your creative leadership now more than ever!

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

As a concerned constituent, I do not agree that the Mayor's blanket upzoning proposal will solve San Francisco's affordability crisis – it will make it worse without significant amendments, by displacing renters and small businesses, and prioritizing luxury development over the housing our communities need. This is the antithesis of serving the San Franciscan public.

As a below median income renter, I can only say this proposal to displace people in rent controlled properties is an invitation to force tax paying tenants and families to leave San Francisco. Affordability is far more important an issue over high rent towers that like our own downtown will be riddled with empty apartments most people can't afford. Times are tough, so rather than increase homelessness with Mayor Lurie's proposal, please look alternatives. Has demolishing empty or near empty downtown office high rises buildings for high rise apartments even been considered? I'm not talking office building conversion, but instead NEW housing! You won't be displacing rent controlled units, the skyline won't change drastically, and more housing will be available without additional use of land space.

Please vote down any proposals to swap BMR homes for rent-controlled market rate units. And increase the BMR inclusionary requirements to 20% on-site, so that the private housing that does end up getting built is at least affordable to 20% of working San Franciscans.

Require family-sized housing for a growing San Francisco and require developers to make 50% of the units 2-3 bedrooms plus communal living space.

Truly support mom & pop small businesses in the impacted neighborhood commercial corridors by prohibiting the demolition of SF-certified Legacy Businesses, requiring developers provide relocation costs starting at $150k and turn-key "warm shell" tenant improvements for displaced small businesses.

Workers who build our housing deserve a living wage. Include local prevailing wage requirements in Mayor's Plan.

Protect public access to our waterfront and environmental protections for our coast. Do not side with Trump policies to privatize and develop our protected coastal waterfront and carve out the parcels that should be protected for the public.

Finally, beyond this legislation — please get serious about an affordable housing financing strategy. The lack of political will to move forward voters' number one priority is disheartening – the City can and must be stronger advocates for San Franciscans to the State and the Feds, beyond private fundraising for Downtown. Our neighborhoods cannot afford to wait for the private market to do the job of local government. We need your creative leadership now more than ever!

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

The Mayor's blanket upzoning proposal will not solve San Francisco's affordability crisis – it will make it worse without significant amendments, by displacing renters and small businesses, and prioritizing luxury development over the housing our communities need.

There is a better way forward that meets State capacity mandates without displacement, while ensuring housing built is affordable to San Franciscans. As a voting constituent, I urge you to include these policies in any upzoning plan:

Create an Affordable Housing Special Use District (SUD) to require a minimum of 50% truly affordable development on large opportunity parcels.

Carve out ALL 100,000 rent-controlled homes (representing 200k renters) from the Mayor's Plan. Our local electeds voted to adopt a Housing Element that prioritized the preservation of people's homes – this should not be up for negotiation. We can build the housing we need on opportunity sites that do not include rent-controlled homes.

We should be requiring MORE affordable homes – not replacing them with market-rate units.

Please vote down any proposals to swap BMR homes for rent-controlled market rate units. And increase the BMR inclusionary requirements to 20% on-site, so that the private housing that does end up getting built is at least affordable to 20% of working San Franciscans.

Clerk of the Board Angela Calvillo,

Dear San Francisco Supervisors,

I'm writing to express my strong support for the Family Zoning Plan.

San Francisco urgently needs more homes — and this plan moves us in the right direction. It will expand housing choices across the city, especially in high-opportunity areas near transit, jobs, and schools. It gives families the flexibility to build backyard units, in-law apartments, and small buildings that allow them to stay close to the people they love.

This is a thoughtful, community-informed proposal that aligns with our Housing Element goals while addressing the real, everyday needs of San Franciscans. I urge you to support the Family Zoning Plan and to continue working toward a housing system that is fair, inclusive, and responsive to the city's future.

Let's build a San Francisco where everyone can belong. Thank you for your partnership and collaboration.

Subject: Public Comment: Nov 3 Amendments Not Enough! Replace Mayor's Disastrous Zoning Plan With Real Affordable Housing Plan - File #250701
Date: Monday, November 10, 2025 8:53:45 PM

Hi again Supervisors,

The amendments that were added on November 3rd to Mayor Lurie's so called 'housing plan' are not remotely enough!

The City Economist's report shows clearly that Lurie's plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

We still have 2 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the City's affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units. Together these are more than enough to fulfill state mandates. (Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing over-supply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods.)

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' plan and replace it with text that will:

- 1) Identify how to manage existing approved housing permits, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year, in a way that will fully meet state mandates. And make certain that all affordable housing produced fits the accepted definition of costing only 30% of the income of its residents.
- 2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.

3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing more greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators. Please REPLACE the text in the Mayor's unacceptable corporate attack on San Francisco tenants, and environmental, economic, cultural and community integrity, with text that will truly produce affordable housing and get State bureaucrats off of San Francisco's back.

Dear Supervisors,

The City Economist's report shows clearly that Lurie's plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

- We do not have the infrastructure, police force, roads, parking and water to support this plan.
- Structures should be limited to 5 stories to preserve lighting and wind
- We are only 7 x 7 square miles. SF is not like ares that have space
- Concerns about earthquakes
- There is space to build on vacant lots, Walgreens sites, 7/11 on Clment/9th Ave., etc.
- No buildings close to the shoreline
- We still have 2 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the City's affordable housing crisis.

Clerk of the Board Angela Calvillo,

Dear San Francisco Supervisors,

I'm writing to express my strong support for the Family Zoning Plan.

San Francisco urgently needs more homes — and this plan moves us in the right direction. It will expand housing choices across the city, especially in high-opportunity areas near transit, jobs, and schools. It gives families the flexibility to build backyard units, in-law apartments, and small buildings that allow them to stay close to the people they love.

This is a thoughtful, community-informed proposal that aligns with our Housing Element goals while addressing the real, everyday needs of San Franciscans. I urge you to support the Family Zoning Plan and to continue working toward a housing system that is fair, inclusive, and responsive to the city's future.

Let's build a San Francisco where everyone can belong. Thank you for your partnership and collaboration.

Clerk of the Board Angela Calvillo,

Dear San Francisco Supervisors,

I've called San Francisco home since 2017. I live in Rincon Hill, and I'm writing to voice my strong support for the Family Zoning Plan.

I've watched this city change over the past eight years, and one thing has become crystal clear: we need more housing. I've seen friends leave because they couldn't afford to stay. I've watched young families struggle to find space to grow. And I've seen how the lack of housing options makes this city less accessible to the people who make it vibrant and diverse.

That's why I support the Family Zoning Plan. This isn't just policy to me—it's about making sure San Francisco remains a place where everyone can afford to live, not just the wealthy. I want more homes in Rincon Hill and across the city. I want my neighbors to be able to build in-law units for aging parents or backyard cottages for adult children. I want teachers, artists, service workers, and young professionals to have a real shot at living here.

This plan gives families flexibility and expands housing choices in the neighborhoods where people actually want to live—near transit, jobs, and schools. It's a positive step toward a more livable, affordable, and inclusive San Francisco.

I urge you to support the Family Zoning Plan. Let's build a city where everyone can belong.

Thank you for listening.

Sincerely,

Todor Markov

Let's build a San Francisco that will continue to grow and where everyone can belong. It just makes sense to build more housing. More people, more revenue from taxes and local businesses to fund essential services. Why do we want the population to shrink and still have it be so expensive to live here? Please do the right thing.

Clerk of the Board Angela Calvillo,

Dear San Francisco Supervisors,

I'm writing to express my strong support for the Family Zoning Plan.

Last Tuesday's elections in NJ, VA and NYC only reinforced an issue that has plagued San Franciscans for decades: the issue of affordability.

When the most expensive expense of any person's paycheck is housing, we have to build much more homes if we have any hope of reining in costs.

The Family Zoning Plan will expand housing choices across the city, especially near transit, jobs, and schools.

This is a thoughtful, community-informed proposal that aligns with our Housing Element goals while addressing the real, everyday needs of San Franciscans. Subject: URGENT! Public Comment: Replace Mayor Lurie's Disastrous Zoning Plan With A Real Affordable Housing Plan - File #250701
Date: Wednesday, November 12, 2025 12:29:06 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Supervisors,

The amendments that were added on November 3rd to Mayor Lurie's so called 'housing plan' are not remotely enough!

The City Economist's report shows clearly that Lurie's plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

We still have 2 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the City's affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units. Together these are more than enough to fulfill state mandates. (Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing over-supply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods.)

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' plan and replace it with text that will:

- 1) Identify how to manage existing approved housing permits, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year, in a way that will fully meet state mandates. And make certain that all affordable housing produced fits the accepted definition of costing only 30% of the income of its residents.
- 2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.
- 3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing more greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators. Please REPLACE the text in the Mayor's unacceptable corporate attack on San Francisco tenants, and environmental, economic, cultural and community integrity, with text that will truly produce affordable housing and get State bureaucrats off of San Francisco's back.

