RECEIVED
2017 FEB 27 PM 4:13
BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
SAN FRANCISCO

In accordance with Section 3.21 of the Administrative Code, on February 27, 2017, the Capital Planning Committee (CPC) approved the following action item to be considered by the Board of Supervisors. The CPC's recommendations are set forth below.

1. Board File Number: TBD

Recommendation on the City & County of San Francisco Proposed 10-Year Capital Plan FY 2018 – FY 2027.

Recommendation: Recommend the Board of Supervisors approve the Proposed 10-Year Capital Plan.

Comments: The CPC recommends approval of this item by a vote of 11-0, with the following amendments:

- Add language stating that the Office of Resilience and Capital Planning will work with CPC to develop policies that incorporate information from the HAZUS analysis and Seismic Hazard Rating (SHR) studies into project planning and program development.
- Add language stating that General Obligation (G.O.) Bond and Certificates of Participation Program departmental allocations in the Capital Plan are subject to change and will be refined in light of Citywide needs prior to approval from CPC.
- Add language stating that the City will aim to prioritize projects that address the greatest seismic risk in the publicly owned capital portfolio, as shown in the recently completed HAZUS analysis.
- Modify language describing the G.O. Bond-Funded Neighborhood Parks and Open Space Program to reflect that addressing the Recreation and Parks Department's remaining capital obligations will require a multi-bond investment at currently anticipated levels, and would benefit from an extended planning horizon.

Committee members or representatives in favor include: Brian Strong, Office of the City Administrator; Conor Johnston, Board President London Breed's Office; Melissa Whitehouse, Mayor's Budget Director; Ben Rosenfield, Controller; Mohammed Nuru, Director, Public Works; Ivar Satero, Director, San Francisco International Airport; Dawn Kamalanathan, Recreation and Parks; Ed Reiskin, Director, SFMTA; Brad Benson, Port of San Francisco; John Rahaim, Director, Planning Department; and Kathy How, San Francisco Public Utilities Commission.

MEMORANDUM

Date: February 24, 2017
To: Board of Supervisors
From: MC Angela Calvillo, Clerk of The Board
Subject: Quarterly Report on Departmental Spending
Quarter Ending December 31, 2016

Section 10.19-5 of the Administrative Code requires that all City departments submit a report to the Board of Supervisors identifying any areas, by appropriations item, where the department's rate of spending, if continued for the rest of the fiscal year, would exceed the total appropriation for the fiscal year for that item.

For the second quarter of FY 2016-17, the department's expenditures, across all line items, stayed within the appropriate expenditure rate for the year. While some expenditures are not incurred evenly throughout the year, the department does not expect the total expenditures to exceed the appropriated budget at the end of the fiscal year.

Year-to-month-end expenditure rates, by appropriation item, for the quarter ending December 31, 2016 are as follows:

- 001 Salaries – 45.0%
- 013 Mandatory Fringe Benefits – 43.3%
- 021 Non Personnel Services – 33.3%
- 040 Materials & Supplies – 23.8%
- 081 Services of Other Departments – 35.8%
- 086 Expenditure Recovery – 22.8%

WALLACE LEVIN
1900 MONTEREY BLVD.
SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94127

I am proud to be a third generation San Franciscan and my family has been in San Francisco for 110 years.

After graduating from College of the Pacific, I enlisted into the United States Army. During the Korean War I served 3 years in the Top Secret Army Security Agency, including 19 months overseas. I served 17 years in the California National Guard Reserve, CSMR. I retired as a Lt. Colonel in 1997 with 20 years Federal and State service. For 25 years I was a San Francisco Reserve Police Officer. I have been a licensed California Private Investigator for 35 years and I am a former District Attorney Investigator. I was a member of the Delinquency Prevention Commission for 10 years. Serving as Vice President and Secretary.

In 1984 when the Confederate flag was removed from the historic flag display across from City Hall, I informed Mayor Dianne Feinstein about the California 100 flag, which still fly's. In 1999 to celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the Jewish War Veterans USA, I got Senator Quentin Kopp to name the roadway that runs across the Presidio Veterans Blvd. Mayor Willie Brown and the Board of Supervisors confirmed my appointment as the San Francisco County Veterans Service Officer and City Attorney Louise Renne appointed me a City Attorney Investigator in 2001. I have served in these positions for the last 15 years. When Mayor Gavin Newsom wanted to honor San Franciscans killed in Iraq, I suggested dedicating a new official city flag pole to veterans. This was done on 11/11/07

I retired from the San Francisco Veterans Affairs Commission in 2013 after 30 years of service and I served as President 5 times and Secretary 15 times. I have been in a position of leadership of the Presidio Memorial Day Ceremony and the Veterans Day Parade for three decades. California Assembly member Phil Ting honored me by appointing me 19th Assembly District Veteran of the year 2014.

Hi Meryl,

Thank you for the information. I do have the award letter on file. Because the funding was splitting into two years, we set up the grant detail year by year. Currently we have around $45K remaining balance in year 1. In order for us to move the year 1 funding into year 2, our Controller's Office required us to get the written approval from your agency.

Briana Loomis sent the revised budget detailing the allocation of carryover fund on 10/30/2016. A copy of the budget revision is attached for your review. If you approve this budget, can you please reply and confirm through e-mail? It will be sufficient enough for me to move the funding into year 2 into our accounting system.

Sorry for any inconvenience it might cause.
Appreciate all of your help.

Hi Cherie,

I have attached the original grant agreement that SFDPH received. After speaking with our Finance team, they let us know that we did not send out an award letter for this year because the grant agreement written to each grantee indicates the award period for the entire grant period, not each year. Does that make sense? Please let us know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
Meryl

Hi Chris and Meryl,

I just checked in with Christina and she said she has received the year 2 funding but she has not yet received the award letter needed for documentation. If you could have an award letter for the year 2 sent over to her, it would be much appreciated. I've cc'd her on this email in case you have any questions.

Thanks!

INTER-OFFICE MEMORANDUM

DATE: February 27, 2017

TO: The Honorable Anson Moran
 President, San Francisco Public Utilities Commission

FROM: Harlan L. Kelly, Jr. HLK
 General Manager

SUBJECT: Declaration of Emergency – Temporary Construction Bypass of Calaveras Road Landslide

In accordance with Chapter 6, Section 6.60 of the Administrative Code of the City and County of San Francisco, I am declaring an emergency on behalf of the Public Utilities Commission.

On January 10, 2017, a landslide occurred on the downslope edge of a 100-ft section of Calaveras Road in Alameda County, which is the only point of access for the Calaveras Dam Replacement Project (CDRP) contractor to mobilize large equipment and materials to the construction site. As a result, SFPUC staff immediately initiated discussion with Alameda County to allow the CDRP contractor to construct a temporary road around the slide area on SFPUC property so that temporary construction access can be restored and the project can continue without significant further delay. In the meantime, Alameda County is working on a permanent solution for restoration of Calaveras Road. Based on preliminary discussions with the County, the permanent road restoration will likely not be implemented until Summer 2017 at the earliest.

The old spillway at Calaveras Dam was demolished to make room for the foundation excavation of the new spillway and dam to be constructed immediately downstream of the existing facilities. Although the new spillway was completed in April 2016, it cannot be used until the new dam is constructed and placed into service, currently scheduled to be prior to the winter of 2018-19. In the meantime, the SFPUC is aggressively making releases through the new outlet pipeline and 72-inch fixed cone valve to the new stilling basin to manage the reservoir level, thereby mitigating potential dam overtopping risk in the event of an extreme flood event. Without a spillway in service, the occurrence of an extreme flood event could lead to overtopping of the existing dam and catastrophic dam failure, possibly resulting in significant downstream flooding. Although the SFPUC has effectively managed the dam overtopping risk to date, keeping the reservoir to the restricted level mandated by the California Division of Safety of Dams for seismic safety has been challenging given the high levels of precipitation experienced in January and February 2017.

Subject: Declaration of Emergency

Any delay to constructing the bypass around the landslide on Calaveras Road would effectively delay the project for an additional construction season, rendering the facility to be without a spillway for an additional winter. Much larger precipitation events than those experienced since the beginning of the construction project are possible, and risk exposure increases with every winter season the spillway is out of service. Therefore, not having the new spillway in service for an additional winter season represents unacceptable risk to public health and safety for the reasons stated above.

The CDRP construction contractor will perform the emergency construction work at the direction of the City under the express waiver of liability for public use or public safety of the temporary construction access bypass road. The contractor will warrant its workmanship, but cannot otherwise warrant the adequacy of the repair work given the exigent circumstances. Consistent with these limitations, Alameda County has requested the SFPUC to keep the road closed for the foreseeable future, thereby effectively restricting public access to one resident who owns a house within the closed portion of the road.

The CDRP construction contractor will allow access consistent with SFPUC and Alameda County's needs.

This request for emergency declaration is for the SFPUC to authorize the CDRP contractor to perform the emergency work consistent with the above-cited terms as soon as possible. The change order is expected to not exceed $1.5 million.

I am therefore declaring the existence of an emergency. I trust that this meets with your concurrence and approval.

CONCUR AND APPROVE:

Anson Moran, President
San Francisco Public Utilities Commission

Dear Mr. McNeely

The Graffiti Advisory Board advises the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor on graffiti to include recommending prevention strategies. In the past, we have found that organizations like yours can be enormously effective when they devote some resources to the matter.

We appreciate the commitment made by the AT&T representative at the meeting on February 1, 2017 with personnel from the Graffiti Advisory Board, San Francisco Public Works, and SF 3-1-1. We look forward to full address of graffiti by AT&T. Our suggestion is that you commit to a campaign to eliminate graffiti from your property. We would be pleased to participate with you in such a venture. Please let us know when you would like to meet, if that would be helpful, in getting started. Also, we would be pleased to see reports of the work being done and planned, and the system in place to comply with the current policies regarding abatement of graffiti in the City and County of San Francisco.

Property owned by your organization is currently defaced by graffiti at many places in the City and County of San Francisco. Examples of the most effective way to diminish attacks by graffiti vandals are to quickly eradicate such vandalism. You have not in the past done that, and as attached examples show, you are not doing that now.

We look forward to a timely response.

Respectfully,

Partial collection of recent reports of graffiti on AT&T SMF, for GAB Abatement showing AT&T is not meeting its legal responsibilities to remove graffiti.

SMF = Surface Mounted Facilities

Background Statement

Despite valiant efforts, and signs of improvement, Graffiti remains a problem in San Francisco. Over 72,000 reports of graffiti were made to the San Francisco 311 system in 2016. Graffiti causes a sense of unlawful activity in the streets, makes residents feel less safe, and costs millions of dollars in property damage and business expenses. San Francisco as a city spends millions of dollars each year on graffiti abatement. San Francisco also requires that residents and businesses clean graffiti on their properties, or be subject to fines and tax liens, making some residents feel to be a double victim, once by the vandals, and once by the City in the form of a fine.

