18 Years of Age or Older: Yes ☒ No ☐

Pursuant to Charter, Section 4.101(a)(1), please state how your qualifications represent the communities of interest, neighborhoods, and the diversity in ethnicity, race, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, types of disabilities, and any other relevant demographic qualities of the City and County of San Francisco:

The University of California San Francisco, California Preterm Birth Initiative (PTBi-CA), through funding from Marc and Lynne Benioff, launched in 2016 as a multi-year initiative conducting and funding research and community capacity building programs across the reproductive life course with the core objective of reducing racial disparities among Black and Latinx women in preterm birth outcomes. PTBi-CA is committed to ensuring our research moves from the lab to the community and translates into real life. By working across disciplines and sectors, engaging Black and Latinx communities most impacted by preterm birth, our work is directly relevant to our populations of focus.

PTBi-CA seeks to illuminate racism as a root cause of preterm birth disparities by honoring the unique lived experiences of people of color within a local context. We are committed to building capacity within these communities to collectively explore the social, structural, environmental, and biological drivers of premature birth. The four aims of our work are: Discovery, Interventions, Collective Impact, and Knowledge Transfer and Exchange (KTE).

Our 35 staff which includes leadership conduct work across three geographies in California known as hot spots for preterm birth: San Francisco, Oakland and Fresno. Our work resides at the intersection of research, community partnerships and the cultivation of self-determination to co-create meaningful change for 347,103 Black and Latinx women and their families. We are starting at the root of the issue by redefining the crisis of premature birth through both a reproductive justice and equity lens. Our work is informed by population- and community-level data, a Strategic Advisory Board, a Community Advisory Board, and all of our key stakeholders including the women and families we serve. We are proud to benefit from some of the brightest minds in systems and policy change, research, collective impact, racial equity, human rights and social justice, reproductive and healthcare rights, social service delivery, and community engagement.

Business and/or Professional Experience:

Pursuant to Charter, Section 4.101(a)(1), please state how your qualifications represent the communities of interest, neighborhoods, and the diversity in ethnicity, race, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, types of disabilities, and any other relevant demographic qualities of the City and County of San Francisco:

My qualifications and personal experiences uniquely position me to represent this community of interest, neighborhoods, diversity, ethnicity, and relevant demographics in our city, particular in overseeing funding for homeless individuals.

Growing up in the San Francisco foster care system and experiencing homelessness during the foreclosure crisis of 2009 have shaped my perspective and fueled my passion for advocating for marginalized communities. These challenges have instilled in me a deep understanding of social and economic disparities and a strong commitment to making a difference in the lives of those in need.

I am proud to share that I am soon to graduate from the Rise for Racial Justice Justice program at the University of San Francisco, further equipping me with the knowledge and skills to address issues of racial inequality and social justice. As an African American person I believe I can effectively represent woman of color, individuals with experience in the foster care system, and lifelong residents of San Francisco who aspire to remain in their community.

My extensive experience in property management within San Francisco's Tenderloin district, particularly with Single Room Occupancy (SRO) buildings, positions is a valuable asset for roles focused on community development and housing. My progression from a desk clerk to managing a newly inaugurated building, coupled with over two decades of training in fostering safe and thriving communities, underscores my dedication and expertise.

I have a background in contributing to positive change in the city, consider the following steps:

Engage with Local Housing Organizations: Organizations like the Tenderloin Neighborhood Development Corporation (TNDC) are deeply involved in community development and housing initiatives. Exploring opportunities with TNDC could align with your experience and passion for community improvement.

Participate in Community Action Plans: The Tenderloin Community Action Plan, facilitated by SF Planning, focuses on neighborhood development and resident engagement. My insights from managing SROs could provide valuable perspectives in these planning processes.

Connect with Community Benefit Districts: The Tenderloin Community Benefit District (TLCBD) works towards enhancing the quality of life in the area. Experience in creating safe environments for residents could contribute to their initiatives.

Consider Advisory Roles: My practical knowledge could be beneficial in advisory capacities within city committees or boards focused on housing and community development. Engaging with local government or non-profit boards can amplify your impact on city-wide policies and programs.

Network with Community Leaders: Building relationships with other community leaders and attending local meetings can open doors to collaborative projects aimed at addressing housing challenges in San Francisco.

Business and/or Professional Experience:

Property Manager in San Francisco's Tenderloin District

My parents and I came to the U.S. from Bulgaria as asylum-seekers in 1995 (we received asylum that same year). I have lived experience of homelessness in childhood, living in unstable housing, and living below the poverty line. I have worked in non-profits in local communities for vulnerable people for the last eight years. I currently work for one of the largest shelter and permanent supportive housing providers in San Francisco. Because of my role, I am well-versed in homelessness policy in the City. In my role, I have helped raise over $1.14M in private philanthropy since October 2023. As a freelance writer, I've published numerous articles on personal finance in Business Insider. I have an MFA in creative nonfiction writing and help residents share their stories so that the wider public can gain an accurate awareness of issues homeless and vulnerable people are facing. I work to empower residents and formerly homeless people to become organizers and advocates for themselves. I'm also in recovery and have been sober for eight years.

