19 Section 1. Findings.

20 (a) CEQA and Land Use Findings.

21 (1) The Planning Department has determined that the Planning Code
22 amendment proposed in this ordinance is subject to a Categorical Exemption from the 23 California Environmental Quality Act (California Public Resources Code Sections 21000 et 24 seq., hereinafter "CEQA") pursuant to Section 15308 of California Code of Regulations, Title 25 14, Sections 15000 et seq., the Guidelines for implementation of the statute, for actions by regulatory agencies for protection of the environment (in this case, landmark designation).
Said determination is on file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File No. 240725 and

1 is incorporated herein by reference. The Board of Supervisors affirms this determination.

2 (2) Pursuant to Planning Code Section 302, the Board of Supervisors finds that
3 the proposed landmark designation of Rainbow Flag will serve the public necessity,
4 convenience, and welfare for the reasons set forth in Historic Preservation Commission
5 Resolution No. 1395, recommending approval of the proposed designation, which is
6 incorporated herein by reference.

7 (3) The Board of Supervisors finds that the proposed landmark designation of 8 Rainbow Flag is consistent with the General Plan and with Planning Code Section 101.1(b) for 9 the reasons set forth in Historic Preservation Commission Resolution No. 1395, which is
10 incorporated herein by reference.

11 (b) General Findings.

12 (1) On April 4, 2024, the Board of Supervisors adopted Resolution No. 170-24,
13 initiating landmark designation of Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag Installation (the "Rainbow 14 Flag") at Harvey Milk Plaza as a San Francisco Landmark pursuant to Section 1004.1 of the 15 Planning Code. On April 12, 2024, the Mayor approved the resolution. Said resolution is on 16 file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in File No. 240311.

17 (2) Pursuant to Charter Section 4.135, the Historic Preservation Commission
18 has authority "to recommend approval, disapproval, or modification of landmark designations
19 and historic district designations under the Planning Code to the Board of Supervisors."

20 (3) The Landmark Designation Fact Sheet was prepared by Planning
21 Department Preservation staff. All preparers meet the Secretary of the Interior's Professional 22 Qualification Standards for historic preservation program staff, as set forth in Code of Federal 23 Regulations Title 36, Part 61, Appendix A. The report was reviewed for accuracy and 24 conformance with the purposes and standards of Article 10 of the Planning Code.

1 (4) The Historic Preservation Commission, at its regular meeting of May 15,
2 2024, reviewed Planning Department staff's analysis of the historical significance of the 3 Rainbow Flag set forth in the Landmark Designation Fact Sheet dated May 1, 2024.

4 (5) On May 15, 2024, after holding a public hearing on the proposed
5 designation and having considered the specialized analyses prepared by Planning
6 Department staff and the Landmark Designation Fact Sheet, the Historic Preservation
7 Commission recommended designation of the Rainbow Flag as a landmark consistent with 8 the standards set forth in Section 1004 of the Planning Code, by Resolution No. 1395. Said
9 resolution is on file with the Clerk of the Board in File No. 240725.

10 (6) The Board of Supervisors hereby finds that the Rainbow Flag has a special 11 character and special historical, architectural, and aesthetic interest and value, and that its 12 designation as a Landmark will further the purposes of and conform to the standards set forth
13 in Article 10 of the Planning Code. In doing so, the Board hereby incorporates by reference
14 the findings of the Landmark Designation Fact Sheet.

16 Section 2. Designation.

17 Pursuant to Section 1004.3 of the Planning Code, the Rainbow Flag Installation at 18 Harvey Milk Plaza by Gilbert Baker is hereby designated as a San Francisco Landmark 19 consistent with the standards set forth in Section 1004. Appendix A to Article 10 of the 20 Planning Code is hereby amended to include this property.

22 Section 3. Required Data.

23 (a) The description, location, and boundary of the Landmark site consists of the 24 historic structural footprint of the Rainbow Flag, inclusive of the concrete plinth, concrete
25 foundation above the Castro MUNI Station at the southwest corner of the intersection of

1 Market Street and Castro Street at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco’s Castro
2 neighborhood.

3 (b) The characteristics of the Landmark that justify its designation are described and 4 shown in the Landmark Designation Fact Sheet and other supporting materials contained in 5 Planning Department Record Docket No. 2023-003679DES. In brief, the Rainbow Flag is 6 eligible for local designation as a traditional cultural property with global recognition under 7 National Register of Historic Places Criterion A and as a significant artwork by the political 8 artist Gilbert Baker under Criterion C. The artist Gilbert Baker (1951-2017) is widely known for 9 creating a six-striped Rainbow Flag artwork based on an eight-striped version made in San 10 Francisco in 1978. Baker’s six-color Rainbow Flag rapidly became associated with the greater 11 Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Queer+ (LGBTQ+) community, not only in terms of 12 the diversity of whom it represented but also in its global recognition. For nearly two decades,
13 Baker produced variations on the theme of the six-stripe Rainbow Flag for different 14 anniversaries and events. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza, installed in 1997 in 15 commemoration of Harvey Milk’s election to the Board of Supervisors twenty years earlier, is 16 a site-specific permanent artwork and is the only such made by Baker. It honors the political 17 achievements of Harvey Milk and the next generation of LGBTQ+ politicians; it serves as a
18 beacon of hope, visibility, and power; and, it is the singular physical manifestation of LGBTQ+ 19 pride for everyone.

20 (c) The particular features that should be preserved, or replaced in-kind as determined
21 necessary, are those generally shown in photographs and described in the Landmark
22 Designation Fact Sheet, which can be found in Planning Department Record Docket No.
23 2023-003679DES, and which are incorporated in this designation by reference as though fully 24 set forth herein. Specifically, the following features are character-defining and shall be 25 preserved or replaced in kind:

1 (1) Siting of the flagpole at Harvey Milk Plaza in alignment with Market Street to
2 the Ferry Building;

3 (2) All necessary foundation elements required to maintain the stability of the 4 plinth and flagpole flying a 20-foot by 30-foot flag;

5 (3) Aluminum flagpole with internal halyard;

6 (4) Concrete plinth with beveled corners;

7 (5) Metal plaque mounted on the plinth;

8 (6) 20-foot by 30-foot six-striped Rainbow Flag with the colors red, orange,
9 yellow, green, blue, and violet, flying at full mast 24 hours a day, seven days a week, year-
10 round.

12 Section 4. Standards of Review for Applications.

13 (a) The following scopes of work shall not require a Certificate of Appropriateness:

14 (1) Work consisting of “ordinary maintenance and repairs,” pursuant to Planning
15 Code Section 1005(e)(3). For purposes of this ordinance, “ordinary maintenance and repairs”
16 for the Rainbow Flag includes known cyclical in-kind replacement of deteriorated 20-foot by 17 30-foot six-striped flags, which generally occurs about four times a year as old ones fray,
18 become faded, or are otherwise damaged by weather events, and corrective actions required
19 to treat acts of vandalism that do not require replacement of the aluminum pole, concrete
20 plinth, or metal plaque;

21 (2) Non-structural interior alterations and maintenance within non-character-
22 defining internal halyard mechanisms, including trucks, pulleys, snaphooks, snaphook covers, 23 finial, and ropes or for dented flash collar replacement at the base where the pole meets the 24 plinth; and

1 (3) New plantings, pruning, changes to vegetation, changes to driveways,
2 pathways, retaining walls, or other structures within the surroundings of Harvey Milk Plaza.
3 Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed to regulate maintenance of or changes to 4 vegetation, driveways, pathways, retaining walls or other features aside from those specified
5 herein, within Harvey Milk Plaza.

6 (b) An Administrative Certificate of Appropriateness shall be required for work
7 delegated by the Historic Preservation Commission to Planning Department Preservation staff
8 pursuant to Planning Code Section 1006.2. An Administrative Certificate of Appropriateness
9 shall also be required for restoring the Rainbow Flag after “force majeure” events, including,
10 but not limited to, earthquakes, storms, vehicle collisions, or sabotage which may necessitate 11 replacement of the aluminum pole, concrete plinth, or metal plaque, provided that the 12 replacement also be of the same material and of the same dimensions as the existing.

13 (c) A Certificate of Appropriateness shall be required for the disassembly and/or 14 relocation, without regard to duration, of any of the following: the flagpole; concrete plinth; and 15 metal plaque, provided that the Arts Commission be consulted and its recommendation be
16 presented to the Historic Preservation Commission, in advance of the Historic Preservation
17 Commission hearing or at a joint hearing.

REVISED LEGISLATIVE DIGEST
(Amended in Committee – July 29, 2024)

[Planning Code - Landmark Designation - Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza]

Ordinance amending the Planning Code to designate the Rainbow Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza, by Gilbert Baker, located at the southwest corner of the intersection of Market Street and Castro Street, as a Landmark consistent with the standards set forth in Article 10 of the Planning Code; affirming the Planning Department’s determination under the California Environmental Quality Act; and making public necessity, convenience, and welfare findings under Planning Code, Section 302, and findings of consistency with the General Plan, and the eight priority policies of Planning Code, Section 101.1.

Existing Law

Under Article 10, Section 1004 of the Planning Code, the Board of Supervisors may, by ordinance, designate an individual structure that has special character or special historical, architectural or aesthetic interest or value as a City landmark. Unless prohibited by state law, once a structure has been named a landmark, any construction, alteration, removal or demolition for which a City permit is required necessitates a Certificate of Appropriateness from the Historic Preservation Commission. (Planning Code § 1006; Charter of the City and County of San Francisco, § 4.135.) Thus, landmark designation generally affords a high degree of protection to historic and architectural structures of merit in the City. There are currently more than 300 individual landmarks in the City under Article 10, in addition to structures and districts in the downtown area that are protected under Article 11. (See App. A to Article 10.)

Amendments to Current Law

This ordinance amends the Planning Code to add a new historic landmark to the list of individual landmarks under Article 10: the Rainbow Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza, by Gilbert Baker. The ordinance finds that the Rainbow Flag is eligible for local designation as a traditional cultural property with global recognition under National Register of Historic Places Criterion A and as a significant artwork by the political artist Gilbert Baker under Criterion C. The artist Gilbert Baker (1951-2017) is widely known for creating a six-striped Rainbow Flag artwork based on an eight-striped version made in San Francisco in 1978. Baker’s six-color Rainbow Flag rapidly became associated with the greater Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Queer+ (LGBTQ+) community, not only in terms of the diversity of whom it represented but also in its global recognition. For nearly two decades, Baker produced variations on the theme of the six-stripe Rainbow Flag for different anniversaries and events. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza, installed in 1997 in commemoration of Harvey Milk’s election to the Board of Supervisors twenty years earlier, is a site-specific permanent artwork and is the only such made by Baker. It honors the political achievements of Harvey Milk and the next generation of LGBTQ+ politicians; it serves as a beacon of hope, visibility, and power; and, it is the singular physical manifestation of LGBTQ+ pride for everyone.

As required by Section 1004, the ordinance lists the particular features that shall be preserved, or replaced in-kind, as determined necessary.

Background Information

On May 15, 2024, after holding a public hearing on the proposed designation and having considered the specialized analyses prepared by Planning Department staff and the Landmark Designation Fact Sheet, the Historic Preservation Commission voted to recommend landmark designation of the Rainbow Flag to the Board of Supervisors.

Recommendation: Recommend Landmark Designation to Board of Supervisors

Property Description

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza is a site-specific artwork. It consists of a 20 by 30-foot nylon banner with six horizontal stripes of equal width with the colors: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and violet, hoisted on an aluminum flagpole mounted on a concrete plinth with a metal plaque aligned on an axis between the plaza and the ferry building.