AT&T has 1,000s of Surface Mounted Facilities, (SFM) permitted in San Francisco. SFM are more commonly known as AT&T boxes, or Street Furniture. They are approximately 4 feet high by 6 feet long, by 20 inches wide, and have become a canvas for persons variously known as graffiti vandals or street artist. AT&T has for years been in contentious situation with the City, San Francisco Beautiful, and the artistic community about SMF resulting in lawsuits and promises..

In May of 2014, the BOS took a stab at the graffitied and ugly SMF on our beautiful city's street corners, with legislation written by now State Senator Scott Weiner, which unanimously amended the Public Works Code Chapter 27. Under federal law, municipalities are required to allow AT&T space on public streets to install equipment needed for communication services. The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals has determined that cities like San Francisco have limited scope to regulate the placement and look of these communication equipment. Sprint Pcs Assets v. City of Palos Verdes, (9th Cir. 2009) 583 F.3d 716.

Until now, the main thrust of the Amended Code section 27 is a failure. Section 27 provides that after a detailed process of community input and approval by the respected and official San Francisco Arts Commission, approved muralist can create art on the SFM. Murals are a popular way in urban location to create community sentiment, beautify the street, and prevent graffiti. After 30 months zero murals have been approved. AT&T has fought every mural application, with a conclusory statement from a consulting engineer stating that their communications equipment housed in SMF boxes won't work right if the SMF is painted a different color. AT&T has also opposed all request to place murals on SMF by arguing that it is unnecessary because it cleans the graffiti within 48 hours of the report.

San Francisco Public Works Code, Section 2722(d) requires AT&T clean SMF in 72 hours, (language below). The Abatement committee has received reports that AT&T is not currently meeting this requirements. The San Francisco Graffiti Advisory Board Abatement committee has determined to look into the AT&T SMF graffiti situation as a major committee action during the 2016-2017 year. This report is prepared as part of that effort.¹

Process in this report

Residents of San Francisco can report graffiti through the SF311 processes and SF residents are responding by making many reports of graffiti. In 2016 72,329 reports were lodged. These report allow an degree of auditing on if AT&T is complying. Approximately 70 percent of the reports made to SF311 in 2016 included photos of the graffiti. The inclusion of photos allow one to audit by comparing the photos on different dates and seeing if the same graffiti is still there.

The preparer looked at new reports of graffiti on AT&T SMF in the first days of 2017. The preparer then created an algorithm to look at graffiti within 60 meters as reported by GPS coordinates, and examine if photos show graffiti is not being cleaned. As shown, there are numerous examples, many of graffiti not being cleaned for not just 72 hours, but for weeks, and even months after it is first reported..

Quotation of Legal Code

San Francisco Public Works Code, 2722

(d) Graffiti Removal. A Permittee shall be solely responsible for the removal of any Graffiti from Surface-Mounted Facility installed in the Public Right-of-Ways. A Permittee shall remove all Graffiti from a Surface-Mounted Facility within 72 hours after discovering or being notified that there is Graffiti on a Surface-Mounted Facility.

§SEC. 2722. POST-INSTALLATION OBLIGATIONS.

(a) Required Signage. A Permittee shall place a sign on a permitted Surface-Mounted Facility that shall contain the Permittee's name and provide a telephone number for people to call to notify the Permittee that there is damage to or Graffiti on a Surface-Mounted Facility or that associated landscaping is in need of maintenance. A telephone call to that number will be considered notice to the Permittee. Such sign shall be displayed in a conspicuous manner and shall be maintained and/or replaced as necessary.

(b) Surface-Mounted Facility Maintenance. A Permittee shall be solely responsible for maintaining a Surface-Mounted Facility installed in the Public Right-of-Ways in a clean and safe condition. A Permittee shall repair any damage to a Surface-Mounted Facility within 30 days after discovering or being notified of such damage to a Surface-Mounted Facility.

(c) Landscaping Maintenance. A Permittee shall be solely responsible for the maintenance of any installed landscaping or street tree installed by the Permittee as a Condition of the Department's issuance of a Surface-Mounted Facility Site Permit for so long as the permitted Surface-Mounted Facility remains at the location. Such landscaping shall be kept in a state of good visual quality, with any dead or diseased material promptly removed and replaced. The Permittee shall remove any litter accumulating within the landscaped area within 72 hours after discovering or being notified of such litter accumulation.

(d) Graffiti Removal. A Permittee shall be solely responsible for the removal of any Graffiti from Surface-Mounted Facility installed in the Public Right-of-Ways. A Permittee shall remove all Graffiti from a Surface-Mounted Facility within 72 hours after discovering or being notified that there is Graffiti on a Surface-Mounted Facility.

(e) Inspection Required. A Permittee shall regularly inspect each Surface-Mounted Facility installed in the Public Right-of-Ways to determine whether any of its Surface-Mounted Facilities are damaged, in need of a landscaping maintenance, or have been tagged with Graffiti.

(f) Records. A Permittee shall maintain written records of all inspections, repairs to, and maintenance of any permitted Surface-Mounted Facilities in the Public Right-of-Ways in such form as may be required by the Department. The Department may require that a copy of these written records be sent to the Department on a regular basis.

SAN FRANCISCO COUNTY JUVENILE FACILITIES 2014/2016 BIENNIAL INSPECTION
PURSUANT TO WELFARE AND INSTITUTIONS CODE SECTIONS 209 AND 885

This letter is to advise you that the 2014/2016 biennial inspection of the San Francisco County Juvenile Probation Department's Log Cabin Ranch (LCR) has been completed. The Juvenile Justice Center report is pending and will be forthcoming. A pre-inspection briefing was held on 07/28/15 and the individual site inspection at the Log Cabin Ranch was completed on April 19, 2016. Subsequent to the inspection, we returned in June 2016 for a follow up visit to address additional areas of documentation not addressed in the first visit. We would like to thank Division Director Marc Humphries and Assistant Division director Tim Distal for the fine job they did in preparing for the inspection. Your staff represented your department well and were excellent to work with throughout the process. Director Humphries worked diligently with us to ensure we had received all of the necessary documentation for the facility and his overall attitude and demeanor exhibited his professionalism overall but also his true care and concern for the youth in the facility.

The complete Board of State and Community Corrections (BSCC) inspection report is enclosed and consists of:

- this transmittal letter;
- the Title 15 Procedures checklist outlining Title 15 requirements for the Log Cabin Ranch;
- a Physical Plant Evaluation outlining Title 24 requirements for the design of the Log Cabin Ranch and;
- a Living Area Space Evaluation (LASE) summarizing the physical plant configuration and showing the rated capacity of the Log Cabin Ranch;

Local Inspections

In addition to the biennial inspection by the BSCC, Title 15, Section 1313 and statute also require local inspections from the following: county building inspector or person designated by the Board of Supervisors; fire authority having jurisdiction; local health officer; county Superintendent of Schools and the Juvenile Justice Commission. The BSCC considers a local annual inspection current if the inspection occurred the year of the actual inspection or the year prior. Results of those inspections are considered a part of this report and the dates of the local inspections may be found in the accompanying Procedures Checklist. All local inspections for the LCR were completed with no corrective action required.

Inspection Scope

The inspection consisted of a review of the Policy and Procedure manual for the Log Cabin Ranch. Our review of those policies and procedures related specifically to the applicable regulations outlined in Title 15, Minimum Standards for Juvenile Facilities¹ and verification that the complete manual is compliant with Section 1324, Policy and Procedures Manual. We also reviewed documentation to assure that practice and policies are consistent with Title 15. We followed that review with a physical plant tour and interviews with administration, youth, facility staff and collaborative partners.

Inspection Results

Title 15, CCR Minimum Standards

Upon the conclusion of this report, there are no items of non-compliance with Title 15, Minimum Standards for Juvenile Facilities for the Log Cabin Ranch. The attached Procedures Checklist provides a detailed overview of the inspection findings.

Title 24, CCR Physical Plant

There were no changes to the physical plant during the 2014/2016 inspection cycle. Log Cabin Ranch's rated capacity is 48.

Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act Compliance Monitoring

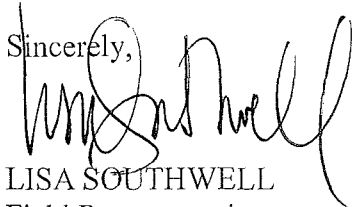

There have been no violations of JJDPA this inspection cycle and no areas of non-compliance were noted.

Training

The most recent Standards and Training for Corrections (STC) audit for 2015-2016 found the agency in compliance with all relevant training regulations and mandates.

¹ BSCC does not review all of your policies and procedures. We do not "approve" your policies and procedures nor do we review them for constitutional or legal issues. We recommend agencies seek review through their legal advisor, risk manager and other persons deemed appropriate.

This concludes our 2014-16 inspection report. I would again like to thank you for your patience and extend my compliments to your staff for their dedication, concern and responsiveness. We are available to assist as needed and are always happy to provide technical assistance when requested. We look forward to continuing to work together to address the areas as listed above and are available to assist as needed to help with any corrective action. Please do not hesitate to email me at lisa.southwell@bscc.ca.gov or call (916) 322-1638 if you have any questions.

Dear Chair Cohen, Vice Chair Yee and Supervisors Tang and Fewer:

Last week at Budget and Finance Committee, I confirmed that the Mayor is supportive of the Public Defender's Office using existing current year savings identified in the Controller's Office Six-Month report to fund two attorneys and one legal assistant.

Since the committee meeting, I have discussed this issue with the Mayor and he is supportive of a third additional staff Attorney position. As soon as these three staff Attorney positions and one Legal Assistant are requested from the Public Defender, I will approve them.

We look forward to working with the committee on the upcoming budget process.

Re: Fully Fund the Public Defender's Deportation Defense Unit

Dear Supervisors Cohen, Tang and Yee,

I write to urge you to fully fund the deportation defense unit of the San Francisco Public Defender's Office.

President Trump has stated his intentions to deport up to 3 million immigrants, and as his executive orders have shown, he will be acting on his plan regarding immigration. If even a fraction of his plan is realized, the legal defense response must be efficient and organized. The Public Defender's Office's infrastructure of lawyers, law clerks, social workers, mental health specialists, investigators, and workspace will be critical in quickly providing detained San Franciscans with the high quality legal representation they will need. The office represents more than 20,000 people each year and has unrivaled expertise in working with individuals in detention, including those in civil immigration detention. In addition to criminal defense, the office has also worked in civil law, including its current representation of clients in mental health conservatorship hearings.

Like New York City, the only other place in the nation with a public defender type system for the detained in immigration courts, San Francisco should also take steps to assure that immigrant detainees have access to counsel and due process. The public defender's involvement institutionalizes detention representation for immigrants most in need and will be a great benefit for all San Franciscans in the long-term. Its attorneys specialize in the intersection of criminal and immigration law, one of the most complicated areas of law where access to criminal specialization is paramount. The office's very existence is based on the concept of accepting all cases, no matter how complex.

Finally, the public defender can minimize expenses by handling multiple cases at once, handling more cases per attorney, and attracting seasoned hires with the experience and capacity to handle complex cases immediately.

