Department of Elections
 City and County of San Francisco
 John Arntz, Director

For Immediate Release

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, July 16, 2018 – Today, the Department of Elections issued Voter Registration Forms for non-citizens who are eligible to vote for members of the Board of Education in the November 6, 2018, election.

Prospective voters may request a Non-Citizen Voter Registration Form by calling the Department of Elections at (415) 554-4375, at sfelections.org/noncitizen/voting, or in person at the Department's office, Room 48 in City Hall. This form will be the sole means by which eligible non-citizens can register to vote.

As required under local election law, the registration form contains an Important Notice, as well as an eligibility checklist that non-citizens are advised to review prior to registering to vote. The Notice is available in 48 languages.

To be eligible to register to vote in the Board of Education election, non-citizens must be residents of San Francisco, at least 18 years old on Election Day, and parents, legal guardians, or caregivers of children under the age of 19 who also reside in San Francisco. Those who are imprisoned or on parole for conviction of a felony, or currently found by a court to be mentally incompetent to vote, are not eligible.

Applicants may return the completed registration form to the Department of Elections by mail or in person. Once the registration is processed, the Department will mail a Voter Notification Card to the registrant confirming the registration.

The deadline to register to vote in the November 6, 2018, Board of Education election is October 22, fifteen days before the election. Those who miss this deadline can visit the City Hall Voting Center to register and vote under conditional voter registration.

The Department of Elections' website—sfelections.org/noncitizen/voting—provides additional information related to non-citizen registration and voting, including frequently asked questions, a Guide to Registration and Voting Process for Non-Citizens, and much more.

The opportunity for eligible non-citizens to vote for members of the Board of Education stems from the November 2016 election, when San Francisco voters passed Proposition N, Non-Citizen Voting in School Board Elections, by a vote of 54% to 46%.

In May 2018, the Board of Supervisors adopted an ordinance amending the Municipal Elections Code to implement Proposition N by requiring the Department of Elections to develop the non-citizen voter registration form described above and other documents related to non-citizen voting in School Board elections. The ordinance also requires a notice on non-citizen voter materials that any information provided to the Department may be obtained by the federal government.

Non-citizen voting will be available at the next election for members of the Board of Education, scheduled for November 6, 2018, and at every Board of Education election until November 2022. After the November 2022 election, the opportunity for non-citizens to vote in Board of Education elections will expire unless the Board of Supervisors adopts an ordinance allowing it to continue.

I just wanted to say thank you for voting against appointing Joe Marshall again to the SF police commission. Reform of our PD and safety of our city requires someone who can be far more unbiased to make the tough calls reform requires.

Thank you for your hard work on the city's behalf.

Dear Dr. Geiger,
 Dear Director Raphael,
 Dear Commissioners,

There are many reasons not to use pesticides:

- Pesticides don't solve pest problems.
- Pesticides are hazardous to our health.
- Pesticides cause special problems for children.
- Pesticides contaminate our food, water, and air.
- Pesticides are dangerous to pets.
- Pesticides are not good for pollinators, fish, birds, wildlife.
- Pesticide "Health & Safety Testing" is conducted by chemical companies.
- Pesticides have too many secrets.

Herbicides hold a special place among pesticides - it is particularly inane to use them - since, while the "pest" plants pose no threat to our health and well-being, the poisons used against these "pests" most certainly do.

Our land can and must be maintained organically.
 The high hazard herbicides must be banned.

Please include my letter into the meeting minutes.

Sincerely,
 Susanna Klebaner

It is a great shame that our Sanctuary Law shall protect a serial rapist, an Illegal from Peru who posed as a ride share driver, and committed rapes 3 times this year, and one time in 2013.

Instead of turning him over to ICE for immediate deportation, why do we waste our tax payers' money housing him in the jail, feeding him, and allowing him recreation and medical in the jail?

Hi SF Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed,

I have an idea that may aid in ending homelessness in SF.

