Cameo House is San Francisco's leading long-term transitional housing and alternative sentencing program for homeless, justice-involved women and their children.

Funded by the the San Francisco Sheriff's Office, our program is located in the heart of the Mission District.

We have been serving women with children experiencing homelessness since 1998.

Since 2006, we have prioritized justice-involved women with children and are San Francisco's first alternative sentencing program for this population.

Cameo House provides on-site case management, a safe and stable living environment, and an array of supportive services.

Our program can serve up to 11 women and 22 children, who can live on-site to receive reunification services.

KEEPING SAN FRANCISCO FAMILIES TOGETHER SINCE 1998.

Nearly 90% of Cameo House participants are homeless women of color, specifically Black & Latina women. Our 12-24 month program serves as an alternative to incarceration for over 70% of participants.

A JANUARY 2021 PROGRAM EVALUATION FOUND THAT FOR OUR PARTICIPANTS:

100% showed decreased substance use
78% moved into permanent, stable housing
77% gained & sustained employment.

Cameo House enjoys strong support from the San Francisco Sheriff's Office, the San Francisco District Attorney's Office, the San Francisco Public Defender's Office, and a wide network of community-based service providers.

The program was designed and is run by persons with experience in the criminal justice system and residential treatment. Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. Program staff are diverse, culturally competent, and support families to achieve their individualized goals.
