I am 66 years old. I retired as an H1 Paramedic from the San Francisco Fire Department (yes I AM applying to serve on the POLICE COMMISSION) in July of 2007. with thirty-three years of street-level service in public safety. During those years I worked shoulder to shoulder with police officers, eight years in New York City and twenty-five years here in San Francisco.

In my life I have seen things as an "outsider," from the perspective of opposition to The State -from my upbringing as a "RED-DIAPER-BABY" thru my involvement in struggles against Jim Crow and the Vietnam and the Gulf wars . . . to, day-in, day out, year-in, year out comradeship - actual partnership with police on the streets -as an "insider." In my early years here on the ambulance we paramedics even wore the same uniform as the police. I did come to know the alienation and hostility endemic in some sectors of the community -I was even shot at because I was mistaken for Police.

I have personally been involved in all the extremes that street work bring out. I have known officers who despite the "meanness" of their beats, routinely execute their duties with kindness. I have seen officers extend their sense of duty and service, literally acting heroically. I have also been immersed in the culture of bigotry that can and occasionally will occur, in the stations and in the streets. I have seen persons abused and even tortured while in custody.

In my capacity as a Union officer I represented paramedics at all levels of discipline (Department of Health, Certifying Agencies up to and including the State of California, the San Francisco Civil Service Commission and the Fire Commission) -seeking to communicate the reality of their work environment and advocating for due process be they dead wrong or innocent.

The amalgam of my life and professional experience gives me a unique perspective on the spectrum of responsibilities and pressures that are the day-to-day experience of officers and, on the necessities of the operations of a police force in our time. And I bring with me comprehension of this reality - that all laws are subject to subjective or worse, selective enforcement -thus the alien, the non-conformist, the dissident and the poor, bear the brunt of the occasional but inevitable fallibility of persons who find themselves tasked with enforcement.

I decided to offer my service as I meditated on stories in the media about allegations that our police have exhibited excessive behaviors at recent "OCCUPY" demonstrations. I was immediately struck by the indications that The City's response was going to be, to focus on assigning blame to individual officers rather than an examination & assessment of the culture of a department that trains officers in crowd control from the SWAT handbook.

Whatever the context:

- the preservation of Public Safety,
- abuse of power,
- community "buy-in,"
- deadly force,
- the function of chain of command,

if I am to serve. I will bring an exceptionally apt toolbox to the Police Commission.

Business and/or professional experience:

- Care and Transport of the Sick and Injured, New York City and San Francisco
- Dispatched City Ambulances, San Francisco
- Field command, San Francisco
- Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS) Instructor
- Paramedic trainer in fledgling system in New York and subsequently in San Francisco

- Served on Executive Board of Local 2507/ AFSCME - NYC