I fully support the proposal to fund the San Francisco Public Defender's Office to provide detained removal defense to non-citizens facing deportation.

Dear Supervisors Cohen, Tang and Yee,

As President of the Asian American Bar Association of the Greater Bay Area (AABA), I write to urge you to fully fund the deportation defense unit of the San Francisco Public Defender's Office.

From its inception in 1976, AABA and its members have been actively involved in civil rights issues and community service. Today, while we remember the incarceration of Japanese Americans seventy five years ago, we are concerned regarding President Trump's stated intentions to deport up to 3 million immigrants. In September 2016, the American Immigration Council issued a report finding, among other things, that detained immigrants with counsel are nearly 11 times more likely to seek immigration relief and that those with counsel are twice as likely to obtain the relief they are seeking. We urge you to ensure that detained San Franciscans have the high quality legal representation they will need.

The Public Defender's Office's infrastructure of lawyers, law clerks, social workers, mental health specialists, investigators, and workspace will be critical in quickly providing detained San Franciscans with legal representation. The office represents more than 20,000 people each year and has unrivaled expertise in working with individuals in detention, including those in civil immigration detention. Re: Fully Fund the Public Defender's Deportation Defense Unit

Dear Supervisors Cohen, Tang and Yee,

I write to urge you to fully fund the deportation defense unit of the San Francisco Public Defender's Office.

President Trump has stated his intentions to deport up to 3 million immigrants, and as his executive orders have shown, he will be acting on his plan regarding immigration. If even a fraction of his plan is realized, the legal defense response must be efficient and organized. The Public Defender's Office's infrastructure of lawyers, law clerks, social workers, mental health specialists, investigators, and workspace will be critical in quickly providing detained San Franciscans with the high quality legal representation they will need. The office represents more than 20,000 people each year and has unrivaled expertise in working with individuals in detention, including those in civil immigration detention. In addition to criminal defense, the office has also worked in civil law, including its current representation of clients in mental health conservatorship hearings.

Like New York City, the only other place in the nation with a public defender type system for the detained in immigration courts, San Francisco should also take steps to assure that immigrant detainees have access to counsel and due process. The public defender's involvement institutionalizes detention representation for immigrants most in need and will be a great benefit for all San Franciscans in the long-term. Its attorneys specialize in the intersection of criminal and immigration law, one of the most complicated areas of law where access to criminal specialization is paramount. The office's very existence is based on the concept of accepting all cases, no matter how complex.

Finally, the public defender can minimize expenses by handling multiple cases at once, handling more cases per attorney, and attracting seasoned hires with the experience and capacity to handle complex cases immediately.

I fully support the proposal to fund the San Francisco Public Defender's Office to provide detained removal defense to non-citizens facing deportation.

Subject: Please protect wetlands and reject any SNRAMP that includes golf course redevelopment

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors:

I am writing to urge you to reject the Final Environmental Impact Report (FEIR) for the proposed Significant Natural Resource Areas Management Plan (SNRAMP), unless and until the Sharp Park Golf Course redevelopment is removed from the plan. The vast majority of California's wetlands have been drained, degraded and destroyed. Sharp Park is home to federally protected, endangered California Red-Legged Frogs (Rana draytonii), California's official state amphibian. The Board of Supervisors should work to protect, rather than to kill, harm and harass these frogs, which is what happens when the City pumps the Sharp Park Wetlands out to sea, causing the frogs' egg masses to be stranded on dry land. I wholeheartedly oppose any usage of taxpayer funds that results in the destruction of rare wetland ecosystems or the degradation of important wildlife habitat. Using taxpayer dollars to drain wetlands for non-essential purposes is thoroughly unethical. As such, I again request that you not approve any version of a Significant Natural Resource Areas Management Plan that condones or funds such activities.

Please see www.savethefrogs.com/sharp-park for more info, and remember that there are over 1,000 other golf courses in California.

Save The Sharp Park Wetlands!

The City of San Francisco is killing endangered frogs at its Sharp Park Golf Course. Our vision is a new Sharp Park: open to the public, safe for wildlife. Learn more about Sharp Park here.

Sincerely,
Denise Lytle

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors:

We write to you because we are deeply concerned by the City and County of San Francisco's financial relationships with banks financing the Dakota Access Pipeline. On February 22, 2017, the Army Corps of Engineers, North Dakota Law Enforcement, The National Guard, the BIA Indian police, and Dakota Access LLC private security forced peaceful and prayerful Lakota Water Protectors out of the ancestral lands to which they are entitled by the 1851 Fort Laramie Treaty. The Standing Rock Sioux Tribe, Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe, Oglala Sioux Tribe, and nearly 200 Indian Nations and environmental organizations continue to oppose Dakota Access Pipeline on the grounds that its construction violates the Fort Laramie Treaties, the First Amendment rights of journalists and Water Protectors, and threatens the water supply of the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe and 17 million people downstream.

On November 4, 2016, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors passed Resolution No. 465-16, proclaiming the City and County of San Francisco's "solidarity with the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe in opposition to construction of the Dakota Access Pipeline across the Tribe's ancestral lands, waters, resources, and sites of cultural, historical and religious significance." However, the City has continued to entrust taxpayer money to financial institutions financing the Dakota Access Pipeline. The City has maintained a $10 billion per year cash flow with Bank of America and over $800 million in pooled investments with other financial institutions that have provided credit facility agreements to the Energy Transfer family of companies building and operating the Dakota Access Pipeline. As a result, the value of the City's funds is perversely linked to the completion of the Dakota Access Pipeline.

City funds should not be entrusted to financial institutions that choose to finance projects that threaten the environment, public health, indigenous rights, and human rights. We urge the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to implement an ordinance prohibiting cash management contracts and investments with all of the 35 banks financing the Dakota Access Pipeline. We further call on the Board of Supervisors to divest more than $800 million of the City's pooled investments from Royal Bank of Canada, Bank of Nova Scotia, Bank of Tokyo-MIT UFJ, US Bancorp, and Morgan Stanley.

We, the individuals and organizations signed below, support the indigenous-led San Francisco Defund DAPL Coalition in their assertion that by granting Dakota Access LLC the easement, Donald Trump's administration poses an existential threat to the Seven Council Fires of the Sioux Nations — all for the sake of Donald Trump's billionaire big oil cronies. We urge you to work with the indigenous-led San Francisco Defund DAPL Coalition and stand with the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe, on the right side of history.

Thank you for your consideration of this important matter.

RE: San Francisco Recreation and Park Department – Natural Resources Management Plan

Dear Honorable Members of the Board Supervisors:

I am writing to request you uphold the certification by the Planning Commission and reject the appeals filed by Dee Seligman, Rupa Bose and Tom Borden of the San Francisco Forest Alliance, known as the "SF Forest Alliance Appellant" and Brent Plater of the Wild Equity Institute on behalf of the Sierra Club's San Francisco Bay Chapter, the National Parks Conservancy Association, Golden Gate Audubon Society and the Sequoia Audubon Society, known as the "Wild Equity Appellant."

As stewards to over 120,000 acres of open space in the Eastern San Francisco Bay Area, including grasslands, forests, wetlands and shorelines, the East Bay Regional Park District (EBRPD) understands the critical importance of natural resource management.

Parklands in urban areas allow people to get away from the traditional characteristics of city life and experience nature without having to travel a time-consuming and costly distance. By providing landscape-level protection and management of public lands, EBRPD, and San Francisco Recreation and Park District (RPD) are contributing to the health of the people and the environment at large. The plan which was proposed by RPD to the Planning Commission provides guidelines for education, research, and stewardship programs. The lands RPD manages offer a myriad of learning opportunities without having to travel outside of San Francisco.

As large scale land managers, EBRPD and RPD are responsible for the ecosystem as a whole. Public land management agencies and departments have the core mission of protecting natural resources as part of ongoing responsibilities and operations. RPD's natural areas support an array of native habitats and species, some found nowhere else in the world, such as the San Francisco garter snake and Mission blue butterfly. In total, 140 sensitive species (67 animals and 73 plants) are presently or historically known to occur in these particular areas. Some of these species have state or federal protections. Responsible maintenance opportunities to balance recreation and restoration of these lands, as outlined in the management plan, will enhance biodiversity and maintain populations of sensitive species within their ecosystems, and still provide healthy recreation to park users.

In addition, EBRPD and RPD are seeing the effects of climate change on their lands every day. More importantly, both are well-positioned to be a part of California's solution to the impacts of changing climate through carbon sequestration, watershed protection, and shoreline resiliency.

The quality of trails and open spaces conserved by EBRPD and RPD are unmatched in urban settings throughout the nation. Such access is essential now more than ever with the San Francisco Bay Area's population projected to grow by two million people by 2040. With this growth in mind, EBRPD and RPD can maximize natural green infrastructure to help manage climate change impacts and contribute to the quality of life for all people of the Bay Area. Increasing the urban tree canopy and expansion of green infrastructure plays an important role in carbon sequestration while providing respite from extreme temperatures. While some members of the public are concerned with RPD's proposed tree management plan, this plan focuses on trees in poor or fair condition (80% of trees in the natural areas), and will replace them with younger, healthier trees to support the urban forest and the overall environment.

Subject: Rescind Certification of EIR for SNRAMP: it is a "whitewash"

Attention SF Board of Supervisors: The EIR for the SNRAMP is a "whitewash" From wikipedia: To whitewash is a metaphor meaning "to gloss over or cover up vices, crimes or scandals or to exonerate by means of a perfunctory investigation or through biased presentation of data"

Fact 1: You cannot cut down 18,500 trees and "replace" them with grass and shrubs without a huge release of greenhouse gas and a loss of future carbon sequestration.

Fact 2: You cannot close 28% of our City's parkland to public access and claim there is no impact on our recreation.

Fact 3: You cannot say implementing a plan that is totally dependent on herbicides will not increase herbicide spraying in our parks.

Fact 4: You cannot ban bicycles from 1/3 of our park areas and say there is no impact on bicyclists.

Fact 5: Yet this is what the EIR claims.

Conclusion: Reject the certification of the EIR and send it back to Planning for an honest evaluation of the impacts of the SNRAMP. While that is happening, halt RPD's premature implementation of the Plan.

Dear San Francisco Board of Supervisors,

The attached letter is an endorsement to the proposed project submitted by Jamestown Properties at Pier 29.

I am the General Manager for the Ferry Building, a 285,000-square-foot historic public building with a ground floor marketplace dedicated to the celebration of San Francisco's artisan food culture and cuisine.

In my 12 years at the Ferry Building. I have developed a good instinct for retail and property management. I have had frequent opportunities to observe Jamestown Properties management of such projects as the Chelsea Market in New York City and Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco. I have also meet with the Jamestown Properties team over the last several years to discuss numerous subjects with their team, and in substance, make a judgment of their integrity and professionalism. Their reputation as a management company is excellent.