Combine 3 awesome leaders:

1. Someone who has overcome and recently escaped homelessness in the city of San Francisco.
2. Someone who is currently homeless in the city, intelligent, and wishes to serve as a leader of the homeless community.
3. Someone with a lot of heart that doesn't fit either of the previous 2 categories, but who deeply cares about ending homelessness.

Through the fusion of 3 such leaders and providing them the resources they need, I'm confident they'd come up with strategies that get the job done provided they're not pressured too much and given too aggressive of a timeline.

Although I'm no longer a SF resident, I'd like to see homelessness addressed across the globe. The city of SF can be looked to as a model upon implementation of successful strategies for raising its people out of homelessness.

I wish you and your family prosperous, long lives,

Trip Seibold 子兴

Subject: Comments Concerning Central SoMa Plan

Good afternoon Supervisors.

On behalf of Walk San Francisco and our members, I write to share that we look forward to the City fixing it's dangerous streets in SoMa such as Folsom and Howard and 6th Street. Currently, almost every street in SoMa is on the Vision Zero High-Injury Network, the 13% of city streets where 75% of severe and fatal crashes happen.

The Central SoMa Plan envisions SoMa as a neighborhood where it's safe and enjoyable to walk. Vision Zero improvements like mid-block crossings, intersection and crosswalk treatments, and signal timing upgrades, will transform SoMa's dangerous streets into safe, vibrant, and inclusive destinations where people want to travel, work, and live.

This plan would allow critical projects to move forward.

In addition, though, we hope you can quickly and thoroughly address the concerns of our partners, like SOMCAN, around the need for affordable housing, eviction prevention, and good living wage jobs for current residents. They have serious concerns about the lack of interim controls to prevent displacement and speculation, and the lack of current strong measures in the Plan to increase affordable housing and job creation for local residents.

We look forward to you addressing their concerns.

Thank you,
Josie

‘Hunters Point is unfolding into the biggest case of eco-fraud in U.S. history’: Feds promise Human Health Risk Assessment to measure harm to community

July 7, 2018

by Ahimsa Porter Sumchai MD

“Hunters Point is unfolding into the biggest case of eco-fraud in U.S. history.” – Public Employees for Environmental Responsibility Executive Director Jeff Ruch, April 9, 2018

“The data revealed not only potential purposeful falsification and fraud in terms of sample and data manipulation; they also reveal the potential failure to conduct adequate scans, a lack of proper chain of custody for ensuring samples were not tampered with, extensive data quality issues including off-site laboratory data and general mismanagement of the entire characterization and cleanup project.” – EPA Superfund Manager John Chestnut

Tetra Tech EM, Inc., is a Navy contractor whose workers submitted thousands of fraudulent samples collected from radiation contaminated soil and buildings at the Hunters Point Shipyard in San Francisco, California.

The United States Navy is not a public health organization. It is a military organization complicit in an exploding public health crisis at the Hunters Point Shipyard in San Francisco, California.

Yet, with no evidence-based human health risk data to support its pronouncement, the Navy is the lead voice in a deafening echo chamber of government officials, health department representatives and mainstream media outlets who absurdly claim no risk to public health or harm to residents, workers or the environment has occurred due to dangerous redevelopment activities on a federal Superfund site!

The United States Navy is not a public health organization. It is a military organization complicit in an exploding public health crisis at the Hunters Point Shipyard in San Francisco, California.

A federal Superfund site is, by definition, a property where the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) used a Hazard Ranking System to calculate a score based on actual or potential release of hazardous substances causing harm to human health.

A federal Superfund is a property so contaminated it is placed on the National Priorities List of properties hazardous to human health and the environment.

On a scale of 1 to 100, a score of 28.5 or more places a property on the National Priorities List. The Hunters Point Shipyard (HPS) has a Hazard Ranking score of 49. Thus, by legal and government standards, HPS is a harmful property and the well documented negative health impacts evident in residents living adjacent to it in the 94124 zip code of southeast San Francisco can be presumed causal.