Project Description

The item before the Historic Preservation Commission is consideration of a Resolution to Recommend Article 10 landmark designation of Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza, to the Board of Supervisors under Article 10 of the Planning Code, Section 1004.2. The pending Landmark designation was initiated by the Board of Supervisors.

On March 26, 2024, Supervisors Mandelman, Dorsey, Stefani, Peskin and Chan introduced a proposed Resolution under Board of Supervisors (hereinafter "Board") File No. 240311 to initiate the Landmark designation of Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza. On April 4, 2024, the Board voted unanimously to approve the Resolution, and on April 12, 2024, the Mayor signed, and Resolution No. 170-24 initiating landmark designation of Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza became effective.

Compliance With Planning Code

The proposed project is in compliance with all other provisions of the Planning Code.

Article 10 of the Planning Code.

The executive summary and analysis under review was prepared by Department preservation staff, who meet the Secretary of the Interior's professional qualifications. The Department has determined that the subject property meets the requirements for eligibility as an individual landmark pursuant to Article 10 of the Planning Code. The justification for its inclusion is explained in detail in the attached Landmark Designation Fact Sheet, and briefly in this Executive Summary.

Significance: Rainbow Flag is eligible for local designation as a traditional cultural property with global recognition (National Register of Historic Places Criterion A) and as a significant artwork by the political artist Gilbert Baker under (Criterion C). The artist Gilbert Baker (1951-2017) is widely known for creating a six-striped Rainbow Flag artwork based on an eight-striped version made in San Francisco in 1978. Baker's six-color Rainbow Flag rapidly became associated with the greater Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Queer+ (LGBTQ+) community, not only in terms of the diversity of whom it represented but also in its global recognition. For nearly two decades, Baker produced variations on the theme of the six-stripe Rainbow Flag for different anniversaries and events. The Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in 1997 is a site-specific permanent artwork and is the only such made by Baker. It honors the political achievements of Harvey Milk and the next generation of LGBTQ+ politicians; it serves as a beacon of hope, visibility and power; and, it is the singular physical manifestation of LGBTQ+ pride for everyone.

Underrepresented Landmark Types: The proposed landmark designation addresses several of the four priorities established by the Historic Preservation Commission for new landmarks. The Rainbow Flag is an object, an artwork, represents modern design and is associated with an underrepresented group (LGBTQ+).

Integrity: The Rainbow Flag installation retains all aspects of integrity being: in its original location in alignment with Market Street; maintaining its original design with 20x30-foot six-striped Rainbow Flag; setting within Harvey

Milk Plaza; materials nylon, aluminum, concrete, metal; workmanship of the durability of the replacement flags; feeling of prominence as it is elevated and widely visible; and association with the original artist, Gilbert Baker.

Draft Character-Defining Features: Proposed character-defining features are: Concrete plinth with beveled corners; metal plaque with dedication text; unpainted aluminum flagpole with internal rope halyards and a nylon flag measuring 20-feet by 30-feet consisting of six horizontal stripes of equal width in the bold colors: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and violet; however an eight striped flag adding pink and turquoise, the initial design has also been flown on this pole by the artist.

- (A) Siting of the flagpole at Harvey Milk Plaza in alignment with Market Street to the Ferry Building;
- (B) All necessary foundation elements required to maintain the stability of the plinth and flagpole flying a 20-foot by 30-foot flag;
- (C) Aluminum flagpole with internal halyard;
- (D) Concrete plinth with beveled corners;
- (E) Metal Plaque mounted on the plinth;
- (F) 20-foot by 30-foot six-striped Rainbow Flag.

Boundaries of the Landmark: The proposed Landmark encompasses historic structural footprint of Rainbow Flag, inclusive of the concrete plinth, concrete foundation above the Castro MUNI Station at the southwest corner of the intersection of Market Street and Castro Street in San Francisco's Castro neighborhood.

Racial and Social Equity Analysis

On July 15, 2020, the San Francisco Historic Preservation Commission adopted Resolution No. 1127 centering Preservation Planning on racial and social equity. Understanding the benefits, burdens, and opportunities to advance racial and social equity that proposed Preservation Planning documents provide is part of the Department's Racial and Social Equity Initiative. This is also consistent with the Mayor's Citywide Strategic Initiatives for equity and accountability and with the Office of Racial Equity, which required all Departments to conduct this analysis.

The proposed landmark designation of Rainbow Flag makes no substantive policy changes to the Planning Code or the Planning Department's procedures. The proposed landmark designation produces an opportunity to advance racial and social equity in that it:

- Supports the mission of the Castro LGBTQ Cultural District;
- Continues the legacy of Supervisor Harvey Milk's vision for community building;
- Provides formal recognition of the work of Gilbert Baker, a San Francisco gender-nonconforming artist;
- Provides formal recognition of a significant artwork dedicated to Harvey Milk with global impact;
- Recognizes and protects the symbolism of the artwork as a representation of all people of the LGBTQ+ community.
- As the birthplace of this global symbol, San Francisco can ensure that this beacon of hope flies, 24-hours a day, every day of the year, in perpetuity, in defiance of those who wish to erase sexual and gender minorities from the rainbow of humanity.

Staff does not foresee any direct or unintended negative consequences from the proposed landmark designation.

Issues & Other Considerations

- Property owner input: On April 11, 2024, the Department sent mailed notice to the property owner, San Francisco Public Works regarding the landmark designation recommendation hearing scheduled for May 15, 2024. Notice was also given to the Arts Commission.
- Art Commission: Although not formally a part of the Civic Art Collection, Planning Code Section 1010(a) provides guidance for Art Commission involvement:

“In the case of any publicly owned property on a landmark site or in a historic district which is not subject to the permit review procedures of the City, the agency owning the said property shall seek the advice of the HPC prior to approval or authorization of any construction, alteration or demolition thereon; and the HPC in consultation with the Art Commission in appropriate cases, shall render a report to the owner as expeditiously as possible, based on the purposes and standards in this Article 10.”

Additionally, the draft Ordinance (Exhibit A) provides explicit involvement of the Art Commission should there be proposed alterations that would require a Certificate of Appropriateness to Rainbow Flag in Section 4(e).

- Castro LGBTQ Cultural District: The Rainbow Flag is located within the Castro LGBTQ Cultural District. Members of the Castro LGBTQ Cultural District’s advisory board passed a motion at its monthly meeting on January 18, 2024 to support a process of the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Flag in the Castro that includes robust and transparent community feedback. It encourages the Planning Department and Historic Preservation Commission to take into account community feedback about the character defining features of the flag in Harvey Milk Plaza, and include that feedback in a landmarking process decision when considering landmarking the six stripe Gilbert Baker flag, or what, if any, other flags can be flown at other times of the year.

Mission: The Castro LGBTQ Cultural District is committed to preserving, sustaining, and promoting the rich cultural legacy of the Castro and its significance to San Francisco's LGBTQ+ community and beyond. Our goals are to highlight the structures and sites important to our history; foster racial, ethnic, gender and cultural diversity among residents and businesses; and create a safe, beautiful, and inclusive space for LGBTQ+ and allied communities, to visit from around the world and call the Castro home.

- Reconstruction of the Harvey Milk Plaza: The Rainbow Flag is located within Harvey Milk Plaza on a pedestrian bridge over the MUNI platform. The Plaza is in design phase for reconstruction. The planter bed and retaining wall which contain the flagpole are scheduled for either removal or substantial alteration. It is not yet known where the plaza finish elevation will be in relation to the existing foundation. Friends of the Harvey Milk Plaza and Public Works, partners on the project are aware of this issue and do not see any conflicts at this time. The designating Ordinance for Rainbow Flag anticipates several possible options for what may happen in the construction phase. In all cases where the Rainbow Flag is not maintained in-situ for the duration of construction, the Art Commission and HPC would be involved.

Environmental Review Status

The Planning Department has determined that actions by regulatory agencies for protection of the environment (specifically in this case, landmark designation) are exempt from environmental review, pursuant to CEQA Guidelines Section 15308 (Class Eight-Categorical).

Basis for Recommendation

The Department recommends that the Historic Preservation Commission recommend to the Board of Supervisors landmark designation of Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza as it meets the provisions of Article 10 of the Planning Code regarding Landmark Designation. The Rainbow Flag is a significant artwork with high artistic values. Further, San Francisco is the location of the rainbow flag which has become a global symbol for the LGBTQ+ community.

Statement of Significance:	The artist Gilbert Baker (1951-2017) is widely known for creating a six-stripped Rainbow Flag artwork based on an eight-stripped version made in San Francisco in 1978. Baker’s six-color Rainbow Flag rapidly became associated with the greater LGBTQ+ (Lesbian, Gay, Bi-Sexual, Transgender and Queer) community, not only in terms of the diversity of whom it represented but also in its global recognition. For nearly two decades Baker produced variations on the theme of the six-stripe Rainbow Flag for different anniversaries and events. ¹ The Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in 1997 is a site-specific permanent installation and is the only such installation made by Baker. It honors the political achievements of Harvey Milk and the next generation of LGBTQ+ politicians. It serves as a beacon of hope, visibility and power. Finally, it is the singular physical manifestation of LGBTQ+ pride for everyone.
Character-Defining Features:	Concrete plinth with beveled corners; metal plaque with dedication text; unpainted aluminum flagpole with internal rope halyards and a nylon flag measuring 20-feet by 30-feet consisting of six horizontal stripes of equal width in the bold colors: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and violet.

Summary

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza is a permanent art installation erected to honor Harvey Milk. It consists of a nylon banner of six horizontal colors 20-feet tall and 30-feet long mounted on an aluminum pole on a concrete plinth with a bronze plaque at its base. It is the only permanent installation of Rainbow Flag designed by Baker. Erected in 1997, it was dedicated on the 20th anniversary of Milk's election to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Beginning in the 1970s, the artist Gilbert Baker was part of San Francisco's politically active queer community of San Francisco. Baker was involved in sex worker rights, marijuana rights, and with his personal style, agitated for freedom of gender expression. His vision of the art scene and of politics was always part of his world vision inseparable from any personal life. As sex workers' rights activist Carol Leigh, also known as the Scarlet Harlot, noted in the film The Scarlet Harlot, Baker "was the expression of the queer community as a political artist. His art was strategic."² Considered as a work of art, Baker's flag is intertwined with political and cultural expression.

Baker was working with fabric in his art when he, Lynn Segerblom (also known as Faerie Argyle Rainbow), James McNamara and a cadre of volunteer fabricators made decorations for the 1978 Gay Freedom Day parade in San Francisco, the ancestor of today's Pride celebration. The proposal was to create two eight-striped rainbow banners to fly from the two tallest flag poles at United Nations Plaza. These banners were fabricated at 330 Grove Street in San Francisco in a building which was used as the Gay Community Center. The initial decorations can be considered the forerunner of what became a series of artworks by Baker centered on the six-striped Rainbow Flag. In the years since, the six-striped flag has become an international symbol associated with the broader LGBTQ+ community.³

In his memoir, Gilbert Baker wrote: "I began to have an awareness of the American flag because we had just come out of the bicentennial in 1976, and when the bicentennial came around, the American flag was on everything. I thought, 'you know, we could have a flag' because flags become so many different things. They are more than cloth; they are an idea and what I like about the symbolism of the rainbow because it fits us. It's all the colors, so it has lasted because it represents all the genders and all the races — it's everything the rainbow of humanity."⁴

As Baker noted, and Flags are desirable for several reasons. Flags are used to identify membership, affiliation, or support. They are used to distinguish a movement or participation therein for entities and individuals internationally. Flags become a symbol for those that affiliate with it to use to promote themselves and to bond around. For all of these reasons, there is no real motivation for a community not to have a flag.⁵

⁵ Ferrigan, James (2023, December 20). Interview for the Rainbow Flag (M. Corrette, Interviewer)

Preeminent vexillologist James J. Ferrigan III presented the Rainbow Flag in August 1987 at the Flag Congress in San Francisco, combining the 21st annual meeting of North American Vexillological Association (NAVA) and the 12th International Congress of Vexillology. Vexillology is the study of the history, symbolism and usage of flags or, by extension, any interest in flags in general. Ferrigan spoke of its origin by Baker, the first commercial production of the flag at the Paramount Flag Company in the Spring 1979. Baker later claimed to have been recognized by the International Congress of Flag Makers – which does not exist; he conflated another organization, FIAV (the International Federation of Vexillological Associations), and the Flag Congress event.⁶ In Ferrigan’s account of the flag’s history, an activist from the 1978 Gay Freedom Day parade decorating committee suggested something that could be used year-to-year — akin to the interlocking circles used for the Olympics — and Baker responded with the rainbow flag.⁷

About Gilbert Baker⁸

Gilbert Baker was born in Chanute, Kansas on June 2, 1951.⁹ He was the oldest child of Lyle Phillip Baker and Patricia Lou Carson and had two sisters, Gail and Ardonna. The family later moved to Wichita, where Lyle opened his own law practice.

