(Form effective August 2014)

I currently volunteer with several organizations as well as run Smart Reentry Technology Initiative.

4. The person appointed to Seat 3 must have been released from custody within two years of his or her appointment. If you were released from custody within the last two years, on what date were you released? May 22 2013

6. What was your experience transitioning back to San Francisco after having been incarcerated? What helped you? What were the barriers?

My experience is ongoing as would be the case for most transitioning persons. My experience has led to the formation of Smart Reentry. The basic issues that I have encountered are the lack of accessible and accurate information tailored to the specific needs of the at risk population , ex offenders. My determination and resourcefulness to find all the services and opportunities available locally. The real barriers are the information silos and the lack of community between service providers and agencies both local and federal.

7. How can we help other people transition from prisons and jails more successfully? How can we help people permanently exit the criminal justice system? Access to information, Mentorship by ex offender organizations in partnership with NGO/CBO/FBO/ local government.

8. What do you hope that the Reentry Council will achieve? Progress to better assist ex offenders fight the constant pull of recidivism based on lack of opportunity and information to make good choices.

Supplemental Questions, William Dearmond

Question #6:

My transition has been taking shape for many years. It was apparent for years I was stuck in a life of crime and drugs because I had a fear of change. My last incarceration made it clear that I change or die a wasted life. My barrier was a habit of doing wrong for money. What helped were the services in San Francisco, particularly the counseling, the housing, and the opportunity to get help looking for work, Real Help.

Question #7:

The information an ex-con can reveal is unlimited in the knowledge of all the negative aspects of incarceration, and especially the continuing pain and despair that is automatic with recidivism. If an ex-con is truthful, absent machismo, his knowledge itself is a deterrent.

Question# 8: At the time my interest in working with the Re-entry Council is to learn, to hear what other members have to say, and to give my learned experience back, when it might be useful. I am especially interested in the implementation of Comprehensive Criminal Justice Reform, yet I am not sure where I can be most helpful. The Re-entry Council seems a good place to start.

To Whom It May Concern,

It is an honor to write this letter of recommendation for Dominique Leslie as a member of the Re-Entry Council. I could keep this letter simple by saying "trust me, just hire her and you won't regret it", but of course you need to hear more. I think when I am done, you will agree and bring her on-board to the Re-Entry Council. I only hope I can do her justice with this letter.

I came to know Dominique through our work on the San Francisco Hepatitis C Task Force. Dominique served as a co-chair of the Task Force. She ran great meetings: Kept the agenda moving while allowing ample time for discussion and debate. She was respectful of differing opinions and open to discussion on items that others might have shut down in frustration. She was professional.

But, I'm not all that impressed with "professional" if it is nothing more than a front, a display to further one's career. I have seen that a lot in my years in HIV, HCV, public health and harm reduction. Dominique was a strong and consistent voice for the underserved and criminalized populations most heavily impacted by HCV: people who use drugs, Transgender persons, HIV-infected persons, people of color and sex workers. And, of course, for people in jail and prison. She was a strong voice in our meetings. She was a strong advocate with representatives from the mayor's office, as well as other city officials. But most importantly, she was a strong advocate with the people she fought for. She was health educator and advocate with the community itself. It's a unique trait that I don't see often: She is as genuine and effective with the homeless person who injects drugs as she is with the Director of Public Health. Most importantly, she brings the voice and the needs of that homeless man into her meetings with policy makers.

There are other, more mundane skills that she has that also make her highly qualified for the Re-Entry Council. As stated previously, she is excellent in meetings. She's active. She participates. She contributes. As a member of the SF HCV Task Force, she knows how to work long-term and plan for the writing of reports and other materials. That's valuable experience that not many people will have. She knows San Francisco resources inside and out, and this was before her current job as housing resource specialist. In this position, she works with people in the SF jail system, links them with housing and helps keep them housed. She is keenly aware of the medical, social and psychological needs of men, women and Transgender persons leaving jails and returning to the community. She is brilliant on the medical and social needs of Transgender persons, and will bring a strong voice to the Council as an advocate for their needs both inside and outside of the custodial setting.

