17 Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

18

19 Section 1. The Administrative Code is hereby amended by adding Chapter 96D,
 20 consisting of Sections 96D.1, 96D.2, 96D.3, and 96D.4, to read as follows:

21

22 CHAPTER 96D: PRESENTATION OF YOUTH CASES

23

24 SEC. 96D.1. BACKGROUND AND FINDINGS.

25

26 (a) As a result of multiple scientific studies on the neurological development of children and 27 young adults, and a shift in public opinion, the Legislature has, over recent years, approved several 28 pieces of legislation, signed into law, that have significantly altered the juvenile justice system in 29 California. The central focus is now rehabilitation and the best interest of the youth. For example,
 30 Senate Bill 823 (2020) stated: “It is the intent of the Legislature and the administration for counties to 31 use evidence-based and promising practices and programs that improve the outcomes of youth and 32 public safety, reduce the transfer of youth into the adult criminal justice system, ensure that

1 dispositions are in the least restrictive appropriate environment, reduce and then eliminate racial and
2 ethnic disparities, and reduce the use of confinement in the juvenile justice system by utilizing
3 community-based responses and interventions.”

4 (b) Further, Senate Bill 395 (2017) stated: “Developmental and neurological science 5 concludes that the process of cognitive brain development continues into adulthood, and that the 6 human brain undergoes “dynamic changes throughout adolescence and well into young adulthood”
7 (see Richard J. Bonnie, et al., Reforming Juvenile Justice: A Developmental Approach, National 8 Research Council (2013), page 96, and Chapter 4). As recognized by the United States Supreme Court, 9 children “generally are less mature and responsible than adults” (J.D.B. v. North Carolina (2011)
10 131 S.Ct. 2394, 2397, quoting Eddings v. Oklahoma (1982) 455 U.S. 104, 115); “they ‘often lack the 11 experience, perspective, and judgment to recognize and avoid choices that could be detrimental to 12 them” (J.D.B., 131 S.Ct. at 2397, quoting Bellotti v. Baird (1979) 443 U.S. 622, 635); “they ‘are more
13 vulnerable or susceptible to... outside pressures’ than adults” (J.D.B., 131 S.Ct. at 2397, quoting
14 Roper v. Simmons (2005) 543 U.S. 551, 569); they “have limited understandings of the criminal justice
15 system and the roles of the institutional actors within it” (Graham v. Florida (2010) 560 U.S. 48, 78); 16 and “children characteristically lack the capacity to exercise mature judgment and possess only an 17 incomplete ability to understand the world around them” (J.D.B., 131 S.Ct. at 2397).”

18 (c) As a result of the above legislation, and pursuant to section 202 of the California Welfare
19 and Institutions Code, juvenile courts and other public agencies charged with enforcing, interpreting,
20 and administering the juvenile court law shall consider the safety and protection of the public, the 21 importance of redressing injuries to victims, and the best interests of the minors in all deliberations.
22 Minors under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court shall receive care, treatment, and guidance
23 consistent with their best interests and the best interests of the public. Further, all punishment must be 24 consistent with a rehabilitative objective.

1 (d) The people of the City and County of San Francisco every four years elect a district
2 attorney, who has the duty to prosecute those who commit crimes and do harm to people and property
3 in San Francisco. Through this democratic process, the district attorney is selected, based not only on 4 candidates' respective legal credentials but also on their respective values and visions for the criminal
5 justice system, including the juvenile justice system. This ordinance intends to validate the sovereignty
6 of San Francisco voters in their selection of the district attorney and to ensure that, barring preemption
7 by state or federal law, the district attorney (including deputies acting on behalf of the district attorney)
8 is the only one who should make the decision of where and when to prosecute juveniles who have 9 committed crimes in San Francisco.

10 SEC. 96D.2. THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL.

11 The Police Department ("SFPD") shall consult with the San Francisco District Attorney
12 ("DA") on all juvenile delinquency cases in which California Welfare and Institutions Code Section
13 651 permits commencing proceedings in juvenile delinquency court in San Francisco Superior Court or 14 another county; provide the DA the opportunity to weigh the safety and protection of the public, the 15 importance of redressing injuries to victims, and the best interests of the minor; and provide the DA the 16 opportunity to decide whether to file a petition in the San Francisco Superior Court. SFPD shall not
17 present a case covered by this Section 96D.2 to a district attorney in another county without the DA's
18 (or DA designee's) consent.

19 SEC. 96D.3. UNDERTAKING FOR THE GENERAL WELFARE.

20 In enacting and implementing this Chapter 96D, the City is assuming an undertaking only to 21 promote the general welfare. It is not assuming, nor is it imposing on its officers and employees, an 22 obligation for breach of which it is liable in money damages to any person who claims that such breach 23 proximately caused injury.

24 SEC. 96D.4. SEVERABILITY.
