Hi John,

Just letting you know that I was able to recommend approval of this PCN referral today. In case the referral isn't scanned and sent over to you in time for the next hearing, I've copied the approval language below.

"Type 21 ABC License is permitted with the approved Specialty Grocery use within the North Beach NCD and SUD; however, food manufacturing on site to constitute a "Specialty Food Manufacturing" use is not permitted and would disallow for an ABC license. Recommended for approval as per P.C. Sec. 722, 780.3, 102 and 703(d)."

The applicant is applying to ABC for a person to person and premises to premises transfer (double transfer) of the type 21 Off-Sale General license for the business to provide patrons the opportunity and convenience to purchase beer, wine, and distilled spirits for off-premises consumption while shopping at the store.

Italian wines and liqueurs will be the primary alcoholic beverage products that the store is planning to offer to patrons to compliment the groceries and food products available at the store.

The store's hours of operation are 11:00 am to 7:00 pm, each day of the week. Estimated percentage of alcoholic beverage sales, as compared to all other food and non-alcohol items, is estimated to be 5-10%. A copy of ABC form ABC-257, Licensed Premises Diagram and Planned Operation (Retail) is attached for your review.

SUBSTANTIATION FOR A POSITIVE FINDING OF PUBLIC CONVEINCE OR NECESSITY:

1. The issuance of the applied-for license would be a benefit to local residents who are within walking distance of the store from the nearby neighborhood residential areas surrounding the premises.

2. The issuance of the applied-for license would be a benefit to local residents who are within bicycling distance of the store from the nearby neighborhood residential areas surrounding the premises.
3. The issuance of the applied-for off-sale license would benefit local workers and business people who work in the immediate area who are within walking distance of the premises.

Current public transportation that serves the area is the San Francisco Municipal Railway with bus stops located across the street on Union Street and on both east and west sides of the 600 block of Columbus Avenue which is located within one block, northwest of the premises.

Other public transportation serving the area is a variety of established public taxi cabs and other taxi cab type services (Uber, Lyft, etc.).

5. The issuance of the applied-for off-sale license would benefit tourists and visitors to the North Beach area and the City in general. Tourists and visitors travel to the North Beach area from other neighborhoods within San Francisco, the Bay area, greater California and from other States, and persons from around the world.
6. The issuance of the applied-for license would benefit the public in general at this location for the premises is unique and there are no other like premises in the area that offers the groceries, prepared foods, freshly made pasta, and other products that this premises offers.

SUMMARY:

The premises will be a small specialty retail shop/grocery store that makes and sells fresh pasta which will provide unique food products for off-premises consumption for persons who live and work in the immediate area, and countless persons who visit and travel through the area. It would be a convenience to the public for the premises to be able to offer off-sale beer, wine and distilled spirits while they patronize the premises for its food, grocery, freshly made pasta and other products.

The Applicant wishes for the Board to consider the above facts and hopes that they find that the issuance of the applied-for Off-Sale type 21 Off-Sale General license would fulfill the public's convenience or necessity and allow the issuance of said license.

A new Italian general store by Tony Gemignani—12-time world pizza champion and owner of Tony's Pizza Napoletana (<http://tonyspizzanapoletana.com/>)—is now open in North Beach at 629 Union St. between Columbus and Stockton.

Giovanni Italian Specialties

(<https://www.facebook.com/GiovanniItalianSpecialties/>) carries handmade pasta, fresh foccacia, meat, cheese, imported goods from Italy, and other items.

The store is named after his son, Giovanni. "It's not like I was thinking about names—this really fell into my lap," he told Hoodline.

"I really felt like North Beach needed an old-world Italian specialties shop," said Gemignani. "It's sad to see some of these places go away, and I'm trying to bring them back."

In the new spot, he manufactures fresh pasta and pestos for use in his restaurants.

"I moved all the equipment from all stores into Giovanni Specialties, so we now make all our pasta for the stores there," he said.

"Essentially, I created a company that now sells to my other companies, and now you're able to sell it by the pound." Local restaurants that purchase his pasta include China Live (<https://chinalivesf.com/>) on Broadway.

