About Your Mediator, Carol Kingsley

Carol M. Kingsley is an attorney mediator with over 25 years of experience. She works exclusively as a mediator, specializing in the areas of business disputes, real estate/construction and estate/trust conflicts.

Carol brings to mediation her substantial experience as a business and tax lawyer: negotiating transactions; facilitating business formations, mergers, acquisitions, and dissolutions; estate planning; creating trusts; handling real estate and construction matters; and advising on general corporate, partnership, securities, consumer, intellectual property, tax and employment law.

She earned a JD with MBA in Taxation as well as a National Association of Securities Dealers license. She has had an AV rating from Martindale Hubbell for more than 25 years. She has mediated hundreds of cases and has approximately 250 hours of mediation training.

Carol uses a flexible solutions-oriented approach to mediation employing methods and various techniques as appropriate to suit the nature of the dispute and involved parties. She favors facilitating discussion among conflicting parties until they reach resolutions based on their respective interests and mutual understanding. However, Carol also assists parties in traditional negotiations where resolution is based solely on money, and when requested by all parties to the dispute, evaluates the conflict and possible solutions.

She understands that to be an effective mediator, you need to be a good listener and assist parties in conflict to continue to dialogue through challenges. Over the years, her unique approach to mediation has been extraordinarily successful in helping parties in conflict reach agreement.

In addition to her private practice as an independent mediator, Carol mediates cases for non-profit and government entities including: Congress of Neutrals where she supervises mediators, Contra Costa Courts, The Bar Association of San Francisco, and Marin Mediation Services.

To: Members of the Rules Committee of the City and County of San Francisco:

The Honorable David Campos
The Honorable Michela Alioto-Pier
The Honorable Eric Mar

As a San Francisco resident of District 2, a business owner, and attorney at law, I unequivocally recommend Carol Kingsley to serve on the City of San Francisco Police Commission. I have known Carol since law school where we both graduated in 1981, she with a double degree, J. D. & MBA. Since then, we have been close friends and shared our lives.

Carol is highly intelligent, a skilled analyst, with good judgment, and unwavering principles. She is ethical, empathic, tenacious, and has a wonderful sense of humor. Her tireless commitment to whatever she tackles will undoubtedly inure to the benefit of, and make a difference to the Police Commission.

With complete confidence I urge your support of Carol Kingsley for the appointment to the Police Commission.

Very Truly Yours

Statement by David J. Kapnick
At the Rules Committee Hearing on July 15, 2010
Regarding the Nomination of Carol Kingsley
To the San Francisco Police Commission

*Received for Committee
7/15/10*

My name is Dave Kapnick. I live on Castenada Avenue in Forest Hill, in District 7. I have been a resident of San Francisco for more than 30 years and raised two children in the City. I am currently working in the Financial District, and my wife runs her own small business employing approximately 15 people in San Francisco.

I have known Carol Kingsley since 1993, shortly after her husband Jack Berman was shot and killed in the 101 California Street Massacre. My wife and I were involved at that time in planning a memorial service at St. Mary's Cathedral for victims of gun violence in the U.S, which was attended by survivors and families of the victims of the 101 California shooting.

Carol also happens to live just down the street from me in Forest Hill, and we have both been involved in various leadership positions in the Forest Hill Homeowners' Association. Carol has served on our Legal Committee for the last few years, which among other projects has completed a significant updating of our By-Laws to comply with current laws and regulations governing election procedures and other matters.

Most of my contact with Carol over the past 17 years, however, has come through our service on the Board of Legal Community Against Violence. LCAV is the nation's leading public interest law center dedicated to preventing gun violence. LCAV was founded by leading law firms in San Francisco as a response to the 101 California shooting, and Carol has been involved since the very beginning. I have served on the Board of LCAV since 2003 and have just completed a two year term as President of the organization.

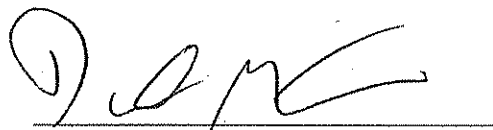

In recognition of the subject of this hearing, Carol's nomination to the Police Commission, I should mention that LCAV has pursued a number of initiatives that are designed to support the Police and other law enforcement agencies in their daily operations, ranging from bans on assault weapons, 50 caliber rifles and so-called "cop killer" bullets to improved law enforcement tools such as access to gun trafficking data maintained by the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (the ATF) and microstamping of both firearms and ammunition to help identify the people responsible for drive-by shootings and other criminal acts involving guns.