“I was born gay and I always knew it,” Baker writes in his biography.¹⁰ He started experimenting with drag as early as kindergarten when he turned bed sheets into billowing skirts and danced to the radio.¹¹ His parents’ attempts to stem nonheteronormative displays by spanking and scolding Baker to “stop acting like a girl” and pleading with him to “just be normal” led Baker to develop suicidal ideations that he fought for the rest of his life.¹² As noted in his memoir:

I started to wonder if I might be mentally ill. This idea that I might be psychotic made me afraid my parents would send me to a mental institution. I struggled to tone down my behavior and pretended to be interested in girls. But I was consumed by the weight of the lies that I told every day just to survive. So I acted as if everything in my waking life conformed to the ordinary. To keep my parents’ love, I pretended to be someone I wasn’t.¹³

Baker recounts developing a passion for fabrics through his childhood drag performances: “Even then, fabric fascinated me; whenever I touched it, I went to another place, a nirvana.”¹⁴ When his family gathered around their first television set to watch the 1956 Republican National Convention, Baker recalls being:

...mesmerized by the hoopla of bunting and balloons and thrilled by the pageantry. I especially loved the parade of state delegates, each group carrying signs and banners created in crepe paper. There were crazy hats and pretty girls in sashes of stars and stripes, the national anthem and the Pledge of Allegiance. I was especially moved by the sight of the American Flag.¹⁵

He was equally inspired by the Miss America pageants, which were first televised nationally in 1954: “I loved designing elaborate ball gowns for Lee Meriwether, Miss America 1955. She was the most beautiful person I’d ever seen. What I wanted most for my [sixth] birthday was a strapless ball gown in taffeta and tulle.”¹⁶

When he told his parents he wanted to be an artist, they chastised him. Yet Gilbert Baker won a scholarship to an art academy in Wichita after entering an art contest.¹⁷ He left his parents’ home when he was drafted into the Army in June 1970 for basic training at Fort Leonard Wood in the Missouri Ozarks:

Ugly confrontations between me and my parents started to occur with regularity. I was nineteen by then, and I knew it was finally time for me to leave home. ... Getting out of Kansas was my dream. Being an artist—and being gay—was not safe there. If I couldn’t escape, I knew I would end up a suicide.¹⁸

He transferred to Brooks Army Medical Center in San Antonio to join the medic training program to become a nurse for the duration of his two-year enlistment.¹⁹ He was transferred to San Francisco and stationed in the Presidio in a “barracks built on the sandy shores of the bay” with a view of the Golden Gate Bridge.²⁰ He worked temporarily at the Oakland Army Depot to process soldiers disembarking from service in Vietnam. Baker was honorably discharged from the Army in February 1972.²¹ He had come out to his parents during Christmas 1971 and their response was to tell him he “was going to hell.” They didn’t speak for ten years.²² Instead of returning to Kansas, Baker stayed in San Francisco and he noted:

San Francisco is a sweet addiction, a spell cast deep into the blood. Junkie romantics get high on a feeling of being at the center of the universe, fixating on the city’s most precious natural resource: freedom. San Francisco is a city made for lovers. It is providence that homosexuals have lived openly behind its golden gates for more than a century. Lavender tolerance and social acceptance are fabled there as much as its Victorian architecture.²³

Baker developed a close friendship with a fellow Army nurse also stationed in the Presidio, who introduced Baker to LSD on a hike one weekend in the Presidio. Baker recounted the experience as a moment of transformation and commitment to the cause of gay rights:

...drunk on the rushing thoughts and images swirling in my brain. Exhilarated, beyond rapture, I ended up flat on my back, looking up through the tall trees to the sun, feeling the earth move under me, tasting tears of unbridled joy that streamed down my face into my mouth. I felt perfect, loved by God... I decided to stay in San Francisco and get involved in gay rights..²⁴

Baker and the Origins of the Pride Flag

Activists agitating for equal rights for gay and lesbian people began with small organizations such as the Mattachine Society, organized in 1950 by Harry Hay, and the Daughters of Bilitis, organized in 1955 by Del Martin and Phyllis Lyon. These organizations both began a movement and were limited in scope, both serving largely white, cis-gendered members. A distinctly different approach emerged in the summer of 1970, when marches in New York City and Chicago marked the first anniversary of the Stonewall Riot. The gay liberation movement grew quickly, propelled by events such as San Francisco's Gay Freedom Day Parade. As the movement progressed, so did the process of inclusion. Gay Liberation became Gay and Lesbian, then Lesbian and Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT), followed by inclusions for other marginalized groups..²⁵

Soon Baker made a decades-long friendship with activist Cleve Jones. Jones recalls having met Baker around 1974. Baker was also friends with Harvey Milk. By 1977, Baker, Jones, Milk, and others in what was known at the time as the Gay Liberation movement began to have conversations about the need for a new symbol to get away from the Nazi-era pink triangle. Prior to the creation of the eight-color initial Rainbow Flag in 1978, banners and flags were used to signify various groups. Gay symbols consisted of the pink triangle a symbol devised by the Third Reich in Germany to identify homosexuals as part of the same code that identified Jewish persons and other groups which they wore to their deaths in Nazi concentration camps. The scientific symbol for Activism, the Greek letter lambda [λ] was also frequently used. Interlaced same-gender symbols were also common..²⁶ There was, however, no universally recognized symbol to represent the gay community.

Baker's work changed that. In 1978, the eight-striped rainbow flags were decorations for a parade. One year later, in the fall 1979, after the original two eight-striped flags were flown for the second and final time..²⁷, the rainbow flag was on its way to becoming that very symbol which was desired by the Gay Liberation movement in 1977..²⁸ By the end of 1979 Baker was working at the Paramount Flag Company in San Francisco and began stocking his six-striped Rainbow Flag..²⁹, starting in motion the rainbow flag gaining popularity among the San Francisco LGBTQ+ community. As an artist Baker had used the simplified six-color rainbow for many installations, most notably the 25th anniversary of the Stonewall Riot for the New York City Pride parade, where he unveiled his largest work to date – the Mile-Long Pride Flag.

Baker's history, and that of the rainbow flag, is tied to another San Francisco icon: The Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence. The group of activists "first appeared on the scene at an anti-nuke rally" in San Francisco in March 1980, and in June, ten members of the group marched in the Freedom Day Parade.³⁰ By 1982, there were about 20 active Sisters, including Bobbi Campbell, described at the time by the Bay Area Reporter newspaper as "victim and articulate spokesman of the new diseases which have hit the Gay community recently."³¹ Gilbert became an early member of the Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence: Sister Chanel 2001 (aka Sister Space 19.99).³²

Baker continued using the rainbow flag as a marker of activism. He decorated Kezar Pavilion for a charity basketball game between the Sisters and the San Francisco Gay Men's Chorus in February 1982.³³ In July 1982, Baker adorned the grand gathering area of City Hall with rainbow flags, "converting the rotunda to the haze of color Dorothy discovers Somewhere Over the Rainbow" to celebrate a recent legal win: the overturning of an anti-gay immigration ban by the U.S. Attorney General and the Immigration and Naturalization Service.³⁴

In 1983, Baker was elected to the Board of Directors of the Lesbian/Gay Freedom Day Committee for the 1984 parade. The Bay Area Reporter recognized Baker as the artist behind the flag in an article profiling the incoming Board members: "Gilbert Baker, Queen of Flagamania (formerly Sister Chanel 2001), the Betsy Ross designer/seamstress of both the giant rainbow flag carried in the Parade every year (with the help of a gang of SSI queens also stitching), and the hot pink backdrop of the stage raised across the front of City Hall the last two years. Baker has worked with the Parade Committee for six years through two corporations."³⁵ By this point, Baker's work had become intertwined with the visual expression of the lesbian and gay community.

Baker's Rainbow Flag: A Symbol of Humanity and Inclusivity

Gilbert Baker and others fabricated a pair of eight-striped rainbow flags, one with tie-dyed stars in one corner in 1978. Baker alone subsequently simplified the design of the flags to six-colors for production reasons. This simplification didn't affect Baker's feelings that the flag was for everyone. As initially designed all eight colors represented not sub-communities, but rather traits of humanity. The colors represented hot pink for sex, red for life, orange for healing, yellow for sunlight, green for nature, turquoise for art, indigo for harmony, and violet for spirit. It was intended to be a flag for all.³⁶

Two of the creators and fabricators of the original 1978 rainbow flags for UN Plaza have repeatedly stated since their inception that the intent of the rainbow was to be all-inclusive, Baker being the first. Lynn Segerblom (Faerie Argyle Rainbow) thought that "the rainbow represents everyone, no matter what gender or race you are; that's how I looked at it. Rainbows are in nature and beautiful. People love them, and I love them. I knew they would be great color healing. I was thinking that rainbows encompass everybody, the whole group, unity.”³⁷ Add second attribution here with quotation or paraphrase. Add concluding sentence.

In an interview for this report, Bevan Dufty, who was on Mayor Brown’s staff and later a Supervisor for the area observed about the rainbow flag:

For so many people, particularly if they are living in areas that are inhospitable to LGBTQ people, it at least in the early years, you could see a sticker on a car or something, and you could know they were also. It let you know someone was gay around you. It was a while before the homophobic people knew what it was. It was nice to have what was then a secret code. It was such a tribe identifier. The feeling that you aren’t alone when you see it.”³⁸

As the flag became recognizable to outsiders as a symbol of the LGBTQ+ community, it took on additional layers of meaning that may not have been intended or anticipated by its creator. New York’s Museum of Modern Art added Baker’s six-color Rainbow Flag to its permanent collection in 2013, making a political statement by displaying it for the first time on June 26, 2015, the day when the U.S. Supreme Court announced its landmark decision on marriage equality.³⁹ Other flags emerged with the intent to communicate inclusiveness. For example, a flag commissioned in 2017 by Philadelphia’s pride event added black and brown stripes to symbolize communities of color; other flags use additional colors to indicate alignment with the subgroups within the broader queer community. This use of color and symbolism to represent groups and subgroups of people differs from Baker’s intent for the colors on the eight and six-color flags to represent commonly held human traits and distinguishes Baker’s flag from others.