I am a formerly homeless Latinx teen and mother. I grew up in San Francisco. I live in BMR housing, but before that I was homeless from fifteen as an unaccompanied minor to twenty-one years old as a mother. I lived on the streets, between friend's houses, and then at Star Community Home the Benioff funded shelter in 2011/12 with my oldest daughter. I used local community resources and services to get to where I am today. My family (my two daughters and I) are products of what positive investments in the community can make. I feel an overwhelming sense of responsibility to be on this committee. I want to ensure the needs of San Franciscans are met with these funds. Such as, but not limited to: housing creation through acquiring property, substantial investments in homeless families and senior/disabled single adults, DV survivors, reentry services, mental health services, hygiene services, and outreach and support for homeless or precariously housed youth.

Business and/or professional experience:

I recently graduated from Haas at UC Berkeley after working as a Peer Organizer at the Coalition on Homelessness to becoming a Shelter Client Advocate under Eviction Defense Collaborative. I have worked closely with City and County of San Francisco government and employees, community organizations, shelter staff and clients, the homeless community, and SFHA. I have the professional and personal experience necessary to be on the oversight committee.

Civic Activities:

Currently sit on the Prop C committee, have sat on Shelter Monitoring Committee, participated in the designing of Prop C, as well as designing and campaigning for Prop S (arts and family initiative). Organized families experiencing homelessness around garnering feedback for family coordinated entry for HSH.

I am a Mission District resident of over 25 years, mother of 2, white bi cis-female who is 57 years old.

Business and/or Professional Experience:

I have committed the last 34 years to a struggle to end mass homelessness by addressing the structural causes, correcting inequity, and crafting permanent fixes. I am currently the executive director of the Coalition on Homelessness, and previously directed the Hunger and Homeless Action Coalition of San Mateo County. My work is about developing consensus on solutions to the homeless crisis centered on the experience and expertise of those who have survived or are still living without housing. Excellent meeting facilitation, policy development, messaging expertise, and unsticking ambivalence and entrenched mindsets. I am always learning from the brilliance around me and know how to stay positive. Adept at moving controversy to collective problem-solving. Urgent meaningful action is what we work for.

Working in collaboration with many others has led to literally thousands of people in SF stabilizing in housing, rising out of poverty, averting homelessness and addressing the many side effects of homelessness in order to flourish. However, due to rising rents, alongside immoral inaction on the part of policymakers, our work has a long way to go and we are losing too many to the streets.

Civic Activities:

I led the effort to write, place on the ballot and pass Our City, Our Home, a revenue measure that is dedicated to solving homelessness through housing, treatment, shelter and prevention. I am currently serving on the Our City, Our Home Oversight Committee, which is a voter-mandated body overseeing that same 2018 San Francisco measure. In this role I have helped garner input from impacted community, built consensus and helped design the investment plan, and serve as the shelter liaison. I am very active on this body. I also am very involved in budget work via People's Budget and Budget Justice which works to ensure the most disenfranchised are protected in the city's budget and to ensure equity in city budgeting decisions. In addition I am a member of several coalitions including the Homeless Emergency Services Provider Association (HESPA), Treatment on Demand and Community Health Now.

Leading a nonprofit that serves 40,000+ individuals annually has been an incredible journey—one that's been all about expanding impact, securing resources, and building a sustainable future for our community. Over the years, I've worked to strengthen our financial health, grow our programs, and create meaningful opportunities for those in recovery.

I am HIV+, a member of the recovery community and have been sober for 11 years. I understand the challenges of folx trying to change their lives. I was one of those people and have made it my profession to advocate and champion for those often overlooked. My core principles of compassion, empathy and a pragmatic view towards problem solving allow me to work well with others and find perspective in the most challenging situations.

As a cis white gay man I have made it a personal mission over the last ten years to educate myself on the diversity represented in my communities. I practice active listening as a regular tool when approaching conversations with folx that are different than me and find joy in learning.

Business and/or Professional Experience:

I am an Executive Director dedicated to fostering community resilience, championing equity, and driving sustainable growth in the nonprofit and public service arenas. Over the past decade, I've steered organizations toward transformative outcomes—whether by quadrupling operating budgets, securing diversified revenue streams, or expanding community impact to reach tens of thousands of individuals annually. My approach is fueled by a passion for collaboration, data-driven decision-making, and strategic innovation, ensuring every initiative aligns with the broader goal of systemic change and social good.

Guided by an unwavering commitment to inclusion and collective progress, I excel at bringing together diverse teams, policymakers, and industry leaders to envision and implement high-impact programs. My mission is to strengthen the civic fabric of our communities by building scalable solutions that merge policy innovation, robust funding models, and authentic stakeholder engagement.

CASTRO/UPPER MARKET COMMUNITY BENEFIT DISTRICT
Jan 2023 - Nov 2024 · 1 yr 11 months

Leading community development efforts in one of San Francisco's most vibrant neighborhoods has been an incredible experience. I've overseen governance, strategic planning, and fiscal stewardship to drive economic vitality and enhance the local community. Through collaboration and thoughtful leadership, I've worked to ensure long-term sustainability and positive impact for businesses, residents, and visitors alike.

FOLSOM STREET EVENTS
Jan 2015 - Dec 2021 · 7 yrs

Keeping 200,000 attendees safe at one of San Francisco's most iconic events required strong leadership, seamless coordination, and a proactive approach to risk management. I worked closely with the San Francisco Police Department and emergency responders to ensure public safety while managing a 400-member volunteer team. From directing emergency protocols to implementing risk mitigation strategies, I helped create a secure and well-organized experience for all.
