Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Deirdre Ross

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

IF your goal is increased revenue, why not actually collect fare from your riders? MUNI has got to have THE WORST fare payment out of any form of public transit by far.

I understand there are many who can't pay... for these people you should be able to get a free / reduced fare. But I straight up never see anyone pay whenever I ride MUNI. Maybe 1 in 20 riders pay.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Helen Spalding

I am writing to tell you that I think it's a bad idea to extend parking meter hours to 10 pm in San Francisco.

This change will dissuade people from coming downtown in the evenings. They will be less likely to patronize restaurants, theaters, and other events in our downtown core. At a time when we are trying to revitalize downtown, for many reasons, including to keep up tax revenues from our downtown businesses, making coming into the city in the evenings even less inviting by charging for parking (when other communities do not) is short-sighted policy.

I am reminded of how, many years ago, San Francisco street cleaning went from every week to alternate weeks. Yes, street cleaning costs went down but the net cost to the city went up because there were only half as many fines paid on cars who failed to move on cleaning days. And, we had a dirtier city. It was penny wise but pound foolish.

Another concern that I have about late night metering relates to personal safety. I would not stand on a sidewalk in the dark alone with my phone out and me concentrating on a parking meter—not fully aware of my surroundings. I encourage you to try this on 6th Street now and see how it feels.

There must be better ways to raise money; ones that don't penalize our core businesses. For example, consider this list of Parking Violations and Fines: enforcing these violations would not only raise money but also increase public safety.

Please oppose extending parking meter hours in San Francisco.

Sincerely,

Jane Day

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

TO: Board of Supervisors members

I am strongly supporting urging the SFMTA to delay implementation of meter hour extension.

During General Public Comment at the April 24, 2023 meeting of the Capital Planning Committee, I stated that no City department should assume that it has credibility.

I also asked the question if City departments believe that their most important customer are themselves.

This issue seems to suggest that the SFMTA does believe that its most important customer is itself and that the SFMTA has little concern for the small business community.

This once again calls into question the credibility of the SFMTA.

This once again calls for a SFMTA governance reform initiative for one of the 2024 ballots.

Dear Supervisors,

I am a business owner in San Francisco.

I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic closures.

We understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or challenges around scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city.

We are also against the 18 month extended rollout across the city, which will cause both inequity and confusion, for business and consumers. We are worried that this will discourage customers from the communities around San Francisco who want to drive into the city to dine and shop, at a time when we need them more than ever. Our industry is still trying to recover from Covid closures and disruptions and additional challenges could have devastating consequences.

Thanks for listening,

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Devon Flynn

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
danielle chavanon

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Patricia Nguyen

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

My name is Jiyoung Yoon
My email address is pamela525@yahoo.com

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Jiyoung Yoon

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Lily Wong

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Judy Liu

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Patrick Kroboth

Hello all,

I am a business owner/resident/employee in District 10.

I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. Not to mention this will cost an estimated $18,720 a year! This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Please take this into consideration.

Sincerely,
Paola Torres

Subject: I am Looking for the Physical Home Addresses of Gavin Newsom, Randy Shaw, and Krista Blyth-Gaeta (they are not Federal government officials)
Date: Monday, May 29, 2023 3:35:20 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

This is a private matter that took place in California.

Please email me the addresses of Gavin Newsom, Randy Shaw, and Krista Blyth-Gaeta, and their physical addresses if you know their last known physical locations. Anonymously is fine if you prefer to send their addresses anonymously, send it to me to:

Antonio Vaz

SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94141

You can also leave a voicemail anonymously to 415-814-0334

If San Francisco Police and San Francisco District Attorney's Office do not respond to investigate these corrupt criminals, I will take things into my hand by filing In Pro Per LAWSUIT and have the bounty serve them at their residences. They are behind all the problems we had when Krista Gaeta was SF Director of In-Home Supportive Services.

This is a personal matter (TRO). The lady who failed her TRO told me that she was getting information about my problems with Randy Shaw, Gavin Newsom, Krista Gaeta, and others through IHSS higher up when Krista Gaeta was director of that agency. The lady contended that I don't like White people which is untrue. She also threatened me by saying "Wait and see what is going to happen to you, they don't like niggers from the tree, African...punk bitch..."

Fighting against corruption has nothing to do with race.

My problem with Discrimination, Racism, and Prejudice involving Randy Shaw, Gavin Newsom, and Krista Gaeta began in or about the years 2009 - 2013 when they lost and settled outside the court system and requested to avoid going to trial. That was Tenderloin Housing Clinic, Mission Hotel, etc.

I am for Justice and I have no problem with different races or ethnicities. This is personal. These specific White corrupt individuals violated me. I did not start this. I mind my business. They are racist against Blacks (court records show). They are the ones who initiated Housing Discrimination against me. Then, they lost. Due to the White Supremacy mentality, they could not live with themselves then they started Harassing me (harassment and retaliation). I am not racist against any race or group. They are!

If they want to escalate this let's do it in court. Gavin Newsom was not in his state official capacity when he engaged in conspiracy, (criminal conspiracy?), gossiping, and racist targeting and plotting. It was done in secret in private between him, Randy Shaw, Krista Gaeta, and other allegedly co-conspirators. There was no immunity for Gavin Newsom when the Governor engages in plotting against innocent poor civilians after hours.

Disclaimer: Not related to the killing of Ms. Weldon at UCSF. Justice for Ms. Weldon is an ongoing matter. I contacted UCSF to obtain all the medical records. Still waiting for Park Station and Taraval Station police investigators and detectives' responses as well as San Francisco District Attorney's Office.

P.S. Stop using the state and county public tools to oppress, harass and discriminate! We need to fight back against corruption and coverups in San Francisco.

Send me their addresses, including private offices or places they frequent and are often present, please

Subject: SFPD Traffic Enforcement Analysis
Date: Monday, May 29, 2023 4:06:04 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Mayor Breed and Chief Scott,

A recent analysis of SFPD traffic enforcement data has shown that traffic enforcement across San Francisco has collapsed as dangerous driving continues to plague our city resulting in the death of 18 people so far this year.

https://url.avanan.click/v2/https://transpomaps.org/san-francisco/ca/sfpd-traffic-enforcement__YXAzOnNmZHQyOmE6bzoiYTE2ZjczNWJZGNkZlTQ3ODVjYTIkNWwNMFJlODhmYzo2OjE2MwU6MzAzNjFjZDgzZTM0MmFkOWM0MzQ3NTJkZlVmYWQwMDg3NzE3ZmNhMDQxOWQxZTRlYzgzMTBmZlZlMwMyYWE2MjpwOjQ

According to the Department of Public Health, a driver crashes their car and injures someone approximately every four hours in San Francisco. This is unacceptable and it's past time to take serious action to slow drivers down and make our streets safer for everyone.