In 2023, writer, activist and filmmaker Leo Herrera wrote an essay “A Flag Not Yet Earned” wrote:

While the 1970s in considered a victorious golden era, we must remember the Queer shadows of the time: Trans exclusion (“Pride” was the “Gay and Lesbian” parade for a very long time). Intersex, Nonbinary, Asexual awareness was practically non-existent.
Is [the rainbow flag] a misplaced nostalgia for a Queer time that never existed (for all of us)?
Like our community, the rainbow is a palimpsest, an unfinished evolving piece. We may be moving steadily toward the dreams of the “pure” rainbow flag but maybe it represents a promise not fulfilled. A flag we have yet to earn.⁴⁰

Here it is helpful to look at the difference between the object at hand, Gilbert Baker’s Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza from the abstract noun representing the rainbow flag, an emblem in the public domain that is derived directly from Baker’s artwork which has become a thing unto itself. As an artwork that has flown over Harvey Milk Plaza and borne witness to countless protests, celebrations, festivals, and daily life, Rainbow Flag the object is significant for its on-going contributions to a shared social history. As an abstract noun, it can be acknowledged that some feel unrepresented by it, which gave cause for the creation of other emblems.

Gilbert Baker himself was not blind to this argument either. In the script for his speech to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the creation of the rainbow flag, he wrote: “In my view the rainbow flag is unfinished, as the movement it represents, an arc that begins well before me, its breadth far broader than all of our experiences put together, reaching the farthest corners of the world with a message of solidarity and a beacon of hope for those who follow in our footsteps.” He continued: “All revolutions start with a word, and the word is NO. No to injustice, no to discrimination, no to oppression, no to slavery, no to violence, no to lives dictated by fear. Yes to love. The defiant colors of the evolving people who raise this symbol of hope, have unfurled that idea for thirty years.”⁴¹ In another text, Baker states: “In the beginning the Rainbow Flag was about liberation, about breaking free of an existence limited by fear and conformity, the right to express the spectrum of love and sexuality without shame or retaliation but truthfully, freely, and equally.”⁴²

As alluded to in the previous section and elsewhere in this report, Baker’s Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza is not only his only permanent installation but also it is located in the heart of the words of the Gay Liberation movement as Milk knew it “gayborhood” within the “gay Mecca” that is San Francisco. As such, it can be interpreted as the most logical physical embodiment of the abstract concept of pride. The only enduring physical public display of the internationally known symbol of pride made by the artist who devised and popularized the symbol is significant on an international level. Visitors to San Francisco often include a pilgrimage to Harvey Milk Plaza to visit and photograph this Rainbow Flag specifically.

Finding a Home for the Flag in Harvey Milk Plaza

To this point, much like the artwork of the artists Christo and Jeanne-Claude, Baker’s artwork was ephemeral. Baker had never succeeded in the permanent installation of his Rainbow Flag anywhere. He had been attempting to get traction for an idea for an installation at Harvey Milk Plaza since its 1985 dedication. In a 2012 Interview with friend Cleve Jones, Baker in reflecting upon the dedication ceremony for the Harvey Milk Plaza stated:

“One of the things I didn't like about it [the Plaza] was that it was underground; and one of the things I learned from Harvey was the importance of visibility. I mean Harvey was an incredibly theatrical character and really had an appreciation of art and theater and the power and impact of visuals. That he shared, and really informed and taught me, so I always felt that the plaza needed something soaring. Of course the Rainbow Flag is something I love, and I thought – well, it would fit very perfectly there.”⁴³

Traction arrived one afternoon at the Castro Street Fair in 1997. That afternoon, a convergence of art, politics and power set the stage for Baker’s most enduring contribution to San Francisco and the international LGBTQ+ community. That afternoon, Gilbert and his friend Jon Katz were at Café Flore and spotted Mayor Willie Brown and his entourage which included Dean Goodwin, Mayor Brown’s official liaison to San Francisco's gay, lesbian and bisexual community, and Bevan Dufty, also a gay official with the Mayor’s Office of Neighborhood Services⁴⁴. At this time the group was walking to the booth managed by the Harvey Milk LGBT Democratic Club. Jeff Sheehy was then president of the Club. Baker and Sheehy engaged the mayor in conversation about a permanent installation of the Rainbow Flag in the Castro.⁴⁵

Mayor Brown interviewed for this report recalled meeting Baker at the fair, listening closely to what he was saying about the prospect for a flag and embracing the idea with enthusiasm. Adding: “I was so fascinated with Baker. I didn’t have an option” to turn down the proposal.⁴⁶ Within minutes of his decision, Brown, turning to Goodwin said: “Make it happen.” With that, Goodwin enlisted the aid of Mark Primeau, the new (and gay) Public Works Director appointed by Brown.

Primeau assembled a team and met with Baker who showed his drawings and shared his vision. In his autobiography, Baker mythologized that a flagpole was taken from UN Plaza and that there was a spare one in a Public Works stockyard. Neither of these are true according to Primeau. Public Works was able to source a new pole from a supplier in Long Beach California which was trucked up. Engineers from that company worked with Public Works to design a base that would support the pole and deal with strong wind forces on a 20-by30-foot flag in the Pacific winds above a transit center. Meanwhile Baker worked to produce the first of the Rainbow Flags, likely at the warehouse owned by his friend and benefactor Tom Taylor at 39 Isis Street, although it is also possible that it was fabricated at the Paramount Flag Company’s workshop.⁴⁷

Six weeks after the Castro Street Fair where the project first had mayoral approval, the flagpole was installed and dedicated. Baker did not take the spotlight – while his artwork was unveiled that day, the November 8th, 1997 ceremony was a celebration and remembrance to mark 20 years since Harvey Milk was first elected to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Before the Rainbow Flag was raised upon the pole installed for the occasion, it was paraded through the neighborhood on the raised arms of dozens of friends and volunteers. Mayor Brown himself hoisted that first Rainbow Flag.

Baker described his personal meaning to this specific installation of his artwork in the 2012 interview with Cleve Jones:

“One of the things I particularly loved about that project was the way that we dedicated it on November 7th which was [20-years to] the day Harvey was elected. Usually people commemorate his death, and his assassination, but we wanted to remember the moment he really became a very powerful important Civic leader. More importantly, a global leader so that was really an exciting moment to be able to finally see the Rainbow Flag up over the Castro in such a huge and glorious way. And, like in 5 seconds it was like, oh yeah it’s been there forever – instantly!”⁴⁸

Photographs show the flag bearing six stripes. Gilbert Baker wrote in his essay “The Rainbow Flag” as well as the photograph (from 2000) on the cover of the book in which it appears, Out in the Castro: Desire, Promise, Activism, that the first flag flown was the eight-striped Rainbow Flag as that was the version that Harvey had known. However photographs from that day depict the standard six-striped flag; therefore it seems that the eight-striped flag was a special version which is not commonly flown.

It should be noted that the Brown Administration was focused on outcomes over documentation. The flagpole was erected for a purpose, but inquiries for this report to the Department of Public Works has not yielded a maintenance agreement or easement. It does not appear in the inventories of either Public Works, the Arts Commission or the Mayor’s Office. Keys to the flagpole were retained by Public Works, Gilbert Baker, Tom Taylor and the Castro Merchants Association. It is clear however that the pole installation was done with Public Works funds on their property.

Flags wear out. Wind frays the edges and tears seams. Sun fades the vivid colors. At present, the Rainbow Flag’s cyclical maintenance necessitates full replacement every three months, starting with a fresh flag in the days leading up to San Francisco Pride in late June of each year. Maintenance for the replacement Rainbow Flags was done initially by Baker, but by 1998 had turned it over to Tom Taylor who managed until health issues necessitated transfer to the Castro Merchants who order, pay-for, and install replacement six-color flags to the time of this writing. Flags themselves are manufactured in San Francisco by L. Ph. Bolander & Sons and are replaced four times a year. A minor detail to reduce the noise of the flag whipping in the wind in deference to the neighbors is that the leeward edge of the flag is purposefully frayed before raising.

The full appreciation for the Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza needs to take into account two additional aspects of this site-specific installation which together with the international symbol that is the Rainbow Flag itself. First: the location is a historic plaza at an intersection where civic agitation and celebration have occurred and will continue to occur. Second: the plaque itself which, as an integral component of the artwork, provides context to the added significance of political power of a community in the most overt way possible.

The flag’s site, Harvey Milk Plaza, has been found historically significant and eligible for listing in the California Register of Historic Resources in a 2020 Historic Resource Evaluation prepared for the planned renovations to the Plaza.⁴⁹

Harvey Milk Plaza appears individually eligible for listing in the CRHR under Criterion 1 for its association with gay liberation, pride, and politics as a gathering place for exceptionally important vigils and marches.

Harvey Milk Plaza is located in the Castro neighborhood of San Francisco. Originally a late 19th and early 20th century streetcar suburb, the neighborhood became the national destination for the LGBTQ identity movement in the United States in the 1970s. During this period, openly LGBTQ community members started businesses, established institutions, developed a social network, and gained political power in the Castro. Harvey Milk Plaza is associated with the LGBTQ movement in the Castro and San Francisco during the 1970s since it was a major gathering place for celebrations, marches, protests, and memorials. The prominent location at the intersection of Market and Castro streets and easy access to public transportation (Muni Metro, F-line, and multiple bus lines) made this plaza an ideal meeting spot for civic events.

The night of November 27, 1978, after Dan White shot and killed George Moscone and Harvey Milk, a mourning crowd gathered there and marched down Market Street. Six months later, on the night of May 21, 1979, after White's conviction, thousands of furious protesters marched down Market Street from the Castro, known as the White Night Riot, overwhelming the San Francisco Police, shattering windows at City Hall, and setting police cars on fire. The neighborhood has also been the focal point for celebrations such as the annual Gay Pride Parade, the Castro Street Fair, and the marriage equality celebrations.⁵⁰

In addition to the above, Harvey Milk Plaza is significant location of hundreds of other protests to both assert rights, and a collective gathering place for mourning collective losses such as that of Propositions 22 (2000) and 8 (2008), which banned same-sex marriage in California. Prior to this, the Plaza was also important in the community's response to AIDS, also as a site of protests by ACT UP, countless memorials to individuals who lost their lives to the virus and other rallies which either were stationary or moved to other parts of the neighborhood or beyond to Civic Center.

As part of the artwork, the plaque Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza is easy for the casual observer to not approach the base of the flagpole and fail to notice this part of the artwork. Because of this, are unaware of this layer to the memorial. The plaque is a marker of official legitimacy by government of the presence of the artwork, it can itself also been seen as a symbol of LGBTQ+ victory and of hope beyond the mere documentation of the political successes of the named individuals on the plaque.

The language on the plaque was developed as a group effort which included Baker, Jeff Sheehy of the Milk Club, and Dean Goodwin within Mayor Brown’s office.⁵¹ Installations of major artworks intended to be permanent are often accompanied by a plaque to signify the artist and their intent. Here Baker with some help did just that. A secondary political act of this installation is that the individuals named on the plaque then have a vested interest in seeing their names perpetuated and defend the installation should it be proposed for removal.

Evaluation of significance as a Traditional Cultural Place

The National Park Service has provided a framework for assessing places with traditional cultural practices. This is the Traditional Cultural Place (TCP) framework described in National Register Bulletin #38 which is in its final stages of revision as of this writing.⁵² A TCP is defined as a building, structure, object, site, or district that may be [designated] for its significance to a living community because of its association with cultural beliefs, customs, or practices that are rooted in the community’s history and that are important in maintaining the community’s cultural identity. The Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza is an object. The term "object" is used to distinguish from buildings and structures those constructions that are primarily artistic in nature or are relatively small in scale and simply constructed. Although it may be, by nature or design, movable, an object gets its meaning through its location and association with a specific setting or environment.

To be considered eligible a traditional cultural place must have all of the following characteristics:

TCP Essential Characteristics	Rainbow Flag
1) The place must be associated with and valued by a living community.	The rainbow flag was designed in 1978 when two massive banners were flown on the tallest flagpoles in UN Plaza as decorations for the San Francisco Gay Freedom Day celebration. By 1980-1981 the rainbow flag became a widely adopted symbol for sexual and gender minorities to which it has grown to become a powerful unifying international symbol, which is globally associated with the LGBTQ+ community.

