8. Proposed Grant Project Summary:
This grant funds one one-year Senior Fellow to make San Francisco a national example for preparing students for STEM careers. The Fellow will work to integrate a variety of related efforts across schools, partners and various age groups of students into a more connected “pathway” approach that articulates and pursues strategic goals for students throughout the City. This will include leveraging existing private-sector partnerships to invest in building the math and computer science skills necessary to compete for STEM careers. It will also involve developing a plan for how best to advocate at the state level for policies and resources that can address crucial barriers to the integration of digital learning into all common core subjects and the implementation of the K-12 computer science curriculum that is being developed by the STEM team. Finally, it may include identifying additional funding for teacher professional development, student devices and wireless.