Jamestown Properties has done remarkable work and improvements to the Chelsea Market in New York City. For 15 Years, I lived 2 blocks away from the Chelsea Market and observed how the Jamestown Properties Team became stewards of a beloved local destination and resource. In the last several years, they have been at the helm of Ghirardelli Square and I can tell that they are lending the same careful stewardship to the leasing and operations of another beloved San Francisco Landmark. They have had a Holiday Pop Up Shop for La Cocina and brought back renowned California Chef Jonathan Waxman to where his notable culinary career began – the Bay Area. I have no doubt they will bring the same thoughtful vision to their project at Pier 29. The Jamestown Properties Pier 29 project is carefully considered – and complimentary to the continued growth of the San Francisco Waterfront.

If there is anything I can do in further support of the Jamestown Pier 29 Project, I would be grateful if you would contact me.

Very truly yours,

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am a homeowner and resident in North Beach. I have lived in San Francisco for almost 20 years and in North Beach for 15 years and work in the Financial District. I am active in the North Beach community and our homeowners association.

I am writing in support of the current project proposed by Jamestown at Pier 29. I think it would have a very positive impact on the community. Not only would it bring life to the pier and a underused part of the Embarcadero, it would provide a great opportunity for San Francisco products both in the sale of the food and beverage products as well as the SF Made retail.

In addition to being a venue that I would personally visit, it is a location that my mother, a disabled senior who currently resides with me in North Beach, could also could enjoy and visit.

As there will still be a significant portion of the pier of available for other uses in the future, please do not let the opposition selfishly delay or defer this project.

REGARDING : PIER 29 File #170128

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing in support of the proposed project at Pier 29 that is being put forward by Jamestown LP. I own a property in the Castro and lived in San Francisco for 15 years. For too long we've let the historic bulkheads sit empty and under-utilized along one of San Francisco's magical pedestrian streets. Jamestown LP, has put together a thoughtful and well intentioned program that supports local artisans and fabricators located here in San Francisco and I fully support the project and its goals. If we let these structures sit empty the cost to repair and rehabilitate them will only increase, which is why we must act now and support this project.

I've grown sick and tired of a small group of people, Telegraph Hill Dwellers, jamming the wheels of improvement for our city and stopping / delaying many great projects for our city.

I urge you to approve the project so that Jamestown can get to the business of improving the pedestrian experience along the Embarcadero.

Sincerely

Good Afternoon,

My company, ABS Capital Partners, are tenants at 1700 Montgomery Street in the Waterfront Plaza, and we are excited to hear about this potential project to bring more amenities to our neighborhood. We are a team of six, and we depend on the local shops and restaurants for coffee/lunch/snacks etc. It would be great to see a space opened up to provide more variety and availability to us; and we love the push towards locally produced goods too! We hope all goes well and the Bulkhead at Pier 29 Project (File #170128) receives approval to move forward!

Dear Chair Cohen,

I am an Embarcadero office tenant writing to urge you to support of the proposed retail project at Pier 29 and the conceptual term Sheet for the lease of the Pier 29 Bulkhead, Board of Supervisors file number 170128.

I believe that the plan outlined for Pier 29 is an excellent idea and will revitalize this specific area of the Embarcadero. We really only have one restaurant in the immediate area next to our building now and I am sure my team here at Texas Instruments will enjoy having more local options to visit and patronize.

Additionally I see many visitors walking along the Embarcadero on a daily basis looking for stores and restaurants such as what is planned here, I feel it would be a vibrant addition to our neighborhood.

Dear Chair Cohen,

I am the owner of Pier23Cafe as well as a life long resident of North Beach.

I am writing in support of the proposed development of Pier 29 bulkhead building by Jamestown.

Given that the lack of amenities along the northern waterfront creates a constant unfulfilled need for the pedestrians that walk the embarcadero, another venue could be a very useful stopover for those enjoying the beauty of our waterfront.

I truly do not think that this development would compromise our business or Pier39 since the description of the planned use is unique to any of the neighboring businesses.

Subject: BoS - Miscell followup

Good afternoon Honorable Members of the Board of Supervisors, as promised I'm following up on a few loose ends, lets make this as simple as can be put. A few board meetings have passed. I have been tracking a few issues (file #'s). Specifically:

1. Petitions/letters: A number of letters (6) under petitions/letters 2/28/2017 #170196 item #29 Rincon Hill and some in the past referenced the same issues. Construction related issues, Dust, Noise, after hour construction work, SAFETY-vision 0: traffic control related issues both vehicle and pedestrian and more. Mostly all related to larger construction Projects. Environmental Impact Reports address these items either as Best Practices or to be Mitigated ----. As I see it, it is not being enforced, only because I have been there and seen it, more can be done. Case in point: business, residences, small business, restaurants try to thrive under these conditions. With the noise, dust, storage of construction material and etc it scares the customers away. There needs to be better enforcement out there.

2). FILE NUMBERS: There are two items out there and I was not sure how it all fitted together, File number 170112 (1/26/2017) and File number 170145 for (3/7/2017). The online www did not do justice. With that said, both seem to be the same-housing for families with children but different file numbers. The other day, Supervisors Norman Yee's office was kind enough to print me the Planning Departments response/version (January 17, 2017) "Housing for Families with Children". I had a chance to review this and I'm in full support of this document. Not sure how we can merge this in to (MOHCD) meet the affordable requirements / some of the "housing requirements for the Environmental Impact Reports projects or even if it is related. As I see it, in some ways it can help out with our housing issue/s. I realize there can be more to this housing issue, but that's looks like another time and place for this.

Any thing we can do to help the developers and keep peace in the family with these issues would help. The more confusing and the more we nickle and dime the developers they would seek other places to do business. We have to make it a win win for everyone. But, we are getting there on the housing issues but not quite there yet.

Incidentally, I was trying to reconcile the two BoS files with the Planning Departments version and thought there was something missing, but lets get today's email addressed first.

3). Lastly, I appreciate the opportunity to continue to review and comment on the these environmental Impact Reports. Hope this note made some sense.

If anyone has any comments/concerns please feel free to contact me at dennisj.gov88@yahoo.com or the above email address.

All the best,
Dennis

Please read the NLIHC article attached on the issue of housing....

Prior to making any decisions on affordable housing in SF

The gap is in "rental" units affordable as the stepping stones to save towards home ownership....

We need to fill the gap with housing that works and supports families and that is through understanding garden rental apartments...

ABOUT NLIHC

The National Low Income Housing Coalition is dedicated solely to achieving socially just public policy that assures people with the lowest incomes in the United States have affordable and decent homes.

Founded in 1974 by Cushing N. Dolbeare, NLIHC educates, organizes and advocates to ensure decent, affordable housing for everyone.

Our goals are to preserve existing federally assisted homes and housing resources, expand the supply of low income housing, and establish housing stability as the primary purpose of federal low income housing policy.

INTRODUCTION

For the first time since the recession, U.S. household income increased significantly during 2015. Gains were seen even among the lowest income households, with the poverty rate declining from 14.8% to 13.5% (Proctor, Semega, & Kollar, 2016). Millions of people, however, continue to struggle economically. Household income for the poorest 10% of households remains 6% lower today than in 2006, and more than 43 million Americans remain in poverty, many of whom struggle to afford their homes.

Each year, the National Low Income Housing Coalition (NLIHC) measures the availability of rental housing affordable to extremely low income (ELI) households and other income groups (see Box 1). This year's analysis is slightly different from previous years in that NLIHC adopted the federal government's new statutory definition for ELI, which are households whose income is at or below either the poverty guideline or 30% of their area median income (AMI), whichever is higher.¹ Based on 2015 American Community Survey (ACS) data, this report provides information on the affordable housing supply and housing cost burdens at the national, state, and metropolitan levels. This year's analysis continues to show that ELI households face the largest shortage of affordable and available² rental housing and have more severe housing cost burdens than any other group.

1 Defined in the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2014.

2 An affordable rental home is one which a household at the defined income threshold can rent without paying more than 30% of its income on housing and utility costs. A rental home is affordable and available if it is both affordable and vacant, or is currently occupied by a household at or below the defined income threshold.

KEY FINDINGS INCLUDE:

- 11.4 million ELI renter households accounted for 26% of all U.S. renter households and nearly 10% of all households.
- The U.S. has a shortage of 7.4 million affordable and available rental homes for ELI renter households, resulting in 35 affordable and available units for every 100 ELI renter households.
- Seventy-one percent of ELI renter households are severely cost-burdened, spending more than half of their income on rent and utilities. These 8.1 million severely cost-burdened households account for 72.6% of all severely cost-burdened renter households in the U.S.
- Thirty-three percent of very low income (VLI) renter households; 8.2% of low income (LI) renter households, and 2.4% of middle income (MI) renter households are severely cost-burdened (see Box 1).
- ELI renter households face a shortage of affordable and available rental homes in every state. The shortage ranges from just 15 affordable and available homes for every 100 ELI renter households in Nevada to 61 in Alabama.
- The housing shortage for ELI renters ranges from 8,700 rental homes in Wyoming to 1.1 million in California.

BOX 1:

DEFINITIONS

Area Median Income (AMI): The median family income in the metropolitan or nonmetropolitan area

Extremely Low Income (ELI): Households with income at or below the Poverty Guideline or 30% of AMI, whichever is higher

Very Low Income (VLI): Households with income between 31% and 50% of AMI

Low Income (LI): Households with income between 51% and 80% of AMI

Middle Income (MI): Households with income between 81% and 100% of AMI

Cost Burden: Spending more than 30% of household income on housing costs

Severe Cost Burden: Spending more than 50% of household income on housing costs

- ELI renter households face a shortage of affordable and available rental homes in every major metropolitan area. Among the 50 largest metropolitan areas, the shortage ranges from 12 affordable and available homes for every 100 ELI renter households in Las Vegas, NV to 46 in Boston, MA.
- The housing shortage for ELI renters ranges from 26,300 homes in Raleigh, NC to 638,500 in the New York, NY-NJ-PA metropolitan area.

NLIHC supports improvements to LIHTC that include income averaging, which would encourage a greater mix of incomes in LIHTC developments, and a 50% basis boost in tax

“THE U.S. HAS A SHORTAGE OF 7.4 MILLION AFFORDABLE RENTAL HOMES AVAILABLE TO ELI RENTER HOUSEHOLDS, RESULTING IN 35 AFFORDABLE AND AVAILABLE UNITS FOR EVERY 100 ELI RENTER HOUSEHOLDS.”

Federal housing expenditures should better target households with the most critical housing needs. NLIHC's United for Homes (UFH) campaign proposes rebalancing federal housing policy by making modest reforms to the mortgage interest deduction (MID) and putting the new revenue into housing programs that serve ELI households. The MID is a $65 billion annual federal tax expenditure that predominantly benefits homeowners with income greater than $100,000 (Joint Committee on Taxation, 2017). Reducing the amount of a mortgage eligible for a tax benefit from $1 million to $500,000 and converting the deduction to a tax credit would provide a new tax benefit for 15 million lower income homeowners who currently receive none, and a tax cut for 10 million more homeowners. These changes would generate $241 billion in new revenue over ten years to reinvest into programs such as the national Housing Trust Fund (HTF), Housing Choice Vouchers (HCV) and other rental assistance programs, and Public Housing (Lu & Toder, 2016).

Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) reforms could better target federal housing expenditures to households with the most critical need as well. LIHTC is the largest rental housing production subsidy in the U.S., and it allows rents that are higher than what ELI households can afford.

credits for developments that set aside and make affordable at least 20% of their housing units for ELI households.

SHORTAGE OF AFFORDABLE RENTAL HOMES

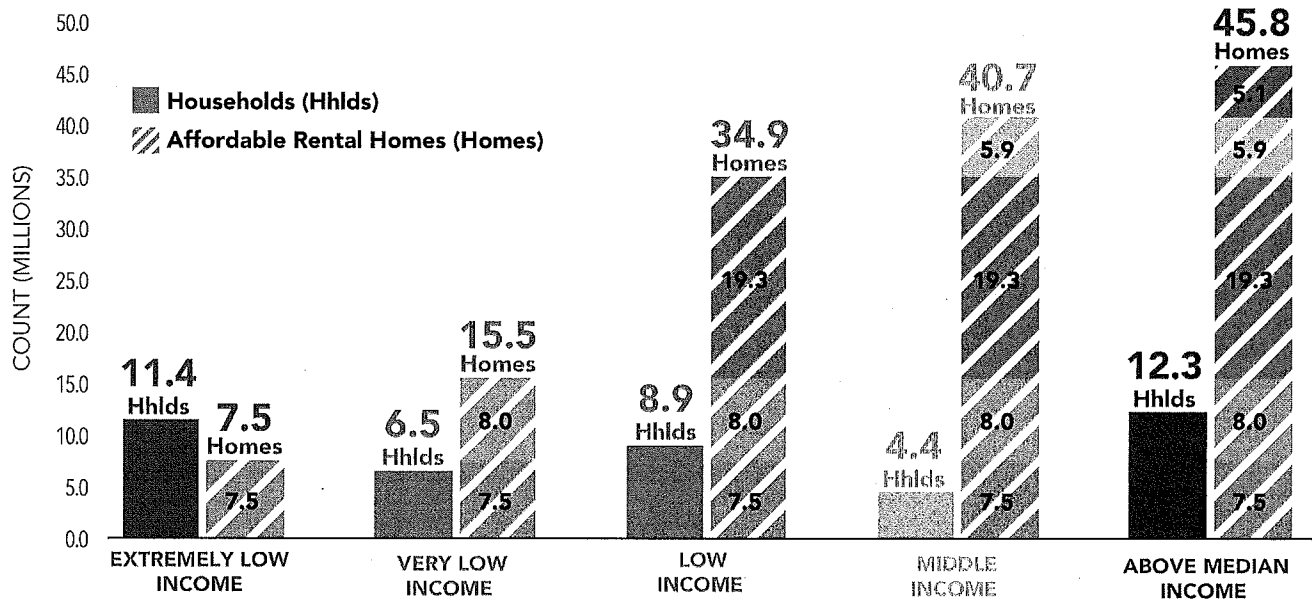

Of the nearly 43.6 million renter households living in the U.S., 11.4 million are ELI. Assuming housing costs should be no more than 30% of household income (the accepted standard for housing affordability), only 7.5 million rental homes are affordable to ELI renters. This leaves an absolute shortage of 3.9 million affordable rental homes (Figure 1). The shortage of affordable housing turns into a surplus further up the income ladder, giving higher income households a broader range of affordable housing options.

Eight million rental homes rent at a price that is affordable specifically to the income range of the 6.5 million VLI renter households with income between 31% and 50% of AMI. VLI households can also afford the units affordable to ELI households. In total, 15.5 million rental homes are affordable to VLI households.

More than 19 million rental homes are affordable to the 8.9 million LI renter households with income between 51% and 80% of AMI. LI households can also afford rental homes that are affordable to ELI and VLI households, effectively expanding the supply of affordable rental homes for LI households to 34.9 million. There are 5.9 million rental homes affordable to the 4.4 million MI renter households with income between 81% and 100% of AMI. MI households can also afford rental homes affordable to ELI, VLI, and LI households, resulting in 40.7 million affordable homes for MI renter households. In short, ELI renters face the most severely constrained supply of affordable housing.

RENTER HOUSEHOLDS AND AFFORDABLE RENTAL HOMES, 2015

Source: NLIHC tabulations of 2015 ACS PUMS data.

Affordable But Not Available

Higher income households are free to occupy rental homes in the private market that are affordable to lower income households. Of the 7.5 million rental homes affordable to ELI households, 3.5 million are occupied by households of higher income. Approximately 1.1 million VLI households, 1.1 million LI households, 400,000 MI households, and 1.0 million above median income households occupy rental homes that are affordable to ELI households, making them unavailable to ELI renters. As a result, there are only 4 million affordable and available rental homes for the 11.4 million ELI renter households. This results in a shortage of 7.4 million affordable and available rental homes for ELI households, or only 35 for every 100 ELI renter households.

This shortage does not account for homeless individuals and families, because ACS housing data do not include persons without an address or living in group quarters. On a given night in January 2015, approximately 422,617 households were homeless (National Alliance to End Homelessness, 2016).³ Including these households, the shortage of affordable and available rental homes for ELI and homeless households is 7.8 million.

A shortage of affordable and available rental homes also exists – but less dramatically – for renter households with income up to 50% of AMI and with income up to 80% of AMI. Fifty-five, 93, and 101 affordable and available rental homes exist for every 100 renter households with income up to 50% of AMI, 80% of AMI, and 100% of AMI, respectively (Figure 2).

COST BURDENS

Because of the shortage of affordable and available homes, many lower income households spend more on housing than they can afford without sacrificing other necessities. A household is considered to be cost-burdened when it spends more than 30% of its income on rent and utilities and severely cost-burdened when it spends more than 50%.

More than 9.9 million ELI renter households, 5 million VLI renter households, 4.2 million LI renter households, and 900,000 MI renter households are cost-burdened (Figure 3). More than eight million ELI renter households are severely cost-burdened, accounting for 72.6% of all severely cost-burdened renters in the country. In comparison, 2.2 million VLI renter households, 700,000 LI renter households, and only 100,000 MI renter households are severely cost-burdened.

ELI renters are far more likely to experience severe cost burdens than any other income group. Approximately 71.2% of ELI renter households, 33.3% of VLI renter households, 8.2% of LI renter households, and 2.4% of MI renter households are severely cost-burdened.

ELI renter households have little, if any, money left for other necessities after paying the rent. A severely cost-burdened ELI household with monthly income of $1,690⁴ spends a minimum of $846 per month on rent, leaving at most $844 for all other expenses. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's (2016) thrifty food budget for a family of four (two adults and two children) is $655, leaving at most $189 for transportation, child care, and other necessities.

To make ends meet, severely cost-burdened renters make significant sacrifices on other basic necessities. Severely cost-burdened renters in the lowest quartile of expenditures spend 41% less on food and health care than similar households who are not cost-burdened (Joint Center for Housing Studies, 2016).

EVERY STATE HAS A HOUSING SHORTAGE FOR EXTREMELY LOW INCOME RENTERS

Every state and the District of Columbia has a shortage of affordable and available rental homes for ELI households (Figure 5 and Appendix A). The shortage ranges from 8,731 in Wyoming to 1,110,803 in California. The states where ELI renters face the greatest challenge in finding affordable and available homes are Nevada, with only 15 affordable and available rental homes for every 100 ELI renter households, California (21 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), Arizona (26 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), Oregon (26 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), Colorado (27 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), and Florida (27 homes for every 100 ELI renter households). The states with the greatest supply of affordable and available rental homes for ELI renters still have a significant shortage. They are Alabama (61 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), West Virginia (59 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), Kentucky (57 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), Mississippi (51 homes for every 100 ELI renters households), and South Dakota (51 homes for every 100 ELI renter households).

The majority of ELI renter households are severely cost-burdened in every state and the District of Columbia. The states with the greatest percentage of ELI renter households with a severe cost burden are Nevada (83%), Florida (79%), California (77%), Oregon (76%), Hawaii (75%), Colorado (75%), and Virginia (75%).

The shortages of affordable and available rental homes disappear as households move up the

HOUSING POVERTY

The rule of thumb that households should not spend more than 30% of their income on housing has been a foundation of U.S. housing policy for more than three decades (Pelletiere, 2008). This standard, however, ignores the different financial capabilities among families of varying income and size. Higher income households can often spend more than 30% of their income on housing and still have adequate resources for other basic necessities, such as food and medical care. Extremely low income households cannot afford to spend even 30%.

Michael Stone developed a “residual income” approach for determining whether a household’s housing costs were too high (Stone, 1993). Stone calculated the cost of a minimally adequate standard of living, excluding housing, from family budgets developed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS). The budgets included such necessities as food, transportation, medical care, and other goods and services. Stone defined households unable to cover these costs, after paying for housing, as living in shelter poverty. Nandinee Kutty (2005) proposed a similar approach, but set the cost of minimally adequate non-housing needs at two-thirds of the official poverty threshold

A central challenge of the residual income approach is defining minimally adequate needs. The poverty threshold is the official U.S. measure of income inadequacy; an income below which a household clearly cannot subsist. Many contend the poverty threshold is too low, so some organizations measure income inadequacy as twice the poverty threshold (Renwick & Short, 2013).

NLIHC identified households living in housing poverty, who are unable to afford non-housing basic necessities after paying for housing, using Kutty’s approach but with inadequate income set at twice the poverty threshold. These households have the clearest and most immediate need. More ELI and VLI renter households live in housing poverty than are cost-burdened by the traditional 30% standard. More than 11.4 million ELI households live in housing poverty, almost 1.5 million of whom spend less than 30% of their income on housing (Figure 4). By comparison, fewer than 180,000 MI renter households live in housing poverty even though nearly 1 million of them spend more than 30% of their income on housing.

income ladder. Every state has a shortage of affordable and available rental homes at the VLI income threshold of 50% of AMI, 22 states have a shortage of housing at 80% of AMI, and 9 have a shortage at median income.

FIFTY LARGEST METROPOLITAN AREAS HAVE A HOUSING SHORTAGE FOR EXTREMELY LOW INCOME RENTERS

Every major metropolitan area in the U.S. has a shortage of affordable and available rental homes for ELI renter households (Table 1 and Appendix B). Of the 50 largest metropolitan areas, ELI renters face the largest relative shortages in Las Vegas, NV with 12 affordable and available rental homes for every 100 ELI renter households, Los Angeles, CA (16 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), Houston, TX (18 homes for every 100 ELI renter households), and Orlando, FL (18 homes for every 100 renter households). The metropolitan areas with the greatest availability of homes affordable to ELI renters still have a significant shortage. Boston, MA has 46 affordable and available homes for every 100 ELI renter households and Pittsburgh, PA has 45. The majority of ELI renter households are severely cost-burdened in all 50 of the largest metropolitan areas, ranging from 61% of ELI renter households in Boston, MA to 86% in Las Vegas, NV.