	Gilbert Baker simplified the original design of eight stripes to six in this period, giving rise to his series of rainbow Flag artworks which continued to his death. The transition from physical to abstract starting around 1980 grew over a short span of years as more LGBTQ+ people adopted it as a public indication of membership of a “tribe”. Harvey Milk Plaza the physical location for artist Gilbert Baker’s Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza was and is itself a stage for LGBTQ+ political protests starting in the early 1970s and continues to this day. Not only is the immediate area of the Plaza significant as a hub for protests, but as the imagined central node of the SF queer community, and through that, extending far beyond San Francisco itself. The public transit station which is below the plaza was named for the slain Supervisor in 1985, Baker’s Rainbow Flag installation occurred in 1997.
2) The community that values the place must have existed historically, and continue to exist in the present.	LGBTQ+ people have existed as far back as we have documentation for humanity (Khnumhotep and Niankhkhnum, manicurists in the Palace of King Niuserre during the Fifth Dynasty of Egyptian pharaohs, c. 2400 BCE). San Francisco has long-served as a destination for sexual and gender minorities, from the arrival of the ’49-ers who were overwhelmingly male and single, with larger concentrations of LGBTQ+ people in the early 20th century, and further increasing after WWII and the Summer of Love.⁵³. Today San Francisco’s Castro neighborhood is one of the most internationally recognized LGBTQ+ enclaves, with its epicenter at the intersection of Market and Castro, which holds special significance as the location of many protests and celebrations from the early 1970s to present. This is the location of Gilbert Baker’s Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza.
3) The community must share beliefs, customs, or practices that are rooted in its history and held or practiced at present.	Since its inception in 1978, the Rainbow Flag has been self-adopted by millions across the globe. A scientific study in 2023⁵⁴ found that approximately 9% of the populations of 30 countries identify as any of lesbian/gay/homosexual, bisexual, pansexual/omnisexual, or asexual, AND/OR describing themselves as any of transgender, non-binary/gender non-conforming/gender-fluid, or differently but neither male nor female. While different customs of expressions vary between cultures, one unifying symbol globally has been the six-stripe Rainbow Flag. The flag was rapidly adopted internationally after 1994 when Gilbert Baker made a mile-long Rainbow Flag for the 25th annual New York City Pride Parade. That object was divided into sections and was given to many international contingents that took it to their home countries where it was adopted by individuals and communities. In order to affiliate with the Rainbow flag, an individual must to some degree be “out,” either publicly or to themselves.
4) These shared beliefs, customs, or practices must be important in continuing	The shared symbol of the innumerable variations of LGBTQ+ culture are unified by the Rainbow Flag. While some 50 variations of flag-as-symbol have been created by others, most represent a specific affinity or membership to a sub-category on the LGBTQ+ spectrum. Other flag-symbols have been created to advance specific

the cultural identity and values of the community.	inclusion rather than the tacit inclusion of the original Rainbow Flag which remains the most used unifying association with the larger community. The Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza is in a very real sense visible. It is visible not only from within the Plaza, but also from great lengths of Market Street eastward, the Twin Peaks Overlook, hundreds of homes in the neighborhood and can even be easily seen from passing airplanes, all of which serve as an ongoing cultural identity.
5) The community must have transmitted or passed down the shared beliefs, customs, or practices, including through spoken or written word, images, or practice.	The international community’s most enduring physical symbol of unity – Gilbert Baker’s Rainbow Flag’s continued presence at Harvey Milk Plaza is due to the stewardship by the local community, through acting as caretakers of the required cyclical maintenance which was first done by the artist himself, then to Baker’s friend and benefactor, Tom Taylor and presently the Castro Merchant’s Association. As symbol, the image of the Rainbow Flag has been transmitted down from the 1970s to subsequent generations which continues today as it is used by persons not alive at the time of its creation. Additionally, the image of the flag has been applied to all manner of commercially produced products and clothing as a means of expression of belonging.
6) These shared beliefs, customs, or practices must be associated with a tangible place.	While the rainbow flag as a symbol is repeated internationally, the only extant permanent site-specific Rainbow Flag installation by Gilbert Baker is located at Harvey Milk Plaza. With limited temporary exceptions, the Rainbow Flag at this location has flown 24-hours a day 7-days a week, year-round at full mast as it was intended by the artist.
7) The place must meet the criteria for listing in the National Register of Historic Places.	The Rainbow Flag installation by Gilbert Baker at Harvey Milk Plaza is significant under Criterion A for its long association with significant events in gaining and maintaining LGBTQ+ civil rights and recognition on a national and international scale. The Rainbow Flag is also significant under Criterion C as a work of high artistic value which has garnered international recognition and has been included in the permanent collections of several museums around the world.

Significance: Hope, visibility, and power

The Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza as a large-scale artwork dedicated to Harvey Milk carries with it Milk’s legacy in several ways. The artwork represents three pillars of Milk’s values which he taught: hope, visibility and power.

Hope was the theme of one of Milk’s most well-known speeches which he delivered in 1978, which discussed the theme of LGBTQ+ people being able to be elected to political office. That was very much reflected in Baker’s installation here, as evidenced by the language of the plaque. Hope that the names on the plaque were just the beginning. This has come true, with many more LGBTQ+ people being elected to hold public office.

Visibility as a theme of the artwork is perhaps self-evident: a 20-foot tall, 30-foot-long bright rainbow flag towering 80-feet above the neighborhood is hard to not see. As with the artists Christo and Jeanne-Claude, Baker worked his art on a large-scale, always trying to have his works as big as possible given other physical constraints. The bigger the rainbow, the more visible it is. Visibility is also one of the pillars of Milk's personal platform. To be out is visibility. As the Rainbow Flag has become an internationally recognized symbol for the LGBTQ+ community, visibly of the Rainbow Flag artwork itself has been the background for photographs and selfies taken by locals and tourists alike.

Power is inherently on display with Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza – the power of the LGBTQ+ community to have such a massive artwork installed publicly. Power of the collective LGBTQ+ community to display a powerful symbol of such a massive scale as to be visible from many parts of the City as well as from aircraft. Power of the tribe to elect public officials who are themselves LGBTQ+ to represent them. Political power of those individuals chosen to serve the public. When interviewed, Mayor Brown discussed his views about the purpose of public art:

“I care enough about the city to know that the love for the city ought to be on display and shown to the world, and that it makes the city as interesting for those of us who are here and now as our predecessors made it for us. And having known Harvey [Milk] and having been familiar with the growth in that community over the last several years, I thought it highly appropriate. Concluding: I'm just as enthusiastic now and watching the growth and the incredible amount of contributions, socially, politically, academically and culturally that have been made to the community of San Francisco. I'm pleased and enthusiastic. The fact that we now have representation from the gay and lesbian community in every respective category, and it's the explosion the talent has contained there end to people who were shut out, like black people were shut out for years. That's really important and I'm pleased.” (Brown Jr., 2024)

Dear Board President Peskin and fellow Supervisors,

On behalf of the Castro Community Benefit District board of directors, I am writing to express the board's support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco.

This art installation symbolizes LGBT Pride, freedom and community. It is important globally, attracting visitors from across the world to experience the Flag and locally, making all of us proud and feeling safe.

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height and location, to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

The timing for landmarking by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the Mayor is crucial. The LGBTQ+ community is under attack. Conservatives threaten trans rights and LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve this important work of art. Landmarking the Flag will ensure that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities.

If you have any questions, please contact me at execdirector@castrocbd.org.

Thank you.

To: San Francisco Board of Supervisors and Historic Preservation Commission

The Board of the Castro Commons HOA, as the closet physical neighbors, write this letter to show out support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco, California. The Rainbow Flag that flies there has become a beacon of pride and self-empowerment — for both the residents of San Francisco and for visitors from around the world.

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza deserves recognition as a historically significant art installation. Baker is recognized as an important political artist. His six-color Rainbow Flag is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the London Design Museum, the Tang Museum, the Barack Obama Presidential Library in Chicago, The Philadelphia Art Museum and many more esteemed institutions.

Gilbert Baker's installation was part of a series of his monumental artworks. The mile-long Rainbow Flag from 1994 commemorated New York City's 25th anniversary of the Stonewall riots. The Key West flag honored the original flag's 25th anniversary. (Measuring 1.25 miles, it set a world's record.)

But these iconic installations were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height and location, to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

Dear Charley,

Members of the Castro LGBTQ Cultural District's advisory board passed a motion at its monthly meeting on January 18, 2024 to support a process of the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Flag in the Castro that includes robust and transparent community feedback. It encourages the Planning Department and Historic Preservation Commission to take into account community feedback about the character defining features of the flag in Harvey Milk Plaza, and include that feedback in a landmarking process decision when considering landmarking the six stripe Gilbert Baker flag, or what, if any, other flags can be flown at other times of the year.

Mission: The Castro LGBTQ Cultural District is committed to preserving, sustaining, and promoting the rich cultural legacy of the Castro and its significance to San Francisco's LGBTQ+ community and beyond. Our goals are to highlight the structures and sites important to our history; foster racial, ethnic, gender and cultural diversity among residents and businesses; and create a safe, beautiful, and inclusive space for LGBTQ+ and allied communities, to visit from around the world and call the Castro home.

Please email me at taguirre@castrolgbtq.org with any questions you may have regarding this.

Best,

To: The San Francisco Board of Supervisors and Historic Planning Commission

I am writing this letter to show my support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco, California. The Rainbow Flag that flies there has become a beacon of pride and self-empowerment — for both the residents of San Francisco and for visitors from around the world.

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza deserves recognition as a historically significant art installation. Baker is recognized as an important political artist. His six-color Rainbow Flag is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the London Design Museum, the Tang Museum, the Barack Obama Presidential Library in Chicago, The Philadelphia Art Museum and many more esteemed institutions.

Gilbert Baker's installation was part of a series of his monumental artworks. The mile-long Rainbow Flag from 1994 commemorated New York City's 25th anniversary of the Stonewall riots. The Key West flag honored the original flag's 25th anniversary. (Measuring 1.25 miles, it set a world's record.)

But these iconic installations were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height and location, to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

The timing for landmarking by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the Mayor is crucial. The LGBTQ+ community is under attack. Conservatives threaten trans rights and LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve this important work of art. Ensure that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities. When they erase our flag, they erase us all. Landmark this flag.

To Whom It May Concern

The Friends of Harvey Milk Plaza wholeheartedly supports efforts to landmark the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza. Installed in 1997 to commemorate the 20th anniversary of Harvey's election to public office, this towering beacon of hope and liberation has flown proudly since that time over Market Street, the very same street over which the original Rainbow Flags first flew in 1978.

Our organization is leading the effort to reimagine Harvey Milk Plaza to better reflect Harvey's enduring importance to the local, statewide and worldwide LGBTQ+ communities. As we began working with the designers of the new plaza, we instructed the architects that no alterations to the Rainbow Flag installation were to be made. In the new Harvey Milk Plaza, the Rainbow Flag installation will remain exactly as it always has— and precisely as envisioned by Gilbert Baker.

The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation, and as its artist, Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height and location, in order to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

The LGBTQ+ community is under attack nationwide, with threats to trans rights and attempts to erase LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag. As the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, it is crucial that the City of San Francisco preserves this important work of art. We support efforts to ensure that the Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza flies at full mast 365 days a year and encourage Mayor Breed and the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to act swiftly to protect it.