Out of SFPD's 2023 sworn officers, only 50 are currently enforcing our traffic laws and those 50 are writing on average a mere 10 citations per day across the entire city, down from 74 per day in 2019. And of all citations written, only ~35% are "Focused on the Five" (FOTF) most dangerous violations that cause serious injuries and death such as speeding and running red lights. Within our Equity Priority Communities (EPCs), only ~20% of all citations written qualify as FOTF which means that the SFPD is disproportionately targeting residents of EPCs for non-life-threatening moving violations such as broken taillights and expired tags—citations often used to initiate pretextual stops.

To be clear, the solution to safer streets is not more policing. Safer and more accessible streets can only truly be achieved by allowing the SFMTA to redesign our streets to prioritize non-car transportation such as walking, biking and public transit. As you know this has been mandated within our charter as a "Transit-First" city for fifty years. However, because redesigning our streets for the safety of people outside cars is such an unnecessarily arduous and controversial process we must, in the interim, enforce our traffic laws by citing Focus on the Five violations on the High Injury Network (where 75% of severe and fatal injuries occur).

Here are three actions you can take today to make our streets safer through effective traffic enforcement:

1. Mandate that SFPD has its Traffic Division focus entirely on Focus on the Five violations on the High-Injury Network immediately.
2. Mandate that SFPD provide updated data and information on all traffic stops/citations going forward, including all information outlined in the Racial and Identity Profiling Act of 2015.
3. Establish monthly public hearings where SFPD will report on traffic enforcement and, alongside SFMTA and SFDPH, discuss its impact on car-traffic injuries and deaths.

I urge you to work with Stephen Braitsch and Luke Bomheimer, the authors of the aforementioned analysis of SFPD enforcement data alongside leaders within our Equity Priority Communities to institute a transparent, equitable and effective traffic enforcement strategy that will make San Francisco safer for everyone.

Thank you.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Marsha Abrahams

From your constituent Feng Hu

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Dena Aslanian-Williams

Dear Mayor Breed, and Board of Supervisors,
I am an employee in District 10.

I am writing to ask that SFMTA reconsider the parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small businesses and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Furthermore with the high cost of living in San Francisco and the lack of adequate parking options for residents and employees, this proposal causes an immense burden and furthers inequity in our communities. This plan appears to be unsustainable and unfairly turns to residents and employees to fund SFMTA through predatory policies like this one.

Sincerely,
Natasha Kleit

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

This a complete outrage, SF shouldn't be considering expanding parking ticket fees when you have the highest parking ticket prices in the country, if not the world. Instead you should be focusing on how to lower the costs of parking tickets drastically, or completely abolish them and defer costs to the tech companies and large corporations that inflate our rents, and destroy our city without our consent. You are afraid of people shying away from the city for often harmless drug use in the tenderloin; well parking tickets are incredibly harmful, they actually can force people to lose their job, home, and force them to the streets and drugs. You need to drastically change the way you view this revenue as it is extremely dangerous and diametrically opposes american values.

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear SFMTA Board Chair Eaken, Vice-Chair Cajina, Director Tumlin, Director Maguire and Mayor Breed,

A new analysis of 19 million parking citations and 300 thousand complaints by Stephen Braitsch shows that SFMTA's parking enforcement fails to prioritize public safety-related violations, operates inconsistently across the city and days of the week, lets repeat offenders off the hook and fails to give citizens safety-oriented reporting options.

Please review the findings in Stephen's detailed report, linked below, and immediately demand that the SFMTA adopt a data-driven parking enforcement strategy that prioritizes public safety while ensuring equitable revenue collection.

Hi team,

I own Butter&, a custom cake shop in District 10. I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic. I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds. This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Thank you for your attention and for all you do as a small business here in our beautiful city.

Best,
Amanda, owner of Butter&

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Merrick Goodman

Dear Supervisors,

As an almost 50 - year resident our beautiful city, I just want to be abundantly clear that I support Supervisor Peskin's thoughtfulness and caution in requesting a delay of the extended parking meter rollout.

I wish I was as articulate and thorough as my neighbor, as my thoughts and opinions are identical to the ones she so eloquently outlined below. I am sending this email to add my voice to those requesting a delay to the extended parking meter rollout. Though I am copying and affirming my agreement with the arguments outlined below, this in no way diminishes my heartfelt concern about this important issue.

“I am writing to support Supervisor Peskin in his request that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic closures and company relocations. This is not the time to further discourage the patronage of shoppers, spectators and diners to local venues, nor is it the time to penalize workers, residents and owners with ever increasing costs of living in our city.

We understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to take from small business and workers for its funds. SFMTA has been spending heavily on many projects, not all of which are supported by the majority of businesses or residents. At the same time services have been and will continue to be reduced. Furthermore, safety issues aboard public transportation discourage ridership.

This planned change will have a major negative financial impact not only on residents but also the workers who come to the city. Many take public transportation, some must drive due to late hours or scheduling. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them to not take jobs here and there are staffing shortages already contributing to long time businesses closing or significantly reducing their hours of service.

We are against the 18 month extended rollout across the city which will cause inequity and confusion, for businesses and consumers alike.

The city is experiencing a downturn, the people who live and work here feel it and media outside of the city and state report challenges that San Franciscans face at this time. Do not make life in the city more difficult still or cause further unintended or unanticipated negative consequences to our population because SFMTA is now facing a deficit.

Please listen and delay the extended parking meter rollout.”

Sincerely,
~Andrea Nachtigall

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Mikael Jakobson

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Hi Jeffrey,

If the goal is to increase income for SFMTA, what are your thoughts on charging employees a monthly parking permit? That way SFMTA can still make revenue on both small business employees who need to drive while still charging visiting customers to the neighborhood.

For example, our employees have to move their cars 3 times a day because they are moving from free spot to free spot. They are not able to afford the daily rate on the meters. But if you offered an alternative that was more reasonable for the monthly rate, I'm sure they would pay, because they do value their time. That could be a win-win!

What do you think?

Thanks for your consideration.

Dear Amanda,

Thank you for reaching out about our proposed plan to extend parking meter hours. I want you to know that San Francisco businesses and the city's economic recovery are a priority for the SFMTA. Please know that we would not be making this proposal if we thought it would be harmful to businesses. Still, we support Board President Peskin's request for an independent economic analysis and believe it will show that extending parking meter hours is, in fact, good for businesses.