All 50 of the largest metropolitan areas also have a shortage of available rental homes affordable at 50% of AMI. The supply ranges from 22 (Los Angeles, CA) to 84 (Cincinnati, OH-KY-IN) affordable and available rental homes for every 100 VLI renters. Thirty-five of the largest metropolitan have a shortage of affordable and available homes at 80% of AMI, and 11 of them have a shortage at median income.

CAUSES OF THE HOUSING SHORTAGE FOR THE LOWEST INCOME RENTERS

The private market rarely produces new rental housing affordable to the lowest income households without public subsidy. On average, the most an unassisted four-person ELI household can afford to pay in monthly rent without experiencing a cost burden is $507 (National Low Income Housing Coalition, 2016). New apartments typically require rents higher than this amount to cover development costs and operating expenses. The median rent for an apartment in a multifamily structure built in 2015 was $1,381 per month (Joint Center for Housing Studies, 2016).

Some argue that any new housing development, including high-end rental homes, can help address the shortage of housing for low income renters through a process known as filtering. The filtering theory suggests that new development results in a chain of household moves: higher income households move into new, more expensive homes, leaving behind their older and presumably less expensive housing, which is then occupied by other households who leave even older housing behind, and so on. Eventually this process is assumed to increase the availability of the oldest and lowest priced housing to low income renters.

Filtering, however, fails to increase the availability of housing affordable to the lowest income renters (Apgar, 1993). Housing rarely becomes cheap enough for them to afford. In strong markets, owners have an economic incentive to redevelop their properties for higher income renters. In weak markets, owners have an incentive to abandon their properties when rent revenues no longer cover basic operating costs and maintenance. From 2003 to 2013, filtering increased the supply of low-cost rental units with monthly rents of less than $800 by 4.6%, which was not enough to offset the permanent loss of other similarly priced units (Joint Center for Housing Studies, 2016).

Meanwhile, federal subsidies on which developers most often rely to produce new affordable rental housing are not designed to serve ELI households. These programs include LIHTC, the HOME Investment Partnerships Program (HOME), and the Federal Home Loan Bank's Affordable Housing Program (AHP). While these programs serve an important purpose, fewer than 48% of LIHTC units are occupied by ELI households (U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), 2016a); since 1992, less than 44% of rental homes funded by HOME have been initially occupied by ELI households (HUD, 2016b); and in 2014 and 2015, 23% and 27% of new rental units receiving AHP funding were affordable to ELI households (Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA), 2015; FHFA, 2016).

Maximum rents in the LIHTC and HOME programs are tied to the maximum allowable household income rather than tenants' actual income, resulting in rents that can be higher than 30% of ELI households' income and what ELI households can afford without additional housing assistance. The maximum LIHTC rent must be affordable to households with income at 50% or 60% of AMI, while HOME maximum rent must be affordable to households with income no higher than 50% or 65% of AMI. Two separate studies found that approximately 70% of ELI households living in LIHTC housing relied on additional rental assistance, such as vouchers, to afford their home (Furman Center, 2012; Bolton et al., 2014).

ELI households are better served by deep subsidies determined by the tenant's income. These subsidies cover the difference between a household's rental cost and what the tenant can afford to pay, set at 30% of adjusted income. Deep subsidy programs include Housing Choice Vouchers, Public Housing, Project-Based Rental Assistance (Section 8), Section 202 Supportive Housing for the Elderly, Section 811 Supportive Housing for People with Disabilities, and Permanent Supportive Housing. Unfortunately, these programs are not funded at the level needed to serve all of the nation's lowest income renters.

INVESTING TO MEET OUR MOST CRITICAL HOUSING NEEDS

ELI renter households face a critical shortage of affordable and available rental homes, resulting in severe housing cost burdens and housing instability. Significant investment in the production of ELI housing would greatly reduce housing cost burdens among ELI renter households and help higher income households as well. Of the nation's 11.4 million ELI renter households, nearly 7.9 million occupy housing above their affordability range. Approximately 2.4 million live in rental homes not affordable to them but affordable to VLI renters, 4.1 million live in rental homes affordable to LI renters, and slightly fewer than a million live in homes affordable to MI renters (Figure 6). These rental units could become available to households who can better afford them if new production provided housing to which ELI households could afford to move.

NLIHC supports the realignment of federal housing expenditures to meet our most critical housing needs. Currently, higher income homeowners receive a significantly greater share of federal housing expenditures than low income renters, predominantly through the mortgage interest deduction (MID) (Fischer & Sard, 2016).

Homeowners are eligible to subtract the interest paid on their mortgage from their federal taxable income if they itemize their deductions rather than claim the standard deduction. The MID is a federal tax expenditure of more than $65 billion per year, 84% of which goes to households with annual income greater than $100,000 (Joint Committee on Taxation, 2017). By comparison, less than $38 billion was spent on all of HUD's housing programs for the lowest income households in 2014, including Public Housing, Housing Choice Vouchers, Section 8 Project Based Rental Assistance, Section 202 Supportive Housing for the Elderly, and Section 811 Supportive Housing for People with Disabilities (Fischer & Sard, 2016).

The NLIHC-led United for Homes (UFH) campaign proposes greater investment in housing programs for the lowest income households with savings from modest MID reforms. The UFH campaign proposes reducing the amount of a mortgage eligible for a tax benefit from $1 million to $500,000 and converting the deduction to a non-refundable tax credit. The reduction to $500,000 would impact few homeowners (NLIHC, 2015). The conversion of the deduction to a tax credit would result in a tax cut for nearly 25 million homeowners who currently don't itemize their deductions or don't get the full benefit of MID (Lu & Toder, 2016). These two reforms, phased in over 5 years, would generate $241 billion in new revenue over ten years to invest in affordable housing programs (Lu & Toder, 2016), such as the national Housing Trust Fund (HTF), vouchers, and other subsidy programs that serve ELI households.

The national HTF was designed and created precisely to fill the gap of rental homes affordable to the lowest income households. In 2016 the first allocation of HTF dollars was distributed to the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and the U.S. territories. At least 90% of HTF funds must be used for rental housing and at least 75% of the funds for rental housing must benefit ELI households; 100% of HTF funds must benefit ELI households while the HTF is capitalized under $1 billion a year. The HTF is funded by a small mandatory contribution from Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, based on the volume of their business. The HTF received nearly $174 million in contributions in 2016. While a step in the right direction, the national HTF needs much more revenue to meet the housing needs of ELI renters.

Tenant-based vouchers are another important, and underfunded, approach to meeting the housing needs of ELI renters. At their best, they give recipients an opportunity to afford quality housing in a neighborhood of their choice. Recipients find a rental home and contribute 30% of their income toward housing costs. The voucher pays the remaining costs up to the local housing agency's payment standard. Vouchers typically cost less than new housing production, making them a preferred form of housing assistance in weak housing markets with an abundance of vacant, physically adequate housing.

Barriers exist, however, that can make it difficult for recipients to use their voucher, particularly in strong housing markets. The payment standard for HCVs is approximately the Fair Market Rent (FMR), set at the 40th percentile of rents for current movers. FMRs are published by HUD each year for every metropolitan area and nonmetropolitan county. A single FMR, adjusted for number of bedrooms, is applied throughout an entire FMR area, despite varying rents within the area. This standard constrains recipients to neighborhoods and localities with lower housing costs. Anecdotal reports from high-cost areas in California indicate that a high percentage of voucher holders transfer (or "port") their vouchers from high-cost jurisdictions to less costly ones.

HUD recently published a rule requiring local public housing agencies in 24 metropolitan areas to use Small Area FMRs to set voucher payment standards. Small Area FMRs reflect rents for U.S. Postal ZIP Codes within metropolitan regions. HUD's intent with Small Area FMRs is to better align voucher payment standards with neighborhood-scale rental markets, resulting in relatively higher subsidies in higher opportunity neighborhoods with more expensive rents and lower subsidies in less costly neighborhoods. Small Area FMRs are expected to help households use vouchers in a broader range of neighborhoods.

Vouchers' effectiveness could be further improved with additional reforms. Regional voucher administration would enhance mobility and reduce administrative costs; protection against discrimination based on source of income would make available more rental homes to voucher holders, because landlords in many jurisdictions are now free to refuse vouchers; and in high-cost areas, cost-based vouchers matched with new production would stretch current voucher funding to a larger number of eligible households.

NLIHC also supports efforts to expand and reform LIHTC, the nation's largest affordable housing production subsidy. Important improvements to better serve ELI households include a 50% basis boost in tax credits for developments that set aside at least 20% of their housing units for ELI renters, and income averaging, which would allow a development to use tax credits to serve households with income up to 80% of AMI, as long as the average household income limit of the development is either 50% or 60% of AMI. These reforms were included in a comprehensive bill, “The Affordable Housing Credit Improvement Act” (S. 3237), introduced in the 114th Congress by Senators Maria Cantwell (D-WA) and Orrin Hatch (R-UT).

Funding to preserve the existing federally assisted housing supply is also essential. Public Housing, Section 8 Project-Based Rental Assistance, Section 202 Housing for the Elderly, and Section 811 Housing for People with Disabilities provide affordable housing to more than 1.7 million ELI households (HUD, 2015). Unfortunately, nearly 46,000 rental homes subsidized by Section 8 Project-Based Rental Assistance were lost from the affordable stock between 2005 and 2014, because owners opted out of the program (Ray, Kim, Nguyen, & Choi, 2015). And despite its critical role in providing much needed housing to low income renters, Public Housing received $1.6 billion less for operations in 2016 than in 2010. Funding used to repair and renovate the public housing stock has declined by 53% since 2000 (Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, 2016).

CONCLUSION

ELI renter households face a shortage of 7.4 million affordable and available rental homes. Seventy-one percent of them spend more than half of their income on housing, accounting for nearly 73% of all severely cost-burdened renter households in the U.S. The possibility of tax reform in the coming years provides the opportunity to realign federal housing expenditures to meet this critical housing need. This realignment includes reforming the MID, which overwhelmingly benefits higher income households who need assistance the least, and investing the savings in housing programs that serve those who need it the most, such as the HTF and rental assistance programs. We also have the opportunity to expand and reform the nation’s largest housing production subsidy, LIHTC, to better serve ELI households. In short, the billions of dollars in federal housing expenditures must be rebalanced to serve those most in need.

ABOUT THE DATA

This report is based on data from the 2015 American Community Survey (ACS) Public Use Microdata Sample (PUMS). The ACS is an annual nationwide survey of approximately 3.5 million addresses. It provides timely data on the social, economic, demographic, and housing characteristics of the U.S. population. PUMS contains individual ACS questionnaire records for a subsample of housing units and their occupants.

PUMS data are available for geographic areas called Public Use Microdata Sample Areas (PUMAs). Individual PUMS records were matched to their appropriate metropolitan area or given nonmetropolitan status using the Missouri Data Center’s MABLE/Geocorr12 online application. If at least 50% of a PUMA was in a Core Based Statistical Area (CBSA), we assigned it to the CBSA. Otherwise, the PUMA was given nonmetropolitan status.