What is harm and its meaning in legal terms? USLegal defines harm as an injury, loss or damage. Harm can be physical or psychological, actual or potential. Harm can be a material or tangible detriment. Harm principle refers to a theory of crime that an action can be banned if it causes harm to someone. As a spiritual principle, harmlessness is the meaning of a word from the oldest attested human language: Ancient Sanskrit. That word is Ahimsa.

Both the Navy and Tetra Tech issued public statements in response to “the biggest case of eco-fraud in U.S. history,” meeting legal standards as admission of harm, due to the deliberate intent to defraud and criminal negligence of Tetra Tech EM, Inc.

On a scale of 1 to 100, a score of 28.5 or more places a property on the National Priorities List. The Hunters Point Shipyard (HPS) has a Hazard Ranking score of 49.

“Tetra Tech vehemently rejects this type of activity and will pursue all legal actions available to it to recover the HARM that the actions of these former employees have caused to Tetra Tech, the Navy and the local community,” announced Tetra Tech on May 3, 2018.

“The scandal has brought on negative media attention and caused residents who moved into homes and condos next to where the cleanup is taking place to worry about their safety,” said U.S. Navy Director of Base Closure Laura Duchnak in a NBC Investigative Report May 4.

The Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry is the federal public health agency mandated to protect human health and determine risk exposure to toxic releases at a Superfund site. ATSDR is a division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia. ATSDR has a western regional office next door to the Region 9 EPA at 75 Hawthorne St. in San Francisco.

Christopher Carpenter is a community hero and principle plaintiff of the Hunters Point Community Lawsuit. As a shipyard worker, he was exposed to toxic dust so dangerous multiple work shutdowns were mandated. Carpenter alerted a school with children outdoors on a playground and was fired. In 2016 Chris Carpenter died of a cancer so rare it had not been previously reported in an African American.

“ATSDR protects communities from harmful health effects related to exposure to natural and man-made hazardous substances. We do this by responding to environmental health emergencies, investigating emerging environmental health threats; conducting research on the health impacts of hazardous waste sites; and building capabilities of and providing actionable guidance to state and local health partners,” according to atsdr.cdc.gov.

The Human Health Risk Assessment (HHRA) process is the established approach to evaluate the potential for adverse health effects from exposure to environmental toxins. The HHRA is an integral part of the remedial response process defined by the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980 (CERCLA), also called Superfund. The goal of the HHRA is to determine the magnitude of potential threats to human health due to exposure to hazardous substances.

Despite a mushrooming cloud of evidence, the public has been exposed to fraudulently cleared radiation contaminated soils, buildings, landfills and radioactive particles volatilized in air as a result of demolition and construction activities at HPS, neither the Navy or Region 9 EPA have requested ATSDR conduct an HHRA at HPS as mandated by CERCLA. ATSDR conducted an HHRA at HPS in 2000 following the Parcel E landfill fire that smoldered for over 100 days –according to firefighter testimony – fueled by explosive concentrations of methane gas in surface pockets as high as 50 percent volume in air. That ATSDR assessment documented elevations in toxic air contaminants called volatile organic compounds in air samples collected at the landfill that included the World Health Organization designated carcinogen benzene. ATSDR also identified the potential for short term health effects that drove residents to seek emergency care, including cough, wheezing, sinusitis and conjunctivitis, and contradicted Health Department Environmental Chief Rajiv Bhatia, MD, who attributed their symptoms to “mass hysteria.” An ATSDR HHRA is standard protocol following a harmful environmental release under the federal Superfund act. It is a logical, mandatory and necessary next step ATSDR must take.

In Gandhi's world view, Ahimsa precludes the act of inflicting physical injury as well as mental states including hatred and evil thoughts.

The mushrooming scope of the Tetra Tech eco-fraud scandal at HPS has led to criminal indictments of two radiation control supervisors. In March of 2008 the Navy and EPA concluded in separate reports that, in addition to thousands of fraudulent soil samples collected by Tetra Tech employees documented in the internal investigation spanning 2008–2012, 28 fraudulently cleared buildings have been identified on five land parcels at HPS and 93 percent of soil samples collected on three land parcels transferred to the City and County of San Francisco in 2015 are flawed by “potential falsification, data manipulation and data quality concerns.” These parcels are adjacent to townhouses and condominiums where families with children and pets reside.