Thank you,

Bruce

SUPPORT FOR SUPERVISOR CHAN'S AMENDMENTS

November 17, 2025 - Land Use and Transportation Committee Agenda "Family Zoning Plan"

Dear Chair Melgar and Supervisors Chen and Mahmood:

On behalf of our citywide constituency, San Francisco Heritage submits our strong support for Supervisor Chan's proposed amendments, consistent with the adopted Housing Element, for the treatment of historic resources in the Family Zoning Plan as set forth File No. 251073 as follows:

On Page 12, Lines 13-24; and Page 30, Lines 17-25: "or substantially alter a historic resource that is: designated as a landmark or listed as a contributor to or located within a historic district under Article 10; listed as a Significant or Contributory Building under Article 11; listed in the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places; identified in an adopted survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for individual listing in the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places; or, located within an historic district that is listed in, or identified in an adopted survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for listing in, the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places;

The current Family Zoning Plan includes significantly greater impacts to designated and potentially eligible historic and cultural resources than anticipated by the 2022 Housing Element and the certified Environmental Impact Report (EIR). Absent Supervisor Chan's proposed amendments, we believe that a Supplemental Environmental Impact Report ("SEIR"), rather than the Addendum, is warranted to analyze the Family Zoning Plan's impacts to San Francisco's historic and cultural resources.

We have appreciated the attention given by, and our conversations with, Mayor Lurie and

President Mandelman on how we can address protections for historic resources in the Family Zoning Plan. Supervisor Chan's proposal conforms with standard historic preservation practices, and we believe offers the best path forward to ensure San Francisco's special places are preserved in our changing and growing city.

Sincerely,

RE: SUPPORT FOR SUPERVISOR CHAN'S AMENDMENTS
November 17, 2025 - Land Use and Transportation Committee Agenda "Family Zoning Plan"

Dear Chair Melgar and Supervisors Chen and Mahmood:

On behalf of our citywide constituency, San Francisco Heritage submits our strong support for Supervisor Chan's proposed amendments, consistent with the adopted Housing Element, for the treatment of historic resources in the Family Zoning Plan as set forth File No. 251073 as follows:

On Page 12, Lines 13-24; and Page 30, Lines 17-25: "or substantially alter a historic resource that is: designated as a landmark or listed as a contributor to or located within a historic district under Article 10; listed as a Significant or Contributory Building under Article 11; listed in the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places; identified in an adopted survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for individual listing in the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places; or, located within an historic district that is listed in, or identified in an adopted survey or historic context statement as potentially eligible for listing in, the California Register of Historical Resources or the National Register of Historic Places;

The current Family Zoning Plan includes significantly greater impacts to designated and potentially eligible historic and cultural resources than anticipated by the 2022 Housing Element and the certified Environmental Impact Report (EIR). Absent Supervisor Chan's proposed amendments, we believe that a Supplemental Environmental Impact Report ("SEIR"), rather than the Addendum, is warranted to analyze the Family Zoning Plan's impacts to San Francisco's historic and cultural resources.

We have appreciated the attention given by and our conversations with Mayor Lurie and President Mandelman on how we can address protections for historic resources in the Family Zoning Plan. Supervisor Chan's proposal conforms with standard historic preservation practices, and we believe offers the best path forward to ensure San Francisco's special places are preserved in our changing and growing city.

Sincerely,

Woody LaBounty

Dear Supervisors,

The City Economist's report shows clearly that Lurie's plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

- We do not have the infrastructure, police force, roads, parking and water to support this plan.
- Structures should be limited to 5 stories to preserve lighting and wind
- We are only 7 x 7 square miles. SF is not like ares that have space
- Concerns about earthquakes
- There is space to build on vacant lots, Walgreens sites, 7/11 on Clment/9th Ave., etc.
- No buildings close to the shoreline
- We still have 2 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the City's affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units. Together these are more than enough to fulfill state mandates. (Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing over-supply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods.)

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' plan and replace it with text that will:

1) Identify how to manage existing approved housing permits, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year, in a way that will fully meet state mandates. And make certain that all affordable housing produced fits the accepted definition of costing only 30% of the income of its residents.

2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.

3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing more greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators.

Thank you!

Hello. My name is Jeanette Traverso. I attended the 11/3/25 Land Use & Transportation Committee hearing for 3.5 hours last Monday, but had to leave before I could give my public comments on upzoning. Please see my perspective below:

My Italian relatives have lived in North Beach for generations. I am one of ten children, & the first & only one of ten to graduate college. I went on to get a law degree from Hastings, now UC Law SF.

Thirty years ago, my husband & I researched neighborhoods throughout San Francisco & chose North Beach for its walkability, identity & waterfront.

We strived to buy a three-unit residential building on Francisco @ Grant, and have lived in one of the units ever since. It's where we raised our two sons.

I have spent decades walking from North Beach to work at a law firm downtown. I still walk through the neighborhood daily & it always gives me a renewed sense of well-being when I walk down Grant & see the water before me.

I recently hosted a sister from the beautiful state of Hawaii, & she was awed by all the charming nooks & crannies of our incredible North Beach neighborhood.

I am in favor of affordable housing, but the proposed upzoning plan is misguided. It will allow speculators to build tall buildings for the rich. It will ruin the beloved character of the neighborhood. It WILL NOT create affordable housing. Hence, there is no good reason to destroy the low-rise, historic architecture of our coveted neighborhood. We all can see that modern high rises on Columbus shadowing the streets, or soulless buildings dwarfing Coit Tower, will be devastating. Likewise, it will be a travesty to allow formula retail to replace our unique cafes, restaurants, clubs & shops.

We have lots of empty commercial buildings throughout the City. We should get creative & convert these underutilized resources to affordable housing.

I am informed that Supervisor Sauter unilaterally put North Beach on the upzoning map, without adequate input from his constituents. This makes me irate.

I urge that the North Beach neighborhood be removed from the upzoning map, so that we can preserve this incredible neighborhood for those of us here today, & for generations to come.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best, Jeanette Traverso

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

We call on you to:

- Drastically scale back the Mayor's upzoning maps
- Request a postponement of the arbitrary January 2026 upzoning deadline

Mayor Lurie's upzoning maps would impose permanent, irreversible changes to San Francisco's land use — going far beyond what is required, with zero affordability guarantees.

Together, these plans clear the way for mass demolition and luxury towers, prioritizing the interests of developers and billionaire investors while silencing the voices of the very communities they are supposed to represent. This is not planning — it is displacement disguised as progress.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS (optional): Don't ruin the neighborhoods by turning them into downtown!

Sincerely,
Anthony Villa

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS:

I am outraged at the proposed upzoning all over SF. The proposed height increases have massive ramifications for our City. Our height limits are essential to the character & charm of SF.

I want to specifically address my neighborhood, Aquatic Park/Fisherman's Wharf & how doubling the height limits for those areas to 65+ feet would be devastating to these neighborhoods.

If you love SF at all, you love the iconic hills & priceless beauty of our waterfront rising dramatically from the Bay waters & seemingly all the way to the clouds. Our waterfront is what songs, poems & movies are written about.

From the water, views of those neighborhoods have been photographed a million times over. Every year, hundreds of thousands of tourists marvel at them from cruise ships & Bay cruises & locals from private watercraft. Videos of them compliment nearly every sports broadcast. I am disgusted to think, so many decades ago, views of our majestic hills & alternatively from land our breathtaking SF Bay, were nearly completely obliterated by skyrises, like the horrendous Fontana buildings, nicknamed the "buck teeth" by all locals not selfish or affluent enough to live in them. These types of Miami-style towers were initially planned to encase the entire northern coastline of SF, effectively creating a "wall on the waterfront."

Additionally, I have not heard a single authority figure involved with the disastrous upzoning "plan" address the ramifications of extreme upzoning creating wind tunnels or light shadows, a serious issue in the recent overzealous, overbuilding around NYC's Central Park where it is killing trees, plants, grass & wildlife either from being scorched by refractions or by lack of sunlight. Or that the overdevelopment in NYC has created a massive "land grab" wars over air rights, which allows developers the "right" to build even higher than the original zoning would have allowed & charge renters even higher premiums. Nor have I heard anyone provide any consideration to the FACT that SF exists in a dangerous earthquake zone & how building higher is a VERY risky endeavor on our steep hills. All I've heard from politicians & developers is "build, build, build." There seems to be no care, no consideration, no foresight for ANY long-term consequences. Take HEED & LEARN from the colossal mistakes of other cities, like NYC & Vancouver.

The height limits established in our neighborhoods have made SF arguably one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Please do not let "NOT-MY-MAYOR" Lurie's SHAMEFUL, LAND-GRAB, DEVELOPER-ENRICHING, SHORT-SIGHTED, UNINFORMED, DISASTOROUS "plan," destroy the very thing that makes SF iconic—its landscapes & views, by obliterating them with obtrusive, obstructive, unnecessary & unjustified skyrisers.

Why are we here again?! I have only 1 conclusion—GREED. This is NOT about building more housing, affordable housing or benefitting communities. Its only intention is to make money for those in power & for the people in the pockets of or influencing those in power. Please reconsider your appalling massive height limit increases. SF is NOT FOR SALE!

Subject: Public Comment: VOTE NO On Lurie's Recipe For Housing Failure & Replace It With A Real Affordable Housing Plan
Date: Monday, November 3, 2025 3:19:33 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Supervisors,

The City Economist just released a report showing that Mayor Lurie's 'Family Zoning' plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

We still have 3 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units - together more than enough to fulfill state mandates. (Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan simply moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing oversupply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods.)

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' plan and replace it with text that will:

- 1) Identify how to manage existing housing approvals, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year in a way that will fully meet state mandates.
- 2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.
- 3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing more greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators. Please REPLACE the text in this unacceptable corporate attack on San Francisco tenants, and environmental, economic, cultural and community integrity, with text that will truly produce affordable housing and get State bureaucrats off of San Francisco's back.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

We call on you to:

- Drastically scale back the Mayor's upzoning maps
- Request a postponement of the arbitrary January 2026 upzoning deadline

Mayor Lurie's upzoning maps would impose permanent, irreversible changes to San Francisco's land use — going far beyond what is required, with zero affordability guarantees.

