2017 APPLICATION FOR YOUTH SEATS 2 AND 7 ON THE CHILDREN, YOUTH, AND FAMILIES OVERSIGHT AND ADVISORY COMMITTEE (OAC)

What is the OAC?

The Children Youth and Families Oversight and Advisory Committee (OAC) is an 11 member council created following the passage of Proposition C in November 2014. Proposition C approved the extension of the city's Children's Fund (now Children and Youth Fund) and Public Education Enrichment Fund (PEEF) for 25 years.

The Children's Fund was established in 1991 and sets aside a portion of the city's property tax to provide services for young people in San Francisco, mostly through the Department of Children, Youth and Their Families (DCYF). DCYF's main priority areas are in early care & education; out of school time; youth leadership, empowerment & development; family support; and violence prevention and intervention.

The Oversight and Advisory Committee includes three seats for youth members: Two members age 19 or under, and one seat for a transitional age youth age 18-24.

Members of the OAC are responsible for:

- Reviewing the budget, governance, and policies of DCYF
- Monitoring and participating in the administration of the Children and Youth Fund
- Taking steps to ensure that the Children and Youth Fund is administered in a manner accountable to the community

In short, members of the OAC make sure that the Children and Youth fund is put to the purpose that voters intended—providing the children and youth of San Francisco with high quality services and programs; and that the community has a say in decision-making about how the fund will be used.

“What is the time commitment? Is the position paid?”

The role will require a regular commitment of 5 hours a month, with extra time needed during some months. This includes:

- OAC meetings take place at least 6 times a year, but usually monthly, in the evening
- You will receive support and training from Youth Commission staff via monthly check-ins to prepare for upcoming meetings and OAC business
- Two daytime weekend retreats with youth commissioners to connect and build skills with other youth leaders in city government. Orientation retreat will be held Saturday and Sunday September 2nd-3rd 2017.

- There will be an opportunity to participate in the DCYF Youth Advisory Board (YAB) meetings, with other young people who help advise DCYF. There would be a $500 stipend for your participation in the Youth Advisory Board.
- The term for the seat is three years. If you are interested but have questions or concerns about the length of the term, please ask!

Who is eligible to join the OAC?

1. Must live in the City and County of San Francisco
2. Seat 2 must be a youth 19 years old or younger at the time of appointment.

Seat 7 must be a transitional age youth 18 through 24 years of age who is familiar with challenges faced by disconnected transitional-age youth, including those who are: homeless; have dropped out of high school; disabled; familiar with substance abuse issues; low-income parents; undocumented; new immigrant and/or English Learners; LGBTQQ; transitioning from foster care; or involved in the juvenile justice, criminal justice, or special education systems.

3. Must possess a social security number

A strong candidate will possess:

- Knowledge of and direct experience with after-school, summer, and youth-focused programs in San Francisco
- Interest in making systems and organizations work well and a desire to see that youth are being served well by the Children's Fund
- A passion for youth-inclusion in decision making
- Awareness of, and connection to, the diverse experiences of youth in San Francisco

HOW TO APPLY

Please submit a complete application to the Youth Commission (by fax, email, regular mail or in person). Applications will be accepted until the seat is filled, but the first review of applications to date will take place on July 12, 2017.

A complete application will contain:

- Completed and signed OAC Youth Applicant Information Form (below)
- Short Essay Question Responses (to questions below)
- Letter of Recommendation: Please provide a recommendation—a few paragraphs are sufficient—from a mentor who can speak to your involvement in youth programs and your ability to advocate for the community. They can include the information here, or submit a letter separately. Your recommender can be another youth leader or an adult.
- Resume (optional)
- If applying for Seat 7 (TAY seat): The Application for Boards, Commissions, Committees & Task Forces (attached here for those applying to Seat 7 only).

The Youth Commission will make recommendations to the Mayor about who to appoint for seat 2. The Youth Commission will also advise the Board of Supervisors of qualified candidates for seat 7. The Board of Supervisors and the Mayor will ultimately decide who to appoint to the OAC.

You will also be asked to attend a Board of Supervisors Rules Committee meeting when they review your application. Youth Commission staff will be available to help you prepare.

If you have questions about any of this or want to learn more, please contact the Youth Commission office at (415) 554-7112.

ESSAY QUESTIONS

- 1) What communities do you feel connected to and why? How would you represent the diversity of youth in the City and County of San Francisco? (Examples: Queer, Disabled, Homeless, Teen Parent, Low-Income, Immigrant). You are not limited to these choices. Please add your own.)