Gemignani added that he's a fan of retail businesses, particularly "boutique specialty stores" in cities like Boston and New York.

"To be able to bring that flavor back to San Francisco, that was something that was important to me," he said. "We have great imported items. The fresh pasta is a big deal, so now people can come and buy our fresh pasta."

This weekend, the shop is hosting a pre-Thanksgiving tasting with Ritrovo Italian Foods, where guests can sample bites from Giovanni's menu, as well as some of Ritrovo spices and sweets.

Store hours are noon to 7pm daily.

SAN FRANCISCO RESTAURANT OPENINGS

Tony Gemignani's New Retail Store Has Fresh Pasta, Focaccia, and Detroit Pizza Pans

The Tony's Pizza chef calls it a one-stop shop

Fans of Tony's Pizza Napoletana can now have chef Tony Gemignani's fresh Italian food at home, and not just by ordering takeout. His retail store, Giovanni Italian Specialties, in North Beach now sells fresh pasta, sauces, focaccia, and specialty cooking implements. The store, named for the chef's three-year-old son, recently celebrated its grand opening, not a moment too soon for holiday shopping and Italian feast-creating.

So far, the biggest customer for Giovanni's is Gemignani himself. He's moved all pasta production from his restaurants to the shop, which makes about 150 pounds of pasta per day with three extruders going "pretty much on round the clock, 7 days a week, 8 hours a day." Gemignani also makes pasta for China Live, the nearby Chinatown restaurant, and for patrons who want fresh pasta to go. Along with sauces and meatballs, those have been the food store's hottest items in its first few weeks of soft-opening mode.

Beyond prepared food to-go or to cook at home, Gemignani's shop is stocked with specialty cooking tools, many geared toward (obviously) pizza. "You want a Detroit pan, or a Chicago deep dish pan, we have that, and pizza ingredients," Gemignani says. "It's your one-stop shop." He's also got books on making pizza — "and not just mine," the chef hastens to add, "but books on pizza history, and books from other restaurants."

At a time when longtime North Beach food businesses like Caffe Roma have closed or struggle to remain open, Gemignani has been celebrated by neighborhood locals for bringing back a bit of old North Beach.

“That’s been nice to hear,” the chef says. “People say, ‘30 years ago there were places like this all over North Beach.’” Now, thanks to Giovanni, there’s one more.

Tony Gemignani Opens Italian Specialty Shop In North Beach

BY KATIE SWEENEY | DINING + DRINKING, NEWS | DECEMBER 21, 2017

Giovanni Italian Specialties

Tony Gemignani is single-handedly bringing back the North Beach of another generation. The restaurateur and 12-time world pizza champion has opened his fourth location in the neighborhood, Giovanni Italian Specialties. "It's time to bring back an Italian specialties shop like the old retail stores you'd find in North Beach in the 50s, 60s and 70s," Gemignani told Haute Living. "I've been wanting to own a retail shop for years and years. My mom and I were always shopping when I was growing up, looking for little knick-knacks and I always wanted a place to call my own."

The selection of goods at Giovanni's includes local and international products and home-cooked favorites. The deli will offer a rotating assortment of to-go food items like fresh sauces, pasta, sandwiches, and meatballs. On weekends there will be specials of panzerotti (a small handheld savory pastry similar to a calzone), focaccia, and piadina (Italian flatbread sandwiches).

For last minute holiday gifts and events, Gemingnani says there are “customizable gift baskets and the charcuterie that we have are perfect if you’re hosting a party. We have a cold pasta salad that’s awesome, fresh mozzarella that you can make into a Caprese. Our Mediterranean olive mix is really hot. We also have a lot of imported cookies—Torrone, Swedish smoked pecans, some spiced chocolate almonds from a woman in the neighborhood. Our book selection and ornament selection are great. We also have a lot of olive oil and tomato ceramic dish wear.”