Respectfully,

Dear Members of the Planning Commission:

I am writing on behalf of the Hotel Council of San Francisco to provide support for the Gilbert Baker Foundation's proposal to grant landmark status to Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza (HMP) in San Francisco.

An international symbol of pride and hope for the LGBTQ+ communities, the Rainbow Flag was created in San Francisco by artist Gilbert Baker as a gift to the world. Baker never trademarked the image, nor did he make any money from it. Since that moment, when Baker presented it for the first time during San Francisco's 1978 "Gay Freedom Day Parade," the original Rainbow Flag has become a universal symbol of justice and progress. The flag, and Gilbert Baker's work as an artist, are deeply intertwined with San Francisco's rich history of diversity, activism, and inclusion. It is an important work of art that must be preserved as it was originally designed and implemented. In addition, it is a vital element of our city's cultural and physical landscape, providing a beacon of hope for the international LGBTQ+ communities, their allies and all those facing oppression around the world.

As a symbol with international significance, the Gilbert Baker flag draws visitors from around the world to experience the unique cultural landscape of the Castro District and the City. International visitors are an important segment of our city's tourism sector, accounting for spending that helps grow our tax base. In an era when digital destination marketing is becoming increasingly important to showcase all that our cities offer, highly engaging visual symbols like the Gilbert Baker flag are critical elements that can help stimulate the recovery of our city's leisure and tourism sector. We must preserve this symbol of hope that defines our city. I urge you to grant official landmark status to the Gilbert Baker flag, as originally designed, and its iconic flagpole at Castro and Market Streets.

Thank you for all of your hard work in advocating for our City.

Respectfully,

To: The San Francisco Board of Supervisors and Historic Preservation Commission

The Board of Directors of MAX SF is writing this letter to show support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco, California. The Rainbow Flag has become a beacon of pride and self-empowerment - for both the residents of San Francisco and for visitors from around the world.

This country along with the international community recognize Baker as an important political artist. His Rainbow Flag is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the London Design Museum, the Tang Museum, the Barack Obama Presidential Library in Chicago, the Philadelphia Art Museum and many more esteemed institutions. Although other Rainbow Flag installations have been honored, they were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza is Baker's sole permanent installation.

The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza deserves recognition as a historically significant art installation. This is particularly urgent because the LGBTQ+ community in the United States is under attack in recent years, as conservatives threaten trans rights and LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve its commemoration in a permanent way, ensuring that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities. When they erase our flag, they erase us all.

We support landmarking the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza.

MAX SF recognizes that Baker's original Rainbow Flag has been modified in positive ways to increase awareness and inclusivity of more historically marginalized members of our LGBTQ+ community, including women, people of color and the trans community. We also support these other evolved flags.

Thank you.

Dear Mayor Breed and San Francisco County Board of Supervisors:

On behalf of the National Parks Conservation Association, I write to express our support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza.

It is critically important that historic sites related to LGBTQ history are preserved for all future generations to come. This is one such site.

The site of the Rainbow Flag where it was originally installed, represents a significant political turning point in US history. It is quite possible that this iconic Rainbow Flag site could one day be a federally designated landmark as well, and possibly be incorporated into a future Harvey Milk/LGBTQ National Historic Monument.

As of this moment, the only national historic park that relates the history of the LGBTQ movement is the Stonewall Monument in New York City managed by the National Park Service. But the Stonewall Monument alone is not adequate for telling the full LGBTQ story. We see the Gilbert Baker Flag Installation site as one critical piece of a narrative that needs to be told, and the landmarking by the City of San Francisco is an important first step.

This historic landmarking is not only of importance to the United States, but is also important for the International community, where many governments still discriminate against LGBTQ citizens. Designations, such as this site, will help to shine a light on the need for further progress with LGBTQ rights everywhere.

It should also be noted that this site is the only Gilbert Baker permanent art installation in the world, which elevates the importance of this site.

Thank you so much for your consideration of our recommendation.

Subject: Letter of Support for Granting Landmark Status to Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza

Dear Members of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

I am writing on behalf of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to express our support for the Gilbert Baker Foundation's proposal to grant landmark status to Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco.

The Rainbow Flag holds historic significance not only for the LGBTQ+ community but for the entire city of San Francisco. As a symbol of diversity, inclusivity, and resilience, it signifies the values of our city. Gilbert Baker's creation of the Rainbow Flag was a significant moment in LGBTQ+ history, and its presence at Harvey Milk Plaza serves as a beacon of hope and acceptance for generations.

Granting landmark status to the rainbow flag not only recognizes its cultural and historical significance but also ensures its preservation for future generations to come. This designation will further solidify San Francisco's status as a global leader on the preservation of LGBTQ+ rights.

In conclusion, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce fully endorses the proposal to grant landmark status to Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza.

Dear Board President Peskin and fellow Supervisors,

On behalf of San Francisco Travel, I am pleased to offer our support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza at the intersection of Castro and Market, considered hallowed ground for the LGBTQ+ community. This art installation symbolizes LGBTQ+ freedom, and self-empowerment. It is important globally as a sign of San Francisco's open and welcoming spirit, an ethos that attracts people to live, work and visit our incredible destination.

Gilbert Baker is recognized as an important political artist and his Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza deserves recognition as a historically significant art installation. As a young man moving to San Francisco to, ultimately, become the man I am today, that flag was the first thing I saw coming down Portola Ave in the early 2000's. That flag symbolized personal freedom and the chance to live in a city that not only tolerates our differences, but celebrates them. It was the meeting place for my friends on our nights out, the place where 12 leather vested men (myself included) would gather and sell Bare Chest Calendars on busy Castro nights, the start of the Leather Walk where we'd gather before the traditional walk to SOMA in our best leathers, and the place I'd walk to every morning to grab the Muni to work. I am one of millions who have walked underneath it, and whether we knew it or not, have benefited from it. But there are millions yet to come who will travel down Portola or Market St and view what seems to be the largest flag in the world and realize that they are not alone. I stand on the legs of the people before me, those who fought for LGBTQ+ rights when no one else would or cared. The next generation will stand on ours... our actions. We owe it them to keep beacons of our community like this alive and well. Not only alive...but flying.

Ever since 1970, I have been active on behalf of San Francisco's LGBT community. In these 54 years, there has been no greater symbol of the strength of our community, and of its enduring place in the culture of our city, than the Rainbow Flag soaring above Harvey Milk Plaza.

The creator of the Flag, Gilbert Baker, was deliberate in his choice of the Plaza: it marked the extreme tip of the straight path of Market Street southwest from the Ferry Building. The symbolism is thus unmistakable. I urge the landmarking of the Flag so that this beacon of liberation will endure.

RE:

Support for landmarking Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza

I'm honored to lend my strong support of landmarking the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco. This installation is so widely recognized in the Bay Area, our country, and internationally, that I thought it was already a registered landmark.

I'm sure many others have advised you of the late Gilbert Baker's political and artistic achievements with the Rainbow Flag. I'd like to add two important points:

I've lived in the Castro since 1987 and witnessed the installation and its HUGE impact on San Francisco civic pride, LGBTQIA+ empowerment, and tourism for the city and Castro district. Not a day goes by that people don't stop to photograph the flag or have their photo taken with it. It is as iconic to LGBTQIA+ civil rights as the Statue of Liberty, Stonewall Inn in NYC, the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, AL, and the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, DC.

My second point is that we need to do a better job of honoring our historical figures (artists and activists), and their original intentions and creations. As a longterm HIV/AIDS survivor since 1988, I have lost over 500 friends to the disease. Now blessed to be turning 64 years old this month, I see how newcomers or power seekers ignore history or try to rewrite it.

I knew Gilbert Baker and was friends with his best friends Tom Taylor and Tom's husband Dr. Jerome Goldstein. All three were major players in our LGBTQIA+ community and their contributions benefited San Francisco and our nation. All three are deceased and unable to advocate to preserve and landmark Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza.

San Francisco Pride just announced the theme for this year's parade and celebration: Beacon of Love. Surely the Pride committee was considering the large Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza as the physical representation of that beacon.

Now more than ever, LGBTQIA+ rights are being threatened, from Uganda, the Middle East, and Russia, to Florida and cities across America. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve this important work of art. We must ensure that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities. When they erase our flag, they erase us all. Please landmark this flag. Thank you.

I am writing this letter to show my support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco, California. The Rainbow Flag that flies there has become a beacon of pride and self-empowerment — for both the residents of San Francisco and for visitors from around the world.

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza deserves recognition as a historically significant art installation. Baker is recognized as an important political artist. His six-color Rainbow Flag is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the London Design Museum, the Tang Museum, the Barack Obama Presidential Library in Chicago, The Philadelphia Art Museum and many more esteemed institutions.

Gilbert Baker's installation was part of a series of his monumental artworks. The mile-long Rainbow Flag from 1994 commemorated New York City's 25th anniversary of the Stonewall riots. The Key West flag honored the original flag's 25th anniversary. (Measuring 1.25 miles, it set a world's record.)

But these iconic installations were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height and location, to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

The timing for landmarking by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the Mayor is crucial. The LGBTQ+ community is under attack. Conservatives threaten trans rights and LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve this important work of art. Ensure that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities. When they erase our flag, they erase us all. Landmark this flag.

Why this petition matters

Started by Gilbert Baker Foundation

The Rainbow Flag has flown proudly since 1997 at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco.

Please support our campaign to landmark the world-famous Rainbow Flag Art Installation!

Why this matters: Gilbert Baker (1951-2017), creator of the original Rainbow Flag, envisioned a giant Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza on the corner of Castro and Market streets in San Francisco to welcome LGBTQ+ people from all over the world. He painstakingly worked on every detail of this art installation and lobbied community activists and politicians. Baker's vision became a reality on November 8, 1997, the 20th anniversary of Harvey Milk's election. A magnificent 30 x 20-foot Rainbow Flag was raised on a 70-foot flagpole as a beacon of hope. A commemorative bronze plaque at its base honors Baker.

We ask the greater community for your help to save this historic icon -- the sole surviving art installation in the world by Gilbert Baker.

Please sign and share this petition asking the San Francisco Board of Supervisors make this global beacon an official landmark.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter to show my support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco, California. The Rainbow that flies there has become a beacon of pride and self-empowerment — for both the residents of San Francisco and for visitors from around the world.

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza deserves recognition as a historically significant art installation. Baker is recognized as an important political artist. His six-color Rainbow Flag is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the London Design Museum, the Tang Museum, the Barack Obama Presidential Library in Chicago, The Philadelphia Art Museum and many more esteemed institutions.

Gilbert Baker's installation was part of a series of his monumental artworks. The mile-long Rainbow Flag from 1994 commemorated New York City's 25th anniversary of the Stonewall riots. The Key West flag honored the original flag's 25th anniversary. (Measuring 1.25 miles, it set a world's record.)

But these iconic installations were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height and location, to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

The timing for landmarking by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the Mayor is crucial. The LGBTQ+ community is under attack. Conservatives threaten trans rights and LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve this important work of art. Ensure that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities. When they erase our flag, they erase us all. Landmark this flag.

Sincerely,

Carmen Neely
President & CEO

Dear Supervisor Mandelman,

My name is Monica Helms and I am the creator of the Transgender Pride Flag. I understand that you are trying to decide to landmark the flag pole at Castro and Market that flies the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag. As another flag designer, I think that is an amazing idea.

Gilbert designed a symbol that brings hope to all in the LGBTQ community, and having the special place where his flag flying in San Francisco is an honor he deserves. President Biden recently said that all embassies should fly the rainbow flag again, so he knows how important it is to show it for all to see. We need to ensure the spot in the Castro district is landmarked for all of history

Gilbert Baker will always be remembered as the creator of the Rainbow Pride Flag. He deserves to always be remembered in his favorite city by landmarking the site. Please make the pole a landmark site so his flag will proudly. There could be no better honor for him.