I appreciate you expressing concerns about how this impacts business customers and employees and want to work with you on this issue and others to make sure this policy change is rolled out in a way that works best for all San Franciscans.

Changing meter hours to match when neighborhood commercial districts are open is happening in cities throughout California and the U.S. When parking meters are operating, parking spaces turn over more quickly, and it makes finding a space easier. This makes customers want to return to neighborhoods where finding parking was previously frustrating. Fewer drivers circling the block to look for parking also means reduced traffic congestion, less air pollution and fewer greenhouse gas emissions.

It is especially important that San Francisco extend parking meters now, because the money that will be generated from this policy is needed to prevent cuts to Muni service. Muni service is essential to a vibrant and functioning San Francisco.

For more information, I encourage you to read our recent blog: San Francisco To Extend Parking Meter Hours Citywide | SFMTA

Thank you again for reaching out and for being such an important part of the vibrant, diverse and thriving San Francisco we all love and support.

Jeff

Hi team,

I own Butter&, a custom cake shop in District 10. I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic. I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds. This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Thank you for your attention and for all you do as a small business here in our beautiful city.

Best,

Amanda, owner of Butter&

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Lorelei Low

To Whom This May Concern,

I am an employee in District 10.

I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Thanks for your consideration,
Michelle

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Allen Tam

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumulín and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Gee

Dear Board of Supervisors,

Please don't make San Francisco even more unlivable and more disdainful to out-of-town visitors. At least we now have one day where friends and family members from out-of-town can almost tolerate coming to San Francisco. San Francisco has become very unlivable. Being able to drive to and park near local businesses is what makes these businesses thrive. And friends and family being able to visit and socialize is essential to our total well-being. I am considering leaving San Francisco even though many of my friends are still here. The price tag to live here is already too high. The people with the money to make the City work are the same people who are leaving because it isn't working. Try to make this City more livable, not less so.

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I learned this last night from my sushi chef and server in the Soma. It's going to hurt their bottom line (basically costing them their tips), as well, they'll need to either feed the meter, and/or potentially move their cars during service.

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses.

Please, don't hurt are already traumatized service workers, right after they just got back on their feet from a global pandemic. Makes no sense.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Michael Cohen

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

This city is unaffordable for working class, middle class and service workers. More meter hours is a tax on people who can least afford to stuff $4 per hour in the meter every time they go to a store or try to eat out.

The solution, of course, is to shop online more with free shipping, and order carry-out rather than stuff the meters with more money. The rich don't care if meter hours are extended - just as they don't care about the $500 million a year that MUNI pulls in from street cleaning days' violations, since the rich have garages for their cars and when they're going to their $150 a meal dinners, an extra $10-$16 in the meter doesn't affect them.

Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

As a resident of San Francisco, I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours.

The SFMTA should be seeking to improve public transportation options rather than imposing additional fees and restrictions. This impacts not only residents, but the small businesses that may not be frequented as much due to the parking.

Until public transportation is markedly improved, primarily the routes, the safety of the buses, the cleanliness, you should not be focusing on increasing fees, but rather doing the job of improving transportation. Closing roads (or refusing to clean the great highway) does a disservice to all. It results in greater greenhouse emissions from drivers circling blocks to look for free parking on streets, drivers getting re-routed when the highway is closed rather than opened when it should be and having to drive additional miles to a road that is open, further clogging those roadways. Please, SFMTA, please do the job that is being asked. Clean the roads. Managed your budget. And, remember the citizens that purportedly you are tasked with helping to support with transportation.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives and those of small businesses, many of whom are struggling to survive.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

I am a business owner/resident/employee in District 10.

I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

The City lost street parking due to the construction of parklets for restaurants and bike hubs. Rather than continue the assault on car owners who may not have alternatives to private vehicles, e.g., parents retrieving their children from private schools on Broadway. Maybe we should tax the owners of the bike hubs and restaurants using parklets.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Subject: City Budget Public Comment: San Francisco Needs to Fund Solutions to End the Drug Crisis in This Year's Budget
Date: Tuesday, May 23, 2023 1:15:50 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I'm a San Francisco resident who sees a failure by our elected officials to address the fentanyl-fueled drug epidemic that is devastating our city. The drug epidemic is linked to all of the problems San Francisco faces, including homelessness, mental health, public safety, and economic vitality. You must make ending open-air drug markets and funding more city-sponsored recovery programs the main priority of this year's budget cycle.

We thank Mayor London Breed, Governor Gavin Newsom, District Attorney Brooke Jenkins and Speaker Emerita Nancy Pelosi for working together on State and Federal law enforcement coordination; and appreciate those members of the Board of Supervisors who have been vocally supportive of these efforts. We ask for continued cooperation and coordination with state and federal agencies to permanently eradicate open-air drug markets.

In order to ensure sustained action, I'm demanding that you include the following in the next budget:

Law Enforcement: The District Attorney and the Police Department must work together to arrest and prosecute drug dealers in San Francisco, as well as coordinate with state and federal law enforcement to address cartels bringing drugs to the city. The city can ensure this happens by including the following in the next budget:

- Funding to eventually meet the recommended number of 2,182 sworn officers
- Enough academy classes to meet that goal with new officers
- Enough police staffing aides to allow officers to answer high-priority calls
- Enough additional officers this coming year to make Operation Disruption permanent in high drug trafficking areas, including the Tenderloin, Southern, and Mission Stations
- Investment in personnel training and narcotics equipment to effectively close the open air drug markets
- Funding for a nationwide recruitment search with a focus on lateral hires to expedite hiring

City-Sponsored Recovery Programs: Recovery has to be the goal. City departments need to work cross-functionally to make this happen in order to give users the chance to live healthy lives and shrink demand for drugs on the street. This means funding true treatment on demand in the next budget, which includes:

- Creating 24/7 pickup vans for people seeking to enter drug treatment programs, and 24/7 intake centers where they can go for initial screening
- Stabilization centers with a minimum stay time and on-site medical staff, where people can stay temporarily before entering longer-term drug treatment programs
- Improving access to recovery beds to meet the city's obligation to provide drug treatment on demand:
 - Increase the number of residential drug treatment beds
 - Increase the number of step-down beds, a vital component of the services spectrum where people re-learn skills for independent living before entering permanent housing
- Offer recovery options that are completely drug-free
- Offer more secure mental health beds so people who need care aren't forced to stay in jail or return to the streets
- Make employment as a member of program staff more sustainable and rewarding:
 - Increase staffing capacity through reassignments to match program expansion
 - Additional funding to address the staffing shortage of licensed staff/behavioral nurses
 - Address the pay gap between nonprofit and city licensed behavioral staff

I know that completely eradicating drug use is unrealistic. What I'm demanding is a visible reduction in the open-air drug sales and drug use that is eroding our city. San Francisco should be a place where those who are not involved in drug sales and drug use are not negatively impacted by drug sales and drug use.

