Section 1. Findings.

(a) In February 2018, the Office of Economic and Workforce Development published a report entitled "State of the Retail Sector: Challenges and Opportunities for San Francisco's Neighborhood Commercial Districts" ("Report"). Prepared by Strategic Economics, the Report analyzed the national restructuring of the retail, restaurant, and personal services industries; identified factors required to support successful San Francisco retail districts; catalogued opportunities, costs, and challenges for retail, restaurant, and personal services businesses in San Francisco; and documented adaptations that businesses are making in response to changing conditions.

- (b) The Report's key findings include:

- Between the first and third quarters of 2017, chain retailers nationwide announced 3,044 store openings, and 6,752 store closings. While overall retail sales were in decline, retail sales growth was concentrated in several categories, including: food and beverage stores; e-commerce; building materials and home furnishings; and health and personal care stores. Food services sales also experienced growth.
- Consistent with national trends, after many years of growth, San Francisco's retail sector appears to be slowing. Growth in retail employment and sales tax revenues slowed between 2015 and 2016, and vacancy rates in some neighborhood commercial districts are increasing. Retail business owners also reported seeing increased competition with online sales for a rapidly expanding range of products.
- While retail demand is slowing, there is a national trend towards increased consumer spending on dining, services, and other ways to engage retail customers. There is a corresponding increased demand in storefront space for restaurant, entertainment, and personal services in San Francisco neighborhoods. Restaurants and personal services are a key component of the experience provided by neighborhood shopping districts, drawing foot traffic to other businesses and providing spaces to linger and gather as a community. Continued growth in these activities could mitigate some of the effects on vacancy rates caused by local contraction in the retail industry.
- Based on increased consumer demand for experiences and increased competition from online sales, many retailers are developing new strategies to attract customers, including: expanding opportunities for customers to interact with products before making a purchase; integrating eating, drinking, and wellness into traditional retail stores; and offering community-building activities such as classes, workshops, readings, lectures, or concerts. Incorporating multiple uses or creatively co-locating other uses may help retail businesses diversify their revenue streams.

- Land use and permitting requirements can present challenges to new businesses in San Francisco. New businesses must often invest significant time and money into completing the permitting and construction processes. These costs frequently place business owners in substantial debt, jeopardizing the viability of their enterprises before they are even able to open their doors and can dissuade aspiring entrepreneurs from opening their own businesses.
- Existing land use and permitting requirements may make it challenging for businesses to incorporate food, drink, events, and other elements that create attractive experiences for customers. Existing land use and permitting requirements also limit a business' ability to incorporate multiple uses, or colocate multiple businesses, within a single storefront.

(c) More flexibility within land use controls would support small businesses by enabling them to creatively experiment with integrating food, beverage, retail and professional services uses within the same space. The creation of flexible, multi-use space could enable small-scale entrepreneurs to launch brick-and-mortar operations, on a temporary or permanent basis, within larger storefronts.

(d) The purpose of this ordinance is to reduce storefront vacancies, support a diverse mix of businesses, enable retail businesses to engage in creative strategies to attract customers and diversify revenues, and otherwise support healthy and vibrant commercial corridors in San Francisco.

LEGISLATIVE DIGEST

[Planning Code - Flexible Retail Use]

Ordinance amending the Planning Code to create a new Use allowing flexible, multi-use retail; making Flexible Retail principally permitted in Supervisorial District Four; affirming the Planning Department's determination under the California Environmental Quality Act; making findings of consistency with the General Plan, and the eight priority policies of Planning Code, Section 101.1; and making findings of public necessity, convenience, and welfare pursuant to Planning Code, Section 302.

Existing Law

The Planning Code considers Arts Activities, Limited Restaurants, General Retail Sales and Services, Personal Services, Retail Professional Services, and Trade Shop as separate uses. Each of these Uses is defined in section 102 of the Planning Code. While there is no Use that permits a retailer to combine multiple Uses in the same space, under certain conditions, the Planning Code permits some Uses to be considered Accessory to Principal Uses. In Neighborhood Commercial Districts ("NCDs") conditions for Accessory Uses are set forth in Planning Code section 703. Generally, Accessory Uses may not occupy more than 30% of the total floor area occupied by such use and the Principal or Conditional use.

Amendments to Current Law

This ordinance creates the Flexible Retail Use. Flexible Retail would be a type of Retail Sales and Service Use located in NCDs. This Use would combine the following existing uses: Arts Activities, Limited Restaurants, General Retail Sales and Services, Personal Services, Retail Professional Services, and Trade Shop. Flexible Retail would also allow these Uses to be operated by one or more businesses within the space. This is different than Accessory Uses because there would be no limitation on the amount space any of the Uses could occupy.

Background Information

In February 2018, the Office of Economic and Workforce Development published a report entitled "State of the Retail Sector: Challenges and Opportunities for San Francisco's Neighborhood Commercial Districts." The report found that based on increased consumer demand for experiences and increased competition from online sales, many retailers are developing new strategies to attract customers, including: expanding opportunities for customers to interact with products before making a purchase; integrating eating, drinking, and wellness into traditional retail stores; and offering community-building activities such as classes, workshops, readings, lectures, or concerts. The report found that incorporating multiple uses or creatively co-locating other uses may help retail businesses diversify their revenue streams.

The report also found that land use and permitting requirements can present challenges to new businesses in San Francisco. Specifically, that existing land use and permitting requirements may make it challenging for businesses to incorporate food, drink, events, and other elements that create attractive experiences for customers, and that existing land use and permitting requirements also limit a business' ability to incorporate multiple uses, or co-locate multiple businesses, within a single storefront.