Ultimately, I ask myself: If I were on the Re-Entry Council (or re-starting the SF HCV Task Force which is more in my wheel-house), would I want her on it? The answer is unquestionably "yes"! It is for all of the reasons listed above, but its also for the intangibles: She is nice. She is funny. She is a supportive colleague. You get somebody with her personality, with all of the skills listed above and her passion for social justice for the underserved populations of San Francisco, and you have to snap her up. Dominique will be an excellent member of the Re-Entry Council, and will serve you and the community you serve very well.

Please call or email me with any questions or concerns.

Sincerely

Andrew Reynolds

Hepatitis C Education Manager

Dear Members of the Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to recommend Dominique Leslie for a position on the Reentry Council. I have known Ms. Leslie for nearly five years, having first met her when I worked at the San Francisco Department of Public Health when we were both appointed to the San Francisco Hepatitis C Task Force, a group created by then Mayor Gavin Newsom to make recommendations about how to strategically address the hepatitis C epidemic in San Francisco. Ms. Leslie and I both served on the Task Force as co-chairs.

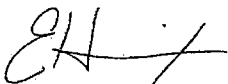

Working with Ms. Leslie on the Task Force, I was impressed with her commitment to improving the lives of everyone at risk for and living with the hepatitis C virus (HCV), and particularly with her commitment to addressing HCV in the lives of transgender individuals. Ms. Leslie brought her lived experience as a formerly incarcerated transgender woman living with HCV to the Task Force in ways that helped the group ensure that the recommendations were inclusive and relevant to all people at risk for and living with HCV in San Francisco.

As co-chair of the Task Force, Ms. Leslie demonstrated strong leadership skills, supporting the groups' efforts by developing meeting agendas, facilitating meetings, and working with me and the third co-chair to ensure the group stayed on track and met deadlines.

Given the unique issues facing reentry populations, and particularly the transgender and intersex reentry populations, I believe Ms. Leslie's combination of personal and professional experience and her commitment to improving the lives of San Franciscans will be valuable assets to the Reentry Council.

If you have any questions about my recommendation or would like additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me at huriaux@gmail.com or (510) 469-7941.

Sincerely,

Emalie Huriaux, MPH

Pursuant to Charter section 4.101 (a)1, please state how your qualifications represent the communities of interest, neighborhoods, and the diversity in ethnicity, race, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, types of disabilities, and any other relevant demographic qualities of the City and County of San Francisco:

I meet the qualifications for seat #2 because I am a former inmate in the San Francisco County Jail and the State of California Department of Corrections. I have experienced many obstacles during my own re-entry process and have many ideas to share.

I have also been involved on the other side of this process in my profession. I believe that my past experiences battling homelessness, and overcoming drug addiction and poverty have made me a great advocate for this diverse population.

Business and/or professional experience:

I am currently employed by the 5 Keys Charter School as the Re-entry Coordinator. Over the past 8 years I have worked with inmates housed in the San Francisco County Jail system. I complete thorough assessments to determine the level of care needed individually for successful re-entry into the community. I also provide other supportive services including referrals to residential treatment programs, available housing and job training programs.

Civic Activities:

I donate time to the Women's Re-entry Center and help in the planning of the annual Breast Cancer Awareness Event. I am also involved in the planning Resource Fair we are bringing into the county jail for both men and women which this year will include service providers and employers willing to hire felons. I advocate daily to get more services for this population by communicating this very important community safety issue.

3. The person appointed to Seat 2 must have expertise in providing services to individuals exiting the criminal justice system. Do you have experience or expertise in providing services to individuals exiting the criminal justice system? yes no If yes, please describe:

Since 2006 I have worked in the SF County Jail where I supported incarcerated students to achieve their post release goals regarding education, employment, family, recovery and community. This includes developing individualized re-entry plans to help the inmate identify his needs which may include placement into housing, substance abuse treatment, medical and mental health services and educational programs to further their education. I also network with other re-entry programs to collaborate to best serve this population.

