Heard in Committee. Speaker(s): Lisa Gluckstein (Planning Department); presented information and answered questions raised throughout the discussion. Peter Papadopoulos (Mission Economic Development Agency); shared various concerns regarding the ordinance matter.

Chair Melgar moved that this Ordinance be AMENDED, AN AMENDMENT OF THE WHOLE BEARING NEW TITLE, on Page 1, Lines 4-8, by striking 'exempt Historic Buildings in certain Eastern Neighborhood Plan Areas from Conditional Use authorization otherwise required to remove Production, Distribution, and Repair (PDR), Institutional Community, and Arts Activities uses, and from providing replacement space for such uses'; on Page 2, Line 12, through Page 3, Line 16, by inserting 'Section 2. General Findings. (a) The Planning Code offers certain historic properties additional use flexibility in a limited number of districts through three separate programs with varying eligibility and approval criteria. These programs apply to Residential Districts (Section 186.3), Eastern Neighborhood Mixed Use Districts (Section 803.9), the Residential-Commercial District, and the Folsom Street Neighborhood Commercial Transit District (Section 703.9). (b) Offering additional flexibility for the uses that may occupy historic buildings is an existing tool for supporting the economic viability of buildings of historic importance. Historic buildings are subject to additional protections under Articles 10 and 11 of the Planning Code and/or the California Environmental Quality Act that restrict renovations and alterations to character-defining features. This means that historic buildings are often more constrained in the type of uses and businesses that they can accommodate compared to non-historic buildings because the physical form of a historic building is less flexible. To counterbalance the physical limitations that apply to historic properties, this ordinance offers historic buildings greater use flexibility to support their economic viability and continued preservation. (c) A significant concentration of historic buildings are located within the Mission District, which has been the focus of multiple Citywide efforts to address the retention of low- and moderate-income residents, organizations, and businesses, including the Planning Department's Mission Action Plan ("MAP2020"), launched in 2014, and the latest iteration of the Mission Action Plan ("MAP2030"), endorsed by the Planning Commission in December 2024, each of which aim to preserve the district's socioeconomic and cultural diversity and prioritize the presence of community-serving uses in the Mission District. (d) This ordinance allows historic buildings throughout the City to benefit from additional use flexibility and consolidates these allowances into a single program. It creates a consistent standard for building eligibility and applicable approval process. The types of uses permitted or conditionally permitted vary by zoning district based on the characteristics of each district. Additionally, certain uses are excluded from the program entirely or in certain areas. This ordinance offers the consistency of a single program, while recognizing the unique character of each district, thus balancing the benefits of historic preservation and economic development with the goals of community stability.'; on Page 5, Line 21, through Page 6, Line 22, to read '(d) Uses Permitted in Historic Buildings to Facilitate Preservation and Adaptive Reuse. Notwithstanding the zoning controls otherwise applicable in the District where the project is located, and subject to subsections (b) and (c) of this Section 202.11, Uses in Historic Buildings shall be permitted as follows, subject to the exceptions provided in this subsection (d): (1) Residential Districts. In RH, RM, and RTO Districts, when located in a Historic Building, any Use that is not permitted in the District and is listed as a Principal or Conditional Use on the ground floor in the NC-1 District (for properties other than Historic Buildings), is permitted with Conditional Use authorization pursuant to Section 303, except as provided in subsections (A) and (B). (A) Exceptions by Use: Use controls for the District shall remain unchanged by this Section 202.11 for the following Uses: Cannabis Retail, Hotel, and Industrial Uses.
