Pursuant to Charter, Section 4.101(a)(1), please state how your qualifications represent the communities of interest, neighborhoods, and the diversity in ethnicity, race, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, types of disabilities, and any other relevant demographic qualities of the City and County of San Francisco:

My education and job experience qualify me to serve on a committee dedicated to serving the needs of children and families in San Francisco. I've dedicated my working life to making the lives of children and families better. I have worked in SF since 1998 and will continue to do so as my son grows up in the public school system. I currently live in the Outer Richmond, I work in the Inner Richmond and my son goes to school in the Western Addition. In the time I've lived in San Francisco I've been privileged to work with a diversity of families, not just culturally but linguistically, economically and have served a range of parents of all ages as well as single parent families, grandparents raising grandchildren families, two moms, two dads and even the mom and dad family. I am dedicated to helping children from all backgrounds have access to high quality care throughout their 0-12 years, it's imperative that we invest in children and give them all opportunities to succeed.

Business and/or professional experience:

Upon arriving in San Francisco in 1998, I was hired as a teacher at the Associated Students Early Childhood Center at SF State where I also served as a California Mentor Teacher for students from City College and supervised SF State students in my classroom. In this position I learned a great deal about teacher training and my experience since then has shown me how the curriculum for ECE professionals needs to align children's curriculum with early learning standards as well as prepare students to be leaders. First and foremost, students need to learn by practicing teaching in high quality classrooms! In my work at First 5 Alameda as the School Readiness Program Manager, I was able to connect with a diversity of community members to increase children's readiness for school, not just in preschools but in churches and through summer programs. While working as the Program Manager of the Children's Campus at SF State, I made sure the full-time teachers received benefits and became salaried employees, recognizing that the investment in the teachers would increase the quality of the program. Now, having a child who is school-aged has opened my eyes to the world of school-aged care. Coming from an early childhood background I'm astounded at how much work needs to be done to provide high quality programming and teachers to aftercare programs across the city.

Civic Activities:

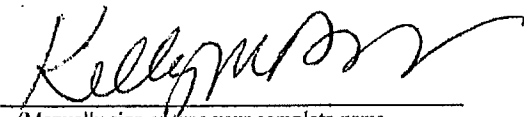

Many years ago I served on the Week of the Young Child committee along with September Jarrett and Carol Rector which was my first introduction to CPAC. In the years since I've always kept abreast of what's happening with CPAC via their list serv's. When I worked for First 5 in Alameda County, I attended the Alameda Child Care Planning Council meetings every month. I've found it's the best way to keep in touch with what's happening locally and with the state and federal governments for early care and education programs. While I currently work for a program that is privately funded, my interest in public funds for child care has always remained a constant. And now being a parent of a 5 year old kindergarten student who attends Creative Arts Charter School as well as aftercare, I have interest both professionally and personally.

I am seeking an opportunity to be involved with city early childhood initiatives and I feel that this is a perfect correlation of my two interests as parent first, and expert in the field of ECE second.

Kelly Dotson, CPAC Application, February 2016

I am applying to be on CPAC as representative of District 1 as a child care consumer. I am a parent of a 5 year old kindergarten student who attends Creative Arts Charter School as well as aftercare. Currently I work as the Site Director at the Rosenberg Early Childhood Center. I am seeking an opportunity to be involved with city early childhood initiatives and I feel that this is a perfect correlation of my two interests as parent first, and expert in the field of ECE second.

Upon arriving in San Francisco in 1998, I was hired as a teacher at the Associated Students Early Childhood Center at SF State where I also served as a California Mentor Teacher for students from City College and supervised SF State students in my classroom. In this position I learned a great deal about teacher training and my experience since then has shown me how the curriculum for ECE professionals needs to align children's curriculum with early learning standards as well as prepare students to be leaders. First and foremost, students need to learn by practicing teaching in high quality classrooms! In my work at First 5 Alameda as the School Readiness Program Manager, I was able to connect with a diversity of community members to increase children's readiness for school, not just in preschools but in churches and through summer programs. While working as the Program Manager of the Children's Campus at SF State, I made sure the full-time teachers received benefits and became salaried employees, recognizing that the investment in the teachers would increase the quality of the program. Now, having a child who is school-aged has opened my eyes to the world of school-aged care. Coming from an early childhood background I'm astounded at how much work needs to be done to provide high quality programming and teachers to aftercare programs across the city.

San Francisco needs to support all families better! Starting when their child is in the womb, parents worry about getting adequate time off to have and spend time with their newborn. Next is the challenge of searching for high quality affordable care for their child. Once they've sorted infant, toddler and preschool care, it's time to heading to kindergarten. Families have to take off time from work to tour, apply and interview. Once accepted, many public schools' aftercare isn't guaranteed and the quality of care is questionable and varies greatly from site to site.

Last week I went an early childhood event sponsored by The Re(a)d Zone, which is an early literacy initiative of the 50 Fund. After speaking with Norman Yee about the many ideas he has for early childhood in the city, and meeting a myriad of other literacy stakeholders from around the country, I realize that I'm ready to expand my early childhood community beyond preschool. I'm ready to advocate for children and families in whatever avenue I can to help our communities succeed. Serving on CPAC would allow me the space to broaden my scope of expertise while bringing my experiences to the table to help serve the children and families of San Francisco. I am committed to the diversity of this city and more importantly, committed to ensuring children and families have the same opportunities to succeed by providing them with high quality programs from 0-12.