Households were categorized by their income relative to the metropolitan area’s median family income or state’s nonmetropolitan median family income, adjusted for household size. Housing units were categorized according to the income needed to afford the rent and utilities without spending more than 30% of income. The categorization of units was done without regard to the incomes of the current tenants.

More information about the ACS PUMS files is available at <https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/acs/technical-documentation/pums/about.html>

I was not able to stay for public comment 2/28/2017 so I would like to submit the following.

My name is Pam Tau Lee and I am a resident (District 1) who has spent over 25 years fighting for environmental justice and the eradication of environmental racism.

I was one of the original contributors to the 17 Principles of Environmental Justice ratified in 1991 in Washington, D.C.

I am here as an individual to urge the Board to take action to Defund/Divest from businesses that fund the DAPL.

I appreciate that the Board passed a resolution last October in support of the struggle at Standing Rock and in December passed a resolution sanctioning Wells Fargo. But the escalation of violence, the by-passing of a properly conducted environmental impact statement has drawn the attention of the nation and the world. The issuing of the Presidential Memorandum on the Dakota Access Pipeline is a direct assault on the local communities and their clean drinking water. It will escalate global warming; the flow of fracked oil through this pipeline will cause an annual CO2 emission equivalent to 29 coal-fired power plants. It will not provide huge numbers of good, healthy jobs; instead, 40 permanent jobs is the result of a completed pipeline. In the construction of the pipeline several hundred workers are employed in temporary, dangerous jobs that keep them away from their families for months at a time. The negative toll on these families is not worth the profits that flow to the executives and share holders of this dirty polluting industry. Just today, 2/28, a leaked memo shows that the President is prepared to order an economic review of the Clean Water Act. I am terrified of what will come from this review. There is an urgency for San Francisco to take action to unite now with the growing movement to put pressure on the dirty energy industry where it hurts, in their pocket book. DeFund/Divest actions can do this.

Defunding/ divesting would be consistent with the City's commitment to renewable energy programs. But I know that this will be a tremendous undertaking. I know because even closing our family account from Wells Fargo and now moving my community organization's funds out of Chase has been difficult and nerve wracking. But we are doing it because it is the right thing to do.

I appeal to you to meet with us to better understand what we are proposing and work with you. We would do what we can to draw in resources to advise on this legislative effort and support with outreach and education.

This week the President signed an executive order that will basically dismantle decades of work to protect public health and the environment. After signing the order he handed the pen to the CEO of Dow Chemical. What does this have to do with DeFund/Divest DAPL? The actions by this President is all about profits over the environment, global warming, the health of the people. The DeFund/Divest movement is bringing cities, tribes, organizations, unions, and regular people together in a concrete way to hit the polluters where it hurts. We in San Francisco can and must step up and join this might movement. I trust the Board can lead the way.

Thank you,

Pam Tau Lee <ptlee14@gmail.com>

RiseUpToAction

Feb. 27, 2017

Open Letter to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

We are San Francisco residents and members of a recently formed citizens' group — RiseUpToAction — working to oppose President Trump's destructive, un-American policies and pronouncements.

One immediate concern is the controversial Dakota Access Pipeline project, which is moving ahead by virtue of President Trump's executive order despite safety concerns expressed by the Environmental Protection Agency and others.

Unlike San Francisco, a growing number of municipalities have responded to this issue -- including Seattle, Minneapolis, Philadelphia, and, locally, Alameda and Davis -- which are reportedly moving to cut ties with banks which continue to finance the project.

Recently we contacted one San Francisco Supervisor, hoping to get the issue on the board's agenda. We were told that while the Supervisor would support such an effort, "We don't have the capacity at this moment to lead on this."

Neither, it seems, do other San Francisco Supervisors. According to another organization, the San Francisco Defund DAPL Coalition, other Board members were approached to work with the group on a divestment ordinance. "While supportive, they have expressed to the Coalition that they are at capacity and cannot sponsor the ordinance," the group states on its Facebook page.

Like the Coalition, we, too, appreciate the support, but also, in its words "are saddened that they do not share our sense of urgency." We would add that San Francisco has not been slow in the past to sanction financial institutions where appropriate.

We hope this letter might move our elected representatives to reconsider their position. We look forward to being at the Board's next scheduled meeting, this coming Tuesday, February 28.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Subject: No to Muslim Registry & Urban Shield; Solidarity with Standing Rock

Dear Supervisors,

In your response to the election of Donald Trump you stated that San Francisco would remain a sanctuary city. With the growing threats against undocumented immigrants and Muslim and Arab communities you stand firmly against the Executive Order on Immigration. And you have stood in solidarity with Standing Rock in enacting Resolution No. 465-16. I thank you for these efforts and ask you to take them further. I ask you to vote against compliance with the Muslim registry; to commit to your solidarity with native sovereignty struggles of Standing Rock and divest from financial institutions financing the Dakota Access Pipeline. And I ask you to withdraw San Francisco from the militarized Urban Shield training - the militarized SWAT competition and training and the weapons exposition of Urban Shield are a part of the ongoing attacks on immigrant, Muslim, black and brown communities. Approving funds for Urban Shield is in direct contradiction to taking steps to against Trump's Muslim registry.

Dear Honorable Supervisors,

On behalf of the Sacramento Police Department I am writing to support the annual Urban Shield emergency preparedness training exercise. Our SWAT teams have participated in this full scale exercise in different positions through the years. Several members of our organization have observed firsthand the tremendous value for all of the first responders, including fire, police, and emergency medical services. Additionally, there are thousands of community volunteers who come out and participate in a variety of capacities.

Urban Shield has been recognized by emergency managers across the nation and the world as the finest first responder training exercise. With recent incidents in the Bay Area from the Asiana Airlines Flight 214 plane crash at the San Francisco Airport, the San Bruno PG&E pipeline explosion, the Oakland Ghost Ship warehouse tragedy and a boat that capsized in the San Francisco Bay during Fleet Week where 30 people were rescued; public safety owes it to the communities we protect that our employees receive the best training in the world. The Urban Shield training exercise is based upon real world incidents and challenges every discipline to utilize the best training, tactics and equipment the industry has to offer.

I encourage you to please accept the UASI funding and support the Urban Shield training exercise.

Sincerely,

Brian Louie
Interim Chief of Police

With the growing threats against undocumented immigrants and Muslim and Arab communities you stand firmly against the Executive Order on Immigration. And you have stood in solidarity with Standing Rock in enacting Resolution No. 465-16. I thank you for these efforts and ask you to take them further. I ask you to vote against compliance with the Muslim registry; to commit to your solidarity with native sovereignty struggles of Standing Rock and divest from financial institutions financing the Dakota Access Pipeline. And I ask you to withdraw San Francisco from the militarized Urban Shield training - the militarized SWAT competition and training and the weapons exposition of Urban Shield are a part of the ongoing attacks on immigrant, Muslim, black and brown communities. Approving funds for Urban Shield is in direct contradiction to taking steps to against Trump's Muslim registry.

*Thank you,

Honorable Supervisor,

I am writing this email to show my support for the annual Urban Shield emergency preparedness training exercise. I have observed firsthand the tremendous value for all of the first responders, including fire, law, and emergency medical services. Additionally, there are thousands of community volunteers who come out and participate in a variety of capacities. To label this exercise as militarization of law enforcement is extremely short sighted. First responders need to be trained to handle mass casualty incidents and active shooter events. One need only look as far as San Bernardino to see that incidents, such as the scenarios demonstrated during Urban Shield, do happen.

Urban Shield has been recognized by emergency managers across the nation and world as the finest first responder training exercise. With recent incidents in the Bay Area from the Asiana Airlines Flight 214 plane crash at the San Francisco Airport, the San Bruno PG&E pipeline explosion, the Oakland Ghost Ship warehouse tragedy and a boat that capsized in the San Francisco Bay during Fleet Week where 30 people were rescued, we owe it to the communities we protect that our first responders receive the best training in the world. The Urban Shield training exercise is based upon real world incidents and challenges every discipline to utilize the best training, tactics and equipment the industry has to offer.

Please accept the UASI funding and support the Urban Shield training exercise.

Sincerely,

Lisa Holton

Subject: Revision 1: The Need for a Beekeeping Ordinance in San Francisco.

Revision 1: Added content, photo's, recipient and sender names.

Dear Mayor Lee, Supervisor Yee, Commissioner Chow, Commissioner Morgan and The SF Board of Supervisors,

We would like to bring to your attention that the current lack of a beekeeping ordinance in San Francisco has caused unforeseen negative consequences. Backyard hobbyist beehives have proliferated and we now have an exorbitant amount of bees and their excrement in residential neighborhoods throughout the city. (Please see exhibits A - F on pages 4 - 9) This presents the need for a City Ordinance to help integrate beekeeping into San Francisco's unique environment. Other bay area cities already have ordinances.

We are communicating with Supervisor Yee, Agriculture Commissioner Morgan, and Supervisor Tang about this subject. We wanted to make all of you aware of this issue and invite your input.

Many San Francisco neighborhoods consist of row houses that are approximately 20 ft. wide. The bees from the resident owned hives come into neighboring yards in large numbers. Some residents and their children have life threatening allergies to bee stings. A beehive can have 30,000 to 80,000 bees which increases the chances of a bee sting. Although the number of stings might be low, the life threatening result cannot be minimized.

While most people are aware of the impact of bee stings, very few people are aware of the bee excrement and how it impacts property and quality of life. (See exhibit B and C) It is always shocking to find out that bees can make such a mess. We are experiencing droppings on our clothes, bodies, cars, houses, windows, outside furniture and everything on our property.

Bees do not defecate in the hive, they do it after they leave the hive. The droppings, which contain honey and wax, are not easily washed off, costing the residents time and money. This is having a negative impact on our quality of life and damaging our property.

Many residents are unaware that the yellow dots all over their cars and homes, are bee droppings. These droppings are usually misidentified as being pollen from trees. With the proliferation of urban beekeepers, San Francisco residents are becoming aware and there will be more complaints.

Please see more photos pg 4-9.

We are aware of the plight of bee species and we are environmentalists, but an overpopulation of backyard hobbyists in residential neighborhoods is not saving the bee. There is a need for a beekeeping ordinance.

Here is a quote from the Peninsula Press:

Eric Mussen, a former apiculturist at UC Davis said, "Given the medical and emotional reactions bees can incite, cities may want to start updating or clarifying their regulations sooner than later. Interest in amateur apiculture is expanding rapidly nationwide."

Dr. Elina Lastro Nino from UC Davis said that having too many beehives in such close proximity can create competition for food and also spread disease among the bees.

This is not a problem like a dog in the distance barking. The bees are physically affecting our bodies, clothes, homes and property. When bees leave the hive it is hard to predict where they will go. They are wild insects. Just as San Francisco has ordinances for pets and does not allow the feeding of pigeons, we need to have an ordinance for beekeeping.

Many beekeepers do not understand the impact of their hives because he or she is not affected. The bees will fly past their homes and begin dropping on neighbors. Or the beekeeper parks his or her car in a garage and does not know how it feels to pick up a client in a bee excrement covered car. Or to have bee excrement land on their clothes and body. Some residents may not be affected, but many end up in the flight path of several thousand bees and the impact is severe. Someone with life threatening allergies is restricted from using their own property.