Sincerely,
Natalie Chu

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Subject: Meter change in the dogpatch

Hello,

I've worked and commuted to the Dogpatch from the sunset district for 12 years now. We've independently grown our business from scratch to 50+ employees, not including a retail location in Hayes Valley. I follow SF public policy closely and as a designer feel I have the ability to objectively see multiple sides of an issue with the end goal of designing the best outcome. I've also never written to anyone about any issues in SF, but I felt compelled to in this case.

The Dogpatch has obviously changed quite a bit in the last 10 years but ultimately it's still zoned as industrial, and as a result supports a massive number of small businesses similar in scale or smaller than ours that require in-person work that deals with physical stuff. We've lost a good number of our workforce over the last few years and while obviously the pandemic has been a big contributor to that, a contributing factor has been the added cost and complexity of finding parking since the meters went in a few years ago. It's such a big barrier to our employees that we've had to subsidize their parking expenses in order to encourage them to come into the office. Ironically, it used to be that all the available parking spots for a 6 block radius were taken up around our building at 20th and 3rd. Since the meters went in, there are always a ton of extra spots open. But almost all of those spots are too far away from the retail/restaurant zones for people to use for casually coming to the neighborhood for shopping/dining. Almost certainly they were spots that were previously occupied by workers commuting by car since let's be honest, public transportation to the dogpatch is pretty terrible unless you happen to live along a major transportation line that doesn't require a transfer. The majority of those folks didn't start taking the train, they just come to the office less or not at all.

All that is to say, while I support longer meter times in shopping/dining focused neighborhoods, that isn't the warehouse area of the dogpatch. At least not yet. SF has a long history of these industrial neighborhoods being a vital part of the city's economic fabric and I think it would be a mistake to further squeeze that economic diversity out of the city, particularly in the wake of our tech-work monoculture backfiring the way it has post-pandemic. We need a diversity of businesses and to support what little manufacturing and physical product-based work SF has left. Please do what you can to help enable that, not make it harder and more costly.

I do understand that with the Warriors stadium there are some additional parking dynamics. One idea is to issue employee-based permits for parking, which would allow for higher meter rates during special events and late hours, without penalizing everyone just trying to get to work.

Thank you.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

As an example, many patrons of the arts in the Civic Center are currently able to park at meters when attending performances at the Jazz Center, SF Conservatory of Music, Opera House, Davies Symphony Hall, etc. Where will those people park if meters hour are extended to 10 pm? I attend many performances and there have been times when the Performing Arts Garage has been full and I had been unable to park there. Please do not tell us to rely on public transportation or to bike to these venues. There are many patrons such as myself, who are senior citizens and will not take public transportation especially at 10 or 11 pm after a performance. And we are certainly not going to bike there. You need to start listening to people and groups other than the Bike Coalition. The performing arts has taken a tremendous hit with the COVID-19 situation. If people cannot park in areas such as the Civic Center, the performing arts and restaurants in the area will take another hit. If you are looking for revenue to shore up MUNI by making drivers pay more to park, look instead to enforce payment of fares by non-paying members of the public who use public transportation.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
constance kobe

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities. Making muni safe. Most times I feel very unsafe while taking public transportation in the City.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Why not install metering systems on some of the bike racks? Are the rental scooters taxed in the same way that other vehicle rentals are taxed? A lot of money is spent to make improvements for all vehicles and that features bicycle improvements, what fees do those drivers pay to contribute to the function of the streets?

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong support to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision appropriately considers the realities of our daily lives.

Extending the meter hours will make it easier to find street parking late at night.

In addition to these new additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to simultaneously seek solutions to address parking issues, such as extended public transportation hours and/or increasing frequency.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
James Meiners

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumulín and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek improving public transportation or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Kristen Foley

Dear Supervisors,

My Name is Nikki DeWald and I am a business owner AND resident in District 9

I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay or squash entirely!!!!!!the extended parking meter rollout until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic closures. My business of 32 years is struggling (more now than during the height of the pandemic) and can not take this hit.

We understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but penalizing my staff and potential patrons is going to crush my business and ability to staff.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or challenges around scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This will most definitely cause them not to want to take jobs in the city.

We are also against the 18 month extended rollout across the city, which will cause both inequity and confusion, for business and consumers. We are worried that this will discourage customers from the communities around San Francisco who want to drive into the city to dine and shop, at a time when we need them more than ever. Our industry is still trying to recover from Covid closures and disruptions and additional challenges could have devastating consequences.

Thanks for listening,

Nikki DeWald, owner of Blondie's

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Cisy Hsu

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear SF City Planners and SFMTA Officials,

I am an employee and community member in District 10.

I am writing to ask that SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

My company had to lay off its entire staff during the pandemic, and the only way we were able to cling to life was through PPP loans, and by drastically overhauling our catering business. Now that we have, we are coming out of the pandemic stronger than ever, and providing a lifeline of service and employment not only here in district 10, but all over the city, especially in our beleaguered downtown district. We offer corporate catering, and are a direct incentive to employees to return to their office spaces in the City.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

Having been a front line worker during the pandemic, I can tell you that the residents and the workers of this city are already tapped out. It's hard enough for us to hold on, not to mention paying God only knows how much more in parking meters.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

I hope you all take the time to read this, and carefully consider the impact. It does no one any help to think that a proposed plan can already be set in stone. Or that the people we've elected into positions of power aren't actually willing to listen to their constituents.

Thank you for your time.

I frequent The Nail Hall on weekends (Sun) to avoid parking meters. Why would you want to make small businesses suffer more by having fewer customers? Are you not in favor of successful small minority owned businesses? You already removed parking in front of The Nail Hall between 10th and 11th on Mission which has impacted this business already. Please find other sources of revenue instead of hurting existing businesses struggling to survive. I want to be able to enjoy an evening out without having to worry about feeding the meters or getting a parking ticket. Don't add more to the already diminishing reputation of SF.

Dear Supervisors and Director Tumlin,

I am an owner/operator/employee/customer of _Brickhouse restaurant (s), located at 426 Brennan St.

I am writing to ask that SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout for at least 12 months, until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic closures. I would also like to see an independent study be conducted to consider the consequences on workers, customers and businesses, all of who will be affected.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to other funding areas to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a significant cost and negative financial impact on our employees. SFMTA meters in higher use corridors, where many restaurants are located, may charge in the range of $6 to $7 dollars per hour. While many of our employees do take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours, challenges around scheduling, or concern for their safety at night. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city.

I am also concerned that the 18 month extended rollout across the city, will cause both inequity and confusion, for business and consumers. I am worried that this will discourage customers from the communities around San Francisco who want to drive into the city to dine and shop, at a time when we need them more than ever. Our industry is still trying to recover from Covid closures and disruptions, and additional challenges could have devastating consequences.

Please vote to support this resolution and consider a 12 month pause to access and determine a better way forward.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

It's already so hard to survive in SF!! And city is so hostile to drivers, cars and motorcycles.

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
LaVive Kiely

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours to 10:00 pm!!!

As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. Some places charge almost $9 hour! It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

BTW, I hear that people should simply just ride Muni at night. It's not safe. There's no police etc. I nearly got shot on the 49 Van Ness, about 3:00 in the afternoon. The man had his hand on his gun threatening me. The bus driver didn't call the police and he said to me, "He was after me too." Gee, thanks.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Regards,

Susan Stockdale

Sincerely,
Susan Stockdale

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking. I think raising money by making lives difficult for people who need to park is not a good answer to any financial problems. It's as if you hate anyone who has a car. I am a disabled senior. I cannot drive a bicycle. I cannot walk far. I am a female and don't wish to be out on the street alone after dark. I do have a handicapped placard, but I worry for people who are having enough financial challenges living here. And for people who just can't afford.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options, expanding parking facilities, and repairing existing parking meters and boxes, which are impossible to read and therefore hard to use.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives. Please think about people who are trying to live here. Don't make it even harder for the everyday worker and resident of our beautiful city.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

The city is wrong to raise more money on the backs of the citizens. This city is expensive, meter costs already vary from street to street, and post-Prop 13 home owners pay prohibitive taxes that go up and up. Most citizens know that there is huge monetary waste that is generated by unidentified expenditures. I hope you can find the savings there.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.--Jill Hallinan

Subject: City Budget Public Comment: San Francisco Needs to Fund Solutions to End the Drug Crisis in This Year's Budget
Date: Tuesday, May 23, 2023 4:32:46 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I'm a San Francisco resident who sees a failure by our elected officials to address the fentanyl-fueled drug epidemic that is devastating our city. The drug epidemic is linked to all of the problems San Francisco faces, including homelessness, mental health, public safety, and economic vitality. You must make ending open-air drug markets and funding more city-sponsored recovery programs the main priority of this year's budget cycle.

We thank Mayor London Breed, Governor Gavin Newsom, District Attorney Brooke Jenkins and Speaker Emerita Nancy Pelosi for working together on State and Federal law enforcement coordination; and appreciate those members of the Board of Supervisors who have been vocally supportive of these efforts. We ask for continued cooperation and coordination with state and federal agencies to permanently eradicate open-air drug markets.

In order to ensure sustained action, I'm demanding that you include the following in the next budget:

Law Enforcement: The District Attorney and the Police Department must work together to arrest and prosecute drug dealers in San Francisco, as well as coordinate with state and federal law enforcement to address cartels bringing drugs to the city. The city can ensure this happens by including the following in the next budget:

- Funding to eventually meet the recommended number of 2,182 sworn officers
- Enough academy classes to meet that goal with new officers
- Enough police staffing aides to allow officers to answer high-priority calls
- Enough additional officers this coming year to make Operation Disruption permanent in high drug trafficking areas, including the Tenderloin, Southern, and Mission Stations
- Investment in personnel training and narcotics equipment to effectively close the open air drug markets
- Funding for a nationwide recruitment search with a focus on lateral hires to expedite hiring

City-Sponsored Recovery Programs: Recovery has to be the goal. City departments need to work cross-functionally to make this happen in order to give users the chance to live healthy lives and shrink demand for drugs on the street. This means funding true treatment on demand in the next budget, which includes:

- Creating 24/7 pickup vans for people seeking to enter drug treatment programs, and 24/7 intake centers where they can go for initial screening
- Stabilization centers with a minimum stay time and on-site medical staff, where people can stay temporarily before entering longer-term drug treatment programs
- Improving access to recovery beds to meet the city's obligation to provide drug treatment on demand:
 - Increase the number of residential drug treatment beds
 - Increase the number of step-down beds, a vital component of the services spectrum where people re-learn skills for independent living before entering permanent housing
- Offer recovery options that are completely drug-free
- Offer more secure mental health beds so people who need care aren't forced to stay in jail or return to the streets
- Make employment as a member of program staff more sustainable and rewarding:
 - Increase staffing capacity through reassignments to match program expansion
 - Additional funding to address the staffing shortage of licensed staff/behavioral nurses
 - Address the pay gap between nonprofit and city licensed behavioral staff

I know that completely eradicating drug use is unrealistic. What I'm demanding is a visible reduction in the open-air drug sales and drug use that is eroding our city. San Francisco should be a place where those who are not involved in drug sales and drug use are not negatively impacted by drug sales and drug use.

Sincerely,
Rachel Barnard

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Nicola Bilger

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am an employee in District 10 and a resident of District 8.

I am writing to ask that SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Thank you,
Daniel Mitchell

We are residents of San Francisco and are writing to tell you we absolutely OPPOSE the SFMTA's proposal to extend metered parking on week days and into weekends.

Your agency has caused such tremendous hardship already for hard working, tax-paying residents and small businesses with all your street closures, bicycle lanes and removal of parking spots, it's unfathomable that you want to continue destroying and disrupting small businesses and residents' daily lives even further. Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Judy Hollingsworth

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Arthur Sharif

Date: Tuesday, May 23, 2023 5:40:11 PM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

To All Involved,

I strongly encourage you Dear Supervisors and Director Tumlin to please read below.

I am an the chef and partner of 25 Lusk Restaurant located at 25 Lusk Street here in SOMA.

I am writing to ask that SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout for at least 12 months, until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic closures. I would also like to see an independent study be conducted to consider the consequences on workers, customers and businesses, all of who will be affected.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to other funding areas to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a significant cost and negative financial impact on our employees, especially that of my neighbors, friends, and colleagues. It is duplicitous and needs to be reassessed. SFMTA meters in higher use corridors, where many restaurants are located, may charge in the range of $6 to $7 dollars per hour. While many of our employees do take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours, challenges around scheduling, or concern for their safety at night. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city.

I am also concerned that the 18 month extended rollout across the city, will cause both inequity and confusion, for business and consumers. I am worried that this will discourage customers from the communities around San Francisco who want to drive into the city to dine and shop, at a time when we need them more than ever. The retail reality of San Francisco is overly challenged and fractured, this worsens this reality. Our industry is still trying to recover from Covid closures and disruptions and additional challenges could have devastating consequences.

Please vote to support this resolution and consider a 12 month pause to access and determine a better way forward. We beg of you.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

PLEASE NO extension of parking meter hours.

Please consider the substantial hardships this causes for the regular citizens of this city, especially if you want to revitalize businesses, restaurants, bars, and the wonderful nightlife we had in this city. We need people to get out of their homes and live life. The parking meter hours extension will only hurt efforts to re-energize the city, right when we need it the most. Please reconsider this.

Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession + the high level of street crime (eg routine car break-ins, package theft, open drug use in neighborhoods w/ small children and in front of schools).

Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
John Kirtland

To Whom It May Concern,

I am vehemently opposed to the proposed extension of parking meter hours.

If the MTA is looking for ways to guarantee the City continues its slow post-pandemic recovery, this is it!! Extending parking meter hours will encourage/force many more to shop and recreate outside of SF, where parking is freely available. Buying goods online will become even more attractive.

I urge you not to implement this proposal, a de facto regressive form of taxation on the average citizen.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I don't understand it. You let criminals break into our cars, which we have to pay to repair. You make our kids walk over human waste and hyperdermic needles, which we have to pay to clean up. Our schools are a disaster which means we need to pay for tutoring or private schools AND now you want us to pay more. At what point do you think the citizens are going to say enough is enough and leave? I sometimes think I would be treated better if I lived on the streets, stealing and taking drugs. At that point you - the mayor and supervisors - would ask nothing of me, and instead give and give and then give some more.

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
David Krucik

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

To SF Board of Supervisors,
I am a business owner/resident/employee in District 10.
I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.
I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.
This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.
Thank you for reading! We hope you can support our views here- especially after all we have gone through the pandemic. Regards, Sher Rogat

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Are you aware that when parking at a meter, for example, near Oracle Park costs more for several hours than parking in a paid garage...Sometimes more than $60!!! Don't make it worse by extending to nighttime and weekends...

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Leanna Dawydiak

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
KATHLEEN MEDLICOTT

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Carody Irish

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Jim O'Neil

If this is a policy decision to bring in more city revenues to make up for the budget shortfall, it is surely a misguided one. The city currently spends $17B a year, and has one of the highest spend per capita of any city in the world. I exhort you to work to improve communication between departments, and find ways to increase operational efficiencies as an alternative to raising more capital to deploy ineffectively.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Makenna Farrell

Dear Supervisors,

I am a resident in District 8 with residential property in district 7 and commercial property in district 5 while my office is in district 2.

I am active in all parts of the city and interact with residents, builders, businesses services and visitors from all walks of life. I have been a resident in the city as well as a Realtor here for almost 50 years. I served as past president of the San Francisco Association of Realtors and was a previous commissioner on the Assessment Appeals Board.

I am writing to support Supervisor Peskin in his request that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic closures and company relocations. This is not the time to further discourage the patronage of shoppers, spectators and diners to local venues, nor is it the time to penalize workers, residents and owners with ever increasing costs of living in our city.

We understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to take from small business and workers for its funds. SFMTA has been spending heavily on many projects, not all of which are supported by the majority of businesses or residents. At the same time services have been and will continue to be reduced. Furthermore, safety issues aboard public transportation discourage ridership.

This planned change will have a major negative financial impact not only on residents but also the workers who come to the city. Many take public transportation, some must drive due to late hours or scheduling. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them to not take jobs here and there are staffing shortages already contributing to long time businesses closing or significantly reducing their hours of service.

We are against the 18 month extended rollout across the city which will cause inequity and confusion, for businesses and consumers alike.

The city is experiencing a downturn, the people who live and work here feel it and media outside of the city and state report challenges that San Franciscans face at this time. Do not make life in the city more difficult still or cause further unintended or unanticipated negative consequences to our population because SFMTA is now facing a deficit.

Please listen and delay the extended parking meter rollout.

Thank you for your consideration.

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Anita Ho

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Mark Casagrande

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities. I am supposing that none of you are looking to be re-elected?

Seriously, In the current economic climate with serious inflation, tech sector lay offs, when San Francisco already has one of the most negative media images globally, a vacant downtown area, has been one of the most expensive cities to live in and visit for decades, and is needing to bounce back from the Pandemic -- this is NOT a smart way to help the City budget. This is yet another serious expense and burden on residents and visitors that will undoubtedly prevent people from wanting to come into the city to shop, visit arts and cultural destinations (already suffering greatly from the Pandemic), and more!

Meter hours until 10 pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, visitors who cannot afford yet another added expense who may be considering a day trip or renting a car to tour the city and the State, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco.

Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter and your VOTING residents.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Kurtis Chin

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

Another ill advised plan by SFMTA to make living in SF difficult. Lake Slow street is a disaster for residents living near California Street. This new plan to extend parking hours is just another plan to raise money at the expense of drivers.

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Good morning,

I am an employee in District 10. I am writing to ask that SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until the impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Thank you,
Marie

To Whom It May Concern,

I am an employee in District 10 and am writing to ask that the SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout in the Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

I thank you in advance for your consideration!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin, and SFMTA Board Members,

I hope that you are well.

I write to you because I oppose the proposed plan to extend the parking meter hours. I can't see how this will help small businesses - especially restaurants, bars, and performing arts organizations which all operate in the evening hours.

In fact, other Bay Area cities or institutions have free parking at night. Stanford University garages are free after around 4:30 pm. Santana Row does not charge for parking day or night. The City of Burlingame's parking meters stop charging at 6pm.

Extending paid parking hours makes SF a less desirable place to visit when considering the nearby options. Honestly, one must be a somewhat "brave" even to visit SF these days.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Best,

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.
I also highly suggest resolving the homeless issue!

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Olga Milan-Howells

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact me and my friends and community.

Especially adding in Sundays is religious discrimination. Many churches have services that go after 12pm and will make it a burden on church attendees and the churches themselves.

