20 Section 1. Environmental and Planning Findings.

21 (a) The Planning Department has determined that the actions contemplated in this 22 ordinance comply with the California Environmental Quality Act (California Public Resources 23 Code Sections 21000 et seq.). Said determination is on file with the Clerk of the Board of 24 Supervisors in File No. 160553 and is incorporated herein by reference. The Board affirms 25 this determination.

(b) On September 15, 2016, the Planning Commission, in Resolution No. 19736, adopted findings that the actions contemplated in this ordinance are consistent, on balance,

1 with the City's General Plan and the eight priority policies of Planning Code Section 101.1.
2 The Board adopts these findings as its own. A copy of said Resolution is on file with the Clerk
3 of the Board of Supervisors in File No. 160553, and is incorporated herein by reference.

4 (c) Pursuant to Planning Code Section 302, the Board of Supervisors finds that the 5 proposed Planning Code amendments will serve the public necessity, convenience, and 6 welfare for the reasons set forth in Planning Commission Resolution No. 19736, and the 7 Board incorporates such reasons herein by reference.

8
9 Section 2. General Findings.

10 (a) San Francisco is one of the most unusual and beautiful cities in the world, but it is 11 losing its character as more general advertising signs, commonly known as billboards, pollute 12 its streets and neighborhoods every day.

13 (b) In past years, hundreds of general advertising signs have been displayed across 14 the City's neighborhoods: on the side of buildings, plastered next to shop windows, and 15 stacked one-after-another on major streets. Due to new technology, billboard companies can 16 erect signs anywhere quickly, easily, and cheaply.

17 (c) San Francisco's historic buildings, scenic views, and distinctive neighborhoods are 18 being overrun by huge new general advertising signs. These intrusive advertisements hang 19 over parks, playgrounds, public plazas, and homes and block views. Over the last few years 20 there has been a dramatic increase in general advertising billboards, particularly the massive 21 wallscapes that cover entire sides of buildings. General advertising signs are urban blight.
22 They command viewers' attention without their consent, robbing them of the right to see the 23 beautiful city they live in. They destroy the distinctive qualities that make San Francisco and 24 its individual neighborhoods unique.

1 General advertising signs are currently in, adjacent to, and visible from public and 2 historically significant civic spaces including not only parks and public plazas, but also historic 3 buildings and the waterfront.

4 (d) The number of general advertising signs is increasing all over the City. Many 5 areas of the City are saturated with general advertising signs. In these areas the general 6 advertising signs are obtrusive, out of scale, and contribute to visual pollution and blight. As 7 population, traffic, and building trends grow and shift within the City, it is difficult to assess 8 which areas of the City will be inundated with general advertising signs next.

9 (e) The harms created by the large number of general advertising signs in San 10 Francisco transcend aesthetic and environmental concerns, important as those concerns are 11 to the community. There are other concrete harms as well. First, tourism, San Francisco's 12 largest revenue-generating industry, benefits from the preservation of the City's unique 13 character, architecture, and vistas. As general advertising signs become more and more a 14 part of the City's landscape, its distinctive appearance recedes or is hidden, and the character 15 that tourists visit the City to experience is lost. Second, City officials and the public have 16 expressed concern over the negative impact of the increasing volume of general advertising 17 signs on traffic and pedestrian safety. Third, signs identifying local services and businesses 18 are often blocked or obscured by general advertising signs, a practice that confuses and 19 distracts the public from finding those services and businesses.

20 (f) City officials have received complaints from the public about the proliferation of 21 general advertising signs in the City, the commercialization of the City's public space, and the 22 increased size of vinyl signs which cover entire sides of buildings, as well as about general 23 advertising signs placed on architecturally and historically significant buildings.

1 (g) More than 600 cities in the United States – including San Jose, San Diego, Denver,
2 and Seattle – and six States have protected their environment by prohibiting new general 3 advertising signs.

4 (h) The City currently contains an ample supply of legally permitted general advertising 5 signs.

6 (i) Planning Code Section 601 identifies the need to regulate signs in order to reduce 7 hazards that can distract motorists and pedestrians traveling on the public right of way. Sign 8 controls reduce the potential for accidents, especially in congested parts of the City.

9 (j) Planning Code Section 601 cites as among the special purposes for adopting sign 10 regulation: safeguarding and enhancing of property values in residential, commercial, mixed 11 use, and industrial areas, protecting the public investment in and the character and dignity of 12 public buildings, open spaces and thoroughfares, and protecting the distinctive appearance of 13 San Francisco produced by its unique geography, topography, street patterns, skyline and 14 architectural features.

