[Commending the Castro Theatre on its eightieth anniversary]

Resolution commending the Castro Theatre on the eightieth anniversary of its historic theatre building and the Nasser family for their ongoing refurbishment of the structure.

WHEREAS, In 1922 the Nasser family, nickelodeon owners of the first Castro Theatre located in the space now occupied by Cliff's Variety, commissioned famed architect Timothy L. Pflueger to build the magnificent Castro Theatre in its current location; and,

WHEREAS, Timothy L. Pflueger, an architect prominently noted for his role in the Deco Theatre Movement who also created Oakland's Paramount and San Francisco's Alhambra, designed the Castro Theatre exterior in a Spanish Renaissance style and the interior as a Moorish tent with Oriental Zodiac and Art Deco touches; and,

WHEREAS, Following the demolition of several Art Deco buildings in the city and a petition drive by neighborhood residents to save the structure, the Castro Theatre was designated San Francisco's one hundredth historical landmark in 1977; and,

WHEREAS, Mel Novikoff, the theatre's manager during the late 1970's and early 1980's, is credited with transforming The Castro into a successful art film house with a reputation for spontaneous outbursts from expressive audiences sounding catcalls and approval; and,

Mark Leng Gavin Newsom, Aaron Peskin BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

WHEREAS, The Art Deco influence is felt from the moment one enters the theatre, and the nostalgic feeling of watching a classic film is further enhanced by the Wurlitzer organ played before movie screenings; and,

WHEREAS, Today, the Castro Theatre continues to be loved by our City's residents and is the heart and anchor of The Castro District hosting numerous film festivals and other entertainment events; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby commends the Castro Theatre on its eightieth anniversary; and, be it

FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Nasser family, which still owns the Castro Theatre, is hereby commended for their ongoing refurbishment of this great San Francisco landmark.