4. The person appointed to Seat 3 must have been released from custody within two years of his or her appointment. If you were released from custody within the last two years, on what date were you released? _____

5. The person appointed to Seat 4 must have served multiple terms of incarceration. Multiple terms could include more than one term served in the same facility, or more than one term served in different facilities. Have you served multiple terms of incarceration? yes no

6. What was your experience transitioning back to San Francisco after having been incarcerated? What helped you? What were the barriers? My experience included going directly into treatment upon leaving prison. This helped me tremendously as I had no place to go. So I took the opportunity seriously and stayed there as long as possible. Looking back now I see that it was my determination and willingness that really opened doors for me. The criminal justice system helped as well. Programs like Prop 36 paid for trainings I needed to be allowed to do the work I do today. I believe if you do the work, the help will come. But we don't often see ourselves for what we really are. And in order to do this, we need help. This includes the walls we put up around ourselves. They must come down in order to get help.

7. How can we help other people transition from prisons and jails more successfully? How can we help people permanently exit the criminal justice system? Our biggest obstacle is housing and access to treatment beds. I believe providing more training and education while incarcerated will benefit the client yet it has been my experience it is almost impossible to change without help. It is also equally impossible to help another who feels that they don't need to change – they only need help. This type of change in thinking must start on the inside when they are for the most part sober and available to be present.

I also believe in coming up with a better way to share information between the many organizations providing these direct services would be extremely helpful.

8. What do you hope that the Reentry Council will achieve? In addition to more housing – I would say there is a need for medical coverage for treatment.

I also believe in coming up with a better way to share information between the many organizations providing these direct services would be extremely helpful.

I would like to add that I was on the Council from 2010-2012 where I was unable to fulfill my obligation due to an illness. I returned back to work earlier this year and would appreciate the opportunity to participate on the Council with new vigor. I have a great passion here and I am good at it. Thank you for your consideration!

6. What was your experience transitioning back to San Francisco after having been incarcerated? What helped you? What were the barriers? What helped me make a good transition back into the community after twenty-nine years of incarceration was the exit plan I had put together while in prison. I prepared myself for my eventual release, and did not attach a time line to events that would be unfolding in my future. I did not face any barriers per se. There were some emotion issues I had to grow through, and this process was a smooth one. Reaching out and networking with like minded people continues to allow me to navigate around potential obstacles.

7. How can we help other people transition from prisons and jails more successfully? How can we help people permanently exit the criminal justice system? We can help people transition from prisons and jails more successfully if we address their resource needs in advance of their exit from jail/prison. People are leaving jail/prison in great need, and without a plan on how they are going to be able to navigate the reentry maze in a sociably acceptable manner. But they must survive. So they exit jail/prison with the mindset of surviving any way they can. In order for people to exit the criminal justice system the tools must be provided to them to do so, BEFORE they exit jail/prison.

(Form effective August 2014)

8. What do you hope that the Reentry Council will achieve? It would take dedication, planning, hard work, and funding. But I would like to see The Reentry Council of San Francisco be the first to implement a pro-active and innovated pilot program, in one of the prisons, to address the resource needs of individuals exiting prison and returning to San Francisco BEFORE they are released from prison.

If necessary, please attach supplemental sheet(s) and/or attachments.

Dear Honorable Supervisors,

I humbly submit this application for consideration for reappointment to the San Francisco Reentry Council.

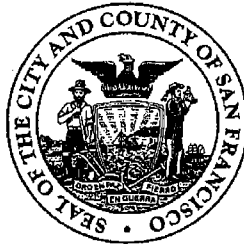

Since my initial appointment to the council I continue to maintain my interest and commitment to the reentry process. I am an active participant at all Reentry Council meetings, and I am presently chairing the Support and Opportunities Sub Committee.

Reentry is not an event; it is an ongoing learning process. I feel my brief time of serving on the council has not only benefitted me in my transition into the community, it has also benefitted the council by providing insight in how to better serve individuals being released from jail and prison.

Sincerely,

E. M. Kirwood