15 (k) Policy 4.14 of the Urban Design Element of the City's General Plan states, "Signs 16 are another leading cause of street clutter. Where signs are large, garish and clashing they 17 lose their value as identification or advertising and merely offend the viewer. Often these signs 18 are overhanging or otherwise unrelated to the physical qualities of the buildings on which they 19 are placed. Signs have an important place in an urban environment, but they should be 20 controlled in their size and location."

21 (l) Upon the adoption in March 2002 of Proposition G's citywide ban on new general 22 advertising signs, it was estimated that roughly 1,500 general advertising signs existed in San 23 Francisco.

24 (m) In 2007, in Ordinance No. 52-07, the City adopted what were then thought to be 25 heavy penalties for illegal general advertising signs. But, despite these penalties, roughly 200

1 additional general advertising signs have since been installed. While these signs have been 2 removed through Planning Department enforcement activities, litigation, or a combination 3 thereof, these 200 signs were equivalent to roughly one-quarter of the City's current total legal 4 inventory of approximately 800 general advertising signs. Not only is this ratio of 5 noncompliance inconsistent with the voter mandates set forth in March 2002's Proposition G, 6 November 2007's Proposition K, and November 2009's Proposition E, but this striking pattern 7 of unlawful activity also drains important City resources better put to other uses. Further, this 8 pattern of unlawful activity demonstrates the continuing appeal of general advertising signs 9 within the advertising industry, an appeal that often leads to the unlawful placement of such 10 signs in San Francisco.

11 (n) General advertising signs remain highly prominent in the advertising industry, and 12 have not been meaningfully displaced by internet or other digital forms of advertising.
13 Nationally, revenue from general advertising signs "rose 4.6 percent in 2015 compared to the 14 previous year, accounting for $7.3 billion," according to the Outdoor Advertising Association of 15 America, which "marks an all-time high."

16 (o) Consistent market demand for general advertising signs, notwithstanding the City's 17 10-year-old penalty amounts levied against illegal general advertising signs, has led to a 18 situation in which penalties resulting from the display of illegal general advertising signage are 19 internalized as a "cost of doing business." The penalties for such illegal signage no longer 20 serve as a meaningful deterrent to unlawful behavior, if they ever did.

21 (p) The size of a sign is a key factor in determining the profitability of a general 22 advertising sign.

23 (q) A central purpose of administrative penalties under Article 6 of the Planning Code 24 is to deter illegal general advertising signs. Another purpose is to compensate the City for its 25 costs of enforcing Article 6. To encourage compliance with Article 6, the City must have the

1 ability to impose administrative penalties that are sufficiently large to deter illegal general
2 advertising signs.

3 (r) Sign companies generally have the ability to remove illegal signage quickly after 4 receiving notice that a sign violates Article 6 of the Planning Code. For example, in 2016, just 5 before the Super Bowl, the City determined that a general advertising sign on the side of a 6 building in Embarcadero Center violated Article 6. The Responsible Party removed the sign 7 within two days of receiving notice from the City that the sign was illegally displayed.

8 (s) Current penalties for illegal general advertising signs do not deter sign companies 9 that wish to display an illegal general advertising sign during a particular event, such as the 10 Super Bowl or SF Pride weekend. Under current Planning Code Section 610, a sign company 11 may display a general advertising sign a few days before the event, knowing that penalties will 12 not begin to accrue until 30 days after a notice of violation for the sign is issued, long after the 13 event is over and the purpose of the general advertising sign, to reach attendees of the event, 14 has been served.

16 Section 3. The Planning Code is hereby amended by revising Sections 602.40, 603 17 and 610, to read as follows:

20 (b) Administrative Penalties. The Director of Planning may impose administrative 21 penalties for violations of the regulations governing gGeneral aAdvertising sSigns set forth in 22 this Article 6. These administrative penalties are cumulative to and do not foreclose any criminal or 23 civil penalties that may apply under state or local law. Administrative penalties shall be imposed in 24 accordance with the following procedures:

1 (1) Notice of Violation.