Together, these plans clear the way for mass demolition and luxury towers, prioritizing the interests of developers and billionaire investors while silencing the voices of the very communities they are supposed to represent. This is not planning — it is displacement disguised as progress.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

We call on you to:

- Drastically scale back the Mayor's upzoning maps
- Request a postponement of the arbitrary January 2026 upzoning deadline

Mayor Lurie's upzoning maps would impose permanent, irreversible changes to San Francisco's land use — going far beyond what is required, with zero affordability guarantees.

Together, these plans clear the way for mass demolition and luxury towers, prioritizing the interests of developers and billionaire investors while silencing the voices of the very communities they are supposed to represent. This is not planning — it is displacement disguised as progress.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I grew up in North Beach and continue to live here with my family. I'm writing to express concern about proposed changes that could alter the character of this neighborhood. Please preserve North Beach's authentic architecture and avoid turning the waterfront into a wall of tall, generic buildings. The views, historic charm, and human scale are what make this area special—and what draw visitors to it in the first place.

Rather than large-scale redevelopment, what this neighborhood truly needs is improved public transportation access. Enhancing connectivity would benefit both residents and visitors while maintaining the integrity of North Beach's unique identity.

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a long time resident of the Richmond and Cole Valley neighborhoods, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

We call on you to:

I believe in affordable housing - there are many vacant lots and old buildings where housing could be added (or refurbished) - limit to 5-6 stories to preserve SF.

SF does not have enough police patrol, water, grocery stores in needed areas, parking, and MUNI lines to support 100,000 more residents.

Mayor Lurie's upzoning maps would impose permanent, irreversible changes to San Francisco's land use — going far beyond what is required, with zero affordability guarantees.

President Mandelman and Members of the Board, please see our letter below regarding the "Family Zoning Plan."

November 3, 2025

RE: Mayor Lurie's "Family Zoning Plan"

President Mandelman and Members of the Board of Supervisors,

SOMA Pilipinas, the Filipino Cultural Heritage District, is opposed to the proposed upzoning plan. The upzoning plan will lead to the displacement of residents and small businesses, and encourages real estate speculation, harming the South of Market and neighborhoods across the city. The current plan, coupled with numerous cuts to affordable housing and impact fees that have already occurred, highlight how the city's Housing Element and the state co-opt the language of racial and social equity to further deregulation. We are also opposed to the blatant giveaway in Western SOMA of mainly increasing base heights, which will be used with the state density bonus, resulting in basically two upzonings from this plan for SOMA.

We must instead prioritize developing 100% affordable housing, preserving and protecting existing housing, protecting existing residents and small businesses from displacement, and engaging in community based planning. The current upzoning is failing on these fronts. We support the amendments put forward by Supervisor Chan and Supervisor Chen as they constitute a logical baseline of what should be included in such a sweeping upzoning proposal.

The city's Housing Element, mandated by the state, calls for 57% affordable housing to be built. As there is no affordable housing component to this plan, it is clear that it is a market-rate housing plan. The city economist Ted Egan acknowledges that market-rate housing will not get built at the levels "required" by the state, because developers and investors can not get the profit that is desired from these projects, stating the plan will only produce 8,500-14,600 units over the next 20 years. Affordable housing developers, however, are ready and willing to build housing. According to the city's 2024 Housing Inventory Report, affordable housing production accounted for 64% of all new housing production in 2024; as market-rate housing stalled because of lack of return on investment, affordable housing production continued.

If the city and state are really concerned about "building housing," the focus would be on building affordable housing. However, it is clear that the real desire is not simply to "build housing," but instead to provide the best scenario for private developers, investors, and speculators to make money off of the real estate market in San Francisco.

We must focus on creating 100% affordable housing, protecting our neighborhoods that are composed of residents, small businesses, and neighborhood based organizations, and engaging in community based planning that focuses on the needs of the most vulnerable and marginalized.

Thank you,

David Woo

Dear Board of Supervisors,

Dear Mayor Lurie, Supervisor Chan, Planner Chen and other elected officials,

I am a third generation San Franciscan. I live in my grandparents home off of Clement Street. In fact my Italian grandfather washed every window on every storefront on Clement. I chuckle every summer at the tourists eating at our amazing restaurants and coming to walk in Mountain Lake Park and see our neighborhood. I also am amazed at the thriving small businesses, diversity of income and cultures of our neighborhood and multigenerational families who can only afford to live in San Francisco because of THIS neighborhood. I myself, run a small non-profit that serves underserved communities with music, arts and education programming. I work often with districts like SFUSD, Daly City and OUSD.

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors. I am deeply aware of the complex issues but I also have witnessed the history of corruption and developers who promise low-income housing but then somehow it's never enough. Until you can answer why we aren't filling the vacancies in the overflow of luxury housing that already exists in this city and repurposing what we ALREADY have I will not support this demonization of the low and middle class who are trying to survive.

You will demolish what makes San Francisco great and not solve the problems. We read about solutions from the long-term low income housing groups in San Francisco and not from YIMBY which is funneling money from developers and a high powered group of business owners and weaponizing grassroots organizing. This is not the way.

Talk to your small business associations, talk to your communities and please serve the people who live here as well as those who want to live here. Right now it is clear the people who want to make money are being served by using divisive words that tear our communities apart.

I work with teachers, families and the constituents you these developers say they will serve. Families who have working parents, uber drivers, food-service workers, health care workers - with small kids - they need parking and housing and there is housing to be had. Please answer why 15-20 percent of our luxury housing sits empty.

We call on you to:

- Drastically scale back the Mayor's upzoning maps
- Request a postponement of the arbitrary January 2026 upzoning deadline

Dear Supervisors,

It is time to finally adopt a plan that effectively addresses the housing crisis in San Francisco. Mayor Lurie's 'Family Zoning' plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing, as the City Economist recently released report demonstrates.

We still have 3 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units - together more than enough to fulfill state mandates. (Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan simply moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing oversupply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods.)

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' plan and replace it with text that will:

- 1) Identify how to manage existing housing approvals, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year in a way that will fully meet state mandates.
- 2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.
- 3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing more greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators. Please REPLACE the text in this unacceptable corporate attack on San Francisco tenants, and environmental, economic, cultural and community integrity, with text that will truly produce affordable housing and get State bureaucrats off of San Francisco's back.

PARKING ONSITE IS ESSENTIAL!!!!!!

The lack of parking in these new hi rise buildings will have a chilling effect on the purchase or renting of these new units. Those who live in D4 know that a car is a necessity. If there is no parking the units will sit empty, like the eyesore on Sloat and 48th. Muni is inadequate and not safe. Bikes are no good for taking care of school, shopping, medical appointments. It is beyond foolhardy to eliminate on site parking. PEOPLE NEED THEIR CARS OUT HERE AND NEW BUILDINGS NEED PARKING!!!! LISTEN TO D4!!

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am a 35 year resident of San Francisco and am absolutely disgusted that this destructive, ghastly upzoning plan is about to be pushed through with NO real democratic input and based on arbitrary building targets set by an unelected panel of ideologues. If you vote to approve this, as seems to be the foreordained result (as surely as Putin and Maduro, would “win” re-election tomorrow if a vote were held) you will have forfeited every shred of democratic legitimacy you might have left. Mayor Lurie can go down in history as man who destroyed this city of once legendary beauty and charm.

You claim “your hands are tied” by the all mighty Scott Weiner? You can’t find the courage push back on a corrupt CA state senator, but yet you proudly “resist” President Trump’s offer to deport the illegal Honduran drug dealers who have killed 4,300 San Francisco residents in this decade alone, something most San Francisco’s want done? Shame on you. And, do you really think we the citizens are too stupid to see what is going on?

Legitimacy once lost will be difficult to restore.

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

We call on you to:

- Drastically scale back the Mayor’s upzoning maps
- Request a postponement of the arbitrary January 2026 upzoning deadline

Mayor Lurie’s upzoning maps would impose permanent, irreversible changes to San Francisco’s land use — going far beyond what is required, with zero affordability guarantees.

Together, these plans clear the way for mass demolition and luxury towers, prioritizing the interests of developers and billionaire investors while silencing the voices of the very communities they are supposed to represent. This is not planning — it is displacement disguised as progress.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors. So I urge you to:

1. Exclude parcels in the Priority Equity Geographies SUD.
2. Exclude all rent-controlled housing with two or more units, not just 3.
3. Require all publicly owned parcels, like the SFMTA ones, to be 100% affordable housing.
4. Exclude all historic resources from the Upzoning Plan, including local historic districts and those eligible for the California and National Registers.
5. Limit form-based density (density decontrol) and height increases to the Local Plan.
6. Require inclusionary affordable housing to be located on site or nearby within ½ mile of the development.
7. Ted Egan's report from the Controller's office says that housing will unlikely be built no matter what unless rents and sales prices rise. That's just now but well into the future. This plan is one created in quicksand,

This housing crisis is a myth from greedy real estate developers. We have plenty of housing. The Park Merced apartments have some 3200 apartments available. We have many in-law apartments that no one wants to rent out because small landlords have so few rights. For example, to evict an undesirable tenant, they must pay them $20,000. No small landlord can afford that.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

The proposed new heights along Lombard street are a horrible idea because 1) there is no planning for the additional traffic, 2) no planning for the water issues especially as area sewer pipe is in a terrible state of disrepair so adding new water stress will be a major negative factor, and 3) the plans proposed are for luxury condominiums - they certainly will not helping lower income individuals find housing. This appears to be a monetary windfall to the contractots and developers - and the public officials they donate to. Shame !