Carol has made a tremendous contribution to the work of LCAV as a result of her personal interest in our mission and by virtue of her professional skills. Carol is an experienced lawyer who is currently specializing in mediation and conflict resolution. I have seen Carol in action as she listens and considers differing viewpoints and helps to steer the Board toward a reasonable consensus, but I have also seen her speak up and advance her own views in a very forceful and responsible manner.

I think these skills and Carol's experience are directly applicable to the work of the Police Commission, and I enthusiastically endorse her nomination.

Thank you very much for your time.

Dear Ms. Wong,

It is an honor to recommend Carol Kingsley as a member of the San Francisco Police Commission. Carol and her son Zack have been devoted members of our Sherith Israel Congregation for nearly two decades. As Senior Rabbi and now Rabbi Emeritus of the synagogue, I have been privileged to share friendship with Carol and to develop a deep respect for her fine qualities of character and spirit and her excellent leadership abilities.

Carol has the background, skills and experience required to be an excellent Police Commissioner. She brings a fairly unique perspective to the commission's mandate for citizen oversight in that her husband, Jack, was murdered at gun point in the tragic 101 California incident. Carol knows first hand the enormous loss due to gun violence. Her commitment to public safety and the reduction of gun violence in our community is apparent from her advocacy work with both the Jack Berman Advocacy Center of the Pacific Northwest Region of the American Jewish Congress for several years and the Legal Community Against Violence for the last 16 plus years.

Police commissioners are required to make policy decisions that often involve complex matters, differing views and difficult legal issues. Carol brings more than 27 years of experience practicing law and helping others resolve conflict. Accordingly, she is ideally prepared to handle these complex matters and help the commission resolve controversies when they arise. As an experienced attorney, Carol will be able to efficiently hear cases involving police officers. From her experience on the Ethics Commission, Carol brings knowledge of how city commissions work which will enhance her effectiveness on the Police Commission. Finally, I understand that the Police Commission requires a substantial time commitment, including weekly meetings that are often lengthy as well as separate hearings of complaints and all without compensation. Carol affirms that she is committed to putting her best effort into this challenging position and I am confident that she will.

I am a native San Franciscan who has served as a rabbi here for nearly forty years and also served for several years on the Human Rights Commission. As one who has a deep affection and respect for our City and its future, I strongly urge that Carol Kingsley be appointed to the Police Commission. She will serve our community and our police officers with wisdom, vision, and integrity.

Sincerely,

Re: Support of Carol Kingsley for Appointment to Police Commission

Dear President Chiu and Members of the Board of Supervisors,

I am a resident of the Haight-Ashbury who has lived in and loved San Francisco since 1982. I am also a former member and President of the Civil Service Commission (1991-1994), attorney, and friend of Carol Kingsley. I urge you to appoint her to the Police Commission. She will bring her professional skills as an attorney and mediator as well as her personal attributes of fairness, compassion and integrity to the vital work of the Police Commission. Carol has a proven track record of public service and commitment to the public good.

I have known Carol for over 20 years. She and I met through the San Francisco Women Lawyers Alliance ("Alliance"), a progressive, activist women's bar organization that was founded in 1983 to provide free legal services and resources to the community. Both Carol and I are former Presidents and Board members of the Alliance along with a sisterhood of alumni who include many Bay Area judges, professors, attorneys, business owners and community leaders. While the Alliance is no longer in existence, its legacy lives on through its many accomplishments. The Alliance drafted and helped establish Section 314.5 of the San Francisco Planning Code, which created the Child Care Capital Fund specifically to increase the supply of affordable child care facilities to households of low and moderate income. The Alliance also established the Children's Waiting Room in San Francisco's Hall of Justice and another in the Superior Court to provide childcare for jurors, criminal defendants, witnesses and parties to civil actions. The Alliance also promoted the appointment of women and minorities to positions of leadership within law firms and on the bench and encouraged employers to adopt family-friendly policies to support working parents.

Carol's commitment to a better San Francisco is also reflected in her service on the San Francisco Ethics Commission and her work against gun violence. She transformed the personal tragedy of losing her husband, Jack Berman, to action to prevent further tragedies through her leadership in the public interest law center, Legal Community Against Violence, which is now a national resource for state and local governments to reduce gun violence.

San Francisco deserves the very best in its public servants. Carol would be a tremendous asset to one of the most important and hard working Commissions in the City. She would be able to immediately help tackle the backlog of disciplinary hearings and ensure integrity in the oversight of the Police Department and the Office of Citizen's Complaints.

Thank you for your service to the City and County of San Francisco. I hope that you all agree that Carol Kingsley deserves appointment to the Police Commission.

Sincerely,