2 (A) Upon the Planning Department's determination pursuant to Section 3 176 of this Code that a general advertising sign has been erected, installed, expanded, 4 intensified, relocated, or otherwise operated in violation of the requirements of this Code or 5 has been denied an in-lieu identifying number pursuant to Section 604.1(c) of this Code, the 6 Director shall send a written notice of violation to the Responsible Party for delivery by first 7 class mail, ~~or hand-delivery,~~ or electronic mail. The notice of violation shall describe the 8 violation(s), state that the Responsible Party has ~~thirty five calendar~~ days from the date 9 postmarked on the notice or three calendar days from the date of hand-delivery or electronic 10 mail delivery of the notice to: (i) file an application for a permit to remove the general

12 reconsideration pursuant to ~~S~~subsection (d). An electronic mail message shall be considered 13 delivered on the same day that it is sent.

14 * * * *

15 (2) Penalties.

16 (A) Accrual of Penalties. If a Responsible Party fails to respond to the 17 notice of violation as outlined in subsection (b)(1)(A), penalties shall accrue under this Section 18 610 at the daily rate set forth in subsection (b)(2)(B) beginning on the Accrual Date, which is 19 defined as the sixth day after the date postmarked on a notice delivered by first class mail, or on the 20 thirty-firstfourth day after hand-delivery or electronic mail delivery of a notice, and the Director 21 shall refer the matter to the City Attorney for further action. If the Responsible Party responds 22 after the Accrual Date~~thirty days~~, but before the Director has referred the matter to the City
23 Attorney, the Responsible Party shall be assessed a penalty based on the number of days 24 that have passed beginning on the Accrual Date until~~between the end of the thirty-day period and~~ 25 the date the Responsible Party responded. Once the matter has been referred to the City

1 Attorney for further proceedings, it shall be within the discretion of the City Attorney, in 2 consultation with the Director, whether to allow the Responsible Party to request a 3 reconsideration of the notice of violation or to proceed with other legal action. If the 4 Responsible Party is allowed to request reconsideration, the Responsible Party shall pay a 5 penalty based on the amount accrued beginning on the Accrual Date until~~between the end of the~~ 6 ~~thirty-day period and~~ the date the Responsible Party responded. The Responsible Party shall 13 below:

- 14 _____ a.(i) 100 square feet or less - $100.~~00~~ per day per violation; 15 _____ b.(ii) 101 - 300 square feet - $1,000.~~00~~ per day per violation; 16 _____ c.(iii) 301 - 500 square feet - $1,750.~~00~~ per day per 17 violation; and 18 _____ d.(iv) Over 500 square feet - $2,500.~~00~~ per day per 19 violation.

20 If the violation for which the administrative penalty is assessed has increased the size 21 of the gGeneral aAdvertising sSign, the penalty shall be based on the actual size of the 22 gGeneral aAdvertising sSign.

23 * * * *

24 (d) Reconsideration of Notice of Violation or Administrative Penalty.

25 (1) Reconsideration Hearing.

1 (A) A Responsible Party may seek reconsideration of the issuance of the 2 notice of violation or any administrative penalty. Any request for reconsideration shall be 3 accompanied by written evidence that demonstrates why the notice of violation was issued in 4 error or why the administrative penalties were assessed in error. Upon receipt of a request for 5 reconsideration within the time limits established by §subsection (b)(1)(A) or when allowed 6 under §subsection (b)(2)(A), the Planning Department shall schedule a reconsideration
7 hearing before an administrative law judge. Such hearing shall be scheduled for a date no 8 later than 60 days after the request. At least 10 days before the scheduled hearing, the 9 Planning Department shall notify the Responsible Party by mail in writing of the hearing date, 10 time, and location.

11 (B) The administrative law judge shall hold a hearing to reconsider the 12 Director's notice of violation or administrative penalty. The administrative law judge's decision 13 for a reconsideration of the notice of violation shall be based upon, but not limited to, the 14 Planning Code, any final Zoning Administrator Interpretations, the Building Code, building 15 permits issued by the City, and any final decisions of the Board of Appeals regarding the 16 subject property. The administrative law judge's determination of a request for reconsideration 17 of any administrative penalty shall take into account the validity of accrual dates, accuracy of 18 assessment based upon sign size and whether the Responsible Party was accurately 19 identified. For repeat violations, the administrative law judge shall also take into account the 20 considerations specified in subsection (f)(3) of this Section 610. Within 30 days of the hearing, the 21 administrative law judge shall issue a final written decision, which shall be mailed to the 22 Responsible Party. The final written decision shall not be appealable to the Board of Appeals.
23 All final written decisions shall inform the Responsible Party of its right to seek judicial review 24 pursuant to the timelines set forth in Section 1094.6 of the California Code of Civil Procedure.
25

1 (C) If the Planning Department rescinds the notice of violation or 2 penalties prior to the reconsideration hearing, the case shall be considered abated and all 3 accrued penalties shall be rescinded. If penalties or the reconsideration hearing fee set forth 4 in §subsection (d)(2), below, have been paid, the Planning Department shall refund in a timely 5 matter any unused portions of the penalties or fee.

