LEGISLATIVE DIGEST

[Park Code - Non-Resident Fees at Certain Specialty Attractions]

Ordinance amending the Park Code to permit the Recreation and Park Department General Manager to set non-resident adult admission fees for the Japanese Tea Garden, the Coit Tower Elevator, the Conservatory Of Flowers, and the San Francisco Botanical Garden by flexible pricing based on certain factors; and affirming the Planning Department's determination under the California Environmental Quality Act.

Existing Law

The Park Code allows the Recreation and Park Department (RPD) to charge admission fees for visitors to the Japanese Tea Garden, Coit Tower Elevator, the Conservatory Of Flowers, and the San Francisco Botanical Garden. The rates vary depending on the age of the visitor, and whether the visitor is a San Francisco resident.

Amendments to Current Law

The proposed ordinance would let the RPD general manager increase the non-resident adult rates at the above facilities by up to 50%, and/or decrease those rates by up to 25%, from time to time based on one or more of the following factors: fluctuations in customer demand at particular times or on particular days or dates, rates at comparable facilities, weather conditions, and facility conditions. The ordinance would not change rates for San Francisco residents (regardless of age), non-resident minors (under the age of 18), or non-resident seniors (65 and older).

Background Information

The rates codified in the Park Code are subject to annual cost-of-living adjustments by the Controller. This ordinance shows the codifued rates and is not intended to invalidate any cost-of-living adjustments that the Controller has previously approved. The Recreation and Park Department maintains a list of the current rates. The current rate for non-resident adults at each of the four facilities is $9.

Subject:	OPPOSE File 190629: Park Code - Non-resident fees at specialty attractions

Dear Supervisors,

We oppose raising fees at the park sites listed in this legislation for the following reasons:

1. We are concerned with the continuing monetization and privatization of our parks. Labeling the SF Botanical Garden, the SF Japanese Tea Garden, and the Conservatory of Flowers "specialty attractions" is indicative of the trend by the Department of Recreation and Park to view our parks as a collection of income-generating amusements rather than as cultural sites and oases for preserving biological diversity. In a time of great wealth in our City, these sites are part of parkland that should be open and free to all. Including Coit Tower in this legislation disrespects a significant historic monument that is iconic of San Francisco.
2. We are concerned about the impact on the many low-income residents who are proud of their parks and enjoy taking visiting family members and out-of-town friends to these sites. The income disparity in San Francisco has resulted in many family members moving out of the City. With this proposed raise in fees, access to these park areas will soon be out of reach of many of the less-financially-well-off who are already struggling to maintain their community ties in the face of the enormous income inequality in this city.
3. We are concerned that this effort to establish 'surge' pricing will start a trend that will eventually be applied to all of our residents. Changes such as the one proposed can result in eventual fees for everyone, as the public becomes accustomed to paying more and more for services that they have already paid for in their taxes.
4. We are concerned about the impact on low-income visitors, who won't necessarily know until they arrive at a site what the fees will be. Up-to-date information on surge pricing depends on a smart phone connection, something that is still out of reach of many.
5. We are concerned about the impressions given to visitors to San Francisco, who spend thousands of dollars to bring their families to San Francisco, staying in our hotels, eating in our restaurants, and paying into our coffers. Golden Gate Park and Coit Tower are some of the reasons they visit. The Japanese Tea Garden admission fee is already slated to be raised by $1 per non-resident adult visitor. If visitors go to all that effort and arrive at the Tea Garden only to learn that the rates have gone up 50% more, what will be their impression of San Francisco and of our park system? We can imagine the reactions on social media.
6. We are concerned that these fees are being layered onto other funding that has already been granted by the people of San Francisco to their beloved parks - not only budget funding but also bond funding, the Open Space Fund, the massive fees generated by such large events as the Outside Lands Festival, and even a permanent, annual set-aside awarded just a few years ago.
7. We are concerned with the loss of control over our parks by the Board of Supervisors. If rates must be raised, this is a decision that should rest only with the Board of Supervisors and be substantiated with extensive financial information on the fiscal needs of our parks, the current Department of Recreation and Parks budget, all Department of Recreation and Parks funding sources, a line-item accounting of where all of the funding listed above is currently being spent and what expenses the new fees will be used to defray. In addition, the impact on low-income communities and visitors should be analyzed and considered in this decision.

Our parks are not "specialty attractions." They are part of the heart of San Francisco and were established for the benefit and enjoyment of everyone. We ask that the Board of Supervisors not approve this 'surge-pricing' fee increase.

Thank you for your consideration.

guidebooks that tell them they will have to pay $9 (the current non-resident fee) to ride the elevator up Coit Tower – but then when they arrive they are sometimes told they will have to pay $13.50 (the proposed increased fee), the likely result will be confusion, frustration, and a slow down to the long lines that already cause some murals to be obscured from view.

The proposed ordinance also violates the will of San Francisco voters. As expressed by voter approval of an official Coit Tower Preservation Policy at the ballot in June 2012's Proposition B, San Francisco voters voted to prioritize the funds received by the City from any concession operations at Coit Tower for preserving the Coit Tower murals, protecting and maintaining the Coit Tower building, and beautifying Pioneer Park around Coit Tower. In contrast, the proposed ordinance would allow Coit Tower elevator fees to be raised by 50% but devote none of that revenue to improving access to Coit Tower or supporting programs that enable children or families in need to visit Coit Tower. This would directly violate the will of voters when they passed Prop. B.