A few of the communities that I feel connected to are the Mission district, Bayview district, and low-income families. I feel a connection to the Mission and Bayview district because these are two districts where I have lived in for many years and these are also two communities that I feel need more representation in the San Francisco community as a whole. I also feel connected to the community of low-income families because as long as I can remember, my family has been considered low-income. With that being said, I am able to easily relate the struggles that other low-income families in San Francisco may face.

- 2) What special skills, insight and experiences would you bring to this position?

Some skills that I could bring to this position would be my teamwork and effective cooperation skills, as well as my ability to learn new skills quickly. The most valuable thing that I could bring to this position would definitely be my insights and experiences. Growing up in many communities around San Francisco that are considered under-represented; being the first out of my family to graduate from high school and the first to go to college; having a little brother and sister who were bound to be apart of the foster care system are just some of the experiences I have that will allow me to effectively speak upon and vouch for San Francisco's Youth and Children.

- 3) What are some of your past experiences as a participant or leader in youth-focused activities?

The past experiences that I have in youth-focused activities consist of my involvement in Black Student Union; my participation in various groups offered through Enterprise for Youth; and my participation in Young Community Developers summer program.

BSU has given me the opportunity educate my peers about black culture and issues facing the black community, throughout history and currently. Through Enterprise I had the opportunity to join two groups centered around professional development and leadership development. As apart of Enterprise I was able to get two different internships, including the current internship I have with Fort Mason Center for Arts & Culture. My participation in YCD's 2015 summer youth program, allowed me to explore career and college opportunities that are available to me. From all of the experiences I was able to gain knowledge and insight that I continue to utilize.

To whom it may concern,

This letter is being written in recognition of the outstanding contributions of Jada Curry as a community leader throughout San Francisco. After having known and worked closely with her for two-years, Jada has proven herself to be a resilient young lady, upholding all of the values one would expect from an aspiring leader, advisor. From her involvement in George Washington's High School AVID program (Advancing via Individual Determination) and her steadfast dedication our schools Black Student Union, I have seen her grow into an exceptional example of adolescent leadership ability and potential.

While I'm not a betting man, probability dictates that this young woman stood a better chance of becoming another victim of our nation's socio-political shortcomings, as opposed to the inspiring personality she's developed into in recent years. At the end of the day, this young woman isn't just motivated; she's driven to make something of herself and the community she hails from. This drive however, and in my opinion, is a result of her life experiences and circumstances.

Raised in a "tough" area of San Francisco, Jada is a half Black, half Puerto Rican daughter of a loving mother, whose biological father has been non-existent because of his imprisonment nearly a year after her birth. With that in mind, she's learned to survive in one of our nation's most expensive cities, that at times, feels as if it's purposely enabling the decay of its black community. Jada is a youthful adult who considers knowledge to be a figurative vehicle for social mobility and personal advocacy, as opposed to another example of institutionalized education falling short. In one of many cases, Jada's way of spreading knowledge and positivity to her fellow classmates at Washington was carried out by her active involvement in Black Student Union. Consistently, her leadership enabled the students of this student organization to complete goals in a timely fashion, inform and develop a school climate of positivity, and most importantly, it allowed Jada to hone her leaderships skills in such way that she identified the effectiveness of positive role modeling and personal communication as opposed to forceful diplomacy and pressure.

Furthermore, over the span of her Junior and Senior year, Jada evolved into not only an academically notable student but also, that of a driven individual seeking change in the communities she identifies with. Through her involvement in multiple clubs, multiple advanced placement classes, getting involved in extracurricular volunteering opportunities, tutoring lower classmen, and then study during lunch and/or after school on any given day, she has helped to establish and foster an academic culture of rigor and support in our schools AVID program and our school's campus. After exiting high school in May, Jada left as young woman that was a far cry from the young girl that showed up to school nearly 4-years prior. Now, she's a steely eyed, binder carrying, debate destroying, socially uplifting, private university attending, woman of color with a GPA of 3.5. This upcoming fall, Jada Curry will be attending the University of San Francisco, and there's no doubt that her experience and contributions there will be no less than the reputation that precedes her at George Washington High School. I have no doubt that she would make great contributions to the Oversight and Advisory Committee she's applying for. Behind her undisputedly awesome hair and big smile, is a girl that's driven not just to succeed, but also to compete – always ready to ask the question – what's next?