6 If the administrative law judge overturns the notice of violation or penalties, the case 7 shall be abated and all accrued penalties shall be rescinded. If penalties have been paid, the 8 Planning Department shall refund the penalties.

9 If the Responsible Party withdraws its request for reconsideration of notice of violation 10 or penalties prior to the reconsideration hearing and cures the violation(s) by filing for a 11 building permit under subsection (c), any accrued penalties shall apply in addition to a 12 mandatory ten-day fixed penalty based upon the daily rate outlined in §subsection (b)(2)(B). If 13 the request for reconsideration is withdrawn within less than 10 days from the date it was 14 timely made, the Responsible Party may apply to the Director for a reduction in the fixed 15 penalty amount based upon the number of days less than 10 that the reconsideration request 16 was withdrawn. Any such reduction shall be granted or denied at the sole discretion of the 17 Director and is not appealable.

18 If the administrative law judge upholds the notice of violation or penalties, the 19 Responsible Party shall cure the violation(s) by filing for a building permit pursuant to the 20 procedures and requirements of §subsection (c) within fifteen days of the date the decision is 21 mailed to the Responsible Party. The Responsible Party shall be subject to any accrued 22 penalties, plus a mandatory twenty-day fixed penalty based upon the daily rate outlined in 23 §subsection (b)(2)(B). If the reconsideration hearing is held within less than 20 days from the 24 date it was timely requested, the Responsible Party may apply to the Director for a reduction 25 in the fixed penalty amount based upon the number of days less than 20 that the

1 reconsideration hearing was held. Any such reduction shall be granted at the sole discretion
2 of the Director and is not appealable. If the Responsible Party does not file for a building 3 permit within the fifteen-day period, additional penalties shall accrue at the daily rate outlined 4 in ~~S~~subsection (b)(2)(B) and the Director shall refer the case to the City Attorney for further 5 action.

6 * * * *

7 (f) Repeat Violations.

8 * * * *

9 (2) For the purposes of this subsection ~~(f)~~, a repeat violation shall mean any 10 violation of the general advertising provisions of this Article which ~~(1A)~~ occurs on a property 11 that was the subject of a notice of violation under Article 6 during the previous five years and 12 ~~(2B)~~ is owned by the same entity which owned the property upon which the general
13 advertising was located at the time of the earlier violation. A repeat violation shall not include 14 one based upon a notice of violation that was overturned by an administrative law judge or 15 rescinded by the Planning Department under subsection (d)(1)(C) of this Section 610. A 16 Responsible Party may seek reconsideration of a notice of violation for a repeat violation under 17 subsection (d) of this Section 610, provided that the request for reconsideration is filed and all general
18 advertising copy is removed prior to the Accrual Date, as defined in subsection (b)(2)(A) of this Section 19 610.

20 ~~_____ (3) Violations under this subsection (f) shall be treated like other violations of Section~~ 21 ~~610 except that (i) the 30-day period identified throughout subsection (b) shall be reduced to three~~ 22 ~~business days, (ii) the penalties set forth in subsection (b) shall begin to accrue on the fourth day, and~~ 23 ~~(iii) the general advertising sign and any sign structure must be completely removed from the site~~
24 ~~within the three-day period. A Responsible Party may seek reconsideration under subsection (d);~~ 25 ~~provided that the request for reconsideration is filed and all general advertising copy is removed prior~~

1 to expiration of the three-day period. Penalties for violations under this subsection (f) shall accrue as 2 described in subsection (b)(2) of this Section 610, except that the amount of penalties shall be 3 calculated as follows:

4 _____ (A) Daily Penalties. Daily penalties shall accrue as described below, until the 5 date that the General Advertising Sign and any associated sign structure are removed from the site, or,
6 if the City accepts a late request for reconsideration from the Responsible Party pursuant to subsection
7 (b)(2)(A) of this Section 610, until the date that all copy is removed from the General Advertising Sign:

8 _____ (i) On the Accrual Date, which is the first day on which penalties accrue, 9 the daily penalty shall be the amount specified in subsection (b)(2)(B) of this Section 610 multiplied by 10 2.

