Appointed to Seat #: _____ Term Expires: _____ Date Seat was Vacated: _____

Bruce has been a long time resident of San Francisco since 1994. He has worked on many causes and with community organizations. He is a product of SF public education having attended City College of SF from 1995-98 and SF State University from 1998-2004 earning his Bachelor's and Master's Degree in Social Work.

Bruce was appointed in 2005 and reappointed to (served through 2008) unanimously by the SF Board of Supervisors and Mayor to the Sunshine Ordinance Task Force.

He also served four years on the important Prop H Public Education Enrichment Fund by then SF Unified School District Commissioner Eric Mar that oversees nearly half billion dollars of city funds over ten years to arts, libraries, music, sports, pre-kindergarten, nurses, social workers and in-kind services.

He served on the 18-month study, Eastern Neighborhoods Community Health Impact Assessment that produced the nation's first rezoning tool of specific scope on the environment. It is currently being considered by San Francisco for adoption to its rezoning plans. He represented SF Community Land Trust and Sierra Club.

He served on the Municipal Transit Agency's Transit Effectiveness Project (TEP), an 18-month effort along with the City Controller's Office whose goals are to improve MUNI's overall performance, create a blueprint for future service, affordability and create a multi-year plan.

Bruce works as a chief information and technology officer and social worker for the prominent non-profit, Marin Institute; president of software company, Vcampaign; and is a life coach with an emphasis on lifestyle changes for people with disabilities. He also serves as board member or representative on many community boards and groups.

While at City College and SF State, Bruce served in many active elected official positions on both Associated Students governments. At CCSF, he was Executive Vice-President and Vice-President of Administration. At SFSU, he was elected President, Vice-President of External Affairs, Chief Justice and Parliamentarian. He served on every committee and has an excellent understanding large institution operations, administration and budgets. He also worked to increase accountability of the state-mandated Shared Governance process and bring more Sunshine and transparency of the colleges' operations.

Bruce always advocates for students and other underrepresented people by mentoring and encouraging them in civic participation. He has worked closely with diverse student and disability communities helping many achieve active and respected positions in student government and civic participation.

Bruce has also spent his entire academic tenure advocating as a student for students in higher education at California's Capitol in Sacramento. He continues to work to reduce excessive tuition and class fees, increase college grants and opportunities for students to enter and maintain their college careers towards graduation.

Bruce holds a Master's Degree in Social Work with a focus on Organizational Development and Life Coaching. He is a Health Educator of over 25 years having taught Ergonomic Health & Safety and Wellness programs. He is a 45 year veteran of martial arts, thirty of them being in the venerable Chinese practice of T'ai Chi and other internal arts, and is also highly recognized nationally as a tournament judge and for his teaching skills.

Bruce enjoys life in San Francisco and the Bay Area with his service dog, Charlie.

Richard Knee
Chair
San Francisco Sunshine Ordinance Task Force
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place
City Hall, Room 244
San Francisco, CA 94102-4689

January 21, 2010

Dear Richard:

I am a lawyer and former newspaper reporter, and am writing to apply for the opening in seat #8 of the San Francisco Sunshine Ordinance Task Force.

Advocating for open meetings and open records have been a large part of my life's work, first as a journalist and now as an attorney specializing in media law. Since passing the California bar exam and beginning work for the firm of Sheppard, Mullin Richter & Hampton, I have litigated cases advocating for open records under the California Constitution and the state Public Records Act, and am right now in the midst of litigating a case arguing for open meetings under the state's Brown Act.

I worked as a newspaper writer for eight years before enrolling in law school, most recently as a criminal justice reporter for The Washington Post. During my career at three newspapers, I researched and wrote many hundreds of articles on subjects as varied as anthrax and presidential campaigns, floods and droughts. Perhaps more importantly for the purposes of the Sunshine Ordinance Task Force, I covered more school board meetings, city council meetings, county council meetings and planning board meetings than I could ever possibly count.

I am a graduate of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, and had my first paid newspaper job when I was 15 years old, for the sports pages of The Albuquerque Tribune.

As a working journalist, I came into daily, ground-level contact with the importance of sunshine laws – and well understand their fragility.

While in law school, I competed in the National First Amendment Moot Court Competition, and have worked on free-speech issues as part of an internship with the Electronic Frontier Foundation, as well as a summer associateship with Sheppard Mullin, where I worked on litigation relating to open records issues for the San Jose Mercury-News.

Upon graduating from law school, I have made First Amendment and communications law my practice area. I believe I would be an asset to the Task Force and hope you will seriously consider my application.

I have attached my resume.

Thank you for your time and for your consideration. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call or email.