San Francisco-themed tea lights made by Katheryn Hedges of Splendid Colors

Gemignani hand-picked many of the goods which include linens from artisanal Venetian markets, locally produced ceramics, cookbooks by chefs who are his friends, and specialty pizza pans so cooks can enjoy Tony's Pizza Napoletana's grandma, Detroit, and Sicilian-style pizzas at home. The imported handmade olive oil is Gemignani's favorite item. "The containers are called Oliera or olive oil cruet and are handmade in Naples. If you are a pizza maker or someone into food it's the best thing you can get," he says. Other goods he loves? "Our wooden tartuffo shavers are also special, you don't see too many made out of wood, so they are pricey but super cool. Giovanni's has a lot of the little things you love as a chef or a home chef. Our gnocchi boards are nice as well. We also have special little wooden San Francisco tea lights, made for us by Katheryn Hedges at Splendid Colors. The ones we carry are selling out really quickly—they have cable cars, Coit Tower, and Washington Square Park on them."

Gemignani isn't the first in his family to open a store. His Portuguese family owned a general store in the 1940s in Campbell, CA.

The retail shop and deli is named after Gemignani's first and only son, Giovanni, who was born three years ago. It was at that time when Gemignani started visualizing his first store. "I don't think you realize what it means to have a son until you have a son. Until you're a dad you don't know what it's like. So it was amazing to be able to celebrate his birth and open up an idea with that concept."

Gemignani checks on the drying pasta

Giovanni's also serves as a central location for Gemignani's pasta-making facilities. Every day his team makes over 150 pounds of fresh pasta for his Bay Area restaurants and other local eateries, like China Live, which is around the corner. Being a prominent figure in the community is important to Gemignani. He hopes to bring a nostalgic style of service to a younger customer base. "Our approach is soulful, personable, and curated with old world style in a space with new world feel."

Giovanni Italian Specialties is now open 12 to 7 p.m. daily at 629 Union Street.

Hello Mr. Gemignani,

I have received and been assigned to review both your ABC Type 21 License referral, as well as your "PCN" referral also to add the referenced ABC license to the premises.

First, 629 Union Street is located within the North Beach Neighborhood Commercial District (NCD), as well as the North Beach Special Use District, which are regulated under Planning Code Sections 722 and 780.3, respectively. From the permit history, I see that Building Permit Application No. 2017.03.16.1651 was filed for the change of use from salon to the current retail store. This permit appears to have been approved by Planning on 3/16/17, and then there was a subsequent Planning approval on 8/4/17, with final issuance of the permit that same day, and CFC issuance on 12/19/17. In our approval language on the back of the permit, the use was characterized as a "specialty grocery", which is a principally permitted use within the North Beach NCD. Furthermore, I see that on 8/31/17, our Department also recommended approval of the DPH Health Permit referral for the business, again which was described in the application as, and approved to operate as a "specialty grocery".

Specialty Groceries, as defined in Planning Code Section 102, are permitted to have an associated Type 20/21 ABC License, provided that the area devoted to the sale and display of alcoholic beverages is limited to less than 15% of the occupied floor area of the establishment. So far, this probably all sounds good and makes sense to you, but here is where things start to get interesting.

As part of Ordinance 129-17, passed by the Board of Supervisors last year and effective on 7/30/2017, the North Beach SUD was amended to include the following definition and language:

780.3(b)(1) Specialty Food Manufacturing. A Commercial Use that includes the manufacturing and processing of foods on the premises for retail and/or wholesale sales and also provides a customer service counter for sale of such manufactured or processed food directly to the consumer. It may have seating as a minor and incidental use that occupies less than 15% of the Occupied Floor Area of the establishment. It includes, but is not limited to, bakeries, coffee roasters, confectionaries, chocolatiers, makers of homemade ice cream and handmade gelato or sorbet. It shall not provide any alcohol sales for consumption on or off the premises. (bolded for emphasis)

Additionally, in 780.3(c)(5) Specialty Food Manufacturing. Within the North Beach SUD a Specialty Food Manufacturing use, as defined in this Section 780.3(b), may only be permitted with a Conditional Use authorization on the Ground Floor or below. (bolded for emphasis)

In other NCDs in the city, it is possible for a business to have an accessory function of manufacturing, processing, and wholesaling foods or other goods; however, this is not seen within the North Beach NCD/SUD, which is instead governed by this new Specialty Food Manufacturing definition.