Oh, and while you're at it, how about erecting a flag pole in the Tenderloin District for the Transgender Pride Flag? Just a thought.

Subject: Letter of Support for the Preservation of the LGBT Rainbow Flag

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter to express my wholehearted support for the initiative to preserve the iconic LGBT Rainbow Flag, a symbol that transcends boundaries and stands as a beacon of equality, pride, and emancipation for countless individuals around the world.

The Rainbow Flag, created by the artist and LGBTQ+ rights activist Gilbert Baker, is more than just a piece of fabric; it is a profound work of art that has become the emblem of a global movement for human rights. As we witness ongoing challenges to equality and personal freedom in various parts of the world, including the West, preserving this symbol becomes not only an act of cultural stewardship but a commitment to defending the principles it represents.

San Francisco, the birthplace of the LGBT Rainbow Flag, holds a unique responsibility to safeguard this symbol that resonates with millions of people. Beyond its local significance, the flag has transcended geographical borders to become a universally recognized symbol of the LGBTQ+ struggle for pride and emancipation.

By registering, protecting, and celebrating the LGBT Rainbow Flag, the city of San Francisco will send a powerful message to the world, a message that champions diversity, resilience, and the unwavering commitment to human rights. In a time when these rights are under threat in many parts of the globe, preserving this symbol gains even greater significance.

Inter-LGBT, as the largest LGBT federation in France, urge you to support the efforts to ensure the long-term preservation of the LGBT Rainbow Flag by landmarking it and recognizing its status not just as a flag but as a work of art that encapsulates the spirit of a global community fighting for a more inclusive and accepting world.

Thank you for your dedication to this important cause.

Re: The Rainbow Flag & Flagpole

To Whom It May Concern,

It gives us great honor to support the National Register of Historical Places landmark status of Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag and Flagpole installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco. This installation was designed by Baker, the creator of the LGBTQ+ Rainbow Flag, and installed with the help of San Francisco Mayor Willie Brown in November 1997.

The Rainbow Flag is the most recognizable cultural symbol in the world representing the Lesbian, Gay, Bi-sexual, Transgender and Queer people around the globe for the past 43 years.

The Rainbow Flag has, and continues to be, a beacon of hope, diversity, inclusivity and most of all, pride. Sadly, the LGBTQ community remains the most discriminated minority in the United States today. Over (30) states legally discriminate against LGBTQ's in regards to employment, healthcare, housing (eviction), and public accommodations (being refused services at restaurants, movie theaters, libraries and shops). In addition to this, there are currently 250 Anti-LGBTQ+ Bills in (41) states that are being lobbied into laws. Ten states have already passed them.

On a global scale, sexual and gender diversity is illegal in 70 countries where the simple act of coming out of the closet is met with harassment, beatings, jail and even death. Gilbert Baker designed the giant Rainbow Flag and flagpole at Harvey Milk Plaza to make sure this beacon of visibility would be flying 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. It was his wish that this installation would serve as a constant symbol of hope for people all over the world, yearning to take that first step out of the darkness of the closet into the light of freedom. The importance of preserving as well as, protecting the most important symbol of LGBTQ+ culture, the Rainbow Flag and Flagpole, is imperative to the future of LGBTQ+ culture.

In addition, this installation should be preserved as a significant work of art. Baker's Rainbow Flag is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the London Design Museum, the Tang Museum, the Barack Obama Presidential Library in Chicago and the Kansas History Museum. It has also been featured in exhibits in France, Norway, Sweden, South Africa, Ireland and in cities across America including Philadelphia, Boston and Los Angeles. By preserving this iconic piece of LGBTQ history, it will continue to inspire positive social changes and the universal right to love around the world.

Thank you for your support.

To whom It May Concern

I was a friend of the late Gilbert Baker and was working in the LGBT community as a documentary photographer covering the LGBT journey during the formative years of the creation rainbow flag. I also worked in Harvey Milk's camera store and on several of Harvey's political campaigns and I became friends with Charles Beal during the filming of Milk the movie and Charley and I have stayed close ever since, and I whole-heartedly support his leadership as Executive Director of the Gilbert Baker Foundation.

I write with advice on forthcoming policy making decisions that may come up with regard to moving the pre-existing site of the current rainbow flag monument at Market and Castro – please don't move it. Please DO afford yourselves of any and all guidance on this matter with the Gilbert Baker Foundation.

While I am also on the advisory board of the friends of the Harvey Milk Plaza and recognize the constantly morphing challenges of that larger long-term goal, I do hope that the Mayor's office and the Board of Supervisors will vote to not move the pre-existing flag monument as we move forward together on a good plan for the Plaza's future and its great history of protest and dissent and visibility and safety for LGBT people and their allies.

Thank you for all that you have done and continue to do on behalf of the LGBT civil rights journey and please don't hesitate to reach out if I can be of assistance to you in anyway and especially with regard to this issue.

RE: Landmarking Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza

April 11, 2021

Dear Supervisor Mandelman,

Regarding landmarking Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza. As Director of the Harvey Milk Photo Center, which is part of the San Francisco Rec & Parks Department, I would like to make the urgent case for preserving this iconic work of art as an official San Francisco Landmark.

I was privileged to work with Gilbert Baker, prior to his passing, while we were curating our 2017 Annual Art & Pride exhibit at Harvey Milk Photo Center. I can share with you his clear passion and enthusiasm for creating his beautiful and iconic flag, which resonates in the beauty of his vision, with the conversation we shared when preparing our 2017 exhibit. Recalling our last phone conversation, just hours prior to his passing on March 30, 2017, Gilbert was filled with pure enthusiasm and joy for being on this important community project, our Art & Pride- 2017 Exhibit. I will always treasure and honor our conversations.

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza is as historically noteworthy as the LGBTQ civil rights movement that it symbolizes. The Rainbow Flag has evolved, as Gilbert envisioned, to become a clear unifying symbol of diversity, hope and liberation for all oppressed people. Such an iconic image deserves landmarking.

I humbly ask the Mayor, the Board of Supervisors, the Historic Preservation Commission, and the Citizens of San Francisco to officially landmark Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza. This designation will be a key reminder of the creator of this iconic flag, and a moving reminder honoring our beautiful diversity, while celebrating the humanitarian ideals which Gilbert gave the world. These words and his flag resonate when I think of Gilbert today, "We are stronger and enriched as one community, when we educate, honor, and support one another". The rainbow flag beautifully exemplifies these ideals.

Respectfully Yours,

Dave Christensen

But these iconic installations were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height and location, to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

The timing for landmarking by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the Mayor is crucial. The LGBTQ+ community is under attack. Conservatives threaten trans rights and LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve this important work of art. Ensure that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities. When they erase our flag, they erase us all. Landmark this flag.

Dear Mayor London Breed, the honorable Rafael Mandelman and the San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

My name is Debra Walker. As you may know, I am a San Francisco artist. I came to this amazing city in 1983 to be queer and to paint. I am writing in full support of granting historic status to the Gilbert Baker LGBTQ pride flag and flag presentation at the corner of Castro and Market as part of Harvey Milk Plaza.

I am a SF Arts Commissioner, served as the tenant representative on the Building Inspection commission for two decades, am a past president of the Harvey Milk LGBTQ democratic Club, served as an elected member of the the SF Democratic Party County Committee for years, have run for supervisor and have been an activist on many issues since moving here over 40 years ago.

Gilbert Baker, the creator of the Pride Flag, was a friend of mine. I came to San Francisco in the eighties because San Francisco was a welcoming place. I came here to be queer and an artist. San Francisco represents a unique arts community that is immediately loud and out and makes no apologies for using its power to make political change. This is how and where I met Gilbert. We were both working in the shadows of various actions...out in the street in the middle of the night...me on political campaigns - he on so many issues facing our community at the time. Mutual admiration and the knowledge of how important symbols and art are to our world brought us together.

I was on my roof early this Easter Sunday and looking out over our city. I took in the beauty of SF and also the symbols cresting on our skyline. On churches and peaks.....and waving proud all the way over in the Castro - the pride flag at Castro and Market. I was filled with gratitude and so proud to live in this city..for our big, bold flag, waving in the ocean breeze, every day symbolizing the support our city gives us ALL!!!

That is why we need this flag and the memory of Gilbert Baker....to support us....to empower us....to give our city the opportunity - everyday - to support us, too.

Symbols inspire. Arts empowers. Long live our Pride Flag!!!

Sincerely,

(signed)

Re: Letter of Support for Landmarking Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag, San Francisco

To the San Francisco Historic Preservation Commission:

The New York City LGBT Historic Sites Project strongly advocates for the landmark designation of Gilbert Baker's Rainbow flagpole installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco. The Project is an award-winning cultural heritage initiative that has documented over 375 LGBT sites in New York City, including ones connected to Gilbert Baker, that illustrate the community's influence on American culture. The Project's work has also led to the designation of seven NYC Landmarks and the listing of ten sites on the National Register of Historic Places.

Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag, originally created in San Francisco in June 1978, has become a global symbol of the LGBT community. It was created "for all genders, all races and all ages...a flag for the Rainbow of Humanity." The flag itself, in its now many iterations around the world, symbolizes unity, support, protest, and pride. And – for a community that has historically had to remain invisible – its display inside and outside institutions, businesses, public spaces, and residences provides one of the most visible and instantly recognizable signs of LGBT expression and inclusion. Baker is an internationally recognized queer artist and activist who also has personal ties to New York City, where he lived from 1994 until his death in 2017. On June 25, 1994, in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the Stonewall uprising, Baker set a world record when 10,000 volunteers unfurled a mile-long Rainbow Flag in front of the United Nations, making headlines around the globe. Cut-up portions of the flag were then brought to an ACT UP demonstration at St. Patrick's Cathedral to protest the Catholic Church's stance on homosexuality.

We support the Gilbert Baker Foundation's advocacy efforts to have the Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza designated a San Francisco Landmark. This would preserve and officially recognize a symbolic work of queer art that is an icon of San Francisco and a beloved destination for visitors from around the world.

I am writing to endorse the landmarking of the Rainbow Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza that Gilbert Baker created in 1997.

There would be no other pride flags without the Rainbow Flag. To dismiss that fact would jeopardize our entire existence as GLBTQI+ humans, historians, leaders, activists, survivors and our youth's future. Gilbert taught me, we are above stereotypes and labels. We are whom we are and we should embrace whom we are.

If it wasn't for Gilbert Baker, and our Beautiful Pride Flag, many more of us would be dead.

Please, with all my heart and soul, landmark our Flag.
Please, embrace who we are. Please show us you are with us, and not against us. Let our first ever Historical Pride Flag fly free.

Thank you for your time and consideration of mine and my family's request.

To Whom It May Concern

I support the landmarking of the historic work of art by Gilbert Baker, The Rainbow Flag installed at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco, California. This work of art is not only the creation of the artist, Gilbert, but also symbolizes a liberation movement that has swept the world. In countries around the globe, communities, activists and allies fly the Rainbow Flag, often at great personal risk.

The importance of this symbol comes not only from the love of the community it represents but also from the antipathy of those who seek to destroy that community. Banning the flag along with persecution of those who display is on the rise. Daily, our community faces threats to our families and our very lives.

This work of art is a beacon of hope, empowerment and love, for both San Franciscans and for people from around the world. Its very existence is an act of defiance and resolute determination by us to not allow ourselves to be erased—something that has happened again and again in the ebbs of flow of history.

This installation, erected in 1997, holds special resonance for those of us surviving HIV/AIDS as a potent symbol of hope unfurled at a critical turning point in an epidemic that had killed almost half of the residents in the immediate neighborhood at the outset.