I am appalled that, at a time when the City is flush with cash, instead of increasing public access to our public parks by lowering fees – or eliminating them altogether at places like the Botanical Gardens that were fee-free until 2010 – the Mayor and Recreation and Parks Department are instead proposing to hike park fees by 50% at some of San Francisco's most treasured places. Instead of nickel and diming our visitors – and residents who fail to provide ID to prove they live here – as this ordinance would do, this is a time that the City should be finding creative ways to encourage more people to visit our parks to show off the magic of San Francisco.

I urge you to reject the Mayor's proposed 50% Park Fee Price Hike ordinance.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

FILE NO: 190629 – Scheduled for Budget and Finance Hearing on June 19, 2019

Dear Chair Fewer and Members of the Budget and Finance Committee:

On behalf of Protect Coit Tower, a nonprofit organization dedicated to celebrating, preserving, and educating the public about San Francisco's Coit Tower and its historic New Deal murals, I write to urge you to reject the Mayor's proposed ordinance that would grant the General Manager of the Recreation and Parks Department unlimited discretion to raise park visitor admission fees by up to 50% at any time, for as long as they wish, and for such arbitrary reasons as the weather.

I oppose this ordinance as a whole and specifically as it relates to Coit Tower.

The proposed ordinance as a whole would fundamentally undermine the crucial oversight of the management of our city's parks provided by the Board of Supervisors. The ordinance would effectively remove Supervisors from decision-making authority over setting park fees by empowering a political appointee who is unaccountable to the public with the unilateral discretion to raise park fees for people who cannot prove they are San Francisco residents by 50% above the fixed park fees that are thoughtfully and carefully set by the Board of Supervisors. As a general matter, the Board has been the guardian of the idea that the priority for public parks should be to keep them open to the public, not monetized or privatized. By removing the Board from its vital oversight role, this ordinance would shift the decision-making on setting fair and equitable park admission fees out of public view to instead be made in the dark behind closed doors.

Moreover, the ordinance provides wholly arbitrary and truly absurd parameters to supposedly guide the decision by the Department General Manager on when and how much to raise by 50% – or in theory lower by 25% - park fees. For example, the ordinance states that a factor the General Manager could base a 50% park fee increase on is "weather conditions." However, the ordinance does not state whether this means that fees would be increased by 50% in sunny, hot weather (such as our recent string of 90 degree days) since people may be more likely to visit parks on beautiful days or whether this means fees would be decreased by 25% on sunny, hot days as a way to encourage visitors to take advantage of the shade by the flora in the Botanical Gardens or cool down inside the Conservatory of Flowers. Would rainy days cause fees to go up by 50% as people flock inside or down by 25% to encourage visitors? What effect would fog have on the General Manager's decision to set park fees – any or none at all?

In addition to generally opposing this ordinance for the above reasons, I urge you to either remove Coit Tower from this ordinance or reject it for the damaging impact it would have on Coit Tower. By lumping Coit Tower into the same category as the three park locations in Golden Gate Park, the "flexible pricing" proposal assumes that random 50% price increases would simply mean that visitors who show up would either pay more than they expected to pay or go somewhere else. However, unlike the Golden Gate Park locations where there are other visitor options nearby, Coit Tower stands alone on top of Telegraph Hill. If visitors traverse Telegraph Hill based on guidebooks that tell them they will have to pay $9 (the current non-resident fee) to ride the elevator up Coit Tower – but then when they arrive they are sometimes told they will have to pay $13.50 (the proposed increased fee), the likely result will be confusion, frustration, and a slow down to the long lines that already cause some murals to be obscured from view.

The proposed ordinance also violates the will of San Francisco voters. As expressed by voter approval of an official Coit Tower Preservation Policy at the ballot in June 2012's Proposition B, San Francisco voters voted to prioritize the funds received by the City from any concession operations at Coit Tower for preserving the Coit Tower murals, protecting and maintaining the Coit Tower building, and beautifying Pioneer Park around Coit Tower. In contrast, the proposed ordinance would allow Coit Tower elevator fees to be raised by 50% but devote none of that revenue to improving access to Coit Tower or supporting programs that enable children or families in need to visit Coit Tower. This would directly violate the will of voters when they passed Prop. B.

Re: Proposed 50% Park Fees Increase and Removal of Board of Supervisors Authority to Set Visitor Entrance Fees to Botanical Gardens, Japanese Tea Garden, Conservatory of Flowers, and Coit Tower Elevator – OPPOSE

FILE NO: 190629 – Scheduled for Budget and Finance Hearing on June 19, 2019

We oppose this suggestion to increase fees and most stringently oppose the removal of the Board of Supervisors to oversee future fee increases. So far most of the areas of authority they the Board of Supervisors has been removed from appear to be major problems. Take the SFMTA. Please take some authority back for approvals of contracts and priority and policy decisions from the SFMTA.

Since the Board of Supervisors let this department the off on its own, it has racked up more mistakes and lawsuits, and disasters than any other department. Don't make the same mistake with Rec and Park.

We join with a number of other neighborhood groups and project cost tower, in opposing this bad idea.

Sincerely,

Mari Eliza, concerned citizen

I write is opposition to the above Ordinance. As a longstanding supporter of public access to our park and recreation facilities I see this ordinance as continuing down a dangerous road of turning our Rec-Park Department into an enterprise department. The Department has for many years followed an agenda calling for it to convert to a fee based agency. The Board has historical been the protector of the idea that the priority for public parks is to keep them open to the public, without privatizing them or turning them into cash cows. Many of us supported Proposition B for this very reason and as a result of its adoption the Department has the highest annual revenue base in its history. For the Department to be asking for further fee increases under these circumstances cannot be justified. This ordinance strips the Board of an important part of its ability to ensure that public access remains as a priority.

I urge you to vote against this dangerous and unjustified ordinance. Respectfully, Dennis Antenore
