7
8 WHEREAS, The Public Defender's Office, under the leadership of Jeff Adachi, 9 recognized a need to focus on youth and community building in order to prevent young people 10 from being clients of the Public Defender; and

11 WHEREAS, Mobilization for Adolescent Growth in our Communities program 12 ("MAGIC") was therefore co-founded in 2004 by the Public Defender's Office and leaders of 13 Bayview Hunters Point community-based organizations ("CBOs") to address and improve the 14 quality of life of Bayview Hunters Point children, youth, and families; and

15 WHEREAS, In 2006 MAGIC expanded to serve the Fillmore District and Western 16 Addition communities, forming Mo'MAGIC, with B'MAGIC serving Bayview-Hunters Point 17 (together, the "MAGIC Programs"); and

18 WHEREAS, San Francisco communities like the Bayview and Fillmore/Western 19 Addition, historically Black neighborhoods, have experienced massive outmigration, 20 sometimes leaving behind those most vulnerable and disadvantaged; and

22 people up to age 24, and their families, with a particular prioritization on the Black community 23 and low-income families; and

2 “backbone support organization[s],” identifying gaps in the system and empowering 3 community partners to address their needs; and

4 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs’ network is not only comprised of local CBOs but 5 also representatives from schools, District Supervisor offices, City departments, faith-based 6 organizations, neighborhood associations, and members of the public; and

7 WHEREAS, Beyond resource matching and assistance, the MAGIC Programs 8 successfully facilitate conversation and collaboration amongst service providers, youth and 9 their families, and community residents; and

10 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs bring together service providers to plan year-round 11 events with the goals of building strong community bonds, disrupting the school-to-prison 12 pipeline and decreasing violence in the community; and

13 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs expand their reach and bolster their ties in the 14 community and together work with over 60 CBOs and serve over 6,000 children, youth, and 15 their families annually; and

16 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs have created significant and lasting opportunities 17 for youth to grow, thrive, and succeed by holding trainings and workshops alongside 18 community building events and resource sharing programs like resource guides, backpack 19 giveaway events; literacy-based programs and events, and youth development programs; and

20 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs work to build the service capacity of CBOs, 21 schools, parents and guardians, and youth through resource mobilization, building social 22 capital, and facilitating community building opportunities; and

23 WHEREAS, Many of these communities served by the MAGIC Programs, particularly 24 Bayview Hunters Point, have a disproportionate number of youths who are held within San 15 community partner in the fight for juvenile justice; and

16 WHEREAS, This kind of prevention work is critical in conjunction with the juvenile 17 justice work done by the Public Defender's Office because it is disrupting the systems of 18 inequality and barriers that keep young people from becoming thriving adults; and

19 WHEREAS, Studies show that early prevention work helps to close the school-to-20 prison pipeline and research from the Justice Policy Institute has shown that effective 21 community-based programming can reduce recidivism by up to 22%, keeping youth and 22 communities safer; and

23 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs' work, in partnership with CBOs, leads to 24 diminishing youth interaction with the juvenile justice system; and

1 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs' work has been recognized by the Brennan Center

16 as backpacks and school supplies to over 45,000 k-12 grade students; and

17 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs pilot and create youth leadership and development
18 opportunities such as Bayview Youth Summit, Community Safety Initiatives, and the Mentor 19 Series which is now adopted under the City's Opportunities for All program; and

20 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs, as a unique blend of community and Public 21 Defender's Office-level advocacy, have been successful in creating platforms for collaboration 22 amongst youth networks as well as addressing service gaps and needs in the neighborhoods 23 they serve; and

1 WHEREAS, Additionally, MAGIC Programs provide critical resources to community 2 members such as job and internship opportunities, community-based training workshops, and 3 educational field trips; and

4 WHEREAS, The MAGIC Programs are critical to supporting and empowering the 5 Bayview Hunters Point and Fillmore/Western Addition communities; and

6 WHEREAS, Charter, Section 1.101 provides that all rights and powers of the City and