I have attached my resume for more information on my early care and education experience. Thank you for your consideration.

San Francisco Child Care Planning & Advisory Council (CPAC)

August 2, 2017

Supervisor Fewer
District 1
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place
San Francisco, CA 94102-4689

Dear Supervisor Fewer,

The San Francisco Child Care Planning and Advisory Council (CPAC) is a State mandated policy and planning body appointed by the Board of Supervisors and the Board of Education to advise the City on early care and education issues.

The membership of CPAC is required to be comprised equally of 20% consumers, child care providers, public agency representatives, community representatives and discretionary appointees. The Board of Education (BOE) and the Board of Supervisors (BOS) appoint 12 members to the council. Per CPAC's bylaws, the BOE and BOS jointly appoint the final member to reach the mandated 25 person council.

Kelly Dotson currently represents District 1, but her term expires on September 14, 2017. I am happy that you had an opportunity to meet with Kelly during the budget process to discuss the early care and education issues facing District 1 and San Francisco. Kelly lives in District 1 and is the mother of a school age child who attends a charter school and participates in the out of school time program. In addition to her parent perspective, Kelly is the Site Director at JCC's Rosenberg Early Childhood Center. Her past professional experience also includes serving as a California Mentor Teacher for City College early education students, the School Readiness Program Manager for First 5 Alameda and Manager of Children's Campus at San Francisco State University. Kelly is comfortable speaking out and advocating for families with intimate knowledge of the both the early care and education and out of school time systems, including the challenges and resources available.

Mrs. Dotson regularly attends CPAC Meetings, has recently joined the CPAC Executive Committee as Treasurer and is actively involved in the CPAC Workforce Committee. The CPAC Executive Committee feels confident that Kelly's experience uniquely positions her to continue contributing to the Council's charge of developing and promoting policies that advance early care and education in District 1 and across San Francisco. Therefore, CPAC's Executive Committee strongly recommends Kelly Dotson to be reappointment to serve a 2nd term.

I have enclosed Kelly's original CPAC and Board of Supervisors applications. Please feel free to contact me with any questions you may have regarding CPAC's recommendation of Kelly Dobson, our work, or our appointment and outreach process. If you would like to meet with Kelly again to discuss her desire to be reappointed please feel free to contact me at 415-355-3673 or anthony.tyson@sfgov.org.

Sincerely,

CPAC Coordinator

I am a 31 year old mother of two young children (my oldest attends a San Francisco public charter school and my youngest attends a private cooperative preschool). One of my children has an Individualized Education Plan (IEP) and receives services from the San Francisco Unified School District (SFUSD), and previously from Golden Gate Regional. Business and/or professional experience:

I have worked in the non-profit field for over 10 years. Previously, I worked 6 years in Central America as Board Secretary and staff of the Kiwanis Club that worked in supporting low income communities and orphanages with their basic living needs. Currently I work for a non-profit organization that's mission is to connect families to child care that meets their needs. We work with parents, providers, and community partners to make quality child care and early education a reality for all children in San Francisco. I have been managing a program for almost three years where we work on a daily basis with families looking for child care, helping them connect to child care programs across the city and providing them with information to access subsidized child care. (And I continue to enjoy it to the fullest!)
I believe I can be of great value to the San Francisco Child Care Planning and Advisory Council (CPAC), not only in providing my perspective as a parent but also my knowledge and experience gained through-out the years from working with parents. I would have the ability to voice out San Francisco's parents' child care concerns, issues, challenges and needs.

"CPAC sets and drives the early care and education agenda for San Francisco's children and their families"

Dear Supervisor Safai,

The San Francisco Child Care Planning and Advisory Council (CPAC) is a State mandated policy and planning body appointed by the Board of Supervisors and the Board of Education to advise the City on early care and education issues.

CPAC Officers & Executive Committee

The membership of CPAC is required to be comprised equally of 20% consumers, child care providers, public agency representatives, community representatives and discretionary appointees. The Board of Education (BOE) and the Board of Supervisors (BOS) appoint 12 members to the council. Per CPAC's bylaws, the BOE and BOS jointly appoint the final member to reach the mandated 25 person council.

Claudia Quiñonez currently represents District 11, but her term expires on September 14, 2017. I am happy that you had an opportunity to meet with Claudia recently and the opportunities discussed to involve her in the early care and education issues facing District 1. Claudia lives in District 11 and is the mother of 2 children. As a parent Claudia has experience navigating both the IFSP and IEP system and services offered by both Golden Gate Regional Center and SFUSD. In addition, she grew up in Central America giving her a unique experience to speak to families who have immigrated to San Francisco. Claudia is an active parent at both her children's schools and attends and contributes to CPAC meetings regularly.

Executive Committee

As a professional, Claudia is the Strategic Innovations and Partnerships Manager at Children's Council of San Francisco Resource and Referral Network, which is a tremendous asset to CPAC. Not only does Claudia bring her experience and voice as a parent, but in her professional life she has helped parents navigate and identify the best child care options for their family, walked them through the process of child care subsidy eligibility, and connected parents to resources. Claudia is comfortable speaking out and advocating for families with intimate knowledge of the systems, challenges, and resources available. Therefore, CPAC cannot think of a better representative for District 11 serving in the parent/consumer category.