Sunshine Ordinance Task Force
San Francisco Board of Supervisors

RE: Sunshine Ordinance Task Force Seat Vacancy

January 15, 2009

To whom it may concern:

Please consider me for appointment to the open seat on the Sunshine Ordinance Task Force. I believe I would be a valuable asset to the task force as I have demonstrated interest and experience in the issues of citizen access and participation in local government. In May 2009, I graduated with my Master of Public Administration from San Francisco State University studying and writing about citizen participation and the importance of citizen engagement, and I have spent a little more than two years at City Hall working on public outreach and communications issues.

With me you are getting a passionate, organized professional who studied public policy; someone who is in tune with San Francisco and its politics and legal issues; and a public servant with a solid background with nonprofit organizations and city government, public information and innovative communications technologies.

While in grad school, I volunteered at Supervisor Ross Mirkarimi's office two days a week in 2007/2008, working with constituents and assisting the Legislative Aides. This experience gave me my first taste of the fast-paced, demanding conditions that elected officials and their staff work under, and an appreciation for the inner workings of public service in City Hall

In August 2008, I moved upstairs, where I have been working for DPW in the Public Affairs Office. I contribute to communications plans and public outreach activities. Most notably, I am responsible for setting up a process and strategy for DPW to embrace social media tools and increase opportunities for citizen participation. I also write press releases, create content for the website and electronic newsletters, and reach out to residents and merchants, and the press.

I spent the bulk of my career before grad school in the nonprofit sector, working with the homeless in Seattle and San Francisco; and I have firsthand knowledge of how poverty and injustices affect the human condition. Education and citizen access to information is paramount in today's world, and though the ways people disseminate and acquire information is rapidly evolving, the core values of accountability and transparency must remain as the foundation of good governance. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Greg Crump

Supplemental Application for Sunshine Ordinance Task Force

Applicant: Hope Johnson
Seat: 8 (currently vacant), and 9 and 10 (term expires April 27, 2010)
Date: February 9, 2010

Qualifications:

Employment in the legal field over the last 15 years has afforded me the opportunity to sharpen skills essential to effectively serve on the Sunshine Ordinance Task Force. I am highly proficient at interpreting and applying state, federal, and local rules, case law, and tariffs; conducting investigations; locating and interviewing witnesses and experts; reviewing documents for relevant information and proper format; maintaining confidentiality; and analyzing issues related to privilege. This knowledge would be valuable in the assessment of complaints brought before the task force, advising the Board of Supervisors on implementing the Sunshine ordinance in a manner useful to the residents of the City and County of San Francisco, and immediately filling the void left by the task force's vacant seat.

I am very familiar with and active in San Francisco politics. I regularly attend and report on local government boards and meetings such as the San Francisco Democratic County Central Committee and the Animal Control and Welfare Commission that do not receive attention from mainstream media. My writing has appeared in Fog City Journal and my Stay Tuned blog. My interest is non-economic. I am not paid to attend or write but feel residents continue to receive too little information on many issues affecting daily life and demonstrating the substantive reasoning behind policy decisions. I am well-known in local politics for being unafraid to report governmental abuse. In addition, I have recently assisted a local animal rights groups in filing a sunshine complaint to assert the right to public comment at the Animal Welfare Commission, recommended implementation of Sunshine laws on reporting of outcomes San Francisco's homeless animals, and discussed improvement of access to commission meeting archives currently only taped on audiocassette.

Authority:

Added by Board of Supervisors' Ordinance No. 265-93 (Added Admin. Code Section 67.30); amended by Ordinance Nos. 118-94, 432-94, 287-96, 198-98, 387-98, and by Proposition G adopted November 2, 1999.

Board Qualifications:

The Sunshine Ordinance Task Force 2000 consists of a total of thirteen members, eleven of whom are appointed by the Board of Supervisors. The Mayor or his/her designee, and the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors or his/her designee serve as non-voting members. All members must have experience and/or demonstrated interest in the issues of citizen access and participation in local government. The City Attorney shall serve as legal advisor to the Task Force.

The members are drawn from the following categories: two appointed from names submitted by local chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists, one an attorney and one a local journalist; one appointed from the press or electronic media; one appointed from names submitted by the local chapter of the League of Women Voters; four members of the public who have demonstrated interest in or have experience in the issues of citizen access and participation in local government; two members of the public experienced in consumer advocacy; one appointed from names submitted by New California Media, to be a journalist from a racial/ethnic-minority-owned news organization.

The term of each appointive member shall be two years unless earlier removed by the Board of Supervisors. In the event of such removal or vacancy during the term of office of any appointive member, a successor shall be appointed for the unexpired term of the office vacated.