Request for Notice and Community Feedback on Proposed Upzoning

RECEIVED
 BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
 SAN FRANCISCO
 2025 NOV 03 PM03:36

Background

The undersigned residents wish to formally express concern regarding the process surrounding the proposed upzoning within the Family Zoning Plan. To date, we have not received reasonable notice regarding this proposal, especially in terms of how it may affect our neighborhood. Furthermore, residents have not been provided with sufficient opportunity to offer meaningful feedback on the proposed changes.

Neighborhood Boundaries

Our neighborhood encompasses the area extending from <sup>St</sup> Van Ness Avenue to Polk/Larkin Streets, spanning from Pacific/Broadway to Greenwich. This includes prominent cross-streets such as Filbert, Union, Bonita, Green, and Vallejo. see map attached

Request for Information

We respectfully request the provision of detailed information addressing the potential impacts of the proposed upzoning, particularly concerning the Van Ness corridor and its immediate surroundings. Comprehensive data and clear communication are essential to enable residents to contribute informed perspectives and feedback before any final decisions are made regarding the Family Zoning Plan.

NOTES:

In addition to heights shown here, the following lots get a minimum height of 65' through the Local Program: Lots 8,000sf or larger, and Corner lots.

All projects using the Local Program are subject to form-based density (ie density decontrol) regardless of height limit or underlying zoning district.

This map represents heights available to projects that opt into the Local Program. They are generally equivalent to heights projects may receive if using the State Density Bonus or other state bonus program.

Comments to the Land Use Committee on November 3, 2025

Jessica Vistnes

My name is Jessica Vistnes and I'm from District 2. I am speaking today in strong opposition to the current version of the proposed upzoning plan. I fully support more housing in my neighborhood – I just want it to be thoughtful and in scale.

I am distressed about the increased heights in many parts of District 2, but with only 2 minutes to speak I want to focus on the proposed zoning for 14-story buildings on Lombard Street, starting at Laguna and going east. This change in heights there seems to have only been added in 2025– and my understanding is that it occurred because heights were lowered at the west end of Lombard near the Palace of Fine Arts and as a result heights were simply popped up at the other end to 14 stories to maintain the count – which does not seem like a very thoughtful approach to rezoning Lombard Street.

My understanding from talking with Supervisor Sherrill is that he expects there might be potentially 10 14-story buildings on the three blocks of Lombard from Laguna to Franklin. Many people, even those in favor of the zoning plan, view the Fontana Towers as eyesores. To me, 14-story towers on Lombard Street, while they are not 18 stories like the Fontana Towers, is just like putting possibly 10 eyesores in an area that would block some of the nicest views in San Francisco so only a privileged few can see them. And people living in the new luxury apartments on floors 7 through 14 of these towers are probably unlikely to be taking the bus on the transit friendly Lombard Street that is the reason for allowing such tall buildings there in the first place.

I live on Vallejo Street and have been paying attention, as I walk around, to the beautiful views at the intersections of Vallejo and Broadway Streets with Laguna, Octavia, Gough, and Franklin streets that would be OBLITERATED with such tall buildings. Apart from residents enjoying views of THE CITY BY THE BAY, there go views for the tourists as they walk around Pacific Heights or drive around in those cute little yellow cars. Lowering heights on three blocks doesn't seem like it would upset the apple cart for this plan with the state and I urge you to consider it.

I am submitting this letter with my public comments because I agree with the proposed revisions

Re: Proposed Revisions to the Upzoning Map to Reflect District 2's Community Planning, Safety, and Growth Objectives

Dear Supervisor Sherrill,

Thank you for your engagement with our neighborhood as we collectively work toward a vision of housing growth that respects San Francisco's history, diverse communities, scale, and distinctive public spaces.

As SF Planning continues to revise the proposed Upzoning Map, we request a series of specific, actionable changes critical to maintaining the identity, livability, and uniqueness of this part of San Francisco. We look forward to working with you to:

- Maintain Lombard Street as a Scenic Gateway to San Francisco
- Protect Existing Housing and Prioritize Safety
- Safeguard Neighborhood-Serving Retail Corridors
- Remove Density Decontrol Provisions

This part of District 2 features some of San Francisco's most iconic landmarks—from the Bay and the Palace of Fine Arts to the Golden Gate Bridge. As drivers enter the city via the Presidio Parkway, they experience a rare blend of hillside housing and urban density, evoking the charm of Europe's great coastal cities. The combination of natural setting, architectural rhythm, and cultural legacy makes this area both a world-class tourist destination and a cherished residential neighborhood.

For over a century, development west of Van Ness has followed the city's natural topography, integrating the urban grid with the land's slope, sunlight, and airflow. This is no accident—it is the result of organic, community-guided planning. Taller buildings crown the hilltops, gradually stepping down to 40 feet as the land slopes toward the Bay. Where this balance has been ignored, the consequences have been damaging.

As the city updates its zoning map to meet housing goals, it has both the opportunity and the obligation to respect this historic, context-sensitive development pattern. A one-size-fits-all approach invites speculative land grabs, drives up land costs, and risks replacing community-serving homes and businesses with unaffordable, investor-driven development.

Requested Map Changes & Policy Adjustments

1. Maintain Lombard Street as a Scenic Gateway to San Francisco

Lombard Street forms a gateway into San Francisco from the Golden Gate Bridge, framing iconic landmarks like the Palace of Fine Arts. Longstanding planning principles recognize that such landmarks must retain their visual prominence within the surrounding cityscape.

The proposed Upzoning Map undermines those principles by allowing buildings 6 to 8 stories tall—or more—immediately adjacent to or within the vicinity of lower-scale blocks and historic landmarks. These oversized structures, up to 100% larger than their surroundings, would crowd and compete with iconic features like the Palace of Fine Arts—a City Landmark that has long defined San Francisco’s northern waterfront. Its visual stature depends on a built environment that respects both scale and setting. A blunt, uniform upzoning to 85 feet disregards topography and erodes the historic character that makes this area both livable and globally recognized.

We recommend a tapered height approach: 40 feet near the Palace, rising gradually to 50 and then 65 feet approaching Van Ness. This reflects the area’s historical development pattern and ensures a balanced transition from the waterfront to the city’s interior.

Recommended Height Limits:

- Limit building height to 40’ on Richardson Avenue and on Lombard Street (starting at the Lombard Gate) to Webster Street
- Allow gradual increases beyond Webster to Van Ness:
  - 50’ between Webster and Gough
  - 65’ between Gough and Van Ness

This part of San Francisco — including Cow Hollow, the Marina, and Pacific Heights — has been assigned thousands of new units of housing capacity through broad density decontrol and increased height allowances, all contributing to the state’s RHNA targets. It is more than our fair share in one of the city’s most densely populated neighborhoods. These policies, when done properly, could enable new growth by allowing duplexes, triplexes, and small multi-unit buildings across the neighborhood.

In addition, Lombard is home to many small, independent motels dating back to the era of the Golden Gate Bridge — a rare remnant of San Francisco’s history of welcoming visitors within neighborhood settings. Lombard is one of the last Motorways in the country that captures that hope-filled era of travel in mid-century America, rebuilding after World War II. These motels provide reasonably priced rooms and proximity to a major tourist destination, and support for our local businesses. Several of these motels have already been converted to student housing for the Academy of Art University. Losing others will result in losing tourism to our community and neighborhoods.

These recommendations align with the Planning Department’s stated goals under the General Plan to preserve neighborhood character, maintain economic diversity, and enhance citywide view corridors.

2. Protect Existing Housing and Prioritize Safety

Lombard Street already has many residents living in rent-controlled apartments. These homes are essential to neighborhood stability and affordability, and support a vibrant mix of retail, services, and housing. Let’s ensure long-time tenants in older rent-controlled buildings will not be quietly displaced through buyouts and demolitions.

As the upzoning plans allowed for more residents, we need to ensure the safety of those residents. The Planning Department must consider the serious risk of liquefaction in these areas. Much of the low-lying Marina and Cow Hollow was built on infill and remains vulnerable to seismic activity.

Aside from Lombard being a liquefaction zone, fire response time is a consideration. Cow Hollow boasts a newly rebuilt fire station on Greenwich Street. However, the fire truck ladders at this station can only service buildings as tall as 6-7 stories. If the building heights nearby are raised to 85’ or taller, trucks must come from other neighborhoods, increasing the response time and endangering residents and visitors. This public safety issue has not been addressed anywhere in the city where buildings are proposed for drastic height increases.

These issues point to the need for thoughtful major corridor plans along not only Lombard, but Geary, 19th, and Taraval, among others, to ensure that urban planning practices can be implemented with the public input and care that went into the Market-Octavia or Central SOMA Plans of recent years.

3. Safeguard Neighborhood-Serving Retail Corridors

Chestnut, Union, and Fillmore streets are economic and cultural anchors. Their small-scale, sunlit retail corridors support thousands of jobs and contribute significantly to neighborhood livability and a large contingent of the city’s 20+ million visitors that further contribute to supporting local employment and small businesses.

Upzoning these corridors would trigger redevelopment that almost always begins with demolition—many of these buildings are historic one-story Art Deco structures that currently house thriving small businesses. These businesses will not survive the transition, and adjacent shops are often dragged down by years of construction-related disruption. Noise, fencing, blocked sidewalks, lost parking, and reduced foot traffic can destabilize entire commercial blocks. The result is not affordable housing—it is the slow erosion of the vitality and street life that make these neighborhoods work.

