Homeownership Narrative

Catalyst Project Name: Mission Bay

Applicant: City of San Francisco, Office of Economic and Workforce Development (OEWD)

The application must include a description of the current challenges to homeownership in the community including those challenges experienced by workforce and lower-income households.

In addition, the application must describe the homeownership component of the Catalyst Project including:

- a description of the number of homeownership units planned within the designated Catalyst Project including type of unit (condo, townhouse and or single-family detached) and affordability level*
- a description of the innovative approaches to create homeownership opportunities within the Catalyst Project. Examples could include co-operative housing, live-work spaces, multi-generational housing, community land trusts, adaptive re-use programs, lease to purchase programs, enhanced homebuyer education, first-time homebuyer assistance programs, programs targeted to school district or safety employees, reverse mortgage education and partnerships, foreclosure prevention programs.*

If the Catalyst Project does not have a homeownership component, the application should describe innovative approaches used by the jurisdiction in general to create or maintain homeownership opportunities

Current challenges to homeownership in San Francisco include a constrained supply of new housing, incredibly high median home prices, correspondingly large down payments, and significantly tightened lending standards. These challenges are only magnified for workforce and lower-income households, who face additional hurdles of limited affordable housing suitable for large families and few choices of any size in neighborhoods that are well served by transit, open space, retail amenities and located near employment centers.

Mission Bay addresses these challenges by delivering over 6,000 residential units directly adjacent to: transit (5 light rail stops, multiple bus routes and the San Francisco terminus of the Caltrain commuter rail connecting SF, Silicon Valley and San Jose); a massive employment center comprised of 8.7 million square feet of office, lab, hospital and education space, including a 2.7 million square foot medical and biotech research campus for the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF), a 550-bed UCSF hospital, and 4.4 million square feet of private sector office and lab space; several hundred thousand square feet of new retail, and; 49 acres of new parks and open space.

Homeownership Narrative

Of the 6,000+ units at Mission Bay, over 1,850 (30+%) are designated for affordable housing. The affordable housing is generally available to incomes from 50% to 110% of Area Median Income (AMI) and targets a wide variety of populations, including the elderly, workforce housing, formerly homeless, and larger family units. 3,126 total units, ownership and rental, have already been built at Mission Bay, with another 791 currently under construction.

Mission Bay includes 2,326 ownership condo and townhome units, with the remainder planned for rental (although zoning is flexible to allow units to convert to ownership, something that occurred with 595 units at Mission Bay during the prior upswing in the housing market). Of the ownership units, 1,884 are market rate units and 442 are affordable.

158 affordable ownership units have been built to date. 27 are located in a building that was condo-converted in 2005, with 14 at 70% AMI and 13 at 110% of AMI. In November 2009, Berry Street LLC (an affiliate of Bridge Housing Corporation), in partnership with the San Francisco Redevelopment Agency, completed Mission Walk: 131 for-sale condominium and townhome units at Mission Bay. Mission Walk's mix of homes includes 25 one-bedrooms, 82 two-bedrooms, and 24 three-bedrooms, all targeted to households that earn 80-100% AMI (44 at 80%, 44 at 90%, 43 and 100%). We anticipate a similar mix of affordability levels for the remaining 284 affordable ownership units.

The Redevelopment Agency developed the new Mission Walk units as part of its innovative Limited Equity Homeownership program, a restricted resale price program. The program's main goals are to create permanently affordable home ownership units and to offer participants an alternative to renting that allows them to build some equity while also enjoying tax deductions and other benefits of home ownership. Prospective buyers who meet the Agency's eligibility criteria can purchase the homes at affordable prices. In return, when they are ready to sell, participants must sell the homes at affordable prices to eligible households. The initial purchase and subsequent resale prices are linked to affordability at specific percentages of AMI.

Homeownership Narrative

In addition to the Limited Equity Homeownership program, the City of San Francisco, through the Mayor's Office of Housing (MOH), is committed to a variety of innovative programs that further encourage homeownership:

- Downpayment Assistance Loan Program (DALP) - A loan program for low to moderate income first time homebuyers purchasing a market rate single family home in San Francisco. DALP is a silent second loan that requires no payments for 40 years.
- City Second Loan Program - A loan program for eligible first time homebuyers purchasing a home within specific developments that has no interest and deferred payment. This loan sits in second position on title after the first mortgage and can be repaid at any time without penalty.
- Teacher Next Door Program (TND) - A loan program to assist teachers employed with the San Francisco Unified School District in purchasing a first home in San Francisco. This loan is forgiven after 10 years provided all program requirements are met. Can be used in the purchase of a Below Market Rate (BMR) unit.
- Police In The Community Program (PIC) - A downpayment assistance loan program for San Francisco police officers purchasing a first home in San Francisco. Borrowers must provide verification of employment with the SFPD as an officer in good standing. Can be used in the purchase of a BMR unit.
- Mortgage Credit Certificate Program (MCC) - A program to assist first time homebuyers in San Francisco. An MCC assists eligible homebuyers in their ability to qualify for a mortgage loan and reduce their effective mortgage interest rate. Can be used in the purchase of a BMR unit.
- Reissue Mortgage Credit Certificate Program (RMCC) - IRS regulations allow existing recipients of MCCs to refinance their original mortgage loans on their principal residence and obtain a new MCC with a tax credit at the same rate as their original MCC.

Homeownership Narrative

- American Dream Downpayment Initiative (ADDI) - A downpayment loan program for first time home buyers purchasing a BMR unit that requires no monthly payment and accrues no interest.
- BMR-DALP Downpayment Assistance Program (CalHome Downpayment Assistance Program) - A downpayment loan program for first time home buyers purchasing a BMR unit that requires no monthly payment and accrues no interest.

San Francisco promotes innovation in advancing homeownership through financial assistance programs like the ones listed above, and also through home buyer education efforts. As of January 2012, as a prerequisite to participate in any of the MOH homeownership programs offered by the City of San Francisco, all program participants are first required to attend and successfully complete first-time home buyer counseling sessions provided by HomeownerSF, a nonprofit organization dedicated to offering affordable homeownership opportunities in San Francisco.

City of San Francisco
City Hall, Room 448
1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place
San Francisco, CA 94102

Dear Mr. Cohen:

The Department of Housing and Community Development (Department) is pleased to announce the City of San Francisco OEWD has been selected as a California Catalyst Community for the Mission Bay project under the Department's Catalyst Projects for California Sustainable Strategies Pilot Program.

Catalyst Projects have been selected based on their commitment to incentivize sustainable communities and test innovative strategies to increase housing supply and affordability, improve jobs and housing relationships, stimulate job creation and enhance transportation modal choices to promote environmental objectives. Selected Catalyst Projects display a commitment to both State and federal planning priorities including federal Department of Transportation, Housing and Urban Development and Environmental Protection Agency's Partnership for Sustainable Communities.

This serves as a commitment on behalf of the Department to provide and facilitate technical resources in support of the Mission Bay project. In addition, the City of San Francisco OEWD will receive $1,350,000 under the Innovative Homeownership Program component of the Department's Affordable Housing Innovation (AHI) Program, which will provide funding exclusively to communities with designated Catalyst Projects. This commitment is conditioned on compliance with the requirements of all applicable statutes, regulations and guidelines of the AHI Program. Additional detail on the award, available technical assistance resources and eligible use of funds will be provided in the coming weeks.

The Department looks forward to working with the City and project developer. Staff will be contacting you shortly to provide greater detail on the benefits of the Catalyst designation. If you have any questions, please contact Jennifer Seeger, Program Manager, at jseeger@hcd.ca.gov or (916) 322-4263.

Sincerely,