Adding to the public health crisis at HPS is whistle blower corroboration that in February of 2015, nine trucks carrying 218 tons of radiation contaminated soils from HPS were dumped in the Keller Canyon landfill in Pittsburgh, California – within half a mile of over 2,000 homes. That soil, deposited in an unauthorized landfill in Contra Costa County, has been excavated and tests positive for Cesium 137.

It may also contain products of nuclear fission, strontium 90 and plutonium 239. Ongoing investigations are underway to determine if local drinking water sources have been tainted.

The U.S. Navy and the Region 9 EPA’s failure to request an ATSDR HHRA at HPS is a clear example of governmental neglect, developer collusion and protection of self interest in ongoing efforts to suppress health surveillance data from this vulnerable community.

The Navy shares culpability in creation of circumstances granting Tetra Tech unbridled control over speedy radiological removal operations at HPS. In 2006 the Navy implemented a base-wide Time Critical Removal Action Program (TICRA) granting full responsibility to Tetra Tech from 2006 to 2015. TICRAs are operations taken outside of the nine-step remediation process outlined by CERCLA.

The U.S. Navy and the Region 9 EPA’s failure to request an ATSDR HHRA at HPS is a clear example of governmental neglect, developer collusion and protection of self interest in ongoing efforts to suppress health surveillance data from this vulnerable community.

While, in select circumstances, TICRAs can speed removal of hazardous substances to benefit public health, they do so at the expense of accurate human health risk assessments and CERCLA protections. Thus, the Navy’s base-wide TICRA program granted Tetra Tech license to “run amok” at HPS with minimal federal oversight. And in an effort to protect itself from legal liability, the Navy repeatedly claims there has been no harm to public health.

as the chair of the Radiological Subcommittee of the Hunters Point Shipyard Restoration Advisory Board, I challenged the Navy's TICRA program, recognizing its potential for misuse driven by political corruption and developer influence. As a former physician specialist for the San Francisco Department of Public Health and attending physician for the Palo Alto Veterans Administration Environmental Registry, I called for an ATSDR Human Health Risk Assessment in comments submitted to the U.S. Navy Base Realignment and Closure Program on June 16, 2018, and to the federal and Region 9 ATSDR administrators:

"I call on the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry, in its role in determining chemical threats, protecting communities with children and vulnerable populations who face dangerous environmental health concerns, to initiate the health assessment process at HPS to determine whether residual ionizing radiation documented in fraudulently cleared soils, trenches and buildings at multiple sites on the base pose a risk of harm to the surrounding community, workers and visitors and to statistically define that risk. I am formally requesting the National Center for Environmental Health and ATSDR Region 9 Director Libby Vianu and Environmental Health Scientist Benjamin Gerhadstein direct ATSDR to conduct a human health risk assessment of the Tetra Tech radiation scandal at HPS."

On June 28, 2018 I received a call from Libby Vianu, regional director of ATSDR, informing me the national director will initiate a Human Health Risk Assessment at the Hunters Point Shipyard, a federal Superfund site. In the neighborhood where I grew up!

 Subject: ACLU and EFF Letter Opposing Privacy-threatening RFID at Library

Dear Supervisor:

Please help stop funding of privacy-threatening RFID at the San Francisco Public Library by voting to eliminate the embedded $3.4million allocated in the City Budget for RFID -- next week at your full Board meeting July 24. Or, at least vote to place it on reserve for fuller examination at a future date.

I enclose the joint ACLU-NC and EFF letter to City Librarian Luis Herrera from last year, repeating their long-standing opposition to RFID in the Library. (ACLU-NC = American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California, and EFF = Electronic Frontier Foundation.)