So, how does this all apply to your business, and where do you go from here? From the information you have provided, and additional research, it is clear that pasta production is part of your business model and is currently in operation on site. Officially, however, this aspect of the business should have been permitted as a distinct Specialty Food Manufacturing use as the ordinance was already in effect when approvals were issued. As this function has not been properly permitted, the business is currently not in compliance with the Planning Code, and I would advise you to file the necessary Conditional Use Authorization application in order to allow for such manufacturing uses on-site; it is likely this application would qualify for our more expedited "CB3P" review process. Failure to submit a CUA/CB3P application could result in future enforcement action by the Department. Of course, should you choose to pursue and obtain the required CUA for Specialty Food Manufacturing use however, you would then not be permitted to have any ABC license, based on the definition above.

Alternatively, you could choose to cease the manufacturing/production aspect of the business, and operate instead within the currently approved scope as a Specialty Grocery only. In this case, the Department could then recommend approval of a Type 20/21 ABC License.

I am at a public hearing this afternoon, but please let me know if you have any questions about this matter, and how you wish to proceed once you've had time to review. The application referrals will be placed on hold in the interim.

Thank you,

A new Italian general store by Tony Gemignani—12-time world pizza champion and owner of Tony's Pizza Napoletana (<http://tonyspizzanapoletana.com/>)—is now open in North Beach at 629 Union St. between Columbus and Stockton.

Giovanni Italian Specialties

(<https://www.facebook.com/GiovanniItalianSpecialties/>) carries handmade pasta, fresh foccacia, meat, cheese, imported goods from Italy, and other items.

The store is named after his son, Giovanni. "It's not like I was thinking about names—this really fell into my lap," he told Hoodline.

"I really felt like North Beach needed an old-world Italian specialties shop," said Gemignani. "It's sad to see some of these places go away, and I'm trying to bring them back."

In the new spot, he manufactures fresh pasta and pestos for use in his restaurants.

"I moved all the equipment from all stores into Giovanni Specialties, so we now make all our pasta for the stores there," he said.

"Essentially, I created a company that now sells to my other companies, and now you're able to sell it by the pound." Local restaurants that purchase his pasta include China Live (<https://chinalivesf.com/>) on Broadway.

This weekend, the shop is hosting a pre-Thanksgiving tasting with Ritrovo Italian Foods, where guests can sample bites from Giovanni's menu, as well as some of Ritrovo spices and sweets.

Store hours are noon to 7pm daily.

SAN FRANCISCO RESTAURANT OPENINGS

Tony Gemignani's New Retail Store Has Fresh Pasta, Focaccia, and Detroit Pizza Pans

The Tony's Pizza chef calls it a one-stop shop

by Caleb Pershan | Nov 20, 2017, 4:38pm PST

Fans of Tony's Pizza Napoletana can now have chef Tony Gemignani's fresh Italian food at home, and not just by ordering takeout. His retail store, Giovanni Italian Specialties, in North Beach now sells fresh pasta, sauces, focaccia, and specialty cooking implements. The store, named for the chef's three-year-old son, recently celebrated its grand opening, not a moment too soon for holiday shopping and Italian feast-creating.

So far, the biggest customer for Giovanni's is Gemignani himself. He's moved all pasta production from his restaurants to the shop, which makes about 150 pounds of pasta per day with three extruders going "pretty much on round the clock, 7 days a week, 8 hours a day." Gemignani also makes pasta for China Live, the nearby Chinatown restaurant, and for patrons who want fresh pasta to go. Along with sauces and meatballs, those have been the food store's hottest items in its first few weeks of soft-opening mode.

Beyond prepared food to-go or to cook at home, Gemignani's shop is stocked with specialty cooking tools, many geared toward (obviously) pizza. "You want a Detroit pan, or a Chicago deep dish pan, we have that, and pizza ingredients," Gemignani says. "It's your one-stop shop." He's also got books on making pizza — "and not just mine," the chef hastens to add, "but books on pizza history, and books from other restaurants."

