Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Findings. The Department on the Status of Women's 1991 Charan Investigation Report and the 2002 Justice and Courage: A Blueprint for San Francisco's Response to Domestic Violence outline four major areas of the criminal justice system that need improvement: 1) communication and coordination, 2) data collection, 3) access to services and 4) training. The Department on the Status of Women (DOSW) has demonstrated its expertise and commitment to ensuring an effective citywide response to domestic violence crimes. For the past 14 years, DOSW has dedicated a significant amount of time and resources to creating a seamless delivery of services to those experiencing domestic violence in San Francisco, and membership in the JUSTIS Governance Council will ensure that DOSW's understanding, experience and expertise on the issue of domestic violence and sexual assault will contribute to the successful development of JUSTIS.