Please read it --

A key sentence says:

"BOTH EFF AND ACLU-NC HAVE OPPOSED, AND CONTINUE TO OPPOSE, THE USE OF RFID TECHNOLOGY IN LIBRARY BECAUSE OF ITS VERY SIGNIFICANT PRIVACY AND FREE SPEECH CONCERNS.... SO WE ARE EXTREMELY SURPRISED THAT THE LIBRARY IS REVISITING THIS ISSUE, PARTICULARLY IN THE CURRENT POLITICAL CLIMATE."

Thank you for your attention to this.

Dear Supervisors:

I just returned from the Main Library Children's Center with my 10 year old son and am saddened and outraged by what I saw. You have decided to install needle disposal stations in the children's/family bathrooms located inside the Koret Children's Center. What is the purpose of this? There aren't enough disposal stations elsewhere?

My son has always relied on these locked children's bathrooms as a safe place away from the filth and drug addicts in the adult bathrooms. Now, the children's bathrooms are unlocked and equipped with needle disposal stations, which the staff assure me are secure from prying children's hands (which I disagree with). Are these for parents who might need to shoot up and dispose of their needles while visiting the library with their children? Do you actually believe that people only dispose of their needles and not shoot up in the stalls?

It is already heartbreaking that our young children need to be educated about drug usage and abuse way before their time, but now they need to be subjected to the addict's open drug use in the children's bathrooms. We already have enough open drug use all throughout the city thanks to your liberal, accommodating, and enabling drug policies! When does this stop? Why do the drug addicts in this City seem to have more rights than the law abiding citizens? Do you want all San Francisco families especially those with young children to pack up and leave?

Please devise policies with a little more thought for the average San Franciscan family.

Sincerely,

John Kim

NOTIFICATION OF PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY'S REQUEST TO INCREASE RATES FOR ITS RESIDENTIAL RATE REFORM MEMORANDUM ACCOUNT PROPOSAL (R.12-06-013)

Summary

On July 11, 2018, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) filed its Residential Rate Reform Memorandum Account (RRRMA) proposal with the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). The proposal requests approval to increase rates for the following activities related to residential rate reform:

- Simplification of rate structure
- Offering new Time-of-Use Rate plan options and conducting a pilot
- Increase minimum bill amounts in order to reduce bill volatility
- Enhanced communications to customers about rate plan changes and options

In order to implement these residential rate reforms required by a CPUC decision, PG&E is requesting $20.5 million to be collected from customers in rates starting early in 2019 or shortly thereafter depending on the schedule for this proposal.

Background

In 2015, the CPUC launched its residential rate reform efforts to address concerns about customer bill impacts and volatility caused by the five-tiered rate structure that was put into place after the California Energy Crisis. As part of this effort, the CPUC directed utilities to implement rate design reforms, including Time-of-Use pilots and studies, marketing, education and outreach, IT, data analysis and other reasonable costs required to implement the decision. The CPUC also ordered each utility to create a Residential Rate Reform Memorandum Account to be used for tracking these costs. This proposal requests recovery of the costs included in the RRRMA in 2015 and 2016.

How will PG&E's proposal affect me?

Most customers receive bundled electric service from PG&E, meaning they receive electric generation, transmission and distribution services. Based on rates currently in effect, the bill for a typical residential NonCARE customer using 500 kWh per month would increase from $111.59 to $111.78, or 0.2 percent. Actual impacts will vary depending on energy usage.

How will PG&E's proposal affect nonbundled customers?

Direct Access and Community Choice Aggregation customers only receive electric transmission and distribution services from PG&E. The impact of PG&E's proposal on these customers is an average increase of 0.2 percent.

Another category of nonbundled customers is Departing Load. These customers do not receive electric generation, transmission or distribution services from PG&E. However, these customers are required to pay certain charges by law or CPUC decision. The impact of PG&E's proposal on these customers is an average increase of 0.07 percent.

How do I find out more about PG&E's proposals?

If you have questions about PG&E's filing, please contact PG&E at 1-800-743-5000. For TTY, call 1-800-652-4712. Para más detalles llame al 1-800-660-6789 • 詳情請致電 1-800-893-9555. If you would like a copy of PG&E's filing and exhibits, please write to PG&E at the address below:
