Linda,

Please find attached my application to the SF Board of Supervisors for the open 'public goods and services' seat on the Sweatfree Procurement Advisory Group. I was invited to apply by a current member of the group and attended a recent meeting.

My 10+ years of supply chain sourcing and social responsibility for manufactured products including apparel, linens and equipment seem a strong fit with the Advisory Group mandate, as described under the city's Sweatfree Contracting Ordinance.

Please let me know if you require additional information. I am also sending a hard copy of these materials by mail today.

Best,
Heather

To Whom It May Concern,

Hello. I am enthusiastically recommending Mr. Daniel Marroquin for a seat on the San Francisco Sweat Free Ordinance Advisory Committee. I know Daniel as a student at San Francisco State University who I recommended for an internship with the SF Living Wage Coalition. In a short time he has become an asset to their internship program displaying strong leadership skills and excellent communication skills with his fellow organizers. This experience launched Daniel to initiate a new SFSU student organization "Students for Economic Justice". Their membership consists of students who are earning less than the SF minimum wage in their campus jobs.

I am confident that Daniel will bring new energy and new ideas to the table of your Advisory Committee. Daniel has already demonstrated maturity, high level organizing and follow-up skills, and an appreciation for workers' rights and the role of labor in the betterment of workers and their family's lives.

I think he would be a welcome addition to your committee as well as an opportunity for you to help develop new leadership in this important field. Thank you for your consideration of his application. Please feel free to follow up with me at any time regarding Daniel. Thank you for your time.

In solidarity,

Nicky Trasvina

Daniel has excellent written and verbal communication skills, is extremely well organized, can work independently and is able to ensure that all projects are completed in a timely manner. Daniel is also fluent in Spanish and can communicate with a variety of people.

Daniel Marroquin has always been willing to offer his assistance and has had an excellent rapport with the many constituents served by our office. Daniel would be an asset to the Sweat Free Ordinance Advisory Committee and I therefore recommend him to your office.