It is important to consider Baker's body of work as an artist. We should consider Baker's work as a vexillographer, spearheading the creation of the Rainbow Flag and creating massive, spectacular environmental works of art like the mile-long flag displayed at Pride in New York City in 1994 and the 1.25 mile coast to coast Rainbow Flag at Key West Pride in 2003. These, however, were temporary works. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza was his one permanent installation. He planned this work over many years, identifying the location and planning the design of the various features.

To appreciate Gilbert's impact as an artist, we should consider the proliferation of flags representing the constellation of communities in our liberation movement. Flags derive from banners designed to lead armies into battle where we kill each other. Gilbert's work help spread the notion that flags can represent communities of love and affirm our identities, our individuality and our freedom.

Now is the time to landmark The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza. The LGBTQ+ community is under attack. Trans rights and lives are threatened. Drag Queens are banned along with LGBTQ+ books. More than 40 towns and school districts now refuse to fly the Rainbow Flag.

The Board of Supervisors and the Mayor should take immediate action to preserve this important work of art and affirm the LGBTQ+ community. Show us you support us. We need The Rainbow Flag to fly, at full mast, 365 days a year. We need to be able to look to the sky and see it fly in all of its beauty and in the love of the community from which it came knowing that San Francisco supports us.

More recently, I had the honor to co-curate an exhibition on Baker and his art as activism at the GLBT Historical Society Museum in the Castro, entitled, Performance, Protest and Politics: The Art of Gilbert Baker (2019-2022). Using materials from Baker's estate, and his own words through his posthumously published memoir, the exhibition examined how Baker blurred the lines between artist and activist, protester and performer, emphasizing his intuitive understanding of the ways art can serve as a powerful means to address political and social issues. Over the course of four decades, Baker melded his artistic gifts with his devotion to justice, employing a range of approaches—including sewing, painting, design and performance—to advocate for positive social change.

But these iconic installations were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Gilbert's Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza is one of the most significant examples of LGBTQ+ art in the world. When you look at this city and what we've contributed to this particular movement, I think it's important for people to remember that all of these things that happened because specific individual people had ideas and they had courage and they had backing and community to support them. And anybody who tries to fuck with that flag up at the corner is going to hear from me.

I spent most of my working career in law enforcement at three different Bay Area police departments and rising to the position of deputy chief, most of the while hidden deeply in the closet. When I came out as a gay man, I was terrified of having my career ended because of homophobia. I quickly learned about the history of Gilbert Baker's rainbow flag and how it was created right here in San Francisco. I immediately developed a connection with that flag and embraced it as an important part of my own identity.

I've been teaching classes in LGBT studies now for more than a decade. Part of my instruction includes teaching young people the history of the rainbow flag and its importance in today's world. It is a powerful symbol of visibility, identity, and community grounded in San Francisco. When I bring my students to the Castro to see the places and artifacts of our history, we begin at Gilbert Baker's art installation – the giant rainbow flag that proudly flies high above the city. If there is one picture my students take during this tour, it is one taken under the flag and in front of the plaque bearing Gilbert's name. I can think of few other landmarks so important to San Francisco and the world more worthy of landmark status than this piece of art.

In a time when even here in our own United States LGBTQ+ people are under attack in the legislature and being victimized on the street in vicious hate crimes, there is no more critical a time than now for the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and Mayor to act. Designating this art installation a landmark will affirm for the world the importance of the rainbow flag preserve this installation as an important permanent part of San Francisco history.

Thank you.

I am now the Ronald C. and Anita L. Wornick Curator of Contemporary Decorative Arts at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Previously, I worked in curatorial roles at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, and the Museum of Modern Art (MoMA). I have also taught in undergraduate and graduate programs for over a decade, including at the University of Pennsylvania in the School of Design, Harvard University's Graduate School of Design, and at Baruch College at the City University of New York. I have worked with countless artists over the course of my twenty-year career.

Baker, who I had the pleasure of meeting and working with when I brought his flag into the MoMA collection, is recognized as an important political artist. His six-color Rainbow Flag is not only in the permanent collection of MoMA but also the London Design Museum, the Tang Museum, the Barack Obama Presidential Library in Chicago, The Philadelphia Art Museum, and many more esteemed institutions.

Gilbert Baker's installation was part of a series of his monumental artworks. The mile-long Rainbow Flag from 1994 commemorated New York City's 25th anniversary of the Stonewall riots. The Key West flag honored the original flag's 25th anniversary. (Measuring 1.25 miles, it set a world's record.)

But these iconic installations were temporary. The Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent installation. Baker made deliberate choices about its placement, height, and location, to guarantee visibility from around the city. This Rainbow Flag firmly holds a place in LGBTQ+ history. To alter this work in any way would defy the artist's original intentions.

The timing for landmarking by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the Mayor is crucial. The LGBTQ+ community is under attack. Conservatives threaten trans rights and LGBTQ+ books and curricula. More than 40 towns and school districts now ban the Rainbow Flag.

It is critical that San Francisco, the birthplace of the Rainbow Flag, preserve this important work of art. Ensure that this beacon of liberation flies, at full mast, 365 days a year, in support of sexual and gender minorities. When they erase our flag, they erase us all. Landmark this flag.

Please do not hesitate to let me know should you require further elaboration or support from me for this landmarking request.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

RE: Landmark Status for Gilbert Baker's Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza

Dear Supervisor Mandelman,

I am writing in support of the effort to landmark Gilbert Baker's Rainbow Flag Installation at Harvey Milk Plaza.

The very fact a pole and flag exist at Harvey Milk Plaza is a testament to Gilbert's determination against all odds, his vision, his dedication and fortitude – and his refusal to take “no” for an answer. He was a force of nature; heaven help those who dared get in his way.

I had the good fortune of knowing Gilbert personally. He was a huge fan of the gigantic art display I have worked to place upon Twin Peaks for over a quarter-century. There is a complex relationship between the Pink Triangle and the Rainbow flag. They are the yin-yang of LGBTQ symbolism. One was forged out of hatred and forced upon us while the other was inspired by love and optimism for a better future. The Rainbow Flag is the anecdote for the Pink Triangle. The Holocaust symbol of persecution represented our community for so long, until Gilbert Baker created a new, uplifting symbol of hope. His flag caught on and is now everywhere; how many non-national flags are known worldwide? Gilbert's creation is unique and universal. The Harvey Milk Plaza flag and pole are Gilbert's only permanent display.

Gilbert attended the Pink Triangle ceremony seven or eight times over the decades. I was honored that he flew out from NYC to present SF Pride's "Gilbert Baker Pride Founders Award" to me atop Twin Pinks at the 2015 Pink Triangle ceremony during Pride Weekend. It was also an honor to be loaned two of his handmade art pieces on Nazi Uniforms to display on mannequins at pink triangle ceremonies and in a display window about the Pink Triangle on Castro Street. Those uniforms were his last art piece. His most enduring art is of course the iconic Rainbow Flag which came about after SF Supervisor Harvey Milk asked Gilbert in 1978 to create something that would mobilize the community to fulfill Milk's message of "hope".

The pole and giant flag at Harvey Milk Plaza are a permanent memorial to the man and his creation. The flag is a symbol of inclusion, love, diversity, acceptance and hope. I understand it is eligible for landmark status for reasons listed by The Gilbert Baker Foundation because the installation meets at least two criteria listed by the National Register of Historic Places. Below are three criteria:

1. For its association with Gilbert Baker as an internationally significant artist and activist (National Register Criterion B);
2. As the only permanent installation in the world representing Gilbert Baker's internationally recognizable symbol of LGBTQ pride (National Register Criterion C);
3. Although this installation is only 24 years old in 2021, Baker's Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza is eligible for the National Register under Criteria Consideration G as a property of exceptional importance that has achieved significance within the last 50 years.

Gilbert Baker inspired many, he educated many, and he was loved by many.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Patrick Carney

I am writing this letter to show my support for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco, California. I speak as a personal friend of Gilbert who worked with him in decades past.

In 1997, Baker (the creator of the original LGBTQ+ Rainbow Flag) created this iconic San Francisco memorial under the leadership of then Mayor Willie Brown and in collaboration with the Harvey Milk LGBT Democratic Club. Since then, the Rainbow Flag at the corner of Market and Castro Streets has become a beacon of pride and self-empowerment — for both the residents of San Francisco and for visitors from around the world.

To the people,

As an artist, I wholeheartedly advocate for the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza in San Francisco.

Baker's Rainbow Flag isn't merely art; it's a historic masterpiece. Displayed in institutions worldwide, it echoes his monumental, temporary installations—the mile-long tribute to Stonewall in '94 and the record-setting Key West flag.

Amidst these, Harvey Milk Plaza remains Baker's sole permanent testament. Deliberately positioned for maximum visibility, it firmly secures its place in LGBTQ+ history. Altering it would defy the artist's original intent.

Now, as the LGBTQ+ community faces threats and erasure, the timing for landmarking is crucial. Preserving this symbol in San Francisco, its birthplace, becomes an act of defiance against those attempting to diminish identity and rights.

Let this flag soar high every day, a constant celebration of diversity and resilience. Please landmark this flag to ensure that voices and heritage stand tall against adversity.

In solidarity

I am writing to voice my full support for landmark status for the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza. As outlined on YouAreSafeHere.net, this flag stands as a proud symbol of LGBTQ+ identity, acceptance and empowerment.

As a gay man who came of age in the 1980s, I understand firsthand the discrimination and danger the LGBTQ+ community has historically faced. Harvey Milk Plaza and Gilbert Baker's rainbow flag installation there serve as a bold, hopeful counterpoint to that painful history. Especially now, with an alarming rise in anti-LGBTQ+ legislation threatening fundamental rights, preserving this iconic symbol of freedom is critically important.

Gilbert Baker was a visionary artist and gay rights activist. His rainbow flag is recognized globally as a symbol of LGBTQ+ pride and unity. Baker himself made careful choices regarding the flag's height, visibility, and placement within Harvey Milk Plaza. Granting landmark status would ensure his artistic vision is preserved as originally intended.

Myself and YouAreSafeHere.net stand in urging San Francisco, the birthplace of Baker's iconic rainbow flag, to affirm its commitment to LGBTQ+ equality and liberation. Please approve landmark status for the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag at Harvey Milk Plaza, guaranteeing this beacon of hope and self-empowerment continues flying proudly over the Castro for generations to come.

Thank you for your consideration,

I'm writing in support of the landmarking of the Gilbert Baker Rainbow Flag installation at Harvey Milk Plaza. As we approach the 50th anniversary of the creation of the Flag, I think we must take notice of the overwhelming importance of this striking symbol to people all over the world, and therefore the crucial need to create this permanent home for it.

I'm a journalist — co-host of the longstanding weekly TV program Gay USA (gayusatv.org). Every week we report on the horrors and triumphs of life for LGBTQ+ people in every corner of the world. And in every one of those stories — literally every single one — the people involved are carrying, or fighting to carry, Gilbert's Rainbow Flag. In refugee camps in Kenya, in the streets of a now fully homophobic Moscow, in huge crowds of an emerging LGBTQ+ community in Taiwan, in Kyiv, Ukraine, fighting violent police in Istanbul, celebrating in the streets of Valparaiso and Rio and Bogota, evading arrest and beatings in Jamaica, and yes, in small towns and cities around the U.S. where the battles continue, the Rainbow Flag flies bright and strong, giving strength and hope to millions upon millions hanging onto that hope by the proverbial "thread." An appropriate image in this context. Literally that thread.

All those people around the world need to see that the Rainbow Flag has a home, a place of creation, a place they can look to and hold onto to ground themselves. I hope you will give them that cornerstone.

Thank you,