At a time when longtime North Beach food businesses like Caffe Roma have closed or struggle to remain open, Gemignani has been celebrated by neighborhood locals for bringing back a bit of old North Beach.

“That’s been nice to hear,” the chef says. “People say, ‘30 years ago there were places like this all over North Beach.’” Now, thanks to Giovanni, there’s one more.

Tony Gemignani Opens Italian Specialty Shop In North Beach

BY KATIE SWEENEY | DINING + DRINKING, NEWS | DECEMBER 21, 2017

Giovanni Italian Specialties

Tony Gemignani is single-handedly bringing back the North Beach of another generation. The restaurateur and 12-time world pizza champion has opened his fourth location in the neighborhood, Giovanni Italian Specialties. "It's time to bring back an Italian specialties shop like the old retail stores you'd find in North Beach in the 50s, 60s and 70s," Gemignani told Haute Living. "I've been wanting to own a retail shop for years and years. My mom and I were always shopping when I was growing up, looking for little knick-knacks and I always wanted a place to call my own."

Delicious fresh Italian food can be found at Tony's new shop.

The selection of goods at Giovanni's includes local and international products and home-cooked favorites. The deli will offer a rotating assortment of to-go food items like fresh sauces, pasta, sandwiches, and meatballs. On weekends there will be specials of panzerotti (a small handheld savory pastry similar to a calzone), focaccia, and piadina (Italian flatbread sandwiches).

Shop for dried pasta at Giovanni's

For last minute holiday gifts and events, Gemingnani says there are “customizable gift baskets and the charcuterie that we have are perfect if you’re hosting a party. We have a cold pasta salad that’s awesome, fresh mozzarella that you can make into a Caprese. Our Mediterranean olive mix is really hot. We also have a lot of imported cookies—Torrone, Swedish smoked pecans, some spiced chocolate almonds from a woman in the neighborhood. Our book selection and ornament selection are great. We also have a lot of olive oil and tomato ceramic dish wear.”

San Francisco-themed tea lights made by Katheryn Hedges of Splendid Colors

Gemignani hand-picked many of the goods which include linens from artisanal Venetian markets, locally produced ceramics, cookbooks by chefs who are his friends, and specialty pizza pans so cooks can enjoy Tony's Pizza Napoletana's grandma, Detroit, and Sicilian-style pizzas at home. The imported handmade olive oil is Gemignani's favorite item. "The containers are called Oliera or olive oil cruet and are handmade in Naples. If you are a pizza maker or someone into food it's the best thing you can get," he says. Other goods he loves? "Our wooden tartuffo shavers are also special, you don't see too many made out of wood, so they are pricey but super cool. Giovanni's has a lot of the little things you love as a chef or a home chef. Our gnocchi boards are nice as well. We also have special little wooden San Francisco tea lights, made for us by Katheryn Hedges at Splendid Colors. The ones we carry are selling out really quickly—they have cable cars, Coit Tower, and Washington Square Park on them."

Gemignani isn't the first in his family to open a store. His Portuguese family owned a general store in the 1940s in Campbell, CA.

The retail shop and deli is named after Gemignani's first and only son, Giovanni, who was born three years ago. It was at that time when Gemignani started visualizing his first store. "I don't think you realize what it means to have a son until you have a son. Until you're a dad you don't know what it's like. So it was amazing to be able to celebrate his birth and open up an idea with that concept."

Gemignani checks on the drying pasta

Giovanni's also serves as a central location for Gemignani's pasta-making facilities. Every day his team makes over 150 pounds of fresh pasta for his Bay Area restaurants and other local eateries, like China Live, which is around the corner. Being a prominent figure in the community is important to Gemignani. He hopes to bring a nostalgic style of service to a younger customer base. "Our approach is soulful, personable, and curated with old world style in a space with new world feel."

Giovanni Italian Specialties is now open 12 to 7 p.m. daily at 629 Union Street.