The Marina Safeway site is another concern. While redevelopment may be considered, its location and current use are vital for residents—especially seniors and families without access to private transportation. A high-rise would be inappropriate and disruptive in this context.

Recommended Height Limits:

- Limit height to 40 feet on:
  - Union Street
  - Chestnut Street
  - Lower Fillmore Street (within the Marina and Cow Hollow)
  - Upper Fillmore Street (from Jackson to Bush)
  - Safeway site (corner of Laguna and Marina Blvd)

4. Remove Density Decontrol Provisions

To promote transparency and encourage meaningful neighborhood engagement, urge SF Planning to update the current interactive Upzoning Map to clearly reflect the two key provisions. Most San Franciscans are unfamiliar with these kinds of online tools and may not realize they need to click the “Info” button in the left-hand legend to uncover the proposed changes.

Currently, if someone clicks on a corner lot within the density decontrol area, the map still shows a proposed height of 40 feet—rather than the actual 65 feet being contemplated. This creates confusion and obscures the true scope of the changes. Failure to make these provisions plainly visible may not meet the standards of procedural transparency or informed public review expected under CEQA and other land use statutes. Complete clarity is essential.

But clarity alone is not enough. These provisions are deeply flawed and should be removed:

Recommended Changes:

- Remove the provision that allows 65' heights on corners lots. This will result in taller, randomly-placed towers among otherwise consistent 1-4 story residential blocks — with no relationship to neighborhood form or any broader planning vision.
- Remove the provision that allows lots 8,000 sq. ft. or greater to automatically rise to 65'. This provision encourages lot mergers that will invade the unique and vital greenbelts, backyards, and trees that provide vital open space in dense urban living.

Conclusion

We support new housing through thoughtful, context-sensitive growth. Like the city, we believe in expanding housing opportunities through planning that respects topography, preserves neighborhood identity, and safeguards essential services.

This area has already added housing capacity through the 4- and 6-plex legislation led by Supervisor Mandelman and adopted in 2023. We welcome further improvements that recognize Lombard Street's role as a scenic gateway.

But the current map goes too far. It invites speculation, drives up land costs, and encourages the demolition of sound housing—quietly displacing tenants and small businesses in favor of unaffordable luxury towers. These are the very people and places that give our neighborhoods their life and character.

Incorporating the revisions we've outlined will build public trust, reflect sound planning, and reduce the risk of unnecessary conflict or delay.

We urge you to support a smarter, long-term strategy—one that protects what makes San Francisco unique: its layered history, diverse communities, small businesses, and walkable, human-scale neighborhoods that reflect generations of thoughtful planning—while ensuring that truly affordable housing is the outcome, not just the promise, of these efforts.

Sincerely,

Re: Land Use and Transportation Committee
Meeting, November 3rd 1:30 pm
Agenda Item 6, 250966 General Plan Amendments Family Zoning Plan

Dear Mayor Lurie, Chief Segal, and Board of Supervisors:

I write this letter on behalf of Bellaire Towers Homeowners' Association, 64 owners and residents of our 20 story historic high rise at Green and Leavenworth at the top of Russian Hill.

The original Family Zoning Plan heights for the six square blocks: Leavenworth on the east, Larkin to the west, Filbert to the north and Vallejo to the south maintained the current 40 foot height.

Without explanation or comment, in late 2024, the Family Zoning Plan Map increased zoning height in this six square block area from 40 feet to 65 feet.

We respectfully request the original Family Zoning Plan zoning height of 40 feet be reinstated for this six square block area.

Our request is modest and historically correct according to the Family Zoning Plan's own records.

There is substantial Russian Hill community support for retaining this 40 foot limit for this six block area.

On May 6, 2025, (attached)the 600 member Russian Hill Neighbors wrote the San Francisco Planning Department noting the unexpected reversal of the original Family Zoning Plan in the six block area, noting in the penultimate paragraph of their letter:

“Lastly, we were surprised to see that heights were increased from 4 to 6 stories in the approximately 6 blocks centered on Hyde and Union Streets shown in Area A. This appears to be a reversal from the outcome of several discussions we had with Planning on this issue. These blocks are similar in character to the adjacent multi-block areas of Russian Hill immediately to the north and east which remain at 4-5 stories. These are all finely-grained residential areas among the city's densest. As we had mentioned in earlier letters, the availability of "soft" parcels more likely to be candidates for development are extremely limited here, significantly reducing the benefit of any proposed height increases in these blocks. We support density decontrol here, but urge retaining the current 4-story limit in this area.”<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> It is expected a representative of the separate and also largely representative Russian Hill Community Association will be present at this meeting in support of the reinstatement of the 40 foot zoning in the six block area.

There are at least three separate and compelling arguments from a land use perspective in retaining the 40 foot height limit in this six block area:

First, this zoning height increase in this six square block area will not lead to affordable housing. To the opposite, it will only lead to gross speculation by developers. Bellaire's representative, Rajan Edwards, so testified at the original SF Planning Commission hearing and the last Land Use and Transportation Committee hearing.

Second, this is an historic district and stable residential neighborhood. Specifically, to the immediate east of Bellaire Tower is the designated historic district, the "Paris Block" legacy residences that survived the 1906 earthquake. Bellaire Tower itself has already obtained an Historic Resource Evaluation and is seeking state and national landmark status with the noted preservation architects Page & Turnbull. Interspersed in the six block square area are other historic or historically evaluated residences. There is significant Russian Hill community support for designating the entire area down to Hyde street with its cable car route an historic district. This entire neighborhood should not be disturbed and irrevocably changed by prospective development.

Third, and finally, increasing the zoning height by 25 feet in this six block area, in all probability, makes no economic sense even to developers. Bellaire has consulted a number of established and knowledgeable developers in San Francisco, who inform us this marginal 25 foot zoning height increase makes no economic sense from a developer's standpoint, given the already high land acquisition cost and the marginal increase in density, making multi-family, as opposed to single family re-development a losing proposition.

I will be personally in attendance at the meeting and would like to testify and answer any questions on this matter.

Respectfully Submitted,

Niels L Pearson

Subject: Comments on April 2025 Draft of Proposed Zoning Map

Dear Lisa:

Building upon our meetings and reviews of last year's drafts of the rezoning, we have reviewed the current iteration of April 2025. While encouraged that the current map reflects a number of our earlier comments, we have remaining concerns over what appear to be several reversals and height increases compared to the February 2024 draft.

We have consistently been supportive of reasonable density and height increases along main commercial and transit corridors, including Van Ness Ave. and Polk St. We are pleased to see that heights along upper- and mid-Polk St. have been limited to 8 stories, as we had recommended, rather than the 14 stories originally proposed that we felt were excessive. However, along Van Ness, heights have grown from 8 to 14 stories at the intersection with Lombard St., and from 25 to 35 stories south of Broadway. We urge a much more gradual transition in these locations. Please see Areas C1 and C2 on the attached map.

Closer to the waterfront, we were gratified to see the blocks along Bay St. reduced from 6 to 4-stories, as we had requested. However, the blocks north of North Point remain at 6-stories which we find problematic as they include Ghirardelli Sq. and are adjacent to Aquatic Park, as shown on Area B in the attachment. We recommend retaining the 4-story limit here.

Lastly, we were surprised to see that heights were increased from 4 to 6 stories in the approximately 6 blocks centered on Hyde and Union Streets shown in Area A. This appears to be a reversal from the outcome of several discussions we had with Planning on this issue. These blocks are similar in character to the adjacent multi-block areas of Russian Hill immediately to the north and east which remain at 4-5 stories. These are all finely-grained residential areas among the city's densest. As we had mentioned in earlier letters, the availability of "soft" parcels more likely to be candidates for development are extremely limited here, significantly reducing the benefit of any proposed height increases in these blocks. We support density decontrol here, but urge retaining the current 4-story limit in this area.

Thank you once again for considering our comments, and please let me know if you have any questions.

PART I: HISTORIC RESOURCE EVALUATION

Buildings and Property Description

The subject property, 60 Russell Street, is located on a rectangular-shaped lot measuring 20 feet by 60 feet on the north side of Russell Street, an alley located between Hyde Street and Eastman Alley in the Russian Hill neighborhood of San Francisco. The property is located within an RH-2 (Residential-House, Two-Family) Zoning District and a 40-X Height and Bulk District.

The subject property is occupied by a one-story over raised basement, single family, wood frame residence constructed in ca. 1906. The residence was originally designed as a flat-front Italianate cottage that was very similar to 64 Russell Street—featuring the same side entry porch, projecting cornice, and façade configuration. Known alterations to the property include: relocation of partition walls, addition of two rooms and three exterior decks, window and door replacement, re-cladding the exterior in wood shingles, and replacement of wall boards and trim (1963); reroofing (1992); and dry rot repair (2006). Other alterations include removal of the period elements of the entry vestibule at an unknown date.

Pre-Existing Historic Rating / Survey

The subject property is considered a "Category B" property (Properties Requiring Further Consultation and Review) for the purposes of the Planning Department's California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) review procedures due to its age (constructed in ca. 1906).

On July 8, 2010, the Department issued a Historical Resource Evaluation Response (HRER) for a proposed project at 1945 Hyde Street (Planning Case #2010.0162E), which identified the subject block as part of an eligible historic district. The Historic Resource Evaluation prepared for the project (by Kelley & VerPlanck, dated February 2010) found that Russell Street (from Eastman Alley to Hyde Street) contains "a high concentration of residential buildings constructed in the early years of reconstruction after the 1906 Earthquake and Fire...The buildings within this area are unified historically by theme and form, and therefore could be a potential district."<sup>1</sup> The subject property is located within the boundaries of this identified district. See evaluation section below for further analysis.

Neighborhood Context and Description

The subject property is located on a single-block alley on the western side of Russian Hill in San Francisco. The immediate context is characterized by primarily residential land uses with buildings dating from 1906 to the late-1920s. Buildings are generally one to three stories in height and some commercial properties are located along the major streets. The larger neighborhood is generally characterized by its steeply sloping terrain and a wide range of building types and styles dating from 1850-1930, with a scattering of more contemporary buildings throughout. While portions of the Russian Hill neighborhood have been surveyed as potential historic districts (specifically the older buildings at the top of the hill), the immediate blocks surrounding the subject property have not been formally surveyed.

CEQA Historical Resource(s) Evaluation

Step A: Significance

Under CEQA section 21084.1, a property qualifies as a historic resource if it is "listed in, or determined to be eligible for listing in, the California Register of Historical Resources." The fact that a resource is not listed in, or determined to be eligible for listing in, the California Register of Historical Resources or not included in a local register of historical resources, shall not preclude a lead agency from determining whether the resource may qualify as a historical resource under CEQA.

Individual	Historic District/Context
Property is individually eligible for inclusion in a California Register under one or more of the following Criteria:	Property is eligible for inclusion in a California Register Historic District/Context under one or more of the following Criteria:
Criterion 1 - Event: <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	Criterion 1 - Event: <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
Criterion 2 - Persons: <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	Criterion 2 - Persons: <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No
Criterion 3 - Architecture: <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	Criterion 3 - Architecture: <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
Criterion 4 - Info. Potential: <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	Criterion 4 - Info. Potential: <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No
Period of Significance: N/A	Period of Significance: 1906-1911
	<input type="checkbox"/> Contributor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Non-Contributor

Based on the information provided in the Historic Resource Evaluation prepared for the subject property by Tim Kelley Consulting (dated June 2014), additional research by staff, and information found in the Planning Department files; staff finds that the subject building is eligible for inclusion on the California Register as a non-contributor to an eligible historic district under California Register Criteria 1 and 3.

Criterion 1: Property is associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of local or regional history, or the cultural heritage of California or the United States.

To be eligible under the event Criterion, the building cannot merely be associated with historic events or trends but must have a specific association to be considered significant.

According to the Historic Resource Evaluation prepared by Tim Kelley Consulting, Russian Hill first developed in late-19th century and many of its early residents were prominent members of the Bay Area's artistic, literary, artistic, and intellectual traditions. Early residents of Russian Hill included

Swedenborgian minister Joseph Worcester, architect Willis Polk, writer Gelett Burgess, photographer Dorothea Lane, and painter and poet Maynard Dixon.<sup>2</sup> The Russian Hill neighborhood was severely damaged by the 1906 Earthquake and Fire and all but a few buildings at the summit of the hill were destroyed. After this catastrophic event, residents quickly rebuilt and the subject property was constructed as part of the reconstruction effort that stretched from 1906 to ca. 1915. Many of the reconstruction-era buildings in Russian Hill were built quickly after the event to meet the high need for housing in San Francisco. The subject building did not individually contribute to the pattern of reconstruction of the Russian Hill neighborhood after the 1906 Earthquake and Fire such that it would be individually eligible for listing in the California Register under this criterion. However, the building is part of a collection of buildings that represent this pattern of development and are more appropriately analyzed for eligibility as a historic district (see historic district evaluation below).

Staff finds that 60 Russell Street does not have a specific association with an event such that it would qualify individually under Criterion 1.

Criterion 2: Property is associated with the lives of persons important in our local, regional or national past.

Building permit records indicate that the original owners of 60 Russell Street were Ernest and Marguerite Guinard, who purchased the property in 1906 and sold it in 1911. The early owners and occupants of the subject property and neighboring properties on Russell Street were generally blue-collar workers (carpenters, laborers, etc). Records do not indicate that any of the owners or occupants of the subject property are important to local, regional or national past. Therefore, 60 Russell Street is not eligible under Criterion 2.

Criterion 3: Property embodies the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, region, or method of construction, or represents the work of a master, or possesses high artistic values.

60 Russell Street is a one-story over raised basement, single family, wood frame residence originally designed as a flat-front Italianate cottage. The building was constructed in ca. 1906, at the beginning of the reconstruction of the Russian Hill neighborhood after the 1906 Earthquake and Fire. The building retains its original form and some architectural features, such as the projecting cornice, but many of the exterior façade materials have been removed or were covered over by wood shingles in 1963.

Based on information outlined in the Historic Resource Evaluation prepared for the project (Tim Kelley Consulting, June 2014), and additional research by staff, the subject property at 60 Russell Street is not individually eligible for inclusion in the California Register under Criterion 3 (Architecture), since the building does not possess high artistic value, nor individually embody distinctive characteristics of a type, period, region, or method of construction.

Criterion 4: Property yields, or may be likely to yield, information important in prehistory or history.

The subject building is not significant under Criterion 4, since this significance criterion typically applies to rare construction types when involving the built environment. The subject building is not an example of a rare construction type. Evaluation of archeological resources is outside of the scope of this review.

Historic District Evaluation

The subject property is part of a single-block alley of small-scale residential properties that are thematically and architecturally associated with the San Francisco's rebuilding after the 1906 Earthquake and Fire. The development of Russell Street followed a city-wide pattern of residential and commercial buildings construction spanning from 1906 to ca. 1915 to provide housing and services to displaced residents after the disaster. Today, Russell Street displays the architectural congruity necessary to qualify for listing under Criterion 1 (Events) representing a significant pattern of development after the 1906 Earthquake and Fire. The block is also eligible for listing under Criterion 3 (Design/Architecture) due to its high concentration of architecturally unified buildings with shared architectural characteristics, form, historic context and period.

Although a survey has not yet been completed, the boundaries of the historic district would include properties on both sides of Russell Street from Eastman Alley to Hyde Street. Based upon the historic context themes associated with the neighborhood, contributing buildings to the potential historic district would include intact multi- and single-family dwellings constructed on Russell Street between 1906 and 1911, the date the last reconstruction-era residence was completed on the street. As a result of this development pattern, there is a considerable degree of visual harmony among the residential properties along Russell Street and the buildings have experienced few exterior alterations. The building styles include Italianate, Classical Revival, Queen Anne, Craftsman, and Edwardian architectural styles. Most buildings still display a high level of historic architectural integrity; while there have been some alterations, the majority of the buildings still possess the basic form and architectural detailing associated with their style from the period of significance. The subject property was constructed during the period of significance, but due to exterior alterations, the building has lost integrity to this period and is considered a non-contributor to the eligible historic district.

***Note: The eligible Russell Street historic district has not been formally surveyed or evaluated. For the purposes of this HRER, the subject property at 60 Russell Street was examined for its possible contribution to the historic district and no other buildings within the district boundary were evaluated in detail.

Step B: Integrity

To be a resource for the purposes of CEQA, a property must not only be shown to be significant under the California Register of Historical Resources criteria, but it also must have integrity. Integrity is defined as "the authenticity of a property's historic identity, evidenced by the survival of physical characteristics that existed during the property's period of significance." Historic integrity enables a property to illustrate significant aspects of its past. All seven qualities do not need to be present as long the overall sense of past time and place is evident.

- |                     |   |   |                   |   |   |
|---------------------|---|---|-------------------|---|---|
| Location:    | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Retains | <input type="checkbox"/> Lacks            | Setting:   | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Retains | <input type="checkbox"/> Lacks            |
| Association: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Retains | <input type="checkbox"/> Lacks            | Feeling:   | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Retains | <input type="checkbox"/> Lacks            |
| Design:      | <input type="checkbox"/> Retains            | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Lacks | Materials: | <input type="checkbox"/> Retains            | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Lacks |
| Workmanship: | <input type="checkbox"/> Retains            | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Lacks |                   |   |   |

The street-facing façade of the subject property (60 Russell Street) has undergone many alterations since it was originally constructed in ca. 1906, including replacement of original wood-sash double-hung windows with aluminum sliders, reduction in the size of original window openings, removal of decorative window and door surrounds, modification of the projecting cornice detailing, and covering the original horizontal wood siding with wood shingles. Although the original building form and scale are evident and some of the original cladding and trim materials may exist underneath the current cladding, in its current state, the building does not retain sufficient integrity to contribute to the eligible historic district.

Step C: Historic District Character Defining Features

For the eligible Russell Street Historic District, the character-defining features would include but are not limited to:

- Location on Russell Street;
- Residential use (single-family or multi-family flats);
- One-to-three story height;
- Wood frame construction;
- Lack of architectural bays (mostly flat facades facing alley with an occasional shallow angled bay);
- Raised basements;
- Horizontal wood cladding;
- Gable or flat roof forms;
- Elevated and recessed entries (some recessed entries feature decorative vestibule panels);
- Wood entry stairs;
- Queen Anne, Craftsman, Classical Revival, Italianate or Edwardian-era architectural detailing;
- Arched Classical Revival style entry surrounds with flanking columns or pilasters;
- Projecting, decorative wood window and door hoods;
- Flat or slightly molded wood board window and door surrounds;
- Wood-sash windows (double-hung and casement), some with multi-lite upper sashes and ogee lugs;
- Paneled and partially glazed wood entry doors;
- Projecting, denticulated cornices with square modillions; and
- Free-standing planter boxes or retaining walls in front setback, or no front setback.

CEQA Historic Resource Determination

Subject: Public Comment: VOTE NO On Lurie's Recipe For Housing Failure & Replace It With A Real Affordable Housing Plan

Dear Supervisors,

The City Economist just released a report showing that Mayor Lurie's 'Family Zoning' plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

We still have 3 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units - together more than enough to fulfill state mandates. (Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan simply moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing oversupply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods.)

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' plan and replace it with text that will:

- 1) Identify how to manage existing housing approvals, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year in a way that will fully meet state mandates.
- 2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.
- 3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing more greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators. Please REPLACE the text in this unacceptable corporate attack on San Francisco tenants, and environmental, economic, cultural and community integrity, with text that will truly produce affordable housing and get State bureaucrats off of San Francisco's back.

President Mandelman and Members of the Board, please see our letter below regarding the "Family Zoning Plan."

November 3, 2025

RE: Mayor Lurie's "Family Zoning Plan"

President Mandelman and Members of the Board of Supervisors,

SOMA Pilipinas, the Filipino Cultural Heritage District, is opposed to the proposed upzoning plan. The upzoning plan will lead to the displacement of residents and small businesses, and encourages real estate speculation, harming the South of Market and neighborhoods across the city. The current plan, coupled with numerous cuts to affordable housing and impact fees that have already occurred, highlight how the city's Housing Element and the state co-opt the language of racial and social equity to further deregulation. We are also opposed to the blatant giveaway in Western SOMA of mainly increasing base heights, which will be used with the state density bonus, resulting in basically two upzonings from this plan for SOMA.

We must instead prioritize developing 100% affordable housing, preserving and protecting existing housing, protecting existing residents and small businesses from displacement, and engaging in community based planning. The current upzoning is failing on these fronts. We support the amendments put forward by Supervisor Chan and Supervisor Chen as they constitute a logical baseline of what should be included in such a sweeping upzoning proposal.

The city's Housing Element, mandated by the state, calls for 57% affordable housing to be built. As there is no affordable housing component to this plan, it is clear that it is a market-rate housing plan. The city economist Ted Egan acknowledges that market-rate housing will not get built at the levels "required" by the state, because developers and investors can not get the profit that is desired from these projects, stating the plan will only produce 8,500-14,600 units over the next 20 years. Affordable housing developers, however, are ready and willing to build housing. According to the city's 2024 Housing Inventory Report, affordable housing production accounted for 64% of all new housing production in 2024; as market-rate housing stalled because of lack of return on investment, affordable housing production continued.

If the city and state are really concerned about "building housing," the focus would be on building affordable housing. However, it is clear that the real desire is not simply to "build housing," but instead to provide the best scenario for private developers, investors, and speculators to make money off of the real estate market in San Francisco.

We must focus on creating 100% affordable housing, protecting our neighborhoods that are composed of residents, small businesses, and neighborhood based organizations, and engaging in community based planning that focuses on the needs of the most vulnerable and marginalized.

Dear Land Use Committee Members and all other Supervisors,

I urged in an October 17 email letter that the Board write its own zoning plan to include strong anti-displacement protections for tenants and small businesses, with a prioritized affordable housing funding & site plan.

Thank you, Supervisors Chan, Chen and Melgar, for attempting to inject decency into the FZP.

Thank you Supervisors Chan and Chen for recognizing that the concepts of compliance and capacity can only be met through a clear-eyed lens of San Francisco's actual needs. Not through the distorted view of those who would profit from unlimited removal and replacement of people and their homes with wealthy people and impossibly costly generic "units."

Capacity and compliance are currently based on a numerical fiction... the made-up structure of "State-Mandated RHNA numbers."

We must stop fighting each other in a futile race to rack up housing unit numbers we were never meant to achieve. RHNA's were designed to be impossibly high -- setting up the City to fail -- so that the State would have a rationale to remove all locally-determined regulations via a State-imposed "builders' remedy."

The RHNA's, even if created with good intentions, have been proven irrelevant by Covid impacts, tariff and construction cost inflation, and the loss of an investor-driven economy.

Let's stop chasing this non-existent RHNA capacity holy grail. Let's turn our efforts instead toward establishing the illegality of the RHNA numbers in court.

Let's stop being afraid.

Refine and strengthen tenant and small business protection Amendments for a revised FZP in the meantime. Create a better, uniquely San Francisco zoning plan that provides mostly affordable housing and does it without destroying ourselves and our City.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a San Franciscan, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

We call on you to:

- Drastically scale back the Mayor's upzoning maps
- Request a postponement of the arbitrary January 2026 upzoning deadline

Mayor Lurie's upzoning maps would impose permanent, irreversible changes to San Francisco's land use — going far beyond what is required, with zero affordability guarantees.

Together, these plans clear the way for mass demolition and luxury towers, prioritizing the interests of developers and billionaire investors while silencing the voices of the very communities they are supposed to represent. This is not planning — it is displacement disguised as progress.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS (optional): My home as well as my rental unit on Union Street between Polk and Van Ness will be destroyed and put in nearly constant shadow and darkness by the proposed towering height of the adjacent properties.

Sincerely,

Clerk of the Board Angela Calvillo,

Dear San Francisco Supervisors,

I'm writing to express my strong support for the Family Zoning Plan.

San Francisco urgently needs more homes — and this plan moves us in the right direction. It will expand housing choices across the city, especially in high-opportunity areas near transit, jobs, and schools. It gives families the flexibility to build backyard units, in-law apartments, and small buildings that allow them to stay close to the people they love.

This is a thoughtful, community-informed proposal that aligns with our Housing Element goals while addressing the real, everyday needs of San Franciscans. I urge you to support the Family Zoning Plan and to continue working toward a housing system that is fair, inclusive, and responsive to the city's future.

Let's build a San Francisco where everyone can belong. Thank you for your partnership and collaboration.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

If one of these monstrosities goes up next door to us, we'll definitely leave. I won't live in the shadow of a high rise. We honestly bought our home because of all the light and the beauty of looking out at Golden Gate Park. So, our two little gardens and our tree (we call him Barkleaf) will die that will be the end of that. It just won't be the nice quiet neighborhood we planned to live in forever. We're getting ready to retire soon and really hope the city won't force us out to make room for rich folks' condos.

As a resident of the Richmond near Fulton St, I strongly oppose Mayor Lurie's plan, which incentivizes the demolition of existing homes, displacement of renters and small businesses, and transformation of our neighborhoods into unaffordable luxury high-rise corridors.

Members of the Board of Supervisors,

The Mayor's blanket upzoning proposal will not solve San Francisco's affordability crisis – it will make it worse without significant amendments, by displacing renters and small businesses, and prioritizing luxury development over the housing our communities need.

There is a better way forward that meets State capacity mandates without displacement, while ensuring housing built is affordable to San Franciscans. As a voting constituent, I urge you to include these policies in any upzoning plan:

Create an Affordable Housing Special Use District (SUD) to require a minimum of 50% truly affordable development on large opportunity parcels.

Carve out ALL 100,000 rent-controlled homes (representing 200k renters) from the Mayor's Plan. Our local electeds voted to adopt a Housing Element that prioritized the preservation of people's homes – this should not be up for negotiation. We can build the housing we need on opportunity sites that do not include rent-controlled homes.

We should be requiring MORE affordable homes – not replacing them with market-rate units.

Please vote down any proposals to swap BMR homes for rent-controlled market rate units. And increase the BMR inclusionary requirements to 20% on-site, so that the private housing that does end up getting built is at least affordable to 20% of working San Franciscans.

Require family-sized housing for a growing San Francisco and require developers to make 50% of the units 2-3 bedrooms plus communal living space.

Truly support mom & pop small businesses in the impacted neighborhood commercial corridors by prohibiting the demolition of SF-certified Legacy Businesses, requiring developers provide relocation costs starting at $150k and turn-key "warm shell" tenant improvements for displaced small businesses.

Workers who build our housing deserve a living wage. Include local prevailing wage requirements in Mayor's Plan.

Protect public access to our waterfront and environmental protections for our coast. Do not side with Trump policies to privatize and develop our protected coastal waterfront and carve out the parcels that should be protected for the public.

Finally, beyond this legislation — please get serious about an affordable housing financing strategy. The lack of political will to move forward voters' number one priority is disheartening – the City can and must be stronger advocates for San Franciscans to the State and the Feds, beyond private fundraising for Downtown. Our neighborhoods cannot afford to wait for the private market to do the job of local government. We need your creative leadership now more than ever!

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a San Francisco person.,

As long as the affordable housing gets replaced it's ok. There's loads of free space by ccsf.

We call on you to:

- make the upcoming maps apparent and available for public viewing. People need to move in A fare amount of time. Keep doing a good job. Reviving market street will take some work. Don't drive out the poor responsible citizens. All those drugies have been the people that make the art you love so please some compassion. Not everyone has the tech skills to make it in computer software database world. The Loin knows it's time to mix it up and some of those 6 story buildings should have been 10 or higher. Don't forget to tell your mom you love her cuz she's old. Ok have a good day. It takes a lot of work for city that hits harder than its weight class. Keep the focus on the tourism that really separates it from other places, ooh and Sunday brunch.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I have lived in San Francisco for 55 years. I have worked to keep as much as possible the San Francisco charm. It is sad and disturbing that Mayor Lurie's plan has come about. The destruction to neighborhoods, victorians, and other beautiful San Francisco structures are getting torn down to put up which horrible, cookie cutter high-rise buildings....What for....there are many other areas where you could put up housing and create another new area...but why in already beautiful neighborhoods that do not need to be changed or congested.