Not only that, but it will make many districts less appealing for going out to eat in the evenings.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Ken Bentubo

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Dear Supervisor,

I am a business owner/resident/employee in District 10.

I am writing to ask that SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until the impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA faces and strongly support the city's need for a robust public transportation system. Still, we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small businesses and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Thank you for your attention and all you do as a small business here in our beautiful city.

Supervisor Stefani,

When I first heard a member of the Board of Supervisors had called for an investigation of John Elberling, I rolled my eyes. I do not know, nor have I ever met Mr. Elberling. But I would juxtapose this City Hall gadfly, with that of a tone death city official.

I do not expect any member of the Board to read this SF Examiner article about what John Elberling did for one of my sisters, but it is worth reading:

There needs to be contrast. And art is orchestrated contrast. A bit of joy arises and surprises, pleases and guides. We LOVE art!

Mercury Café is a maker, a creator, a poetic transformer of things like water and coffee and butter and flour and apples and eggs into experiences of pure joy and surprise, even wonder!

Friday, May 26, from 6:30 to 9:00 Mercury Café is inviting all of its fellow creative spirits and makers of joy and surprise to come and join us in doing this art thing together.

The motive is clear, the end of the month is near, cash is needed, and cash is unquestionably king around here.

Yes, Mercury Café's art hustle is officially on. Come adopt a persona, read a poem, act a scene, play a tune, be a buffoon, and put out your tin pot, your felt hat, and collect coins. It's all yours to keep. Sign up at the café for those wishing to perform. Or send us an email, if that's your norm. Stake out a space to display your crafts, but arrive early, first come first serve.

We all got to dance at the end of the month. Why not dance together? Why not share a bit of joy and surprise together? It's more fun that way...

Speaking of joy,

Renovations have come our way, but, hey, we're still open every day...

My name is Alice Herwill

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Alice Herwill

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Jason Cole

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Jamie Ennis

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy. THIS HURTS BUSINESS.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I do not live in the City, but I do work in SF.

As a Business owner, I object to the increased parking fees, The homeless squatting on the streets and the dereliction of what was once a beautiful city.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Claudia Siegel

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
KS Choi

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

I live in the lower Haight, and we had parking meters added to our street within the last year. Those meters are in what is a completely residential neighborhood, and despite speaking out against them at MTA meetings, anyone coming for weeknight dinner or a Saturday get together has to feed the meter. Yet most other neighborhoods in the city don't face this additional inconvenience. Now the plan is to add charge for Sundays as well - it's absolutely ridiculous.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Aaron Bellings

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

Stop causing San Francisco into the worst situation!!!!

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Kam Tong Chak

Dear President Peskin and the Board of Supervisors,

The West of Twin Peaks Council (WTPCC), an organization comprised of 18 homeowner associations, opposes SFMTA's plan to extend parking meter hours. Extending hours until 10 pm and Sundays will have a tremendous adverse impact on small businesses and places of worship looking to recover from pandemic and will burden small businesses trying to remain viable in this difficult economy.

Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors, and add financial stress to residents who already feel the instability and impact of the economic downturn.

San Franciscans and tourists deserve to visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Extended meter hours will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option. Furthermore, the institution of Sunday meter hours targets the faith community. Churches, synagogues, temples, and mosques host many evening activities and weekend worship services. Much of this constituency is elderly or families with young children. Seniors, families, and other worship service attendees should not be burdened with paying just to attend churches, temple, synagogues, or mosques.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to do everything we can to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already high.

Reject the ill-considered extended hours and look towards cost savings and other efficiency in MUNI. We support the resolution demanding an economic impact study prior to instituting any meter increases.

Sincerely,

Stephen Martin-Pinto
President
West of Twin Peaks Central Council

Subject: SFMTA Meter Enforcement Dogpatch Neighborhood
Date: Tuesday, May 23, 2023 10:14:30 AM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear San Francisco Community Leaders,

I am a business owner/resident/employee in District 10.
I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. While many take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours or scheduling. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city, which is not something any of us wants.

Sincerely,
Zoe Edwards

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Date: Tuesday, May 23, 2023 10:29:43 AM

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Dear Supervisors and Director Tumlin,

I am an owner/operator/employee of __COPRA_____ restaurant (s), located at _____1700 FILLMORE ST _____.

I am writing to ask that SFMTA delay the extended parking meter rollout for at least 12 months, until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic closures. I would also like to see an independent study be conducted to consider the consequences on workers, customers and businesses, all of who will be affected.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to other funding areas to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a significant cost and negative financial impact on our employees. SFMTA meters in higher use corridors, where many restaurants are located, may charge in the range of $6 to $7 dollars per hour. While many of our employees do take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours, challenges around scheduling, or concern for their safety at night. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This may cause them not to want to take jobs in the city.

I am also concerned that the 18 month extended rollout across the city, will cause both inequity and confusion, for business and consumers. I am worried that this will discourage customers from the communities around San Francisco who want to drive into the city to dine and shop, at a time when we need them more than ever. Our industry is still trying to recover from Covid closures and disruptions and additional challenges could have devastating consequences.

Please vote to support this resolution and consider a 12 month pause to access and determine a better way forward.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I was about to write to you to suggest the opposite plan, reducing parking fees to encourage people to shop more when I saw this news posted to NextDoor. This is the exact wrong way to go. With the current post-pandemic state of our city, we need you to do more things to benefit residents and make this city a better place to live, not penalize them for patronizing businesses. Getting less than 5 minutes for a quarter makes me minimize my errands to anywhere which requires parking meters.

Dear Supervisors,

I'm a business owner in Fisherman's Wharf. I don't oppose parking meter changes but I think the proposed rates are too high for customers, employees, and residents/visitors alike. Having to pay $24 for meter parking to grab dinner in the city is just too much. If you are going to extend hours until 10pm, why can't the rate be more reasonable, or at least start lower and steadily increase over 5 years?

Thanks for listening,

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Terrie Gigliotti

Dear Supervisors and Director Tumlin,

I am an employee of The Chapel+Curio restaurant & concert venue located at 777 Valencia St. Extending parking meter hours to 10pm is a terrible idea. I am writing to ask that SFMTA kill the idea.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and support the need for a robust public transportation system with adequate safety measures (police) in the city, but we need to look to other funding areas to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a significant cost and negative financial impact on us. SFMTA meters in higher use corridors, where many restaurants are located, may charge in the range of $6 to $7 dollars per hour. While many of our employees do take public transportation, some have to drive, due to late hours, challenges around scheduling, or concern for their safety at night. They will now have to pay for parking and disrupt their work to move their cars. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work. This will cause them not to want to take jobs in the city.

