The mission of the UCSF California Preterm Birth Initiative (PTBi) is to reduce racial disparities in preterm birth. Through our research we have identified housing insecurity, homelessness and structural racism to be a major drivers of preterm birth, low birth weight, maternal mortality and other birth disparities. We know Black women carry the burden of these disparities — we utilize our research to educate policy makers about appropriate interventions that need to be scaled up. We provide training and support to BIPOC parents and birthing people to conduct community based participatory action research. Our cohort of parents know as the Benioff Community Innovators conducted an assessment in San Francisco that highlight how housing insecurity impacts birthing people and families with young children. The assessment report highlights recommendations in policy and practice which have been shared out with a variety of stakeholders in the housing and health field. I have worked with UCSF PTBi for the past 5 years and currently serve as the Director of Community Engagement and Partnerships. I am a Black woman, San Francisco native, have lived experience with housing insecurity and system involvement as a young person. I am a formerly homeless Latinx teen and mother. I grew up in San Francisco. I live in BMR housing, but before that I was homeless from fifteen as an unaccompanied minor to twenty-one years old as a mother. I lived on the streets, between friend s houses, and then at Star Community Home the Benioff funded shelter in 2011/12 with my oldest daughter. I used local community resources and services to get to where I am today. My family (my two daughters and I) are products of what positive investments in the community can make. I feel an overwhelming sense of responsibility to be on this committee. I want to ensure the needs of San Franciscans are met with these funds. Such as, but not limited to: housing creation through acquiring property, substantial investments in homeless families and senior/disabled single adults, DV survivors, reentry services, mental health services, hygiene services, and outreach and support for homeless or precariously housed youth.

Business and/or professional experience:

I recently graduated from Haas at UC Berkeley after working as a Peer Organizer at the Coalition on Homelessness to becoming a Shelter Client Advocate under Eviction Defense Collaborative. I have worked closely with City and County of San Francisco government and employees, community organizations, shelter staff and clients, the homeless community, and SFHA. I have the professional and personal experience necessary to be on the oversight committee.

Civic Activities:

Currently sit on the Prop C committee, have sat on Shelter Monitoring Committee, participated in the designing of Prop C, as well as designing and campaigning for Prop S (arts and family initiative). Organized families experiencing homelessness around garnering feedback for family coordinated entry for HSH.
