

Bryant Tan Biography

Bryant Tan is a proud San Francisco native and was appointed to the Entertainment Commission as the Urban Planning Representative in January 2012. His professional background is in youth and community development, and he currently serves as Senior Planner & Policy Analyst for the San Francisco Department of Children, Youth, and Their Families (DCYF). Prior to DCYF, he worked as a community planner in Chinatown, an advocate for Asian and Pacific Islander youth, and he coordinated the queer youth program at the Asian & Pacific Islander Wellness Center.

Bryant is an avid supporter of live music, theater, music festivals, street fairs, and San Francisco's creative economy. He joined the Entertainment Commission to promote entertainment within neighborhood and economic development in San Francisco, and to expand safe and accessible nighttime entertainment activities for youth and young adults.

He holds a Masters in City Planning from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a B.A. in Asian American Studies with minor in Public Policy/Urban Planning from UCLA.