We never had a problem with bees or their droppings and swarms until they were brought into our neighborhood by bee hobbyists. Some of our residents have lived here for over 40 years. Ron Sutton, said that the bees from his next door neighbor have swarmed in his yard. He was afraid to go outside. While he was talking about this, bee excrement landed on his head.

We feel we should have the right to protect our health, bodies, and our property from these man-made hives that are being brought into densely populated residential neighborhoods.

Many cities in the bay area have implemented ordinances. Some of the Beekeeper's Clubs have approached the cities to loosen these ordinances. The Supervisors or City Council are not made aware of the consequences of bees in a residential zone and some have loosened their ordinances.

Currently the 311 telephone number directs bee complaints to the SF Bee Association. They are a voluntary group and will remove swarms and also try to get a beekeeper to move the hive to another location if a resident complains. Some people have tried calling the Dept of Health, but the main phone is rarely answered and people get discouraged. Therefore many complaints go unrecorded.

The SF Bee Association has a code of conduct asking beekeepers to respect neighbors and many of the professional beekeepers say that when a neighbor is being negatively impacted they should move the hive. While that is great, it does not always work.

Other Bay Area Cities have recognized the impact of urban beekeeping and have taken action to manage the issue. Some cities require permits anywhere from $25 to $250. They also require the beekeepers to take classes about beekeeping and follow a guideline called "best management practices," and if there are complaints, the hives must be moved. Also applicants need to get written permission from neighbors.

-The City's of Tiburon and Palo Alto require a permit and signatures of non-objection from adjacent neighbors. (The form should inform the neighbors of the impact of high numbers of bees and their excrement.)

-Some cities have lot size requirement and many cities require beekeepers to follow the "Best Management Practices." Palo Alto requires a hive be 25 ft. away from property lines, but that does not prevent the bees from going into or flying over and dropping on nearby properties.

- Foster City and Gilroy ban beekeeping.

- Pleasanton- Neighbors must be notified and an application will be rejected if a neighbor is allergic to stings and lives within 100 feet, said Adam Weinstein, City Planner.

Most ordinances state that Beehives should not be placed near public walking paths and gathering places (sensitive areas). The Sunnyside Conservatory (Exhibit A: 236 Monterey) has resident owned beehives on both sides. This is a place where weddings take place and children gather. A woman who has a life threatening allergy to bees lives behind one of the beekeepers. Also, the residents around these hives are being severely impacted.

We need to have a recourse when beekeepers do not want to move their hives. Some claim that the droppings and bees could be coming from a feral hive, but all the residents agree that the problem began at the same time these large man-made hives were brought into the neighborhood. This is happening throughout the city.

The Department of Health should have the authority and staff to deal with complaints. I have spoken with Cree Morgan, the SF Agriculture Commissioner, and he feels he has no authority to mitigate this problem and complaints without a new ordinance.

Hopefully we can create an ordinance that will work for the residents and beekeepers. We need to be able to address complaints and make sure hives are not put in "sensitive areas." Also, if residents experience negative impact they should be able to have their complaints heard and resolved, and have the hives moved to a more suitable site.

As residents of San Francisco we want to make the Health Commission, the BOS and the other pertinent departments aware of this situation so you will be able to work with The Department of Health and the Agriculture Commissioner, and possibly Supervisor Yee, to implement an ordinance. We would like to stay informed and contribute.

Cree Morgan, our new Agricultural Commissioner, is aware of our concerns and we hope he and his staff will help draft something that will help protect the residents of our great city of San Francisco.

See Exhibits A-F below on pages 4-9.

Exhibit A: This is a satellite view of our neighborhood to show how densely populated it is. The red X's are hives (there might be more). A couple hives have been moved, but many residents are still impacted due to the high numbers of bees and the flight pattern of the bees. Most of the houses on this block are approx. 20 ft wide. This is just one block in San Francisco. This is happening throughout the city. There is also a public park where weddings take place and children gather. Resident owned hives are on both sides. The residents on this block and beyond are being severely impacted. Especially the properties in the flight path such as the residents north of the hives. There is also a woman who lives directly behind and next to the hives who has a life threatening allergy to bees and carries an EpiPen. She was never informed when the hives were brought in. Beekeepers, The Dept. of Health, and residents have no way of knowing how many hives are already in the neighborhood.

X = Hive Location

Exhibit B: This car was parked in our neighborhood. It shows the accumulation of Bee excrement (yellow dots). This is how much lands on our homes, cars, outdoor living space and fixtures in just a couple of months or less. It does not wash off with a hose. The droppings can corrode paint and other outside fixtures. It also lands on our clothes and bodies when outside. You can see this throughout the city and it usually occurs if the homes are near a beekeeper.

Exhibit C: A resident's window. This is only a few weeks after the owner had to use a scraper to get the bee excrement off. You can imagine what a few months would look like.

Exhibit D: Here are photos of what is inside each of the drawers of a hive. Many bee owners have several more hives that are taller with more drawers. Beekeepers and The Dept. of Health have no way of knowing how many hives are already in a residential neighborhood. Beekeeping is complex and many people buy hives without the proper training. There was a time when Beekeeping was limited to rural Agricultural Zones.

Exhibit E: Thousands of bees swarmed a truck on Geary Street in San Francisco, Calif. on Thursday, July 21, 2016. (Photo submitted to KGO-TV by Theron Kabrich)
This happens many times throughout SF. It has happened in our neighborhood. The people in this news report didn't know where they came from, but beekeepers have put their hives on top of Hotels, Restaurants and Homes.

Exhibit F: Below is an excerpt from the neighborhood social site NextDoor.com. You can see where people misidentify the bee droppings at first.. At the bottom you see where residents are extremely frustrated. This is from 2013 and shows that this has been a problem for a long time.

PG&E came through and are fixing my curb. I put the claim through on line, had an email exchange around who was responsible and low and behold they came out to fix it. Also turns out what I thought was concrete splashes on my house is actually bee poop form neighbors hives.

Thanks to neighbors Heather and Andy for asking their son help clean it off.

Hi Tony....I, plus all my neighbors in this imediate area, have the bee poop problem also from a neighbor who raises bees. We are in what is termed "the flight path". It's been a problem for over 7 years....poop all over windows, house siding, cars parked outside, patio furniture and don't even think about hanging clothes out to dry. It's difficult to remove. Does anyone have any suggestions as to how this can get some resolve? There is no ordinance as to how many hives can be kept on a lot in the City. I totally understand the importance of bees....I lived in the Central Valley for years surrounded by cherry orchards...however, I feel, that since we live so close together, we all need to be respectful of each others space. Any sugtestions to this long time problem would be appreciated...thanks.

I'm glad to hear that things worked out for you with PG&E, Tony.

Subject: about the planned "the Comfort Women Memorial Statue" and its plaque texty

Dear Board of Supervisors of San Francisco,

Please allow me to submit my opinion about the planned "the Comfort Women Memorial Statue" and its plaque text in relation with the information that the city of Atlanta recently dismissed the proposal of the erection of the comfort women statue in the complex of its Center for Civil and Human Rights.

The approved plaque text which says, "over 200,000 women and girls, so-called 'Comfort Women,' who were sexually enslaved by the Japanese Imperial Armed Forces in thirteen Asian-Pacific countries from 1931 to 1945. Most of these women died during their wartime captivity" (http://sfgov.org/arts/sites/default/files/CWMC_Plaque_FINAL.pdf) is not true. This is discussed by many historians like Prof. Park Yu-ha of Sejong University of Korea who denied the above Korean common (mainly nationalist) but false view and has been under trial because of her book "the Comfort Women of the Empire". But she was ruled not guilty on 25 January, 2017. New York Times wrote her argument as follows; "she wrote that there was no evidence that the Japanese government was officially involved in, and therefore legally responsible for, forcibly recruiting the women from Korea, then a colony of Japan. She said Korean collaborators, as well as private Japanese recruiters, were mainly responsible for placing Korean women, sometimes through coercion, in the 'comfort stations.' She also said that life there included both rape and prostitution, and that some women developed a 'comrade-like relationship' with Japanese soldiers."

(<https://mobile.nytimes.com/2017/01/25/world/asia/korean-comfort-women-park-yu-ha-japan.html>)

Please refer to her abridged paper of her book "the Comfort Women of the Empire", 2013. (<http://blog.parkyuha.org/archives/4368>) Also please refer to the arguments by Prof. Sarah Soh of San Francisco State University ("The Comfort Women: Sexual Violence and Post colonial Memory in Korea and Japan, 2008.).

All these scholarly works deny those wordings as "over 200,000", "sexually enslaved", "forced" "by the Japanese Imperial Armed Forces", "thirteen Asian-Pacific countries", "1931-", and "most of these women died during their wartime captivity". These are utterly not based on the facts nor true.

In addition to those arguments, Japan has already expressed deep apologies many times since early 1990's and already in 1994 founded "the Asian Women's Fund" for the surviving ex-comfort women of several countries and made compensations, afforded medical expenses for more than ten years since its foundation. 60 Korean ex-comfort women received the support but some denied it. So for the final solution, in December, 2015, Japan and Korea reached the agreement for those ex-comfort women support expressing the apology from the prime minister of Japan. After this agreement about 80% of the surviving Korean ex-comfort women decide to receive the support and the work is going on now. Below link is the Japan Korea agreement at the Foreign Ministry of Japan. Please consult this also. http://www.mofa.go.jp/a_o/na/kr/page4e_000365.html

The comfort women statue is quite biased for the political utilization by the Korean people. I am sure it is not based on the facts found by the scholars and it implies to insult Japan for the political purpose. So it is quite inappropriate for the city monument of such a renowned city San Francisco.

Sincerely yours,

I am writing to request relief from the severe impacts of round-the-clock construction in the Rincon Hill neighborhood.

For several years now, residents of Rincon Hill have suffered from lack of sleep as a result of endless night construction. The City has been issuing night permits to construction projects as a matter of routine, without any regard for the thousands of residents in the area. In the past, the City acted responsibly, strictly limiting night construction permits; but that neighborhood protection policy has been abandoned, and now there is continuous noise all night long. It is time for the City and developers to act responsibly again and halt all night permits except those strictly required for special circumstances.

Additionally, there are heightened health risks from inconsistent enforcement of mitigation measures against dirt and dust.

Finally, construction sites require proper traffic control--something that has been sorely lacking around Rincon Hill.

Hello Tamra-

Please approve PUC's attached 12B waiver for Ventura County with regard to our Gartner Core Research Annual Renewal for May 1, 2017 through April 30, 2018 (RQUC17170131). This is a renewal of PUC's subscription to Gartner Core Research which offers objective insight on virtually any area of IT. PUC utilizes information from Gartner Core Research to make decisions regarding IT related matters

Gartner has a contract with Ventura County for a highly discounted government bulk purchasing rate which is no longer commercially available. Ventura extends this discounted rate to California agencies for a minimal processing fee.

As previously requested, I am cc'ing BOS on this email request.
