7 WHEREAS, On December 10, 1948, the General Assembly of the United Nations
8 unanimously approved the Universal Declaration of Human Rights; and

9 WHEREAS, The United Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), spearheaded by 10 Eleanor Roosevelt through her work as the first U.S. delegate on the UN Commission on 11 Human Rights, was the first international proclamation of the inherent dignity and equal rights 12 of all people; and

13 WHEREAS, The fundamental assertion of the UDHR is that an individual's mind and 14 conscience are sacred and unfringeable possessions, that pressure from any state, church, 15 or other group aimed at coercing consent is unacceptable, and that the individual's freedom of 16 conscience reigns supreme; and

17 WHEREAS, The UDHR recognizes the inherent dignity and inalienable rights of all 18 members of the human family as the foundation of freedom, justice, and peace in the world; 19 and,

20 WHEREAS, On the occasion of the United Nations' meeting in host-city San Francisco, 21 the San Francisco Board of Supervisors in April 1998 proclaimed San Francisco a Human 22 Rights City and adopted the UDHR and the International Covenant on Economic, Cultural and 23 Social Rights; and

Angela Calvillo,

I am submitting the following public comment on the resolution to be introduced today by Supervisor Campos on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights as advised by Carolyn Goossen in his office.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights with 30 articles was adopted by the United Nations in 1948 and spearheaded Eleanor Roosevelt. She understood that within any society the individual's rights must be protected. The UDHR proclaims the inherent dignity and equal rights of all people. It asserts people's civil rights, freedom of speech, freedom from arbitrary detention, freedom from discrimination, and many others. It asserts people's rights to the necessities of life, housing, healthcare, employment, and education. As Nelson Mandela stated on the 60th anniversary of the UDHR, "It is the foundation stone of all international human rights law and still holds enormous ethical value for all of us wherever in the world we happen to live."

Today, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights is more relevant than ever. Now is a time to join together in protecting the rights of all people.

Thank you,