11 _____ (ii) On the second day on which penalties accrue, the daily penalty shall 12 be the amount specified in subsection (b)(2)(B) of this Section 610 multiplied by 3.

13 _____ (iii) On the third day on which penalties accrue, the daily penalty shall 14 be the amount specified in subsection (b)(2)(B) of this Section 610 multiplied by 4.

15 _____ (iv) On the fourth day on which penalties accrue and for each day 16 thereafter for which penalties accrue, the daily penalty shall be the amount specified in subsection 17 (b)(2)(B) of this Section 610 multiplied by 5.

18 _____ (B) Alternative Penalty. As an alternative to the daily penalties described in 19 subsection (f)(3)(A) of this Section 610, all Responsible Parties may jointly opt to pay an alternative 20 penalty, which consists of (i) the income earned by the Responsible Parties for the display of the illegal
21 General Advertising Sign, including but not limited to revenue earned by the Sign owner or operator 22 from advertisers or advertisement placement firms and revenue earned by the property owner or lessee 23 from the lease or sublease of the property to the Sign owner or operator; plus (ii) an additional 20% of 24 that total income amount. The income amount shall be calculated beginning on the Accrual Date, as 25 defined in subsection (b)(2)(A) of this Section 610, until the date that the General Advertising Sign and

1 any associated sign structure are removed from the site, or, if the City accepts a late request for 2 reconsideration from the Responsible Party pursuant to subsection (b)(2)(A) of this Section 610, until 3 the date that all copy is removed from the General Advertising Sign.

4 To calculate this alternative penalty, the Planning Department may require that all Responsible 5 Parties provide evidence of their income, such as a lease between the property owner and the Sign 6 operator or Sign owner, and any agreements between the Sign owner or operator and advertisers or 7 advertisement placement firms who have contracted to have their advertisements displayed on the Sign 8 during the relevant time period.

9 (C) Standard of Review. Pursuant to subsection (d) of this Section 610, a 10 Responsible Party may request reconsideration of a notice of violation for a repeat violation by an 11 administrative law judge. In any such proceeding, a rebuttable presumption shall exist that the penalty 12 amount is reasonable. In reviewing a penalty imposed pursuant to subsection (f)(3) of this Section 610, 13 the administrative law judge shall give substantial weight to that presumption, but may consider the 14 nature and egregiousness of the violation, the financial resources of the Responsible Party, the need to 15 deter illegal conduct, and the Responsible Party's culpability, to determine if the penalty is excessive.

16 (g) Liens. For any penalties assessed pursuant to this Section 610, the Director may initiate 17 proceedings to make the payment amount due and all additional authorized costs and charges, 18 including attorneys' fees, a lien on the property pursuant to Chapter 100 of the Administrative Code.
19 This subsection (g) does not apply to a notice of violation that has been overturned by an 20 administrative law judge or rescinded by the Planning Department under subsection (d)(1)(C) of this 21 Section 610.

22
23 Section 4. Effective Date. This ordinance shall become effective 30 days after 24 enactment. Enactment occurs when the Mayor signs the ordinance, the Mayor returns the 25

1 ordinance unsigned or does not sign the ordinance within ten days of receiving it, or the Board
2 of Supervisors overrides the Mayor's veto of the ordinance.

3
4 Section 5. Scope of Ordinance. In enacting this ordinance, the Board of Supervisors 5 intends to amend only those words, phrases, paragraphs, subsections, sections, articles, 6 numbers, punctuation marks, charts, diagrams, or any other constituent parts of the Municipal 7 Code that are explicitly shown in this ordinance as additions, deletions, Board amendment 8 additions, and Board amendment deletions in accordance with the "Note" that appears under 9 the official title of the ordinance.

11 Section 6. Severability. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or word 12 of this ordinance, or any application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held to be 13 invalid or unconstitutional by a decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, such decision 14 shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions or applications of the ordinance. The 15 Board of Supervisors hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance and each and 16 every section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, and word not declared invalid or 17 unconstitutional without regard to whether any other portion of this ordinance or application 18 thereof would be subsequently declared invalid or unconstitutional.