I voted for you Mayor Lurie..and I am saddened by the turn you are taking...PLEASE STOP THIS CONGESTIVE BUILDING MADDNESS!

Cut back on all this rezoning, take more time to plan this out.

Stop this devastating change to our culturally beautiful San Francisco...

We do not need such a gross amount of Cookie Cutter Luxury Buildings..

Stop ruining our wonderful neighborhoods..

Consider looking at spaces to develop where there is more land and less residential structures

There is all that land by the old shipyards...why not create a new neighborhood there...

Dear Supervisors,

The City Economist just released a report showing that Mayor Lurie's 'Family Zoning' plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

We still have 3 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units - together more than enough to fulfill state mandates. (Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan simply moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing over-supply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods.)

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' Ordinance and replace it with text that will:

- 1) Identify how to manage existing housing approvals, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year in a way that will fully meet state mandates.
- 2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.
- 3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing major greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators. Please REPLACE the text in this unacceptable corporate attack on San Francisco tenants, and environmental, economic, cultural, and community integrity, with text that will truly produce affordable housing and get State bureaucrats off of San Francisco's back.

I am not likely to be able to attend this coming Monday, 11/ 3/25 Board meeting where it is my understanding there will be discussions about the proposed changes to zoning in our Sunset district, as well as other neighborhood districts. I cannot stand for long periods, or crowded areas.

It is not acceptable for many of us living in single family, or in R2 zones, to have larger unit buildings and increased height permitted, especially when it increases demand on our very aged infrastructure and traffic management cannot be adapted. Many corner lots already have 3 or more stories, or even 4-5 stories on inner Sunset transit lines. A proposal to increase heights even further, demolish our outer neighborhoods to become more commercially profitable is not why we bought here almost 30 years ago. Sunset has become more crowded and traffic noticeably increased just in the past decade, especially with the Great Highway issues now added. The State may be pressuring San Francisco to build, build, build more housing capacity but it cannot be at the expense of destroying our neighborhoods. Keep the housing increases on already major commercial areas where one expects it to be. Don't take away the special uniqueness of the outer districts. There are already efforts to increase housing capacity even with our single family properties where "in law" units can be created more easily. We are not a metropolis like Los Angeles, San Diego, etc, where there was space to expand, and we do not want to become a "Malibu" of the north along the Great Highway.

This type of proposal to increase housing density is just not acceptable.

Regards, Sunset resident & tax payer, Ann Cabral

Hello All,

As you may know, Mayor Lurie's Family Housing Plan will go before the Land Use & Transportation Committee this Monday, November 3, sometime after 2 p.m. I fully support this plan. It's time for San Francisco to take real steps toward building enough housing—especially in the low-density neighborhoods on the west side of the city.

While the City Economist, Ted Egan, recently noted that the plan alone will not meet the city's full housing mandates, it represents an essential step toward building the infrastructure we need for future growth.

Let's create a San Francisco where working-class families and future generations can afford to live and thrive.

Best,

To whom in may concern, you can usually tell when something is against the people's interest when its called "Family planning". This is a scam to get quick approval of the destruction of our neighborhoods, affordable housing and protections for small businesses. North Beach is fine. LEAVE IT ALONE. There is purpose to the so-called red tape. To make sure the people win and not the developers, who could care less about our neighborhoods. Stop this illegal and immoral action.

Dear Supervisors,

As a resident of San Francisco (District 2) and a stakeholder, I demand that you adopt a plan that prioritizes affordable housing!

The City Economist just released a report showing that Mayor Lurie's 'Family Zoning' plan will not work and will trigger the State to hijack San Francisco's housing decisions. This is because zoning changes don't produce new affordable housing.

We still have 3 months to replace the Mayor's plan with one that will work. Here's a real strategy to solve the affordable housing crisis.

San Francisco has 70,000 housing units already approved, at least 40,000 vacant housing units, and vast vacant office space that can be converted to thousands of affordable housing units - together more than enough to fulfill state mandates.

Yet instead of focusing on making those units available at affordable rents, and showing the State a solid plan to do so, Lurie's plan simply moves zoning rules around like deck chairs on the Titanic, does almost nothing to increase affordable housing, and increases the already bloated, gentrifying, luxury housing over-supply [now at 150%] while destroying San Francisco neighborhoods

Now that the City Economist has shown that Lurie's plan won't work, it is imperative that you STOP seeking to negotiate mere amendments to the 'Family Zoning' plan and replace it with text that will:

- 1) Identify how to manage existing housing approvals, vacancies, and empty office space to rapidly produce 100% truly affordable housing for families making less than $100,000 per year in a way that will fully meet state mandates.
- 2) Fully protect all current San Francisco laws ensuring environmental and community noticing and review, and strike Lurie's language that unacceptably skips public hearings to put almost all housing decisions in the hands of Planning Department staff.
- 3) Favor producing housing out of existing vacancies and empty office space as much as possible, instead of building new units. New construction uses massive amounts of cement, wood, and diesel construction equipment, releasing more greenhouse gas emissions.

The Mayor's plan would build more excess housing for the wealthy, create more homelessness, and is an environmentally destructive giveaway to rapacious Wall Street and corporate real estate speculators.

Please REPLACE the text in this unacceptable corporate attack on San Francisco tenants, and environmental, economic, cultural and community integrity, with text that will truly produce affordable housing and get State bureaucrats off of San Francisco's back.

Thank you,

Dear Land Use Committee Members and all other Supervisors,

I urged in an October 17 email letter that the Board write its own zoning plan to include strong anti-displacement protections for tenants and small businesses, with a prioritized affordable housing funding & site plan.

Thank you, Supervisors Chan, Chen and Melgar, for attempting to inject decency into the FZP.

Thank you Supervisors Chan and Chen for recognizing that the concepts of compliance and capacity can only be met through a clear-eyed lens of San Francisco's actual needs. Not through the distorted view of those who would profit from unlimited removal and replacement of people and their homes with wealthy people and impossibly costly generic "units."

Capacity and compliance are currently based on a numerical fiction... the made-up structure of "State-Mandated RHNA numbers."

We must stop fighting each other in a futile race to rack up housing unit numbers we were never meant to achieve. RHNA's were designed to be impossibly high -- setting up the City to fail -- so that the State would have a rationale to remove all locally-determined regulations via a State-imposed "builders' remedy."

The RHNA's, even if created with good intentions, have been proven irrelevant by Covid impacts, tariff and construction cost inflation, and the loss of an investor-driven economy.

Let's stop chasing this non-existent RHNA capacity holy grail. Let's turn our efforts instead toward establishing the illegality of the RHNA numbers in court.

Let's stop being afraid.

Refine and strengthen tenant and small business protection Amendments for a revised FZP in the meantime. Create a better, uniquely San Francisco zoning plan that provides mostly affordable housing and does it without destroying ourselves and our City.

Thank you for your consideration.

Clerk of the Board Angela Calvillo,

Dear San Francisco Supervisors,

I'm writing to express my strong support for the Family Zoning Plan. We need to just get this through the Land Use Committee and passed with minimal revisions/amendments as possible. The longer we wait, the longer we are in this affordability crisis that is causing San Francisco to lose thousands of people each year and make it harder for the citizens who live here to survive. Perfection is the enemy of good, and we need to make good progress.

This is a thoughtful, community-informed proposal that aligns with our Housing Element goals while addressing the real, everyday needs of San Franciscans. I urge you to support the Family Zoning Plan and to continue working toward a housing system that is fair, inclusive, and responsive to the city's future.

Let's build a San Francisco where everyone can belong. Thank you for your partnership and collaboration.

To the members of the Board of Supervisors -

I am Carolyn Kenady, chair of the Dolores Heights Improvement Club (DHIC) in District 8. We oppose this Upzoning Plan and urge you to amend it to address the issues below.

DHIC opposes this strategy to upzone hundreds of thousands of SF properties because it's:

- Overkill: To meet its housing mandate, San Francisco only needs to approve 36,200 additional projects by 2032. Blanket upzoning allows demolition of existing housing - which is our most affordable housing
- Doesn't produce enough affordable units: 80% of the projects needed to reach this 36K goal must be affordable housing. The affordable requirements and subsidies provided by the proposed program won't produce the required 29k affordable units.
- Not increase market production or reduce housing costs: Per SF Planning's own feasibility study, only slightly improved economic assumptions, will developers undertake market-rate multi-unit projects (1-2 BR, avg $4600 monthly.) The City Economist's impact analysis shows very little impact on rents or prices for housing. (see pages 34 - 63 of SF Planning memo to SF Planning Commissioners, dated June 26, 2025 and the City Economist's Report, page 21, October 2025)
- Displacing tenant and small businesses: in my neighborhood shopping districts - Church & 24th Streets and the Castro NCDs are proposed for 65 foot heights. Most renters and small local businesses displaced by new construction won't be able to afford the new rents. Our small local businesses that attract shoppers and tourists to our neighborhoods will be driven out.

This plan caters to developers. It does not align with our City's housing needs: keeping existing housing – our most affordable resource, preserving the historic and cultural resources enjoyed by visitors and residents alike, and being more strategic about where to add height vs. blanket zoning large areas of our City. Please revise this plan to protect our key resources, add sufficient affordability, and use height strategically. Thank you.