I am also concerned that the 18 month extended rollout across the city, will cause both inequity and confusion, for business and consumers. As someone who lives in Oakland and works in San Francisco I can tell you this will discourage customers from the communities around San Francisco who want to drive into the city to dine and shop, at a time when we need them more than ever. I already don't drive to San Francisco for entertainment or dining. It's so much hassle & expense already, that unless I can take BART, I stay home. Our industry is still trying to recover from Covid closures and disruptions and additional challenges could have devastating consequences.

Please vote to kill the idea, or at least consider a 12 month pause to assess and determine a better way forward.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Elias Degu

Dear Supervisors,

I am a neighbor of the proposed project. I have lived for 26 years on Rausch St., on the same block as 1147-1178 Folsom.

I STRONGLY SUPPORT using that building for transitional-age youth housing.

This proposed use seems like an outstanding way to keep young people from falling further into homelessness and becoming a greater burden on our city.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Rachel Shay

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Mike Kakunda

Supervisor Peskin,

I hope you understand that I respect your position. However, none of what you state in Today's Examiner Forum is achievable if we do not have a paradigm shift in strategy.

First, we cannot out slick criminals (drug dealers) but we can outsmart them. I know of what I speak based in part on ten years of counseling and teaching teenaged murderers, rapist and gang members from 1983 to 1993 in the maximum security unit of juvenile hall without incident as a start.

What have I been doing since? Largely being ignored by City Hall.

I live less than a block from UN Plaza at 50 Jones Street. It's District 5 not 6 as I may have stated earlier. I will be in my apartment during this grandstanding event.

Your Q&A with the mayor will not get one person in jail, in treatment or off the street. And the only way to get city agencies to collaborate or buy in, is to come up with something new.

But don't listen to me, I've only been here since 1960. And don't worry, I'm working on the paradigm shift. :) I promise you will like it.

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Alternative funds for Muni, create wind turbines with cages to prevent birds hitting the fans, to feed into energy Muni uses. Encourage buildings to place on rooftops.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Peter Tobias

Dear Major Breed, Supervisors, Directors Walton, Tumlin and Wilson,

My name is Mishi Nova and I've owned a small business in San Francisco for 15 years. My current location is in District 10 after we were priced out of downtown.

I am writing to ask that SFTMA delay the extended parking meter rollout in Dogpatch until impacts can be studied further and until our small businesses have more time to recover from the economic devastation of the pandemic.

I understand the significant financial challenges that SFMTA is facing and strongly support the need for a robust public transportation system in the city, but we need to look to the state and federal government to help with the scale of funding needed for our transportation systems, not look to small business and workers for funds.

This planned change will have a cost and negative financial impact on our business and our employees. Our part time stylists and salon assistants - working as contractors - cannot afford to live in San Francisco and have to drive into the city to work. They often work long continuous hours. They cannot apply for residential parking permits for their work.

Charging them up to $9.00/hour for parking is untenable. That's almost half of what they make in an hour! The only people hurt by this are the people who already can't afford to live in our beautiful city and must commute long distances for the access to clients they need.

Not to mention that our clients may have to pay an additional 10-20+% of their service charge to park in our neighborhood. It's too much to ask of our clients!

Please reconsider this entirely, or at least delay it while the impact is studied.

Mishi Nova

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Philip Krikau

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

As a San Francisco native with family members who have moved out of the city, I can tell you that non-residents generally choose not to come to SF if it's not absolutely necessary. They either fear taking public transportation or prefer not to deal with the challenges of driving in the city. With fewer drivers during the evenings, that was a potential option. With this parking meter change, I'm sure even fewer will come.

But that's not my biggest concern. I understand the drive to push for a more pedestrian lifestyle in SF, however, the truth is that families don't have the luxury of living, working, and learning in the same neighborhood. Taking the bus to drop off 3 kids to 3 different locations is not feasible for the many people who work 2+ jobs, let alone others.

This is a short sighted solution that will only further degrade this city, forcing people to move away. I have overcome many challenges so that I can move back into SF. I am a professor and I work in the arts. I give a lot to my city, which I love. With changes like this, my faith in city leadership degrades a little each day. It's very disappointing. Still, I will keep fighting for the city I know and love.

From a respectful voter,
Kathy Zarur

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Daniel Gomez

I oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours!

Message:

Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Musicians and artists need to use cars to transport equipment to our jobs. We will not be able to afford to work at all: we DEPEND upon being able to park at meters for free in the evening and on Sundays.

As a tax payer, I did not get a chance to vote on this.

This will drive more artists and long time residents out of the area.

Message: Dear Supervisors, Mayor Breed, Mr. Tumlin and SFMTA Board Members,

I write to oppose the plan to extend parking meter hours and to support the Board of Supervisors' resolution 230587. Extending meter hours will negatively impact local businesses, discourage out-of-town visitors and add financial stress to local residents who already feel the instability and impact of an impending recession.

San Franciscans and tourists visit neighborhood business districts in the evenings to relax, unwind, and share a meal with their loved ones. Expanded parking meter hours will burden potential customers (especially seniors, the disabled, and families) with an additional cost, detracting from their overall enjoyment and inhibiting them from such activities.

Meter hours until 10pm will materially impact restaurant and retail workers who will be feeding meters and spending 2 to 3 times more on parking. Many service employees live outside San Francisco, and public transportation is frequently not an option.

If we want to boost our local economy and revitalize restaurants and tourist areas, we need to incentivize evening and Sunday customers, take care of workers, and not pile on additional costs at a time when rents and the price of food and necessary items are already so high.

I sincerely hope the Board of Supervisors votes to reject this plan. Please consider the needs of our local businesses and residents, as well as the overall interests of San Francisco. Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Add me to the list for updates on this issue.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

I am writing to express my strong objection to the proposed extension of parking meter hours. As a resident of San Francisco, I believe this decision fails to consider the realities of our daily lives and the challenges we already face when it comes to finding parking.

Extending the meter hours will only add to the financial burden on residents and visitors who rely on street parking. It will disproportionately impact those who work non-traditional hours or have limited transportation options. Additionally, it could discourage people from visiting local businesses and hurt the city's economy.

Instead of imposing additional fees and restrictions, I urge the SFMTA to seek alternative solutions to address parking issues, such as improving public transportation options or expanding parking facilities.

I kindly request that you reconsider this proposal and prioritize the needs and concerns of the community when making decisions that directly impact our daily lives.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Stacy Hawkins
